High School Medical Scholars Selected for 2000

Five Washoe County high school juniors have been selected to attend the University of Nevada School of Medicine High School Medical Scholars program. Only 20 students statewide were selected for this program. All students are in their junior year and include: Eric Diamond, Edward Reed High School; Jade Green, Hug High School; Stacy Feemster and Ana Vega, Sparks High School; and Trisha Clampitt, Wooster High School.

This one-week program is focused on students interested in the medical sciences. The program takes place June 11-17 at the Reno campus of the School of Medicine. Attendance is free for selected students and all expenses are paid.

This challenging program is open to students, juniors in high school who interested in a career in medicine or science. Students participate in group research projects; discussions with minority physicians and scientists; tours of campus and medical facilities and hospitals; and personal career and college planning sessions.

Please call the medical school, Office of Recruitment at 775-784-1317 in Reno; or, in Las Vegas, call 702-671-2256, for more information or application information.
