

NYT graduate is honored at Nevada's medical school

Lynne D. Williams, medical school information
May 21, 1992

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jack Lazerson, M.D., a graduate of New York University's Washington Square College of Arts and Sciences, was honored at graduation ceremonies last week at the University of Nevada School of Medicine.

Dr. Lazerson, professor and chairman of the school's Department of Pediatrics, was given the Outstanding Full-Time Clinical Faculty Award by the Class of 1992.