SALT LAKE CITY,

June 14, 1918.

Dear Charles:

How many times Jerry (my new husband) and I have wished you were with us, when we have been taking some of our trips - Salt Lake is ideal surely, for lovers, and my dear Boy is a hundred times more my love than he has ever been.
There are so many people everywhere, so bent on their own pleasure, that they are too busy to notice us, so we can be as chummy as we please & not mind anyone. Not that we act like hide & groom - we wouldn't suspect that! Not even when Jerry goes to pull out his handkerchief and a whole shower of rice pours out - just wait you "old boy, we're laying for you" - we went to a dear little church

SALT LAKE CITY,

this morning at eight and took our first communion - the place is entirely grown up with vines and the birds were bursting their little throats in the trees - it was very early & we were alone, save for one small girl, so we felt that the occasion was made just for us.

We have had a couple of glorious dances - our first since June 1906. and I wish you could have been with us at Saltair - such a floor and such a moon and such water & Oh! Charles such a husband - I mean I can't tell you - as soon as I can buy the pictures - I'm singing the dear boy's praises.

I have loved him a long time but I never imagined that any love in the world could grow as mine has factured. I never saw him so changed - he is positively bubbling over with merriment nearly all the time - insists on riding very merry - go round etc.

that in all, and yet is so thoughtful and tender that I feel I am the most fortunate girl in the world to be blessed with such a love.
Margaret wrote that you had sent us a handsome traveling-clock! Dear, thoughtful Charles - how like you to get something we could take with us. We will have it sent as soon as we learn where we will be long enough to get it. We have had no word yet, did you read of the revolution in Cerro de Pasaje in yesterday's papers? The "Herald" was full of it but who is afraid?

My husband has been asleep for two hours. Completely worn out. We went to Mormon Church today & the the music was divine. It was wearing on my nerves.

Give our love to your mother & the rest of your family & dear Charles you had a great share always of our love you know. I am so sorry I didn't see you to say goodbye - I certainly thought I you soon after this. It is hard to thank you for the clock and letters are certainly most satisfactory.
But we may see you soon. Till then goodbye & may God bless you & make you happy. Love
Ethel Maysen Mc Bride.
(I have to use that lovely name.)
