What the artemesia staff may expect tomorrow

The announcement that the 1905 Artemesia will make its appearance Monday has given rise to many conjectures on the greeting it will receive from the joshed

The RECORD through its Artist makes this forecast of the condition of affairs tomorrow morning when the Artemesia appears

The Artemesias Arrived Friday

The Artemesias arrived in Reno yesterday and are now at Barndollar and Durley's printing office where they are receiving finishing touches before being placed on sale. The sale of the book will take place Monday morning at the registrar's office. Those who have not signed a contract with the business manager for the purchase of an Artemesia, should be on hand Monday morning. Contract sales have been larger this year than in previous issues and about threefourths of the books have already been bargained for. The cost of the book as in former years will be $1.50.

The drawings in the josh department which represent the university life are extremely clever. Comford '06 and Arnot '08 are the chief contributors in the josh drawings.

Great credit for this annual is due Editor Claude Smith, Manager Dean Bradley and Barndollar and Durley. Smith and Bradley took up the work of getting out the annual second handed late in January. Smith has been with the printers many a night until after twelve. Bradley by great effort has raised the $1000 which the publishing of the annual cost. His work shows in the thirty one pages of advertising. The clearness of the printing and the neat typographical appearance greatly add to the merits of the book.

The Student Record Editor by using diplomacy and bending the knee before the august manager of the 1905 annual, was granted permission to view the book yesterday for the purpose of reviewing it in the columns of the college paper.

The style of binding used on the book is attractive, green and gold, with a image of the 1905 class pin. The dedication is well made to Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Smith. The contents of the book is somewhat similar in order to the 1901 annual. Regents, Faculty, Alumni, Classes, Military Athletics Fraternities, Societies and Joshes follow in regular order. The Alumni columns contain the present address and occupation of all the University's graduates. No pictures of the Faculty and Regents appear.

A noticeable feature in the annual is the drawings and illustrations. They are far superior to those of other annuals.

Nevada Wins

The Nevada debators were given a unanimous decision in the debate with San Jose last night. The judges based their decision on the fact that the Nevada team successfully answered every argument advanced by their opponents, except the question of assimilation and at the same time submitted certain points which the San Jose team were unable to rebut. The question discussed was "Resolved, that the provisions of the Geary exclusion act should be extended to the Japanese."

San Jose espoused the affirmative side of the question, while Nevada upheld the negative. The speakers and the order in which they spoke follows: C. B. Earle, San Jose; Emily Berry, Nevada; Lottie Hudson, San Jose; George Commons, Nevada; Clarence Phelps, San Jose; J. W. Wright, Nevada. Mr. Phelps advanced the rebuttal argument for San Jose. The Judges last evening were, Rev. C. L. Mears, and Attorneys George Martinson and W. D. Jones.

The Glee Club rendered a number of selections while the judges were deliberating, which proved highly satisfactory.

Theta Epsilon

The last meeting of the Theta Epsilon took the form of a Harkness dinner in honor of Miss Sadie Phillips, who is soon to be married to Mr. Dwight Dawson. The affair was given by Miss Sadler, Miss Emily Coffin and Miss Madge McMillan at the latter's home on Liberty street. A dainty repast was served at a beautifully decorated table, over which a large pink bell was suspended from which nineteen exquisite bits of linen and lace fell as the bride to be pulled the bell rope of ribbon.

The committee on Commencement week exercises has made a deviation from the established program for Commencement day. The Scholarship address will be dispensed with, and an address by a prominent member of the alumni will be substituted. Harry Stewart '95, city engineer for the city of Reno, has been selected to speak on behalf of the graduates on that day.

Miss Anna Damm Normal '03 is in town this week.

Editor Today Ada E. Morse

As our college grows in size and improves in equipment, the time comes for a growth in the right kind of college spirit. We do not mean the kind that prompts the Bull Ruhl at football games, but which makes the students love their alma mater for her good qualities and try to correct her faults. We want the kind that makes for scholarship, for unity in activities that tend to the betterment of college life. We have gotten behind the high school stage in which our teachers expect to find it necessary to make us toe the mark in department and scholarship. We should no longer feel every hour of liberty, every excuse from work that our professors give us is an opportunity for an escape for what we have come here to do.

The time for ceaseless complaining against the professors has come. The time to do a little more than the absolute requirements has come. Until we make up our mind that ours is an institution for the benefits of its students we will never be a true college.

Our weakness in the right kind of college spirit is shown in the difficulty some useful organizations have to keep their heads above water. Literary, debating, musical and religious societies alike have a constant struggle to make their members feel that they need the help of the organization and that they in turn owe it their support.

But as we said before, we think that the time for a change has come, and that our college students are responding well to the stimulus that is coming to them from different channels.

The work that the English club is doing in securing such excellent lectures for Reno; the work of the Glee clubs, the increased interest in the Young Woman's Christian Association, the fact that we are having two intercollegiate debates this year all point to our growth in college spirit.

Several changes will take place in the personnel of our faculty next year. We are not as yet correctly informed as to the facts. The change the Manzanita Hall young ladies are lamenting is the expected loss of their matron Miss Frances Short who is also a teacher in the Normal department. She is not yet able to say definitely what she expects to do on leaving her position here. The girls will realize that they are losing one who has not only been their conscientious and faithful matron but their friend as well who never spared herself in helping them personally.

Declamation Contest

Quite a large crowd attended the declamation contest between the different representatives of the high schools of the state. The selections were of a high order and were well received by the audience. The first prize for the girls went to Miss Lillian Cohn of Carson. Miss Margaret D-N-out of Virginia captured the second prize for the girls. Lester Summerfield of Reno proved to be the best speaker among the boys while Arthur Heidenreich of Carson obtained second prize.

Harry Seagrave '95, who has recently returned to Reno from South Africa, where he has been employed in the gold mines near Johannesburg, will take the examination for mining engineer during Commencement week. Anyone who wishes to take this examination must have several years of practical experience in mining.

Three Records Broken

Three high school records went glimmering at the annual academic field meet between the different high schools of the state. Simonson of Elko broke the record he had put by hurling the ball a distance of 40 feet 7 inches. Ernest Folsom was the star of the day and he succeeded in clipping off a fraction of a second in the 220 dash and 220 hurdles. He also won the 100 yard dash.

Reno managed to obtain a slight margin over her nearest opponents in the final standing, Reno 51, Elko 45, Yerington 6, Gold Hill 6.

Let us hope that when our new dining hall is opened we will leave the old dining hall a remembrance of its former frequenters in the shape of our manners. Incessant chattering, carelessness in table manners, biscuit throwing and complaining are a few of the habits that we can well forget this summer.

STUDENTS HEAR FINE LECTURE

The lecture given by Professor Charles M. Gayley on Rudyard Kipling Thursday evening drew many of the literary people of the university and city and many others as well. Those who attended felt well repaid for the lecture was thoroughly interesting and instructive. Professor Gayley spoke of Kipling as the universal poet and explained the point of view of his writings and the reason why he is so popular with some and so unpopular with others. Those who made no pretence of understanding this famous poet went away with many points made clear. He also read several of Kipling's best poems to his audience, illustrating the different abilities of this varied author.

After the lecture, the English club attended a banquet given in honor of Professor Gayley by Dr. Dushman. Toasts were well responded to by Miss Beulah Herziger, Prof. J. A. Reid, Prof. Gayley. At the banquet table the following officers were elected: Alwin Sielaff, president; Louis Goldstein, vice-president; Irene Peterson, secretary. The English club deserves the thanks of everyone for having secured so good a lecture for Reno.

The Committee in charge of commencement this year have made plans for a week full of interest from beginning to end. On Saturday evening May 27 the college and town will have the privilege of hearing Professor Bernard Moses, head of the History Department at Berkeley, D. C. R. Dille, of Oakland, a gifted speaker will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning. On Monday, the Seniors read abstracts of their Theses. Monday evening the Academy of Science will be addressed by Professor Merriam, of Berkeley. On Tuesday, Dedication Day, students and town people will unite in honoring the dead. At night the Alumni hold their annual meeting. Wednesday is class day with exercises on the campus in the forenoon and the farce in the evening. Commencement Day will be Thursday June 1. Pres. Gates, of Pomona College, will be the speaker. The Senior Ball will be Thursday night.

F. J. Freeman '08 will be among the Commencement visitors, but he will not be here in time to take any examinations. Mr. Freeman was called home in April by the stress of his business affairs thereby losing the major portion of this semester's work, however, he will register in college next September.

Baseball Game

The baseball team representing the Elko high school defeated a pick up team from the university yesterday forenoon, by a score of 13 to 6. The game was very closely contested despite the score.
Elko succeeded in obtaining eight runs in the second inning and the university players were unable to overcome the lead. Hart pitched a good game for the varsity and Simonsen did some good twirling for Elko. Carvel the shortstop and Rannigan the catcher of Elko, showed up to good advantage.

Miss Gertrude Sheehy Normal
'03 made a visit to the campus
Friday.

Miss Amy Howe, of Carson, is the guest of her sister, Miss Sybil

Yesterday morning the Academic League held its annual meeting in the Regent's Room. A full at-
