Student Body Met Thursday

It happened last Friday. The students were there and all others that were interested in the present topic of the day—dancing.

Whereas, it has come to our attention that University of Nevada students have gained considerable notoriety in local newspapers for ragging and rough dancing at college dances, and knowing that all college dances have been of an orderly and sedate nature, and knowing that non-college people have abused the privileges given them in holding social functions on the campus.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the associated students of the university of Nevada, do hereby prohibit all dancing after class or university basketball games, unless special permission for such is granted by the executive committee.

Further, no town clubs, including Reno High School, shall, under any condition, be allowed the privilege of having a dance in the gymnasium.

Further, no rough dancing or ragging shall be tolerated at college functions.

Furthermore, be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the local newspapers, the regents and the faculty of the university, and be spread on the minutes of the associated students.

The discussion was hot and to very little avail. The speakers for the most part were at sea as to what they were to say when they got up.

This gave the meeting an aspect of a big committee instead of an organized body of students.

The discussion as to the part played by the local papers was brought up and the meeting decided that the best thing to do was to allow the matter to drop and nothing be said further.

The under classmen then brought up the matter of the track and baseball for this spring. President Pearson then appointed the following men to confer with Miles Kennedy and make plans for the baseball season and the necessary apparatus.

Messrs. Harriman, Bringham and Gilcrease were appointed to act on this matter as they saw fit. Mr. Settlemyer then announced that he had an amendment for the constitution concerning the student manager for athletics.

20TH CENTURY CLUB

Librarian J. D. Layman has received from the ladies of the Twentieth Century Club a donation to the college library of fifty-five books. These books will be made into Traveler II to be loaned by the university to some one of the high schools of the state.

DONATES NEW BOOKS

Inasmuch as there is considerable confusion of opinion as to what the authoritative order in regard to DANCING is, the vice president hereby states that THERE IS NO ORDER, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

The regular social parties will be held as usual in the gymnasium. The authorities have firm confidence in the ability and willingness of the student body to make these activities a credit to all concerned.

Our investigations have shown us that the principal social parties have been entirely free from objectionable features, and if some of the irregular dancing parties have not been up to standard in all particulars, the transgression is not condoned by the public opinion of the student body, and will not be tolerated in the future.

The authorities look with favor upon the regular parties, and decide to make the success in every reasonable way, but would ask for the sake of good work in class, that but few special or casual parties be given.

Issued by authority. ROBERT LEWERS, Vice President.

Big Baseball Trip Planned

This year will see the Nevada 'varsity baseball team tackle the longest and heaviest schedule even attempted here by the college.

Plans are maturing rapidly and the prospects of a big trip are good for those who show the proper amount of 'class and speed' on the diamond this spring.

After some preliminary practice to get muscles loosened up and in some kind of working order, there will be practice games with the Fallon, Carson Indians, Reno High and the local town team.

The big trip will start the day after commencement, and last about two weeks.

The first game will be a return game with Fallon. Thence across the state, playing at Lovelock, Winnemucca, Battle Mountain, Elko, Wells, Ely into Utah.

In Utah games will be played with Ogden High School, Salt Lake High School and the University of Utah.

The return trip will be made through Tonopah and Goldfield. In all some ten or more games will be played.

Encouragement has already been received from two of the largest towns on the route. Others are yet to be heard from.

Here is a good chance to advertise our college to the people and the high schools of the state, and show them that we taken an interest in our college. If we want our registration doubled next year, get in and boost. Here is a good chance.

STUDENTS, ATTENTION

A Sophomore-Freshmen night at one of the local theatres is to be one of the really big things of the near future.

This is to be no cheap show, but a real high class musical representing some of the very best local talent, which can be engaged, and the public may rest assured that they will make no mistake in attending it.

The two under classes are giving this night for the benefit of athletics and are doing everything to make it the success which it will certainly be. It is hoped that the students and friends of the university will do all in their power to support this undertaking and show the underclassmen that their interest and work is appreciated.

G. M. Tyler, '13, has moved from Lincoln hall. Tyler is not certain as yet whether or not he will register this semester.

Charles S. Knight, formerly of the faculty of the College of Agriculture, is spending a few days in town.

UNDER CLASS SMOKER IS A BIG SUCCESS

TRACK AND BASEBALL ARE DISCUSSED—MUCH INTEREST MANIFEST

Wednesday night the Freshmen and Sophomore classes held a smoker in the gym principally to discuss track and baseball and to create a little enthusiasm amongst the members of these two classes along athletic lines in general.

It might be well to state here that this smoker was limited to under classmen, not for the purpose of creating antagonistic feeling with the upper classmen, or to take matters in their own hands, but to give each under classman a chance to express his opinion in regard to these matters which, if upper classmen were present, many who did speak would not have done so.

A short musical program was rendered, and then followed a number of interesting talks by former graduates and professors, among whom were Si Ross, P. B. Kennedy Coach Bennett, and Prof. Lacey.

All the speakers were very enthusiastic over the prospects and expressed their willingness to render their services toward the development of a team.

Nearly everyone present gave a short talk and each one voiced the sentiments of the main speakers, inasmuch as saying we have a fine bunch of track men to pick from, and all that we need is "Pep" to get things started.

Since it is evident that both the baseball team and track team will be composed principally of under classmen, it is up to them to go ahead with the work already started, and with the co-operation of the upper classmen, Nevada, not only this year but in years to come, will show herself and win a name in track and baseball as she has already done in football.

With no facilities to keep good training, such as we have today, and with fewer students, this school turned out track teams a few years ago, which won laurels.

We can do it again, and it is the expressed intent of every under classman who was present at the smoker to do his utmost to make the coming season a success.

STUDENT LIFE IN AN ENGLISH COLLEGE

(Concluded from last week)

Being a decidedly better runner than Smith, it does not take me long to catch him, and in the middle of the terrace I administer a sound thrashing.

Unfortunately, our little meeting is observed from the corridor window, by the master-on-duty, who beckons to me, but of course I do not see him. I am sent for, however, and receive a mark for bullying. Just my luck! Well, there is the dinner bell! I must get the Western Morning News, of which I have the first reading. I reach the library, but find the paper gone, and spend five minutes in hunting for it, but without success. I squeeze into assembly as the door is being shut, and for once escape a mark.

Over dinner, I employ the spare time between the courses in endeavoring to bend my spoon into circular shape. The process is observed, and I only escape a fine by being able to bend the article back again. Everything seems to be going against me today!

One-thirty. On coming out of hall, I catch sight of Jones giving back my paper to the sub-librarian. He withdraws into the library, where unfortunately, I cannot touch him, and with threats of vengeance I adjourn to the junior playground to play "soccer," where, being (in my opinion at least) a fine forward, I am in my element.

But somehow, my shots today either go over the hedge, or into the adjoining garden, anywhere, in fact, except into the goal, and after about half an hour I retire in disgust.

Two-fifteen. Afternoon school passes uneventfully, except for a little incident which happens during dictation. Jones and I have a difference of opinion with regard to the spelling of the word "receive," and as I prove to be right, he deposits the contents of his pen over my face and collar, for which he gets a long imposition. This time the laugh is on my side.

Four. I am not allowed to leave the premises, as I had ten marks last week. What tyranny! Fancy keeping a poor fellow from enjoying the beautiful country because he has the moderate number of ten marks! I yield to the temptation of a quiet stroll towards Batt's brook, and on my return am caught, gated for a month, and doomed to stay in next Saturday, when the football team is playing Exeter school.

Six-thirty. After tea, I indulge in a quiet game of chess with Smith, who, although the author of this day's misfortunes is, after all, not such a bad fellow. He goes up a good deal in my estimation, when he brings out some oranges, bought in the truck shop before tea; and I put him in a good humor by letting (?) him checkmate me. He celebrates his triumph by going halves, and we are immediately bosom friends.

Seven-fifteen. Preparation. Don't feel inclined for much work tonight. Think I will read "The Pearl Divers," which I got from the library today. Being deep in the tale I do not notice the master-on-duty, quietly strolling up the school room, and am awakened from my reverie by a heavy hand on my shoulder.

Sequel—Two marks and a five under rule 19 in the library.

Eight-thirty. During supper my fellow juniors and self plot a raid into East House, which plan is taken up with great enthusiasm. After supper I proceed to bed as usual, and anxiously await the signal.

Ten. The signal is given and we dash valiantly from the dormitory. But, alas! We make too much row. A step is heard on the stairs. We make for the nearest beds, and crawl underneath. But too late! We are seen, and our names being taken, we return despairingly to Junior dormitory. I think of a line of a poem, which I once learned for an imposition, viz: "We anxiously thought on the morrow," as it seems to suit my present state well. With these and similar reflections I fall peacefully asleep.

M. B. KENNEDY.

EXPERIMENT STATION GETS MORE STOCK

Professor G. H. True, head of the College of Agriculture, is rejoicing over the arrival of four head of Aberdeen Angus cattle and four Rambouillet sheep.

This stock was purchased by Prof. True while he was away at the Chicago Land Show last fall.

The four registered Rambouillet sheep were bought from the university of Illinois and are the results of careful breeding by the professor of agriculture there, Prof. Coffee. Prof. Coffee is one of the highest authorities on wool sheep in the United States.

The four head of Aberdeen Angus cattle that Prof. True bought were the top of the selections shown at the land show. The following from an agricultural paper tells of the selection made by Prof. True:

"The sensational feature of the show was the contention for tops by J. D. McGregor and the University of Nevada represented by Prof. G. H. True. Prof. True came with the intention of getting only the good ones and it is considered by all present that his selections represented the top of the offering."

PERSONALS

Macon Elder, '14, has returned to colleged. Elder has been in San Francisco during his vacation taking examinations for the army.

Dixie Randall returned Saturday and expects to register Freshman. Randall is a crack basketball man and a good track candidate.

R. M. Seaton, treasurer of the Associated Students has returned from his vacation.

Nick Dondero, '15, is one of the new residents of Lincoln hall.

Ben Curler, H. S., expects to take up his residence in the men's dormitory in the near future.

Mrs. Dr. Stubbs is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. H. True, in Pacific Grove this week.

A. Axt ("Bertie") has registered Freshman this semester.

The Owl restaurant never closes.

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

At the Freshman meeting held this week the following officers were elected to hold office during the present semester:

President, A. Trabert; vice president, Miss Carina Damm; secretary, Miss Laurena Marzen; treasurer, Robert Ware; yell leader, Joe McDonald; Freshmen editor, Andrew D. Crofut.

A conspicuous feature of the meeting was a full attendance on the part of the boys, but the girls were sadly in the minority.

MANY NEW COURSES OFFERED THIS YEAR

This year at the university is one of exceptional advantages to the industrious and others who are here to obtain knowledge. Of course, all come to learn something, either as a means to a degree to flash in society, or because some really want to know essential for the love of knowing.

The faculty has been very considerate this semester for those who want to know a little extra in offering several new courses not heretofore listed. The mathematics department, having already given a popular course in astronomy last semester, has geometry for the liberal art students who desire to major in mathematics and intend to take calculus next year. Although scarcely appreciated by many of the students, the mathematics department is becoming more popular every year and now has several majors.

In chemistry, electroanalytical has been added, and now a further use of of little generating set is found and undoubtedly next year many mining students as well as chemistry majors will be taking this practical course.

There are several other features already enjoyed and yet to be added to other courses.

At the present time there are forty colleges headed by Yale graduates.

"MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING"

The recent controversy about dancing and the U. of N. seems to us all uncalled for. The parties that have attempted to perpetuate the matter had no thought other than that of sensational news for the local papers, and were certainly not any too careful as to the facts they dispensed.

The students have been placed in a very disagreeable light as to our reputation, and our ability to manage our own affairs (for certainly they are our's and no one else's). We have absolute confidence in the students and their ability to manage these affairs. The students do not need to have the local papers call upon us to tell us what to do.

We feel that the students should not have been so hasty in adopting resolutions that might include anything that was not intended to have been included.

The students as a unit are alive to the interests of the 'varsity, and they are becoming alive all over. Their class meetings prove this and the assemblies prove it. We are coming into a new era—that of student rule. This only goes to prove that the Nevada spirit is just being aroused and that a little cultivation will start the U. of N. on the up grade never to be looked down on by anyone.

THE UNDERCLASSEMEN

Contrary to the expectations of a good many people the result of the underclass smoker held last Wednesday was not to cause strife between the upper and the underclassmen. It was to dig up and gather together some spirit and the idea of doing something. Their idea was good and they certainly "got off on the right foot," and in the right direction. The things that they are encouraging are of the right sort and their efforts promise to materialize even sooner than they had hoped. We are glad they took the step and hope the rest of the people will fall into line and help a good thing along.

FREE PRESS COLUMN

The Sagebrush is in receipt of the following communication in reply to the article which appeared in the Free Press column of the paper two weeks ago.—The Editor.

Mr. Ogden, editor University of Nevada Sagebrush: Dear sir, I noticed in your last issue a communication in regard to the rally held in the Grand theatre last fall. For my part I will supply the following facts:

Income from Grand theatre ..$25.00
From sale of peanuts 1.75
Total $26.75
Expenditures—
Two signs from Porteous Co. $ 6.00
Red fire, 2 lbs. @ $1 per lb. 2.00
Musicians 5.50
Three packages of firecrackers... .75
Miscellaneous expenditures 1.85

Total $16.10
Balance left on hand $10.65

I wish to state that at the beginning of the school year when I was appointed yell leader that the position of yell leader carried with it a trip to California with the team when it went on that trip. And, also, I understood that I was to use these funds to meet the expenses of this trip, but they were far less than sufficient to cover them. In default of not taking this trip I have retained the small amount of $10.65 which was the balance left from this rally. If my action needs any censorship by any person or persons, I wish they would speak to the Executive Committee, which is perfectly able to ask any questions that they see fit.

Very respectfully,
GILBERT M. TYLER.

TO "PEPLESS," OR UN-RULY UNDERCLASSEMEN

No doubt you have already heard of or even had dealings with the "Vigilance" committee.

If you haven't, take a little sound advice to heart, and keep your eye constantly on the bulletin boards for notices of class meetings and other class functions.

This committee is very much alive and as yet the water in the pond is very cold. A word to the wise.
THE VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

MANY ATTEND THE MAJESTIC'S FINE SHOW

The Majestic show at 10 cents is the very best investment that the students or anyone else may make this week.

The program offered is the best that Charlie Davies could obtain in San Francisco on his recent visit.

The pictures are clear and to the point. They do not contain the usual blood and thunder that has been seen so often. They are interesting to all. They produce the happy laughter and the merry smile that has been so prevalent at the popular play house for the past few weeks.

The roller skaters last Sunday created some excitement when one of their party slipped clear out into one of the boxes and asked for a smile.

The whirling that was carried out with the assistance of the electric lights was well received by the entire audience.

The rustic imitators were clever—"deucedly clever; don't cner know." The misses in her part makes up more Reuben can not imitate any more birds (he gets nearly every one).

The Majestic has a number of fine road shows scheduled for the spring and the shows promise the best attractions that have been seen in Reno for some time. The first of these attractions will be in Reno on February second.

POULTRY SHOW THIS WEEK

The poultry show is now ready for the inspection of the public.

The management has arranged to have the birds on exhibition for three days and promise all comers a fine show.

The trophies for the show are in Herz Bros.' window and are certainly beauties. The fowl that succeeds in gathering the trophy of the first annual poultry show is deserving of all the praise that can be given it.

The co-eds will have t chance to examine the feathered beasts at close range and to pass judgment upon their worth as "pot" favorites and producers of the cherished hen fruit.

The Facts Of the Case

As it appears in the papers of Reno the entire coast of the U. of N. is a hoodlum's resort and a place where any and all may come and enjoy themselves as they see fit. The facts are these:

Dancing is not tabooed nor forbidden, it is not discussed because any class of people have taken advantage of the 'varsity social functions. Dancing is at present as much of a 'varsity event as it ever has been.

The Sagebrush has upon good authority from the board of regents the facts that the board of regents did not attempt to stop dancing on the campus nor to control this pleasure that the students may indulge in. The authority that was stated by Dr. Stubbs was probably misconstrued and was not the wish of the board of regents.

So far as rough dancing is concerned students intend to see that no such dancing takes place at the university. This was done as long ago as December 13, 1911, at a meeting of the men of Lincoln hall. At this meeting the matter was finally discussed and was supposed to have dropped except that the men of that dormitory wished that their meeting would remain a secret. Such was not the case for the local papers, news crazy, as it were, got a hint and made a sensation about the dances. The students were in no way to blame for this nor was any person who may have said anything to them.

To follow the thread a bit further we find that the announcement at the assembly was a cyclone that had originated in some busy body's head and had been transmitted to the ears of our president, Dr. Stubbs. This of course called for immediate action, the action was taken and the result is now only too evident.

This could, of course, be made the source of very sensational "stuff" for the local papers and that it, just what has happened.

The students are "sore" and that perfectly justly. They have been slandered and for no other reason than that of illuminating the columns of the papers. They have not attempted to shift the blame on the shoulders of the R. H. S. students, but they intend to stop any rough dancing at the university parties. The students are sorry that the present situation has arisen between the R. H. S. and the 'varsity. We feel that the high school students have been too easily influenced by their teachers to draw up the rigid resolutions they have and that if they (the R. H. S.) will stop and consider our side of the question that they will see that we as a united body are of the same opinion that rough dancing shall stop and that we are going to take the initiative toward stopping it. If the R. H. S. will stop and think for just a moment they will agree with us, and they would think us a fine lot had we allowed the rumors to continue and the university to be trodden by those who do not care for its reputation.

In regard to the newspaper sensation, we have something to say: They misconstrued the meaning of the students' resolutions. They did not get their information from reliable sources and they have been entirely too generous with their use of the tiny amount of fact that has prompted all this action. As a student paper we congratulate the students of the university and R. H. S. on their prompt action they have taken to stop the sensation regarding the students in their own affairs.

We censure the newspapers for not having insisted on printing the facts as they were and not as they seemed. They should have made headlines of the fact that the students of both institutions were anxious to control their affairs instead of deriding us for our actions.

PROF. FRANSDEN GETS MORE SPECIMENS

Professor Frandsen is rejoicing again. He has another addition to his already overcrowded rooms. The latest arrivals are specimens and models showing the life history of various insects. These specimens are to be used in connection with the course in Economic Zoology, which he is now giving, and will prove an important adjunct to the course.

FRIDAY'S ASSEMBLY IS THE "BEST YET"

ONE OF BEST LECTURES HEARD IN GYM WAS GIVEN ON LAST FRIDAY

The general assembly held last Friday proved to be a most interesting and enjoyable one.

It was the kind that we all like to attend. The speaker of the day was Hon. Charles A. Norcross. Mr. Norcross is commissioner of industry, agriculture and irrigation for this state. Mr. Norcross was a student here some twenty-five years ago.

After the usual college and class kells, Miss Gulling sang two very pretty songs. The accompaniment was played by Miss Blum.

Mr. Norcross was then presented to the assembly and was greeted heartily by all present.

His subject was "The Chicago Land Show." He told of the Chicago land show and talked on things of an agricultural nature generally.

By his talk on agriculture and its demands, prospects and future, he made lifelong friends of all the "ag-gie" students. They will talk about the lecture for many weeks to come. His boasting of all things that pertain to agriculture and scientific farming won their hearts completely.

Throughout his whole address Mr. Norcross kept his listeners always interested and attentive. His humor brought forth many a hearty laugh from everyone.

He spoke glowingly of the state of Nevada as a state of large agricultural problems and of its future, when it will be one of the important states of the union in that line.

He told of the exhibit at the land show and the future of the state as follows:

Contrary to expectations, I found many visitors to the show interested in agricultural Nevada. The psychological time had struck when all the states about us had exhausted the freshness of their appeal to homeseekers; when the homeseeker left that all the best opportunities elsewhere in the west must be gone, and a new appeal caught his attention as perhaps offering unculled opportunities.

I delivered some seventeen lectures, illustrated with colored stereoptical views of Nevada scenes, and found the audiences large and appreciative. I tried to tell them the simple truth, the good, bad and indifferent, as I understood it, and to express what I further believe to be true, that this state, sparsely populated, desolate in its general appearance, with the water problem still to be conquered, is a coming agricultural state and one of the greatest ultimately in the union. If you and I live twenty years longer, we shall see this statement come true.

Among the visitors at the assembly were Chief Justice and Mrs. Norcross of Carson, Mrs. Charles A. Norcross, Mrs. C. T. Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee, Mrs. H. E. Reid and Mrs. J. M. Fulton.

Vice President Lewers presided in the absence of Dr. Stubbs who is on his way east.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS FOR Y. M. C. A. CONCERT

The University orchestra gave a delightful program of music in the Y. M. C. A. lobby Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Over a hundred men and boys listened to the selections and very much appreciated music. The orchestra has been invited to play again on the afternoon of Sunday, February 4th, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Governor Tasker L. Oddie will give a talk to men at the Y. M. C. A. assembly room.

There will also be special music. All the young men of the university are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

MRS. FULTON ENTERTAINS

Last Friday, after assembly, Mrs. Fulton entertained a few friends at a luncheon given at the president's house on the campus. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Norcross, Judge and Mrs. Norcross, Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Mrs. H. E. Keu.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Norcross, both alumni of this university, expressed themselves as delighted and surprised at the many changes and improvements on the campus since their college days here. They expect to see the college grounds blossom out into real beauty under the care of Mr. Lynch, whose reputation for artistic gardening was made in California and preceded him here.
