Two Hispanic students from Las Vegas high schools have been accepted into the University of Nevada Minority High School Scholars Program. These students will join 16 students, selected from almost 50 applicants, who will be attending the program this summer.

Students include:

Adrian Lobo	Green Valley High School
Rocio Rosales	Clark High School

The program runs June 9 - 15 at the Reno campus of the medical school and is designed to excite students about career opportunities in medicine and science. Students participate in research projects, attend discussion sessions, anatomy demonstrations, hospital tours and learn how to prepare for college and medical school.

Each student is competitively selected for the program after completing a rigorous application process. This program is funded by the Howard Hughes Medical Institute.
