Governor Bob Miller will keynote an all-day planning and training workshop sponsored by the Nevada State Health Coordinating Council on August 15, 1990. The workshop will be held on the Reno campus of the University of Nevada School of Medicine and will begin at 10 a.m.

Workshop participants will organize a process that can be used to develop a new state health plan. According to Governor Miller, who requested a new plan, "Existing programs, personnel and facilities must be evaluated and possibly redirected, eliminated or expanded to meet Nevada's needs. The new state health plan will become a blueprint for action and policy initiatives in the 1990s. In my administration, health is a top priority issue."

Miller recently convened a two-day health care conference in southern Nevada to address the state's health care concerns.

Directing the UNR workshop will be William Dyal and John Nelson from the Division of Public Health Systems at the Centers For Disease Control in Atlanta, and Dr. Lynn Artz, from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in Washington, D.C. The forum is open to the public.
