

Enthusiastic Speeches at the General Assembly

The assembly period last Friday was devoted to a discussion of athletic affairs at the University, and much enthusiasm was aroused through the different speeches. Physical Director J. F. Rudolph, Sol Levy, a prominent business man of Reno, and Cassius C. Smith, of the class of 1905, gave interesting talks concerning athletics.

Coach Rudolph was the first speaker of the day, and his remarks were confined chiefly toward the most feasible methods for achieving success in football. He expressed the opinion that if two or three young ladies and an equal number of young men would lead the students in singing every evening that the innovation would be beneficial to the sport. He said in part: "In any college it is the interest a student takes in the work for which he gets no credit that counts in after life. We all have an ideal in athletics and it can only be attained through hard work. In the present Russia-Japanese war, the Japanese, though inferior in size and handicapped by numbers because they were prepared. Japan had been preparing for this war for the last fifteen years. By using the same tactics we can win victories in football, but the men must get out every evening promptly. I wish the class presidents would not have their meetings at 4 o'clock as it interferes with football."

Sol Levy, who has always taken an active interest in athletics, gave a rousing address on this subject. He said in part: "Athletics appeal to me as the sound of a fire bell appeals to a broken down fire horse. I have always been an admirer of athletics, and especially of fencing. To me athletics means a sport, which exhilarates the mind and body, and not gambling. The Seniors should set an example for the lower classes, because college spirit is a contagious germ, which must be injected into the new students."

Cassius Smith, the hero of many a gridiron and track contest, injected the spirit of enthusiasm into his speech at assembly. He said in part: "Those days that I have spent here have been golden ones to me. It was the making of me when I first appeared for practice and King Dickson, the coach from the University of Pennsylvania, pointing to an old suit said, 'take that suit, Smith. I guess it is good enough'. It looked good to me."

"It is the big games that are productive of the conquering spirit. They are to be played over again and the score is still in doubt. You should meet your coach half way by getting out and helping him. The Reliance Athletic Club will soon be here, and each day should signal the near approach of the referee's whistle, which begins the conflict. The outlook this year is better than ever. You have a good coach, a good manager and an able captain. When the California games take place I am going to be there. We have lost many games, but we have the satisfaction of knowing that we put forth our best efforts. Don't let them walk on the colors of your college but eat em up."

FIRST LECTURE GIVEN BY ENGLISH CLUB

The congregational church was packed last Thursday evening by the students and townspeople to hear the first of a series of lectures given by the Free Lecture Association of the English Club. J. F. Fouche, a dramatic critic, was the speaker of the evening, and took for his subject "Hamlet". The lecture consisted of recitals from Hamlet, Ophelia, The Ghost, Horatio, Claudius, Gertrude, Polonius and the other characters in Shakespeare's Hamlet. The readings were first class, and some selections were of such a high order that were deserving of special comment. Those in attendance signified their approval of certain readings by applauding the efforts of the speaker.

The next regular session of the Alpha Beta Literary society will take place next Saturday evening in Room 6. The subject for discussion is "The recent Treaty of Peace Between Japan and Russia"

CAPTAIN SELECTED FOR BASKETBALL

At a meeting of the old members of the basketball team, last Monday evening, Millie Hunniwell '08 was elected captain of this year's team. There were but two nominees and Miss Hunniwell won by a small majority. The new captain has played on the varsity basketball team for two years.

No arrangement for games has yet been made but that will be attended to soon. The girls will begin training shortly after Thanksgiving.

Liberal Art Majors.

The following is a list of the major Studies taken by the Liberal Arts students in the Senior and Junior classes at the University:

SENIORS—English, 5; History, 5; Latin, 5; Mathematics, 1. Chemistry, 1; Modern Languages, 1; Law, 1; Botany, 1; JUNIORS: English, 3; History, 1; Latin, 0; French, 1.

Liberal Art Students—Freshman, 12; Sophomore, 12.

VARSITY AND ALUMNI PLAY SATURDAY

The first game of the season will be played next Saturday afternoon between the Varsity team and an Alumni team organized by W. A. Wolf, '03. The game promises to be full of interest as the graduates have among their ranks a number of formidable players. A good line can also be obtained on the new talent that are trying for positions on the first eleven.

The services of a large number of the old veterans of the gridiron have been secured by Mr. Wolf for this occasion, and they will do their best to lower the university colors.

Coach Rudolph has not yet selected the team which will go up against the alumni, and does not expect to until a short time before the contest. In order to determine the abilities of the different candidates for places on the team, every man on the squad will be given an opportunity to show what he can do.

The coach would like to see at least twenty men out for the second eleven, for success in football cannot be attained unless a good second eleven capable of giving the Varsity team a run for their money has been organized. A person should not feel slighted if he is not put on the team the first night for there is only room for eleven players.

LETTER FROM POET OF THE SIERRAS

Miss Irene Peterson, Secretary of the English club, received a letter last Tuesday from Joaquin Miller, the Poet of the Sierras, in which he complied with her request for a photograph, an autograph, and a few clippings from different newspapers. The clippings were taken from the Portland Oregonian and told how four thousand people had waited in line to grasp his hand on July 15, which had been set aside by the Exposition authorities as Joaquin Miller Day. He will lecture for the English club on September 29.

The following is a facsimile of the letter sent to Miss Peterson.

"Few and evil have been my days. Let it go at that, for I don't like myself or my work well enough to write of either. You can find all you need to have outside of my Complete Poems in the Dictionary or Cyclo. Here is a bit of newspaper data, also a photo.

Yours,

Joaquin Miller.

P. S. I need a secretary. The one I had has not good sense. She got married. Have you in your English club some girl who would care to live with my mother here and pursue literary work. Help me out please.

Sophomores Win Cane Rush from Baby Class

With a spirit and determination that knew not the meaning of the word defeat, the Sophomores triumphed over their adversaries in the annual cane rush on the football field last Saturday afternoon. The second year men anxious to retrieve their lost laurels began hostilities with a rush, and succeeded in carrying the cane across the field in the remarkable time of seventy seconds. Fred Freeman, captain of the Sophomores, was the hero of the day, an after he had made the run which decided the contest, he was placed on the shoulders of his admirers and was carried across the field followed by a happy and tumultuous throng of Seniors and Sophomores whose joys knew no bounds.

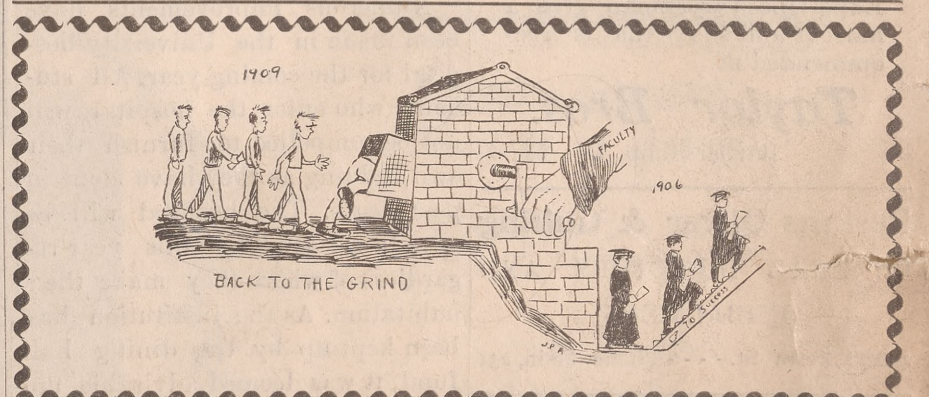

The commencement of festivities was announced by the report of a pistol, and at the same moment Miss Bertha Knemeyer, president of the Senior class handed the cane to Fred Freeman. Furnished with interference by Westall, George and Kline, the stalwarts of the class, he succeeded carrying the cane for a distance of over fifty yards by dodging and eluding his pursuers before he was downed in his tracks by Archie Miller. Each Sophomore had selected his man before the beginning of the rush, and in the majority of cases he had carried out his intention. So when the cane went down, the glimmering visions of a pile-up was destined to fade away, for the three or four babies in that vicinity were soon disposed of. After a few minutes of tussling Freeman was extricated from the bottom of the heap, and with a clear field before him made the run which won the day for his classmates.

A large crowd of townspeople and university students were on the field at the appointed hour to witness the rush. The affair was scheduled to take place at 2 o'clock but half an hour was consumed in a dispute over the eligibility of certain students. After considerable bickering, the cane rush committee decided that Walter Davis '09 and Andrew Young '08 could take part in the contest, and ruled adversely against the claims of Sutherland Hibbard. This decision gave satisfaction to all concerned, and the rush began at 2:30 o'clock.

The different classes were out in full force, and the banners of the contestants were clearly in evidence. The banner of the Freshman class which had been purloined the evening before by the Sophomores but had been returned was the center of attraction. The rendering of the class yells by the college girls was a feature of the day.

By showing their superiority over the Baby class the Sophomores will have the privilege of wearing white vests and carrying a cane on the campus. The Sophs attribute their success to the fact that all the final details were decided upon before the trouble commenced. Victory has remained with the Sophomore classes for the last three years, which is unusual, as the second year men are usually handicapped by numbers. The judges of the contest were N. D. Wright '04, L. D. Skinner '06, H. H. Cazier '06 and James Hart '07.

As an aftermath to the real event of the day the Senior class employed a buss ride at the expense of the Sophomores, in the evening. Prof. J. A. Reid and family were invited to take part in the ride and four busses were necessary to handle the throng. The different college and class yells were given with a vim and vigor and many of the college songs were sung. The pleasure seekers visited the ranch of Governor Sparks and returned at a late hour.

Many Changes Made.

A number of changes will be noticed this year in the personell of the University faculty. Some professors have been transferred to another department, while others have come from Eastern colleges to instruct the students here for the first time.

J. R. Johnson, of the Kentunky State College, will be professor of Mathematics and Mechanics. He will take the place of Dean Thurtell, who resigned to accept the position of State Engineer.

S. C. Dinsmore, who has been on the Experiment Station staff at the University of Maine, will be an instructor in Chemistry at the University this year. He succeeds C. R. Fitzmaurice, who is mining in Mexico.

Professor J. G. Schrugam succeeds G. F. Blessing as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering. H. L. Prather, of the Kentucky State College, has received the appointment of instructor in this department.

Prof. George D. Louderback, who had been on a leave of absence for the past two years, will teach geology and mineralogy this year. Prof. J. A. Reid, has been transferred to the Physics department. Capt. R. M. Brambila has charge of the classes in College Algebra, Surveying and Graphic Statics.

Miss Katherine Lewers will instruct the different classes in free-hand drawing.

Improvement at Hospital.

Numerous improvements have been made in the University hospital for the coming year. All students who enter the hospital will not be compelled to furnish their own bedding as they have done in past years. The hospital will be open to all students this year regardless of where they make their habitation. As the institution has been kept up by the dining hall fund, it was deemed advisable, until the present year, to permit only those who stopped at Lincoln Hall to receive treatment when they were sick.

The athletes at Stanford Univer sity will be given a separate class in the gymnasium work this year for the first time, and will receive credit towards graduation for their work on the gridiron, diamond and track. Other changes are being made in this department that will make it much more popular.

Back Frnm Annapolis.

Harry F. Davis, formerly a member of the class of 1906 at the University, but now a student at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was greeting his classmates and friends on the campus Tuesday. Mr. Davis made a reputation for the sagebrush state at the academy by ranking among the first seven in scholarship in a class of over two hundred students. He reports that J. P. Olding, ex-'06 and Henry Shoner, ex-'06 are getting along nicely. He departed for San Francisco Tuesday evening to spend a portion of his thirty days furlough.

J. H. Price '04 and E. J. Erickson
'03 who formerly conducted an assay office at Silver Bow, were compelled to dispose of their property on account of their extensive interests in mining and real estate.

W. P. Catlin, '04 has mining property at Silver Bow which is destined to make him wealthy.
Assays obtained at a depth of three feet in the Criterion mine showed values aggregating $486 in gold and silver. Mr. Catlin recently let a contract for sinking a shaft to the depth of 100 feet at $15 a foot and work will be started immediately. Mining experts and prospectors have carried away several tons of ore in samples from this property.

frog, has been spending the summer months with his parents in White Pine county. He expects to resume operations shortly.

Wm. Moran '01, familiarly known as "Chuck", is surveying for Malcom McDonald, the famous mining man from Butte, Montana,
who is heavily interested in Tonopah,
Goldfield and Bullfrog mining companies.

L. S. Worthing, ex-'05, who is at present a member of the Junior class at the University of California, expects to enter the University of Nevada at the beginning of next semester.

TO CONSTRUCT BENCH FOR SENIORS

Last week a notice appeared on the east steps of Stewart Hall to the effect that they were to be kept sacred to the Senior and Junior classes, and that every week at commencement they were to be turned over to the next Junior class with fitting ceremonies.

Something of this nature may be said to be an established custom at the larger universities of the country and it seems quite appropriate that the upper classmen should have these steps for their own. Mr. Brown, however, removed the notice on the ground that the steps were public property and should not be used solely by any class. It is difficult to see how the action taken by the upper classmen could interfere seriously with anyone as the steps are off to the side of the building and are not often used by students.

Mr. Brown, to compromise the matter, has promised to erect some kind of a bench near the entrance of the Library, which it is hoped will in some measure take the place of the coveted steps.

NEW DEPART-MENT TO BE ADDED

The Record is to have a new department which should be of great use to students who have to work their way. There is to be a double column employment directory
which is to contain all applications of students wanting work, and a corresponding list from persons either at the University or elsewhere who want work done by students. It is well known that student labor is often the most profitable that can be secured, for a student who is willing to work
his or her way is apt to be steady and thorough in performance of duties.

It is hoped that everyone in Reno who would give aid to a worthy student, will feel free to make use of this department.

FINE SERIES OF LECTURES

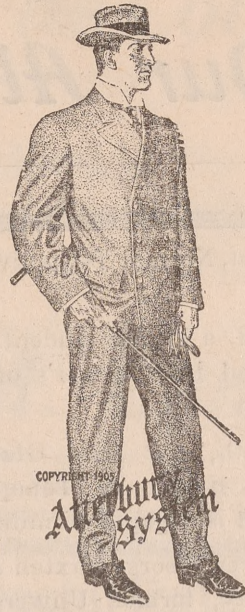

English Club Has Secured Services
of Best Literary Men in the Country

The Reno Free Lecture Association has succeeded in securing the services of some of the most prominent literary men in the country for the coming year. J.F. Fouche, a well known dramatic critic, gave a lecture last Monday evening in the basement of the Congregational church on Hamlet. Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, will entertain his hearers on Sept. 29 with a lecture on the "Days of Old, the Days of Gold". The Temple Quartette of Boston are scheduled to appear for the association during the month of November.

H. Morse Stephens of the University of California has agreed to deliver a lecture in January, and will discuss some subject of the Elizabethian period. Fredrick Warde, whose services as a lecturer are in great demand, has been secured for January, and will take up some Shakesperian topic. Thos. E. Green, the speaker for March, will treat the subject: "The Key of the Twentieth Century." Arrangements are now under way to secure the services of Professor Longly of the English department at the University of California for a lecture in April.

The members of the committee have gone to considerable expense in obtaining these lecturers, but in the endeavor to secure the best possible talent, the expense account was not given much consideration. Frederick Ward was not willing to appear for less than $250, and the services of the several others cost almost as much.

Style, Fit and Faultless Workmanship. These three Virtues are guaranteed.

College Boys as a rule are particular in their dress. They want style, dressiness and quality combined in their college attire. In other words they want snappy clothes which fit perfectly and retain their shape and yet can be depended upon to give excellent service. Then there is the price. We now there are hundreds of little things for which college boys must pay out money and we realize how quickly that monthly allowance from home dwindles down to nothingness. That is why we call your attention to our Special line of 11 suits. They have all the good qualities described above and at the moderate cost make light demands on your pocket book.

Of course we have cheaper suits and higher priced suits, but this eleven dollar line is particularly well adapted to the needs and the wants of the college boy. They are made of fine tweeds, chevots and worsted in single or double styles. The coat front wont break, the shoulders are broad and shapely -- in fact there isn't a feature that you won't find to your liking and only 11.00.
