Aging patients focus of seminar

LAS VEGAS--A one day seminar focusing on health care professionals and aging patients, Confronting Reality: The Senior Adult in Your Practice, will be held Friday, Dec. 7, Imperial Palace.

The seminar, a joint presentation of Clark County Community College and the University of Nevada School of Medicine's Southern Area Health Education Center, will address issues such as ethical and legal issues involved in treating aging patients; the physiology of aging; accessing community health care services; and future directions in treatment of senior citizens. Continuing education credits will be provided for physicians, nurses, social workers and dentists. Registration cost is $75 at the door.

For more information, contact Carol Kilgore, 643-6060, extension 200.
