THOMAS EDSALL '19 GIVEN SCHOLARSHIP

Sophomore of Marked Ability is Awarded Valuable Prize by Committee

Announcement was made during the vacation by the committee in charge of selecting a Rhodes scholar from Nevada from the candidates who had passed the entrance examinations that Thomas Edsall had been awarded the prize. The scholarship consists of $1500 annually for three years to be spent in study at Oxford University in England. Edsall is a second year man of marked ability, having twice represented the university in inter-collegiate debates and in addition to holding the presidency of Clona at the present time was an honor man in scholarship in his freshmen year. He is a member of T. H. P. O. fraternity. The appointment having been made Edsall will enter Oxford in the fall.

SPEEDY GAME PROMISED WITH SACRAMENTO TEAM

With Additional Week's Practice Varsity Promises to Be in Big End of Score in Second Game

The fast Sacramento Acorn basketball five will tangle with the varsity next Saturday evening and Coach Ross promises that with the second week's training as a basis for the contest Nevada's quintet will end the game with a majority of the points. The visitors possess a strong aggregation of players and will furnish some spectacular sport. On the Nevada squad prospects are brightening. McCubbin is playing brilliantly and Buckman while not yet familiar to his new position at center is playing a steady game. Tam, a star in high school at the forward position, displayed fine form in Friday's game and when he fits more closely into the team play will prove a fast and valuable man. McKenzie is playing his usual speedy game but needs much coaching in the value of feeding his men. The game will commence at 8:15.

Committee on Arrangements Announces That Program for Formal Ball is Fully Complete

The junior class will entertain the school at the annual promenade next Friday evening. Dancing will be the order of the occasion and with unique programs and delicious refreshments every dancer can expect an evening replete with enjoyment. In order with previous custom a charge will be made to the dancers with a reduction to students.

Instead of Carleton College dividing Minnesota into districts and directing the process of elimination for the high school basketball teams of the state in preparation for the high school basketball tournaments, the matter has been turned over to the State High School Athletic Association for adjustment. This move followed after a number of protests had been entered by certain schools in the state in regard to the method in which the college handled the problem in previous years.

The faculty of Northwestern College has at last granted to its students what Lawrence students have been demanding for a long time. The library will be open three nights, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, each week continuously until 8:30 p. m. The results show that the need for after-supper hours was greater than had been expected, as the parlors were filled with industrious students.

Instead of the customary commencement invitations, this year's senior class at Earlham College has adopted a commencement announcement, following a precedent that has been established in many eastern colleges in recent years. The class discarded the invitations in favor of the announcements as the new form carries to the friends of the Seniors, a request for their presence, rather than their presents, at the commencement exercises. Lawrence adopted the announcement idea last year.

BIG MINSTREL SHOW FEATURE FEBRUARY

Proceeds of Entertainment to Be Placed With Student Body Treasury to Augment Sweater Fund

With a caste composed of awe-inspiring seniors and less staid juniors, some of whom can sing and others who are not so gifted—mostly the latter—a minstrel show combining the old-fashioned qualities of exciting and thrilling low and high "brow" acting with music possessing a twang and tang will be given by a group of university students on February 2. Solos, duets, extras and encores, intermixed with silent spaces will entertain the audience, and following the program a big dance will be held. Nationalities other than those belonging to the race of "white-folks" will be represented and a repertoire of songs from darky lullabys to coon songs of wonderful quality will issue forth from throats destined to direct the members of an engineering gang or call the cows and pigs to feed and rest. The time of starting and price of admission to the show will be announced later.

VARSETY IS BEATEN BY OAKLAND GOLDS

Lack of Teamwork and Tendency to Play Individually causes Defeat of Nevada's Squad

Handicapped by the lack of team play due to the earliness of the season and opposed by a team of championship calibre Nevada lost to the Oakland Golds representing the Y. M. C. A. of that city in the first game of the season last Friday night. During the first part of the game the visitors failed to hit their real stride and it appeared as if the varsity quintet had an even chance to win the game but preliminary training soon began to account for points and the visitors' teamwork which enabled them to place a man under the basket free from a Nevada guard was responsible for a score of 18 to 8 at the end of the second half. Nevada took occasional sprints in breaking up the opponent's teamwork and shooting an infrequent basket but the game ended with the score 47 to 27. McCubbin starred for Nevada in defensive playing and in shooting baskets, scoring 12 points from the field. McKenzie and Buckman each scored six points. McCubbin was not in form in the free throws and although fouls were fairly numerous only three points were scored on foul throws. Street of the visitors was the high point scorer being responsible for 19 points. The line-ups were: Nevada—Buckman, center; McCubbin, McKenzie, Baker, forwards; Tam, Brown, Leap, Cessna, Jones, guards. Y. M. C. A. Golds—Hjelte, center; Street, Slussen, forwards; Waddell, Olefsor, Laughland, guards.

ROBBERY! MURDER! HELP!

Senior girls underwent awful dreams of murder and blood last Saturday evening in Manzanita Hall and freshmen ladies sat up with the light on all night watchfully waiting for the invader with trembling hearts and nerves unstrung. All the horror and terror in the women's dormitory was caused by the visit of an unknown caller who was highly interested in the acquisition of skeletons supposedly safely hidden for new dresses for the Junior Prom. Bureau drawers were thrown about, dainty dresses and other lingerie were hastily thrown about the rooms and the reign of orderly neatness in several rooms was destroyed. And then to add insult to injury the thief is reported to have climbed the fire-escape to the roof and escaped in an aeroplane.

All the members of Battery B of Purdue were in a cheerful mood recently as the result of the receipt by each man of a check for $1. This was in payment for two days' service in the militia previous to the time when they were mustered into the federal service.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS ARE OPEN TO STUDENTS

Applications May Be Sent In to Both American and European Colleges For Graduate Research Work and Study

Several fellowships and scholarships are open to members of the graduating class at the university provided that the requirements necessary to secure the appointments can be met. The Beit Fellowships for Scientific Research at the Imperial College of Science and Technology in London, which carry a yearly stipend of seven hundred and fifty dollars will be filled during this year, the number of fellowships and the exact date being announced to the university by the trustees at a later time. At the University of Missouri several teaching fellowships of $400 per year and scholarships of $200 per year will be filled during this semester graduate students being eligible to appointment. Particulars may be had by addressing the dean of the Graduate School at the University of Missouri.

At the University of California about 30 fellowships and scholarships averaging $600 per year, although some called traveling scholarships offer double that amount, are open to graduate students in a wide range of departments covering most of the arts and sciences.

At Northwestern University ten fellowships of $300 and a like number of scholarships carrying a smaller amount, both groups being exempt from tuition fees, are available appointments being made this spring.

At Harvard eleven scholarships of $300 each are offered under the State Scholarship Plan of the Associated Harvard Clubs to properly qualified applicants during their first year in Harvard College as candidates for the degree of A. B. or S. B. One of these awards will be made to a Nevada student and the committee in charge is made up of Professors Frandsen, R. C. Thompson, John C. Watson.

At Pennsylvania State College as a preparation for college teaching six fellowships of the value of $600 each are offered annually to men and women graduates of any college of good standing.

In return for the stipend the holder must render a limited number of hours service in class room or laboratory and must make at stated intervals to the dean of the school to which he or she is appointed reports of progress in such investigation or research as will lead to an advanced degree in this or another institution. One fellowship, open to men only, is assigned to each of the schools of agriculture, engineering, liberal arts, mining, and natural science. One fellowship, open to women only, is assigned to the department of home economics. Selection is made by the faculty of each school prior to May first each year. For application blank, write to the school in which you are most interested, addressing the letter to the Dean of the School of State College, Pa. Full particulars of any of these awards may be secured from the registrars of the various institutions.

FRESHMEN TRIM STEWART INDIANS

Babes Win From Redskin Braves in Rough and Tumble Contest of Basketball

The freshmen basketball team journeyed to Carson City last Saturday evening and trounced the Stewart Indians in a hard fighting game by the score of 31 to 23. The game was marked by frequent fouling but the umpire evidently liked to watch a football contest and the babes returned with a number of bruises to their credit. The Indians are coming to the campus at an early date for a return game and the frosh will tender a dance following the contest. The first year men will play Reno high Wednesday evening. The team which went to Carson was: Forwards, Cunningham, Gooding; center, Tam; guards, O'Brien and Frost; subs, Corbett and Moody.

COLLEGE OF PACIFIC CONTEST ON FEB. 9

After considerable difficulty in fixing a date satisfactory to both institutions the date for the big intercollegiate debate between College of the Pacific and the University of Nevada has been fixed at February 9. The varsity debating team consisting of Thomas Edsall, member of last year's teams, and Everett Layman, winner of the interclass debating prize, have been ready for the contest of wits and oratorical skill for some time and the few remaining weeks will serve to add to their confidence that Nevada will again win from the Methodists.

Agitation has been started in the University of Colorado for the recall of President McBride of the Associated Students. The trouble started when McBride, together with a party of others, went to Golden and helped wash signs off the walls and buildings at the School of Mines, which has been painted there at the time. Mines-Boulder goat started upon its travels.

Women of St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. W., have entered the field of debate for the first time in the history of the university by organizing a team. The venture is a success as the members are enthusiastic over the prospects.

NOTED ENTERTAINER TO APPEAR IN RENO

Beilharz, Reader and Mimic Artist to Show at High School Next Thursday Evening

Announcement is made to the university that Noah Beilharz, a talented entertainer, has been booked to appear at the Reno high school lyceum course next Thursday night. Beilharz has been on the platform for the last 11 years and achieved great success as an entertainer, particularly as a reciter of plays.

His reading of "The Music Master," Charles Klein's famous play, is his piece de resistance, his German descent giving him a most valuable asset in the interpretation of the role of Herr Anton von Barwig, the central figure of the play.

A. S. U. N. RESOLVES ON FULL INVESTIGATION

Passes Set of Resolutions Favoring Thorough Investigation of Former President Hendrick's Resignation

The matter of greatest interest at the first meeting of the A. S. U. N. this semester was the passing of a set of resolutions calling for a full investigation of the action of the Board of Regents in requesting the resignation of former President Hendrick.

Under the head of old business the book store committee reported and was directed to continue its work.

A. Cotter '19, reporting for the sweater committee stated that nearly half the necessary funds for the purchase of football sweaters had been collected and that the remainder of the money would be secured. The committee on petitioning the Board of Regents for coaching funds announced that they had been successful in inducing the regents to insert a request for $2,400 for athletic purposes in the university budget.

Under the head of new business the following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, the resignation of Mr. A. W. Hendrick from the presidency of the University of Nevada has been requested by a majority of the members of the Board of Regents, and
"Whereas, it appears that said request for resignation was summarily made, without previous preference of specific charges, and
"Whereas, the dignity attached to the office of the presidency of the University of Nevada demands that such grave action be taken only on the discovery and publication of weighty and all together adequate reasons, and
"Whereas, it is the sincere belief and sentiment of the student body, that the future welfare of the university demands that justification of the recent action of the Board of Regents be publicly shown;

"Be it therefore resolved, That we, the Associated Students of the University of Nevada do hereby declare ourselves as favoring a thorough and regularly conducted investigation of all matters and conditions pertaining to and affecting either directly or indirectly the recent action of the Board of Regents; and be it further
"Resolved, That we favor the full publication of the findings of said investigation; and be it further
"Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of this meeting, and that copies be forwarded to the chairman of the Board of Regents, and to the state legislature, met in regular session.

WILL E. MELARKEY,
Pres. of A. S. U. of N.
After several announcements the meeting adjourned.

CLONIA TO HOLD BUSINESS SESSION

Debating Society Will Meet in Professor Turner's Rooms at Lincoln Hall
President Edsall of Clonia announces that a business session of the society will be held in Professor Turner's rooms at Lincoln Hall on Wednesday evening at 7:15. Matters relative to the three intercollegiate debates with College of the Pacific, Idaho and Brigham Young will be discussed and plans considered for financing the contests.

HONOR SOCIETY IS NEWLY ORGANIZED

Coffin and Keys Is Name of Organization Designed to Honor Student Leaders

Combining in its purpose the intention of honoring men who have achieved distinction in student affairs with the desire to permit discussion and action on university affairs an organization of prominent men students has recently been formed under the leadership of Prof. J. C. Jones. The membership of the society totals 15 and the name of Coffin and Keys has been chosen as the designation under which the organization will pursue its aims.

MAINE AGGIE STUDENTS PUBLISH HUSBANDRY SHEET

Magazine Contains Articles on Subjects of Interest to Farmers and Foresters

The students of the College of Agriculture at the University of Maine are the publishers of a thirty-page magazine which appears at intervals of about twice each semester. The journal is attractive in size and form and contains illuminating articles on such subjects as the duties and functions of an experiment station, white-pine growth, soil fertility and seedling diseases. The contents of the magazine are under the supervision of student editors and articles are contributed by members of the agriculture faculty.

THIS STORY ISN'T TRUE HOWEVER, IT MIGHT BE

The campus was thrust into deepest sorrow and grief this morning when the horrifying report was bread abroad and confirmed that the cold, stiff corpses of one of the leading students and a fair co-ed had been found at the bottom of the slope on the south side of the tram—frozen to death. The bodies were found locked arm in arm in a last embrace.

The coroner's jury has brought forth a verdict of death due to exposure, advancing the theory that the youth and his fair lady who had been lovers since their freshmen days had wandered over to the tram for the good-night formalities and entranced by the intoxicating atmosphere had allowed the hours to slip by unheeded while the gripping God of Frost slowly encased them in his deathly grip. From marks in the snow the bodies appear to have fallen into the snow and rolled to the bottom of the slope, but so great was the ardor of the ghostly lovers that even in death their clasps was not broken.

There is a profound necessity for legislative investigation and action as a result of this awful catastrophe. A law should be passed regulating the practice of queening, limiting the hours and the months during the year in which it may be carried on and placing a special officer in charge of the tram to enforce the regulations.

POLITICS AND THE UNIVERSITY

The University is passing through a crucial stage in its history. Programs and action initiated and completed within the next few years will determine whether Nevada is to be one of the truly great factors in western education or whether the institution will remain at its present status during the next quarter of a century.

Faculty students and the public are closely watching each other and the regents intrusted with higher power in an endeavor to understand their exact purposes and intents as to the well-being and future of the university. On the campus and throughout the state there is a feeling of uneasiness and a lack of confidence regarding our present condition. The evidence is so complete that a reason must exist for the distrust.

The charge that the university's affairs are intermixed with politics, that political expediency and not the high purposes of education, determine the action of the leaders in the state's affairs has become a matter of common gossip. It is reported that the offices of regent have become political plums which are either used as stepping-stones to higher positions or to dispense desirable honors to men of questionable ability to control education affairs. We are certain that the condition is not so bad as the reports and gossip scattered about the state would indicate; but nevertheless the condition is wholly deplorable and there is one way and only one way out of the mess.

The men who are piloting the university are duty bound at this juncture to take no action except that which bears upon its face the marks of an effort calculated and intended to serve and only serve the highest interests of the institution. The confidence of the public throughout the state will be strengthened and restored when they find men directing the university's affairs who are determined only on the single purpose of strengthening the ability of faculty and administration to achieve the definite ends of education.

Never before has such an opportunity faced the faculty and student body to act wisely and well. If members of the teaching force can forget their own personal welfare and ambitions for a few months and unite in high unselfish procedure; if students will put aside their fear of action which carries the risk of possible defeat and will exert their unquestioned power in thoughtful unprejudiced resolution and expression; and last of all if the regents can convince the public that their purposes are altruistic and if they will follow a plan of broad-minded, temperate, considerate action, the university will pass through its period of trial with no more than a passing scar and the foundation will be laid for broad efficient development and sound, rapid progress in the future.

If present plans being considered by the stadium committee carry through, the University of Pennsylvania will have a stadium that will seat 100,000 people. This will be larger by 31,000 than the stadium or bowl at New Haven. Of course, this is expected to cost an enormous amount of money, but it is thought that the interest in athletics that is every day becoming more acute will justify the expenditure.

The frosh are to have a new variety of cap that will protect their ears from the cold. Ears that were red with the cold have been predominant heretofore, but now it has been decided to throw away the dinky little caps until spring, and to wear a toque instead. This will do away with the joy of the upperclassmen in thumping the ears of the freshmen when they were red.—Columbia University.

Because of a recent episode behind the scenes in one of the university plays, when several of the participants became drunk and because of the drunkenness of several of the members of the teams that have represented the university, the daily paper of Pennsylvania University is advocating a policy by means of which anyone that drinks will not be allowed to represent the university.

Because they played the Helena high school basketball team under the title of the varsity team, losing by a decisive score, six students of the University of Montana have been arranged before the executive committee and two of the number who were officers of the student body have been requested to resign.

The members of the University of Oregon and the inhabitants of Eugene turned out in a big celebration last week to welcome home their big team after the victory over Pennsylvania.

SPARKS LITERATURE?

White Girl Marries Brakeman
Two young people of Sparks were united in the bunk of holy hemlock in Sparks. It was quite a surprise to friends and relatives, as not over 1,000 of them knew anything about it previously.

The bride is a daughter of her parents and has lived in Sparks ever since she came here.

The groom, a knot-headed brakeman on the S. P., is very popular, like a wet dog in bed.

Resolved, Never to study unless it is absolutely necessary; never to eat onions before going to a dance; never to go to see the same girl twice; never to criticize the faculty; never to keep my light on after 10:30, and never to frisk the street car company for more than five cents. Furthermore, I shall give all respect to upperclassmen.

One hundred and sixty-four out of 178 of the 1917 class of science at McGill University have answered the call of their country and have gone to the front. Ten of these have given their lives as their token to their country, and many have lost parts of their bodies. A long list of promotions follow the record of the McGill men, and several have won individual honors. A Victoria cross, a military cross and a military medal have been won.

Action taken Saturday by freshmen and sophomores of Washington university seems virtually to have abolished the annual class rush between the two lower classes. The freshmen adopted a resolution which declared that they refused to participate in the fight, and the sophomores voted to protest the enactment of the student council establishing the combat. They also passed a motion which stated that they were opposed to any form of interclass competition in which the risk of physical injury was primary and skill and ability were secondary elements.

The only change in the 1916-17 inter-collegiate basketball rules allows the center, or any man jumping for a referee's toss, to recover the ball after it has been tipped off. The rule does not go back to the old system of permitting the tall man to reach up and catch it, but allowing the two contestants to touch it without waiting for a third party to play the ball puts five men on either side into the game at all times.

A few minor additions state more definitely the duties of the umpire and require that no basket shall be suspended upon a solid wall, but that a backboard standing out from the wall must be used.

GREENWOOD RETURNS

"Chet" Greenwood who spent the preceding semester at the Michigan School of Mines at Houghton, Mich., has registered in the Mackay School of Mines for the spring semester's work. "Chet's" arrival is a distinct ray of hope for the spring track team. He stepped the high hurdles in 16:1 last spring breaking the campus record.

Pall-bearing is the method that two students in the Cincinnati Law School use to get funds to pay expenses while going to college. The young men have more than they can do to fill calls that are sent in for their services. The University News remarks that it might be a good idea to form a Co-operative Pall-Bearing Department for students who wish to take a combination theoretical and practical course in the subject.

"Don't call me professor, just plain 'Mister'". Prof. Clarence Perkins of the department of European history at Ohio State tells his classes. "The word 'professor' has such a doubtful meaning. If you yell that at me on the street, somebody might think I was a dancing master or an animal trainer."

The taxi swayed and narrowly missed a policeman, then swerved again as it dashed past another taxi, and in so doing just escaped collision with a lamp post.

Please be careful, pleaded the lady occupant of the cab. This is the first time I have ever ridden in a taxi.

Madame, you have my sympathy, gasped the driver. This is the first time I ever drove one.—Chicago Herald.

My husband was a confirmed smoker when I married him a year ago, but today he never touches the weed.

Good! said one of the group. To break off a lifetime habit like that requires a pretty strong will.

Well, that's what I've got.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The agent marched up the front steps and rang the door bell briskly.

Good morning, he said, bowing politely to the maid who answered his ring. Is the lady of the house engaged?

Not now, responded the new maid brightly. She used to be, but she got married more than a year ago.—The Christian Herald.

Dostor, do you have a fixed charge for your operations or do you charge what you think your patients can afford to pay?

Well, I wouldn't say that this is always my custom, although sometimes I do make liberal discounts to the poor.

I thought so, Doc, and I just called to let you know that your bill flatters me more than I deserve.—Detroit Free Press.

At Illinois members of Pi Phi Rho went out on Thanksgiving morn and collected the kids of a dozen families that were not able to feed right on that day, and gave the kids a spread that left the most vivid gastronomical memories.

Are you head of the family?
Not exactly, replied Mr. Meekton. My position is rather that of the man higher up who gets blamed when anything goes wrong.—Washington Star.

I'm surprised to see a four-year-old child so engrossed in a Shakespearean play.

"S-ah! He thinks King Lear is Santa Claus.—Kansas City Journal.

The man who had made a huge fortune was speaking a few words to a number of students at a business class. Of course, the main theme of his address was himself.

All my success in life, all my tremendous financial prestige, he said proudly, I owe to one thing alone—pluck, pluck, pluck!

He made an impressive pause here, but the effect was ruined by one student, who asked impressively:

Yes, sir; but how are we to find the right people to pluck?—Philadelphia Ledger.

Much comment has been aroused among Colorado business concerns due to the letting of the Coloradoan, the annual of the university, contract to a Chicago firm. The president of the Denver Manufacturers' Association took the matter up with the editors, arguing that the university being a Colorado institution should patronize Colorado industries. The contract will not be taken from the Chicago firms, as the home bids were all to high.

The teacher's last question was meant to be a scientific poser. "What is it that pervades all space," she said, "which no wall or door or other substance can shut out?"

No one had an answer ready but Freddy Sharpe.

"The smell of onions, miss," he said promptly.—Chicago Herald.

The latest story of the "Bang went saxepece" series: There were two Hielan'-men, an' they were at the front. An' yin o' them cotch a hen an' the ither yin was jist goin' to throw its neck.

"No' the noo," says the first yin; "let her be till the morn's mornin'." She mucht lay an egg.—Tit-Bits.

Miss Edna Calderwood, a sophomore at Utah, is the first woman debater to act as a representative of the institution.

Although without sight Leslie Blades, a postgraduate student is conducting three classes in English at the University of Oregon. His teaching opportunity came when W. F. G. Thatcher, professor of English fell ill of pneumonia and a substitute had to be found for part of his work. The head of the department chose Mr. Blades, who continues to handle the classes during Mr. Thatcher's convalescence. Mr. Blades uses raised letters for his class notes.

The young doctor and his friend, the drug clerk, were sitting at the club window when a richly dressed woman passed.

"There goes the only woman I ever loved," sighed the young M.D.

"So?" queried the other. "Then why don't you marry her?"

"Can't afford it; she's my best patient."—Mule.

"Do you think the word 'obey' ought to be dropped from the marriage ceremonial?"

"No. Let it stay. It doesn't make any more difference in the actual result than the electoral college."—Washington Star.

ANYBODY can tell you what a tobacco costs. But only yo' old pipe can tell you what a tobacco is worth.

Velvet Joe

THERE can't be any better pipe tobacco than VELVET because it is the best of good Burley cured in Nature's way.

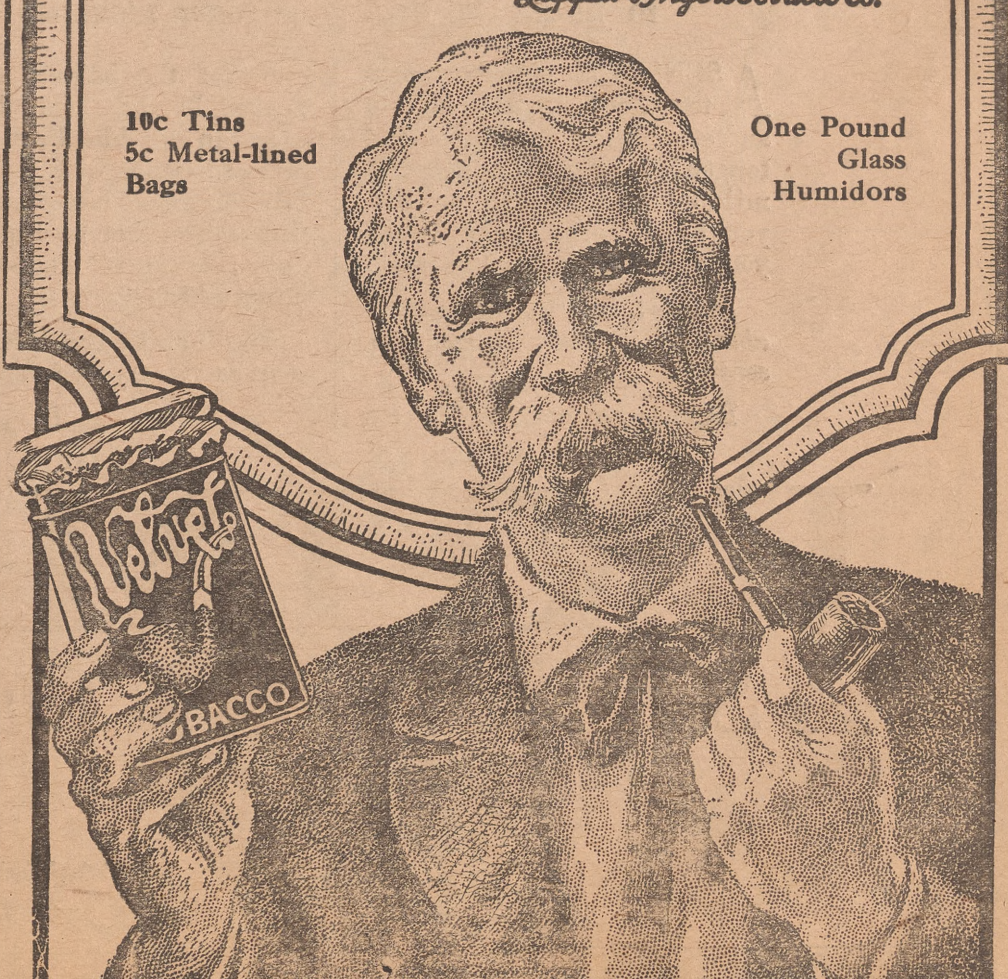

No one has been able to equal Nature's method of curing tobacco—two years' ageing in wooden hogsheads. It is slow—it is expensive, but if you will try a tin of VELVET today you will know that it is right.

Get clearly in your own mind just what qualities you want your pipe tobacco to have. Then give your old pipe a chance to prove to you that VELVET fills every one of your requirements.

Make any test you like; compare VELVET with any tobacco you choose—and the sooner the better!

SOCIETY

DELTA DELTA DELTA
Monday night at the home of Mrs. W. E. Lemmon the Tri Delt girls held their first degree of initiation which was given to their nine pledges.

After the initiation a most delightful social evening followed, a very unique program having been planned by the older girls to welcome their new charges.

At a late hour dainty refreshments were served and the evening came to a close after many college and fraternity songs had been sung. The initiates were: Claire Hofer, Margaret Bird, Nevada Cazier, Leila Ogilvie, Pauline Coke, Margaret Queen, Rose Harris, Marian Lombard and Blanch Garrison.

Mrs. Louis Herman who was Miss Vera Lemmon has been spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Lemmon, and has enjoyed meeting old classmates and acquaintances on the hill during her brief visit.

T. H. P. O.

Last Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Sullivan gave an informal dance to the members of the T. H. P. O. fraternity. The hall was prettily decorated and filled with dancers until the midnight hour approached, when a delightful supper was served. Each dish bore the letters T. H. P. O. and each guest kept one of the many carnations that graced the table as a souvenir. Among those present were:

MANZANITA HALL

Every Manzanitanite has returned from her Christmas vacation ready for another semester of work and play. Besides our goodly number of last semester we have with us Amy Culverwell of Caliente, Nev., Margaret Henor of Los Angeles, and Hazel Seely of Fresno, Cal. All of these girls have been here before so in them we are welcoming back old friends. Magdalena and Isabel Bertschy will not live in the hall this year, but are still attending the university. Helen O'Neil also will not be here this semester, and it is with regret we see her leave the university. Eva Hale is visiting in the hall for a few days.

The 1917-graduating class of Northwestern College is composed of 75.61 per cent of the students that entered the college to study in 1913. Only 39.48 per cent of the freshmen at Beloit see college through from beginning to the end, and 51.16 at Carleton and 48.90 at Amherst feel equal to the strain of acquiring a complete college education.

Y. W. C. A.

Our first Y. W. meeting was very enthusiastically attended and the program proved to be very interesting. We were first favored by a piano solo by Leah Barker. After that the girls illustrated New Year's Resolution by impersonating certain types of people. Dorothy Patterson was the hotel clerk and as each person registered Dorothy asked them what they had resolved.

The cast of characters were: Ruth Pyle, politician; Mary Harrington, business manager; Nevada Cazier, farmer; Salome Riley, tramp; Hulda Shartel, bad resolutions; May Kimball, good resolutions; Helen Mitchell, missionary; Ethel Creek, teacher; Dorothy Mahon, society girl; Isabell Slavyn, college girl.

Speaking of resolutions, among other resolutions we have made hope everyone has made a resolution to be at every Y. W. meeting this coming semester and will keep her resolution. Its one of those that are worth while. Next week you know is Y. W. Day. When we wear our badges have a "feed" at the gym, stunts a particularly fine meeting. Every Y. W. C. A. member should be present at this meeting.—G. C. '20.

Will you tell me where the Phi Beta Kappa House is? You know I would like to get a rush from that fraternity. I hear that it is one of the most exclusive in the school. My pa told me to be sure and make Phi Beta Kappa down here, and I have been here two days now and have not had a single date with them. Chicago claims that they have the greenest of the green in this frosh who put up this wall to the upperclassmen at his boarding house the other day.

The University of Oklahoma claims to have the largest geology department in the world. There are 400 students enrolled in the department, and 62 are majoring in this subject. Oil accounts for much of this interest.

Social life at the university has suffered a terrific blow in the death of one of its organizations. The Ancient Affiliation of Janitors is no more. Last year the club flourished wonderfully; flourished everything from mops to dustpans, in fact. They entertained, had meetings, and generally acted like any well-behaved club. But this season interest seems to have flagged and the club has not reorganized. Whether the spirit of progress is lacking in our janitors or whether their minds are above such frivolities remains to be seen. Perhaps they have noted the demoralizing effects of organization upon the student body and watching the antics of the apparently mentally unbalanced are profiting by examples before them. Whatever the cause, the sad fate of the janitors' club merits the sympathy of the whole university for its bereavement.—Minnesota Daily.

"Pay-Up Day was a big success." So says every treasurer of every college organization at Hillsdale College. The business manager of the paper is especially enthusiastic over the outcome. He wore a smile all day Friday, chiefly because the dollars were coming his way. He and all other collectors were omnipresent the entire day, confronting their debtors at every turn and extracting the omnipotent "long green" with a heartless ruthlessness that was irresistible.

According to the Daily Iowan, the Freshmen at Iowa University are very economical. Hair cuts recently went up to 35 cents in Iowa City. A certain freshman decided that this was too much to pay. Therefore he leaned over a lamp in a laboratory to remove his surplus locks. After the excitement was over, it was found that he will not need a hair cut for some time to come.

Ten students of the University of Kansas were arrested as hoboes while trying to beat their way to see the Nebraska game. It took quite a time before they were able to identify themselves and secure bail from the ambitious sheriff.

What kind of a cigarette would YOU call sensible?

Check up and see how nearly this comes to fitting in with your own ideas:—

A SENSIBLE cigarette must taste good. It must be cool and smooth to your throat and tongue. It must be properly mild—mild enough so that you'll feel all right even though you may smoke more than usual.

In short, it must be comfortable. If it isn't, it can't be sensible.

Fatimas are comfortable because of the balance of their Turkish blend. The milder tobaccos in this blend are in such perfect balance with the richer, fuller-flavored leaves as to entirely off-set that uncomfortable, "oily heaviness" found in so many other cigarettes.

You'll notice the difference as soon as you try Fatimas.
