STUDENT MEETING TOMORROW

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEV. GREET'S YOU PRESIDENT WILSON

Friday Eve's Entertainment

Nevada Glee Club Wins Praise From Big House

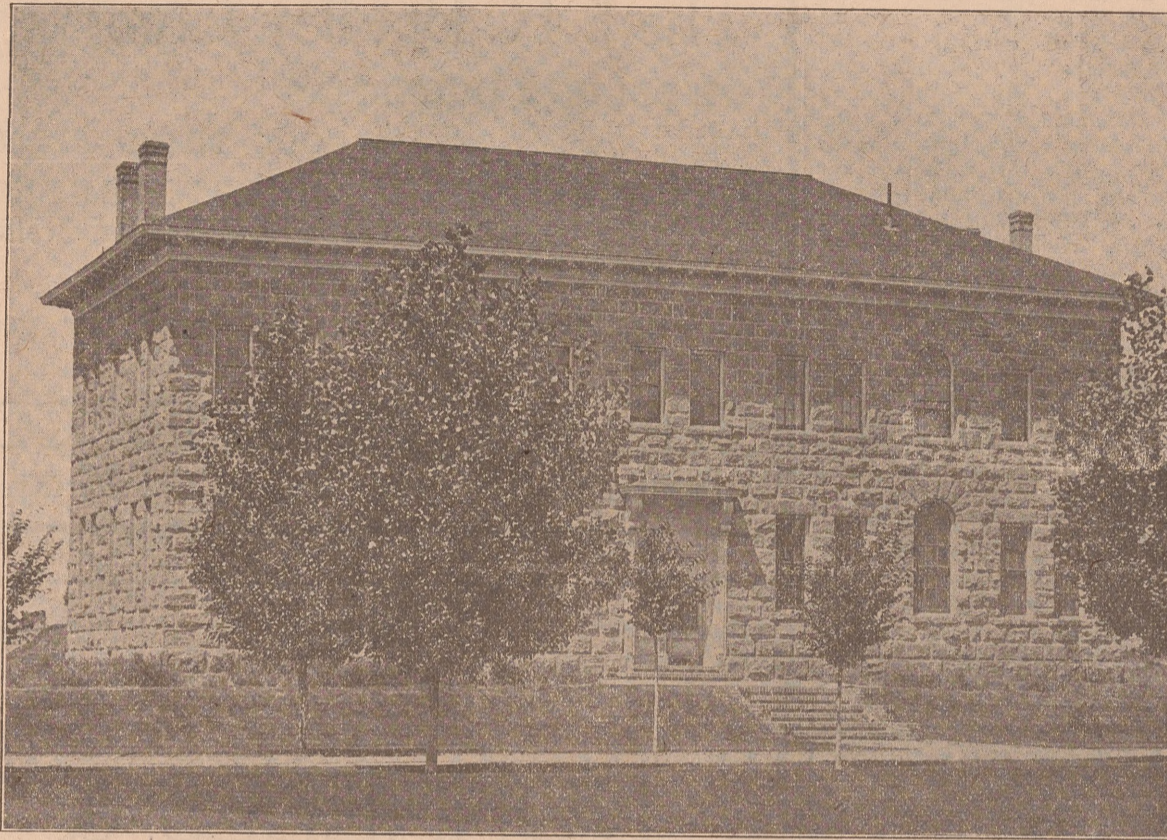

With a genuineness and a professionalism that well fitted its modest announcement the Glee Club concert last Friday evening proved the most enjoyable entertainment that the university has ever produced. The Sagebrush cannot boast a musical critic. It has, however, a sense that tells a real first-class program from the bungles of barnstormers. The Glee Club is on the right side, and at the top.

The opening number, "To Drive Dull Care Away," has certainly loosened a few scales from some hides we know. The Phi Tappa Keg's are sure a live bunch of fraternity men, and their parlor is far from being the best room, as we knew it back home. The action is fast. If the bunch isn't doing some clever harmony work, one of the members is performing.

Webster, Micky Carns, was a revelation in eighteen chapters, who would ever think that Web could get up on the Majestic stage and carry a crowded house to the brink of hysterics. Tom Walker, as usual, handed out a line of limerix. The audience knew him from times past, and wouldn't see him leave.

Wheeler, too, had a parody on "Row, Row, Row," that fitted college men to a tee. You're a little timid, though, Ad—spruce up. Of course, Dr. Charles had to come through with one or two puns. Professor was sure taking advantage of us, for puns are usually tabooed. Penny's rendition of "The Old Mill Stream" didn't get half the applause it deserved. Monk Ferris shone out just a little above the rest. His job was to be the goat, and a prime goat he was. At every turn Monk put his best foot forward, with a bum joke or a crazy song. The climax of the skit is Monk's immersion in the tub—the accepted dose for over enthusiastic spirits.

Taken all in all the skit was as clever a bit of amateur production Reno has witnessed for many moons. F. P. Dann, he who has seen so many varsity productions to a successful end—directed the rehearsals. Also—since the affair was a success—we were able to learn that the manuscript was the latest from the pen of Professor Haseman, some men of the club collaborating. "But by all means," warned Professor Haseman, (Continued on page four.)

ARTEMESIA BOARD EXPECTS ANNUAL FINISHED IN APRIL

The five-dollar prize offered by the Artemesia staff for the best story or poem submitted to them has been awarded to Bertie Axt. Although some other very good work was turned in, especially poetry, the Artemesia board considered Axt's work much the best. It consists of a series of four-line verse about different students on the hill and is very cleverly written.

The Artemesia is now so well under way that at last, after five years of failure, the university is once more to have an annual. Although finances are not in such a shape to absolutely guarantee the payment of all bills as yet, still the staff is counting that the students will take enough books in addition to those already signed up for to make up the deficiency. However, if the subscriptions are not forthcoming it will only be possible for them to print the limited amount of books that their finance will allow and those students who have not signed up beforehand and who desire to have books will possible not be able to get them because of the shortage in number.

The binding of the Artemesia is to be a soft, limp, undressed leather cover of blue. The book will be of about 230 pages and of such size and shape and general appearance that it will be an ornament to the library table of any one. The contents are such that in future years one can by simply looking through the book bring back vividly to mind the college happenings of this last year. In fact the book is the one thing that has been needed for years to bind the students and alumni more closely to the university.

The following is a partial list of the contents of the 1913 Artemesia: A full list of the faculty, an individual picture and the individual record of each student in the senior and junior classes, the history of each class telling of the trials, triumphs and class happenings since its entrance into college, a boosting article on the advancement and opportunities of our state, articles describing in full the equipment and advantages of each department of the university, pictures and lists of the members of each fraternity sorority, club and organization of the students on the hill, an engaging description of all the society doings of the year, a most complete athletic department with descriptions of each sport and its advantages and the picture and complete record of each athletic team and each game engaged in by each team during the last year, a joke department that is some joke department with cartoons, knocks and the funny sayings and doings of the students. Besides these mentioned there are many other items of interest to all students, alumni and faculty as well as to people who are not directly connected to the university. Numbers of pictures of the campus and scenes enacted around the campus fill out the book.

All the material is now in the printer's hands and the books are expected to be out for circulation very near the first of April. Taken altogether it is going to be some annual and one that the university can well be proud of. A school can have no better advertisement than a good annual, so help to advertise the book by assisting in giving the Artemesia as large a circulation as possible and get your subscription in early enough to make sure that you will get a copy.

Successful In First Season

Nevada Closes Series With Decisive Defeat of Rival

(By Hit-Me-Quick.)

The hearts of all Nevada students are glad. Why? No need to ask, for after much conjecturing and worry the varsity quintet of basketball tossers decisively defeated Santa Clara's aggregation to the melody of 37-18. The boys from the mission college played a hard, consistent, clean game, but after the first five minutes of play the outcome was never in doubt. Nevada's men were some there. Right from the start they tore the varnish off the floor, and Santa Clara couldn't distinguish them from smoke.

The game was fast from start to finish. The varsity set a rapid pace and kept it up. Too fast for the Missionites? Well, I guess. Condition is the one word that explains it. The men had trained hard and it stood them in good stead. At different periods of the play Santa Clara seemed to lose spirit. They were apathetic in a sense, but we can't blame them much. We are not saying they didn't play basketball; for they did, and our boys have nothing but praise for them for the clean brand of sport they supplied.

To analyze the game now would be wearisome. The only way to appreciate what our boys did was to have seen the game. If you did, you are numbered among the chosen. If you didn't well, pay your athletic fee. Team work like we never saw practiced before here this season, was pulled off as fast as lightning, and as neat as clock-work.

Too much can not be said of the way our fellows proved themselves victors. Sheehy was back in the game with a bum thumb, handicapped but winner in his department by a few dozen points. Grit! A few more like the "Big Chief" and Nevada would never need worry about winning in any contest. Need played a fast and snappy game while on the floor and only through a mistake was he removed. He shot several goals in the time he played. Hungry Henning moved so fast he scorched the soles of his feet. Santa Clara had to supply two centers for Hungry. Some say Hungry was lucky, but the consensus of opinion seems to be that he knows the game, and, best of all, how (Continued on page eight.)

THE PHI KAPPA PHI CHOSSES MEMBERS

At a meeting of the Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, at noontime last Friday, the following members were elected to membership in Nevada's honorary fraternity: Eunice A. Cagwin, E. E. Williams, Mildred Donahue, Helen Higgins, Florence White.

The Phi Kappa Phi fraternity installed its Nevada chapter during the term ending May, 1912. A large number of the faculty of the university are members and to these, five members of the graduating class of 1912, were last year added to the list. The members of the 1912 class who were taken into the order are: Dan Bruce, Don Cameron, August Holmes, Helen

R. Hobbins and Ethel Thompson.

There are about eight chapters of Phi Kappa Phi in the United States. Most of them are in the New England and eastern colleges and there is one in Iowa. The Nevada charter is the only one in the extreme west. The pin, or watch fob, consists of a gold eight-ray sun and across the face of this sun is a bad bearing the Greek letters, Phi Kappa Phi. Each chapter is limited in its taking in of new members to a proportionate number of the total enrollment of the graduating class. Eligibility to the order is based upon excellent scholarship and high moral character. The following members are the officers of the Nevada chapter: President, H. W. Hill; Vice President, J. G. Scrugham; Secretary, L. W. Hartman; Treasurer, Charles Haseman.

FIRST FARMERS' SHORT COURSE COMPLETED

Nevada's first Farmers' Short Course came to a close last Friday. The ten days of classes and lectures from February 18th to 28th were busy ones for the Aggies as in that period there were nearly forty classes, lectures and demonstrations presented.

Last week the Sagebrush summarized and made a few comments upon the first week of the course; its summary of the whole course therefore will be brief.

In dealing with all the lectures given during the whole ten it is possible to classify them into three days' divisions. (1) Those of primary interest farmers; (2) those of greatest value to the dairy and stock raising branch of the agricultural industry, and, (3) those of interest to the public at large.

As typical of the first group are the lectures, on the production, grading and testing of seed on cereal crops, hay crops, and on co-operative experiments by Professor E. A. Howes may be selected. The lecture last named is an important one, from another point of view than simply as a lecture of the course. In this talk Professor Howes outlined his plan of an experimental union which is to co-operate with the university in a work that will have for its object the uniformity of types of crops grown throughout the state, the increased production per acre, the raising of the standard of the articles grown, the conservation of the soil, a more extensive use of dry farming principles and a more intelligent employment of water for irrigation purposes. Other lectures which may be classified under this first head and which constituted valuable features of the course were: "The Relation of Birds and Small Animals to Agriculture," Prof. Peter Frandsen; "Horticulture in Nevada," Dr. P. B. Kennedy; "Insect Pests," Prof. S. B. Doten; "Alkali Soils, etc.," L. T. Sharp; "Problems in Irrigation," F. L. Peterson.

In the lectures of second division, those that were of greatest interest to the dairy and stock raising branch of the industry, are the talks of Prof. G. H. True, V. E. Scott, P. B. Kennedy, E. A. Howes, Dr. W. B. Mack and John Gosling. Dr. W. B. Mack's lecture on tuberculosis of farm animals and the economic importance of the disease was a feature of the ten days' work. Many of the farmers of the vicinity, who could not find the time to stay for the whole period, made special trips to hear this lecture and to witness the autopsy which Dr. Mack performed upon a couple of infected animals and which was mentioned in last week's issue of the Sagebrush. Another important number was the judging of butcher's classes by John Josling of Kansas City. In this lecture Mr. Gosling judged within a fraction of 1 per cent, while the animal was on foot the weight which the carcass afterward dressed.

In the third division are those lectures which attracted to the course people in other walks of life. In this division is found Prof. G. H. True's opening address, entitled "Agriculture in Nevada." "Pure Food Control" by Prof. S. C. Dinsmore, "Rural Economics" by Prof. Ramonzo Adams, "Demonstration in Forestry" by Dr. A. A. Heller, and the carcass demonstration by John Gosling, all fall in this third group. The carcass demonstration was particularly well attended. This feature was held in the gym on Friday afternoon and it is especially noteworthy because of the large number of ladies in attendance. After the general carcass demonstration had been completed, Mr. Gosling gave, for the benefit of these ladies, a short talk in which he disclosed a few points on what the housewife should know of meats and cuts of meats.

Scarcely of less general interest to the public was Miss Bardenwerper's lecture on Domestic science and its relation to the high cost of living. The address was carefully prepared and well delivered; it was well received by the good-sized audience of farmers, students and Reno people who gathered to hear it.

That the course has attracted widespread interest is evidenced by the avidity with which agricultural people all over the state have kept in touch with the proceedings of each day through the Reno papers. Already Professor True is beginning to receive letters from the farmers asking questions and information—the course has set them to thinking. A number of requests have also been received, that the lectures of the course be published in pamphlet form for the benefit of those who were not able to attend.

Freshman Glee Preparations

Judging by the extensive plans of the various committees on the Freshman Glee, this event will be the one big affair of the season. When the representative of the Sagebrush interviewed the various committee chairmen he received the impression that when the decorations, refreshments and excellent music are combined, an effect of oriental splendor will be presented. Bill Rose has a new and original scheme for decorating the gym. The place will be turned into a mass of flowers and color. The Freshman colors, purple and gold, will predominate.

Gladys Hopper, who has charge of the refreshments, says that the punch will be mixed according to Hoyle. This statement assures us that it will be in a class by itself. Alton Gloss informed The Sagebrush representative that the music will be the right kind.

Remember the date, March 28.

GEORGE BEARD OPERATED UPON

News that George Bard had suddenly taken sick with appendicitis was received with surprise on the campus Saturday morning. He was operated on Saturday afternoon at the Sisters Hospital and since then he has been resting nicely. George is a popular member of the Freshman class and belongs to the Phi Delta Tau fraternity. He is from Modesto, Cal.

College Y. M. Organizations

(By Leonard Gilcrease.)

The college Y. M. C. A. was paid a visit recently by Mr. E. M. Cherrington, the student Y. M. C. A. secretary of the University of California. He gave us a new lease on life and his many suggestions will certainly prove treasures for our small organization.

The most important idea was to maintain an advisory board composed of five faculty members and two students (president and secretary). This will give permanency to the organization.

A very interesting study of the rural problem with its civic, moral and social complexities will be taken up by Professor Howes of the Agricultural Department. The course will be based mainly on Fiskes' new book, "The Challenge of the Country," and will consist in short talks by the instructor and general discussion. It has been acknowledged and endorsed by agricultural professors as the most essential study in the agricultural course. At the University of California, where this has been recently taken up, it is proving extremely popular. The Aggie students are sure to learn the details of this course as Professors True and Howes are both very enthusiastic about it. It will prove interesting and instructive not only to the Aggie students, for whom it was primarily outlined, but to all who will ever have to deal with rural peoples.

The meetings committee, composed of three students, will arrange for speakers. These will be business and professional men in whom all will be interested. Watch for these announcements. They will not come regularly as speakers well worth hearing must be gotten at their convenience.

The fellows, especially of the Lincoln Hall, should avail themselves of the opportunity afforded them from 9:30 to 10:30 every Sunday morning of learning more of the history given us by the Bible. This is not an invitational affair, but is open to all college men. Neither are they prayer meetings, but lectures with possible physical interpretations of mysterious happenings. If for no other than a selfish or economic motive we should attend for without exertion one gets more in the parlor in that hour than in a whole day's study.

Mr. Cherrington said that he enjoyed his stay here very much, but surely those who became acquainted with him consider themselves most fortunate. We hope that we may see him up here again some time. Mr. Hagerman of Stanford will be up later in the college year and all will surely enjoy him, too.

The college Y. M. C. A. is trying to do things, but success will be small until there is better support and co-operation. All get behind the "Hill Y. M." and help it along.

CAL. ABANDONS POSTAGE STAMPS

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 21.—At a recent senior singing, the weekly assembly of the upper classmen, a new freshman hat was adopted to replace the old "postage stamp" which has been forced on the unwilling freshmen in past years. The seniors themselves have known the discomforts of these ridiculous articles, and after a more or less heated discussion on the part of the standpatters they agreed that the male members, class of 1916, should wear a soft blue crusher hat with a vivid gold band on it. This band can be replaced by a blue one for wear off the campus. Senior members of fraternities and clubs agreed to force their unhappy freshmen to get the new hats or get a good hearty "tubbing." Consequently, the hats have already blossomed out in considerable numbers.

The University Y. M. C. A. has recently inaugurated a series of fire-side lectures on the general theme of "The Claims of Modern Christianity Upon the University Man." These lectures are meant to enter the field filled in other universities by the university chapel, and are patterned after the plan of the Y. M. C. A. lectures at Wisconsin, where the regents appropriate $1,000 a year for carrying on that work.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler was the first speaker of this term and spoke to the largest audience that has ever gathered at the University Y. M. C. A. here. His topic was "The College Man's Religion."—N. Y. Times.

Will Kearney, state engineer and graduate of Nevada, and Mrs. Kearney were present at the Military Ball.

Some Lenten Y. W. Specials

It is in keeping with the present Lenten season that the Y. W. C. A. will hold some special meetings during the first week in March. These services will not number more than four and will be led by one or more of the outside friends of the association. For two days and possibly three the hour will be 7 to 8 p. m., while the Wednesday service will occur at the usual meeting time. The thought is that the university girls will be glad to hear some practical inspiring talks and some special music which is suggestive of the quiet and meaning of the pre-Easter season. Future details as to time, place, leaders and music will be announced by posters and other means during the week. To each university girl is extended an invitation to participate in these few Lenten services.

Reno High School Notes

ELKO GAME

On Thursday morning the Elko team arrived on No. 5 with their coach. They were taken to the Y. M. C. A., which was their headquarters during the time of their stay in Reno.

In the afternoon a monstrous rally was held at the High school and many spirited yells and speeches were heard.

At 8 o'clock sharp the whistle of the referee sounded and the game was on. The Reno team played good team work, but as in other games they lacked the quality of good basket throwing Chism and Cussick at guards in the first half, formed an impassible barrier to the Elko forwards. McFarland, the captain of the Elko team, played fine ball, and was greatly helped by the rest of his team. The first half ended with a 17-6 score in the Reno team's favor, and the final score was 21-39 with Reno still in the lead.

The rooting of the supporters of the team was fine, the best ever heard in the last two years, and Melarky and his followers surely deserve a great deal of praise for the good work. "Get them all out Friday night, Bill!"

After the game there was a dance and everyone had, as usual, a fine time.

The game was a great success in all ways and the management wishes to thank all for their hearty support.

DOUBLE HEADER

On Friday eve., March 7th, the girls and boys will meet the Gardnerville girls and boys teams. Both games will surely be worth the price of admission. Not only will there be the games, but also a dance. Don't fail to see these games. The boys' game will decide who gets the championship of the state. Gardnerville won from the Reno team at Gardnerville, so the Reno team will surely fight here.

PROF. HASEMAN USES UNIQUE METHOD OF ADVERTISING

Last Friday afternoon Professor Haseman rode through the streets of Reno in a dray. He was seated in a comfortable Morris chair playing a mandolin. It was first thought that the musical professor had gone crazy, but it was afterward learned that he was moving the chair to the theater for use in the evening and had utilized an opportune moment to do a little advertising for the concert.

BOOKS AUDITED.

F. M. Lee, representing Allen-Knight Certified Public Accountant, has just finished auditing the books of the university. The regents have completed arrangements for having audits made semi-annually. The movement is in line with that of all the up-to-date colleges all over the country. Nevada is one of the first state universities to adopt the plan.

THAT TRIP TO CARSON

There are a list of names on the bulletin board in Morrill Hall, and it's growing every day. That list of names contains those who have signed up for the Carson trip, and that Carson trip is going to be the best fun that the student body has had a chances at for a long, long time.

A week from next Friday morning we'll leave Reno on a special train. An hour later about 150 students will capture that city of Carson. Down through the town we'll go, band playing, colors flying, girls laughing. We'll visit the legislature and, say, we are liable to hear the solons at their best on Friday, the 14th of March. After that we can visit the prison, the Orphans' Home, the Indian school—there will be enough to do.

Has it been mentioned that the Glee Club is going along? It is. The Glee Club is going to give a concert in the opera house and after the concert there is going to be a dance and, according to plans, the U. of N. cadet band is going to play for the dance. Do you get me, Stephen?

The dance will conclude U. of N. day at Carson. We'll board our special train and we'll speed back to Reno, and in that pretty little capital city we'll leave behind the impression that the University of Nevada has the jolliest, liveliest and most sensible bunch of girls and fellows of any college they know of. And—they will be right—'cause we are!

JUST A THOUGHT

From a number of student expense reports and statistics from other universities throughout the United States and especially from the state universities supported wholly or in part by the state, the following facts, which should impress themselves firmly in the minds of the Nevada student, were found.

Nevada students are obtaining an education for about half, and in many cases far less than half of the expense of a similar education, in any college in the country.

In the leading state universities in nearly every instance, a student resident of the state may receive about half of his courses free of tuition. If he is a non-resident of the state none of his courses are free of tuition. At Nevada no student is charged tuition. Every opportunity is given each and every student to make the best use of the many courses offered and every one is given absolutely free of charge. No, Mr. Student, do you not think that you owe this university something? Every man or woman is always proud to speak of his or her Alma Mater in after life. Do you think you would feel just in speaking of Nevada as your Alma Mater, if you had never done one thing or given anything for the honor which is bestowed upon its when you graduate from this university. Or do you think that Nevada would be unjust if it canceled your name from its list if you had not done or given one thing towards its support?

We have a self supporting though small student body here, and every dollar placed in the treasury means games, means track meets, means publicity for our university, and it is in this way that we are able to live.

Four dollars for an athletic ticket and a membership card of the student body, which is, indeed, a badge of honor to any person, is not an exorbitant charge, and this is all that is asked of you in support of your university and in payment for your education.

Don't be a parasite and a blot on Nevada's fair name, but be a true Nevada student, one that she will not scorn, but will look upon with pride. Buy an athletic card.

Friday Eve's Entertainment

"give Dann his full share of credit, for much is due him."

Number 1 of part 2, deserves more than passing notice. We all enjoy a piano solo thoroughly. This, however, is the first solo that really made us earnestly enthusiastic. We notice that Mr. Corris composed the selection himself. It may be that, because it represents himself throughout, we can understand, and more than enjoy it. The Glee Club was fortunate in being able to persuade such an able musician to help.

Ray Penny's appearance, too, was a signal for extended applause. Ray has never failed to please. His "Arrow and the Song" was more than pleasing—it was distinctly a triumph. That the Glee Club is an important factor in the musical circles of Reno is demonstrated by the fact that Reno's best musicians are attracted to it.

The three appearance of the Glee Club were acceptable to the letter, or to the note, should we say. It would be hard to explain how, or why, we were pleased—we just felt glad all over. And the marvel of it all was the encores. Where could so many be found, and how could one learn them all. They ranged from sublime to ridiculous, and then back again to pathetic. One minute we were sad-eyed, the next hysterical. By far the cleverest was that entitled, "She Weeps," also by the author of part one.

"Just for Fun" sounds too casual for the stunt by Messrs. Wheeler and Walker. Their business was a real earnest one, and, if laughs count, they win in a walk. It's unthinkable that two of our men can draw a laugh with a few local jokes and a crazy song.

The Glee Club Quartet was good, real good. One might, however, gather the impression that the men had not sung much together. As a first appearance they are to be lauded to the skies. What is a university without a good live glee club, and what is a glee club without a quartet. Nevada has all!

Great Lecture Of Irish Lore

Seumas MacManus spoke in the gym for an hour yesterday morning to an audience composed of students, faculty and friends of the university, and a large representation from Reno high school. It was the first general assembly this year and it was enjoyed. From the minute the great lecturer from the hills of Donegal began to speak until he brought his lecture to a close, his audience sat spell bound.

The subject of the talk was, "Irish Fireside Story Telling." The discourse was introduced by a brief history of the art of story telling, which Mr. MacManus claims is the art of all arts. Story telling in Ireland is 2,000 years old. Old traditions have been handed down by the professional story tellers, whose welcome to the fireside of Irish country folk has always been assured. In Ireland the reading of books is subordinated to the charm of the narrato; in the court the king has always been first, the poet second, and the story teller third. Every glen and hillside has at least one story teller whose business it is to make the fireside gatherings of the people joyous with the lore and traditions of their country.

From the history of the art the lecture led into the different types of stories that are heard by the Irish fireside. Mr. MacManus illustrated with charming examples the hero tale, the humorous tale, and bird and animal lore of his native isle. It was with regret that at the end of the hour, the audience heard Seumas MacManus conclude his lecture. It seemed as if every member of that crowd, as he left the gym, realized with an effort that he was in Reno—every listener had spent that time with Seumas MacManus by the fireside of his native Donegal.

Alyn Carvel, of Elko, visited during the week end at the Sigma Alpha House.

Brad and Agnes Are Married

Not for some time has there been a wedding of University people which savors so much of the romantic as that of Donald B. Bradner and Agnes Mead. Friends of the popular couple on the hill have had the hunch for some time that there was going to be a wedding, but they expected it to happen in June. The wedding on the first of March took every one by surprise.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. C. Mead, 330 Maple Street, at nine o'clock on Saturday evening. Rev. Brewster Adams of the Baptist Church officiated. The house was only partially lighted, curtains were kept drawn and only the immediate family of the bride were present. The affair was, indeed, a secret and it remained a secret until some friends of "Brad" heard of it Sunday evening and then the news spread rapidly.

Up to about a week ago Miss Agnes Mead was a teacher in the McKinley Park school. She resigned. Brad quit school a few weeks ago, went to Rochester and is now in on the ground floor of the new camp of Velvet. (Some say he is "in velvet.") The peculiar part of the whole affair is that nobody seems to know where Mr. and Mrs. Bradner are honeymooning. Friends of the happy couple, through the Sagebrush extend congratulations and their very best wishes.

Our Position

Owing to an article which appeared in one of the local papers relative to the University of Nevada's position in regard to the Stanford-California athletic disagreement, the Sagebrush publishes the following interview of President W. H. Settlemyer, which expresses the position of the Nevada Athletic Association.

"The article which appeared in one of the local newspapers and which purposed to express the sentiment of the students in regard to the abrogation by Stanford of the Stanford-California athletic disagreement is entirely without foundation. As Nevada can in no way benefit one way or the other by the result of the dispute, the result is immaterial to her. Our position is one of impartiality."

THE COUNTRY DEALER

For several years we have had dinned into our ears doleful tales of woe of what was to happen to the country dealer when the parcel-post juggernaut arrived. An analysis of this sentiment, which was and is yet honestly entertained by thousands of small country merchants, is interesting. The suspicion is not wholly wanting that the express companies had very early knowledge of this impending doom; a large number of the trade papers, of which there are hundreds, with a surprising unanimity became obsessed with the idea that a parcel post meant the end of the country dealer, with the easy conclusion, "No country dealer, little need for the trade paper." Hence, for years the trade paper has carried its weekly message of death to parcel post, and little wonder that the dealer became infected.

The main line story was that parcel post was the dream of that arch enemy of the country merchant, the mail-order house. This statement became an accepted fact, not even worthy of discussion. Now, the parcel system will doubtless be of some advantage to the big mail-order houses, but nothing like what we have been told. The articles which they sell, practical to send by mail, are not so many after all. What the mail-order houses make their money on are not sales under one dollar, but over ten. It costs them practically as much to put a dollar order through the house as it does one of twenty-five dollars. And if their entire business were in single shipments of dollar articles, they wouldn't make much money. The low-priced articles of common use, of which there are hundreds, are sold nearly as cheaply as the corner store. For instance, a man wants a five-gallon can which his home dealer sells for $1.20. The mail-order house sells the same identical can for 95 cents. But by the time the customer buys a money order and pays for parcel postage it has cost him $1.15. If the buyer is ordering a bill of goods, that's another matter, but the shipment then goes by freight, not parcel post.

Another angle which does not seem to be taken into account, but which very soon will be, is the advantage of the parcel system to the small country dealer. A customer comes in to order, say, an unusual size of screw-driver. Dealer is out; in fact, the last call for one was a year ago, therefore he cannot afford to stock up. He explains to the customer and says he can have one in two days. Very good. He spends one cent on a postal card ordering from his jobber in the city, who mails it 300 miles for 7 cents. It has cost the merchant 12 cents for the tool and 8 cents postage, total 20 cents, and it retails for 30 cents, with a net profit of 10 cents or 50 per cent. Under the old regime the express charges would have absorbed all the profit, or more.

A new business, or rather the development and expansion of an old one, which will come with parcel post, is the manufacture and sale of cartons, or pasteboard containers for mailing all sorts of things.

In Great Britain the parcel post is every profitable to the government, a large volume of business being done in local city delivery. Many of the smaller shops use it exclusively for delivery, as, for instance, a box of cigars bought at 1 p. m. on the Strand will be delivered at 4 to 5 p. m. eight miles distant for about 3 cents of our money. We have nothing to compare with this at present, but in due time doubtless will. In the larger cities the parcels are not delivered by the letter carrier, but by men with pushcarts.—H. H. Windsor in the March Popular Mechanic Magazine.

Nevada Wins Two Victories

COLLEGE WINS TWO VICTORIES
FROM SAME AGGREGATION—
COMMENTS BY SPECTATORS.

(By H. & H.)
BASEBALL.

The first game of baseball was played on Mackay Athletic Field Saturday afternoon between the S. P. Owls of San Francisco and the U. of N. The game was slated for an indoor contest, but the good weather permitted a real live game of ball instead of an imitation.

This is the first contest of the season and gives us an opportunity of getting a line on material for the coming year. Much hope was expressed by Nevada enthusiasts on the showing made by the new material.

The places of Henderson, Delahide and Percival are being hotly contested for by some promising aspirants including High, Rowlands, Bowen, Bacon, Fancher, Scheeline and Bowler. These fellows have worked consistently so far and should be commended for their efforts, although several show lack of stick work. With more practice we feel assured that this difficulty can be overcome. The old 'vets' that played showed their old-time form.

Ferris pitched a consistent game, striking out the first eight out of nine men. Hamilton, Bowen and Fancher fielded well. Senator Boggs was there with his old-time "pipp" and made the sensational catch of the day. Schteline and Abbot covered their bases in good form, besides hitting well. Bringham at the receiving end was there with the goods. Captain Grayson, at short, played in big league style. There is certainly a fine ssuol of recruits trying out and we will have a championship team if the fellows will get in and work with Captain Grayson and Coach Holway.

The line-up:
Nevada—Scheeline 2b., Grayson, ss., Boggs 1b., Fancher rf., Abbott 3b., Bowen cf., Hamilton lf., Bringham c., Ferris p., Bowler rf., High c., Rowlands p.

S. P. Owls—Markowitz 3b, Howkins rf., Syron 2b., Smith p., Gallagher c., Mahan lf., Parker ss., Gordon c., Anderson 1b.

BASKETBALL.

The S. P. Owl basketball tossers of San Francisco were defeated by the university quintet to the tune of 39 to 28. The game was marred by continuous crabbing on the part of both teams, which made it very tedious for the spectators. The tactics employed by members of both teams during the game did much to spoil what would otherwise have been a clean sportsmanlike game.

Nevada should stand for the best there is in athletics and, win or lost, should always endeavor to encourage clean play.

The following men played for Nevada:—Henningsen, Sheehy, Neeld, Pennell, Smyth, Settlemyer, Charles.

CORNELL BACK AT WORK

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 21.—With the passing of the short respite between semesters furnished by the festivities of junior week the Cornell students have again settled back into the routine of scholastic duties—that is, all except the few unfortunates for whom the mid-year examinations proved a stumbling block and who have received the usual short notice from the registrar giving them five days in which to pack up their earthly belongings and leave town.

The junior week gayeties this year were the most elaborate ever seen in Ithaca. Thirty-seven fraternities entertained house parties, and many men not affiliated were visited by fair guests and their chaperons. The sophomore cotillion, the glee club concert, and the Masque play "H. M. S. Pinafore," and the grand finale dance, the junior promenade, were pronounced by all to be ethe most enjoyable events ever arranged in Ithaca.

Undergraduates of the College of Agriculture are not the only ones who have not as yet settled back into the regular round of lectures, recitations and laboratory periods. The grounds of the State College and, in fact, the entire city, have ben thronged this week by farmers fro mall parts of the country, who have assembled to hear the latest word on scientific farming that is furnished by the programme of lectures, exhibitions, and demonstrations which ocnstitute the annual "Farmers' Week."—N. Y. Tribune.

One Rail Car On Exhibition

Model Machine Arrives From Chicago and Will Be Used in Thesis Work.

Friday afternoon the model of the Brennan mono-rail car, which arrived during the week from the Central Scientific Co. of Chicago, was put into operation in the electrical laboratory. A number of visitors were present to witness this demonstration of the gyrostatic principle.

The ore is a small model and runs by gravity on a galvanized iron cable. Two gyrostats, or flywheels, are used, mounted side by side, and spin in opposite directions. The two gyrostats are mounted in separate frames, and each of these frames is provided with bearings at the top and bottom so that it may rotate slightly about a vertical axis. The frames, however, are geared together in such a way that the yare compelled to rotate in opposite senses. The whole system of gyrostats and supporting frames is carried upon a horizontal axis running lengthwise of the car, i. e., parallel to the track. The center of gravity of the system lies in this supporting axis, so that the system is in nepral equilibrium with regard to gravity. The result of the whole system is to keep the center of gravity of the whole car oscillating very slightly about a point directly over the rail.

In the model, the gyrostats are speeded up to about 2,500 revolutions per minute, by means of a geared crank. The energy thus stored is sufficient to balance the car for ten or fifteen minutes. If the car is placed on a short section of track, the latter may be jerked sidewise, or suddenly rotated like a turn table, without upsetting the car or throwing it off he track. If a load be added to one side of the car, that side will rise so as to maintain the center of gravity over the track. A load of five or ten pounds can be added safely and the car with this load will be tilted to a large angle and operate as without a load. On a curved track the car operates gracefully.

The model is to be used in his thesis work by Ward Lusk, who graduates from the mechanical engineering department in May.

PUMPING BY ELECTRICITY.

Prof. J. G. Scrugham accompanied a party consisting of three auto loads of interested legislators, on a trip up the Truckee river on Saturday morning. The object of the trip was to look at some electric pumps which have recently been installed for irrigation purposes.

On the preceding Saturday Professor Scrugham accompanied a number of the solons from Carson to Minden, where tht Dangberg Land & Live Stock Company have just completed the installation of some electric irrigation pumps.

Walter Harris, '11, who during his senior year in college was captain of Company A of the battalion, came down from Virginia City Friday for Legislative Day and the Military Ball.

A Letter

February 26, 1913.

Dear Editor: I notice in this week's issue of The Sagebrush that three columns are devoted to articles which are reprinted from the New York Times. The substance matter in them is undoubtedly of interest to the students, but don't you hink that you could use that space o better advantage? Why not establish a literary section, and as an encouragement, offer at various times prizes for essays and compositions. I verily believe that if you will offer a good inducement the varsity literary talent will lcome forth with some excellent material, and that the paper will become a "howling" success.

I offer, as a starter, Milton's complete poetical works in one volume, to any student of the university, excepting members of the editorial staff of The Sagebrush, who will write the best essay on the following topic: "How may our student body be governed more efficiently."

The time limit and judges is left to your discretion.

Trusting that this will be a means of arousing more literary interest in the paper, I beg to remain, sincerely yours.

Papers of State Are Enthusiastic Over More Students for This University.

During the past week the state papers that have been received by this paper it has been noticed that they are in almost every case taking a keen interest in the lately advanced theory that the university needs additional students from this state.

This work is further carried on by the students themselves, several of the more active members have written letters to their individual localities and the new prospects are already being heard from.

The Nevada Academic League is now undertaking to establish relations between the high schools and the university by the organization of a Schoolmasters Club that will hold its first meeting early in May of this year.

There may be found in this paper a blank to be sent in to the publicity department of the university concerning certain facts relative to the university functions and the college life, possibilities, etc., of the Nevada varsity.

All this information and a great deal more of a reliable nature is now to be had just for the asking.

Archie Trabert is spending several days in Reno, having returned from Ludwig, where he has been employed. Archie incidentally took in Legislative Day and the Military Ball.

MARSHALL FIELD CO.
Chicago, Feb. 25, 1913.
Mlle. Marie Bonfils,
Reno, Nevada.
Dear Madam: We are pleased to announce an exhibit for Dressmakers only, from March 17 to 21 inclusive, in which we will show the VERY NEWEST model Gowns, Waists, Coats, Fabrics, and Trimming Accessories.

We emphasize VERY NEWEST because March 17 is the earliest possible date for the display of Paris models in Chicago. The first Paris showing took place February 15, and our buyers, who were in attendance, immediately shipped models by the fastest transportation. These together with our own extensive models will have their first showing, as will also many beautiful and exclusive patterns in silk, wool and cotton fabrics.

It is a happy circumstance that the dates of our exhibit conform to those arranged by the Chicago Dressmakers' club for its semi-annual convention.

Yours very truly,
Marshall Field & Company,

to bring in the tallies, Captain Charles was there all the time. Besides playing the floor he guarded his man to a standstill. He gave his team proper support all the time. Smythe, Bill Smythe! Did you notice him? An unexcelled guard of a calibre that's hard to beat. There, there, all the time he was right. In the right place, in the best place. He was a stickler, just like glue-foot' from the factory. Pencil, slim and slender and as slippery as the Will o' the Wisp. No luck to him, but I guess he helped just like father does, every once in a few minutes.

Santa Clara was beaten, not by luck but by a team that went in to win and held to it until the whistle blew. Spirit that was strong and healthful—the spirit that made the rooters' hearts glad. Nevada is proud of her team beyond the shadow of a whispering doubt. Credit is due Coach Holway for his insistent and good coaching. His help was felt on every hand.

The team worked with him and to us their efforts were visualized. Underneath that feeling of help-one-another was growing. Nevada students on the outside can't help feeling it also, for,

Nevada's men are faithful,
Nevada's hearts are true,
Nevada's friends are loyal friends,
Nevada's all true blue.

We have breathed the vigorous incense of victory. It is strengthening and invigorating. Expand your lungs, for before long Nevada students shall have another chance to drink deep and full of the exhilaration of well-earned victory.

AT Y. W. C. A. THIS WEEK

This Wednesday at 4:30 there will be the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. All but, besides, Prof. Thompson will speak and the Glee Club will sing. Take our advice and all come.

Prof. Henry Thurtell, formerly head of the Department of Mathematics of this university, writes that he will visit the college sometime in March or April. Mr. Thurtell is now a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C.

The Civil Engineering students are planning a trip to Lahonta on next Saturday to view the big construction work being done there. The trip will be in charge of Professor Boardman and the following students will form the party: Settemeyer, Layman, Cowgill, Anderson.

Miss Gwynne Davis, of Carson City, came down to the Military Ball Friday evening.

BREAKS BOWLING RECORD

TOLEDO, O., March 3.—Another American Bowling congress record was broken tonight when Eddie Hermann of the Lincoln's five-man team from Cleveland, O., totalled 1972 pins, which makes a new mark for all events. The former record was held by Thomas Haley of Detroit, who made 1961 in that city in 1910. Hermann's work was sensational throughout. It began on Sunday night when he totalled 723 pins in his squad event. In the two-man work this morning he rolled 634. In the individual event he rolled 615 pins.

Nevada Pack Shows Courtesy

Local Packing Firm Donates Services and Assists in Short Course

Friday afternoon saw the last of the 1913 short course at the University of Nevada when John Gosling of Kansas City fame demonstrated to nearly 300 people the advantages of the fat product of the feed coral and showed wherein the fat meat could be cut to a profit by the average wife.

The apparatus and services of the cutter, Mr. Madison, were the creditable gift of the Nevada Packing Company. Mr. Overstreet, the local manager, has very graciously assisted in the short course to a great extent by giving the services of his forces at the local packing house in the tuberculosis autopsy and in the careful killing of the four animals that were used in the demonstration Friday last.

Inspected No. 278 was to be seen on all the carcasses that were used in the work Friday, and the entire apparatus that was used by the agricultural college in demonstrating this important side to the large audience.

FIRST TRACK TRIALS ON SATURDAY, MARCH 16

All men who intend trying for places on the track team are requested to begin training by Wednesday, March 5. The first trials for the track and field events will take place on the afternoon of Saturday, March 16. The outlook for a team to compare with last year's is very discouraging. Nevada has the men, but thus far there has been a general lack of interest in the team. Not one-half the men who signed up have, thus far, reported for training. With the basketball season over and the promise of good weather, it is hoped that no excuse will be offered. Santa Clara is coming, fellows, and coming strong, according to information from the sporting pages. It is up to the loyal sons of Nevada to make good. And now is the only time to begin.

R. A. BRINGHAM,
Track Captain.

Don C. Cameron is at present employed as superintendent of the mill and mine of the Maricopa Mining Company at Austin, Nevada. With him are employed Spike Henderson, as assayer, and Dan Brude, as mill man.

Paul C. Schraps, who has just returned from an extended visit in Chicago, is spending several days on the hill before going to the southern part of the state, where he will be employed.

Princeton Grads Extend Greeting

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President-elect Wilson was given a Princeton welcome to the national capital tonight, a welcome that brought reminiscences of his many years as president of Princeton university.

The occasion was a smoker at which graduates from all parts of the country gathered.

For an hour the president-elect was the center of a wild demonstration of cheers and songs. He had not intended to make a speech, but the enthusiasm of it all moved him so deeply that he spoke for a few minutes, expressing his thanks, for the confidence that the Princeton alumni had reposed in him.

"Fellows, I had not expected to say anything," he said, with a noticeable tremor in his voice, "because the only appropriate thing to say I can't say, because there are no words for it. There are some emotions that are very much deeper than a man's vocabulary can reach; and I have a feeling tonight that moves me very much indeed.

"We have often spoken of our comradeship together as Princeton men, and I have spoken so often that I am ashamed to repeat it almost, of the part that Princeton has played in public life and the part that she ought to play in public life and I have spoken so often of that sense of having a great invisible brotherhood that binds a man by uncommon standards of honor and of service.

"Now I stand here on the eve of attempting a great task—a profoundly great one—and know that there are so many men in the United States who know me and who understand me and to whom I do not have to explain anything. Members of the family don't have to be told what is going to happen. And therefore, it is not necessary to make a speech to the family. "I have only to say that my feeling tonight is a family feeling, of being among men trained as I was trained, looking out upon life as I look out upon it and ready to give me that sympathy which bears a man up more than anything else in the world. I thank God that it is so and thank you profoundly for this evidence of it."

Prolonged cheering followed the speech and the singing of "Old Nassau," Princeton historic anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Church of Goldfield were visitors on the hill Thursday. Mr. Church is the mining engineer for the Goldfield Consolidated Mining Company and is the designer of the glass model of that mine which is on display in the museum of the Mackay building.
