

Med school receives scholarship funds from NSMA

Lynne D. Williams, medical school information
June 9, 1989

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The University of Nevada School of Medicine has received $12,303 from the Nevada State Medical Association to boost its financial aid program for medical students.

These funds are raised by Nevada's physicians' donations when they pay their American Medical Association dues and through the efforts of the women's medical auxiliaries throughout the state.