

Emmet D. Boyle '99 Our New Governor

The inauguration on Monday of Nevada's newly elected executives marked a pleasant and important feature of the State's history. The University of Nevada came in for its share of glory and joyfulness in the event, as Emmet D. Boyle, '99, the new Governor, is a Nevada graduate and the first one to fill this important position. Besides being the first University of Nevada graduate to fill the office he is the first native-born Nevadan.

Emmet D. Boyle was born in Virginia City and received his early grammar-school and high-school education on the Comstock. His father was connected with the mining game and held many important positions in the early days of the great silver camp, and it was natural for the son to pursue the same course, and when he registered at the University in 1895 he entered the School of Mines. While at the University he was one of the live members of the class of '99, both in studies and class affairs. He was one of the founders and a charter member of Sigma Alpha fraternity, and when Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor fraternity, was installed at the University he was one of the alumni with a scholarship record that was admitted.

Following his graduation he went to Mexico, where he held important mining positions. He returned to Nevada at the death of his father and later held the position of State Engineer. He was appointed to the State Tax Commission and resigned from that office to make the race for Governor. His campaign was marked by good, clean, progressive policies and he was elected by a handsome majority.

Program Outlined Welfare Meeting

REPRESENTATIVES OF VARIOUS INDUSTRIES TO PLAN CO-OPERATION FOR ADVANCEMENT OF THE STATE

A preliminary program for the efficiency and general welfare congress to be held at the University the 5th and 6th of February has been given out by Dean J. G. Scrugham. Representative men with high official rank in the biggest and best interests of the State are to be brought together and, through intelligent discussion and co-operation, will plan for the expansion of the agricultural, mining and other industrial interests of Nevada, by such means as may be deemed the most efficient for the general welfare of the State.

Governor Boyle is expected to preside at the welfare meeting, which will be attended by railway presidents and general managers, presidents of mining and other corporations, members of the Legislature and others who may be in a position to add to the effectiveness of the State welfare proposition.

On Friday morning, Feb. 5, two sections of the conference will be held—one being for agricultural and stock men and the other electrical.

The interests of the agriculturists and stock men will be discussed along broad lines and facts brought out to show the opportunities that exist in Nevada in those branches of industry, for encouraging the settlement of the vast tracts of good land that are now open in the State. A feature of the proceedings of this section will be the butchering of a beef to show the farmers and stock men how this work should be done to secure the best results and most perfect meat.

The State Electrical Association will meet in conjunction with the electrical section, at which the managers of all the electrical power companies in the State are expected to be present. The principal subject of discussion will be electric irrigation and pumping, and each power company will be asked to present, through its management a paper on the subject of what they can do in that line, together with rates and opportunities in their neighborhoods.

In the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the State Industrial Safety Association will hold its annual meeting. At 3 o'clock a general meeting will be held to discuss advancing the welfare of the State through agricultural development.

Saturday forenoon a number of small section meetings of specialists in various lines will be held.

The general welfare meeting will be held Saturday afternoon, and it is expected to be one of the most important gatherings ever held in the State looking to the advancement and expansion of its various industries.

Governor Boyle will preside and outline some of the great things that may be accomplished by concerted effort of the big men and big interests of the State toward its advancement and its welfare. President William Sproule of the Harriman lines, who has accepted an invitation to be present, is expected to outline plans and methods that may be put into effect by the Southern Pacific Railroad to encourage the settlement of agricultural lands along its line of road.

H. C. Nutt, vice-president and general manager of the San Pedro road, and some high representative of the Western Pacific, are also expected to tell what their roads can do and will to encourage the settlement and increase the industrial population of the State.

Presidents or managers of mining and other corporations will discuss features of the general welfare from the viewpoint of their industries. Quite a number of the leading members of the Legislature will probably attend this meeting and get a good line-up on what the Legislature may be expected to appropriate.

Exhibit At Fair Is Large

SAN DIEGO AND SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITIONS TO SHOW BEST OF NEVADA'S PRODUCTS

Both the agricultural and mining exhibits for the San Diego and San Francisco expositions are rapidly nearing completion and should be in readiness, it is now estimated, about the 15th of January.

The agricultural exhibits are being prepared under the direction of Lloyd B. Patrick, '13, formerly business manager of The Sagebrush. Quite a corps of aggie students are assisting in the work, which is being done in Stewart Hall, on the third deck.

The agricultural exhibits will be thoroughly representative of every agricultural product in the State, including native grasses, range feeds, wool, etc. The exhibit for San Francisco will be especially high class, as it will be in competition with exhibits from other states, and those in charge of the Nevada exhibit propose to have it among the biggest winners of prizes. This exhibit has been awarded a prominent place in the Agricultural Palace and will be where it will attract a great deal of attention during the exposition.

While the San Diego exhibit will be thoroughly good in every way, it will not be as large as the San Francisco exhibit and will not be entered in any competition for prizes.

The mining exhibit is being prepared at the Mackay School of Mines, and a large number of cases have already been shaped up and packed. For convenience in assembling the specimens, places have been chalked off on the floor of the museum of the size of the cases in which the specimens will be exhibited, and into these are placed selected specimens to comfortably fill it. Each of these separate exhibits can then be labeled and packed for shipment, and when they are unpacked in San Francisco they can quickly be assigned to a case without any confusion.

Mining companies all over the State have extended the heartiest co-operation in supplying specimens, and Nevada will have a mineral exhibit that will be a credit and splendid advertisement of the mineral resources of the State.

Nevada Chemical Club Organized

NEW ORGANIZATION IS OPEN TO STUDENTS AND FACULTY; ADVANCEMENT OF INTEREST IN CHEMISTRY IS IDEA

A new organization on the campus, to be known as the Nevada Chemical Club, is to hold its first formal meeting in the near future and form a permanent organization. At a meeting held shortly before Christmas August Holmes was elected chairman and H. L. White, '16, secretary and treasurer. A constitution has been adopted, permanent officers will be elected and the work of the society will be outlined.

Lest the idea prevail that the club is for the exploitation of advanced research alone, it is announced that such is not the case. Every-day problems of developments in easily understood scientific fields are to be discussed, and the great chances now open to the world through advances in industrial chemistry will be treated in various papers.

Last semester greater interest was shown in the chemistry courses than ever before; so much so, in fact, that the old chemistry laboratory was overcrowded and new rooms had to be arranged for upstairs. Due to this decided increase in interest the Chemical Club should be a strong factor in campus activities.

Governing Board Appoints Staff

FIRST MEETING OF NEW BOARD OF REGENTS RESULTS IN SELECTION OF INSTRUCTORS

Last Monday the newly elected board of regents of the University held their first meeting, at which several important matters were taken up. Dr. H. E. Reid retired as chairman and a member of the board of regents, and C. B. Henderson, a member of the old board, was elected to fill Dr. Reid's place as chairman. All the members of the board were present with the exception of Dr. J. J. Sullivan, who was unable to attend because of the serious illness of one of his children.

After an all-day session, during which time three instructors and assistants were selected and the biennial report of the president and board of regents was considered, the day was finished by a dinner given by President A. W. Hendrick to the regents and the retiring chairman, at the home of the president.

The personnel of the new board is as follows: C. B. Henderson, short-term regent, chairman; A. A. Codd, long term; J. W. O'Brien, long term; Walter Pratt, long term; Dr. J. J. Sullivan, long term. George H. Taylor is secretary and C. H. Gorman is assistant secretary.

The following appointments were made: H. Harold Mosher, recently of Stanford University, to be instructor in the soils chemistry department. James A. Nyswander, graduate of the University of California and teaching fellow there last year, to be instructor in the department of mathematics; F. A. Collins, recently deputy in the Auditor's office of Churchill county, to be assistant in the controller's office, vice Miss Florence McGavic. The post in mathematics is a new one.

The president's report caused a discussion that took most of the day. It is voluminous, including all departments and an analysis of their usefulness to the State and will make a pamphlet of sixty to eighty pages. It will be made public in about ten days and is calculated to acquaint the people and the Legislature with the needs and purposes of the University.

At the president's annual dinner, held at 7:30 o'clock, the guests included the members of the board of regents, including Dr. Reid, the retiring chairman; Chief Justice Norcross of the Supreme Court; Ex-Governor Oddie, C. H. Gorman and Vice-President Robert Lewers. Governor Boyle sent regrets, being occupied with his own inauguration.

The next meeting of the board of regents is planned for February 5, during the Efficiency and General Welfare Convention, which is to be held at that time.

EDITORIAL

EMMET D. BOYLE, '99

To Emmet D. Boyle, '99, a graduate of the University of Nevada, of whom we are all proud, we give happiest greetings, in acknowledgement of the honor that has been bestowed upon him and the University when he was selected Governor of Nevada. May his administration be in keeping with his past record, which is all that can be asked.

BEST WISHES

The Sagebrush extends to all the University of Nevada—from president to the most recent and inconsequential "fresh"—to the good people of Reno and our patrons scattered over the country, our very best and most heartfelt wishes for a Happy New Year.

PAY NOW

Before the semester is fairly started and while the mind and pocket-book are still in good condition, why not take that A. S. U. N. card and be a member of the student body of your chosen school? Nothing can be gained by waiting till next month to pay; your money is needed right now, in order to start the 1915 season off as it should be. Nevada has the athletes and ability to win in competition, but if the "commercial spirit," which is a polite name for the real thing, is allowed to take the place of school spirit, an energetic few can do little.

Pay Your A. S. U. N. Dues Now

Greetings

By Dr. A. W. Hendrick, President University of Nevada

The University of Nevada presents to the citizens of the State of Nevada its best wishes for a happy and prosperous 1915. It pledges its best endeavors to the solution of the problems which will aid in the prosperity of its citizens, extending the knowledge which has come down through the ages to the professions represented here, with the hope that the vocations may be made more profitable, that the industries represented may be more prosperous and that there may come to the State happiness; that the light of knowledge may be more far-reaching and that the service which the University performs may bring happiness, comforts and joys to every household within our borders.

As our mountains are rugged and our fields are productive and our mines are rich, so may our inhabitants partake of those qualities which our natural resources possess in such abundance. The University of Nevada wishes joy, happiness and cheer and peace to all our citizens through 1915.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

Glad to be back, are you? Or are you thinking still of the "Home, Sweet Home" that so gladly welcomed you? And the good-by that maybe Mother gave you, with voice a little husky and eyes a trifle damp? If so, you're lucky. Just remember that little tableau when the college work begins to drag, and remember what is expected of you.

Breathlessly he rushed into the barber shop and sprang into the chair. "I want a shave and a hair-cut, and I have only fifteen minutes," he said. Old Fritz stopped to consider, and asked: "Vitch do you vant most?" "A shave." The shave took about eleven minutes. As Fritz removed the towel from his customer's neck he said: "Mine friend, don't nefer again ask a barber to cut your hairs and shafe you in fifteen minutes, because sometime you might find a barber vat would do it."—Youth's Companion.

OSWEGO TEAM OF NEW YORK, ON TOUR OF COUNTRY, DESIRE GAME WITH RENO

If plans which are now being prepared are successful the Oswego basket-ball club of New York will be seen in competition with the Nevada team in the latter part of February. The Southern Pacific Company is arranging the schedule, and, according to J. M. Fulton, assistant general passenger and freight agent of that road, the chances are good for arranging a game on the return trip of the team from California, where they are to play a series of games. Since they demand a $100 guarantee and hotel expenses, assurances of a good crowd would be necessary to justify the game.

Grimstead of the Oswego team is said to be the best in the country. It would be quite interesting to see the way they stack up against the home team.

STATISTICS FROM MINING SCHOOL SHOW INCREASE IN ITS USEFULNESS TO THE STATE AT LARGE

The Nevada state mining laboratory has now been in existence for nearly twenty years. The laboratory has been organized as a department of the Mackay School of Mines and has for its object the free analysis of ores, minerals and rocks taken from within the boundaries of Nevada by citizens of the state. Its work has grown enormously since its inception, as will be seen from the following table:

During the year of 1914, just finished, 804 persons sent in 1631 samples from 248 localities, and the state mining laboratory made 6533 determinations on these samples. This is an increase of almost 50 per cent over the number of persons and samples for 1913.

Those sending samples to the Nevada state mining laboratory would derive much greater benefit from its work if they all took large samples and crushed them down and quartered them and finally sent a considerable quantity to the laboratory, than if, as is commonly the case, they sent only a few fragments. A few pieces are good when it is only desired that the rock or mineral be determined, but where the actual contents of a sample is in question, it is much better to send a large finely ground sample, since a few pieces even when broken from the same piece of material are apt to give widely different results. It is to be hoped that in the future greater care will be exercised in selecting and preparing material sent to the state laboratory.

The Nevada state mining laboratory was established by an act of the legislature on March 16, 1895, to provide a method by which the citizens of Nevada might have ores, minerals, soils and waters taken from within the boundaries of the state analyzed free of charge. The original law specifically stated that assays for gold and silver should not be made, but a later act, under date of March 16, 1897, called for the state mining laboratory to make such assays but to report only whether the sample contained more or less than $5.00 in gold or in silver.

The laboratory is run in connection with the Mackay School of Mines under the direction of Professor Lincoln. Most of the analytical work is performed by Assistant Professor Palmer, while the rocks and some of the minerals are determined by Professor Jones. The work of the mining laboratory has been of the greatest assistance to the people of Nevada and is constantly growing, as more and more of them become acquainted with it. Thus, during the first five years, only a little over one hundred persons sent in samples, whereas during the last five years the number of people sending in samples has amounted to over 2600.

The work would be still more valuable if it were performed upon carefully taken and prepared samples instead of being done, as is usually the case, on one or two pieces. Material in this condition does not really constitute a sample, but is simply a specimen and as such will differ very materially in value from a carefully taken sample. Indeed, if a single piece is broken in two and the two halves are assayed separately, the results are almost certain to be widely disproportionate. In order to get the full benefit of the work of the state laboratory, prospectors should take large samples representative of their ore and crush and quarter them down, sending finally a good sized sack of fine material for determination. All the valuable metals, including gold, silver, lead, copper and zinc are quantitatively determined, but the gold and other metals are given exactly in percentages. In case special requests are made for quantitative work aside from the determination of metals, the laboratory usually performs this work, but the right is reserved to decide upon how extensive a chemical examination is necessary to determine whether the material is of value or not. If this were not done it would frequently be necessary for the state to expend considerable sums of money making quantitative analyses of worthless material. No reasonable requests are, however, refused, and where there is any question as to the possible value of the material, the samples are always analyzed.

When the prospector desires a report on a rock or mineral, it is better to send the substance in the shape of specimens rather than samples. These specimens should be as fresh and unaltered character as possible, as it is much more difficult to determine rocks and minerals when they are partially decomposed. Those connected with the laboratory hope that in future not only will the number of samples sent in increase, but also that greater care will be exercised in their selection and preparation.

FRANK RICH COMPANY OPENS TONIGHT AT THE MAJESTIC FOR WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

A FEW OF THE ROLLICKING GIRLS APPEARING AT THE MAJESTIC

Commencing Wednesday, January 6, the Frank Rich Company will open a week's engagement at the Majestic Theater with new shows, scenery and costumes. Since last season the company has been enlarged and improved and will offer as their opening bill the big Eastern musical comedy success, "The Rollicking Girl," in two acts and three scenes, teeming with alert lines and funny situations, with which are intermingled seventeen late song hits and specialties. This company is pronounced by both press and public the peer of all popular priced musical shows ever on the road. The second offering Friday will be another successful comedy with an entire change of scenery, wardrobe, songs and dances, a show that will send you home in good spirits and cause you many laughs for several days after, and will most certainly live up to the Rich slogan, "Leave everybody happy." Popular prices will prevail. During the engagement here they will change shows on Friday, Sunday and Monday.

TWO MORE OF CLASS OF '16 ARE HAPPILY UNITED IN WEDLOCK

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Erma Keith to George K. Beard reached the campus during Christmas vacation. The marriage was the culmination of a college friendship begun at Nevada. Both the bride and groom are members of the 1916 class. Miss Erma Keith was a well-known and popular member of the old prep school and later entered the University, but was forced to leave the same year because her family moved to Los Angeles.

George Beard spent two years at Nevada. He was an active member of the debating society and a member of Phi Delta Tau.

The wedding was held Dec. 22 at high noon, in the ballroom of the Larchmont apartments, Los Angeles. Rev. George Davidson of St. John's parish officiated. The ceremony was witnessed by the families of the bride and groom and by a few friends, after which an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The happy couple are spending a honeymoon in San Diego. They will be at home to friends in Modesto, Cal., after Feb. 1.

The many friends of the bride and groom at Nevada extend the heartiest of congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Beard.

NOTICE

Jan. 5, 1915.—All male students registering in any department of the University will report to the commandant for registration in the military department. Commandant will be at his office in armory from 9:30 A. M. to 12 M. and from 2 to 4 P. M.

A bulletin issued recently by the Colorado School of Mines at Golden announces plans for a mining short course, for prospectors primarily, similar to that announced some time ago by Professor F. C. Lincoln of the Mackay School of Mines. The idea of popularizing scientific mining methods is a commendable one and is spreading rapidly.

Practice Games
Start Season

NEW MEN SHOW CLASS AND A SUCCESSFUL SEASON IS ANTICIPATED

Basket-ball practice has already started, and all the fellows who know the game at all are now hard at work. The plan at present is to have two or three practice games a week until the middle of January, in order to develop all the team work possible and give the new material a chance to show their worth. Rumors of an inter-fraternity series of games have been heard, but as yet no definite announcement of it has been made.

The chances of Nevada winning the intercollegiate championship this year are of the brightest. Only one of the last year's team has been lost, and the new material so far developed more than fills the gap. In fact, some of the old men are going to do their best to hold their places.

S. G. Palmer has been appointed as acting assistant to Dean J. G. Scrugham of the engineering department, pending the arrival of a permanent instructor.

All that's best—you know the rest. D. C. & W. Co.

University Represented At Teacher's Institute

PRESIDENT HENDRICK DELIVERS ADDRESS AT ANNUAL INSTITUTE OF TEACHERS

The annual institute of Nevada teachers, which was held in Reno during the Christmas holidays, was quite interesting and was largely attended. At the close of the institute a banquet was given at the Riverside Hotel, at which J. F. Abel of Winnemucca, deputy State superintendent, presided as toastmaster, and President A. W. Hendrick of the University of Nevada was the principal speaker. About forty-five teachers attended.

It was decided to raise $100 among teachers of western Nevada to be used in carrying on the work of the Nevada Education Association. The question of providing State headquarters at the National Education Association convention at San Francisco next summer was discussed.

In lecturing before the State Teachers' Institute at the closing session President A. W. Hendrick of the University of Nevada spoke of the desirability of extending education to meet the needs of all the people and prevent the decrease of attendance in the schools as students grow older. A more democratic education is needed, he said. He brought to attention the vocational idea being advanced by the United States government Department of Education.

In a general way President Hendrick discussed plans for enlarging the education department of the University of Nevada, which, he said, would be continued. These plans would be announced when they were matured, he believed. He urged the teachers to make use of the University as much as possible in their work.

Miss Elsie Sameth of the University faculty directed a class in folk dancing for the benefit of the institute. Following this exhibition a basket-ball game was played between the high-school girls and the freshmen girls of the University. The high school won, 5 to 4. A picture of the two teams was taken for the school exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Communication

Editor Sagebrush, Reno, Nevada:
Dear Sir—Immediately upon my return from the state teachers' institute, my attention was called to the article in your issue of Monday, December 21, under the title, "Winnemucca is Forfeit Victim." And the request was made of me that an explanation of the situation be sent you for publication.

Ordinarily it is wiser not to enter into any such a discussion. But it is certainly only fair that both sides of a story be given; and believing that your paper stands for a "square deal," I am sending you this brief word in our behalf with the request that it be published.

It is true that the Reno girls were defeated here in October, and that athletic relations between the two schools were severed the next day by consent of the management of both teams as a result of some misunderstandings. It is also fair that the difficulties have never been adjusted since that time and athletic relations have never been resumed. Consequently there was not return game scheduled for Friday, December 18, nor for any other date. Consequently no game to be forfeited by either team.

It may further be said that anyone knowing the rules governing basket ball is aware of the fact that any forfeiture of a game is a matter to be ordered by the referee; and the referee is always appointed by the visiting team. Now in such a game as your article refers to played in Reno, ours would be the visiting team with the right to select such official. But no such officer was ever appointed by us, consequently there was no one vested with any authority to declare such a game forfeited.

Nothing could have surprised us more than the so-called "notice" which was given us of the game, scheduled without our consent and long after relations had been severed. Moreover, the word reached us only about a day prior to the date set. Allowing no time at all to select an official, arrange the usual one-fare transportation for the team, or cancel other appointments if we had desired to do so.

In conclusion I will say that our

Academic League Board To Meet

PLANS FOR COMING INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET TO BE OUTLINED AT MEETING ON MONDAY

In order to prepare amply for the next interscholastic track and field meet of Nevada high schools a meeting of the board of control of the Nevada Academic League has been called by the chairman, Dean J. G. Scrugham, for next Monday, the 11th of January.

As soon as the snow clears off the ground the various high schools of the State will begin training for this annual meet, the biggest event in high-school athletics. The last meet held on the Mackay Field was eminently successful, and it is assured that the 1915 meet will be as satisfactory in every way.

Trophy Cup Won By Junior Team

BY WINNING INTERCLASS BASKET-BALL CHAMPIONSHIP FOR THREE CONSECUTIVE YEARS SIXTEEN HOLDS PRIZE

As a result of the game between the juniors and freshmen, which the juniors won by a score of 38 to 18, just prior to Christmas, the juniors have permanent possession of the Lachman & Mayer trophy cup as the winners of the interclass championship each year since the cup was offered. The sophs lost to the freshmen, and the freshmen and seniors lost to the juniors. The following men will have their names engraved on the cup: George Henningsen, Lloyd McCubbin, Si Krummes, Fred Hovey, Bourke Healy and Ted Wolford.

team is really very anxious to play a return game in Reno; and will most certainly be there to meet any appointments that may be properly arranged through the management of the two teams, after other matters have been adjusted.

Very respectfully yours,
C. A. JEWELL.

Regent Sullivan's Twin Son Dies

BABE PASSES AWAY AFTER A BRIEF VISIT ON EARTH; BROTHER IS IN BEST OF HEALTH

Last Monday afternoon the home of Regent and Mrs. J. J. Sullivan was saddened when their infant son, Daniel Raymond, died after a relapse from a more hopeful condition. He was only seven days old when his earthly visit ended.

The Sullivan family are receiving condolences from their many friends in Nevada, and best wishes for the other twin, who is in the best of health.

The absence of Dr. Sullivan from the meeting of the board of regents, to which position he was recently elected, was noted and regretted, especially when the reason therefor was reported.

Mrs. Sullivan will be remembered as Miss Maud Hobart and was one of the most prominent young women of the University. She belonged to the class of '05 and to the Delta Rho sorority.
