Dear Maya:

If I had realized, as I sat across the bridge table from you in Anderson East (or was it West?) that I was consorting with a potential criminal, I would have.....well, I don't know; perhaps have bid more dangerously.

I'm glad to see you have fulfilled your promise! The article about your activities was most interesting. Keep up the good work. I don't necessarily mean get arrested again, unless that's part of the good work. It's time many of us got off the sidelines and got involved.

It sounds as though you have been and are involved in many worthwhile things, which doesn't surprise me at all.

As you can see I'm living in Poway now, if you have any idea where that is. I lived in La Jolla on and off for some 30 years, and about 3 years ago decided it was getting too congested and so moved "out in the country" where it is much quieter and more peaceful.

I work with a human factors engineering consulting firm in San Diego where we are mainly involved in research and development studies for NASA, for the Office of Naval Research and for the U. S. Department of Transportation. My spare time is still devoted partly to music and partly to writing math books.

Drop me a note when you can find time and let me know more about what you are doing.

Fond regards to you and Dick,

PETE
