

Readings - Sunday Nov. 19
on Mt Rose.

1⁺ p. m.

Standard +24 $\frac{1}{2}$ F.

Sheet +25

Min. +20 $\frac{1}{4}$ F.

Max. +52 F.

Frost & snow crystals on monument, covers and instruments. Must be scraped from instruments.

Clouds swirl about summit.

Wind rocks shelter and stones
on it. Wind violent from West.

Eddies on E. of summit to opp. direction.
Can scarcely keep my footing.

Impact of clouds masses against summit startling. Trees below wrethe almost. Roar denotes noise of waters almost. Streams among willows frozen high with layers of ice.

Win. needle seemed to crawl fraction of degree ~~up~~ under swaying of shelter while I was there.

Storm settled as I came down -
then when I looked back, hills
were white as if from a snow burst.

Storm as fierce at Reno - Sage-bush fire - smoke arose
as high as at Mt. Rose.

Day was spectacular - Evening illumined with Aurora Borealis from Elko, Power Plant.