FRESHIES SCATTER FROM '14

(By a Sophomore)
Custom is a peculiar thing and is adhered to just as strongly as the law in many cases. As has been customary the Sophomores started out to prove their supremacy in mighty combat.

From the looks of things, as we first saw them on the campus that morning, there promised to be a good lively dispute as to which side really should gain the supremacy. Some of the wise old Sophs had the interests of their class very much at heart. They slept but little that night and rolled out of bed just a little past midnight firmly convinced that the proper thing to do was to gather in a band and annihilate the poor Freshmen before they had time to open their eyes.

By much stealth and secrecy the sleepy but gallant Sophomores were gathered and fled out of Lincoln hall to meet the enemy.

As I said before, it was in the wee sma' hours of the morning and sunlight was scarce. That may account for the fact that every one swore that they saw no less than forty Freshmen out on the campus.

These same Freshmen proved extremely soluble, for they melted away in the shadows. We finally came across a goodly bunch of them. There was a rush, or rather a sprint, and again the Freshmen proved their solubility by just fading away, all but a few untucky ones who had not been trained to sprint.

Needless to say the Sophomores took the rush with flying colors. Nevertheless we are forced to admire the successful running qualities of the Freshmen and later on were forced to admire them for running, not as they did that morning, but in the opposite direction, when had the Sophomores been wise they, too, might have shown some speed.

1914 MAN A BENEDICT

Harold Hale, Ex. '14, Gets Last Sentence

Last Thursday morning in San Francisco Miss Ruth Hampton and Harold P. Hale, both well known in Reno and on the U. N. campus, were married.

Mr. Hale was one of the most prominent members of the Sophomore class of the U. of N. He graduated in 1909 from the Reno high school with many honors. Since last spring Mr. Hale has been with the law firm of Mayers, Lunsford & Fowler, and continues to hold his position. Miss Hampton was well known on "The Hill" and has received a host of congratulations from her numerous friends here.

The Sagebrush unites with all who knew this young couple in wishing them a wealth of life happiness.

Hold a Picnic at Moana

Saturday afternoon Moana was the scene of much merriment. Some of the hall girls and a few of the downtown girls had a jolly picnic. First, there were hours spent swimming in the tank, floating and paddling. Then the baby monkey was paid a visit, and lastly, but not least, a substantial lunch was served to the following hungry girls: Mathilda Jepson, Margaret Langwith, Ethel Thompson, Helen Hobbins, Isabelle Schuler, Marie De Flon, Nell Morrow, Eleanor Rogers, Ada Hussman and Jessie Hyton.

THE FRESHMEN TIE UP SOPHS

(By a Freshman)

After plans had been completed for a dummy rush the Freshmen hoisted their work of art to the flag pole. After some coaxing the Sophomores came, formed in a well organized body to attack the first year men.

The Sophomores hit hard, but were repulsed, and soon tied hand and foot by the Freshmen. The boys of '15 were very thoughtful and did not tie their captives very tightly, so during their jollification a Sophomore gained freedom, climbed the pole and cut the dummy loose. The dummy was recognized on its downward journey and was greeted with open arms by '15, who again suspended it to a nearby tree, overlooking the captives.

During the time the Freshmen were enjoying the discomforts of the Sophs, two of the latter loosened their bonds and made a charge for a camera, breaking a support of the hipod, but the picture still exists. The two guilty men were punished by a cool plunge in the ditch, being warned not to offend again.

At the end of three-quarters of an hour the upper classmen decided the rush in favor of the Freshmen, whereupon all the Sophomores were released.

A number of the co-eds were eye witnesses of the rush, showing their class spirit.

The one pleasing characteristic feature of the rushes and sports taken in hand by the Sophomores and Freshmen this year is the fair and manly manner in which they have been conducted, and this we hope will continue for all time.

NO STANFORD-CALIFORNIA FRESHMAN GAME THIS YEAR

Owing to the action taken by the faculty of Stanford University forbidding Freshman intercollegiate athletics there will be no Stanford-California baby game this fall. The U. C. Freshman team will play their final game against the University of Southern California on October 14. Their other games will be against the various colleges and high schools around the bay.

New book cases have been added in the library in order to accommodate the increasing number of books, and not for the purpose of filling places, as some people may think. So, students, see to it that you are quiet and studious while in the library and not wasting your time in queening.

FOOTBALL NOTES

(By "The Prince")

Though there is a period of ten months from the end of a football season till the beginning of the next, it seems but a short while since we were doing our utmost with the 1910 team. Interest never seems to wane in the pig-skin sport, from one year's end to another—even during the baseball season football gets its share of "talk."

About the only ones who are not interested are those dire outrages of society who mooch aimlessly about the campus, their trousers at half-mast, a piece of boiled linen about their necks, resembling the white-washed fence of a chicken yard, sickly grins upon their doughy faces, and who love to be referred to as queeners.

But I am digressing. My business is with men and football.

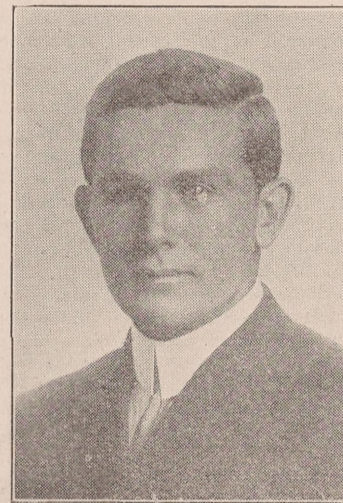

When Coach "Kid" Bennett first called the roll on the Mackay athletic field, he, together with the remnants of last year's team, was most agreeably surprised at the interest evinced by the new men, and after a few days of practice the coach wore one of those won't-come-off smiles. Incidentally, let's hope that he won't find it necessary to try and remove it.

Several men found, after signing up for practice, that time was not available for studies and sport, too, so the latter had to go by the board—truly a very unfortunate circumstance—as of the two evils, study seems to be the more necessary.

"Kid" Bennett, our graduate coach, is on the right tack in the methods he is adopting, and will show the natives a team that will be fit to compare with the 1909 bunch. Bennett knows the game—no one has a shade on him—and further, he has the gift of imparting his knowledge to the greenest of beginners, which is a source of satisfaction to the pupil as well as the tutor. And if any one should have the idea that he is spending his time on a bed of roses, it would be a good idea for them to show up on the field some day, and get an idea of what a coach has to go through, and still maintain an unruffled disposition.

Personally, I'm as strong for Bennett as I was for Mayers, and the latter was as near to faultless as could be. Keep an eye on Bennett this fall, and tell me at the finish that I am a fair judge. There is little talk as to who will captain this year's team—it would seem that the followers of the game have not yet realized that Fletcher will not be with us. He was the only man of the 1910 team whom we felt that we would really miss. Luther DuBois was a good man in his position, but we find that it will not be a difficult task to replace him, though all would be glad to see him on the field, nevertheless. With Fletcher, it is different. It is seldom that one finds a man so good that some one else cannot be found just as good. But that appears to be our position in this instance. There has been a deal of adverse criticism of Fletcher's actions, but it has all come from those who either did not know

COACH E. R. BENNETT

Fletcher, or who are not acquainted with the actual facts of the case. Anyone knowing anything of the man or the position in which he is placed will take the stand on the behalf of "Fletch" and stoutly maintain that he did not know when he accepted the various honors conferred upon him, that he would not be able to return to Nevada this semester. And so it was. I had the pleasure of a day in Fletcher's company the end of June, and he was full of enthusiasm for this season, and had no more idea, at that time, than I had that he would not be with us. It's a pity that we have lost him, for a whiter man never left Nevada.

A number of the men of last year's team are out for practice and are showing up well. This year's back division is going to be a crackerjack, and I guess the forwards won't be any rusty. It is useless to single out any individuals at this time, for they will get all that's coming to them later on, when they begin to do things.

A new scheme this year in the games will be to have the players' jerseys numbered so that the public, not being acquainted with the individual members, may know "who's who, and why."

The practices are getting more spirited daily, and quite a few spectators are the hearers. By the 29th of September, when we play our first game, it is quite on the cards that Prof. Geo. J. Young, Peter Frandsen and Maxwell Adams will be amongst the foremost of the rooters, and it will be difficult to keep them off the side lines. Wait and see.

UNIVERSITY NOW POSSESSES HIGH CLASS ORCHESTRA

From the music dispensed at the dance given by one of the sororities lately it is quite evident to all the college people and their friends that A. W. Preston and his musical assistants will be delivering the best music ever heard on "The Hill" this winter.

TEAM WILL HAVE TO ELECT A CAPTAIN

Fletcher Will Not Be Here

Monday Coach Bennett received word from Fletcher stating finally that he would not be with us to captain our team this season.

Fletcher played fullback on the 'varsity two years ago and played on the three-quarter line last year. He played a good game in both positions.

At the end of last season he was elected captain. Fletcher is a fast and heady player and we are sorry he could not be with us again this season.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE CLASS OF 1915

The Junior Class called a meeting of the Freshmen on Thursday, August 17. Class organization was taken in hand and the following officers elected: President, Robert Bringham; vice president, Ira Kent; treasurer, Robert Ware; secretary, Miss McNeily; standard bearer, Miss Stinson. A committee was appointed to form by-laws and a constitution. Other committees were appointed to carry out various plans which had been proposed.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

Football and Student Jolly-Up Brings Out Nearly All Students

On last Friday night the students gathered in the gymnasium for a football rally and a general good time. The main entertainment was at the expense of the Freshmen, however, but even they entered into the spirit of the affair and seemed to enjoy themselves. The men students of the university occupied the lower floor of the gym and the ladies and visitors filled the gallery. The fun seemed so intense that even the visitors stayed until a late hour when the program was completed.

The evening was started off with general college yells, after which the different classes congregated in different parts of the room and gave their class cheers. Nevada split was manifest in its fullest. After the cheers the house was called to order by the chairman of arrangements, Chester Ogden, who introduced several members of the faculty for short talks. Words of encouragement and enthusiasm were spoken by Coach Bennett, Graduate Manager Kennedy and Professors Ross, Haseman, Thompson and Knight. If what the speakers said is true Nevada will have the strongest rugby team this year in her history. They have some hard games already scheduled and with the proper support they will certainly do credit to the university and the state.

After the rally Judge Spencer took charge of the meeting and with the help of other upper classmen proceeded to initiate the Freshmen into the mysteries of university life. They were taught the lesson of obedience and did their stunts very creditably indeed. Pie eating, milk drinking, orating, singing and traveling in airships, not to mention numerous minor stunts, were indulged in by the embryos and no one showed the least stage fright or the lack of ability in his particular line. The affair took on the aspect of a real live entertainment and the many visitors who were dumbfounded by the ability shown by the Freshmen in accomplishing such feats as they did on such short notice.

Wonders could certainly be accomplished by proper care and training of these young men and the upper classmen aim to see to it that they get this training.

A new ice cream parlor has just been installed at the Thomas Cafe.

SOPHS WIN FOR THE SECOND TIME

The annual contest for supremacy between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes of the university took place on Wednesday morning, August 23, on the Mackay athletic field. This was the final rush between the two lower classes and has ended all organized clashes between them.

The contest, if such it may be called, was in charge of a committee of upperclassmen. Owing to the fact that the Freshmen class outnumbered the older class nearly two to one, it was decided to limit the number of contestants on a side, and consequently eighteen men were entered from each class.

The Sophomores were lined up at the north end of the field and their opponents at the center. The Sophomores were given the cane, and at the crack of a pistol the opposing factions rushed towards one another, the Sophomores determined to carry the cane the length of the field, and the Freshmen equally determined to prevent their doing so.

When the two bodies of rushing collegians came together there was a sickening thud and the two sides mingled together on the turf in an unrecognizable mass of writhing arms and legs, with a touzeled head showing occasionally in the melee.

At the very outset Freshman Wiley was taken from the field with a badly gashed forehead. This left the Freshmen one man short, and consequently another, more than willing, Freshman was sent into the fray. All of which was fair and just. But the Freshmen wanted to be even a little more fair and just, so two or three other zealous first year men tumbled onto the pile to help their tiring classmates.

It was a bloody contest. Bradner sprinkled the pile plentifully with the gory fluid, and others contributed freely to redde the wriggling pile. The struggle had lasted slightly over fifteen minutes when McPhail, Parsons and Piggott succeeded in getting away from the bunch and carried the cane over the line, thus winning a victory for the class of '14.

The end of the rush seemed to satisfy both classes and it seems to have prompted a strong feeling of friendship and respect amongst the several members. In fact, the Sophomores celebrated their victory that night by a trip to the theater, and it is reported that the Freshmen accompanied them as their guests.

Many old students of the University viewed the contest that morning, and many were the opinions expressed by them. However, the consensus of opinion seemed to have been that the cane rush of old days, and the one which has been an established custom for years, has degenerated. "It is not like the good old rushes we used to have," they say. "It should be class to class and not limited to a certain number of men on a side."

The suggestion is a good one and it would be well for next year's upper class to think it over.

1910 CO-EDS CONVENED

If you will note the football schedule you will see that we have two games with the University of California. One of these games will be played on our own field.

Here is our chance to beat Berkeley. Let us put forth our greatest effort in this direction. Coach Bennett and the squad are doing their very best on the field every night, and so let each one of the college students who are not on the squad help out in his small way. Lend a hand and keep the spirit rolling high, the rest will be easy.

Nevada spirit never was beaten.

HEARD AT THE CANE RUSH

Wednesday while watching the preliminaries of the annual Sophomore-Freshman cane rush I thought of an old Texan cowboy's motto: "Do your damndest. Angel, could do no more." About me were seated class men of various rank engaged in the usual college talk, and I caught these words: "Well, I guess I can make enough in ..... to pass." In my mind the two opposite conditions that make up college life were being compared, college work, which consists of the educational part of the game, and college activity, which consists of athletics, society, etc. These two seemed to be separate, the college work a necessary evil which made possible the college activity. For college activity the best that was in a man was demanded, 100 per cent of effort asked and received; college work, the necessary evil, receiving and having to be satisfied with 70 per cent work, or the amount necessary to "pass." A student will go into Professor A's lecture room, pass the time, probably, reading a newspaper or making plans for the afternoon, and trust that in the end somehow or other he will make the 70 per cent necessary to pass, his eye becoming fixed inevitably on the passing point and not on the 100 per cent, the study being worked not for growth of mind, but for the ability to pass. This student passes out of the lecture room to the coach, works for the football team, the track team, the glee club, or the big letter, and you find that he has to and is willing to do 100 per cent work, he is expected to by his alma mater, his professor, his president and himself if he is to uphold the honor and fame of his college, and everybody in spirit, if not in words is telling him to "do his damndest."

Then I thought and wondered why there was not more competition in studies, a little brain competition, and why students never felt particularly excited about developing the cells and coils of their brains as they did their muscles, it seems a case of "watch us grow" with the muscles but the brain gets what it can without any particular attention paid to it. It might be a good suggestion to use the cowboy's motto for the college work and have something like a "Sophomore-Freshman Brain-Rush."

A SPECTATOR.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

Monday night the first executive committee meeting of this school year was held. Nothing of a new origin came up. Some of the last year's business was discussed and finished up, such as the appointment of Mr. Carl Milentz as assistant to the graduate manager.

The resignation of Mr. Gilbert Tyler as editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush was accepted and Mr. C. M. Ogden, '12, was appointed to fill the vacant seat.

The matter of appointing a new leader was next talked over and it was decided to have yell practice out on the bleachers some night soon and allow the contestants to try out before the president of the student body, the vice president and graduate manager.

All applications for well leader should be handed in to Mr. Schuler, secretary to the student body, not later than September 5, 1911.

The committee then adjourned to meet again the first week in September.

May Porter Announces Engagement

At a pretty party given at her home in Verdi about the first of August Miss May Porter, ex. '12, broke the news of her engagement to Mr. Charles Helphenstine, Ex. '12.

Miss Porter entered the university with the class of '12. She took quite an active interest in girl's athletics and played on class and college basketball teams the three years she was here.

A year ago she was elected captain of the college team and last year she was re-elected to the same position.

Mr. Helphenstine entered the university in January, '09, and took an active part in college and class activities. He was class treasurer and took a leading part in the junior play last year. Mr. Helphenstine was a prominent member of the T. H. P. O. fraternity. He is at present managing his father's farm near Chico, Cal.

We join their many friends in wishing them a happy and successful future.

ALUMNI NOTES

Miss Enid Williams, B. A. '99, died near Chio, Cal., as the result of a runaway accident July of this year. Miss Williams was a very accomplished pianist, having studied for years in Europe after leaving college here. Her home was in San Francisco at the time of her death.

Miss Kate Bender, B. A. '01, was married on August 1 to Mr. Geo. R. Worn. They are living at present in Boca, where Mr. Worn has large lumber interests.

Marcus G. Bradshaw and Miss Myrtle Cooper were married this month at Goldfield, Nev., where they will make their home.

Miss Alma Wilson, (Ex.) H. S. (Com.) '10, was married on August 21st to Mr. Cole C. Puett. They will live at Tuscarira, Nev.

Miss Agnes P. Gibson, B. A. '04, was married on August 14th to Mr. Ed. Chester of Sacramento, Cal.

Miss Clara Flannery, Normal '09, was married on July 5th to Mr. Wesley Lewis.

HIGH SCHOOL

Prof. Lacey, who has taken charge of the History Department of the N. N. H. S., has already made himself a host of friends among our students. Prof. Lacey, while attending the University of Kansas, was an honor student and graduated in '07 as a B. A. Later he received his M. A. degree from the Kansas State University, which he also visited. We sincerely hope that the present cordial relations between our students and "the new professor" will be strengthened as we become better acquainted.

Among the new students who have registered at the N. N. H. S. are: Thelma Hall, Adna Brown, Isabel Rising, Kamma Shoegreen, Constance Watson, Alma Wagner, Isabel Clark, Gladys Brown, Alice Frisch, Louise Frisch, Gertrude Harcourt, Mabel Nelson, Margaret Osmon, Ethel Raine, Florence Nimnis, Percy Wiley, Walter Jepson, Cecil Chatovich, Ira Richardson, Chas. Stenbight, Fred Arnold, Roy Cool, John Donohue and Elmer Fogle.

Football season will soon open and all able-bodied Preps. should come out and train for the coming games. We want to win all our games after this and everybody should come out and help us do it.

A course in botany is being given at the H. S. this year under Professor Heller. This course should be taken advantage of, especially as Professor Heller is a very interesting talker.

Go to White Company for good printing.

CONKEY-FREY NUPTIALS

On June 27, at the home of her mother, Miss Irene Conkey, '10, and Lawrence ("Dutch") Frey, '08, were united in marriage. Since her graduation Miss Conkey has been teaching in the Lovelock high school. Mr. Frey has a large cattle and sheep ranch near Roseburg, Oregon.

We join their friends in wishing them success and happiness.

Many Attractions This Fall

The list of attractions for the second annual course of entertainments to be given this coming fall and winter under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. has just been completed.

The committee, prompted by the good success of last year's course, which was greatly pleasing and so much enjoyed by all the patrons, has arranged a series of six high class entertainments, among the best in the Lyceum field, at a larger financial outlay than heretofore, but will hold to the same low price for student season tickets, viz., $2 for all six attractions. These will be held in the Majestic theater.

The first number on the course will occur October 3rd, when the artistic trio will open the series. This trio is composed of Madame Lilly Dorn, the famous Austrian dramatic soprano; Herr Ignace Haroldi, the great Polish violin virtuoso, and Mrs. Gertrude Ross, pianist.

"THE BARRIER" COMING

Majestic Offers Many Attractions

The opening attraction of the season at the Majestic theater will be Rex Beach's most popular play, "The Barrier," which is booked for two nights, Sunday and Monday, September 3rd and 4th.

Manager Aylesworth, who has been in New York for the past several months arranging bookings, announces an excellent list of attractions for the Majestic. In addition to the regular road companies arrangements have been made for a new line of high class motion picture photo plays, such as are being presented in many of the larger eastern cities at the present time, and this class of popular priced entertainment will be presented at the Majestic every night throughout the coming winter, when there are no regular companies booked to appear there.

The seat sale for "The Barrier" opens Friday morning at the Majestic box office. On account of the engagement being for two nights the prices have been arranged at 25 cents to $1, and at these popular prices for such an attraction the entire house will undoubtedly be sold out for both nights. The next attraction at the Majestic after "The Barrier" will be Max Dill, the well known German comedian, supported by a company of fifty people presenting his latest musical comedy success, "The Rich Mr. Hoggenheimer." Mr. Dill and his company will appear here for one night only, Thursday, September 7th, coming direct from a two weeks' run at the Savoy theater in San Francisco.

DO NOT DELAY

All students should at once order their uniforms and equipment at the Otis & Taylor store, so there will be no delay in getting them.

The Feckheimer uniforms gave such splendid satisfaction last year that Otis & Taylor have been given the contract again this year.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

The physical culture classes have been organized and are now ready for work. The classes are to be graded according to the pupil's standing in college. The Freshmen women will report on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11-12. The Sophomore women report on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday at 12-1, and the high school girls will report Wednesday and Friday at 12-1. A special class has been arranged for members of the faculty, and the upper class women who have finished the course and desire to take advanced work, also people from down town who wish to take physical culture. This class will meet Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 3-4.

As the four rooms upstairs in the gym have been made into two large ones physical culture will not be a "torture," as it has formerly been, for under the new arrangement every girl will have her own locker and key and will thus be enabled to take care of her suit and shoes. The college women will have the steel lockers, while the high school girls will have the others.

The course of work this year will be similar to that of the past term, but will be more advanced and interesting.

DELTA RHO SORORITY GIVE SOCIAL

Delta Rho sorority opened the returning college year by a series of delightful parties and entertainments.

On Friday evening, August 18, the members gave an informal dancing party in the gym in honor of the new students. Nearly all the college girls and boys were present, and, with the splendid music, delicious punch and gracious hostesses, the affair was a decided success, and everyone became acquainted with everyone else. The enjoyable affair this year took the place of the annual Delta reception to the new girls alone.

For fine lunches call at the Thomas Cafe.
