

Welfare Work To Aid State

IMPORTANCE OF CONFERENCE IS BEING RECOGNIZED; ALL INDUSTRIES REPRESENTED

From the number and tone of the various articles in the State press, the importance and general good to be derived from the general welfare conference, to be held at Nevada Feb. 5 and 6 is seen and recognized by all.

Mining, agriculture, irrigation, manufacturing, cattle raising and other industries that figure prominently in the activities and prosperity of the State, the expansion and betterment thereof, together with means for encouraging and promoting the settlement of the State, will be discussed by some of the most eminent and representative men of the West.

Talks and advanced electro-chemical methods are expected to be a feature of the scientific end of the conference. The resources of Nevada offer great opportunities for the development of chemical industries that would also aid the electric power plants of the State and supply the needs of the farming and mining localities with needed nitrates and metallurgical supplies.

Not Giving It Away.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon was asked today what he thought of the outlook for the Republican party in 1916, and he answered with a story.

"A black man was arrested for horse-stealing while I was prosecuting-attorney in Vermilion county," he said, "and was placed on trial after being duly indicted. When his day in court came he was taken before the judge and I solemnly read the charge in the indictment to him.

"Are you guilty or not?" I asked. "The black man rolled uneasily in his chair. 'Well, boss,' he finally said, 'ain't dat the very thing we're about to try?'"—New York Herald.

It is the wish of President Hendrick that all of the faculty and students of the University of Nevada attend the weekly assemblies, held Friday morning, at 11 o'clock.

1916 Artemesia Is Now Assured

WORK ON CLASS ANNUAL DELAYED, BUT PUBLICATION NOW CERTAIN.

At a meeting held yesterday forenoon by the Junior class, the resignation of the business manager of the "Artemesia," the Junior annual, was accepted and Louis Rose was elected to fill the vacancy. Albert Jackson remains as editor, with Leslie Johnson as assistant editor. Plans are already being formed by the newly-elected manager for an energetic soliciting campaign, and the support of all is earnestly desired in order to make the 1916 "Artemesia" one of which the class whose numericals it will bear will be justly proud.

South America To Much for Him

FRED HENRIQUES RETURNS TO NEVADA.

After spending eighteen months in the wilds of South America endeavoring to acquaint the unappreciative native of the Argentine Republic in the art of scientific farming, Fred Henriques, a member of the class of 1915 and a former student in the University Prep school during the last days of its existence, returned to Nevada last week prepared to finish his college course.

Besides enduring the pleasures and hardships of the South American country while in good health, Fred had the misfortune to contract malaria, and spent three months in a sanitarium near Buenos Ayres.

His first act upon his recovery was to find out when the next ship left for the United States, and upon it he took passage for his home in New York and thence to Reno.

He has many interesting tales to relate regarding his trip and in a future issue he will give a complete account of life in Argentine as he saw it, and will probably call the story "Eighteen Months of Real Life," or "Why Do Chemists Leave Home."

Game Saturday Begins Schedule

LOVELOCK TEAM WILL MEET NEVADA; VARSITY IS BETTER EVEN THAN LAST YEAR

Next Friday evening at eight o'clock the first scheduled basket-ball game of Nevada's 1915 season will be played, when the crack Lovelock team faces the varsity. Practice has been strenuous and exacting since the training season opened, but the results show in improved team work and accurate basket throwing. The line-up next Saturday is practically the same as last year's crack team. The men play together with machine-like smoothness that comes to a team only after years of consistent work, so that the highest hopes are entertained for a championship team this year.

After the game a dance will be given, to which students and town-folk are invited. The best of music is to be provided, and, since it is the first dance of the present season, it should draw a large crowd.

Athletic System To Include All

COMPANY TRAINING FOR UNIVERSITY MEN IS PLANNED BY ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

According to Jack Glascock, athletic director for men, a new system of athletics is to be established at Nevada if plans now being matured are acted on. All freshmen will be required to pass a thorough examination for all physical defects. Every man out for any team must pass a nominal strength test of 600. It will be remembered that the standard set for football aspirants last fall was 650, and very few failed to pass.

When the physical examination is made a card index is kept of the defects of each man. Later, when the gym classes begin, special exercises will be detailed each man in order to build up weak points.

Another plan that promises well is the idea of getting competition in the rudiments of the various games rather than in the games complete. In this way more men would interest themselves in athletics, and men who would otherwise not compete in any way would receive the benefits of outdoor athletics and also help the university. The only excuse accepted will be a doctor's certificate of disability.

The Y. M. C. A. facilities have been offered to the University for the wrestling and swimming classes. Arrangements to transform the first floor of the training quarters to accommodate the wrestlers are being made, and classes are soon to start. Boxing classes will also be formed, in line with the present policy of preparedness for any exigency.

The examining classes are to be divided into two sections, one for beginners and one for the more experienced ones. Competition in this line of athletics will be arranged as soon as the material in hand is ascertained. Morris Schindler, captain of last year's Oakland High swimming team, now registered at Nevada in the freshman class, should show his class in the aquatic events.

A meeting is to be held on Tuesday night at 7:30 at the T. H. P. O. house for the purpose of planning swimming classes and arranging the best times. All who are interested in this line of athletics are urged to be present in order to arrange the best schedule for all.

Debate Tryouts Held Tuesday

EIGHT DEBATERS SELECTED FOR FINAL COMPETITION FOR PLACES ON TEAM.

The University Debating society held an open meeting Tuesday evening for the purpose of trying out aspirants for the debating teams to represent Nevada in the annual debate with Brigham Young university. The tryout was the first to be held this season and showed much good material.

The question debated was: "Resolved, that the single tax should be substituted for the general property tax in cities of over ten thousand population."

From the number who presented their respective arguments, eight were selected for further competition.

At the next meeting, which will be held January 26, the eight selected will be reduced to six or two teams of three each. The winners of the two team debate will be selected as a first team to debate Brigham Young university the last week in February and the second team will debate the College of the Pacific on the same question.

Besides the trip to Utah this year, the first team members will be given cash prizes as an extra incentive for good work. Unusual ability and conscientious work showed in the tryouts Tuesday evening. A great variety in the manner of presenting the arguments was evident but the efforts as a whole were a battle of plain substantiated facts versus metaphors. The selection of the judges decided the advantage to be with those who depended upon the facts to prove their statements.

The eight members chosen last night are Lister Withers, Helen Hefnerman, John Heard, Morman Parks, Oscar Davis, Chas. P. Reilly, J. I. Cazier and Wm. Fife.

Dean Watson of the School of Arts and Science presided over the meeting. The judges of the manuscript were Judge Harwood, Professor A. E. Hill and Professor Romango Adams. The judges of expression were Professor Chas. Haseman, Professor H. W. Hill and Judge L. B. Fowler.

Miss Adele Norcross gave a delightful reading while the judges were casting their votes.

Meet Arranged With Freshmen

NEW SYSTEM OF COACHING WILL BE TRIED OUT BY COACH GLASSCOCK

Track work for the spring semester is to be conducted on a somewhat different basis than heretofore, according to Coach Glascock. Instead of coaching each man personally, as has been the custom during past years, veteran track men of previous seasons are to be put in charge of the different events and each subcoach is to work under the direction of Glascock. In this way more detailed attention can be given to each man, and the best results are expected.

Since the California freshman track season ends March 13, when Nevada is only beginning track work in earnest, a post-season meet about April 1, on the Mackay Field, is planned, providing the California authorities are willing to extend the freshman schedule to that date.

Wrestling contests with the University of California are also being planned. Trips are to be taken alternate years by the team, consisting of from four to six men, though the general procedure will be to bring as many athletic contests as is possible to the Nevada campus.

Rifle and Tennis Matches Planned

NEW EVENTS TO BE RECOGNIZED AS MINOR SPORTS; COMPETITION ARRANGED

Two new branches of minor sports, which were included in the contract arranged with California last year, are now receiving their share of attention. The new sports are rifle shooting and tennis.

A rifle match between Nevada and California will probably be held the latter part of April or early in May, the exact date to be agreed upon later. The teams will probably be composed of six men each, and in the first match each team will shoot on its home range under the supervision of a judge to be agreed upon, the scores being exchanged upon conclusion of the match. After this, if possible, a second match will be held on a neutral range—probably the Presidio of San Francisco—and the services of some of the officers of that post will be obtained to conduct the match.

This will be the first year that a team representing our university has shot in competition with a team of another institution. While our rifle club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association, in view of the fact that the national rifle match is shot between May 15 and June 15, as a rule, our club has been unable to take part. California has been handicapped for the same reason. Both institutions boast of some of the fine rifle shots, and there is sure to be a struggle for places on the teams to compete in this match, and it is expected that some fine scores will be made.

If the match this year is as successful as it appears it will be, efforts will be made next year to arrange a match with the Oregon Agricultural College. A triangular match between these three institutions would arouse a great deal of interest and would be of benefit to all.

Captain Applewhite is directing the shooting practice and will select the team. Withers is acting captain of the Nevada tennis team for the coming season.

There will be a meeting of the Block N Society held in the training quarters on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. Business of importance will be discussed, and all members are urged to be present. By order of P. H. S.

PROF. EXPERIENCE

Once more we address the alumnae of Nevada and convey to them our earnest desire to become better acquainted. Why not drop us a line now and then and reassure us of your backing? Of course it's hard to keep up your interest in the university work, now that one is out and fighting the hard old battle of life, but try it, anyway, and help build up that spirit of unity which goes so far toward establishing a university in its proper position. Surely after you left Nevada you have learned something that would aid us present-day students who are following in your footsteps.

Experience is a dear teacher—in fact, no university to date has been able to give a course under that best of instructors, and it is just that which renders many a student's education useless for many a year. Sit down and write to us.

How to Pronounce Them.—For the information of war-inclined readers, we print the following table of pronunciation, hoping it will prove as helpful and illuminating as the average table of its kind in the daily press:

Xyrousspucbiurj, pronounced Yuhs-hkdhs-g-hsg-hgz-j; Hbcdhkhfgeu, pronounced Lawyuf-ghfs-ing-yz; Zygfr, pronounced Gsfx-fy; Vitkefhdhkkz-ypri, pronounced Vod-ka; Grkama-matveitch, pronounced Dsanmeo-gobombski; Boobmf, pronounced Boobmf.—Puck.

General Assembly Friday Morning

WELFARE CONVENTION WILL BE HELD WEEKLY FOR THE ENTIRE UNIVERSITY

Last Friday a new and commendable innovation in Nevada affairs was inaugurated in the form of an assembly for faculty and students of the university. As previously announced by President Hendrick, the assembly is to be held every Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the gymnasium, and the attendance of the whole university is desired. Matters of general welfare and interest are to be discussed; the best of speakers and most noted educators are to be secured for future assemblies, in order to acquaint Nevada workers with the best and latest advances in all lines of educational endeavor.

President Hendrick, in making the initial address, said it was his wish in this way to bring all students together so that better relations may exist between all. Seating arrangements are to be perfected so that every one may attend. By arranging for such a complete meeting of all connected with the university, matters affecting the common weal may well be discussed and the general sentiment of all ascertained. A united student body should surely be possible in a university the size of Nevada, and the results of such unity, showing in Nevada's past history, should be continued in the future.

Y. W. C. A.

MISS MARY BENTLEY WILL BE THE SPEAKER AT WEDNESDAY'S MEETING

The meeting Wednesday will be held at the regular time and place—room 6 at 4:30. A special opportunity is given to all the women students of the university to hear Miss Bentley talk. She is student secretary of this field—California, Nevada and Arizona—and is widely interested in Y. W. C. A. work. Special music has also been arranged. Every one is invited.

A reception is to be given by the Young Women's Christian Association to some of the interested women of Reno and to the members of the association at the home of Mrs. John Fulton at 146 West First street. The reception is given in honor of Miss Bentley.

Watch for the Zudora sundae to appear soon. D. C. & W. Co.

Registration

Enrollment at the University of Nevada continues to show a healthy increase, according to the figures obtained from the registrar, Miss Sissa. Practically all of last year's students have returned, and about thirty new ones have registered. A few were turned away because of inability to register in the studies desired, which were two-semester courses and prevent mid-semester registering. All told, however, the registration is more than satisfactory.

Noted Worker Visits Campus

STUDENT SECRETARY OF Y. W. C. A. FIELD COMMITTEE WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

The Y. W. C. A. will be honored this week by a visit from one of her secretaries. Miss Mary I. Bentley, who is student secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association's field committee of this district, will be on the campus from Wednesday to Sunday. Many of the girls of our association have already met her at the summer conference and speak of her enthusiastically as a woman of wonderful personality and intellect. This is the first visit Miss Bentley has made here.

During her short visit Y. W. has planned many events whereby the women of Reno and the students of the university may meet her. Among these events is the regular meeting Wednesday, when Miss Bentley will give a short talk on the work of the Young Women's Christian Association in other places.

Exchange Plan Wins Approval

PROGRESS REPORT BY DIRECTOR LINCOLN SHOWS FAVORABLE ATTITUDE OF WESTERN MINING SCHOOLS

As a result of the plan suggested by Professor F. C. Lincoln, director of the Mackay School of Mines, whereby the various Western mining schools were invited to exchange mining professors for a series of lectures, many cordial responses have been received. The University of Utah, Washington State College and the Colorado School of Mines have heartily agreed to participate; Washington University, Oregon Agricultural College, University of Idaho and Montana School of Mines have asked their respective presidents or boards of regents for permission to partake in the exchange, but as yet no definite answers have been received. The University of Arizona, the New Mexico School of Mines and the University of Wyoming have also asked their regents for permission, and favorable responses seem probable.

All of the replies received so far have been generally favorable to the scheme, and only one school has as yet refused to participate. Three of the schools have definitely agreed to the plan, while nine have requested of their boards of regents or presidents to do so.

The following extracts from letters received by Director Lincoln from the various mining schools may prove of interest:

"I find that, while we agree with you in the importance of instructors and students in mining schools becoming acquainted with mining conditions in neighboring states, that we do not feel at Stanford that the plan you propose is feasible."—Professor D. N. Folsom, Stanford.

"I agree with you fully regarding the question of mutual good results from such exchange professorships, and the only point necessary for discussion is the one of extent. I believe that this plan might profitably be carried out with, say, two or three schools to start with, and as the success became apparent the number might be increased."—Acting President William C. Haldane, Colorado School of Mines.

"I might say that personally I regard your scheme of exchange professorships favorably, but, owing to the death of the professor of mining and metallurgy in this university, it will be impossible for us to participate during the coming term."—Acting Dean Andrew C. Lawson, California School of Mines.

"Although I consider your idea as outlined an excellent one, I do not see how the University of Idaho would be able to co-operate with you at this time. It is possible that later in the year, or next year, we might be able to work with you."—Professor D. C. Livingston, Mining Department, University of Idaho.

"The matter of exchange professorships meets with my approval."—President F. A. Jones, New Mexico School of Mines.

"Your plan is very interesting and will be considered by us."—Dean Milnor Roberts, College of Mines, University of Washington.

"I have become interested in the plan you suggest and at least wish to express good will and good wishes to you."—Professor R. J. Scarborough, Colorado College.

"I am very much pleased with the suggestion of exchange professorships. It would be of great value to our work and I believe would broaden the scope of all mining schools included in such an organization."—Director Charles P. Millis, Bureau of Mines, University of Arizona.

"I believe your ideas are very good. The benefits to the traveling professor especially appeal to me."—President C. H. Bowman, Montana School of Mines.

"I shall be glad if some such scheme can be inaugurated, as I think it will be a good one and well worth the expense in connection therewith."—Director Henry N. Parks, Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology.

"There are great possibilities in such a scheme, and you may count on my support in its establishment."—Professor A. C. Boyle Jr., Wyoming School of Mines.

"We like your idea."—Director Joseph F. Merrill, School of Mines, University of Utah.

Professor Francis A. Thomson, head of the School of Mines, State College of Washington, suggests a different arrangement in his letter. He says: "I wish to congratulate you upon the conception of this idea and hope it may be possible for the majority of the schools which you have suggested to co-operate in the scheme. I doubt whether it will be advisable for all the heads of the various mining schools to be on the road at one time. For instance, I would not want to come to Reno and fail to meet you, and I should very much like to be at home when you make your call upon us. To obviate this trouble I would suggest that the plan be that one man in each group only be traveling at a time; and, since there are eight schools in each of the groups you list, this would work out just about right as covering the entire college year."

As comment upon this it may be said that with the small force of instructors employed in many of the Western mining schools, including the Mackay School of Mines, it would be impracticable to carry out this plan in the manner suggested by Professor Thomson. It might be suggested, however, that if the head of a mining school traveled one season his assistant might travel the succeeding season, and in this manner the results desired by Professor Thomson be brought about.

This report is sent out in the hope that it may prove useful to those mining schools which have not yet obtained the permission of their governing bodies to participate, by showing the general interest and favorable consideration which has been accorded to the exchange professorship plan by practically all of the mining schools which have been notified to participate. As soon as more definite information is available a tentative itinerary will be worked out and sent to possible participants.

Testing Machine Is Given Tryout

APPARATUS RENDS WOOD AT A TENSION OF FOUR AND A HALF TONS

Already the various machines in the electrical laboratory are being tested and tuned up to be in complete readiness for the Efficiency and General Welfare Convention to be held at the University Feb. 5 and 6. The various testing machines are running perfectly, so that practically no additional work will be needed to prepare for the visitors during the convention.

An interesting test was run off last Staturday with the big testing machine, which is capable of exerting a force of 200,000 pounds, either stretching or compressing. A piece of wood about an inch square was fitted into the machine and the power turned on. The indicator ran up to four and a half tons before the slender wood snapped and broke. Tensile strength tests of this kind will be run off on various kinds of material, illustrating the value of knowing the exact strength of materials used in varied industries.

An interesting exhibit, which will be shown for the first time in Reno during the conference, is a Brenham monorail car that has just been donated to the university by the Central Scientific Company of Chicago. This car is equipped with a gyroscope for maintaining the equilibrium and is a thoroughly modern model of the progress that has been made in monorail traffic or equipment.

Dean J. G. Scragham of the electrical engineering department of the university has just received advices confirming its donation and that it will soon be shipped to Reno.

Professor Scragham is working out details of the program for the welfare conference, which will undoubtedly be one of the most important ever held in the State. Its general object is to encourage the settlement of the vacant lands of the State that may be made productive by irrigation, and electrical and power experts will discuss and reveal the most advanced equipment that they can supply for that purpose.

Presidents and high officials of railroads will tell what they can and will do toward assisting in the general movement by encouraging settlers in every way within their province, and Governor Boyle and members of the Legislature, together with presidents and high officials of other industries, will participate in the proceedings, which will doubtless start a strong co-operative movement toward encouraging and assisting in the settlement and upbuilding of the State.

COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

When college activities are mentioned outside of school circles very often the impression seems to be given that something apart from and foreign to the real college work is meant. Many people seem to consider that these various activities engaged in by students are merely for the purpose of enjoyment and that they entail a considerable loss of time without any benefits accruing. These ideas are erroneous. The best students of any institution are not its bookworms. The students of any school who are worth most to it and to the country of which they are to become citizens are those students who are active in the various organizations of the institution as well as in the classroom.

This point of view is emphasized by the encouragement given by the authorities in all schools. All phases of athletics are encouraged, not only for the physical benefit derived by the individuals, but for the school spirit, the spirit of loyalty to each other and to the institution that the sports foster. What is true of athletics is true of literary societies, of the various clubs and organizations that have as their objects the putting into practice of some of the theory of the text-books, and also of the associations for ethical and moral uplift. All of these things are necessary for the well-rounded college man or woman, and essential for the best type of citizenship. College men and women should be leaders in the world of affairs. What better training for leadership is possible than that offered by the various activities that have grown up in colleges to supplement the sciences and the classics?—The Revellie.

"Well, they'd do it here, but the men are too ill-mannered to get up."—Buffalo Express.

"Today"

"To-Day," the vital and vivid drama of New York life, which comes to the Majestic Theater next Friday night, is from the pen of that master playwright, George Broadhurst, nad Abraham Schomer. "To-Day" deals with the cogent phases of mankind. Love, passion, fear, hatred, self-sacrifice and loyalty are all blended in the endeavor to portray a woman's frailty and man's power. A young wife's lust for gaudy tinsel and a mad desire to gratify her social ambitions tempt her to betray the trust reposed in her by an unforgiving husband. In an instant she is dashed to the rocks of destruction. The distracted husband, unable to save her with entreaties, destroys her. The denouement is electrical; the audience at the crisis being wrought to a pitch of speechless expectancy and quickening pulse.

"To-Day" is not a white-slave play, or a red-light drama, nor is it a drama of disease, unless it be that mental disease that afflicts some unfortunates—the mania for clothes, no matter what the cost.

In "To-Day," which is being presented under the direction of Harry Von Tilzer, managing director of the Manuscript Producing Company, the gowns are noteworthy and in keeping with the policy of liberality which has characterized Von Tilzer's career as a producing manager. He has secured the finest acting cast obtainable for the interpretation of "To-Day."

One of the big Eastern papers has the following to say of "To-Day": "Every married woman should see it, every married man should see it, every engaged couple should see it, and every prospect should see it." The seat sale opens Wednesday morning.

A delightful reception in honor of President Archer W. Hendrick and Mrs. Hendrick was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Professor and Mrs. J. D. Layman, with the ladies of the Faculty Club as hostesses. The rooms were cleverly decorated in spreading ferns, palms and large bouquets of pink carnations.

An enjoyable program was contrived through the evening by the quartet of the Boys' Glee Club and by Miss Dorothy Blaney, Miss Nan Coon, Tom Walker, Lehman Ferris, Louis Rose and Professor Ferguson. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, where the tables were decorated with crystal bowls of carnations.

Bidden to meet the president and Mrs. Hendrick were Governor and Mrs. Emmet D. Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson, Regent and Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, Regent and Mrs. A. A. Codd, Regent and Mrs. J. O'Brien, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Reid, Regent Walter Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Professor and Mrs. E. D. Billingham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, Professor and Mrs. J. E. DELTA RHO INITIATION

Last Saturday night the pledges of Delta Rho received initiation into the sorority. The ceremony took place at the home of Miss Helen Fulton, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Later in the evening fifty of the Delta Rhos gathered about a merry banquet table. Violets, the sorority flower, and tiny crystal chains formed an artistic center-piece. Toasts varying from witty frivolities to seriousness were responded to by both old and new members. Those who received the pin of Delta Rho were Phoebe King, Faith Maris, Gladys Jones, Grace Cox, Hilda Herz, Alice Hobbins and Myrtle Cameron.

Miss Ruth Aiken returned last Friday from her holiday vacation and is now living at Manzanita Hall.

Miss Jean Stoddard arrived Sunday from Merced, Cal., after spending the holidays with her parents. She was accompanied by Miss Neva Hale, who expects to register here next semester.

Manzanita Hall is getting back to the old registration of the prep days. As many are registered there now as when the University High School existed. There are now forty-seven girls in the hall.

Athletes Meet Via Mail Route

HIGH SCHOOLS OF THE STATE TO COMPETE PRIOR TO INTER-SCHOLASTIC TOURNEY

Definite plans for the furtherance of athletic competition by mail between the high schools of the State were formulated Monday afternoon at a meeting of the board of control of the Nevada Interscholastic League, held in the office of Dean J. G. Scrugham.

Various plans suggested by Miss Elsie Sameth and Professor Koch of Lowell High School were discussed, and a satisfactory system was agreed to. It was decided that each high school should take up for a week at a time some such contest as putting the eight-pound shot, broad jump and the other field or track events. At the end of each week the averages of all the athletes competing should be summed up and sent to each school for comparison, the school having the highest percentage to be presented a diploma by the board of control. It was furthermore stated that every boy in school must compete, and in the event of his not doing so his record shall stand as zero, thus pulling down the general average of his teammates.

To carry out these definite ideas a committee was appointed by Chairman Scrugham, consisting of Melvin Jepson, principal of Sparks High School, and Glenn Allen, principal of Reno High, for the boys, while Miss Elsie Sameth of the University of Nevada will look out for the welfare of the girls. S. E. Ross and Charles Haseman were appointed as a committee to select diplomas for the winning school in each event and to obtain banners for the school winning the largest number of events at the end of the season.

A date was also set for the Nevada Interscholastic track meet Saturday May 8, and it was also decided by the chair that circulars be sent out to that effect. Already there have been many inquiries, and it is expected that a great many more schools will compete this year than on previous occasions.

Among the requests for entrance the committee has received the names of several California schools which augers well for a still larger increase of the students attending the university from that State.

The influx from California for the last year or two has been large, and the increase in California students, especially for this semester, shows that they appreciate the University of Nevada.

On the morning of May 8 a tennis tournament, open to all girls of the different high schools, has been announced. From the number of teams competing last year and the interest shown, this should prove one of the greatest attractions of the entire meet.
