Medical student works with local doctor

TONOPAH-- A University of Nevada School of Medicine student will began working with Dr. Brian Callister this month

Senior medical student Jeffrey Mack began a four-week stay with Dr. Callister this month.

Mack, along with all fourth-year students, is required to complete a month-long stay with a family practice physician in rural Nevada. He will work side-by-side with Dr. Callister through Sept. 17 to learn more about the practice of rural medicine.

The students' rural rotation is coordinated by the School of Medicine's Nevada Area Health Education Center program.
