FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Pieces entered in competition at the Third Annual Medical School Art Show range from whimsical to serious, and creativity abounds in all categories.

All faculty, staff and students at the University of Nevada School of Medicine were eligible to enter their art work in the show which opened on April 7 and will run through May 2 in the school's Manville Gallery.

Although photography dominates the exhibit, there also are several wood sculptures, a stain glass lampshade, a coffee table crafted in wood which won a prize in its category, and one offering generated by a computer.

The Manville Gallery is partially supported by a grant from the Nevada State Council on the Arts. A reception is held at the opening of each show on the first Monday of the month; hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.
