

Sons of Italy Continues Support

Lynne D. Williams, medical school information
Feb. 23, 1990

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more than 10 years, the Sons of Italy in America have been staunch supporters of the University of Nevada School of Medicine's Savitt Medical Library. Their donations have been used to purchase books on birth defects and genetics and for medical journals used by the students.

This year's check of $1,100 brought to $13,950 the amount that the organization has given to the library over the years. Presenting the check was Hugh Ricci, president of the Grand Lodge of California, his wife, Pamela, Julia Carmassi and Rose Nicholas. Joining them was Antoinette Cortese, a first-year medical student who, along with her parents, is a member of the Christoforo Columbo Lodge in Reno. The Guiseppe Verdi Lodge in Sparks also participates in the fund-raising project. John Stralla is the Sparks lodge president.