STUDENT BODY MEETING FRIDAY

Romanzo Adams Completes Report

REPORT OF CITIZENS' COMMITTEE ON ECONOMY AND TAXATION

The Report of the Citizens' Economy and Taxation Committee is just issued and as long as the supply lasts they will be sent free of charge to any citizen of Nevada upon request. All requests should be addressed to the secretary, Professor Romanzo Adams, Reno Nevada.

The report includes both findings of fact and recommendations. Among the salient facts are the following:

1. Flat rate licenses in Nevada are well collected according to the purpose of the law.

2. Graduated licenses are in large part evaded through an understatement of business.

3. Bullion taxes are largely evaded by means of secondary transportation and reduction corporations.

4. Property assessments are grossly unequal, varying from nothing to over one hundred per cent. Much property escapes assessment and taxation entirely. Much property is assessed at about ten per cent of what it is worth while other property is assessed at thirty or forty or sixty or even a hundred per cent of its value. As a rule with exceptions, the poor man is assessed at a higher rate than the rich man.

5. Most other states were, a few years ago, using the same system of assessment and taxation that is used now in Nevada. Under this system they secured results of about the same character as those secured in this state. Gross inequalities develop everywhere under this system. This shows that the unjust working of our system is not due to any special delinquencies on the part of Nevada officials or citizens but that it is the regular normal outcome of the system.

The above fact is proved by abundant references to the experience of many states in the parts of the report written by Hon. Clay Tallman, Hon. Hugh H. Brown and Hon. J. F. Shaughnessy, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Utah, Washington, California, Idaho and Oregon are among the states prominently mentioned.

6. In the recent past the majority of the states of the United States have adopted the tax commission plan and their testimony is unanimous to the point that the commissions have been of great value in finding equality assessments and in finding property which previously escaped taxation. It is practically true that states having

INTERESTING GOVERNMENT SYSTEM OUTLINED FOR NEVADA STUDENTS

In answer to the editorial offer of the Sagebrush a week ago to the effect that schemes having for their object a betterment of student body affairs should receive attention in the columns of this paper, a plan of government has already been received. This plan of government, an outline of which is to follow, is the present system of student body government in many of our great universities in the West as well as in the East. Among these may be mentioned, Columbia, the University of the City of New York, Fordham and California. The plan is being submitted to the students of Nevada by a student of this university, whose name is for the present withheld, who has had three years' experience with the system in an eastern college and is therefore qualified to work out the plan for us in its detail. Should the student body of Nevada at any time decide to adopt such a system, therefore, no difficulty in working out the plan would be experienced.

An outline of the scope and general working plan of the system follows:

The plan divides the student body into two distinct and separate departments: The one is termed the Student Council and the other the Athletic Association. Each of these departments will be treated separately.

The Student Council is the supreme student organization in legislative matters. Its jurisdiction embraces: (1) Freshman-Sophomore activities; (2) disputes between students; (3) customs, rules and traditions and the punishment for the violation thereof; (4) mediation between faculty and student affairs; (5) the election of the editor and business manager of the Sagebrush. It shall be composed of: (1) regular students of the university, one from each of the classes (Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior) representing each of the five colleges of the university; (2) the editors of the Artemesia and of the Sagebrush are ex-officio members; (3) the presidents of the classes are ex-officio members. The government of the Student Council will be by the students elected to positions in the council who will elect officers from their number as follows: (1) a president from the Senior class; (2) a vice president from the Junior class; (3) a secretary-treasurer from the Sophomore class. Elections to all offices are to be held in the fall.

The other branch or department of the associated students is known as the Athletic Association. Its purpose is to foster the physical development of its members and to control all varsity athletic matters. It is composed of the entire student body and is governed by an executive committee. This executive committee consists of the following officers who are chosen by popular ballot: (1) a president from the Senior class; (2) a vice president from the Junior class; (3) a secretary from the Senior, Junior or Sophomore classes; (4) a treasurer from either of the above classes; and in addition, a graduate manager, elected at large, a faculty advisory committee and a woman's athletic manager as at present. The faculty advisory committee consists of three members of the faculty appointed by the president of the university.

Harry Grayson Baseball Capt.

Star Player Will Lead Nevada Nine for 1913

The lecture room in the Chemistry building was the scene of a rousing baseball meeting last Wednesday afternoon. The first business of the meeting was to elect a captain to succeed "Pogy" Percival, resigned. There was little discussion as to the logical man for the position—Harry Grayson was nominated and elected unanimously. There followed some discussion as to the advisability of promoting baseball in the college this spring. It was argued by some that in view of the heavy expense the athletic association is to be under in financing both track and basketball, that a third sport could hardly be supported. It was also urged that sufficient material is lacking for a winning team. The discussion of material, however, won the day for baseball and it was finally decided to put a Nevada Varsity team into the field.

As yet no definite baseball schedule has been arranged. Graduate Manager Ross has games planned with St. Ignatius, Fallon and Reno teams and, of course, the Santa Clara nine will meet a team from here according to the contract.

An initial workout of the baseball men was held on the Mckay Field Saturday afternoon. Some good material was in evidence especially among the Freshmen. Regular practice began Monday. Coach Holway is to have charge of the coaching and he will probably be assisted by Jack Cullen of the co-operative laboratory, who has considerable reputation in the East as a baseball man.

A deposit of $4 is required before players will be allowed suits. There will be some indoor baseball practice in the gym this week and perhaps a game of indoor baseball with the members of the Exposition Five next Saturday afternoon. The basketball team of the Southern Pacific offices in San Francisco will play Nevada a week from Saturday and it is probable that a game of indoor baseball will also be played with them.

THE FLAMING ARC

On a recent visit to San Francisco, Prof. Serugham secured the donation of one of the large flaming arc lamps recently developed by the General Electric Co. Mr. Bacon, Nevada representative of the company, made the gift. The lamps are quite expensive but develop nearly three times as much light as the ordinary arc with less consumption of power.

Mech. Dept. Light Tests

The Electrical Engineering Department are making tests on the candle power of electrical headlights used in locomotive service. It is found that the most powerful electric headlight in practical use was about 1,000 candle power without a reflector. The most satisfactory headlight for all around work is the tungsten incandescent light which gives a clear, steady illumination and is easy on the eyes. This subject is of especial interest in view of the proposed legislation on the subject. Further tests will be made on acetylene lamps.

Will Griscom, known on the campus as "Tennessee," was a visitor on the hill during the week. He was on his way to Rochester where he will spend a three month's leave of absence. Griscom is employed in the office of the S. P. company in San Francisco.

Frank Silva Now Missing

Frank Silva has disappeared. His father appeared at the registrar's office several days ago in search of the boy but no definite knowledge concerning his whereabouts since the beginning of the Christmas vacation could be obtained here. The only clue is a letter, now destroyed, which stated that Frank intended not to come back to school this semester but that he expected to work for a railroad construction company in Utah.

Information which may lead to the location of Frank Silva will be greatly appreciated.

Freshman English Enjoys Banquet

Last Thursday evening in the Domestic Science Department, eighty college people enjoyed the English I banquet. After everyone had eaten his fill of turkey and other good things, Toastmaster Tom Walker called upon a number of "English oners" for some speeches. The freshies responded with some good ones, as did also Prof. Paine, Prof. Von Janinski and Miss Dorothy Bird of the Class of '15. The members of the Class of '15 who had been speakers at their own English I banquet the year before were the honored guests at this affair.

JOURNAL TELLS

"GOAT" CURTIN'S STORY

The new camp of Rochester has several residents from among the students of the university who have been winning their way through college and who were unable to resist the lure of boom times and the chance of a possible stake that would obviate the necessity of "working through" to a diplomat. Among these is James Curtin, of football fame, known on the athletic field as "Goat" Curtin, one of the stars of the last Rugby season and who was one of the first to respond to the call from Rochester.

Curtin first became inoculated with the stampede germ in Goldfield where he was a pioneer newsboy in the days when that camp consisted mainly of bottle houses and tents.

He sold papers on the streets of Goldfield, then went into a notion store on a small scale and finally into a monopolistic business of controlling all of such stores in the primitive camp. At this stage in the Goldfield boom days he became philanthropic and organized the first newsboys' and organized the first newsboys' could be had for less than ten cents and not over twenty-five cents.

This work for the juvenile store keeper gained for him many friends and he received from a good natured acquaintance 10,000 shares of stock in one of the preliminary companies of Goldfield. This stock was never considered to be of any special value by the boy until one day in a restaurant he overheard a conversation relative to the merits of the property his stock covered. The mine promise high grade ore and the stock went to a dividend paying basis at par value. Then Curtin sold and with 10,000 round dollars to his credit went east to the bedside of his father who had been bereft of a fortune and forsaken by his family.

James, with his jeans well lined came to the rescue and paid off the farm mortgage with the Goldfield money, but almost too late, for after the debts had been settled the father died and left the estate to be settled by probate. James, being the youngest of the children and not yet of age, received only a small part of the estate that he had himself saved for the family and thus was again forced to search for his own livelihood in the west.

He entered the University of Nevada as a member of the preparatory school three years ago and has been earning his way and attending college ever since. This lure of the gold in Rochester proved his undoing as far as college was concerned and he went out to the camp in hopes of receiving the usual high wages and chance of working two shifts. This is exactly what the lad is doing today at Rochester canyon and he writes his friends at the university that he hopes to be able to return to college and go "through right."

"I am going to get a diploma," he says, "and I am going to earn it myself."

NOTICE

The Y. W. C. A. will NOT hold its regular weekly meeting this week owing to the fact that Wednesday is Lincoln's birthday and a holiday.

Dr. H. W. Hill of the Department of English will deliver a lecture on Dickens, the Humorist, next Friday evening at Elko.

Dan Bruce, who has been at the head of the Art Department during the absence of Miss Lewers, has accepted a position in Austin, Nevada.

Frank Hobbins left Saturday night for Tonopah after a short visit with his family in Reno. Frank has been employed for the past several months in Rawhide. He will work under Jay Carpenter in Tonopah.

WAR COLORS IN SPRING FASHIONS

W. S. Settle of the firm of Mott & Settle, writes interestingly of what he finds are the prevailing colors and draperies in New York. He has been gone now about three weeks and sends back the result of his buying trip in the following interesting comments:

"You may say to our friends that Mott & Settle have never shown such a superb stock, from the most reasonably priced goods to the most stunning top notchers from the originals that bloomed just a month ago in 'Gay Paree,' in shades of every blooming living thing from elephant grey to African native brown, and the latter is termed in Paris, Tate de Negra.' Then we have tandarines and 'well roses,' bushels of them; carrots, nut browns, etc., oodles of them. But you now have a general idea of what's doing in the way of trimming, and all on account of that fight over a small strip of Turkish ground. As to draped effects in gowns, skirts, coats, wraps, etc. you know the Greek had a little hand in that fight, and when it comes to the draping art Mr. Greek can do some stunts with soft clinging materials, and these Paris dressmakers were not overlooking anything in the skirmish. So we have as a result many charming ideas plucked from their mouths.

Now I started out to just tell you a little something about what you might expect, but find I've given you quite a bit of the real history of this season's styles and just how it all happened."

YE OLDEN TIMES PARTY

The kind of a Valentine Party which George Washington knew will occur on February 14th, when the university fellows and girls play ancient lord and lady at the city Y. M. C. A.

The commodious and attractive building will offer scenes of Colonial charm and those who mingle in the company will find that St. Valentine had as warm a place in his heart for the hero of old as for the 'Varsity lads of this day.

Don't forget the time, a week from Friday night on the 14th of February.

THE BASKET BALL TRIP

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 5, the Basket Ball team left for California to play a series of games. Although defeated in all the games the team had a fine time.

The team arrived in Sacramento at 7:10 Thursday A. M. After breakfast they were taken through the school and then for an automobile ride about the city. At noon a lunch was given in our honor and everyone enjoyed himself immensely. At 3:30 the game was called and although the odds were greatly against the team they put up a seppappy game. The court was a dirt one and out in the open and was 90x25. The Sacramento guards formed a barrier at the end and it was useless to attempt to get past them. Bryant, the captain of the Reno team, was hurt while jumping for the ball and B. Laveaga went in, in the last half. The final score was 26-10. The team left for Davis at 6:55 the same day and arrived there an hour later. The Reno team was taken to the State Farm.

At 8:15 we met the ten of California State Farm Team. Their floor is about twice as slippery as the U. of N. Gym and the Reno team was completely lost, they tried hard to check the college men but failed. The score at the end was 69-18. The next A. M. the team was taken about the farm and every one enjoyed the trip. We left for Woodland at 10:45, arriving there at 12:45. That evening at 7:30 the Woodland High gained a hard earned victory over the Nevada lads. The floor was slippery, but not as slippery as Davis. The first half ended with Woodland ahead 12-8. The last half 23-17. A dance was given and all had a fine time. At 8:40 the next A. M. the team left for Berkeley, arriving there at 11:30. The Berkeley fellows took the team through the University of California showing them all points of interest. That evening they again defeated the Reno team by the score of 54-3. The first half ended with Berkeley 26, Reno 11. Monday A. M. all reported for school.

EDITORIAL

A SLIP

Last week the Sagebrush published editorials based on articles that did not appear. Those articles appear in this issue and are recommended to you by the same editorials.

Also—do not forget the student body meeting Friday.

"THE CRISIS"

The University of Nevada seems to have reached a crisis in its history. Its two distinct divisions—the institution and the student body,—are alike at that stage in their development when the right impetus will push them over into success and growth. That impetus lacking; the college will drop back, and, it will be only after years of struggle that Nevada will again reach that brink of success, or failure, at the top of which she is at present poised.

The student body, on last Friday morning, had one of the most successful meetings that has been held in the gym for years. A Mackay Day plan was submitted which has for its object the fusion of the student body into a united whole.

In the perfection and the carrying through of this plan can easily be perceived a strength which must contribute considerably to the force of that desired impetus.

The Sagebrush this week presents a plan of government under which the student affairs in some of the greatest colleges in the United States are being successfully conducted. Even the most conservative must admit that the fault here lies not altogether with the students, there is something wrong with the system. Therefore, give this system, tested and not found wanting in other colleges, your attention. Do not condemn it because it is new. It may be that, in the organization of a new constitution and a more modern type of student body government, Nevada's Associated Students will find the impetus which is to carry them safely through the crisis.

Now in regard to the University itself. Its critical position is more serious even than that of the student body as the future of the student body depends upon the future of the university. The legislators gathered at Carson voice the sentiment of a large part of their constituency when they say that the university costs too much money for the number of students it educates. They do not stop to consider that the Department of Education, History, Modern Languages and Greek and Latin, which cost $14,000 for the last two years, are the only departments of the university proper which the state supports. The rest of the appropriation goes for the general up-keep of buildings and grounds, in the form of special appropriations for buildings, and for the maintenance of the departments of Weights and Measures, Food and Drugs, the state hygienic laboratory, and the eel worm investigations. These last named departments, which cost $26,500 for the last two years, are considered a part of the university only because their funds come under the control of the Regents; they have no educational functions in connection with the university whatsoever.

These outside expenditures are the things that make the university appear to the outsider so expensive. We are not in reality, an expensive luxury. All we have to do is to show these representatives of the people of Nevada that we are a live and loyal bunch and they will go back to their districts to tell their constituents some facts concerning the University of Nevada. That trip to Carson is one way to put ourselves in the right light. It may carry Nevada thru the crisis.

"JANGLING CHIMES"

Farnsworth Wright, a former student of the university, has written a story entitled "Jangling Chimes". It possesses a moral, i. e., the power for good in a united student body.

Freshie Glee March 28th

At a meeting of the Freshmen Class held last Friday, plans for the Freshmen Glee, to be given in the gym on March 28, were discussed, and from present indications it will be the classiest affair ever held on the hill.

The entire freshman class is bending every effort to make the event surpass all previous affairs. Chairman Rose of the decoration committee has worked out a plan of decoration that has never before been used at University dances. He plans to have the University gym transformed into a place of color and beautiful lighting effects.

Alton Glass who has charge of the music states that he has secured the services of Bobby Ostroff's orchestra of seven pieces. This is an assurance of good music.

Earl Borchert and his committee on invitations and programs have worked out a pleasing design for the programs. The students and faculty of the University are all cordially invited to attend and aid the Freshmen in making a grand success of their dance. Invited guests other than students or faculty will be charged admission.

MEETING NEVADA ACADEMIC COMMITTEE

The Board of Control of the Nevada Academic League met on Wednesday afternoon in the Electrical building to make preliminary arrangements for the 1913 Field Meet and Declamation Contest. The membership of the Board consists of the following:

Wm. Settlemeyer, M. E. Jepson, B. D. Billingham, S. E. Ross, H. L. Applegate, Chas. Haseman and J. G. Schurham. It was decided to send out announcements concerning the meet to all schools and newspapers in the state and May 9th and 10th, 1913, was selected as the date.

The records required for badge awards were made lower in several instances. Badge winners in 1913 will have to exert a little more effort to make good than was required in former years. So far as possible all contestants and accompanying teachers will be entertained at the University Dormitories and Dining hall. A number of inquiries regarding the meet have already been received from Lovelock, Bishop, Las Vegas and other schools not previously entered.

FRED J. BARNES

Fred J. Barnes, representing the Meyers make gloves, "like old friends, they wear well" was a visitor in Reno Saturday and placed orders with Frank & Bane and other Reno clothing houses. Mr. Barnes is on his way to San Francisco where his firm is to establish a large branch store.

JUNIORS ELECT

At a meeting of the class of 1914 last Wednesday afternoon, Artemesia features were discussed and class officers for this semester elected. The following will guide the class affairs until the beginning of 14's Senior year: President, William I. Smyth; Vice-President, Alice Van Leer; Secretary, Edwina O'Brien; Treasurer, Phillip S. Cowgill.

SHORT COURSE PROGRAMS

Attractive programs for the Farmers' Short Course, which will be held at the University from Feb. 18-28, are now being issued by the Agricultural Dept. The program is illustrated with half tones of the prize live stock of the University Farm. Things about the farming industry said by prominent men who are not farmers have also been quoted throughout the four pages of the sheet.

Fred Hoskings returned from Placerville Sunday night and is now busy registering.

COME

The Students of the University are to have a Valentine Party at the Y. M. C. A. building on Thursday evening, February 13th. Music, games, a short program of readings and refreshments will provide entertainment while the spacious building with its many amusements will be at the disposal of the guests. Come.

B. G. McBride, '06, is manager and Prof. J. G. Scrugham is consulting engineer for the Elko-Lamoille Power Co., which is building a high tension hydro-electric plant at Lamoille, Nev., to supply light and power to Elko county. They are planning to install a number of electric pumping plants for irrigation work in the vicinity of Lamoille.

Because not long ago the Khedive of Egypt took a new, young wife.

Her name is Zubelda.

"You can't describe her," sighs the Khedive, "because there was never anything like her. She's a poem, a little mountain brook, a rose garden, a—" tax commissions are administering their systems of taxation with a high degree of success and that those that do not have tax commissions are doing nothing effective to remedy the inequalities and injustice of the old system.

Romanzo Adams Completes Report

7. Inheritance taxes are now collected in thirty-eight states. Such taxes are usually graduated according to the amount of the inheritance and also according to the remoteness of relationship.

There are three important recommendations:

1. That reductions be made in the expenses of state offices and state institutions where this can be done without sacrificing the efficiency of the service.

2. That a law providing for an inheritance tax be enacted.

3. That a state tax commission with broad general powers including the power to compel just assessments be created.

The committee submits for the consideration of the legislators and of citizens generally a proposed bill for the creation of a state tax commission.

The development of public interest and public intelligence relative to taxation resulting from the work of this committee is sure to be of value to the state. It is to be hoped that the legislature will give effect to the more important recommendations at an early date.

BACKWARD

Backward, turn backward, oh time, in your flight; feed me on gruel again just for tonight. I am so weary of sole-leather steak, perified biscuit and galvanized cake; oysters that sleep in a watery bath, and butter as strong as Goliath of Gath. Weary of paying for what I can't eat, chewing up rubber and calling it meat.

Miss Bernice De Hart, of Reno High School, has registered in the class of 16 in the college of Arts and Sciences.

Miss K. Lewers, who has been spending the last several months in Honolulu, has returned to Nevada and resumed her duties as head of the Art Department.

Seumas McManus, the famous Irish lecturer will deliver an address at general assembly some time during the month.

W. F. Doherty Goes to Spain

He can be addressed care the Pearson Engineering Corporation, 115 Broadway, New York.

THE GERMAN TABLE

The students of German who board at the dining hall have decided that it would aid digestion to speak German at meals and for that reason they are now masticating their food with guttural sounds. The brave ones are as follows:—Miss Davey, Miss Engle, Miss Rushby, Miss Woods and Miss Shade; and Messrs. Ogilvie, Hilton, Axt. Haseman and Von Janinski are 'Anstandsamen' and Miss Akin is 'Kellnerin.'
