

Mr. Charles Sparks.
Pens.
Merada.

Dear Friend Charles:

Let me extend to you and your folks my heart-felt sympathy in your sad bereavement. There is no sorrow as great as the loss of a loving parent but, Charles, we must always remember Gods will not ours be done. Words are useless now, as they do little to ease your heart ache, but my deepest is yours.

Carson City

May 26, 1908.

Sincerely,

Dollie