FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jamie Anderson, education coordinator for the Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) at the University of Nevada School of Medicine, has been appointed associate editor for media reviews for Oncology Nursing Forum. This appointment is for a three-year term.

Anderson has been a member of the editorial review board for two years and is an active member of the Oncology Nursing Society, where she also was recently appointed to the review panel for continuing education.

Anderson has been with AHEC since 1988.
