

Welcome to the State High School Students

'Varsity Glee Club in Last Concert Wednesday Night at Majestic

Wednesday night, May 5th, the Men's Glee club closes a successful season with the last concert at the Majestic theater. The former efforts of the members has been doubled this season so that a high order of harmony, frolic and fun is presented.

Reno has been reserved for the last appearance, so that the new members of the club will have become accustomed to the footlights and the applause of the audience. Professor Haseman expressed himself as being satisfied by the last rehearsal. Perfect blending of southern melodies, comic dialogue and song, heavy chorus work and artistic solos will be presented in a manner that is sure to be appreciated.

The concert will be different than the usual productions of college glee clubs. A new feature called the "Ki Yi's" depicts fraternity house life in a songful manner that is sure to bring the house down.

Tickets go on sale today at the Majestic theater and on the campus.

Biggest Interscholastic On Record Assured by Largest Entry List Yet of High School Athletes

TEAMS FROM EVERY HIGH SCHOOL IN THE STATE ENTERED IN THE BIG MEET, BREAKING ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS FOR THIS BIG EVENT IN THE PREPS CALENDAR

RECORD-BREAKERS TO BE AWARDED GOLD MEDALS

NEVADA EXTENDS THE WELCOMING HAND TO ALL THE VISITORS AT THIS CONFERENCE, AND PLANS TO GIVE THEM A ROYAL RECEPTION ON THE CAMPUS

Interest in the interscholastic meet grows stronger day by day, as the time for the big event draws near. High school athletes all over the state are putting the finishing touches on their training work, and good times and several broken records are predicted by those who have kept a watchful eye on the situation.

One thing that is bringing out the best material in the different schools is the county track meet.

The activities of the high schools in the Elko district, one to be especially commended, for several dual meets have recently been held, together with a big Elko county track meet. Several promising athletes have been uncovered who are expected to win points in the meet May 8. In the recent track meet between the Elko and Wells high schools, Elko won, 48 to 27. Earnest Clawson, Harold Fernald and James Sutton were strong point-winners for Elko, while B. Barndis starred for the losers.

Though the majority of the entrants in the 1915 interscholastic are new, some few are known from past performances. Reno high has the advantage, in point of numbers, but whether or not that will be sufficient to overcome the speedy visitors from other schools has yet to be proven. White Pine county is sending in a quartet of performers who are credited with good records on their home fields. Jack Frost, Vernon Fox, Joe Lobermick and Loraine Ivans make up the Ely team, which is expected to hold up the high reputation of the copper camp school.

From Reno high, Fred Cunningham, Phillip Wilcox, Almer Snare and DeWitt Welty are expected to gather in several points each. Wilcox is showing up better every day in the sprints, while his team-mates, Snare and Welty, are expected to lower the state record in the half and mile.

Susanville is sending in her usual strong deputation this year. The second generation, as it were, of former academic contestants are entered this year. Harold and Donald Shanks, brothers of a former academic star, are entered from Susanville, from whence the word comes that they are out to excel their speedy brother's efforts. Hubert and Archie Hill, brothers of Joseph Hill, '18, are also entered and should uphold the family reputation. Auburn high school will be the dark horse of the entire meet, as this is their first year to compete with Nevada athletes. From all reports they should be more than able to hold their own with the seventeen other teams now entered.

On Friday, the seventh of May, the boys and girls' declamation contests will be held, the boys meeting at 10 a. m. and the girls competing in the evening at 7:30.

On Saturday, the eighth, the girls' tennis tournament will take place at 8 a. m., and at 2 p. m. the interscholastic meet will begin.

The preliminaries will also be held in the morning, in all the races where over six are entered. This includes all the races up to the half mile, and both hurdle races.

Lloyd Root Captain Varsity Track Team

POPULAR TRACK AND FOOTBALL STAR TO LEAD NEXT YEAR'S CINDER MEN

The news of the election of Lloyd Root to the captaincy of next year's track team was inadvertently left out of last week's issue of the Sagebrush. The popular Nevada point-winner in the Berkeley meet was elected in the Harmon gym change-room, immediately after the meet.

All of the Nevada entrants voted, and showed their confidence in the capability of Root as trackman and leader, by giving him the leadership of next year's team.

Root is also a football star, playing breakaway on the Varsity rugby team, where his speed and remarkable tackling ability stood him in good stead.

He was registered in the mining department, and is a member of the Berkeley chapter of Alpha Tan Omega fraternity.

Committees have been appointed to take care of the visiting athletes, and especially to car for the housing of them. The largest influx is expected Thursday night, on No. 19, when the Elko, Winnemucca and Fallon representatives are to arrive.

Ten Scholarships Gift of B. P. O. E.

TONOPAH LODGE, NO. 1062, ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR GENEROUS OFFER TO AID STUDENTS

As a mark of appreciation of the work the university is doing, the Tonopah lodge of Elks, No. 1062, has provided for ten $100 scholarships, to be won by high school students in the districts in which the Tonopah lodge holds sway.

Competitive examinations are to be held each year at the university, and the one ranking highest will receive the $100 per year during the four years in college, making each scholarship in reality worth $400 instead of $100.

This offer extends over a period of four years, during which time one new scholarship will be given each year, making one the first year, two the second year, three the third year and four the fourth year.

This information was received by President Hendrick from Howell Daniels, secretary of the Tonopah lodge.

As the results of the elections are published, the Sagebrush wishes to congratulate those who won, and condole with those who also ran.

The voice of the A. S. U. N. may be depended upon to select the worthiest men and women to represent them. In the present race the candidates for all the offices were the pick of the student body, and only personal choice decided in the final selection. The winners we congratulate as being recognized leaders in their chosen place; the losers we commend, knowing they are high in the esteem of all.

Annual Inspection By Captain Merry

GENERAL STAFF OFFICER TO VIEW DRILL OF NEVADA CADET BATTALION

Inspection of the university cadets by Captain W. C. Merry, of the U. S. general staff, is to be held Wednesday. Strenuous drillings of the raw recruits in all departments of the manual has been the order for the last few months. That a good showing is expected goes without saying.

Blue uniforms are to be worn in the morning, when the inspector will review the battalion, and watch the various company movements. Khaki uniforms are to be kept in the company lockers, in case the inspector desires to see some extended order and outpost work.

EDITORIAL

As the time for the interscholastic meet approaches, every member of the student body, whether on committees or not, should begin planning for the reception of the high school visitors. Ample plans are being drawn up for the entertainment of the pros, but the real work lies in showing the visitors where Nevada excels in scholastic work, and that must be done by the individual.

So collect your interesting facts together, and when the time comes do your boasting act, instead of letting experience and a few years at another school teach Nevada high school students the worth of their own state's university.

INTERSCHOLASTIC

To the high school men soon to compete on Mackay field; to the high school ladies in their line of effort, the Sagebrush communicates the message of the A. S. U. N. "Welcome."

Welcome not only now, but next year, and the year following, to Nevada portals, to stay and join the student body of your state university.

Nevada wishes you all well in your efforts, and may the best and most deserving ones win.

Teams Entertained By Manager Ross

TRACK, BASEBALL AND GLEE CLUB MEN GIVEN INFORMAL FEED SUNDAY NIGHT

Last Sunday evening Si Ross entertained the members of the track and baseball teams and the Glee club men at an informal buffet luncheon at his home on North Virginia street. Quite an elaborate luncheon was served, punctuated by songs and stunts from the musical squad. Plans for next year's athletic activities were discussed and short talks were given by several of those prominent in past years. "Monk" Ferris, Tom Walker and George Ogilvie, captain of this year's track team, represented the departing seniors in their speeches, which were full of pep and goodly Nevada spirit. Lloyd Root, recently elected captain of next year's track team, outlined his plans for next year's work, and asked the same hearty co-operation that has been shown in past years.

"Prof. Charlie" Haseman was then called on to present the faculty side of the argument, from a Glee club viewpoint. Appreciation of his whole-hearted work as Glee club director and live Nevadan was truly shown by the reception his short talk received.

Ballots were then distributed to the baseball men, and a vote on next year's captain was taken. Cy Young, the crack Varsity third baseman, was selected as next year's leader. Young hails from Modesto where he first broke into the national game. He has received several flattering offers from various Coast league teams, but intends to finish his university work at Nevada first. He is a member of the Block "N" society, Phi Delta Tau fraternity, and is now in his freshman year.

Big Senior Ball Tuesday Night

SEDATE SENIORS TO ENJOY LAST JOLLIFICATION IN HISTORIC GYM

Next Tuesday night, May 11, the class of 1915 will contribute their last bit of entertainment to the university and the alumni. They are going to give their senior ball on this night and have made plans to make it a real live university dance, full of pep and not stiff and formal like senior balls of the past.

Sol Casier is chairman of the committee appointed at the last meeting of the seniors to make all arrangements for the dance and acting with him are Miss Carna Damm, Miss Leila White and Joe McDonald. Invitations are now out and all alumni of the university are cordially invited to attend. It will be impossible to send invitations to each alumnus, but the seniors want them all to attend. All students and faculty of the university are invited and it is expected that the dance will eclipse all others in attendance. The price of admission has been put down to $1.50 so that all may well afford to enjoy the last night with the seniors.

DEBATE ON OPEN SHOP QUESTION PRECEDES CHOOSING OF OFFICERS

The debating society held its final meeting for the year last Tuesday evening and an interesting program was enjoyed.

The program consisted of a debate on the subject, "Resolved, That the movement for the closed shop should receive the support of the American people." Six members of Professor Turner's argumentation class gave arguments for and against the closed shop, which is a very important problem now confronting those interested in the struggle between labor and capital.

Lasher, White and Fife spoke for the affirmative while Heard, Parks and Krummes contended that the closed shop would not better conditions for either the manufacturer, the public in general, or those who most heartily advocate the adoption of the closed shop system—the workmen. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

Following the debate the election of officers for next year took place and resulted in the election of Moorman Parks, president; Miss Lemmon, vice-president; John Heard, business manager, and Miss Winger, secretary.

During the past two years great strides have been taken in debating work. However there is still much room for improvement. More members and a more general interest in the meetings of the society are desired. It has been said that the gift of gab is as good as a gold mine. Most of us prefer the gold mine on account of the greater ease with which it can be realized upon, but whether or not the statement is true, it is certain that the gift is very valuable. If you can talk, the debating society will help you to talk better, if you cannot, it will teach you. Therefore, boost for new members and get them to sign up for this activity.

 DANCE OF COLLEGE YEAR

Last Saturday night the Aggie contingent enjoyed what they themselves admitted was one of the best dances yet held by the hill folk. Maple hall was the scene of the festivities, which lasted till the midnight hour.

All the new dances suited to the occasion, such as the barnyard creep, the lame duck, the sheep dip, and others as yet unnamed, were given a thorough tryout, and a jolly good time was enjoyed by all.

The Aggie club has shown itself to be one of the liveliest organizations on the hill, and from present indications should continue to enjoy their reputation.

Account of Zeppelin Raid on Paris Related by Former Nevada Student

WALTER JEPSON, RHODES SCHOLAR FROM NEVADA, TELLS EXPERIENCES OF HIMSELF AND TWO AMERICAN COMRADES DURING VISIT OF ZEPPELINS TO FRENCH CAPITAL

As you have perhaps noticed, I do not now write from mediaeval Oxford or foggy London, but from the city whose usual epithet, I have found, is by no means warranted in these days—"Gay Paris."

My second "term" came to an end about the middle of March and so, with three fellow Rhodes scholars, "Florida," Illinois and "Alabama," I set out to spend the Easter "vac" in France. But we did not reach the continent in the brief time required when things are normal. After a delay in London, in going through an unlimited amount of passport red-tape and thus satisfying the different consuls and numberless officials that we were neither ordinary "les Baches" or German spies, it was several days before we embarked, Folkestone-Boulogne.

Notwithstanding the fact that the submarine blockade held forth some promises that our crossing might be exciting, it was comparatively eventless. Ships of every kind (German excepted) were moving down the channel or up into the North Sea, but our sharp lookout for periscopes did not reveal a German submarine; and save a number of torpedo boat destroyers which were patrolling the area for the so-called "pirates," and except for some companies of English soldiers drilling on the sward above the Chalk Cliffs, the evidences of war were few. The crossing was, moreover, not rough—contrary to reputation.

Yet, whatever disappointments I may have had when the channel in this last respect failed to live up to its story-book lore, and whatever misgivings or hair-raising experiences I missed by not being chased by a submarine, I had early on the following morning my introduction to another novel phase of warfare, not from underneath, it is true, but from overhead.

Of the four in our party each now tells a different story of his adventures on the famous night the Zeppelins selected to pay Paris a nocturnal visit—save one. He has nothing to tell, for the Alabamenses, like many others, slept through the greater part of what to my mind was a most exciting experience. How, with all the Paris guns booming at the same time, he could still dream of possums and watermelons is quite beyond my comprehension.

Upon arrival in Paris we put up at a "pension" on the Avenue du Trocadero, and situated not so far from the Arc de Triomphe and just across the Seine from Eiffel Tower, which are—as I soon learned after but a few hours of sleep—the stations of the most formidable anti-air-craft guns.

About 1:30 I was awakened by the blare of a bugle and the incessant "honking" of an automobile horn in the streets below. But I regarded it as unimportant, thinking that it merely came from a nearby barracks, for I recalled that we had been challenged by a sentry when we went down the avenue in quest of our lodgings. I dropped off again, but my sleep was short-lived. This time a terrific "bang, bang" shook the "pension" to its very foundations. Boom after boom succeeded each other, and I fully expected the building to crumble about me as each detonation took place.

My first thoughts, of course, were that it was going to be a case of "Troia capta" or that Paris was again to be the beleaguered city. But then came a deathly silence. "Foolish," I thought—"This is simply another of those queer French customs I must accustom myself to; its only the Sunday morning salute, or something equally delusive." I was just falling off to sleep again when another terrific cannonade sent me flying at break-neck speed out onto the window balcony. From every direction came the sound of doors and shutters opening, questioning voices and the scuffling of guests down the long corridors, while sleepy heads, like my own, peeped out. The whole sky was illuminated by the blinding searchlights; and when there came a lull in the firing the buzz of motors could be distinguished plainly—so plainly that I thought it came from directly overhead. A Zeppelin was over Paris!

I strained my neck but could not see it, and was just about to "mutter" and seek a vantage point when the Madame, without waiting for the usual "Entrez!" burst into the room and nervously warned me to "descende" into the cellar.

It was, indeed, a motley gathering. I found in the cellar and I was immediately reminded of the ludicrous sights which follow an earthquake shock. Nobody seems to have regarded anything save mysterious little packages or bags, which I took to be the family wealth. We sat there in the cold for about twenty minutes, before "Alabama's" complaint that he was being confined without cause prevailed, and notwithstanding the different warnings and the Madame's recital of how bombs, dropped from a German taube had in September shattered every window in her house, we returned to our top-floor rooms. For the second time I turned in, only shortly after to be aroused again by the firemen rushing through the streets and sounding the alarm with their trumpets, which is known as the "Gorde a vous!" Again I fled, but this time pell-mell down the stairs and I was making for the street so that I might not miss anything when I met the Madame returning from the cellar. All was well—it was the signal that the Zeps had departed!

This, however, was not the only night on which we have been alarmed. On the following Monday evening the firemen again sounded the "Gorde a vous!" and again Paris was thrown into complete darkness; but Count Zeppelin failed to make an appearance and our "weird" experience this time only amounted to stumbling home through the streets in complete darkness. We are still alive, but if the Germans have any regard for our wishes—and if it were only a show for our benefit, the raid would be preferable and more enjoyable by day when we might see the whole thing.

With kind regards and best wishes to all my friends at the U. of N.,
Au revoir!
WALTER C. JEPSON.

Famous Author, says:

"Why shouldn't a man be willing to recommend a tobacco which gives as cool, sweet and satisfying a smoke as Tuxedo?"

Geo Randolph Chester

For Mentally Alert Men—Tuxedo

George Randolph Chester's "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" stories have delighted thousands through the mental alertness, good humor and keen mind shown by the wily promoter.

When George Randolph Chester writes of things typically American he knows what he is talking about; and when he endorses Tuxedo—the typically American tobacco—his endorsement carries great weight with the keen-minded, alert and brainy smokers of this country.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

is made especially to maintain the American spirit of good humor. Its constant use benefits a man in mind and body, by keeping him happy and physically fit.

Tuxedo is the finest Kentucky Burley—the world's premier smoking-tobacco leaf—made absolutely non-biting by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated. Tuxedo is delightfully mild, fragrant, rich, and gives a cool and satisfying smoke. Tuxedo is in a class by itself.

Spring Festival On Mackay Field

REGULATION CIRCUS TO BE STAGED ON TURF MAY 7—
FOLK DANCES FOLLOW

The spring festival, to be given May 7 on the Mackay athletic field, is attracting more than the usual attention. The idea of the circus performance has been worked up by Miss Elsie Sameth, who has been conducting rehearsals daily to perfect the various performers. Everything from the familiar clowns to the bareback riders are to be reproduced with an accuracy that promises thrills. To heighten the circus flavor, regulation circus diet will be supplied by numerous peanut, popcorn and chewing gum salesmen. The Mackay athletic field is to be transformed into a circus amphitheater, with the blue Nevada sky for a canopy. A small admission is to be charged to defray the expenses of the galaxy of performers.

After the circus, a program of folk dances, executed by some hundred and twenty grade pupils, will be followed by dances of the university women. The old fashioned May-pole dance will conclude the festival.

Girls' Glee Club In Last Concert

ENTERTAINING PROGRAM PRE-SENTED LAST FRIDAY UNDER DIRECTION MISS DENNY

The people of this city and state are well acquainted with the excellent Boys' Glee club of the University of Nevada, but few realize that the university possesses a Girls' Glee club of equal merit. Those who braved the bad weather last Friday evening were fully compensated by the splendid concert given at the university gymnasium by the Girls' Glee club. Miss Denny deserves special credit for her training and organizing of the club. Every song was perfect in its harmony and the sweet voices of the girls charmed and delighted the audience. Little Miss Dorothy Blaney, who assisted at the concert, is a skilled pianist and her selections from Schumann and Chopin displayed her wonderful talent. The Girls' Glee club gave a most successful and entertaining program and we are looking forward expectantly to having the pleasure of listening to them frequently next year.

The quartet, composed of Misses Leila White, Nan Coon, Dorothy Taylor and Lysle Rushby, presented some good harmony work, and were encored several times. Eva Walker and Phoebe King presented a duet that won the quick appreciation of the crowd.

This concert ends the season for the Girls' Glee club, which has been especially successful throughout the year. The work of Miss Denny as director is thoroughly appreciated by all in touch with the situation.

A dance followed the program, and a merry time was enjoyed till midnight.

Graduate Manager to Visit Coast

As a result of the action of the Executive committee last Sunday, Graduate Manager Ross is to leave Wednesday night for the coast, where he will confer with the various managers of athletic teams around the bay, relative to arranging next year's schedule. Conferences will be held with the representatives of the Stanford, California, Olympic club, Santa Clara, St. Mary's and Titan teams, and the possibility of the change back to the old game of football discussed. As the matter now stands, California is seriously considering reverting to the old game, because of the refusal of Stanford to consent to the debarring of freshmen. Though Nevada is not interested in the controversy beyond the possible effects it might have on the brand of football played, it has already been decided by the executive committee that no change will be considered by Nevada.

While on the coast Ross will witness the conference meet between several coast colleges. Coach Jack Glasscock intended entering at least two men, Wolford and Hardin, but as they were required to make certain performances, which the late condition of the weather would not permit, they will not make the trip.
