LARGEST GRADUATING CLASS IN HISTORY OF UNIVERSITY GIVEN THE TREASURED SHEEPSKIN—IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK LAST DAYS OF SENIOR CLASS ON THE CAMPUS

GOV. EMMET D. BOYLE PRESENTS COMMISSIONS

ADDRESSES BY HON. DAVID SNEDDEN AND REGENT WALTER PRATT IMPRESS GRADS AND UNDERGRADS WITH THE IMPORTANCE OF FUTURE WORK IN NEVADA STATE

Commencement Day, Wednesday, May 12, closed the exercises of graduation week. The ceremonies were held in the gymnasium at 10:30 in the morning. Diplomas were presented, scholarships given and announcements made.

The addresses of the morning were given by Hon. W. E. Pratt, of the Board of Regents, and Hon. David Snedden, Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts. Mr. Pratt gave the scholarship address. He spoke of the youth of our nation and of the problems which presented themselves and urged the graduating class to realize the value of high scholarship in solving these problems. Mr. Snedden spoke on "Modern Tendencies in Higher Education." According to him, the most prominent tendency in our programs of education was the direct reference to probable future problems. Curricula which considered the past and were not directly related to present day life were waved aside and given small consideration. In Mr. Snedden's mind there were three goals of education, the first vocational, which trained the students to gain material success; the second, training for citizenship, which taught a man his social duty to his fellowmen and in which American students are sadly lacking; the third, personal culture, the training which placed the stamp of learning and good breeding upon the student. A further tendency, Mr. Snedden said, was the growing belief that it was well for a university graduate to be thoroughly familiar with one branch of knowledge and acquainted to some extent at least with many.

Following the address came the announcement of scholarships. The four history scholarships were given as follows:

Thomas P. Walker received the gold medal for the best scholarship for four year's work.

Senior—Jessie Hylton for best work in History and Economics four years, plus paper on Nevada History, $25.

Junior—Ina Powers, Junior year, plus work in Nevada History, $25.

Freshman—Dorothy Hempton, $25.

The five Regents' scholarships of $50 each were given to Dorothy Hempton, Phoebe King, Wilfred Wylie, Helen Heffernan and Paul Barker. Two anonymous scholarships were given, one of $50 to Faith Maris and one of $10 to Ruth McKissick.

Announcement was also made of

Governor Boyle, '97 Proposes Alumni Build Hall

PLAN TO START TRUST FUND TO ERECT CAMPUS HOME FOR GRADUATES

CASH FUND STARTED

OFFICERS OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ELECTED AT NIGHT MEETING.

Immediately after the commencement ceremonies, all the alumni, old and newly received, adjourned to the University dining room hall, where reminiscences interspersed the tempting banquet laid out.

Justice Frank Norcross was toastmaster. Si Ross responded to the toast, "The Future Outlook for the Alumni Association"; Governor Boyle spoke on "The Hopes for an Alumni Hall"; E. E. Caine answered to "Old Times"; and Joe McDonald responded for the class of 1915. Others who spoke were Miss Ann Martin, P. A. McCarran, Dr. J. J. Sullivan and President Hendrick.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, M. E. Jepsen; vice president, Hazel Boyd; secretary-treasurer, Louise Blaney, and on the executive committee which includes the three foregoing officers, E. E. Caine of Elko and Dr. J. J. Sullivan of Reno.

A movement to build an alumni hall was started by Governor Boyle at the meeting. With characteristic Nevada spirit, the governor suggested that a trust fund be formed, and that each member pledge himself for five dollars. The suggestion met with favor and the fund was started by E. E. Caine of Elko, who contributed the first five dollars.

The plan of reserving the afternoon of Wednesday after commencement exercises for alumni day was adopted. It was also decided that next year an alumni ball will be held instead of the usual senior ball, and the seniors will be the guests of the alumni.

In a track and field meet full of good competition and several broken records, Susanville high school won the Nevada State interscholastic league honors only after a hard battle, with a score of 29 points. Reno was a close second, with 27 points, winning the relay race with ease. The pole vault record of 10 feet 3 inches was broken by Riley of Bishop with a vault of 10 feet 8 inches. The new record holder has good form and looks to be a comer.

The mile run brought forth good competition, when West of Fallon won over the field. Coming from behind in the last lap, he romped home with a good sprint yards ahead of his closest competitor.

The half was also a closely contested race. Erskine of Humboldt county high showed good strength and headwork throughout the race, maintaining his position near the front, and winning with a strong sprint.

Following are the results and times of each event:

In the 220 low hurdles Baldwin and Wimble of Susanville were first and third with Phillip of Fallon second. Time, 29.2 seconds.

In the 50 yard dash, Wilcox of Reno, was first; Hammond of Fallon, second, with Baldwin of Susanville, third. Time, 6 seconds flat.

Senior Ball Ends Social Activities

CLASS OF 1915 HOSTS AT LAST DANCE OF YEAR—GOOD TIME ENJOYED BY ALL PRESENT.

The last big social event of the Seniors undergraduate days—the Senior ball—held the center of the stage last Tuesday night. Townsfolk and students joined in the farewell frolic and merriment till the hour of one arrived.

Many alumni from all over the state attended, enjoying the dance and the reunion with many old time comrades.

One of the features of the evening was a Paul Jones romp, which served to break up the "good-bye-forever" spirit which now and then, crept in. The Seniors sang their class song and gave the old '15 yell, followed by all the other classes in order.

Punch and wafers helped the fleeting minutes pass, and dreamy music from the orchestra kept the dancers gay. As the dance ended the class of '15 was given a rousing send-off in appreciation of their final social success.

Block N Society Elects Officers

SMALL ATTENDANCE MARKS MEETING WHEN OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR ARE ELECTED.

The Block N Society of the University of Nevada met in the club rooms at the Mackay training quarters last week and elected the officers of the society for next year. Frank Fake, a member of the 1916 class, and half-back on the football team for two years, was elected president; Louis Rose, member of the track team for three years, was unanimously chosen vice-president. For secretary, Horace Barton, a football man, received the honors, and Harry Moore, a Varsity baseball man for two years, was elected treasurer. W. H. Stickney was selected as the man to be porder, his official title being sergeant-at-arms.

Various details of the interscholastic meet were discussed, and each official was instructed in his duties during the meet.

Manzanita Hall Farewell Serenade

CROWDS SURROUND LAKE AS SINGERS FLOAT ON LANTERN-LIT BARGE.

Manzanita lake was transformed last Sunday eve into a fairy bover of shimmering lights and echoing harmony, when the glee and mandolin clubs gave their farewell serenade to Manzanita hall.

Carried on a barge fantastically outlined by Japanese lanterns, the songs and melodies of the combined clubs produced an effect on the audience surrounding the lake that is hard to describe. Searchlights from the campus played over the crowds and the songsters, fitfully lighting the farewell stage.

Old songs and new, mandolin stunts and harmonies, filled the evening's entertainment with pleasant sensations for all. "Aloho Oe," by Louis A. Rose, '16, brought a quick appreciation from the crowd, followed by several equally well presented selections by Tom Walker and Lehman Ferris. As the barge touched the shore at the finishing song, singers and audience joined in "U. of N. So Gay" in a way that roused the full Nevada loyalty of everyone present.

New Officers Are Installed

NEW AND OLD EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES MEET AND FINISH BUSINESS—NEW OFFICERS

A meeting of the old and new executive committees was held last Tuesday afternoon, in order to familiarize the new members with their duties for the next year. Old business, including the passing of bills and receiving of reports, was transacted, and then Tom Walker, present A. S. U. N. prexy, relinquished his chair to Harry Hovey, next year's executive. A committee consisting of Quigley, next year's treasurer; Melarkey and Heard was appointed to audit the books of the treasurer and graduate manager. After the transacting of several other items of new business the meeting adjourned.

The new members of the executive committee are Harry Hovey, George Henningsen, William Melarkey, Donald Stewart, John Quigley, Ruth Pyle, Eva Walker and Si Ross.

Sunday Services Are Impressive

AS BACCALAUREATE SPEAKER, REV. RAYMOND CUMMINGS BROOKS IS SPLENDID

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered on Sunday morning in the gymnasium to the graduating class of 1915 and the students and friends of the University. The gymnasium was filled both floor and galleries. The faculty and prominent men of the state were seated on the platform with the speaker. The choral club was seated above the platform in the gallery and rendered "Lovely Appear," by Gounod, and "With Sheathed Sword," by Costa, during the services.

The address was delivered by Rev. Raymond Cummings Brooks, Professor of Homiletics in the Pacific Theological Seminary and pastor of the First Congregational church of Berkeley. His text was: "Ye shall receive the power, after that the spirit shall be set free within you." His theme was that the ideal for college graduates to follow is not the making of money nor the gaining of material success but the establishing of righteousness and growth of the moral and spiritual nature. Religion was not worth considering, he said, unless it has a real and vital meaning for the normal man. The speaker closed with a challenge to the graduating class to follow the dictates of their inner life, to cultivate their spiritual natures.

The G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps were guests of the morning. The program was:

1. Hymn.....Holy, Holy, Holy Congregation
2. Invocation, Rev. Samuel Unsworth
3. "Lovely Appear".....Gounod University Choral Club
4. Reading of the Scriptures.....Rev. W. D. Trout
5. Prayer.....Rev. Brewster Adams
6. "With Sheathed Swords".....Costa University Choral Club
7. Sermon.....Rev. Raymond Brooks Pastor First Congregational church, Berkeley, and Professor of Homiletics, Pacific Theological Seminary.
8. Hymn....."Lead Kindly Light" Congregation
9. Benediction.....Rev. W. W. Hess

Reversed—"They do things differently in Mexico."

"How's that?" "The president's do most of their running after they're elected."—Judge.

Betrayed—"How do you know that Chaucer dictated to a stenographer?" "Just look at the spelling."—Columbia Jester.

Brief History Class '15

Four years ago 30 youngsters, wandering from the various corners of the Nevada desert in search of a mysterious something called "Education," found their way to the Nevada campus and pitched their tents at the University; 43 in the field of arts and science; 7 in that of agriculture, 5 in pedagogy and the rest in engineering fields.

This mass of strangers, thrown together by fate, were banded, christened and schooled by friendly '13 and joined the University family—its baby class of 1915.

A rather noticeable class was 1915 from the first. It was the largest Freshman class on record in our University's history and all loyal sons and daughters were proud of its numbers; the Juniors were proud of its gameness and the class was so proud of itself!

The Sophs, realizing how soon their noses were to be out of joint, literally and figuratively speaking, were (one must admit) a trifle blind to the charms of the infants, and exerted brain and muscle to rush them off the earth.

Fifteen was strong but innocent, while '14 had a year's education—hence whoops filled the night air and the rising sun saw many deplorable spectacles. For instance, Joe McDonald scrubbing the blessed numerals '15 from the pavement with a brick. But '15 proved an apt pupil and, at the final rush, tied and ditched their elder brothers with an ease which dampened their ardor as well as their garments.

The Sophomores, in fact, refused to play with the infant prodigy any longer, and in the final cane rush demanded a man-to-man fight—the most unwitting compliment ever paid to a class of Freshmen by a rival.

So '15 lost the cane rush and the Sophs wore their white vests and sheepish looks. But '15 was no longer guileless. It entertained its former sponsors under the very noses of the Sophs, chased away or properly chastised any Soph or other disreputable character found in the vicinity of the party.

(For further information on this subject see "The Perilous Party of Pogy Percival," which tells the tale of a Soph who went to a Freshman party, but—didn't dance.)

Before its second birthday, '15 was victor in the field of basket ball and had also taken its place as football champions.

As Sophomores, '15 won the dummy rush, and, class against class, took the cane across the broad Mackay field in just 14 seconds, whereupon not only the Babies looked round-eyed, but even the upper classmen glumly admitted that such a feat had never been done before. Result: '15 acquired white vests, broad smiles and a taste for record breaking.

In the same year Bob Bringlam, athletic idol, left U. of N. to be a soldier boy, and just by way of tribute to '15, left a badly smashed record of the quarter mile. George Ogilvie added a trophy in a irreparably broken record for the mile, and Ira Kent left the old-time limit for the two-mile far behind. Not a slow class, surely!

Meanwhile the girls carried '15 on the first trophy offered to the champion class for girls' athletics.

So '15 hurried toward her senior year, pausing, however, long enough to heap coals of fire on the heads of departing '14 by publishing the year book in its honor.

As Seniors, the class found time in its rush for the cap and gown to try its hand at dramatics, and with the confidence bred of repeated victory, wrote and produced "The Frolics of '15," the first original class play to be produced in 16 years. The last year is not history yet—the boast is that no activity has ever passed by unnoticed. Class '15 has produced a few geniuses, perhaps, an unusual number of leaders in every branch of class or college activities. But the unusual students (tho' due honor is paid them) are not '15's chief asset, but the all around men and women who have unselfishly lost their identity and individuality in the greater class unit and brought to realization the ideals of the Freshman '15.

Varsity Glee Club Gives Last Concert

LARGE AUDIENCE GREETED SONGSTERS AT THEIR CONCLUDING PERFORMANCE OF 4TH ANNUAL TOUR

Last Wednesday night the Varsity Glee Club staged its last concert of the year at the Majestic Theater. All former efforts of the club were eclipsed in the well rendered songs and stunts, which received a more than enthusiastic reception by the large audience.

Prof. Haseman, directors of the club, and one of the quartet, deserves especial commendation for his untiring work and the high standard he has set in his musical productions.

The glee club opened the performance with two selections, "Jolly Fellows," by RhysHerbert, and "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Parks, followed by a solo, "The Pirate Chief," well rendered by Ferris.

Throughout the performance the harmony and stunts kept the audience in the best of humor.

"Sons of Jerusalem," by Rose, Caffrey and Jacobs, the stunt men, was encored to the limit.

"Snowy Breasted Pearl" was sung by Tom Walker in a manner that left nothing to be desired.

The performance was concluded with two selections, "Good Night," and "U. of N. So Gay," which was joined in by the audience till the rafters rang.

REMINISCENCES

As Sagebrush goes to press for the last time this year, we cannot help looking back and reflecting on the year's activities. Nevada has easily gained a great deal during the past year; new activities, new ideals and the maintenance of the old, have given to us a reputation which is worthy of respect by every one.

Throughout the state the University is viewed with a wholesome respect, not only because of the real service the University is doing for the state, but also because of the class of men and women turned out from our halls of learning. Men and women capable of real and active service are a valuable asset in every walk of life, and Nevada men and women are trained with that ideal always before them.

One of the first requirements for a truly capable man, is the capacity for a feeling of loyalty, of submerging or effacing self for the common good.

The leader must have it, in order to retain the respect of those under him; any employee requires it, in order to give his best efforts to his work.

Any man or woman who has attended Nevada can tell of what Nevada spirit means. A true love for alma mater, and the giving of one's best in whatever line one excels, is part of the Nevada training that truly fits men and women to earnest work in after life.

FAREWELL

As the vacation days commence, and the grads and undergrads alike scatter over the different western states, Sagebrush wishes to extend to them all the heartiest wishes for a pleasant and profitable summer rest.

Just one word, which, if taken to heart, will help U. N. a great deal. Don't forget you are Nevada students while you are away. Let everyone know it, and boost the University for all you are worth. We need more students and you may be instrumental in sending them here. Try it, anyway, and you'll be surprised at the results.

These are to be given to students of the Tonopah district whose grade in scholarship is to be determined by examination given by the University. The president further announced the formation of a Board of Veterinary Control for the service of the cattle industry of the state in the control of cattle diseases and infections. This service is to be under the control of Dr. Mack. It was also announced that a soils laboratory had been created by which the value of soils all over the state can be tested free of charge to farmers. The president also announced the institution of the extension division of the University. This is to be supported by a federal fund of $12,000, called the Smith-Lever fund, and a state fund given by the legislature. The work of this extension division will be to carry knowledge of advanced farming and home economics to those who have not the opportunity to attend the University.

The University, under the control of the engineering faculty, is carrying on experimental work in pumping, with a view to ascertaining the best methods of Nevada's artesian water. Two new short courses in agriculture and home economics have been added to the curriculum. These courses are to last two weeks and entrance may be gained by any person over 18 years of age and possessing a grammar grade certificate. The course will be from 14 to 18 weeks in length. In a short speech of commendation, Governor Emmet D. Boyle presented the commissions to the cadet officers who have served the battalion for the past year.

Annual Inspection
Cadet Battalion

IN COMPETITIVE DRILL OF BATTALION, B COMPANY WINS FLAG FOR BEST SHOWING

Captain W. T. Merry, U. S. A., of the general staff, inspected the University cadet battalion on Wednesday, May 6. The inspection began at 9:30 a. m. and consisted of battalion review and competitive drill by the companies. The rivalry was keen and the drill was the best yet seen. The competition was so close that the inspector was forced to reserve his decision for fuller consideration. In the afternoon it was announced that B company had won the flag for the best drill. The flag was presented to Captain Allen of B company late in the afternoon. In presenting the banner Captain Merry congratulated Captain Applewhite and the cadet officers on the excellence of the drill and the fine spirit of the battalion. It is felt that great improvement has been achieved and that a very favorable report will be sent to Washington. In a bulletin to the cadets Captain Applewhite expressed himself as highly satisfied with the showing of the men. He said: "The showing made by the battalion of cadets at yesterday's inspection by the war department, Captain W. T. Merry, general staff, inspecting officer, was a source of extreme gratification to the commandant. Every man in the battalion entered into the inspection with the spirit which was bound to bring credit to himself and to the University battalion of cadets, and as a result of the individual and combined efforts of all, it is believed that it can be safely said that the showing made at yesterday's inspection was the best in the history of the battalion. Every man can feel justly proud of his work.

While the inspector decided that B company was the better drilled company, the decision was rendered only on a very narrow margin, and the members of A company are to be congratulated upon the excellent drill which they gave. With the drills of both companies as good as they were, and the difference between the two so slight, there is only glory and credit for the men of each company."

The recommendations for commissions in the cadet battalion have been given to Governor Boyle by Captain Applewhite.

These men will be considered as retired officers of the battalion subject to the call of the governor in case of insurrection or disorder. The following have been recommended: Major Latapie, Captain Allen and McQuisten, First Lieutenants Swain and Hovey, and Second Lieutenants Ferris and Ogilvie. The commissions are presented annually on commencement day.

The Reno Jewelers

On Monday afternoon, May 10, at five o'clock Miss Bardenwerper and Miss de Laguna entertained the young women members of the class of 1915 at a delightful supper. The pretty little home was beautifully decorated with an abundance of lilac, of pink roses and of red sweet peas. The place cards were ornamented with red blossoms, and the refreshments carried out the scheme of red, the class color. Miss Ruth McKissick and Miss Dorothy Mahan assisted Miss de Laguna and Miss Bardenwerper in serving. Mrs. Bonnie McBride of Elko, of the class of 1906, the sister of Miss Laura Marzen, was a guest on this occasion.

Whitmore Wins Battalion Shoot

GOLD MEDALS AWARDED WIN-NERS OF RIFLE MATCHES IN INDIVIDUAL COMPETITION.

As a result of the individual competitive rifle shoot held during the past week, John Whitmore was declared winner with a score of 117 out of a possible 150, and Crowley and Snell tied for second honors, with 112 credited to each.

By winning this shoot, Whitmore receives the gold medal of the National Rifle Association, offered by the Nevada Rifle club. The second two are awarded bronze medals.

In the competition, the following requirements were observed:

At 200 yards, ten regular shots are to follow two sighting shots. The ten shots must be fired in one and a half minutes.

At 300 and 500 yards, 30 seconds are allowed for each shot, which may be fired from a prone position.

Two sighting shots, to determine the range and wind correction, are allowed before each group are fired.

Due to bad weather conditions, the scores were somewhat low. A fitful wind was blowing, which made wind-age calculation difficult.

B company won the company competition. The members of the two teams are: B company—McCubbin (capt.), Snell, Mueller, Crowley, Whitmore. A company—Root (capt.), Neasham, Henningsen, Snare, Faber.

The winners are to receive gold medals and the losers bronze replicas of the same.

Business Meeting of Aggie Club

By F. C. HENRIQUES.

In the agronomy room in Stewart hall a very interesting agricultural program was held by the Aggies of the University of Nevada. The business program was presented first and those there heard the splendid energetic report of the chairman of the dance committee.

This gave forth new ideas and one member presented a motion to have the "first annual barn dance" of the Agriculture club at the beginning of next year, to arouse new spirit in the students of agriculture. A committee was appointed, consisting of David Abel, Frederick Henriques and George Henningsen, to arrange for the date and decorations. At the present moment the date has been selected and there awaits the enjoyable, social evening which will have many new features of farm life.

After the business meeting Prof. Wilson talked on "Ostrich farming in the United States." The practical and scientific sides of this great industry or better still, "Poultry Farming," were presented in a very interesting manner. Especially when he remarked that there was a man who came from an ostrich home and desired very much to advertise it. So, on reaching an eastern city he went to a cafe and asked the proprietor what was the cost of an egg nogg and was informed fifteen cents.

"What is the cost with a fresh egg?" he replied, and was informed fifteen cents.

"Well, what is the cost if you furnished your own egg?"

"Well, we will make it for twelve cents," replied the proprietor.

"Very well!" shouted he. "Make an egg nogg with this egg," presenting the large ostrich egg.

The proprietor was amazed and the joke created some advertisement for the visitor's town.

The closing hour of the meeting was taken up by Profs. Lehenbauer and Frisbee in interesting talks of "Agricultural Spirit." Debating and presenting interesting agriculture papers were spoken of to arouse the spirit in scientific agriculture. So be not afraid to hear in the future a cluster of agriculture arguments for and by the students of the greatest welfare of this country.

Seniors Present Class Gifts

DRINKING FOUNTAIN INSTALLED IN THE LIBRARY—MISS SISSA REMEMBERED BY '15.

On Class Day, May 11, in the afternoon, the graduating class dedicated their gift to the school in the shape of a drinking fountain in the library. The fountain is of white glazed porcelain and is situated by the big west window. A continuous stream of water bubbles up from the white bowl and its cool freshness will always tempt students tired and worn from study to quench their thirst. In very fitting fashion the fountain was dedicated to the late President Stubbs. The following telegram was read from Mrs. Stubbs:

Mr. Joe McDonald, President Class 1915, University of Nevada, Reno, Nev.

I appreciate greatly the generous and gracious ceremony that honors the memory of my husband, Dr. Stubbs, and bless you each one these commencement days I congratulate you earnestly, Class of 1915, and pray that your trained minds and hands may be a power in the world.

Very sincerely,
MRS. JOSEPH E. STUBBS.

Harry Hovey, next year's student body president, accepted the fountain

I wish to thank the students and faculty of the University for the support they have given the Sagebrush during the two years I have been manager. I wish also to thank the merchants of Reno and elsewhere for the generous support they have given the Sagebrush in the way of advertising.
Mr. Jack Pearson, who will manage the paper next year, has improved every moment during the year he has been assistant manager and will merit your generous support.

JOE McDONALD,
Manager 1913-1915.

This issue of the Sagebrush is the last to be published under the business management of Joe McDonald. Whatever of success the Sagebrush has attained during the last year is in a great measure due to the efficient management and live business methods of the departing manager. The Sagebrush joins with his many friends in wishing him every success in his future undertakings.

Normal School To Be Retained

MEETING OF BOARD OF REGENTS DECIDES TO CONTINUE THE TEACHERS' COURSE

The normal department at the state University is not to be abolished. Rumors to the effect that it was to go by the board were set at rest at the meeting of the board of regents of the University. Instead of doing away with the department, its usefulness, the regents says, is to be increased and it is to be given a standing that will place its graduates on a footing with those of similar institutions of the highest class elsewhere in the United States.

Committees of women from the parent-teacher associations of Reno and Sparks were in attendance when the board of regents convened—six from Reno, with Mrs. C. E. Coffin at their head and four from Sparks, with Mrs. Gilmartin as chairman. They presented their views to the regents, based upon the reported intention to abolish the normal department and after statements by President A. W. Hendrick of the University and Chairman C. E. Henderson of the Board of Regents, they left the meeting impressed with the view, as they said, that the proposed changes will be an improvement. Dr. Hendrick discussed the petitions presented by the committees and promised to reply to them in writing later.

This was the second meeting of the Board of Regents this year when all the Regents were present. Chairman Henderson presided and the others attending were: J. J. O'Sullivan, J. W. O'Brien, A. A. Codd and Walter Pratt of Goldfield.

Matters pertaining to the Regents' scholarships, the loan fund, and other matters of importance were taken up and settled before the meeting adjourned.

Got His—A writer of plays was reading a new work before a company of the French Society of Comedy, and presently was disturbed by the sight of one of the members, M. Got, fast asleep. The author stopped and reproved the sleeper. He was reading his play to the committee in order to obtain their opinion. How could a man who was asleep give an opinion?

M. Got rubbed his eyes and remarked, "Sleep is an opinion." There was no appeal from this verdict.—Christian Register.

in behalf of the students. "Sol" Caizer told what he remembered about school in the way of good times and fellowship, and Lauvena Marzen read "Fifteen's" history in a fetching and humorous manner. Class President McDonald announced a gift of the class to Miss Sissa in the shape of a gold mounted fountain pen. The ceremonies closed with a speech of acceptance by Librarian Joseph Layman. He thanked the class for their gift and asked that they keep intimately in touch with the school in the days to come. "Fifteen" sang its class song and then all joined in singing "U. of N. So Gay."

Alumni

For the benefit of the alumni who may not be familiar with the internal changes in administrative policies in the University, the following excerpts from the president's biennial report are printed.

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES

During the year 1914 the Board of Regents established in connection with the University some new features in administrative control. A dean was appointed to act as executive head of each of the colleges. This action imposed upon the University a reorganization of the function of the faculty committees. It had been the custom for faculty committees to perform certain administrative duties. Under the new organization the committees became legislative committees of the particular faculties; that is, they advise as to any change, rules, regulations, or general course of study which may seem desirable to keep the particular college abreast of the times.

ADMINISTRATIVE POLICIES

Carrying out this action of the Board of Regents, a new administrative system of the University is to be established. An attempt will be made to distinguish between the functions of the several colleges, and unite their functions in the University. There will be established a University senate, made up of the president, vice-president, the deans, and the heads of departments in the University who hold professorship rank. To this particular body will be given the duty of defining the University's educational policy, and it will be the duty of this body to coordinate the work of the various colleges so as to insure unity of purpose.

The administrative function of the University is in the hands of the president, who is advised by a council of administration, made up of the vice-president and deans of the colleges. To this council is assigned the duty of administering the educational affairs of the University along the lines laid down by the University senate.

The colleges are organized with faculties, the dean of the college being the presiding officer. The faculty of the college determines those educational questions which have to do particularly with the work of each college, but they are not permitted to legislate upon anything that would deprive the student of any university privilege.

You must recognize that we have several distinct lines of education represented by our several colleges, and it would seem proper that the instructors that have the particular instruction in charge should have large voice in the direction which it should take. Whenever this does not conflict with the general educational purposes of the University, each faculty is practically autonomous.

The administrative function of the dean is coordinate with the legislative power of his faculty. All faculties and all officers of the University report direct to the president, who in turn submits their action to the Board of Regents for approval.

Spring Festival Is Big Success

MACKAY FIELD GREENSWARD IS STAGE FOR ARTISTIC SET OF DANCES AND CIRCUS STUNTS

The Spring Festival, instituted by Miss Sameth two years ago, was held on Mackay Field last Friday afternoon before the well-filled bleachers. Over 160 dancers took part in this year's festival, which took a place as one of the most beautiful and effective features of the graduation week. The dancing features of the program were supplemented by circus stunts, acted by University girls. Everything from the pet snake act, by Miss Flo De Nelligano, to the daredevil bareback equestrian act, were staged with a nerve and grace seldom seen outside of professional circles.

Peanuts, popcorn and pink lemonade were dispensed at booths near the entrance to the big tent. The big and attractive program, was concluded with the May pole dance, with some hundred participants.

An article by Prof. F. C. Lincoln on the "Quimsa Ore Deposits, South America," appeared in the Mining Press May 8. A full treatise on the mining practice in force was given, together with the possibilities for future mining in that country.

REGISTRATION
According to President Hendrick, registration for next semester will commence August 30. Classes are to be held August 2 on a schedule to be announced later.
