

Rosewell resident is med school graduate in Nevada

Lynne D. Williams, medical school information
May 21, 1991

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Rosewell resident Stephanie Jo Dyer is among the 41 members of the Class of 1991 at the University of Nevada School of Medicine. On Friday, May 17, Dr. Dyer received her academic hood, the symbol of her acceptance into the profession of medicine, from her friend and mentor Linda Gunshefski, M.D., of Las Vegas.

During the school's Award Ceremony on May 16, Dyer was presented with The Community Health Award and the Don Mello Award for Community Service. While attending Medical School, she won the Lange Book Award in 1988, was named one of the Outstanding Young Women of America, 2000 Notable Women of America and Who's Who In American Women. She was freshman and sophomore class social secretary and was a member of the International Medicine Interest Group, AMA, AMSA, AMWA, NSMA and PSR. Dr. Dyer will be doing a urology residency at the University of Arizona Affiliated Hospitals in Tucson.

Dr. Dyer attended Robert H. Goddard High School and earned her undergraduate degree from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Dyer of Rosewell.