

MILITARY BALL GRAND SUCCESS

FIFTH ANNUAL MILITARY BALL HELD LAST FRIDAY EVENING. MANY ENJOY THE GOOD TIMES.

The fifth annual military ball at the university on the evening of February 16th marked a cessation of social activity before the falling of the penitential curtain on February 21st.

The gymnasium was decorated with U. S. flags, one immense flag extending the entire length of the rafters, forming a ceiling of stars and stripes.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the cadet band of twenty-six pieces. The band did themselves proud on this big occasion of the social year.

The music was new and catchy and played in the best possible manner. The grand march was led by Governor T. L. Oddie and Mrs. J. E. Stubbs and started at 9 o'clock.

One of the notable features of the dance was the large number of spectators in the gallery.

The programs were neat and attractive. The cut on the front cover was made from a drawing made especially for the occasion by "Husky" Sinai of the Freshman class.

The committee had provided a goodly supply of the famous military punch which was dispensed during the dance.

The officers of the battalion, who had charge of the ball, are Lieutenant L. A. McClure, commandant; Dan Bruce, major; R. M. Seaton, adjutant; M. D. Anderson, captain Co. A; E. F. Pearson, captain Co. B; D. B. Pruett, first lieutenant Co. B; R. F. Robb, captain of band; L. G. Chapman, first lieutenant of band, and C. L. Claffin, band director.

Noted among the dancers were Governor T. L. Oddie and staff from Carson; Lieutenant and Mrs. McClure, Professor and Mrs. Dinsmore, Prof. and Mrs. Ordahl, Prof. and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Layman, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Youngren, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. Codd, Mr. and Mrs. E. Baseball Men Elect Captain

On last Wednesday afternoon the remnants of last year's baseball team met in the lounging room in the training quarters to elect a captain. There were six men present, who were the number who made their N in baseball. They were E. R. Bennett, V. M. Henderson, H. W. Grayson, Rich Sheehy, H. S. Manion and J. J. Delahide.

Of the six Grayson, Delahide and Henderson were eligible for the position of captain.

Graduate Manager M. B. Kennedy presided at the meeting and when the ballots were taken in and counted they showed that J. J. Delahide had been chosen to captain this year's team on the diamond.

Delahide is a wise choice for captain. He is a player of remarkable ability. He knows the game from A to Z, both backwards and forwards.

Prior to his coming to Nevada Delahide played with St. Mary's teams which are able to more than hold their own against the colleges on the coast.

Last year he played second base on the "varsity" and played it well. This season he is playing first.

Delahide is a member of the fraternity of Sigma Alpha.

Fire Visits Lincoln Hall

While classes were changing at ten o'clock last Wednesday smoke was seen issuing from the apartments of Prof. R. Brown in Lincoln hall. Some one set up the cry of "fire" and turned in the alarm from the box on the campus.

A dozen or so of the students who happened to be near the Mechanical Building pulled out the chemical and started across lots for the hall. All the way across the campus they picked up reinforcements and arrived at the hall in a very short time.

With the aid of a convenient ladder they were soon doing things to the fire which was confined to the bathroom in Prof. Brown's end of the hall. The work of the men with their fire extinguisher was so efficient that they had the fire practically out when the fire department from town appeared on the scene with their apparatus. They laid hose from the engine behind the chemistry building to the hall, but the work of the student fire fighters was so effective that it was not necessary to use the engine.

A few minutes' work with the chemical of the town department finished the work of putting out the blaze. Only one window was broken and even that was not at all necessary. It was not the work of the students.

The cause of the origin is not known. A good many people seem to think that they have it but no two of them seem to agree.

The loss was principally in clothes that were kept in the clothes closet in the room.

There were two small dressers in the room that were badly burned, and will have to be thrown away. Professor Brown was fortunate in that he had insurance on the articles that were damaged or destroyed by the blaze.

Professor and Mrs. Brown wish to extend their thanks to the students of the college for their prompt and effective work in extinguishing the fire in their department last Wednesday morning.

ARE ARRANGING A SCHEDULE

Graduate Manager M. B. Kennedy and Captain J. J. Delahide are busy carrying on negotiations with the schools in California for baseball games this spring. Letters have been sent to University of California and Stanford and things are looking bright for games with both colleges. No definite schedule has been fixed, but it is expected that it will be finished before the end of the week, when it will be announced.

Practice is to be pushed hard from now on to get ready to go below. All candidates must show up for practice every day.

Brown University is now entering on the final lap of a two-year campaign for a $1,000,000 increase in its endowment. The whole alumni body under the direction of its president has been organized in the work and over half of the amount is in hand. During the last two weeks the undergraduates have also become enthusiastic to the extent of raising $6000 for this fund.

A RESOLUTION

We, the students and faculty of the University of Nevada, desire to express our deepest sorrow and sympathy to our friend and fellow student, Tom Walker, in his recent bereavement.

We, the students and faculty of the University of Nevada, hereby express our sincere sympathy to our friends in the Benader family, who have lost such a dear sister in Mrs. Frank Humphrey.

Lincoln Day Is Celebrated

Lincoln Day was fittingly observed by the University on last Tuesday. The holiday was taken on Tuesday instead of Monday because Dr. Aked who was to deliver the address, could not be with us on Monday due to his duties in San Francisco.

The gym was filled to the doors with the people who came to hear the celebrated man lecture on Lincoln. Barring the time when the "Terrible Teddy" was here last year it was the biggest crowd in the gym for a good while.

Dr. Aked is a man of ideas. In his speech he showed it plainly. He is a forceful talker and one of that kind who holds the attention of his hearers throughout the entire talk.

The speech on Lincoln last Tuesday was a genuine treat. Those who missed hearing Dr. Aked missed one of the best lectures ever given in Reno. His treatment of the life and character of Lincoln was thorough, and showed a broad knowledge of the subject which comes from long and careful study.

Dr. Aked's coming to the university to deliver the Lincoln Day address is the outcome of the negotiations which President Stubbs had been carrying on for several months. The address was certainly a treat and we hope that Dr. Aked may be able to visit us again in the future.

HURRAH! A BANQUET!

Yes, there's to be a banquet. Who hasn't heard of it? With all kinds of good eats, and it's to be all in honor of English I.

The trials and the troubles for which English I has been responsible will be swept away next Tuesday night in one grand good time in which every one of those who have this year suffered the agonies of theme writing for English I will have his or her share of the good things. It is to be one glorious family reunion. For months the three sections

For the second time in the history they're going to be united into one happy family on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock.

It's all going to happen in the domestic science department of Stewart hall.

There may be a few visitors, but the family is going to have the floor. Even the Professors, Paine and Von Jenenski are going to forget English and class room order for once, and join in for a merry good time. Ninety English students—of course they'll all be there—two wise professors and a few invited guests. All ready for a jolly time!

There will be after-dinner speeches by English stars—we might call them "sharks" for sake of better understanding—and rising young orators of the class. Of these the principal speakers are to be Misses Marzen, Fulton, Bird and Price, and the Messrs. McCreery, Bryant and Dudleyson. Because of unfortunate circumstances Mr. Tom Walker will not be present to preside as toastmaster. Mr. John Sinai has been appointed in his lieu, however, and should conduct his end of the program in a thoroughly capable manner.

Don't forget the time—5 o'clock, Tuesday evening—the place—the hall, and the eats, everything good. Every student of English I will be there. A. D. C.

The New York University has tried to increase the subscription of the college paper by giving a subscription to all the alumni who are not already taking it. This is for the purpose of aiding the paper as well as of bringing the alumni in closer touch with the work of the university.

Leap Year Dance Well Attended

Monday night the gym was the scene of the much talked of Leap Year dance. To say that it was a success would be to put it small. It was that and more.

The party was given by the Girls' Tennis Club to raise money towards their asphaltum tennis court and incidentally to have a dance where the men would have to be on their good behavior and act in a most lady-like manner.

They succeeded, and things went far beyond their best expectations. The proceeds at the door netted quite a nest sum that will swell the treasury of the club to a considerable amount.

Prof. Haseman was stationed at the door to gather in the coin from the ladies.

Prof. says he noticed that all the ladies came with the exact change, so his pocket full of change that he had provided was of no use to him. He collected from all who put in their appearance including "stags," as one might call them. They were those who came without partners. The boys cadd those "stags" so it will have to go.

At any rate there were several there, just enough to make things interesting.

The dance started at the fashionable hour of nine. The programs were given out then. The boys had to be content with the ones tied with the pink ribbon, while the ladies wielded the pencils and hustled the dances for their partners, as well as for themselves.

It was a new idea to a good many of the girls and several of them started the evening off by writing their own names on their cards, where they had engaged dances. Naturally this added a good deal of fun to the affair and gave them a good chance to try their hand at "squaring it up" afterwards.

The girls had their rules for the conduct of the "gentler sex" which were pretty closely adhered to. Of course the men had to act in a most lady-like manner. They were not allowed to cross the floor without an escort, they could not smoke, and several other things were also tabooed for the men that night.

The music was furnished by a three-piece orchestra and was of the best that the town affords. During the dance punch was dispensed to those who were thirsty.

The gym was well filled. And the people had a good time. Lincoln hall was deserted but all the boys were

Y. M. C. A. Gives Valentine Party

The reception held last Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. building was a success in every sense of the word. The affair was given jointly by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of the university and the members of both organizations worked together to make the evening enjoyable to their guests, and enjoyable it surely was.

At about 8:30 the guests began to arrive and very shortly the spacious recreation hall was filled with college students and young folks from Reno, to gether with a goodly number of the faculty and their wives, and friends of the organizations about town.

The reception and entertainment committees were kept busy from the first and under the inspiring influence of the latter committee formality was thrown to the winds.

First a grand hand-shaking contest was started, with a dollar prize as the inducement to shake as many hands as possible. Strangely enough the dollar failed to materialize and in its stead several large yellow lemons made their appearance and were surreptitiously slipped from hand to hand.

Then the old-fashioned games were introduced and everyone enjoyed such games as drop-the-handkerchief, Ruth and Jacob and the like.

The entire building had been thrown open to the guests for the evening and some few, taking advantage of the opportunity, tried their skill at pool, billiards and bowling.

Later in the evening the refreshment committee had full sway and served bountifully with dainty sandwiches, olives and cake and coffee.

Everyone left expressing their pleasure over the evening and with the hope that there will be other and similar events follow at frequent intervals.

I rose with great alacrity To offer her my seat, 'Twas a question whether she or I Would stand upon my feet.

not at the dance. A good many of them, you know, did not care to go to dances—Leap year dances in particular—so they went down town or anywhere else that their fancy took them.

The Tennis Club is certainly to be congratulated on the success of their dance and the manner in which they handled it.

EDITORIAL

The fire in Lincoln hall last week brought out one thing very plainly, and that is the need of efficient apparatus on the campus with which to fight fire in the case of necessity. Had it not been that the chemical in the Mechanical building was in working order the blaze in the hall would have been quite a serious matter to contend with by the time the re department arrived. The campus is a long way from the fire house and it takes some minutes to get here.

Even as it is the chemical needs to have the wheels fixed, and the tires reset. The old hose-cart is a joke. The students dragged it to the hall the other day only to find that the nozzle was missing, and was also the spanner (hose and hydrant wrench).

The thing was worse than useless—it was in the way.

We would like to suggest that the nozzle be found as well as the spanner and that they both be put on the hose cart where they can be had in case of necessity.

Two years ago the students in Lincoln hall took steps to organize a couple of companies to drill with the hose cart and chemical so that they could use them with a greater degree of speed in case that a fire should start. This would be a good thing to start now. We have seen what was done in the last week's scare. Perhaps the next time things will not be so easy and a little fire drill by the students now and again might help a great deal.

FACULTY SCIENCE LECTURE TUESDAY

On next Tuesday evening the Faculty Science Association will hold its regular meeting. This meeting will be held in the laboratory of the Physics Building, instead of in the Mining Building.

The lecture will be given by Dr. L. W. Hartman, Professor of Physics. It will be a lecture and demonstration on the Helmholtz Theory of Color Vision. This is one of the most prominent theories of the present day that try to explain why we see colors. Prof. Hartman has some new apparatus which he will use in the demonstration which will make the lecture a most interesting one.

The meetings of the Faculty Science Association are open to the public and all those interested are extended an invitation to be present. It is expected that a large crowd will attend the meeting Tuesday as the lecture promises to be of more than usual interest.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY FRIDAY MORNING

Next Friday at 11 o'clock the usual general assembly will be held in the gym. This assembly will be addressed by Dr. Romazo Adams of the College of Education. Dr. Adams will take as his subject, "Some Defects in Our System of Bank Reserves."

This topic is one of the liveliest issues of the present day and is the subject of one of the most important reform bills that has been introduced in congress for some time. Dr. Adams has made a thorough study of this and any other things in connection with the banking systems throughout the country, and is well versed on the subject.

A large attendance on the part of the students is expected.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the town people to attend these general assemblies.

Y. M. C. A. LECTURE NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

The students of the university and their friends will have the opportunity of again hearing Mr. Gale Seaman, student secretary for the Pacific coast, next Friday night at the gym.

Mr. Seaman will use in his lecture about eighty lantern slides representative of student life and activity the country over.

About half of those slides refer to coast colleges and will be very interesting. This lecture has been given at many colleges and always is enthusiastically received.

Remember the date and come out and see what is doing at other colleges.

BENEFIT CONCERT COMING SOON

Preparations are under way for a benefit concert to be given in the gym at an early date. The proceeds of the concert are to be given to the treasury of the student body to help clear off the debts from last semester.

This concert is the one that was spoken of in the last student body meeting. The University Glee Club is to be the main attraction and from the concert hat they gave last semester it goes without saying that it will be well worth going to hear.

The Owl Cafe requests your appearance at meal time.

NEWS NOTHE FROM OTHER COLLEGES

At Vassar in the annual catalogue. Just issued, psychology appears for the first time as a separate department with Professor Margaret Floy Washburn at the head of it.

The boys at Bowlion college have gone in for politics. The Republicans have organized a club. The object of the club is to create an interest among the Reepublicans in college toward the support of the party. No candidate has yet been endorsed but a general canvass of the college taken by an undergraduate reveals the fact that President Taft is the favorite in the coming presidential election.

Professor Alvin Saunders Johnson, head of the department of political economy at Leland Stanford University, was elected Professor of Economics at Cornell last month.

Ann Arbor, Michigan is planning the celebration of its 75th anniversary. The plans of the celebration are in the hands of a committee which is working in secret, the promises are that the celebration will be elaborate and enthusiastic.

The University of Illinois will give its annual military ball in the armory on the 23rd of February. The interior of the building will be made to represent an army camp through the use of hundreds of tents, stacked guns, camp fires and sentinels.

Extract from a girl's cooking note book:
Prep. leg of mutton.
Skin outside called caul
One year ceases to be lamb and it's mutton.
Bones of lamb whiter than mutton.
Fill the space where bone was taken out with poultry dressing.
Served and roasted, very good.
But—how did it taste?
Most people roast before serving.

No pay no paper. That is the meaning of this little story. For some time past the Sagebrush has been sent to a large number of its so-called subscribers and the necessary funds have been neglected. This is absolutely the last paper you will receive unless you have paid up for the entire year.

In the past few weeks the circulation has increased considerable and in order to save printing an extra edition the Sagebrush will have to cut off all deadheads.

We hope you will find this reminder a gentle one and will send in the little mite immediately.

STATE LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE

state in the face just at present. It tory of the state of Nevada a special session of the state legislature has been called by the governor for financial purposes.

It is the question of straightening out circumstances that is staring the state in the face just at present. It is the intention of the legislature to transfer money from the school fund to the general fund to carry on the running expenses of the state.

BLUFFING IN COLLEGE

"Bluffing" is an art. To be able to advance feeble hints in so confident a way as to lead an instructor through a question, in which you are stalling, while he furnishes the actual support, requires great skill. It is not the dull student who bluffs, but the brilliant, easy-going boy—there are few girls who can bluff. There are three eprincipal ways of bluffing: By questioning, by cautiously advancing suggestions, and by bold affirmation.

The first method should be used by beginners, as there is less to lose and little facial work is required. The instructor puts the question. The student replies with a question. If he is right, very good; if he misses, the instructor believes he has some small knowledge of the subject anyway. The suggestion method also requires some knowledge and should be worked only on certain Profs., for not all will respond.

In this method the student carefully advances a suggestion, depending on the Prof. to complete the statement, as well as to supply the knowledge. This method is a little further advanced than the first as it requires an expression of deep sincerity.

The bold affirmation is backed by no knowledge whatever; that is why it must be bold. This is only for the real artist, as a facial expression of high intelligence, which is acquired only after much practice, is very necessary.

The undergraduate does not bluff to be doing something dishonest, but only for the art of it. Most undergraduates, especially lower classmen, would rather make a successful bluff than a really sincere recitation.

These suggestions should be considered as coming from a close observer rather than from an artist.—Exchange.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BONING NOW

My friend, have you heard of the town of Yawn,
On the banks of the River Slow,
Where blooms the Waitawhile flower fair,
Where the Sometimeother scents the air,
And the soft Goeasys grow?

It lies in the Valley of Whattheuse, In the province of Letitslide, That tired feeling is native there— It's the name of the listless Idont's care,
Where the Putitoffs abide.

How about that annual Sophomore-Freshman basketball game?
