FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Forty seven new Nevada physicians will be honored at the University of Nevada School of Medicine's Academic Hooding Ceremony at 6:30 p.m., on Friday, May 15 at the Pioneer Theatre in Reno.

During this ceremony, senior medical students receive their academic hoods and take the Hippocratic Oath, symbol of their acceptance into the profession of medicine. The Class of 1992 is the thirteenth graduating class to receive their medical degrees in Nevada.

This year's hooding speaker is Rollan Melton, a prize-winning Nevada journalist, columnist and author. Melton was a teen-ager when he began his newspaper career as a printer in Fallon. After earning a journalism degree from the University of Nevada, Reno, he became a reporter at the Reno-Gazette-Journal. He was named publisher eight years later. He is now a senior member of the board of directors of the Gannett Company, publisher of USA Today.

Melton, a long-time supporter of the School of Medicine, is a former University of Nevada System Regent and was named a Distinguished Nevadan in 1978. Melton was awarded an honorary doctorate at the university in 1984.

During the ceremony, Dean Robert M. Daugherty will present the Dean's Award to an individual who has made important contributions to the School of Medicine. This year's award will be presented to the Honorable Virgil M. Getto "for insightful legislative leadership and for brave and vigorous support of medical education and research."
