

AID THE ARTEMISIA

Manzanita's Festive Eve

Dormitory Is Open to a Jolly Old Time

The girls of Manzanita entertained Friday night and say, everybody did have a time. All the boys from Lincoln Hall and some from down town were there. The Y. W. C. A. and L. F. G. combined forces to make the event a jolly one and they succeeded.

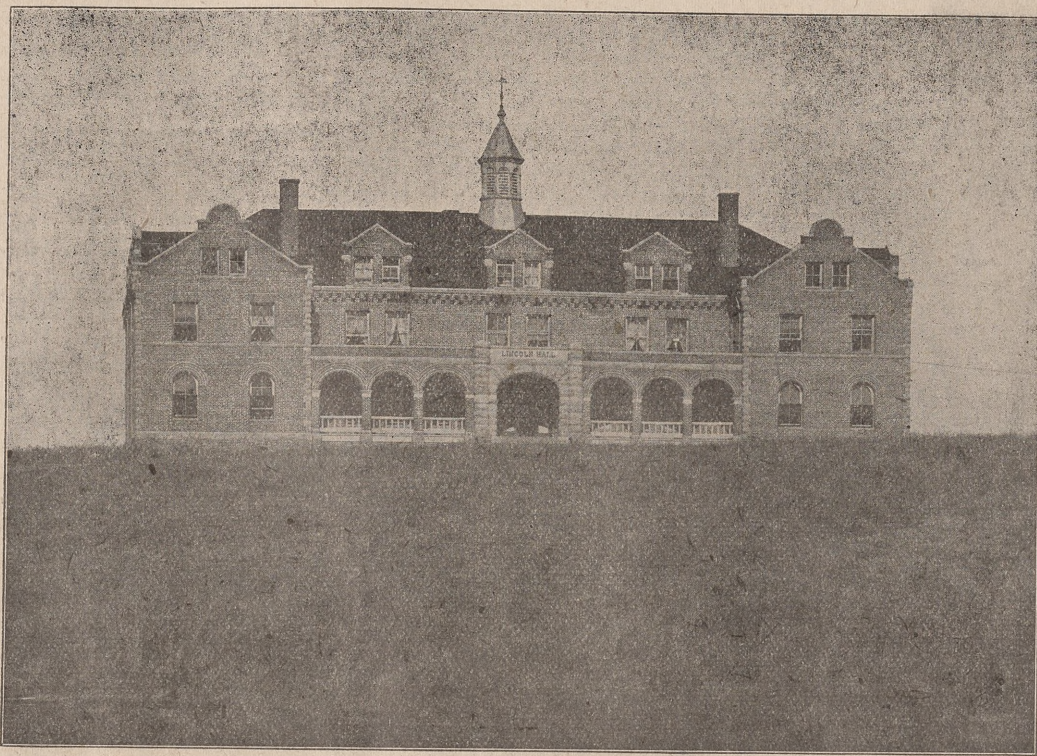

Hallowe'en, altho not the date, was the spirit of the party. Old Manzanita was decorated in all those spooky things that go with the time of year. Black cats, yellow pumpkins, Jack O' Lanterns, autumn leaves and open fireplaces made Manzanita rival the dear old farm house itself. And the scheme was carried clear through to the refreshments—but we will speak of them later.

The first feature of the program was a game of conversation—and it got the crowd to mixing. The girls signed up your program for conversations just like they do for dances at one of those leap year affairs. Then when it came your turn for a conversation your partner came around to "chew the rag" with you about the subject on the program. The object of the game is to make your partner use the first personal pronoun and keep from doing it yourself. The game surely is proof of the extent to which we have the "I" habit and Archie Trabert won the prize—a great big custard pie.

After the game there were all kinds of stunts to be seen in the rooms along the main hall. In one room were revealed to you the mysteries of a noble order, in another you tried your luck at biting at an apple suspended by a string. In another place you shook hands with Roosevelt, and with Taft but Woodrow evaded your grasp—clever, wasn't it? Across the hall from these "would-be's a speaker proclaimed the "dance of the midgits." Through this gay scene you followed the crowd, until, at the very end of the corridor, you found yourself in a gypsy camp. Here, in the mysterious twilight, among fallen autumn leaves gypsy girls crouched in their little tents over low camp fires and read palms by the flickering light while crowds of curious visitors stood around and listened or awaited their turn.

And after all this we danced—the boys actually danced with the girls in the corridors of Manzanita Hall. Miss Engle, Miss Pohl and Lillian Davy took turns at playing for the crowd, and to the music of "Chanticleer", "Oh You Wonderful Girl" and others, the

MANY GROUND IMPROVEMENTS

Plans are assuming definite proportions for some more extensive improvements about the grounds of the University of Nevada during the next two years. According to Supt. J. B. Lynch of the Department of Grounds, it is expected that at least a good start upon the proposed improvements will be made during the coming winter and spring.

Much of the contemplated work is to be done on that part of the campus adjacent to Lincoln Hall. The large area to the rear of the dormitory, formerly used as a "work out" field by the football men, is to be converted into a forest. The trees are to be laid out according to the park system.

The large vacant tract which extends from the front of Lincoln Hall to the lake, and which at present is the "eye sore" of the campus, is to be made into a great lawn with walks and avenues. There is even to be a driveway and circle right up to the very front door of old Lincoln.

In the front of the campus the grounds are also to be beautified. The area which composes the slope of the hill from the Orr Ditch down to 9th Street, between Lake and Center is to undergo a change similar to that made last summer between the main entrance and Virginia. In fact, the improvement of the Center to Lake St. area is to be a continuation of the scheme of those made on the territory west of the entrance.

In addition the work about Manzanita, which had to be temporarily abandoned on account of lack of funds will be resumed and completed.

THE COLLEGE "CUB" WAXES POETIC

Dear Hank:—

Go to the devil, will you? It's fine and Dante. Ha! Ha! pretty clever, huh! I've saved that for a week now, just to fire at you. Dante created quite a scare here. Of course we all went to see him—Dutch you know, 'cause it was two-bits—and of course we were all impressed. I'm going to change my name to Virgil right away, and start to write poetry. It's a mighty hard row down there for anyone who isn't a visitor.

My maiden effort, Hank. Study it carefully.

Y. W. C. A. and L. F. G.
Gave all the boys a swell party
"No queening here," a sign announced
That's most unfair Joe Mac pronounced

And then straightway from off the wall
The pesky sign was seen to fall.

Strange to relate 'twas never missed,
Until the boys by Boggs were kissed.
The girls got wise, a lodge we'll make,
A happy tho't for three boys, sake—
For Bob and Tom, and Wiley they,
Could now initiate "Ma" Kaye.

To start we played a funny game
Ourselves we must obscure from fame
The pronoun I, heard mentioned once
Required a toothpick from the foolish dunce.

I said "Methinks me heard you sigh"
She answered yes—but I—but I;—
Two tooth picks please—Ah thank you much Like pumpkin pie, there is none such.

The goblins dance was very cute,
Altho too short it sure did suit.
Three Presidents we visited,

And to each one I bowed my head.
Taft and Roosevelt grabbed my duke
But Wilson's handshake proved a fluke.

Two fortune tellers next we saw
And at them each we stuck our paw,
You'll get a letter one would say,
Or travel much—I think you may.
Extreme success—three wives or more
I wonder what they took us for.
Affinities located a sign did read,
And tho' it was against my creed.

I ventured in. If my lady fair
Should see my soul-mate, I should care?

Miss Wygal to find my true love mate
Made me wobble my head like a barn yard gate.

And then we had a little dance,
No ragging, see, just a Puritan Prance,
King Chanticleer, My Baby Rose,
And bye and bye, long toward the close.

I smelled some coffee "Ah, we'll eat,"
To follow the crowd was no difficult feat.

Elda was there with doughnuts and pie
And coffee and apples. Were they good? My! My!

I just ate, and I ate, and I ate some more
Till somebody pointed me to the door,
Your party was fine I yelled as I passed,

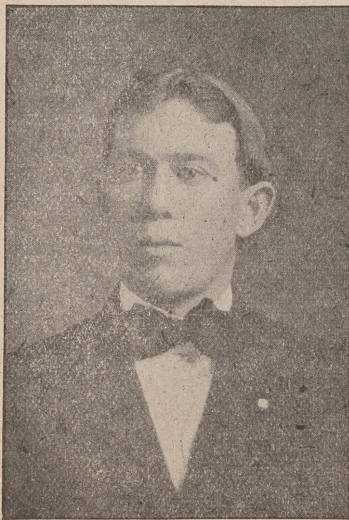

And really, for fun, it was never surpassed.

Some there, eh Hank? I'd have signed Virgil to it, but I'm afraid some one would think he really did write it. With the cold weather we have the usual custom among the frosh of leaving their postage stamps home. The upper class noticed it the other day and took particular pains to suggest that the Sophs were getting cold feet. You see we upper classmen are going to stick everyone who doesn't sign for an artemisia down deep in the ditch and we want to be sure that it will have the desired effect. The water should be pretty cold now. I move that we put in about five freshies a week just to keep them in proper spirit.

Hear the jingle Hank? That says dinner. Letter writing never has interfered with my dinner, why should it now?

Australians Monday Eve

Entertainment Prepared for Nevada's Guests

The famous Australian Rugby team, whose game with Nevada is scheduled for the afternoon of Election Day, will arrive in Reno on No. 4 next Monday night. Chairman Mackay of the entertainment committee of the student body has arranged matters with the Reno Commercial Club for the entertainment of the visitors.

The team, arriving late in the evening Monday will go at once to their rooms at the McKlissick so as to be in good trim for the game. Tuesday morning will probably be taken up with auto riding and viewing the sights of Reno in a quiet way.

After the game in the afternoon the team will rest. Tuesday evening will be spent at the club rooms of the Commercial Club in the Odd Fellow's Building.

Here the election returns will be received from all over the country and it is probable that a "smoker" will be prepared by the Commercial Club to assist in making the evening a pleasant one. The team will leave for the coast on No. 9 at 12:30 Tuesday night.

The Commercial Club will also issue cards to the visitors and to the members of our own team for the period that the Australians are in Reno. These cards will give both Australians and the Nevada boys all the privileges of honorary members of the club. The Commercial Club invites the members of both rugby squads to make the club rooms their headquarters during the stay of the Australians in Reno.

BUB HICKS AT JOHN HOPKINS

A letter from August Holmes '12 states that he is installed and has started in work at John Hopkins. Bub is pleased with the college and its facilities especially those along the line of physical chemistry—the work in which he is specializing. In the brief comparison between the students and the student life of the University of Nevada and John Hopkins it is plain to be seen that Bub is still a loyal Nevadan.

Prof Hartman (reviewing exam question) "See how simple it is. one question expresses the whole relation."

Remarks from the class, "Yes, but Prof. you've seen our papers and know just how to work 'em now."

If you are out late call at the Owl for lunch.

Carson High School Notes

Literary Society

Carson High School extends its thanks to the Sophomore English class for the enjoyable entertainment presented before the Literary Society Friday afternoon.

The entertainment was a presentation of the court scene from the Merchant of Venice. The class, under the able coaching of their English teacher, Miss Rowena Glass, certainly carried the affair off with high honors.

The idea in giving the scene was especially to develop the dramatic side, and to make the study of the play clearer and to add to the enthusiastic interest which all the English classes the taking in their work.

Marian McCleary, as Shylock, and Arnold Millard, as the Judge, deserve special mention, though their work ranks scarcely any higher than that of Charles Summers as Bassanio, Paul Hornaday as Antonio, and Florence Henderson as Portia.

Following is the cast of characters:

HIGH CLASS PROGRAMS AT THE GRAND THIS WEEK

Beginning with Sunday, the Grand presents a number of big features throughout the week.

Some fine educational films are booked with each change of program. Monday's program includes an industrial feature, "The Manufacture of Paper." Also two Biograph comedies, the very funny kind, a Vitagraph drama featuring Maurice Costello and Florence Turner, and a Selig drama, "Euchered," a thrilling tale of the revenue cutter service. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Pathe Weekly will be presented, and as usual it is a big feature. "Mrs. Lirriper's Lodgers," one of Dicken's stories, will be presented by the Vitagraph company. "Tilley's Bird Farm," an interesting educational, and two live comedies and an Edison drama also on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Friday's program includes a thrilling Kalem railroad drama, an Edison drama. Two of those funny Biograph comedies, a Lubin comedy and another educational subject, "Swimming and Life Saving," showing a wonderful exhibition by Dailey, ex-champion swimmer of the world. All of this week's programs are of fine quality and good variety. Next Sunday there are two features you should see. "The Charge of the Light Brigade," which was produced with the assistance of a battalion of British soldiers, and is authentic in every detail. A big, long laugh Sunday, with "Bunny All at Sea." This film is produced on board of a big liner, and is a scream. The programs at the Grand are always good. The cleanest and best in the city. Advertisement.

College Women's Suffrage Play

The College Women's Suffrage Club met Monday afternoon for a business and social meeting. Papers were read by several of the members on topics pertaining to the question of the franchise. Complete arrangements were made for a play, which will be staged sometime during the first week of December. It will be a comedy on "How the Cause Was Won," presenting both the humorous and serious phases of the subject. Plans are being made for an open meeting to be held in November.

Both students and downtown friends will be invited. In this way everyone will have an opportunity of seeing what the club is accomplishing.

GEOLOGY CLASS AT STEAMBOAT SPRINGS

A very pleasant and instructive afternoon was spent by the class in geology Saturday afternoon. Taking the 1 o'clock motor, the bunch went to Steamboat. The afternoon was spent in studying the spring and spring deposits and rambling over the hills to the westward. The party returned to Reno on the evening train, at 7:20. Those who availed themselves of the opportunity were Miss Lillian Davy, Harry Grayson, Bill Smyth, Walter Bowler, Bob Farner and Prof. Jones.

Mr. E. M. Cutting, engineer of lighting, heating and ventilation, for the Southern Pacific company, will address the Engineer's Club at some early date, on the "Human Side of the Engineering Profession." Mr. Mr. Cutting is a man who has had eminent success in the handling of men and is well qualified to speak on the subject. He believes that tact and an understanding of human nature are factors necessary for success, and in his address he will point out certain essentials in which he has found college men deficient.

L. S. Leavitt, '10, who has been district superintendent for the Truckee River General Electric Company at Yerington, has resigned to go with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, New York.

Raymond Robb, '12, writes from Tonopah that there is much electrical work in progress, and excellent opportunities for the Nevada boys employed there. Robb is with the Esmeralda Power company.

The Juniors have some committees busy working on some important class activities, so that it is probable that President Harriman will be able to spring some sensational surprises before long. It looks as if the Prom will be some party this year, and it will probably be held early in December.

HALLOWE'EN POLICY

One day last week the Gazette took occasion to copy an article that dealt with student conduct. It was suggested that if college men conducted themselves, at all times, as students and gentlemen, there would be none of this feeling that depicts him as a rowdy, rah rah, cigarette fiend.

We are sorry that the Gazette saw fit to give space to such an article. So far as we can discover there have been no breaches of true gentlemanliness among U. of N. students, and what's more we can find no evidence of a probable outbreak. The article was prompted, we hope, by an over-zealous space writer.

It may be that the approaching Hallowe'en season has something to do with the spirit of the paragraph. In years past there has been more or less serious damage done to gates, sign boards, and such easily removed stuff and invariably the University men have been accused of having a hand in it. It seems too bad that such should be the case but since it is we must watch carefully to make our absence so conspicuous on Hallowe'en that there can be no reflection cast towards us. The property owner of Reno unquestionably owes a great deal to the University, but his property rights should be respected. Let us this year prove that the Gazette's observation was badly out of order.

SOPHOMORE HOP, NOV. 8.

The Sophs have completed arrangements for their hop, November 8, and from present indications, it is going to be some classy affair. Invitations will be out this week, to be distributed among the friends of the class. As has been the custom, all invited guests, except those connected with the University, will be charged $1.00 admission. The Soph hop being the first big dance of the year, always has been the pace setter for the dances that follow, and this year will be no exception, for the class of '15 has always shown lots of "pep" in everything they have gone into.

NEVADA'S CHOICE APPEARS GOOD

Waratahs Show Only Slightly Better With St. Mary's Than Did Locals

With St. Mary's rugby team defeated Sunday at San Francisco by the Waratah team of Australia, the local dopesters are figuring out the chance the Nevada team will have against the Waratahs when they clash on Mackay field next Tuesday, one week from today. The figures look good for Nevada.

Australia defeated St. Mary's 27 to
0. Nevada defeated St. Mary's 23 to 3.
In the game next Tuesday Nevada will be playing on its home grounds, which will be a decided advantage. Another advantage will result from the fact that the Australians are not used to the high altitude and this should bother them slightly.

The rugby squad at the university is practicing hard. The forwards were played for nearly one and one-half hours steady last night, while the members of the back field division took their usual run of nearly two miles before retiring to the training quarters after 6 o'clock.

Coach Ross realizes the possibilities of a forward game with the Australians, and since that team has shown up best at dribbling, he is working the local lads to the best of his ability and endeavoring to develop a pack of men that can dribble against any team they meet.

SENATOR NEWLANDS' STATEMENT OF VOTE ON COMMERCE COURT

The following letters exchanged between C. H. McIntosh, chairman of the state democratic committee, and Senator Francis G. Newlands, are self-explanatory:

Democratic State Central Committee Headquarters,
Hotel Golden, Reno Nevada, October, 27, 1912.
Hon. Francis G. Newlands, Reno, Nevada.

Hon. Senator: In the Nevada State Journal of this date in an advertisement on behalf of Senator Massey, his opponent is charged with misrepresenting the facts in stating that Senator Massey on the final test voted to sustain the Commerce Court. The article further states:

"The opposition, cunning in trickery, employs another Congressional Record and a vote upon the President's veto of another measure in an effort to bolster their false charges."

As the leader of the Democratic party in the State of Nevada and as its only representative in Congress, we feel justified in requesting you to make a public statement as to the facts relative to such matters.

Very truly yours,
C. H. MCINTOSH, Chairman,
Reno, Nevada, October 27, 1912.

Hon. C. H. McIntosh, Chairman Democratic State Central Committee, Reno, Nevada.

My dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of October 27th regarding Senator Massey's record on the question of abolishing the Commerce Court. You can understand I feel a personal delicacy in entering a controversy in which I have thus far taken no part. The fact is that I have not until today examined the Congressional Record upon the subject, and this I did for the purpose of replying to a similar inquiry from Elko county. The facts as shown by the Congressional Record are as follows:

There were three legislative appropriation bills which passed Congress during the last session, two of which were vetoed and the last one of which was signed by the president.

The first bill which went to the president included a provision for a seven year tenure of office in the civil service at Washington and also a provision for the abolition of the commerce court. The president vetoed this bill upon the ground that these two features were objectionable and the veto was sustained by the house, resulting in the killing of the bill.

The second bill which went to the president eliminated the provision regarding the seven year tenure in the civil service at Washington, but contained a provision abolishing the commerce court. Senator Massey and myself voted for this latter provision in the senate on the 19th day of August, 1912. The bill was passed and presented to the president. The president vetoed this bill on the 21st day of August, 1912, upon the sole ground that it abolished the commerce court. The bill then passed the house of representatives, notwithstanding the president's objection. The bill then came to the senate for similar action and upon a vote to pass the bill notwithstanding the president's objection, Mr. Massey voted no and I voted aye. Had there been sufficient ayes to pass the bill over the president's veto in the senate the commerce court would have been abolished. As it was, the president's veto was sustained and the abolition of the commerce court was by this vote defeated.

Later on a third legislative appropriation bill passed congress, eliminating the only remaining objection of the president to the bill, namely, the abolition of the commerce court. This bill passed congress, was signed by the president and became a law.

The measure voted upon on the 19th day of August was the same measure that was vetoed by the president on the 21st day of August and again voted upon by the senate on the 21st day of August.

Very sincerely yours,
FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS.

Winnemucca High School Notes

Athletics

The Humboldt County High School of Winnemucca, being established, has yet to make its reputation in the athletic annals of the state. The students will be well satisfied if this reputation equals that of the old Winnemucca High, which, although among those of the smallest attendance, ranked among the leaders in athletics as well as in debate and elocution.

The prospects at the present time are not overly bright, we having, as it were, no facts upon which to base an estimation of our prowess. However, a tennis court has just been constructed and a goodly portion of the students are intent upon learning the rudiments of the game, under the coaching of Professor Graham of the High School and Prof. Maxwell of the Grammar Schools. Although it is difficult to accurately judge their worth at the present time, several of the students show faint promise of becoming fair players. A meet with the tennis players of the Lovelock High has been practically arranged, although the date has not been definitely set. Of course, we expect the "alfalfaites" to trim us, because of the larger amount of practice they have had, while we as yet hardly know the game. But we are willing to take a preliminary defeat for the sake of the sport, and it will be a strong incentive to be prepared to get back at our neighbors in the future.

The material also looks very promising for a girls' basketball team, and the girls have been doing a little half-hearted practicing under the coaching of Harry Hicks, recently from Fresno High, California, but few of the girls know the game, and it will take a long time to get them in shape for a match. Thus far nothing definite has been arranged, although negotiation are under way with Lovelock, Elko and Battle Mountain. It is also probable that a boys' basketball team will be organized, although the material is not so good.

Social

Last Friday afternoon the students met in the Assembly hall for social entertainment. The president of the Student Body, Miss Alma Hoskins, acted as chairman of the meeting and announced the first feature, a song by the students. Next, the chairman introduced Prof. Graham of the High School, who spoke of the purposes of the recently organized Student Body, outlining for the benefit of those who did not understand, the work and offices of the four heads of committees appointed by the president and the sub-members appointed by the heads.

The chairman then introduced the head of the athletic committee, who made a short address on the athletic affairs of the school and outlined his plans for the future.

At the conclusion of this address an excellent vocal solo was rendered by Miss Alice Wagner, head of the social committee. The vocal artist was accompanied on the piano by Miss Electa Hurst, head of the musical committee. Miss Hurst, who is an accomplished pianist, also furnished the instrumental music for the rest of the meeting.

The chairman next introduced the speaker of the day, Father Meehan of the local parish. The Father announced that his address was to be a sermon in disguise, and in truth the disguise was complete. The subject of the address was "Manners' Creeds and Customs," and in it the speaker brought to our notice many little every-day defects in politeness and violations of etiquette which could be easily corrected by the individual. Mr. Meehan is an earnest speaker, bubbling with wit, and was greeted with frequent laughter and applause.

As Mr. Meehan regained his seat, the Rev. Henry of the Methodist Episcopal church, was called upon and related an anecdote which threw the assemblage into convulsion. As the uproar subsided, Prof. Graham was again called upon and went Mr. Henry one better.

The meeting adjourned a decided success, reflecting the efforts and ability of Miss Rena Brewster, chairman of the entertainment committee.

NOTICE—GIRLS OUT!

On Monday afternoon, November 4th, the day before the big Nevada-Australian game, the girls will have song practice in Room 6, at 4:30.

Show your "pep," girls, and come. Don't let the boys beat in everything. Why can't we arouse a little spirit, as well as they, and show the stuff we're made of?

Jim Goldsworthy, '13, is still at Yerington, engaged in electrical contract work. He will be with us for the big game on November 5th.

Reno High School Dept.

ATHLETICS

On Saturday afternoon the Reno High received the short end of a 34-0 score with the University Freshmen.

The High School did good work until Curtin would get the ball, and then, well Jim would generally end up by placing the ball between the goal posts.

The Freshmen, although, played a good game, and their weight and games experience told, as time after time they would enter the High School's territory.

Several features marked the game the first being the spectacular work of Curtin, next the losing of Freeman's wearing apparel, in the form of pants, and lastly the most beautiful and wonderful eyebrow tackles by both sides.

Regardless of this defeat, the High School is going to get in and work, and work hard, for Thursday night they leave for the coast and it will look pretty bad if the High Schools gets another drubbing.

The teams leave for Alameda on Thursday evening. A most pleasant trip is looked for, as Alameda intends to return the good time shown to them by Reno.

BASKETBALL

Basketball will be the next athletic event in the schedule of the High School. Already challenges have been received and a most successful season is looked for. The new gym in the H. S. will greatly help the team, and also encourage material for the team. Games will be had with Susanville, Elko, Carson, Gardnerville, Sacramento, Stockton H. S. Alumni, Freshmen, Y. M. C. A. and many other teams.

Thetas Invite All to Jinks

Now that the big time in Manzanita is over, everybody is looking forward to the Theta jinks. The jinks is to be another Hallowe'en party and there will be spooks and ghosts and fiery cauldrons. It is going to be a masquerade, too, and students are busy thinking—thinking: "What am I going to wear?"

Owing to the fact that there has been a misunderstanding in regard to the invitations, Theta Epsilon takes this means of inviting every student in college to the jinks—so get your costumes ready.

Remember the rules of the game: (1) Come in costume; (2) Fellows and girls come separately; (3) Everybody be there

Nothing But Cold Facts

Speaking of the article in the Sagebrush last week regarding the Commerce Court, Chairman McIntosh of the democratic state central committee had this to say Saturday: "The facts as you stated them were absolutely true. It has been charged that I have sanctioned the publication of articles that were untrue about the vote of Senator Massey on the abolition of the Commerce Court, but such is not the case. I have insisted that the facts as found in the Congressional Record be followed strictly and it has been done. The statements as made by our bureau and as published from the record are these: The general appropriation bill as passed contained in section 4 the seven year tenure clause relating to the civil service and in section 9 the positive abolition of the Commerce Court. President Taft vetoed the bill, and gave as his reasons that the bill contained these two objectional features, and it was in this veto message that the President used the language credited to him in the Gazette. Congress then changed the section relating to the civil service to meet with the President's wishes, and President Taft then said of the section relating to the civil service: "This section 4 is an admirable section, and, if properly carried out, will greatly improve the present civil service."

It was on August 21st, (not August 19th), 1912 that President Taft vetoed the appropriation bill on the sole ground that section 9 of the bill abolished the Commerce Court. And it was on August 21st, (not August 19th), 1912, that Senator Massey voted with Guggenheim, Root and Smoot to sustain the President's veto when the ONLY QUESTION INVOLVED was the abolishing of the Commerce Court.

For verification of these statements, see Congressional Record of August 21st, 1912, as follows:

See page 12483 for President Taft's veto.

See page 12483 for the bill vetoed.

See page 12497 for Massey's vote to sustain the Commerce Court.

See page 12513 for President's favorable comment on Civil Service section.

The facts are plain and simple, and nothing can change them.

merry dancers tripped up and down the big corridor, and even through the sanctum sanctorium of Mrs. Kaye and out upon the side veranda, to where the campus lake glistened romantically in the moonlight.

And then it came time to follow the crowd again. This time it was to the basement where a regular old fashioned Hallowe'en feast awaited. There was pumpkin pie—just like Mother used to make—and doughnuts and coffee and red apples which hung, dangling from their threads about the room and over the tables.

After enjoying the feast the crowd once more gathered upstairs. There was more dancing and then Tom Walker sang a couple of good ones. This was the signal for all to group about the piano and all joined in the good old Nevada song.

The evening was an enjoyable one, indeed. For most of the guests it was an initial invasion into the sacred precincts beyond the front door of Manzanita—hence the fear and trembling with which most of us entered. To Mrs. Kaye, Miss Wygal and the ladies of the Y. W. C. A. and L. F. G., the fellows are grateful for a jolly good time.

PREP GIRL WRITES SONG
Miss Maude Goodhue, since her graduation from Prep with the class of '11, has been making a name for herself. She has been notary public for nearly two years at her home town, Indian Falls, California. She has also been reporter on the local paper. Lately Miss Goodhue has come into the public eye as the author of a popular song entitled, "It Was Here I spent My Childhood." We are all glad to hear that Maude is doing so well and take this means of congratulating her.

Prof. Young's Mining Paper

The University of Nevada Bulletin, Volume VI, Number 4, has just been received from the publishers. The number consists of a paper presented to the American Institute of Mining Engineers, at the Cleveland meeting, by George J. Young, of the Mackay School of Mines. It is thus reprinted by permission of the council from the Bulletin of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, Number 70, October, 1912.

The paper, entitled "Fires in Metalliferous Mines," deals primarily with mine fires in Nevada. From them the writer draws different deductions as to precautions necessary for the prevention of fires and suggests legislation. Among the causes for fires mentioned in the article are: Carelessness in the handling of candles and lamps, smoking, faulty electrical wiring, remnants of smouldering fuse, overheated bearing in mine machinery and spontaneous combustion. Mine fires usually originate from these causes in the timbered parts or where oil, waste or other combustible materials are kept.

Toward the prevention of these fires the author suggests legislation. This legislation would have to do with the regulation of use of candles and lamps, the institution of frequent fire drills by squads trained in fire fighting, the maintenance of watchmen, portable fire extinguishers, fire doors, etc.

The author closes his paper with the following conclusion:

This paper is written in the hope that some discussion will result. The use of fire-proof construction, the comparative cost of such construction, methods of preventing the spread of, and of fighting fires, mine-fires, and mine-fire regulations are subjects upon which many of the members of the Institute can no doubt contribute much of importance.

AT LAST AN ARTEMISIA

The Junior class has taken under consideration the advisability of publishing an "Artemisia." In order to edit this book successfully, we find it necessary to make a canvass of the students and alumni for the purpose of ascertaining how many books can be sold among the students and graduates and, furthermore, what income we can rely on from this source. A petition is now in circulation asking you to pledge yourselves to buy a copy. We do not desire to urge you to sign this pledge; we merely trust to your sense of duty and college loyalty to help us publish a paper that will be a credit to the University.

For the benefit of the new students we wish to state here that the University of Nevada year book known as the Artemisia was last published in 1907 by the Junior class. Since then no year book has been published, a fact which you, as well as we, realize has not helped our standing in the college world. We are now trying to rectify this fault. Consequently boost, contribute and pledge yourselves for an Artemisia.

FORMER STUDENT IN BUSINESS

Mr. Earl Conway, whom many of the students will remember, has purchased the Grand Confectionary, next to the Grand Cafe, on Second street, and is making preparations to put in one of the largest and most fully equipped confectionery stores in Reno. Mr. Conway has had a good deal of experience along these lines, and since he has always been popular with the students and young people around town, there is no doubt that his establishment will receive the patronage which it deserves.

During the winter months he is going to make a specialty of hot drinks of all kinds, and will have a supply of holiday novelties always on hand.

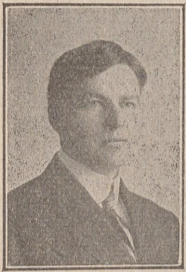

It might be interesting to note here that since Mr. Conway left school, he has become one of Cupid's victims. Go in and ask him about it. He'll buy.

Social Conclave Packs The House

For the opening of the Catholic Fair, which is known as the "Social Conclave," a crowd which taxed the capacity of Social Hall, at the corner of Second and Virginia streets, wandered last night through the maze of surprises set for them by the ladies of St. Thomas Aquinas church. So many were present that additional chairs were hastily procured after the opening.

The hall was decorated in fiesta style by the ladies and everywhere were booths designed to separate some one from money needed for the payment of the church debt. There were booths for refreshments, for Japanese bowling, for the display of fancy work, candy, novelties; others had experts in palmistry while in another booth the fish pond caught many a fish. A notable booth was the office of the "Daily Lantern" where the paper of the fair was purchased until the huge stack was depleted.

The fair was opened with an address by Father Tubman, who dwelt upon the fact that with prosperity advances the culture and religion of the community. Factory chimneys and church spires both are signs of a prosperous and happy city.

Madam Huesman sang and responded three times to encores. Her singing is one of the attractions of the fair.

After the early part of the evening dancing occupied the throng until midnight.

The ring contest is attracting great interest and spirited competition is promised. The vote will be announced tonight at 10 o'clock and nightly thereafter. The Misses Blanche Praders, Ginocchio, Mildred Kiniken, Marie Bonettie, Myrtle Holland and Caffrey are among the leaders.

The Lantern contest has as leaders Zita Winter, Matt Walsh and John Caffrey.

Father Tubman is much gratified by the success of the "Lantern" and it is a creditable paper. The pages are filled with advertisements and so numerous have been the demands for space that the reading matter in the first issue is outbalanced. This, however, Father Tubman says, will be corrected by the addition of more reading matter today.

Tonight further novelties and a new musical program, including songs by Mme. Huesman, will be given.

Big "Sagebrush" Next Week

Sagebrush Will Issue Extra Paper for the Big Game

That the entire University is alive to the entertainment of the Waratahs on Tuesday next is easily seen when one thinks over the various modes of so doing—the N Society, the Student Body, the Nevada Varsity, the Girls of Nevada, the college paper and the Reno merchants.

The merchants are going to close, and the paper is going to open up with a big special edition welcoming the Australians and the people to the University.

An eight-page insert on pink "sporty" paper will contain all the dope on the visitors and their past history in this and other countries; the inside dope on several Nevada players, their age, weight, speed and their time of playing Rugby, who coached them and their pictures. will be the best part of the game and will make the paper a souvenir that many will want to retain for future reference.

Watch for the next issue, but meanwhile your subscription should be paid, or else you will have the privilege of paying for the paper and then not receiving any other papers. The Sagebrush deserves your support and you cannot do any less than subscribe.

Y. W. C. A. NOTICE

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held in Miss Weir's room, instead of the association room. Slides showing different views of Japanese life will be shown. Mrs. R. L. Fulton, who spent some time in Japan, will explain the pictures. This meeting will be one of interest and all are urged to be there.

Merode Underwear

What is the brand of knit underwear that is carried by the leading dry goods house of this county? It is

MERODE HAND FINISHED UNDERWEAR

Every garment is finished by hand, every garment is knit to fit the figure. Note the nicety of finish apparent in every detail, that every visible edge is finished with silk, that the seams of all garments are flat and elastic, presenting a uniform surface, and that nothing is crude, unsightly or uncomfortable. Buttonholes are nicely finished and will not stretch. Buttons are sewn so securely as to defy destructive laundries. Every garment is finished by hand with silk, with a crocheted edge of very neat design.

WE GUARANTEE THESE GARMENTS ARE NO HIGHER THAN INFERIOR MAKES, 50c to $3.50

A Style kingdom of their own

Young men who are rightly dressed this fall will wear this fashion:

☞ Slender coats and trousers. Lapels long and flat, or short and gracefully soft and rolling. Coat buttoned at bottom button seems yet to be the call. Waistcoat rather high cut.

☞ Patterns—oh, so many and so varied, from the stripy worsteds to the heather tweeds and Scotchy homespuns.

☞ We have been to a world of effort to get the best style for young men, and we believe that Stein-Bloch have tailored it. A moment's stop here will tell you. You can see yourself fitted right - and the price will be popular with you.
