IDEAL COMMUNITY LIVING

Y. W. C. A. Conference Will Be Held From August 4 to 15, 1914

Bulletins are out announcing the annual student conference of the Young Women's Christian associations on the Pacific coast, beginning August 4. Nevada had eight representatives at this conference last year and looks forward to an equally good showing in 1914.

The year 1914-1915 in the local association is to be under the leadership of Gertrude Shade as president, Laurena Marzen as secretary, Carna Damm as treasurer, and Zoe Gould, Ethel Braun, Dorothy Bird, Lysle Rushby, Rachel Rand, Jessie Hylton and Marjorie Meade as cabinet members. Several of the Nevada girls have attended one of the association's annual conferences in the past and so favorable were their impressions that they are planning to return at their own expense this year.

Asilomar is a tract of thirty acres of land given by the Pacific Coast Improvement company to the field committee of the national board. To reach this haven of rest a ride of 10 minutes from Pacific Grove is necessary, and before he realizes his proximity the visitor is upon the shaded campus and glistening beach of the conference grounds.

Nevada girls have several strong reasons for going to Asilomar this summer and for urging a large delegation. To Nevadans the assurance of a lazy afternoon in a real forest or a dip into the very ocean itself is apt to be inducement enough. Again to the Renoites the splendid opportunity of knowing personally girls from the other colleges is an opportunity because distance is too often a barrier to the Sagebrush students. A third advantage in the coming conference to Nevada girls over any others is that all kinds of splendid association ideas and materials are to be had at the Asilomar grounds and to a comparatively new and struggling Y. W. C. A. this chance to get technical help is inestimable. A last reason exists for the Nevada girls' enthusiasm for Asilomar this summer.

Student Body Wants Control

ADOPTS COMMITTEE'S REPORT —TOM WALKER NEXT PREX

The last meeting of the Student Body to be conducted by the officers under the old regime was held in the gym Friday morning.

As chairman, Mr. Wolfson read the long-expected report of the committee on the student council, which the student body immediately voted to adopt. Aside from the granting to Miss Ruth Woods the privilege of wearing a Goting N for participation in the Nevada-California basketball game, little business was transacted. The advisability of establishing of a "co-op." book store on the campus was debated at some length, a motion that a committee of three be appointed to look into the matter being finally carried. In view of the fact that the polls were open for balloting for the new officers, the meeting was relatively brief and the motion for adjournment carried unanimously.

College Election

Following the student body meeting the polls were declared open and until 2 p. m. A. S. U. N. members were busy filling out their ballots.

The award of the battalion flag for the best drilled company of the cadet battalion of the University of Nevada was made at last Thursday's inspection to Company B by Captain W. T. Merry of the United States army, the inspecting officer.

Dress parade and inspection were held on Mackay field before well-filled and applauding bleachers.

Butt's rifle drill drew much approval from the audience; both companies were well drilled and executed, the movements in perfect unison with the cadet band.

High Athletes Getting Ready

IMPORTANT HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE HERE FOR N. A. L. MEET

The annual field meet, tennis tournament for girls, and declamation contests of the Nevada Academic league, bids fair to be the most successful ever held. Every school of importance in the state is preparing to send contestants, and the meet will doubtless have great educational value to all participants. At Fallon the principal of the high school is daily training his boys by running with them and will probably enter some strong contestants. Principal Street of Ely will bring a strong aggregation from the White Pine County High school, they being one of the most progressive of the state. Ely has lost some of the crack sprinters who appeared last year but are expected to rank up close to the top. Tonopah and Goldfield entries are faithfully training and both schools will send a number of representatives. Goldfield has the honor of hold the 220 hurdle record made by Gadwood in 1910, while in the past Tonopah has sent some of the best distance runners who ever entered the meets. Winnemucca will have a number of entries, especially in the tennis tournament and declamation contest. Principal McKillop of Lovelock will again bring his excellent tennis team who put up such a strong fight for last year's championship. Las Vegas and East Ely will have entries in the declamation contest. The Lassen County High school, while not so strong as in previous years, is expected to give a good account of itself and claim a due share of the prizes. Superintendent Jepson of Sparks, is giving detailed attention to the training of his entries and the results are justifying his painstaking work. Gardnerville and Yerington will also be represented by good performers as in past years, especially in the declamation contests. Carson City is expected to enter a good tennis team and several other schools remain to be heard from. The prizes and medals for the 1914 contests are unusually attractive and appropriate. The winner of the declamation contests and each field event will receive a handsome gold medal bearing the figure of Winged Victory presenting the laurel wreath. The event, name of winner, and date are to be engraved on the opposite side. Second place in the declamation contests will be rewarded with a silver medal of similar design. The point winners in the various field events will receive silver buttons

CONFERENCE UNITES MEN

University of California Wins Pacific Coast Conference Meet

The Pacific Coast conference, the intercollegiate track and field meet of the west, was held in Berkeley May 2. Eleven universities and colleges from California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and Nevada were represented. In speaking of it St. Ross, Nevada's graduate manager, said: "I believe the conference meet is the best thing that ever happened in the west, for it brings the best college athletes together to compete and to talk over different college activities and athletics in general."

Nevada sent down six candidates, Hovey in the half mile, Kent in the two-mile, Mills in the quarter, Powers, Root in the broad jump, and Ogilvie in the mile. The first four were qualified by the committee from the start. Root was finally qualified by jumping 22 feet consistently. Ogilvie's best time here in the mile was 4 minutes 35 seconds. Because of this time, the field committee could not qualify him, but the student body, then, of the university decided to send him down as a delegate.

Ogilvie was the only Nevadan to make a point. He took second place, making it in 4:25 and thereby broke the Nevada state record by 20 seconds which for 13 years has been held by Scott Jameson. In making this new record, Ogilvie is entitled to a gold medal. He has brought honors to the University in field and track in the same as Sheehy and McCubbin brought honors to the University when they were chosen on the all-collegiate five. Root made a splendid jump, leaping far enough for second or third place. The committee, however, decided it a foul because he went over the board. Hovey drew a good place up until the last half. Then he lost out when he tried to overtake Cerenette of California. Seeing that he couldn't he again fell back but was soon overtaken in his original third place. The other Nevada delegates made a creditable showing. Considering the length of time Nevada trackmen were in train-

Faculty Club Since Year 1909

Organization Composed of Women
Interested in the Welfare of U. of N.

(By MRS. A. W. PRESTON)

At the beginning of the first semester in 1909 a group of faculty women met at Manzanita hall with Mrs. A. E. Kaye and organized the Woman's Faculty club. Before this time many of the women members of the faculty and the wives of the professors and instructors were scarcely known to each other. The purpose of the club was to bring them together socially. Mrs. J. E. Church was elected the first president and it was voted that the meetings should be held the first Wednesday of each month during the school year, the members offering their homes, as they desired at first to make the club entirely informal, minutes were dispensed with, but later the club agreed to keep a record of each meeting and a secretary was elected.

A red letter day was enjoyed by the club at the first meeting of the last semester, when Dr. Stubbs was present and gave a very entertaining account of his travels in Europe. Dr. Stubbs was the first gentleman to be present at one of the club meetings. Most of the meetings have been quiet affairs, each member bringing her dainty sewing bag and plying her needle, while conversing with her neighbor or enjoying music or dancing by some of the members. Before adjournment the hostess serves delicious refreshments for which faculty women are famous.

With the giving of a farewell luncheon at the Riverside hotel for Mrs. Henry Thurtell four years ago, the club inaugurated the annual faculty luncheon. These luncheons, with their entertaining programs, take place near commencement and are very charming affairs.

The club was so successful in promoting sociability among the ladies that when the question of giving an evening party arose, two years ago, a certain member proposed to invite the gentlemen and after some discussion, the point was carried. The gentlemen evidently enjoyed themselves so well and the ladies enjoyed the gentlemen so well that a second party was given for them this year. Delightful programs were given on both occasions, selected entirely from the superabundance of faculty talent.

Independence Day For Women

Nevada Joins Rest of the United States in Celebration of May 2

May 2, 1914, was set apart all over the United States for the general observance of the woman suffrage movement. Celebrations of some sort were held in many cities and villages of every state. In Nevada, open air meetings were held in Yerington, Carson, Sparks, Fallon, Virginia City, Eureka, Ely, Panacea, Hawthorne, Pioche and several other towns.

The celebration at Reno took the form of a mass meeting in the evening in front of the public library, the grounds of which were kindly offered by the library board for the occasion. Much criticism has been heard of the county and city authorities for refusing the use of the court house steps and the city park for the meeting, but the citizen who extends one hand to the authorities for a favor must hold a ballot in the other hand if he is to hope for success.

A large crowd attended the mass meeting in front of the library and listened to stirring music by the band and two fine addresses by Attorneys Belford and Ayres. Mr. Belford pled for the inalienable American right of free speech and unrestrained discussion of public questions, and presented the argument that what Nevada needs now is a larger and more permanent population which will be one of the direct results of putting the women on an equal basis of citizenship with the men.

The "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and a woman suffrage hymn to the tune of "America" were sung, and resolutions passed unanimously expressing confidence in the result of the November election and calling upon congress to remove the barrier of sex from citizenship. A good offering was received to help in the campaign.

Stewart Hall Long Years Ago

Interesting Story of Old Brick Building's Connections With the Life of the College

(By MISS KATE BARDENWERPER)

If things could talk what wonderful stories they could tell us. Take Stewart hall, for instance. Quiet, homely, staid and uninteresting as it looks with its old-time mansard roof, it has been the scene of varied experiences in the history of the University of Nevada.

For once upon a time there crowned our hill, the nucleus of the institution that was to be, just four only of the buildings that now comprise our "halls of learning"—the Physics building, formerly used as the government experiment building, hatch station; Morrill hall as today containing the offices, with the university library easily housed in room six, and with Prof. Richard Brown's family living in the basement, the recently vacated library quarters; the present hatch station that served in the days of long ago as the School of Mines building—think of it, you Mackay boys. And, lastly, Stewart hall, the very center of the life of the university.

So many and so varied were the uses to which Stewart hall was put that it is hard to realize that those selfsame four brick walls that now enclose ordinary, commonplace, if necessary class rooms, once knew the echo of dainty and other feet tripping to the measure of the waltz; while the college yell sounded forth on high days and holidays, and the tiny bell of the model school tinkled out its summons to the pretty lassies and happy laddies that took their first steps along the road to learning in that very same old edifice.

For in the beginning of things, the top floor, way up in the roof, was the assembly hall. Here were graduated the pioneers of the University of Nevada, and here were held the commencement balls and all the other social functions, among them an occasional play, a candy pull, or Hal-lowe'en "jinks."

The second floor—for having begun at the top we will now descend those steep stairs—was the home of the girl members of the student body. Although the exterior of Stewart hall has known no change, the interior has been quite remodeled since the "good old days," and the second floor especially has undergone a transformation. It was arranged originally to serve as a dormitory for the women students and for Miss Hannah Clapp, of beloved memory, who added to her duties as librarian those of mother, adviser and friend. She it was who christened the six or eight little sleeping rooms as the "cubicles," a name by which they were known to all the residents, and in her little parlor there was always a hearty welcome and a bite to eat for every comer.

The first floor, in the rooms where our department of history now holds sway, was occupied as class rooms for the model school connected with the University Normal school, while the pupils of the latter recited to Mrs. Emery in the so-called "Normal room," now promoted to the service of the romance languages. Miss Riegelhuth's room, too, was used as a class room where the embryo teachers "taught the young idea how to shoot."

But three times every day and twice on Sundays, there was an eager meeting of "all the clans" in the basement. For it can scarcely be necessary to state that it was there that the "dining hall" continued to play its important role until a comparatively recent date.

DR. CHURCH RETURNS

Dr. J. E. Church returned from a strenuous trip to Mount Rose Sunday. From his accounts it is evident that he must have experienced some hard storms while he was there. In speaking of the experience he cheerfully adds: "There was work to be done and all Frank Folsom and I could do was to wait, sleep and hope."

WENT TO FALLON

Professor Turner left for Fallon Saturday morning, where he gave the first of a series of recitals. If the Fallon people are capable of appreciating "good stuff" they will give Mr. Turner all that is coming to him in the way of an enthusiastic hearing. R. R.

WOMEN'S FACULTY CLUB

The Women's Faculty club will meet for a social time this Thursday at Mrs. Jones'.

Recital Plan of Prof. Turner

May 22 Date of Entertainment to Be Given by Class in Expression

(By "15")

On Friday evening, May 22, the expression class under the direction of Professor Turner will give a recital in the gymnasium.

Most of the program has been mapped out and each part has been receiving special attention for several weeks. As a result reports state that rapid progress is being made and that the program will be one worth while.

This is the first event of the kind that has taken place independently of other work in the history of the university. It is due principally to Prof. Turner's efforts that the university now offers this course of college of education students and any others who may wish it.

Up to this time, while art and music were strict requirements of the college of education, the ability of the teacher to read well herself, in addition to teaching others to read well was overlooked. Now, this course is given primarily to teach the student how to read aloud intelligently and accurately, and at the same time to develop whatever dramatic or elocutionary tendency that may exist.

But enough for the purpose, now for the program:

First and mainly there is to be a one-act farce, in which the exciting element is not a suffragette but a mouse. The play is the "Mouse Trap," involving the old question of mice and women, and is full of action both vocal and physical, from start to finish.

Gladys Hofer is commanding general of the fray, as it were, while Cordelia Rannels, Grace McVicar, Florence Nelligan, Irene Baglin and Ruth Woods are each sort of first lieutenants. But at the end it takes a man to call a halt and vanquish the enemy. The identity of the man for the time being is a secret.

The rest of the program will be devoted to recitations by Edith Hamilton, Neva Friburg, Alma Morrow and Veronica Dickey, recitations somewhat newer than "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck," and about as exciting, if such a thing is possible. And there are a couple of "side splitters" besides.

So show your interest in a new undertaking, faculty and students, by your presence in the gym on Friday, May 22, and by your support and encouragement help to place the course in expression on a firm basis in the course of study for the University of Nevada. Don't knock, but boost.

"THE DRUG TERROR"

"The Drug Terror," the new six-reel sensational photodrama which comes to the Majestic theater May 8, 9 and 10, has been produced with great care and at great expense. It is being presented as part of the national crusade instituted by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Sr., and the sociological fund of the Medical Review of Reviews in the fight now being waged to stamp out the drug habit, which, statistics show, is spreading with such rapidity among young and old as to have become a national menace.

Investigators under Mrs. Vanderbilt have discovered that young children in the schools are using drugs, as well as young girls, young men, rich and poor alike, and men and women generally, until a point has been reached where a nation-wide campaign is necessary to oppose the craze.

The picture portrays every step in the life of a drug victim. It shows the life of a young society man who dies miserably as a result of becoming a victim of drugs. The picture exposes the methods of dealers, the dens in which the drug is used, and peddlers selling to little school children drug-tainted candies.

Through it all runs a love story, which ends in a broken home and wrecked lives.

The lessons "preached" by the picture is of vital import to every person. Mrs. Vanderbilt began her crusade against the cocaine and heroin habits several months ago, hiring trained experts to run down those connected with the sale of these drugs. The work, while thorough, was necessarily slow, and its effect did not reach the masses. Then the moving picture was hit upon as the medium through which every one, young and old, could be reached.

Place—Miss Lewer's studio. Situation—The earth trembles. Mr. Craig (calmly)—"Now I wonder whose fault that was."

"Y. W. C. A."

The name "Young Women's Christian Association" is often abbreviated for convenience to the letters Y. W. C. A. It has become a common error to drop the last two letters and speak of "the Y. W." Such an expression translated into the words implied conveys no meaning hence the national secretaries have inaugurated a campaign against the use of the first or first two letters as a name and ask the public and the membership to use preferably the correct name in full or as second choice the terms "The Association," or the "Y. W. C. A."

IN APPRECIATION

The Young Women's Christian association is glad to have an opportunity at this time to express its appreciation of its many friends and their kindness. In the president and board of regents, in the townspeople, faculty students and the Sagebrush the Y. W. C. A. has found co-operation, friendship and sympathy. Not alone in the material contributions it has made has the public been kind, but in its spirit of understanding and its anxiety to support the things already achieved by the Y. W. C. A. as well as the things possible in its future.

AN OUTLOOK CLUB

There is an Outlook club on the hill but with the exception of one meeting nothing has been heard of it this year. The club was formed in 1912 and was then made a strictly upper-class organization. As the name signifies its purpose was to 'keep tab' on the news and vital questions of the day. What, then, is the matter? There have certainly been enough among the upper-class women to support it. Topics for the meetings have fairly crowded in upon each other. If the club, as it certainly did, had successful meetings for a whole year, it showed that was needed and was supported by them and therefore can be again. Its dormant condition is not due to one alone but to all the members, and to keep it from going out of existence and to enliven the interest, two things are necessary—the hearty co-operation of all, and system! system! system!

ing and the length of training the other colleges have. California at least, who began in January, Nevada has certainly just as good material as the rest. The track men realize this and have decided to get in some good practice early next semester.

In the meet Ogilvie made three points for Nevada. The meet was won by California with 43 points; Leland Stanford, Jr., second, with 41; and the University of Southern California third, with 15. —G. S.

LAST MESSAGE FROM STEAMER IN BOTTLE

DULUTH, Minn., May 4.—"On board the ill-fated steamer, Is doomed tonight. God S O S. Good-bye everybody."

This note found in a bottle which was picked up on Park Point today is believed to be the last message sent out by the crew of the steamer Benjamin Noble which sank in the last week with 19 men on board.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The president today made these nominations: Assistant attorney general in customs cases, Bart Hanson of New York City. Captain, to be Rear Admiral, Walter McLean.

A loyal co-ed was taking subscriptions at the registration this week. She accosted a new male student:

"Subscribe for the Green and White?"

"What for?" he demanded.

"It has all the important news in it," she explained.

He looked over a copy.

"Why it hasn't a bit of news in it, not a thing," he said turning to go.

"Why, it has too," she replied, hurt.

"O, I mean general world news and such."

"But it has all the college news."

"Oh well, I don't care anything about college news. Now why should I be interested in college news? I simply came here to study."—Ohio University "Green and White."

JAPANESE "SILENT" MUSIC.

A curious ceremony used to be performed in Japan by the court musicians at certain Shinto festivals. Both stringed and wind instruments were used, but it was held that no sound should be allowed to fall upon unworthy ears, and, as some of the ears present might be unworthy, all the motions of playing were gone through by the musicians, but not a single sound was heard. This strange custom dated back many generations.

"Safety First" Mine Haulage

Y. W. C. A. Discovers Pitiable Condition of Women in Coal Mines

The last issue of the Journal of Electricity, in speaking of the recent meeting of the electrical section of the Nevada Safety conference says "In Justin McCarthy's 'History of Our Own Times' the author describes how that less than 75 years since women were employed in the mines of 'Merrie England' for the purpose of hauling cars, their harness a chain passed between trousered legs and fastened to the waist. These women lived lives of degradation and legislation soon compelled the use of ponies in their stead. Born in the mines and not knowing the light these ponies were blind. Today mine haulage in this country is by mules or by the still more modern use of compressed air or electricity, and the tunnels are often well illuminated with diffuse electric light as was emphasized at the safety first meeting in Reno.

This is the short history of here and there and of changed conditions in but a few years.

And electricity, the last adoption, has become first in safety. It is more efficient and more humane than the old English method and is naturally cleaner and more reliable than the mule, over

Tennis Tournament Causing Much "Pep" at University of Nevada

At last tennis has come to be an established athletic activity in the university. Under the management of Professor H. W. Hill, Lister Withers and Elmer Heward, the matches have all been made, handicaps given and the tournament working itself up to the semi-finals. The finals take place next Saturday afternoon and the games will be exciting, to say the least. Everyone on the campus knows of Professor Hill's dexterity in wielding a racket, and Lister Withers and Elmer Heward have both kept up the records which they brought with them to the college.

The semi-finals to take place Friday will be between the winners of two previous contests. Senator Boggs, Harper Neeld, Lister Withers, "Father" Hinkley, Elmer Heward and Professor Hill are matched for them.

The girls, too, have shown a great deal of "pep" and have entered for girls' singles and in the mixed doubles. Elsie and Emma Herz, Thelma Johnson, Francis Smith, Lucille Gallagher and Dorothy Bird have entered so far. They are nearly all on the courts daily and working hard, as is testified by their sunburned necks and arms.

The girls under Clara Smith have full charge of the coming tournament in the Academic meet. It is expected that six high schools will send teams who will compete for the silver trophy which goes to the high school winning it for three consecutive years. Last year Reno High school won it and they are working hard to do so again this year. Pins are given to those on the teams winning first and second places.

A SUIT.

As has been their custom for the past four years, the Gray, Reid, Wright company of Reno have again offered to the high school athlete who takes the greatest number of points in the academic league field and track meet the choice of any $25 suit in their store.

This announcement is awaited each year with eagerness by the competing scholars and it serves as a stimulus for the men to do their best.

Be it coincidence or a forerunner of safety first, it is a matter of history also that the reason for the organization of the first Young Women's Christian association in England in the latter part of the nineteenth century was the discovery by some of the philanthropists in London of these same feminine slaves in the English coal mines who were the agents of mine haulage not only before blind ponies, but also before the magic of electricity.

Reno High School Notes

Reno High Encouraged by Victory Over University of Nevada Freshmen

(By A. M. McCARTHY)

Reno high's track men had a fine workout with the U. of N. Freshmen last week in an annual track meet. Owing to the cold weather and extremely cold wind on both nights the men were unable to make any high records, but the performances of several men were very encouraging. The only record broken was that of the half mile, which was lowed one second, in a high wind. Reno has a variety of good men to depend upon in the big meet this year. Unlike most years, we have strong men in every event.

On the first night of the meet Reno lead with a score of 35 to 27. On Tuesday night, just after the snow storm, the meet was finished with Reno well in the lead. The final score was 63 to 49. The Freshmen contested every point and deserve credit for their showing.

Many, in fact most, of the Reno men were not well trained at so early a date but they will start the grind in earnest from now until May 30. Under Mr. Hook's competent direction we surely will have a winning team, but if we don't win it will be because we are not the best men and that only.

This has been a very successful season for athletics at R. H. S. We started the season by defeating the Freshmen of the U. by a score of 8 to 0 in football. In basketball were even more successful by winning three straight games with very decisive scores. By defeating them in track we have succeeded in accomplishing

College Fund Secures Time

College Woman Tells Why Women Should Use the Loan Scholarship Fund

As the close of the year approaches the provident student begins to plan ways and means of making her next college year even more valuable to her than the last. The thing that she most needs is time—time to pursue each chosen study to the point of absolute mastery. Every serious young man and woman knows that the time necessary for this is a greatest asset during a college course. If time can be bought it is worth almost any price during these years. What attainments could not each one reach with the ambition and the time. The loan scholarship fund established by the Nevada State Federation of Women's clubs is at the disposal of the women students of this university as a means of buying for themselves, time, in which to attain a high order of scholarship. In making her plans for the coming year every young woman who has not been able to give her full time to her college work should take into account the advantages she might secure for herself by this means. It is simply a business proposition. Every business man, the world over, borrows money to invest, whenever he can make a profit upon it. Is there any reason why any young woman in this institution, with something which does not happen very often, that is, defeating the U. of N. Freshmen in all branches of athletics. We have cause to rejoice. Who says school spirit is lacking at R. H. S.?

The winning of the academic meet is the only appropriate ending for this victorious season and we intend to end it right if possible.

a sound mind, body and character, should not contract for an honorable loan with which to prepare herself to do her share of the world's work with the greatest possible efficiency? It is not a case of charity. It is merely one way of putting oneself through college and for the strong, healthy student who needs more time, it is the wisest way. Many an eminent man will tell you that his whole success is due to the fact that he once went into debt to gain some worthy end. The responsibility of such a debt, instead of becoming a burden, became the greatest incentive to do one's best. It was almost a guarantee for success, because he did not dare to fail. Someone has rightly said that the world is always willing to invest in him, who is not afraid to invest in himself. Assuming such a loan is only showing one's faith in his own ability to succeed and how can the world be expected to place such a faith in a young person who is afraid to express this faith in himself? If a young woman who is qualified to borrow from this fund feels that such a loan would enable her to do a higher type of college work, there is no more reason why she should hesitate to use the fund than to accept one of the university scholarships, and does any student feel that it was unworthy to accept a scholarship?

Talk it over with the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and get her advice.

TO INSPECT SCHOOLS

Prof. R. C. Thompson will be absent from the university the next two weeks. During that time he will visit the different high schools in eastern California, from Susanville to Modesto.

Prof. George Ordahl will leave in a few days to inspect the high schools in southern Nevada.

Liberal Arts Club Meeting

Scott Unsworth, Rhodes Scholar From Nevada, Addressed Meeting Last Thursday

The Liberal Arts club of the faculty met in the domestic science rooms on Thursday evening, April 30. Dr. Watson, the president of the club, introduced Mr. Scott Unsworth, a former Rhodes scholar from Nevada, who read a most interesting paper on "Some Impressions of Oxford." Mr. Unsworth gave a very vivid picture of student life at Oxford, not forgetting such important details as English student slang and methods of evading the university rules. The prospective Rhodes scholars from Nevada were among the interested audience. At the close of the paper, general discussion ensued and Mr. Unsworth answered a number of questions in regard to the courses of study generally pursued at Oxford by the American students, the tutor system, English sports, etc.

The fine command of the English language which the speaker exhibited both in his paper and in conversation was a good testimony to the value of his Oxford training. The thanks of the club and the guests who were present are due Mr. Unsworth for a delightful evening.

The next meeting of the Liberal Arts club will be held next Saturday evening, when Dr. Ordahl will present a paper on "Formal Discipline and General Intelligence." The final meeting of the year will be held on some evening shortly before commencement, the time to be decided later, when Miss Weir and Mr. Fremster will exhibit and explain the collections in the Nevada Historical building.

TRI DELTA ENTERTAINS DELTA RHO

Monday evening Delta Delta Delta was hostess to Delta Rho at the home of Clara Smith. Cards and music were the diversion of the evening, not unmixed with talk, for, remember, these were girls. During refreshments informal little talks were given by Mary Raitt, Pearl Stinson, Clara Smith and Helen Hobbins, and then both sororities sang their own songs and old "U. of N. So Gay." There was lots of spirit all evening, but it was most clearly manifested in these outbursts of song, especially in the serpentine to the tune of "Solomon Levy," which really has words, but which this time were omitted and la, la, la substituted.

A TOAST

Here's to Reno's ice cream man,
Here's to the horse he drives,
Here's to his bell—sweetest sound on earth.
Long may its music survive!

To the scorching skies above,
Here's to the object of this old tosat.
Here's to the cones we love—

MISS SAMETH ASSISTS CLUBS

Twice last week Miss Sameth, the physical director for women, exemplified the ideal of modern educators by assisting with the programs of the women's clubs of Reno.

On Wednesday before the United Mothers' clubs of the city Miss Sameth read a strong paper upon "The Physical Education of Young Girls." Many helpful suggestions gained by the members of the club were enlarged upon in the discussion following Miss Sameth's talk.

On Friday, when the school children of Reno gave the program to the Twentieth Century club, Miss Sameth trained and supervised three of the folk dances given. The daintiness and exactness with which the children danced showed Miss Sameth's efficiency as a director.

May Festival Crowning Event

Great Preparations Being Made by Physical Education Class for
May 30

(By ISABEL BERTSCHY, '17)
Can you guess what is coming soon? Why, to be sure, its the spring festival, to be given by the girls in the physical training department. Vera Lemmon and Mary Raitt have written the play and under the capable direction of Miss Elsie Sameth it will be a big success.

The following is a brief outline of the story: A Dream Girl, wishing very much to visit Fairyland, secures the aid of the Fairy Queen to take her there. It proves not to be as easy, however, as one would think. The Imp, followed by a train of Grooms, tries in every conceivable way to oppose the Fairy Queen and her company of Zephyrs, Sleep, Moonlight and Flowers. It is Apollo who comes to the rescue and with the sweet strains of his lute charms away the Imps. Thus the Dream Girl finds herself in Fairyland, crowned as Queen of the May Pole Dance.

Although this is the plot woven among the dances, the latter form the main part of the story.

This festival will take place on the Mackay field on the evening of May 30. A display of lights, filmy costumes, graceful fairies and impish imps will make the scene truly beautiful. The Moonbeams are to have long flowing robes of "real" silver cloth and will wear shining silver crowns. The aid of Miss Lewers, Leah Barker, Eva Walker, Claire Rulison and Elsie Herz has certainly been most helpful in designing the costumes.

Besides university fairies there are children from Orvis Ring, McKinley Park and Mary S. Doten schools who are working with a spirit of rivalry to do the dances perfectly.

Lella, Lisle, Ruth and Carna, as the principal characters, will sing songs composed by college girls, and Ray Rand, as Apollo, will show her skill on the lyre.

But by no means are the girls to monopolize the "stage," for there are going to be about fifty boys from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades who will dance the "Sailor's Horn Pipe." They are now being trained by three girls of the sepical dancing class.

This festival promises to surpass all others ever before given on the campus. So remember the date, May 30, and reward the efforts of the girls of Nevada by being present on the bleachers that evening.

Miss Helen Fulton Will Address Members Wednesday

The regular Y. W. meeting will be held this Wednesday at 4:30. Miss Helen Fulton, who is a member of the association on the campus and who has just returned from a trip in the east, will give a short talk to the members. While she was in New York City, she visited the Y. W. National Board and Training school. This is what she will make the subject of her talk. Everyone is invited to come.

Miss Pollock (after the earthquake, 10:15)—Girls, always run for the fire escape when you feel an earthquake. Timid Freshman (dubiously)—Seems to me it would be all over before we got the window unlocked and the screen rolled up.

Miss Pollock—Nonsense, child, it's an easy matter to knock out a window.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT TO ARRIVE LISBON MAY 20

MADRID, May 4.—Miss Bell Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain, Joseph E. The Roosevelt party is expected to reach Barbadoes from the Amazon May 7. Col. Roosevelt will go first to New York, where he will remain ten days or a fortnight going thence to Madrid, where he will meet his son about June 8.

Kermit Roosevelt's marriage will take place probably during the second week of June in the Protestant Episcopal church in the building of the British embassy here.

Seventh Day Across Pond

From Morning Till Night On Saturday at Manzanita
Hall

(By FIFTEEN)
Saturday morning! You awake with a startled fear that it is vaguely "too late," a sensation that changes to one of disgust when you ascertain that it is only a quarter to six. Why is it, I wonder, that on school days your best intentions aided by a Big Ben alarm clock simply can't arouse you before the breakfast bell rings, while on Saturday when you fain would sleep your eyes fly open betimes.

Being awake, however, you arise and dress at leisure, even making your bed and combing your hair before breakfast. Breakfast is a lonesome meal and you eat the inevitable dry toast in solitary grandeur wondering mildly where the other girls can be.

You return to the hall, leisurely gather up your laundry, borrow a cake of soap from your roommate and some starch from the girl next door, and climb down the dark stairs to the basement where the confused chatter enlightens you as to the real cause for your loneliness at breakfast. There they all are—six girls using six tubs and all the other twenty-six coeds standing around muttering, "Me next. For the love of Mike, hurry."

You reflect that you really deep down in the bottom of your heart didn't want to wash anyway, so after informing the girls that they have missed a heavenly breakfast of fried chicken and Parker house rolls you retire to your room and in desperation inaugurate a season of house-cleaning calculated to favorably impress the matron.

Saturday afternoon at Manzanita! But surely I do not need to tell you about those teas that have made our hall famous. We all doll up and sit in the parlor and sip tea and chat sociably to the girl with whom we fought for the dust pan in the morning and thank our kind hostesses in studied phrases even while we are planning to rough-house their bedroom.

Almost all the girls go down town Saturday night—not that they want to go or have any place to go to, but it would be terrible not to take advantage of all the evenings you are allowed to venture forth. Down town after dinner, then, and the day ends with a frantic rush to gain the "harbour of home, sweet home" on the last stroke of ten.

Mrs. Myrtle Raymond and Miss Laurena Marzen spent Saturday and Sunday in Truckee.

Misses Frances Heidenrick and Juanita Frey enjoyed a few days in Franktown.

Women Belong To German N

Society Organized for Greater Interest in Athletics May Give Dance

This year's girls basket ball team met in room 6 on April 6, 1914, and organized a society to be known as the Women's "N" society. The members are to be all women who have been granted the Gothic N by the Associated students. The purpose of the organization is to arouse greater interest in girls' athletics and to give a firmer foundation for the government of the same.

In order that those granted their N's and basketballs may receive them each year, the girls give candy and peanut sales at the various athlete contests held on the McKay athletic field. This year at the Nevada-Santa Clara meet enough money was raised to buy the N's that were granted this year. Preparations are being made for another sale at the Academic meet the last of this month. There is also some talk of giving a dance in the near future.

Girls' Glee Doing Things

Preparing for a Joint Concert With Men's Glee Club for
May 30.

By Ruth Miller '16
A comparatively new organization—since it was formed only last year—is the Girls' Glee of the University. Last year it was successful in a measure, but did nothing startling until it joined forces with the Men's Glee club in the cantata, "The Rose Maiden." This year, with a larger membership, and regular practices under Miss Denny's leadership, the Girls' Glee has greatly improved. Parts are better balanced than ever before, and some very difficult music is being prepared for various occasions. At commencement time this year, the Girls' and Mens' Glee clubs will again unite, this time not for a cantata, but for a concert which is to be given in the gym on the evening of May 30. The girls are working up some very fine music as their share, and also as practice for an elaborate operetta which they are planning for next year.

ASILOMAR WILL ATTRACT MANY

It lies in the atmosphere of the place, in the vision of strong beautiful character which in one way and another will be shown during those ten days of ideal community living.

Any faculty lady, alumna or woman student may be enrolled as a regular visitor at Asilomar from August 4 to 15 by paying the registration fee of $5 and the board of $11. The association at Nevada hopes by paying a part of the expenses of its delegates to send six or eight girls to Asilomar in August, and present prospects are that the policy pursued in the past of interesting as many as possible in going is to be carried out successfully this year. Not less than 250 girls will gather at Asilomar and Nevada promises to furnish a twenty-fifth of the number.

Cadets Viewed Last Thursday

Following the rifle drill Company B was marched from the field while Captain Webster with Lieutenants McKinlay and Smythe, put their men through their paces. The men were given many movements of close and extended order which they executed well and with a snap. Then Captain Merry gave the commanding officer several military problems which the men solved satisfactorily.

Following Company A's drill, Company B was brought to the field and put through practically the same movements. Captain McPhail's men responded to his plea to do their best, and at the end of the day brought the flag home to his company.

Both Major Harriman and Captain Applewhite, commandant of the battalion, were exceedingly well pleased with the two companies.

Immediately following the announcement that Company B had taken the flag Captain McPhail gave his men "Rest" and they proceeded to let out some of their overstored enthusiasm caused by the announcement. Company A, though on the losing side, did not let its enthusiasm wane. The men put forth the statement that next year will be the beginning of another four years of bag ownership. This year is the first in which they have lost the flag in that time.

Nev. Glee Club Eastern Trip

SINGERS NOW JOURNEYING ON BIG UNIVERSITY ADVERTISING JOURNEY.

As this issue of the Sagebrush goes to press, Nevada's Glee club is journeying east on the most ambitious trip undertaken this season. The itinerary calls for six concerts, one each at Lovelocks, Winnemucca, Elko and Wells, and two at Ely and includes also much in the line of entertainment.

For instance, at Winnemucca several Nevada alumni have planned to entertain a few of the boys at their homes. At Elko Prof. Scragham has arranged a trip to Lamoile for his engineering students. To make this trip possible seven men must leave shortly after the concert at Winnemucca to reach Elko early Thursday morning. The 25-mile drive to Lamoile, rated as one of the prettiest in Nevada, will be made by auto. The men who will make this trip are Rose, Walker, Webster, Ferris, McKinlay, Rivett and Mills.

As Elko also there are a few alumni who have planned a reception for the representatives of their college. Wells has planned a dance to be held after the concert. Reports from Ely promise much. The concert there is being promoted by the business men of the town on a guarantee to the Glee club. They have also taken it upon themselves to entertain the men during the two days' stay. What they will do has not been announced, but a trip to the McGill smelter is assured.

This trip of the Glee club's is solely one for advertising. It is expected to pay only expenses, but is hoped to mean a larger enrollment for Nevada next year. Nothing means so much to a college as to show the people to whom it belongs a representative group of congenial, clean cut fellows.

The day after the club's return is scheduled a joint concert between the U. of N. Glee club and the U. of N. club, with much new music learned and the advantage of a week's constant singing, and it is expected that Nevada's club will make at least an equal showing with the Californians' singing.

Lincoln Hall Builds Roads

University of Nevada Support Good Roads and Men Pull Coats to Prove It

Last Sunday was good roads day in Reno, and in accordance with the spirit of such days every booster of Reno, the Lincoln highway and good roads was requested to get out and work.

The Lincoln hall men, inspired by the speeches in the student body meeting last Friday realized that this was a golden opportunity for the university to show the town people that they were co-operating with them for their initial good. Consequently at 9 o'clock Sunday morning 25 men left the hall in automobiles for the Carson road, prepared to work and help the spirit of the movement.

Arriving at various bad spots in the road the gang repaired them and continued on from place to place in this way until the road patching was completed. At about 12:30 Bowers' Mansion was reached, where luncheon, beer, soda water and hot baths predominated.

After an hour's rest the return trip was started. This part of the trip was made in a great deal better time, since the roads were now fixed, which speaks well for the energy of the workers. After returning to the hall everyone decided that they had had one grand time and the object of the day thus spent was accomplished.

The town people seemed to appreciate our efforts, as is shown by an article in the Monday morning State Journal, quoted herewith:

"The University of Nevada furnished a good representation among the workers, a party of 25 students from Lincoln hall joining the crowd that left the court house. The students were excellent workers and set a pace that some of the older volunteers followed with difficulty."

CADETS ON DUTY.

From military headquarters at the university comes the announcement that the University Cadets will co-operate with the automobile men of Reno by patrolling the course of the road race on May 30. The cadets will be in uniform and will carry their guns. This act on the part of the University Cadets and Captain Applewhite will be greatly appreciated by the auto men, and in turn for the courtesy extended them, they are preparing to hold the race in the morning, beginning at 10 o'clock instead of in the afternoon as contemplated. This change will give the people of Reno a chance to witness both the road race in the morning and the academic meet on Makay field in the afternoon.

DIVIDING THE TASK.

Lottie—Oh, well, let's kiss and make up.

Dottie—All right, dear. I'll do the kissing, but you've had more experience with the other part of the program.—Cleveland Leader.
