My dear Sir:-

One of the nicest Christmas presents I have received came in today, being your letter of Dec. 24th. Your father has told me much about you at different times and I have become much interested in you. My youngest daughter has always been an invalid in a way and I assume this has had something to do with my sympathy running in your direction.

I am more than glad to hear how well you have been doing in the last year or two and it gave me great pleasure to present you the bull and I know you will have an eye to his future well-being.

I thank you very much indeed for your letter and also for the invitation for myself and family to visit you. I assure you this would give us very great pleasure and hope at some time in the future to avail ourselves of the invitation. I want to get some of those deer and fish you have running and swimming around in that country and be sure of my own observation that they are there to be taken.

I hope you all enjoyed the possum and turkey very much on Christmas Day, as no doubt you did. The possum surely should have been appreciated after the pains and expense your father went to to secure them.

With many thanks and kind regards, I am,

Very truly yours,
