ENGINEERS PROMOTE AUTOMOBILE SHOW

Gymnasium to Be Scene of Brilliant Exhibition From April 5th to 7th Inclusive

The Engineer's Club of the University of Nevada have completed their plans for an automobile show to be held in the University gymnasium April 5th to 7th inclusive.

This show will be an elaborate affair and all of the latest models of the different makes of machines will be on display. Some of the dealers expect to have special machines here for the big event. The local dealers are thoroughly enthusiastic and are looking forward to the exhibition with hearty interest. The engineers are receiving the complete cooperation of the Reno agencies.

The show will open Thursday evening. Music will be tendered by one of the local orchestras in the city and with the bright furnishings of the different makes of machines it promises to be an event worth the attention of the campus. On Friday afternoon and evening the show will be open to the public. There will be special entertainments at each session. Saturday afternoon will be held special for the high school students and for ladies.

Saturday evening will be society evening, the culminating night of the entire exhibition. It will be formal and all of the society of the city and of the University will be there in full force. There will be special music and the University Glee Club will render several selections throughout the evening.

The show is a big event of the season, coming at the beginning of the automobile season and at a time when prospective purchasers are examining cars. The exhibition will furnish a chance for the prospective buyer to compare the different models of machines without traveling from one salesroom to another.

On the dealer's side it will be an advertising proposition which none can afford to slight. The show will give the agents a chance to meet many possible buyers that they would not meet were it not for the exhibition. A large attendance is expected from the interest aroused by the engineers and dealers and the buying public.

SENIOR PLAY REPLETE WITH CLEVER HUMOR

Comedy Will Present a Wide Variety of Situations With Complications Settled About Main Characters

Although it is well nigh impossible to secure any definite inside information on the general happenings which are to occur in the coming senior play, entitled "The Amazons," written by Pinero, certain leaks from the directors of the presentation indicate that some rare comedy will greet the audience when the curtain rolls up on the eventful night set aside for the extravaganza. Counts and countesses and dukes and duchesses are to figure in the character roll in a plot full of love and romance which according to the rather indefinite reports is to be accompanied by serious and humorous complications among the leading characters. Senior ladies and senior men of dignified mien and bearing will be seen in situations which at best will be

WOMEN'S TRACK MEET EIGHT EVENTS LISTED

CUP FOR WINNERS

That the women are going to stage a track meet with all the trimmings is now a settled fact. The date is set for may 4th and between now and that time they are going to do some strenuous training. The four classes will each be represented by a strong team and last week each team elected a captain. Elsie Humphries will lead the Seniors, Hulda Shartel the Juniors, Laura Lamberson the Sophomores and Ted Kemper the Freshmen.

About eight events will be run. The 50, 75, 100 and 220 yard runs, the low hurdles, shot put, and high jump. Then there will be a relay race of a quarter of a mile.

It is the first event of this kind ever held at Nevada and everyone is looking forward to it with interest. There is going to be some keen competition developed, judging from the number of girls in training. Every morning before breakfast they are out on the track and working hard. Added impetus is furnished by the knowledge that Governor Boyle is to present a cup to the winning team.

JUNIORS TO PUBLISH BOOK LATE IN APRIL

Artemesia to Be Available For Sale During Last Week of the Month

The Artemesia, university year book, is rapidly nearing the point when a definite date can be set for the publication of the first salable copies. A considerable portion of the manuscript is already set up in the printer's office and Editor Barker and Manager Cazier are assuring the college public of the opportunity to view the book at a date several weeks before the term closes. The last week in April has been set as the date on which the book with its pages of campus history for the year and bountiful humor in addition to a wide variety of photographs and cuts will appear for the general reader.

BASEBALL SQUAD NOT TO MAKE COAST TRIP

Divided Responsibility In Scheduling Games Leads to Failure to Secure Guarantees

Because of divided and uncertain responsibility in scheduling games the varsity baseball squad will not leave for the coast as planned this week. It was supposed that contests had been arranged for with St. Marys, St. Ignatius and California.

The St. Marys game proved entirely mythical and the St. Ignatius aggregation could play nothing but a prohibited Sunday game. The lack of guarantees prohibited the trip.

Captain Malone plans to bring either St. Marys or St. Ignatius to the campus later in the month for a letter game.

CALIFORNIA BEATS STANFORD

California varsity baseball team trounced Stanford's aggregation of ball heavers by the one-sided score of 16 to 2 in the second game of the intercollegiate series held last Saturday. Dimmock of California let the Stanfordites down with four scattered hits while California hit Mattei and Draper for fourteen base hits in addition to playing a fine game in the field.

CLASS TAKES TRIP

Prof. J. C. Jones Geology 27 class took the first of a series of field trips last Saturday when they took the train for Verdi and after spending the morning studying the terrain back of the town hiked to Reno stopping at several points of geologic interest on the home trip.

Six thousand six hundred and fifty dollars is the sum it is estimated the Santa Fe spent in order to give their employees the opportunity of hearing the University of Oklahoma Glee Club. There being nineteen men who took the trip, the average cost per man amounts to $350.

VARSITY DEBATERS TO MEET DIXIE NORMAL

Team From Utah Teachers College to Contest With Campus Men On Wednesday

The last of the season's intercollegiate debates will occur on Wednesday evening in the gymnasium when the varsity debating team chosen to meet the team from Utah Normal School from St. George, Utah, will contest with the visitors on the subject of the adoption by the United States of the minimum wage. The exact wording of the question is: Resolved, that the United States should adopt a minimum wage for unskilled labor. Everett Layman '18, whose able initial speech in the debate with College of the Pacific was instrumental in winning the contest is to be one member of the Nevada team and Chester Brennan '17 will be the other debater. Both men have been working steadily and consistently in the preparation of the negative side of the question for the past several weeks and have molded material and form in well-rounded preparation.

The visiting team has just returned from a trip to the University of Southern California where they met a team chosen from the southern university. The Utah team is composed of David Woodburg and Donald Rynn and due to the practice which obtains at the institution of devoting all student effort to debate a strong debating team is formed each year for competition with surrounding colleges.

Wednesday evening's contest will start sharply at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged and the entire public is tendered an invitation.

FRESHMEN ANNOUNCE DATE OF COMING GLEE

Friday the Thirteenth Is Chosen for Babes Ball Given to the Campus

Freshman President Tom Jones announces that the class of 1920 will tender their annual Freshmen Glee to the university on the evening of Friday, April 13, in the week immediately following Easter Sunday. A meeting of the members of the first year class was held Monday evening to complete final arrangements for the big dance and to hear the report of committees.

The babes are planning a gala celebration when they act as guests of the campus and are sparing no effort to make the ball fittingly representative of their class.

CURIOSITY CONQUERS CO-EDS VISIT HE-JINKS

TEMPTATION WINS

Besides killing a multitude of cats, curiosity has on several occasions been at once the misfortune and downfall of humans. In this respect women have always been the chief sufferers from the time of Eve down to modern times, and when Eve's heritage got the better of four of her daughters the night of the "he-jinks", the wise ones only smiled and said "I expected it."

Four young ladies (and we know them every one) overcome by this tempter, essayed to find out what was going on at the boy's party and met with disaster. As they were climbing into a window they were detected and one was captured and to her extreme discomfort was obliged to become the center of an admiring crowd of men. Then she was released and how that girl did clear out of there.

As to what happened to the others they ran for their lives and broke all records for Manzanita Hall. Were they scared? Oh no, they were only training for the girls track meet. They can thank their lucky stars that they weren't caught also.

Moral: Don't get caught.

The student council of Northwestern University has provided a committee to enforce the honor system. The committee will be composed of two members of each of the three upper classes and the freshman member of the student council. This committee will hold regular meetings, hear all evidence, and make recommendations to the council as to the guilt or innocence of accused students.

TRI DELTS HOSTESSES PROVINCE MEETING

Local Sorority to Entertain Sister Guests From Surrounding Universities

Theta Theta of Delta Delta Delta, the local chapter of the Tri Deltas, is to be the hostess of a number of representatives from coast universities at the Theta province convalesce of the national sorority to be held in Reno on Friday and Saturday of this week. Representatives from Washington, Oregon, California and Stanford and also the Los Angeles Alliance, alumni organization, will gather at the university early on Friday. The business sessions of the convalesce will occupy a large part of the two days with the evenings given over to entertainment. On Friday evening an informal party will be given at the home of Miss Hazel Bacon on North Virginia street. On Saturday evening a banquet will be held at the Riverside Hotel. From the banquet table the sorority ladies will adjourn to the Century Club where a reception in honor of the visitors will occupy the evening's festivities.

STAG PARTY STIRS HIGH ENTHUSIASM

Speeches and Festivities Hold Forth Until Late Hour at Men's Annual "He-jinks"

When good fellows get together a good time is sure to result. And that is what happened last Wednesday night when the men of the university gathered together for the annual "he-jinks." All the men were there and also a large delegation from the faculty. Some good stunts were arranged by Chairman Coin Cazier and he accomplished a departure from the "he-jinks" of the past by having stunts that the faculty could safely tell to their wives. From start to finish everyone was well satisfied.

The festivities started with a struggle for supremacy in basketball between the Seniors and the Faculty but the Faculty ceased to struggle after the first few minutes and the Seniors won in a walk. Then followed a wrestling match when "Pink" Brown put Barker, Willis and Hauck to the mat in one, two, three order inside of twenty minutes. Further entertainment was furnished by the Glee Club, the Mandolin Club, Wooster with some of his famous poetry, Prof. Turner in a recitation, and Tam and Guevarra with some music. Bacchus gave an imitation of a dance that looked foreign in its origin but received large applause for his efforts. Dean Serughum, Prof. Knight and Captain Melarkey of the track team, spoke upon the subjects of baseball and track and large enthusiasm was aroused for spring athletics.

Smokes and "hot-dogs" and coffee added to the evening's pleasure and blanket tossing and roughhousing kept the crowd happy until the party broke up.

Columbia students are organizing a naval motor patrol. The preliminary plans for a course before practical work is taken up include a series of lectures on the fundamentals of navigation. As soon as the Hudson river is navigable actual training on motor boats will be undertaken. Instruction will be given by several members of the U. S. navy, now registered for courses in the engineering department who have offered their services.

FROSH ARE EXPOSED SOPHOMORES ARISE

BIG N IS SULLIED

Has anyone noticed that air of mystery that has hung about the heads of certain prominent members of a certain class for the past week? Did you wonder what the secret was and try to pump anyone and did you find out anything? Well, here is the whole thing revealed and then you will know as much as anyone. The Frosh have had the audacity to paint a nice big N in the lower left hand corner of the N.

Not a soul knew it outside of the few Frosh and they were all pledged to secrecy. But when they took a picture of their work and entrusted that evidence in the hands of a woman they made a mistake for Freshmen were not the only ones who saw that proof.

It is up there plain as day and whether or not it remains there is up to the Sophomores. The only wonder is, how they kept their secret for a whole week.

JUNIORS WIN TRACK MEET SCANT MARGIN

Sophomores Follow Within One and One-Half Points With Freshmen In Third Place, Seniors Last

Unless a ruling is discovered which will deprive Chet Greenwood, Junior hurdler, who knocked down three hurdles, including the last, of first place in the high-stick race, Junior class men won the interclass track meet on Mackay Field on the afternoon of Mackay Day by the narrow margin of one and one-half points. Giving the Juniors first in the hurdle race the Sophomores then followed with 35½ points against the Juniors 37. The Freshmen earned 31 points and the Seniors trailed the procession with a scant 21 to their credit.

No exceptional times were made due to the chill wind which swept across the track. The star of the meet who made possible a victory for the Juniors was "Fran" Martin. The sturdy football skipper came through with a first place in both the two-twenty and quarter upsetting the calculations of all the dopesters. Woods in the hundred and furlong was the sensational dark horse of the day. With little or no training he tied for first in the hundred and for second in the two-twenty against a field of sprinters who had the advantage of several weeks training.

The mile was run in the best time witnessed on the track this year. Ogilvie was first in 4:58 with Corbett and Decker running second and third respectively, with the Freshmen runner displaying a lot of strength and stride while Decker showed a large improvement over any race during the season.

A second heat was necessary in the hundred due to the tightness of the finish, the judges being unable to pick first, second and third from among Tam, Harriman and Woods who were bunched in a blanket finish at the tape. In the second heat Woods and Harriman divided the first and second place points in a tie while Tam took third, the time being 10:2.

Wolford did not enter the hammer throw, the big weight heaver being incapacitated with a strained tendon. Joe Hill captured first with Buckman and Patterson taking second and third respectively.

The time in the high hurdles was slow, Greenwood winning easily in 17 flat with Cotter and Kemper following.

The quarter was one of the prettiest events of the day with a big field of runners fighting for the pole and a fast pace on the straightaway. Martin came through with a clear lead for first but second position was almost a tie with Freshmen "Fritz" Cunningham and Jack Frost racing neck and neck to the tape, the former winning by inches.

The outstanding result of the low hurdle race was the injury to Lester Jones, '18, who with a clear lead stumbled and fell over the last hurdle, severely injuring his left elbow and incapacitating him for any further work during the season. Reed took the event with Kemper and Gooding in the second and third places.

The furlong furnished some pretty racing with Harriman taking first and Martin and Woods tying for second. Two heats were run, Harriman taking

CADET BATTALION NOT LIABLE TO SERVICE

No Statutes Exist Whereby Student Corps Can Be Called Out In Body By Authorities

According to army officers the University Cadet organization forms no part of the army of the United States, the National Guard, or the organized militia of the State. The individual members of the cadet corps have the same status as they would have if they were not in college.

The cadet organization is like any other class in the University where students come together for instruction. The cadets as individuals have no more connection with the United States army than individuals in any other classes of instruction. Being a member of the cadet corps gives the cadet no special status or privileges as regards to the regular army.

However, there is one state law which pertains to the calling of former cadet officers into service, although it does not provide any details as to how they would be called out. Officers of cadets between and including the ranks of second lieutenant and colonel must be selected by the chief military instructor with the assent of the president of the University and must be commissioned by the governor. Upon graduating or retiring from the University, officers may resign their commission or hold the same as retired officers of the University Cadets, liable to be called into service by the government in case of war, invasion, insurrection, or rebellion.

MACKAY DAY IS GIVEN FITTING OBSERVATION

Mackay Field Bearing Renewed Appearance From Cleaning Process Inflicted by Student Labor Gangs

From the time the sun rose on a clear sky after a night of light rain until the last note was sounded at the German N Society's dance Mackay Day on last Friday was a crowning success. The day was clear and cold prohibiting any fast time by the track men in the afternoon meet but the bite of cool atmosphere added a zest to the desire for work on the field and in the gymnasium which could not be assuaged.

The squads of workers with their bosses arrived on the campus early and under the direction of Louis Meyers were promptly assigned tasks about Mackay Field and on the track, and the vaulting and high and broad jumping pits redug and filled with sawdust. The recent rain had rendered the track sufficiently moist to permit of immediate working and all the available rakes were brought into play to make the runway level and smooth for the packing process. Another squad of men was assigned to the repair of the broken hurdles and the wood-shop during most of the morning was the scene of the rejuvenation of injured hurdles.

Finally when the work was about completed and the gang bosses were surveying their work with satisfaction the sound of a big spoon on a pan wafted the high sign to the weary workers that the other half of the student body had as efficiently performed their part of the day's work and a string of hungry males together with those co-eds who were not engaged in dishing up additional sus-

EASTER SACRIFICE

This week is Easter tide. In every clime men and women will follow again in thoughtful and heartfelt memory the last few days of the man Jesus as he walked and talked with his disciples counseling and lifting them while men prepared for his death. Whatever may be our belief regarding the man whom many men call divine we cannot but bow our heads in lowly admiration as the Christ again passes up the long road to Cavalry, a character whose consciousness that he bore the dignity of the highest approval within the power of God was supreme and yet a man who consented to lay down his life in daily expiation culminating in the death of the lowest criminal that all mankind might catch a vision of the saving sacrifice and utter unselfishness which alone wins the hearts and erases the problems of humanity.

A truer word was never spoken than by Professor Haseman at the Mackay Day dinner when he pleaded for the presence in the student body of a spirit of loyalty and love and strenuous endeavor for the university. Equipment may surround the quadrangle in buildings of beauty, the teaching force may include the finest minds in the college world, the student body may grow to large proportions but Nevada will never achieve a truly great position as an instrument of education until a spirit of noble purpose and humble sacrifice willing and ready to grant the gift of life itself enters into the minds and hearts of those who compose its membership.

To the man who realizes through experience the meaning of the sacrifice of Christ Easter tide brings new hope and fresh courage for the realization of the ideal of the Passion Week the finest example of unselfishness yet given to the human race is offered for accomplishment.

Sometimes we conceive a wrong idea of sacrificial courage. The spectacular is always more attractive than the commonplace but not always more replete with true example. The finest expression of courage in the fight for an ideal is not found on the battlefield. A lingering death in a hospital behind the firing line does not require the moral and spiritual stamina demanded of men who daily drive their own individual measure of brain and brawn to the limit point of exhaustion in service for the folks who live about them. The death of the Nazarene on the cross was not the most significant fact in his life although theoretical theology bases its thesis on the crucifixion. Christ is called the saviour of men because he presented to them an example of service which if applied will wipe away every evil thing besetting the human race.

The spirit of Easter is the spirit of sacrificial unselfishness and the words mean nothing unless they carry a practical significance possible of application for life on the campus.

The editor wishes to present an apology for the mistakes and errors in the last issue of the Sagebrush. A last minute crisis of the kind which sometimes occur in printing preventing the usual custom of reading proof with the resulting effects.

The senior class at Oregon has inaugurated a campaign for the abolishment of the present system of compulsory senior examinations in favor of a plan which leaves the final tests optional with the various departments.

Reasons for going into the campaign are as follows:

1. To relieve the Seniors from the strain or examinations at the last moment.
2. To leave their minds opener and freer for the honor competitions, prize contests and commencement exercises.
3. Because several colleges have tried the system and have found it practicable, constructive and desirable.

Faculty, students, alumni and friends of the California University have raised $7,000 of the $8,000 necessary to send a unit into the French Ambulance Corps and the society called the Friends of France with headquarters in San Francisco has donated sufficient funds to make possible a second unit sent under the name of the university. Each unit will consist of twenty-one men, making the average cost of sending an individual ambulance driver about $380.

Authority was recently obtained from the President of the United States to organize a unit of the Senior division of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Georgia.

laughable for anybody but the actors themselves.

Rehearsals held under the direction of Mr. J. B. O'Sullivan whose able coaching has resulted in the successful presentation of a number of university comedies are rendering the chief characters in the play thoroughly familiar with the lines of the piece and a polished bit of acting is to be the result.

The Student Employment Bureau of the University of Pennsylvania has been very successful in aiding students to make their way through the University. Last year 246 positions were found for men desiring work, and their earnings amounted to $13,106. One man who arrived at the University with $25 completed a very successful college year, serving as a waiter, dishwasher, furnace attendant, boys' club leader, and typist.

Little Jack Hawley is easily the best catcher that has worked out on Mackay Field for some time.

Three men are trying out for the job in the box and they are all good. Between Leap, Hauck and Davis there is little to choose.

Now that Prof. Knight has volunteered his services as coach, the team is improving at a rapid rate.

Capt. Malone is very optimistic these days. He says that the team is as fast a fielding team as he could wish for.

MACKAY DAY GIVEN FITTING OBSERVATION

(Continued from Page One) — tenance set down to a fine feast arranged under the direction of Nellie Wilkinson, '18, who had summoned the entire lady portion of the university to her aid with a result that was of unquestioned satisfaction to the inner man. Following the dinner a series of short speeches expressive of university spirit followed. A. S. U. N. president Melarkey expressed the thanks of the student body to the Mackay family whose generous endowments had raised to a fuller measure the ability of the institution to further equip itself for the task of education. Dean Watson further mentioned the munificence of Mr. Mackay and laid additional stress on the valuable service performed by the Mackay family in providing a plan for the constructive upbuilding of the campus architecture and landscape.

Miss Kempton, speaking for the women, attested the value of the services which the women students may perform in the life of a university. Albert Reed, '18, and Captain "Fran" Martin speaking for the track and football men urged a high character of endeavor in evincing allegiance to the institution through the production of a team capable of demanding the respect of the public mind. Prof. Haseman speaking out of his long experience and devoted work among the student activities of the university pleaded for a sense of loyalty and love for the university that would make big sacrifices possible. Team play, he said, which considered only the doing of the task and not the individual honor of the performance was an essential element in the life of college men and women.

In the student body meeting following a resolution was passed suspending the constitution and granting the women who played in the game with Mills College the right to wear the German N and the meeting then given over to the nomination of officers of the coming year.

During the progress of the dinner the Glee Club and the Mandolin Club had won appreciative applause in the rendering of several numbers and the noon festivities closed with the entire assemblage standing and singing the university hymn.

Following the interclass track meet in the afternoon the members of the German N Society tendered an informal dance in the gymnasium characterized by the general joyful spirit which had pervaded the entire day.

"Fogs and Tides": Envy and jealousy, fear, worry, prejudice and suspicion are the fogs which keep up from wholesomely enjoying the good things of life. The tide is the love of God which rolls in upon us brightening our lives and making everything worth while, even as the incoming waves revive the seaweed which lies brown and withered along the beach and turns it into a floating med of flowers. This is the thread of that which ran through the inspiring talk given by Mrs. Brewster Adams at last Wednesday's meeting. It was preceded by an instrumental solo by Nellie McWilliams and an anthem sung by the choir. Next year's officers were elected. Those who were unanimously chosen to guide next year's course of the Y. W. C. A. were: President, Jo Damm; vice-president, Adele Norcross; secretary, Magdalena Bertschy; annual member, Faith Maris; treasurer, Mary Browder.

Dorothy Hempton is taking a short sojourn in the hospital to recuperate and to regain her voice before she leaves, this Wednesday, for the mid-year Y. W. C. A. Conference at Mills College. Miss Wygal leaves at the same time as a delegate to the conference.

ANNOUNCING Kirschbaum Clothes AT A NEW PRICE $16.50

STILL a strong selection of Kirschbaum Clothes at $15, and an even wider variety at $20, $25 or $30. But also an in-between figure—$16.50—where we can offer a wider latitude of fabrics than at $15—a little more value in the workmanship and trimmings—an additional measure of quality, in fact, which far outbalances the small margin of price. There is nothing elsewhere in town below $20—and very little at $20—which is even worthy of comparison with these extraordinary values in spring Kirschbaum suits at $16.50. All-wool, and the other standards that go with all-wool.

Our advice, men, is this: Do your choosing now—while our selections of styles and fabrics are at their best.

Babies have words of their invention, which contains the sounds of the English language, and some not in English, but all of them have a definite meaning. This is information obtained from a lecture on the development of languages given by one of the professors of Iowa University. This professor says that more than that, of course, all babies do not have the same words. He also says that science and slang are developing our language today; science, by adding new words and ne wmeaning; slang, by using new words to express old thoughts in new ways.
