

Med school welcomes new advisory board members

Lynne D. Williams, medical school information
April 22, 1992

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Two new members have been elected to the statewide advisory board of the University of Nevada School of Medicine: Larry D. Struve, director of the Nevada Department of Commerce, and Ronald R. Zideck, managing partner of Grant Thornton in Reno.

Struve serves on the Nevada World Trade Council, the International Visitor's Council for Northern Nevada and the Nevada Innovation Technology and Entrepreneur Council Task Force.

Zideck also is active in the community, serving on the boards of the American Heart Association, Saint Mary's Foundation, Reno Philharmonic Association, Economic Development Authority of Western Nevada and the Reno-Sparks Chamber of Commerce. He is immediate past president of Western Industrial Nevada.

The advisory board meets regularly to provide guidance in maintaining proper focus and direction of established and accepted goals of the school. It also assists school personnel in creating a favorable operational climate in the state and other regions, and in soliciting funds that may be required for continued development of the school.