Help The Juniors Make Their 1914 Artemisia A Wonderful Book

So. Cal. Student Likes Nevada

Los Angeles Boy Writes Enthusiastically of His First Semester At the Biggest Little University in the World

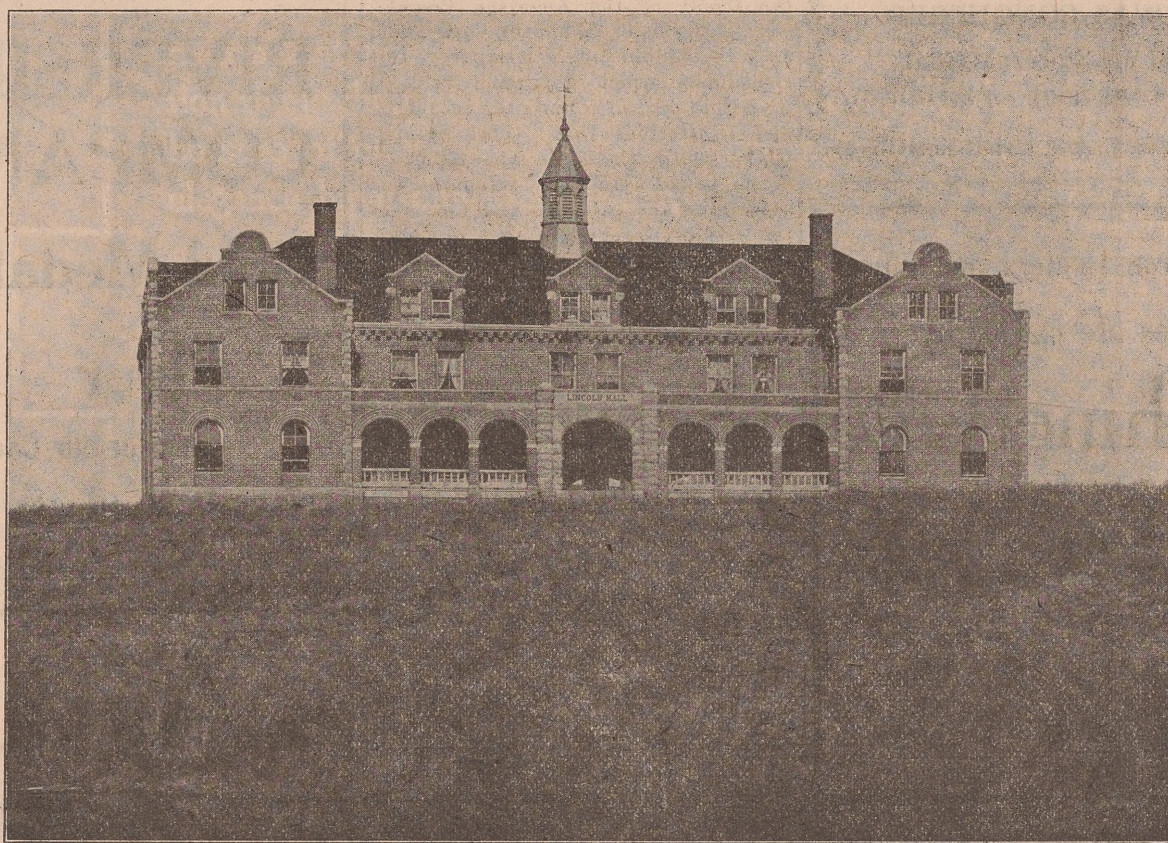

When I came to the University of Nevada I did not expect to find a pretty campus. As I had talked with one or two people who had seen the campus several years ago, I was prepared for a somewhat bleak and barren affair. Imagine my surprise when I came past the entrance gates and saw the long, sweeping lawns and the lake, with the red brick buildings looming up behind the lawns. A southern Californian loves big lawns and the wide stretch of green near the entrance, together with the grassy quad, surrounded by its trees and brick walks, are such as to delight the heart of a person from the southern part of the golden state. The campus of the University of Nevada is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It is one of the things of which Nevada students and Nevadans are justly proud.

From the standpoint of scholarship, especially in engineering, Nevada is as good as any university in the west. In engineering, Nevada ranks especially high. Mechanical, electrical and civil engineering are on a high plane and the Mackay school of mines is known all over the civilized world. The entrance and requirements at Nevada are not overly hard, the classes are small and the professors have time to take a personal interest in one. In contrast to Stanford and California, most Nevada professors seem anxious to give a student every chance to make good. Under this spirit of helpfulness a student can get along better and learn more than he can at either Stanford or U. C.

To the student making his own way Nevada offers unusual advantages. Board and room can be had for $18 a month, an almost unheard of sum under the present high cost of living. Jobs, by which a student may pay his or her board, are remarkably numerous and if one really has to work to stay in college, the work can nearly always be found.

Nevada is certainly a fine place for an athlete. The Mackay field and training quarters beat anything of their kind on the coast. A person enjoys playing rugby on the fine turf field and going into first class dress-

Ray Spencer Is Benedict

Isabelle Schuler and Raymond Spencer Married in Santa Barbara November 20

A great deal of joy and some little surprise was experienced on the campus last Saturday morning when the morning's mail brought from Santa Barbara, Cal., to friends on the Nevada campus the announcements of the marriage of Miss Isabelle Cyril Schuler to Mr. Raymond Spencer in that city on November 20, 1913.

When the present seniors entered college Isabelle and "Spence" were juniors and they graduated with the Mackay pioneer class, Isabelle from the college of arts and science, her major was chemistry, and Spence from the department of mechanical electrical engineering. After their graduation Isabelle took advanced work at Columbia and Spence did some special work to advance himself in his profession at Cornell.

Now they are both in California and will make their home in Santa Barbara. The best wishes and the congratulations of the entire college is with them both—it's another col-

Lincoln Hall Men Entertain

Boys of Lincoln Hall Club Give Reception and Party; Many There

Friday evening the boys of Lincoln hall were hosts at one of the most enjoyable parties given to the L. F. G. of Manzanita hall and the college Y. W. C. A. in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Jameson. For the occasion the rooms and corridors of Lincoln were decked out in their finest array and the sight that met the eyes of the guests is one that the boys of Lincoln hall are striving to make a permanent feature.

Immediately after the guests had arrived and been presented to Mr. and Mrs. Jameson formality was dispensed with and the fair ones scattered, of course under masculine guidance, to view the supposedly rough quarters of the sterner sex. Here indeed was a surprise. Lincoln hall had been entirely renovated during the summer, chiefly through the efforts of Mr. Jameson, and the boys have risen to the occasion and outfitted their rooms in a manner that suggests the home

New Artemisia Being Boosted

Artemisia Staff Appeals to the Student Body for Hearty Support

With all the preliminaries disposed of and now settled down to work in earnest, the Artemisia staff is ready to receive all the suggestions, wise and otherwise, which any student in the U. of N. may offer.

Of course they want the especial aid of the freshmen who have come to the hill with brains chuck full of very rare and precious ideas. Every class must have its representative work in the Artemisia since the Artemisia is not written by a few but represents the spirit of all the men and women in the university. The staff cannot come and ask you all individually to give them a story or a cartoon or a joke. You want to volunteer these things and show that you're a live one.

If any one slaps you on the back one of these days and wants to know where you were born, who your parents were and other delicate questions, don't be offended. It is an Artemisia worker who is getting material for a

Old Football Thanksgiving

Promoters of New Scheme Have Word of Football Enthusiasts That a Big Crowd Will Attend Game Thursday

The "Nevadans" against the "All Stars" is the game of old American football to be played on the Mackay field on Thanksgiving afternoon. It is to be an enthusiastic game, down town fellows who used to play and members of the Reno Y. M. C. A. are wild over the opportunity to once more get in and touch it. Some of the fellows on the hill are just as anxious and so some good sport is anticipated.

Silas E. Ross and Adelbert Pflaging are behind this movement for a game of old American football. Many people of Reno who used to enjoy the old game have expressed a desire to see it played again. The depreciated condition of the A. S. U. N. treasury and this desire of the people to see a game of American football have prompted the two men mentioned to promote the enterprise with the object of pulling the athletic association out of debt. To this end an active ticket selling campaign will be carried on.

The men in charge do not promise to exhibit on this Thanksgiving afternoon all the finer points of old American football, but they do expect to produce a respectable exhibition and one after which the crowd will leave the colliade satisfied. As has been said Mr. Ross and Mr. Pflaging have worked out the possibilities of this Thanksgiving game, and that they have the hearty co-operation of the students is evidenced by a vote taken at a mass meeting of the students on last Friday. The promoters hope to turn over a goodly sum to the athletic association treasury after the game.

Besides the financial question involved the promoters of this old American game have another and more important object in view in giving the people a chance to see this contest. There seems to be an old fashioned notion still in the minds of a goodly number of people who turn out to see the games played each year upon the Mackay field, that the American game is superior from the spectators point of view to rugby. At the same time these people have become more or less educated, of late years, in the English game. Now it is the purpose to show by an actual and fair exhibition of

Doctor Stubbs In California

President Spent Week on the Coast; Volumes of Proof to Be Examined

President J. E. Stubbs arrived Sunday morning from California where he spent nearly a week. While on the coast he visited Dean Hunt of U. C. on business connected with the university, and in San Francisco he visited the Sunset magazine people also on university business. From San Francisco, Dr. Stubbs journeyed to Pacific Grove, to visit Mrs. J. E. Stubbs, who has been very ill there for the past several weeks. Reports are to the effect that Mrs. Stubbs is a little better than she was. Dr. Stubbs took with him pages and pages of proof of the two volumes of the report of the American Commission in Europe. While in Europe last year Dr. Stubbs was a member of this commission which did some valuable investigation of European countries and institutions that this country might profit thereby. The report is to be bound into two volumes, one containing the evidence and the other the results based upon that evidence. While away from the university, where he could not be molested, the president took the time to examine this mass of proof so that it can be returned to the publishers.

Women's Rest Room In Use

Much Needed Convenience for College Women Formally Opened; Gift of Regents Appreciated

The new rest room for girls was opened on last Thursday with a hearty invitation from the president that all campus folk should call and see it. That there has been for a long time a great need in this direction no one has questioned and that the need is now so ably met is a source of great satisfaction to all. The rooms are in the basement of Stewart hall opening from the outside on the southeast corner of the building. A reception hall, splendid lavatory and rest room form the suite. The rest room has had fresh wall finishing and new hangings for the windows, while very substantial furniture in dark brown has been made especially for the room. A long table, seven rockers, three couches, several straight chairs and two handsome rugs for the equipment. A plan for a large mirror and a bookcase will, is carried out, complete the useful as well as attractive condition of the room. During the opening afternoon the gentlemen of the student body and faculty as well as the girls and ladies called to see for the first time what had been done for the girls. A huge bunch of chrysanthemums sent over by Mr. Lynch added much to the festive appearance of the new rooms and all who called voted the project a splendid one.

The constant use of the rooms since their opening as well as the enthusiastic comments of the girls, leaves no room for doubt as to the gratitude with which they have been received by all.

Nevada Book Grad. Directory

Data for Book to Be Published in 1914 Being Gathered by Mrs. Blaney

Data is being gathered constantly for a University of Nevada directory and this book will appear some time during the year 1914. The work is in charge of Mrs. Louise Blaney, secretary of the alumni association. It will contain a catalogue of all the graduates of all the departments of the university and may contain a list of all of the former students as well. The last record of this kind published is the report of the tri-dicennial celebration and is up to 1904. The new work will be more complete and more up-to-date than anything of the kind ever before published by the university. A feature of the work will be the present addresses of the graduates, and therefore all of the graduates are urged to co-operate by sending any information of this kind to the university as soon as possible.

Fullback of Victorian Team Killed in Game Against New Zealand

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 22.—Today's football match between the New Zealand all-star rugby team and the Victoria fifteen, which the Antipodeans won, 35 to 0, was marred by a fatality.

Peter Ogden, fullback of the Victoria team, was kicked on the head in a scrimmage and suffered concussion of the brain, which resulted in his death several hours later. The Victorians absolve the visitors from all blame for the fatality, which they say was purely accidental.

Because of the death of Ogden, it is probable the New Zealanders will call off their games scheduled against Canadian teams.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

In order to have a good combination for competition in the class basketball series, for the banner, the juniors held a meeting and elected their captain for this season, and decided to play some outside games with state teams. Archie Trabert, guard on the sophomore team last year will lead the team this season. In material the class is very fortunate. W. Painter, guard on last year's varsity, will be a contender for the position again; Rich Sheehy, captain of the varsity team this year, will be out for forward; A. S. Boggs will show again at center. For the other forward position Neeld will be a strong contender, having made his N at this position last season. Besides these Ogilvie, Sommers, McDonald, Bannigan, Kent, Stickney, Siani, Dondero and Pflaging will be out for places on the team.

Y. W. C. A. Social Service Tea Raises Fund for Christmas Charities

Although men were conspicuous by their absence, the Y. W. C. A. social service tea at the home of Mrs. Adamson and Miss Clara Smith, corner Ninth and Sierra streets, last Thursday afternoon, was a great success. The program was an enjoyable one and cups of tea at 10 cents apiece netted $12.50 to the social service committee to be used in Christmas charities. In addition to this amount the fund has been augmented by a lady student of the university who donated $10 to the cause. Christmas baskets for the poor children of Reno on Christmas eve will be the result of this little tea. Credit for the success of the enterprise is due Miss Clermond Withers, chairman of the social service committee, her able corps of Y. W. C. A. workers and to Mrs. Adamson, who gave her home to the committee for the affair.

P. O. BOXES

The university has placed an order with the American Postoffice Equipment company for 168 lock boxes and active work of converting the small anti-room adjoining the comptroller's office into a university postoffice has already begun.

Graduate Manager Ross has received one letter from the California clubs to whom he wrote relative to basketball games to be played during the Christmas vacation trip, thus far. It is from Sacramento and is favorable for a game in that city.

EDITORIAL "THANKSGIVING"

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving. With it comes one of those lulls in college activities. Times when college folk return to that dearest of all spots—home. How much there is in that word "Thanksgiving!" It opens for us the pages of history—history strictly American. It compels an attention to the childhood days of a great people. The word "Thanksgiving"—gratitude. As it opens to us pages in the history of our own country, also it reveals to us the epochs of our own lives. Thanksgiving—the word of itself—compels us to compare—to look back upon Thanksgiving a year ago, two years ago and farther. Few of us there are who will admit that they have had more to be thankful for in previous years than now. Happy we are that this is so. So it is with us as a group—as students of the University of Nevada. We who love this college look back, on this last Thursday of November, and see other years here that we have known. Never before has Nevada had more to be thankful for than now. We, who love this college, put our ear to the ground and we hear and we feel the rumblings of progress. Progress involved in thought, in dreams, in ideas. These wheels of progress revolve faster and faster. Their momentum—the force of a student body and a faculty thinking and planning together for a greater college—must carry Nevada onward to a greater power and a greater efficiency. We of Nevada offer our gratitude on this great day of Thanksgiving.

One of the delightful affairs of the week was presided over by Miss Cordelia Runnells Monday evening at her home in honor of Mr. Bowen of Modesto, Cal., who was a Reno visitor. The rooms were beautifully adorned with pink carnations and cards was the diversion, the prizes being won by Miss Mary Leon and Mr. Johnston. Music was enjoyed later and a delicious supper served. Bidden to greet the guest of honor were Miss Mary Leon, Miss Edith Mack, Miss Ruth Miller, Miss Ruth Pyle, Miss Josephine Williams and Messrs. Van Dalsen, Bowen, Johnson, Hobbs, Krall and Beard.

A wedding announcement which will be a surprise to a large circle of friends was received by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wheeler, Saturday morning, announcing the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Mildred, and Mr. Robert E. Wells of Chicago, in Los Angeles, where Miss Mildred is attending college. The marriage had been planned for the Christmas holiday season and to be a very pretty home affair but the young couple changed their plans and the ceremony was held Friday. The bride is one of the very popular members of Reno's social circles and is a young lady of beauty and culture and most worthy of the young man who has won her as a bride. The groom is a popular young business man of the eastern city and plans for their future have not as yet been rather than a dormitory. Pennants and pictures give the rooms an appearance that aroused envious sighs from the residents of the cottage. It might be whispered, however, and this is a secret, that sundry articles of wearing apparel had been removed from the tables and beds to the less handy clothes closets.

After an hour thus spent in inspecting the rooms, the entire crowd adjourned to the gym, where Sinai's orchestra was prepared to dispense ragtime and jig time for the Terpsichorean edification of guests and hosts. Everybody was happy. Every one had a program and what's more, had it jammed full of engagements.

After some three hours thus enjoyably spent hunger got the best of the dancers and every one returned to Lincoln to sit down to one of the neatest little midnight spreads that was ever set on linen. Here was where the boys of the class of '17 showed the stuff that they are made of. The arrangement and service of the feed had been left entirely to the freshmen and even the upper class members of the committee were surprised at the results obtained by them. Eatable and drinkables were served and demolished until every one was satisfied. Then someone suggested Saturday morning classes, and after a rousing yell for Scott and Mrs. Jameson the guests departed, voting the party as just a little bit the best yet.

The committee in charge of the affair, which consisted of Engle, chairman; Mills, McQuiston, Krummes, Swain and Rivett, had arranged everything down to the smallest detail and too much credit can not be given to these men for the complete success of the party.

RALPH STUBBS VISITS

Ralph S. Stubbs, '01, and Mrs. Stubbs arrived from New York City last Wednesday and visited at the campus home of the president until last Sunday evening when they accompanied him to the coast and to Pacific Grove, where Mrs. J. E. Stubbs, mother of Ralph, owing to ill health, has been spending the last several weeks. This is Relph Stubbs' first visit to Nevada since his marriage in New York a little over a year ago and both he and his wife were delighted with our university here. An informal reception was held at the president's home Friday evening for the old friends who remembered Mr. Stubbs when he was a boy and when a college man. After the reception, the sophomore hop was enjoyed by all.

Since his graduation from Nevada in 1901, Ralph S. Stubbs has held many positions and is now general eastern agent for the Southern Pacific company and also for the Atlantic Steamship company, with headquarters in New York City. Immediately after his graduation he took position with the J. K. Armsby company in San Francisco. From there he went to the Armour company in Chicago and then to his present place in New York.

Great Prom Juniors Plan

Jessie Hylton, Laurena Marzen and Joe Will Make Old Gym Beautiful

Plans for the prom have reached a stage where a fair estimate of its success can be made. Beyond a doubt the little job which the juniors have undertaken will be executed in the proper style. Jessie Hylton, Laurena Marzen and Joe McDonald, representing the class in the matter of decorations, have outlined a plan that possesses originality and beauty—both to a high degree. Each member of the class has personally pledged himself to make this function the pinnacle of '15's achievements.

Richard Sheehy will preside as floor manager. Sheehy promises that should be a stranger his, or her, program will be full. There will be an effort to do away with this grouping of the fellows during the dances, while the girls play the part of wallflowers.

Seven pieces under the direction of Bob Ostroff have been engaged to strum the best danceable tunes procurable. It is rumored, too, that some ingenious member of the class has perfected a scheme to make the gym floor slick. This hunch was suggested by an 1890 nickel.

December 5 is prom night, the last big spree of the semester. Dig to the bottom of that trunk and haul out that open face vest, prepare your boiled shirt and pumps for one more big time, 'cause '15 is on this job for your fun.

Big N Banquet At the Mineral

The annual banquet of the Nevada Block N society will be held tonight in the Mineral cafe. Plate will be laid for 25. The new men who made their letters in this year's football team, Mills, Trabert, Fake and Dessar, will be initiated and presented with certificates of membership.

This banquet is held each semester towards the latter part of the school term and all men who are successful in obtaining a letter in the recognized sports are officially taken in and made members of the society. Harvey McPhail, president of the society for this year, will preside at tonight's function.

the American game itself, that rugby is not only not inferior but far superior from the spectators point of view, to the old American game.

The game will be called on the Mackay athletic field at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Admission will be 50 cents.

Practice on Mackay field by the Reno team will be held this afternoon at 2:30. Sol Lachman will act as temporary captain until after the practice when a regular captain will be elected. The following men will be out in suits:

Sol Lachman, end; "Blondy," end; J. E. Edwards, tackle; R. Cottrell, tackle; Conway Elliott, half; Laveago, Wentworth, John Questa, Spooner, guard; Chapin, Rice, Unsworth, quarter; E. Damon, center; Lonkey, Alexander.

All of the above are old players who have had much experience at the game.

The team picked from the university is holding practice every night under Captain Grayson, who played on a number of California teams during the last years of the game on the coast. About 20 men have been out to try for places and some signal practice has been given. The team for the game will be picked Wednesday.

Tennis Tournament Interrupted by Storms; R. H. S. Basketball

The tennis tournament at Reno has been interrupted by the recent storms. The games played so far are as follows:

Anderson vs. Sullivan, by Anderson.
Belford vs. Bruce, by Bruce.
Dunkle vs. Maxson, by Dunkle.
Burke vs. Maney, by Maney.
Brown vs. Jacobs, by Jacobs.
Anderson vs. Bruce, by Anderson.
Dunkle vs. Maney, by Maney.
Jacobs vs. Anderson, by Anderson.
Games of singles and doubles will be played between the faculty and students as soon as the weather will permit.

Basketball is being followed with considerable interest new, every place on the team being contested for by several men. The boys' team will have several practice games before going to Carson on December 18. They will work with the Y. M. C. A., intermediates, the U. of N. freshmen and seniors and probably the Y seniors.

The girls have played several practice games with more or less success. They are planning games with Sacramento and Stockton for early in 1914.

Bryan Laveago, who recently left Reno for Stockton, is playing regular center on the Stockton Hi basketball team. This shows the value of Nevada men to California.

A. M'CARTHY, '14.

PAT '13 AT CARSON

Word received from L. B. Patrick, 1913, states that he is enjoying some real farm life near Carson City, Nev., where he is foreman of the prison farm. The prison farm, so Pat says, is in its development stage, only a small part of the contemplated work being finished. More than 150 acres of sagebrush land is under plow this fall. Work has begun on enlarging the reservoir on the property and a small herd of shorthorn cattle is growing up as well as the routine work of the farm.

The prison farm, under the able guidance of Warden Dickerson, is largely self supporting as well as providing a considerable portion of the food supply for the prison proper.

Guss Sielaff Wants Nevadans

Letter Received From Old Grad. Gives Nevada Men Opportunity in Central America

Siles E. Ross received a few days ago a letter from G. J. Sielaff, who is now employed in the Abangarez gold fields of Costa Rica, stating that he may need some cyanide men at that place about the first of the year. He prefers Nevada men. As to the requirements the letter has the following to say:

"Some experience in chemical or cyanide work so as to be able to assay and make cyanide tests.

"Must not be habitual users of intoxicants.

"The salary will be $150 U. S. gold per month to begin with.

"Transportation will be furnished one way and in the event of their remaining for at least one year return transportation will be provided.

"The mines are situated about 23 miles from the coast at an altitude of 2000 feet above sea level. The climate is healthful and there are none of the mysterious fevers that you hear about so much.

"Good houses have been built for the staff men and many of them have their families here.

"One Nevada man, W. F. Berry '00, is with me at the Esperanza Mining company's property at present."

The letter goes on to say: "On my way here last January I took occasion to visit the Panama canal and must say that though I had read considerable regarding the work that the U. S. is doing on the isthmus I did not really appreciate its magnitude until I stood on the locks at Gatun, Mira Flores and Pedro Miguel, and had ridden through the Culebra cut."

Gus Sielaff is one of the very early graduates of the Nevada school of mines. He now holds a responsible position with the people operating the Abangarez gold fields of Costa Rica at Mina Boston and is looking for Nevada men to fill the positions that may from time to time arise in the company's holdings there.

Nevada Tennis Club Formed

Enthusiastic Group of Interested Ones Will Promote Game Here matches and tournaments.

A group of those interested in tennis remained after the student body meeting in the gym last Friday morning for the purpose of perfecting an organization. The meeting was called to order by the temporary chairman, H. C. Neeld, and the following constitution for the Nevada Tennis club was proposed and adopted:

ARTICLE I

The name of this organization shall be the University Tennis club.

ARTICLE II

The officers shall be elected annually at a regular meeting during the month of May.

ARTICLE III

The officers shall be: President, vice president, secretary-treasurer, whose duties shall be as customary.

ARTICLE IV

An administration committee consisting of the three officers named above, and two others selected by the club.

ARTICLE V

The duties of the administration committee shall be to see that the courts are kept in first class condition, to settle all disputes, to arrange matches and tournaments.

ARTICLE VI

The members of this organization shall consist of students of the University of Nevada, who are members of the athletic association and members of the faculty.

ARTICLE VII

The dues of the club shall be 25 cents per semester. Faculty members who contributed towards the con-

Juniors Win From Freshies

Battle for Class Supremacy in Girls' Basketball Proves Strength of '15 Team

The contest between the freshmen and junior girls' basketball teams Monday evening proved to be most exciting. It seemed to be the opinion before the game started that the juniors would have the best of it, since the greater part of its members have been on the varsity team. This surmise was well founded for the juniors did win the game, but the freshmen did put up a plucky fight and the victory was a hard fought one. The score was 17 to 5.

In the first half the two teams were neck and neck but toward the end of the first half and in the second half the juniors began to gain. No score was made in the second half by the freshmen girls.

The freshmen team is making a splendid showing this year and gives promise of valuable material for the varsity team. Those who played on the teams were:

Juniors—Lella White, center; Gertrude Shade, side center; Dorothy Bird, Lisle Rushby, forwards; Francis Smith, Ethel Brown, guard.

struction of the courts will be exempt from the payment of dues for five years.

Under this constitution the new club elected the following officers to serve the organization until next May: Lester Withers, president; Juanita James, vice president; Elmer Heward, secretary-treasurer. In addition to these officers Dr. H. W. Hill, of the department of English, and Vernon Organ were selected as the members of the executive committee.

Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday at 4:30 means the regular Y. W. meeting, special music and short talks by two members, on the celebration and origin of Thanksgiving day. Every one is invited; so you can come, too.

A letter from Floyd Bryant states that he is busy studying and partaking of tea at Oxford. After the December examinations he expects to go to France and will spend Christmas in Paris.

Student Body Last Meeting

Committee Appointed and Authorized to Submit Student Council Constitution

At the meeting of the A. S. U. N. in the gym last Friday morning it was moved, seconded and passed that the committee of the whole, which had been formed at the previous meeting for the purpose of considering the constitution of the student council, arose. It was then moved, seconded and passed that President Cazier appoint a committee composed of eight members of the body and three members of the faculty to perfect a student council constitution and to submit it to the A. S. U. N. for its adoption at the next regular meeting. President Cazier took the appointment of the committee under advisement and the following members of the committee have since been posted: R. P. Farrer, Henry Wolfson, Dorothy Bird, Grace Mahan, Adelbert Phlegging, Delwyn Dessar, Jessie Hylton, Louis Somers. The committee will get to work during the Thanksgiving vacation in order to complete the work before the next meeting of the student body on Friday, December 5.

An amendment to the constitution of the A. S. U. N. was voted upon and passed by which it is possible for a man to obtain his N in football by simply entering the Santa Clara game. This also applies to basketball and baseball letters. The track letter is awarded to the contestant who makes a minimum of two points in the track meet with Santa Clara.

EXHIBITS ARRIVE

The exhibits of the National mining case which was tried in the United States district court in Carson City a year ago last summer and which attracted a great deal of attention at that time, have arrived at the Mackay school of mines. These exhibits include mine models, maps, photographs, minerals, location notices and specimens of ore. Through the efforts of Comptroller Gorman and Prof. J. C. Jones the parties to the suit signified their willingness to have these exhibits given to the Mackay school of mines for display purposes and a court order was made accordingly. The collection will be a valuable addition to the exhibit already on display in the Mackay mining museum.

LECTURES FOR MEN

The work of the department of physical education for men for the remainder of this semester will consist of a series of lectures on personal hygiene, first aid, and preventive medicine.

Green And Gold Annual Ball

One of the Novel Functions of the Year Will Be the Aggies' Thanksgiving Dance

Wednesday night is the Aggie ball. With the exception of President Stubbs, Director Doten and a few other members of the faculty very intimately connected with the agricultural department only Aggies and their ladies will be present. The dance is going to be held in the gym and it is the first annual dance of the Nevada Agricultural club.

A formal dance, a full dress affair, is this function of Wednesday night. The old gym will appear in a garb the like of which she has never donned before. Green and gold, the colors of the Aggies, will be the scheme. Green stands for the growing crops of the farmer and gold is the color of the metal which stands for the revenue this harvest yields to the tiller of the soil. But not only in the scheme of decoration will the agricultural idea be carried out. The refreshments will be punch—but that isn't all. Alfalfa wafers (they are said to be delicious) and buttermilk will also be served. And cozy corners there will be in abundance. "Abundance" is the by-word of the agriculturalist and the Nevada cow college men will surely not forget the word when it comes to providing plenty of cozy corners. But these cozy corners are to be different. Seats of hay and straw most luxuriously fashioned in bowers made beautifully by bunches of cereal samples of the most important kinds grown in the state are new kinds of cozy corners for Nevada dancers to rest in, but these are the kind the farmers are planning.

Appropriate favors for the ladies, programs designed by Huskey Sinai, will all add to the idea of a farmer's ball. It is to be a full dress affair, too, for it is the first annual dance of the agricultural club and the idea is to have something distinctive in the history of University of Nevada dances. It is a sort of celebration for the Aggies; a celebration of their growth in this institution. The University of Nevada Agricultural club started in 1909 with nine members; in 1913 it has 31 members and is a most important factor in the college life here. Sol Cazier is its present president. Committees for the affair next Wednesday night consist of: refreshments, Abel, Cazier; music, Menardi; printing, Sinai; decorations, Prof. Knight and corps of assistants.

Grain Judges Visit Mill

Sophomores Visit Riverside Mill Co. Plant and Are Courteously Treated

Prof. Knight's sophomore class in grain judging visited the Riverside Mill company's plant in Reno during the morning session Monday a week ago. The excursion was for the purpose of studying the various processes of milling wheat according to modern methods and the various grades of flour obtained thereby. Two hours were spent at the establishment.

The class was taken through the mill and shown every courtesy by J. R. Von Nagel, general manager of the company. He invited the members to visit the mill at any time for the purpose of getting practical demonstration of the work they were taking along the line of grain and its products in their college courses. The members of the class who took the trip are: Linfield Riley, George Ogilvie, Gei Coe, James D. High, Ira L. Kent, Merrill B. Williams, John S. Sinai, Dave Abel, John Lemberger, Leslie Johnson, George Henningsen, William Powers, Charles Short, Harry Hovey, Elmer Howard.

Miss Ruth Stubbs left for the coast Saturday evening and will spend Thanksgiving with her mother at Pacific Grove. President Stubbs returned from that city on Sunday morning and reported that Mrs. Stubbs is much improved.

Ross Receives H. S. Letters

Principals of High Schools in Favor of Basketball Tournament

Answers to letters sent out by S. E. Ross to the principals of the various state high schools relative to an interscholastic basketball tournament to be held here next semester and the form of which letters was published in the last issue of the Sagebrush for last week, have been coming in rapidly. All of the schools heard from are heartily in favor of the plan and many of them have expressed their intention of sending teams to U. of N. if the tournament is held here as planned during the latter part of January or the first weeks in February.

JUNIOR PROM

At a meeting of the junior class held Monday evening the date for the prom was set as December 5. Committees for the various phases of the dance were appointed, and definite steps taken towards making the event one grand success. Rich Sheehy was elected floor manager and will see that every one conducts themselves properly. Jessie Hylton, Maude Price and Joe McDonald will have charge of the decorations of the gym for the occasion, and promise something out of the ordinary. The programs will be in charge of H. C. Neeld and "Stork" Pflaging, and it might be stated that none will be in evidence on the campus before the dance, as has happened at other dances. Laurena Marzen, Ethel Brown and Carna Damm will have complete charge of the refreshments.

The class as a whole decided to have the music furnished by Ostroff's seven-piece orchestra.

Strict Rules For New Women

Upper Class Women Lay Down Definite Regulations to Be Followed

- Rule 1. No college woman except seniors and juniors shall wear corduroy or imitation.
- Rule 2. No underclass girl shall wear red tams or red caps resembling tams.
- Rule 3. No college woman except seniors shall wear sombreros.
- Rule 4. Underclass girls shall sit behind the sixth row in assembly or student body meetings. This rule is to be rigidly adhered to.
- Rule 5. No underclass woman shall use the stack room or cubby holes of the library for study or other purposes.
- Rule 6. No underclass girl shall sit on the north steps of Morrill hall.
- Rule 7. No underclass girl shall walk across the lawns.
- Rule 8. No underclass girl shall become so undignified as to run the length of the college campus.
- Rule 9. College women shall attend all college functions, such as rallies, football games, etc.
- Rule 10. These rules are to be strictly observed throughout the college year.

At a meeting of the upperclass women held in Miss De Laguna's room in Stewart hall recently, provisions were made for the enforcement of these rules. They had been posted conspicuously some time previous to the meeting so that all of the underclass girls would be familiar with them. At this meeting, Miss Clara Smith '14, was elected president. In addition, Miss Edwina O'Brien and Miss Ann Cazzalio of the senior class and Miss Ethel Brown and Miss Francis Smith of the juniors were elected members of a committee to have charge of the enforcement of the above rules.

ing rooms and showers afterwards. The Mackay field is also used for baseball games and track meets. It is as much of a surprise to one to note the quality of the athletic equipment as it is to learn how the football teams of such a small university have done so well against U. C. and Stanford in the past. Nevada is on the rise athletically. We have the best rugby coach in the west here at present and we hope to keep him for many years to come. With Amos Elliott at the helm of Nevada athletics we are bound to come out ahead.

There are more freshmen-sophomore scraps at Nevada than one can keep track of. The first week or two, members of the opposing classes tangle nearly every night but the annual cane rush generally ends festivities of this kind and the freshmen and sophomores pursue the even tenor of their ways in athletics and studies. These class scraps are a fine thing. They serve to get the members of the two lower classes acquainted at the very beginning of the year and start the freshman right in the matter of showing class "pep."

Taken altogether, the University of Nevada is my ideal of a university. There is college life in plenty here. The university is small enough so that everyone knows everyone else. It is active in all ways, a regular smoking volcano that is likely to explode at any time. In student activities you can take your pick and you'll always find plenty of competition from other peppy U. of N. men. One makes friends here and they're the kind of friendships that will surely last as we have the finest bunch of fellows in all the world right here at old U. of N.

Girls Compete For Class Cup

Freshmen Girls Win in Preliminary Contest: Juniors and Fresh to Fight for Cup

A good, well-fought game is the verdict passed upon the first basketball game of the season. And the freshmen girls won, too. Then, back to the game. The first half ended with the score 6-4 in favor of the sophomores. During this half the freshmen steadily worked up to par while the sophomores played at a constant mark, which they kept up during the whole game. When the second half began the freshmen entered with a vim. Before the sophs made another point the freshmen evened the score with a field basket. The final score was 10-9. On the whole the game showed quick playing and good team work. This is due alone to the training the basketball girls have received under their coach, Si Ross. The next inter-class game, juniors and freshmen, is the last to be played this semester and marks an important event, for the name of the winners of that game will be engraved upon the trophy cup.

TO DESERT HALL

Manzanita hall will be a deserted place during the end of this week, for many have already declared their intention of spending the Thanksgiving holidays either at their own or at friend's homes out of town.

RENO QUICK LUNCH

32 W. 2nd St.

When you have but five minutes to eat

Why the RENO QUICK LUNCH CAN'T BE BEAT

And for service, you bet they're there With the prices always fair.

The waitresses, four in all You can hear them as they call

Waffles, Waffles—a stack of hots, Ham-and,—Ribber, fry two on the side,

Never stop to hesitate, but let 'em slide

Now for the Catsup, then for the sauce

And a cup of hot Java made by the boss,

Hot mince, baked apples, Peaches and Cream

Why any of these things are fit for a Queen.

The Cooks in the kitchen are both lean and fat

They're the best in Reno and mighty good at that.

Slatts the proprietor so pleasant and fair

Welcomes all the guests as they enter there.

But this, is what I wanted to say, Its the best place to eat and not a bit out of the way.
