

RELIANCE WINS CONTEST

A large and enthusiastic crowd gathered at the State Park yesterday to witness the annual football game between Nevada and the Reliance Athletic Club of Oakland in which the club men triumphed over their adversaries by the score of 5 to 0. The sagebrush team started out like winners and gradually forced the pigskin to within a few inches of the Reliance goal when the shrill call of the referee's whistle announced the close of the first half.

The Oakland team were unable to inflict any damage upon their opponents during the first part of the game.

The order of things was completely reversed in the second half. The ball was in Nevada's territory nearly all the time. The Reliance backs plunged through the Nevada line for gains repeatedly, and soon succeeded in carrying the ball over the goal line for a touchdown.

Reliance failed to kick the goal and the score stood, Reliance 5; Nevada 0. No scores were recorded during the remainder of the half.

The game was a success from a financial standpoint, over $175 being taken in at the gate. All students were admitted free, and many excursionists from Carson and Virginia City viewed the game.

Edgar Leavitt ex-04 and J. O. McElroy '03, former members of the Varsity team, played with the Reliance team.

Received Large Meteor

E. T. George, of Battle Mountain, who was a member of the committee which collected exhibits for the World's Fair in different sections of the State, has sent a meteorite weighing about 100 pounds which was discovered in Eureka county to the geological department of the University.

WANTS STATION ON MT. ROSE

Professor J. E. Church returned last week from a pilgrimage to the summit of Mount Rose, where he has been conducting a series of climatic observations with a view toward establishing a station for work of this character. During the month the thermometer showed the following readings: maximum, 73; minimum, 2 degrees below zero. For September the highest reading was 65½ degrees above zero, and the lowest was 4½ degrees below zero. The rainfall was as follows: August, four-tenths inches; September, one-tenth inches.

These experiments are carried on in connection with Prof. J. A. McAdie, of the Weather Bureau at San Francisco. Through his assistance Dr. Church expects to obtain a self-recording instrument which will indicate every variation of the weather.

Mount Rose is especially valuable as a point for prognosticating the changes in the weather because of its location. It is situated in the western end of the state, and conditions are such the rise and fall of the barometer on the mountain top can be detected two or three days before it can in Reno.

When the weather bureau at Carson is moved to Reno, greater work can be accomplished in this line. The construction of a telephone line which will connect Mount Rose with the outside world is among the possibilities. This will be especially valuable for a class in meteorology which will soon be organized at the University.

FOUNDERS DAY OBSERVED

Last Friday was the thirty-first anniversary of the founding of the Nevada State University and today was observed in a fitting manner. No classes were held but instead the students gathered in the gymnasium to listen to the different remarks of the speakers. Dean Wilson acted as chairman. Professor De Laguna read a letter that D. R. Sessions, one of the first principals of the University, had written to Dr. Stubbs on the occasion of the Tri-Decennial celebration held two years ago. The letter told of how things were run in the early history of our University.

Orvis Ring, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, followed Miss De Laguna and told of the early events connected with the college. He also urged upon the students the cultivation of oratory and public speaking, saying that a graduate of a university should always be able to speak in a way that would interest an audience. Professor Peter Frandsen then read an article concerning the Nevada Alumni, printed in 1895. He also drew from time to time, comparisons between the conditions existing at the time of the printing of that paper and those of the present time. The improvement shows that the University is constantly raising in standard and fame.

Captain R. M. Brambila amused the audience by relating reminiscences of the past. The description of the boarding house known as the Ram's Pasture, was particularly interesting. The destruction of that building by fire was a fortunate event, as it started a movement toward building the present dormitories.

Between the speeches music was furnished by the Cadet Band, the Girl's Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club.

FOOTBALL RALLY LAST THURSDAY

Students Hold Rally and Awaken College Spirit to High Standard

Last Thursday evening some two hundred students gathered around the gleaming light of a bonfire and held one of the most enthusiastic rallies ever witnessed in the history of the University. The silence of the evening was first broken by the singing of college songs which were followed by speeches from Coach Rudolph, Prof. Reid and the different members of the team. Towards the end, however, the students became so enthused and spirited that considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining a clear understanding of the various speakers, but their words, mingled with cheers of enthusiasm, were even more forcible and gave to the occasion an atmosphere of college spirit that words are too impotent to describe. After all the football men had spoken a serpentine dance was engaged in. Those who saw this feature of the evening will have something long to remember, for as the spiral line of students swayed in and out around the firelight the appropriateness of its name was indeed exemplified. When the announcement was made that the Rally had ended murmurs of disapproval were heard to escape from the throng but as the last feature had been accomplished, that of consigning a Reliance effigy to the flames, the participants reluctantly departed.

W. J. Luke '98, who has been mining in Costa Rica, is visiting his parents in Reno.

Richard Brown, superintendent of grounds, who has been enjoying a short vacation in San Francisco for about a week, returned from the Bay City last Thursday.

INSPECTOR WINN CRITICIZES CADETS

He Suggests That Cadets be Remanded for Violating Military Rules

Captain Frank L. Winn, who recently inspected the cadet battalions at the universities on the Pacific Coast, has sent his report to the War Department at Washington regarding the condition of the military department at the University of California. His report, from which the following extracts have been taken, is as a whole unfavorable, and his criticisms fall heavily upon the cadets as individuals.

"The individual set-up bearing and carriage, in and out of the ranks, is poor. The inspection arms was badly and as a rule incorrectly executed. The rifle is rarely firmly held in position, and out of ranks, even when in uniform, the first principle of military courtesy, namely, the saluting of officers, is absolutely ignored.

"The artillery drill was deficient in snap, rapidity and finish.

"I take it that some form of punishment less severe than exclusion from the course and more efficacious than reprimand, to be administered at the discretion of the commandant and immediately following the offence is required to meet the many slight infractions of military discipline that daily arise in so large a body and that cannot be passed over without inevitably lowering the work of all."

News of Big Game.

The Student Record will have a special representative at the football game between Nevada and Stanford Saturday. Several dispatches will be sent up from Palo Alto at different periods during the game. The result of each half will be announced to the students. All who desire to learn how the game is progressing should congregate in front of Merrill Hall where the bulletins will be read.

FRESHMAN DUMMY CAUSE OF RUSH

Two Lower Classes Engage in a Fierce Fight over Dummy on Baby Class

A small sized rush took place on the campus Wednesday morning. A dummy bearing the inscription "The mother of '09" had been placed on the campus by a party of Seniors, the night before, and when the freshmen awoke in the early morning a cry of alarm smote their ears. The sophs also heard the cry and started posthaste for the battle ground.

The rush was particularly fierce for a short time, when the interference of the Lincoln Hall upperclassmen ended it, and decided that neither class could claim a victory.

The rush caused bitter feeling among the upperclass men and has as some claim demonstrated the evil effect of rushes. The seniors were divided on condemning the action of those members of class who had placed the dummy on the campus and had incited the underclass men to rush. One senior from Lincoln Hall and seven from the town were in the party that placed the dummy on the campus.

At the meeting of the upperclass men J. S. Case, chairman of the upperclasses, resigned that position after the body by a standing vote refused to condemn the action of the senior party responsible for the appearance of the dummy.

George R. Leidy and Archie Miller were finally rewarded last Thursday for the strenuous work they have done on the second eleven when Captain H. L. Jones gave them the signals of the first team, and assigned them to the positions of subs on the Varsity. Their playing during the last six weeks was of such high order that promotion necessarily followed.

LIBRARY WILL BE OPENED AT NIGHT

All Obstacles That Interfered With Carrying Out of Plan Have Been Cast Aside

Arrangements for the opening of the University library at night have been under way for several weeks past, and the library committee announces that nearly all the final details have been completed. The only obstacle that interfered with the carrying out of the project was that there was no way of providing for the extra expense which amounted to $75 a month. This sum of money will be deducted from the book fund of the different professors.

The management of the library has been conducted this year in a more systematic manner than ever before. Many improvements can be noticed in different parts of the building. A new self has been placed on the left of the stack room, and the stove in the seminary room makes things pleasant and agreeable for those who desire to study without annoyance.

Will Hold Convention.

The Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations will hold its annual session this year at Washington, D. C., on November 14. Dr. P. B. Kennedy, of the Botanical Department, will look after the interests of the University at the convention. Dr. J. E. Stubbs also expects to be in attendance when the gathering convenes. The discussion of questions of vital interest to the association will be the feature of the conference.

Arthur Parsons and Miss Laura Shier of Delamar Nevada were married recently in Salt Lake City. The young people expect to make Delamar their future home. Miss Shier was formally a student at the University and is a member of the Delta Rho Sorority.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1905

A Progressive Firm.

Manager Taylor, of the football team, attributes the success of yesterday's football game from a financial standpoint to the excursion from Carson, Virginia City and Gardnerville conducted by Gray, Reid Wright Co. This progressive firm has set a pace in the business world that will be hard to attain. They have always tried to assist University enterprises in every way, and faculty, students and friends of the University should remember their good work by patronizing them whenever the occasion demands. They are entitled to anything the University can offer them in return.

Should Plant Trees

When the question of planting trees or evergreens on the campus next University day, the nature of the work done should come up for consideration. The first year was devoted to the planting of trees, and the setting up of evergreens was the principal feature of last year's celebration. The vines which now adorn several of the buildings on the campus are beautiful, and, when the arrangements for this year are being contemplated, the planting of vines on the campus should come in for its share of comment.

Teacher's Institute.

The Teacher's Institute at Elk last week passed resolutions appreciating the efforts of Dr. R. A. Adams of the University as president of the Nevada Teacher's Association to secure needed educational reforms and progress. Dr. Adams returned Friday from the scene of activities after having conducted a very successful institute.

False Report.

Dr. J. E. Church, of the Latin Department, states that that the article which appeared in a number of state papers relative to an examination made by him of the famous footprints at the State prison in Carson is false in every particular. The purpose of his visit to the capital city was not to make scientific observations. He was invited by the Leisure Hour club of Carson to deliver a lecture on 'University Life in Germany,' and this was the only object that caused him to take the trip to Carson.

At Other Universities

Eckersall, the Chicago star, kicked thirty out of thirty-six attempts for field goals from the forty-yard line last week.

A Harvard graduate has given Yale $10,000. It was given to be used to bring Harvard professors to Yale for lecture work, in order to bring about a closer friendship between the institutions.

At the University of Missouri a regular schedule has been arranged for the second team, so the "scrub eleven" will play other colleges over the state. This will improve the second team by giving them something to work for, and in strengthening them, will strengthen the varsity team.

Alwin Krenzalien, holder of the world's record for both of the hurdle races, has accepted the position of the trainer at the University of Wisconsin. While he is a graduate of Pennsylvania, he began his college life at Wisconsin.

Cornell University opened for its thirty-seventh college year last week. For the first time in its history the enrollment of students reached 3500, and for the first time the entering class numbered 1000.

According to the Chicago Record Herald, W. W. Coe, the world's champion shot-putter, has entered the University of Michigan. At the time of the meet in Portland it was generally reported that Coe would enter Stanford in September.

Did Not Play.

The football game which was scheduled to take place Friday afternoon between the Second Eleven and the Reno High School did not occur. Coach Rudolph objected strenuously to the game being played. Coach Hoffman, of the High School, stated that his men were not in the proper condition to endure the knocks incident to a gridiron contest. The afternoon of Founder's Day was devoid of any athletic feature.

Held Meeting

The Pacific Athletic Association of which the University of Nevada is a member held its annual meeting last week and elected a board of officers for the ensuing year. C. C. Smith '05 was appointed as a representative from the University, and was also given a position on the Board of Managers.

He was recently appointed to the position of assistant editor on the Daily Palo Alto staff. His short stories and poems have gained for him a place on the staffs of the Sequoia and the Chapparel. He also plays first violin on the University orchestra.

Important Topic Discussed.

The question for discussion at the last meeting of the Congress club was: "Resolved, that expansion in the United States is expedient." Each member of the club discussed the question from his standpoint, and the club decided that the affirmative had won the debate. The subjects for discussion at the next three meetings are as follows: "Labor Unions are Subversive to American Institutions;" "Publicity is the Best Way of Dealing with Corporations;" "Women Should Have Equal Suffrage With the Men."

GRADUATES SCORE SUCCESS

Among the thousands who have been attracted to the rich mineral belt in southern Nevada are many graduates of this University. We read in the daily papers from day to day, and are informed by friends that in many instances they are prospering. Many of them hold lucrative and responsible positions as assayers and surveyors, others have discovered or bonded claims that promise wealth, while still others have already accumulated small fortunes by investment and speculation. Though many of the tales we hear of doings in the southern country are colored the above statements, are in the main true. Hidden wealth is there and Nevada men have shown the energy and ability to ferret it out. We are glad to hear of their success for their achievements reflect credit on the University. But just now the call of the south seems to come strong to men engaged in a work where the University should be especially well represented.

Debating Manager for Seniors

Alfred Hamlin '06 was elected Debating Manager of the Senior class at a meeting held last Thursday. He will have charge of all the negotiations connected with the coming Senior-Junior class debate. The Seniors must choose the question and challenge the Junior class, which has the privilege of selecting the side they will uphold. Arrangements for the Senior tryout are now under way. Mr. Hamlin has been interested in debating since his first year at college and is also center on the Varsity football team

Faculty Committee To Decide Scholarship

The three members of the senior class whose class standings will entitle them to an equal share of the $75 scholarship won by the class last year will shortly be known to public. The final disposition of this important subject was left to the members of the faculty, and it was the principal thing discussed at their meeting last Friday. Drs. J. E. Church and G. D. Loudersback and Professor Robert Lewers were appointed to look up the class records, and decide upon those who deserve the prizes.

Again A Star

Frank M. Frisell ex-'06, whose brilliant work on the gridiron and the cinder path at the University has attracted the attention of college men on the Pacific coast, was the star in the football game between the universities of Oregon and California, which resulted in a nothing to nothing score. He had no difficulty in circling the Berkeley ends for long runs. The score does not indicate the relative merits of the two teams for Oregon outplayed her adversaries during both halves. Bruce C. Shorts who coached the University last year holds a similar position at the University of Oregon this year.

President J. E. Stubbs on his journey East will attend the inauguration ceremonies at the university of Illinois in which Edmund James will be formally installed as president of that institution. October 19, 20 and 21 have been set aside by the University authorities for properly observing the great event. The majority of the Eastern college presidents and a number of presidents from the Pacific slope are expected to be in attendance.

That's about a guarantee as we could give. Is it not? You who are used to paying high prices for your clothing, or else have been getting poor clothes for bigger prices than these no doubt wonder how we can do it. ITS just this way We bought these suits from a manufacturer who can afford to make good clothes for little money demanding spot cash for his clothing. In this way he takes no risks and can sell at a very loose margin of profit. Besides we have already sold a great many of these suits and have not heard the slightest murmur against them, but lots of praise for them. That is why we feel perfectly safe in guaranteeing them as we do.

THE SUITS—They come in a large variety of stylish fabrics—fine tweeds and worsted in swell fall patterns and shades.
