STUDENT BODY MEETING 10 A. M. NEXT FRID.

Seniors Convene Our Varsity Colors on Comstock

On Wednesday of last week the Senior class in mining and metallurgy went on an inspection trip to Virginia City and the several mining properties of the Comstock. This is an annual trip and is a part of the regular work of mining courses 21 and 28. The first part of the time allotted to this work was spent in going over the surface geology insofar as shshsh the ledge or lode by its outcrop across country in a generally northerly and southerly direction, and studying its relation to the wall rocks on either side

The first underground work was done in the C. and C. properties. Here, workings o nlevels as deep as 2700 feet were inspected. The point that most forcibly struck the students was the extremely high temperatures in parts of the mine and its variation over wide ranges within comparatively small areas. Often a marked drop or rise in temperature was encoun tered in walking a few rods in the same drift. Temperatures up to over a hundred degrees Fahrenheit were common and, in places where the ventilation was inadequate, much higher were found. This mine heat when accompanied by vapor from the moisture of the rocks must be experienced to be appreciated.

Another point that claimed our attention was the magnitude of the ventilation and pumping equipment, thousands of horse-power being required to run the machinery neces sary to keep this group of mines workable. Further underground visits were made to the Ophir, Mexican, Sutro Tunnel and Ward shaft. means of the diamond drill.

For surface work we visited these properties: C. and C., Combination, Mexican, Union and Ward shaft. For the work in metallurgy we visited several mills among which were: Yelliw Jacket, Kinkead, Butters and the new Mexican, now in course of construction.

A noticeable thing about the trip was the welcome shown to Prof. Young and the class by the different owners and managers and the interest they took in making the trip as comfortable and instructive as possible These students along with Prof. Young made the trip: Bruce, Chapman, Cashin, Cameron, Walter Anderson, Goldsworthy, Seaton and Finney.

NOW WE KNOW

Now, that our football season is over, it is time to call the attention tistic sense. But art is not often pracof the students to an error they have been making for the last few years, that is, that our college colors are royal blue, and not blue and white, as has been commonly supposed. This wrong conception of the truth has been caused largely by the popular publishing of the news of our football games, both in our student paper and also in the dailies, as the feats of the "Blue and White." Show one of these glaring headlines to any of our old alumni and they will fly up and ask you what team you mean, and it will take at least a week's argument to convince them that Nevada is meant. Again, this idea has been fixed, almost indelibly on our minds because Nevada has had no original songs in the last ten years, and we still sing those of the old times when our college colors were silver and blue. One of our prettiest and justly most popular songs is the "UU. of N. So Gay,' written before the Spanish-American war and issued in the Y. W. C. A. song book in 1902 with the colors as the silver and the blue. By this, it is seen that the old colors of silver and blue are fixed in song and verse and that we have had no popular song since this time.

A little history of our colors would be interesting to some. ond half had been in progress, "Little Doc" Kennedy, by the courtesy of one. Chapman, was allowed to notch a goal for the Profs. Chapman has been beseiged with theatrical offers since Tuesday, on account of his wonderful acrobatic propensities, but up 'till going to press, had not accepted any. "Chap" knew that he had to let that ball go through, but he had not thought that it was coming his way, because the size of the ball obscured "Little Doc" who was propelling it, and it was not until the ball rose, that "Chap" discovered that it had been unduly influenced from behind. After this score had been allowed, the Seniors took the ball to the other end of the field, and kept it there, much to the chagrin of the faculty members, who, up till then had thought that they were winners. The scene was a heart rending one, with the under-grads taking the ball at will, but not at any time taking the chance of shooting for goal, as that

University Glee Club Organizes

After much trouble and delay in selecting its members the University Men's Glee Club has started out good and strong. At present there are 12 members, all working hard.

The club was given quite a backset earlier in the season when the leader and first tenor, Mr. Romans, left town. Much of the credit for the present excellent condition of the club is due to Messrs, Unsworth, Linden and Penry, who have offered their services and are working hard with the rest to bring the club to a high standard. With the aid of these men the club is now a very well balanced bunch of singers.

After some three weeks of hard practice the Glee Club made its first appearance at Assembly last Friday The two pieces were sung very nicely. A lot of new music has been received this last week and arrangements have been made to practice twice a week from now on. They will be heard at the Assemblies from time to time.

At present the club is composed of Unsworth, Linden, Robb, 1st tenors; Walker, Milentz, Haseman, 2nd teners; Penry, Hancock, Piggott, 1st bass; Frohlich, Kelly, Brieding, 2nd bass.

By far the best assembly held so far this year was last Friday morning from ten to eleven. It was opened with a selection by the University orchestra, which was a genuine treat, and also a great surprise to the assembled students. We said that was the meaning of wearing an "N". Rather we should have said, "that is what it is supposed to mean." Stop and think. Is the true meaning attached to the wearing of an "N" now-a-days? Unhappily and unfortunately, no. Possibly this is too broad and sweeping a statement. Doubtless so in many cases, but we regret to say, that in some instances at least the privilege of being the possessor of a block "N, and the honor of having been granted the privilege of wearing one, is regarded by some lightly.

Those who have won their "N" and have been given the privilege of wearing it, are supposed to wear it themselves. They have not been granted the privilege of lending their letter to whomsoever they please Think of the inference drawn by people not connected with the university when they see a person wearing an "N" sweater or an emblem. It is that such a person has won the letter of emblem in some athletic contest, and as is quite plain, this conclusion is roneous.

We greatly deplore the fact that the practice of lending letters and emblems exists and it is to be hoped that the practice will be discontinued. A STUDENT.
