WHAT IS OUR DUTY?

ARE we doing our duty by remaining in college? That is a question that is uppermost in the minds of a good many of us these days. We want to do our duty, whatever it is, if we only knew. Some of us are answering the question by enlisting in some branch of the fighting forces. Others have answered the question by a steadfast resolve to finish the year out and fit themselves for the greatest service when the call comes for the aid to the government that they can give with greater training. Still others have refused to answer the question and are still holding a precarious position on the fence without the courage to do the former and without the ambition or will to do the latter.

It is hard to stay behind in college when the men that you fought beside on the gridiron or court are going out to a bigger fight. It is many times harder to stay behind than to go. You ask yourself, "Why not?" Can you justify yourself in sticking to your studies a little longer and will you be of greater use to your country if you do? They are delicate questions to handle.

Another question remains first to be answered: What are you doing in college? If you are doing what you are supposed to be doing in college, the government at Washington is with you. If not, you are a slacker on two counts.

It is evident to anyone that men and guns alone will not win this war. It is not a game or a great adventure. We are matched against brains and we have to meet the enemy with more brains to win. England and France and Germany all made the mistake of using their college men for cannon fodder in the beginning of the war. Now the Allies have to rely upon America for the trained men to think out the weak points of Germany.

Outside of the draft, Washington has never asked the colleges for anything but trained men and the draft took only a very small percentage. There are plenty of privates and petty officers, but the government is hard put to it for the leaders. The demand will increase as the war progresses, and the man who enlists in the ranks now will not be the officer of tomorrow.

Even more than officers, the government needs specialists in certain lines. Look down the list and notice the number of men who trained for a certain work in college and are special aides to the government in that line. There isn't a course given in college that the government cannot use to advantage.

Almost daily comes a request for trained men for gas and flame service, for naval reserve, ordnance department or engineers' corps. In every case, the demand is for trained men with two or more years in college, and the more experience the better. Only college men can fill these positions, and the frequency of the demands is proof of the scarcity of applicants. Very few of us now can hope for success in these lines, but a little hard study and we can.

What is the new questionnaire for that will be out in a few days? It is an inventory of the man power of the country. It will separate the trained from the untrained, the brains from the gun bearers, and the slackers from the patriots. Upon the results of the questionnaire, the next draft will be based and each man fitted into his own particular notch of greatest efficiency to the government.

Finally, the advice that we should follow when in doubt should be the advice of men who know. The heads of government in Washington are far-sighted enough to see the college man's place in the war and not the recruiting sergeant on the street corner. Without a dissenting voice the message from Washington is: "Stay in college until we call on you."

They haven't called yet but they will, and we must be ready. We must not waste a minute, and what we neglect now may mean a great deal later on. Who can tell what knowledge will be of use at the crisis? No, it isn't a mistake to remain in college; it is a duty.

WE PROTEST

People are bound to knock, no matter what it is about. If they have a real topic on which to quarrel all is well and good, and if they have nothing to start on, all is well and good anyway; they start on nothing and make something out of it.

There are always two ways to look at everything and always two classes of people to look and judge, and they judge according to their prejudices for the most part and not according to the facts. The use of English may prove faulty at times, but the benefit of the doubt should be granted the writer in that case.

Last week an article appeared in "Kampus Kat" which called forth considerable uncalled for criticism. To the people who tried to twist the facts into something that was not intended, we simply say that they could employ their time to better advantage.

Society

THE SOPHOMORE HOP

The annual Sophomore Hop passed into college history last Friday night, November 23, when the Class of '20 entertained the faculty and students of the University in the gymnasium. According to tradition and custom, the Sophomore Hop has usually been one of the most brilliant functions of the year, but realizing the crisis that the country is facing at this time, the dance was made informal. The gymnasium was decorated with American flags and the class colors, purple and white. The music was furnished by a peppy six-piece orchestra and the refreshments were delicious. The evening was a success and everyone danced until twelve under the glow of the electric '20.

MU ALPHA NU

(The article below was written and set up last week but became misplaced in making up the paper and its absence was not noticed until it was too late. With apologies, we will print it this time.)

Merriment increased in a geometric ratio at the Math. Club party given at the home of Professor Haseman last Wednesday night. Five hundred and a numerical game were played. Pie a la mode and coffee were served before the party broke up at a late hour. The guests of the Math. Club were Misses Bonita Jansen and Bonnie Stevens and Messrs. Stickney, Harri-man, Brennan, Whalman, Pargellis, Watson and Scouler. The members of Mu Alpha Nu are Dr. and Mrs. Haseman, the Misses Cameron, Mace, Bertschy, Rains, Higgins and La Kamp, and Messrs. Nyswander and Engle.

Mrs. Scerugham entertained the Delta Delta Delta Alliance Monday evening. While business was discussed, Red Cross work was done. Those present were Mrs. R. Meeker, Mrs. James Nyswander, Mrs. B. James, Miss Nan Coon, Miss Josephine Williams, Miss Hazel Bacon and Miss Mabel Larcomb.

A meeting of the Tri-Delta sorority was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Adele Norcross. Miss Nellie McWilliams, their new pledge, was the guest of honor.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. gave a very successful program illustrating the work of the organization at the Century Club Friday afternoon. The first act represented a model cabinet meeting with committee reports. The parts were taken by the members of the cabinet, Jo Damm, Alice Boynton, Gertrude Webb, Lois Moody, Eva Hale, Dorothy Higgins, Evelyn La Kamp, Hulda Shartel, Freda Daoust, Magdalena Bertschy, Mary Browder and Myrtle Cameron.

The second scene was a Y. W. C. A. hostess house at a training camp. The hostess was Magdalena Bertschy, the secretary, F. Maris. M. Browder was a soldier's mother, Jo Damm, a club-woman, while Evelyn La Kamp, D. Higgins and Freda Daoust took the part of three girls.

The last act was a repetition of the World's Conference which was given at a regular meeting a few weeks ago. Miss Helena Shade presided as the spirit of the association, while the delegates representing the different countries were Lottie Ross, Europe; Edna Short, America; Alice Boynton, India; Wilma Wilkie, China, and Tessie Wardle, India. The play was such a success that the ladies of the Century Club are urging that it be repeated.

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting November 21 the Reverend Brewster Adams addressed the girls. His subject was: "Keeping Steady During the War," and he pointed out that we must not lose our perspective and turn all our interests to the work abroad as there is just as urgent a need of our work at home. Miss Grace Harris gave a violin solo. The meeting was presided over by Freda Daoust.

The meeting next Wednesday afternoon will be a Thanksgiving service. Come and count your blessings.

The association is very fortunate this year in having a number of talented girls who can make all posters. This is quite a task, as one is needed for each regular meeting and more for special work. Following is a list of the girls who have been called in to work this way: Isabelle Slavin, Salome Riley, Lulu Hawkins, Fru Wortham, Florence Shirley, Marian Fee, Louella Murray, Margaret Hun-kin and Emily Burke.

Manzanita

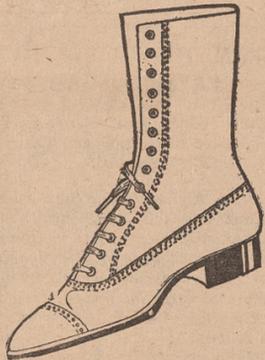

Saturday afternoon Manzanita migrated to Mrs. Humphrey's. There we found such quantities of food that we just sat and stared for several minutes. We soon woke up and devoured everything from fancy crab dishes to lemons, sucked through sticks of candy. In the course of the evening we did everything from singing patriotic songs to betting on horse races. We had a marvelous time, but we did feel sorry for the poor men. Didn't they miss our smiling faces at the go house and didn't they envy us? We will do our best to console them by telling them all about our good time. Details will be furnished upon request.

Miss Mack's electric stove is still working. It worked two shifts Sunday but seems to be bearing up well under the strain. There is nothing that stove, with Miss Mack superintending, can't cook, and there is nothing we can't eat with gusto. Two and two make four!

The men are fading away even as the roses (not that men are comparable to roses). In view of this fact, a new rule is about to be added to those of Manzanita to the effect that no one girl can have more than one date each week-end. If she is asked for more she must turn the extra man over to some other girl. Also any freshman who has a "steady" must take her roommate with her at least three times a week. (Don't worry, Red, this hasn't gone into effect yet). We feel that these new rules are very fitting under the circumstances. In other words, we are going to "Hooverize" on men!

Hix—"I saw four men with one umbrella and not a one got wet."
Dix—"Impossible."
Hix—"Sure, it wasn't raining."

MAJESTIC

The popular family vaudeville and picture house opened the holiday week with another exceptionally good program. Doug. Fairbanks as the feature picture of course is always a sure fire hit.

Today and Thanksgiving Dead Shot Baker, one of the famous Wolfville stories picturized, is the film feature, with Coral Halloway and Wm. Duncan in the leading roles. It's action from start to finish. Several good acts of vaudeville also complete the two-hour performance.

For the last two days of the week Beverly Bayne and Francis Bushman appear in a big, gripping western picture entitled "Their Compact." It is also another action picture.

The vaudeville acts include one of the highest paid child artists on the circuits, La Petite Elva, billed as Vaudeville's Toy Comedienne; the Kafka Trio of sensational aerialists and iron jaw feats; Denni and Perri, a fun making trio.

Wm. S. Hart pictures will soon be incorporated in the program at the Majestic, as well as other Fairbanks productions.

HE KNEW

"Any rags? Any old iron?" chanted the dealer, as he knocked at the suburban villa. The man of the house himself opened the door.

"No, go away," he snapped irritably. "There's nothing for you. My wife is away."

The itinerant merchant hesitated a moment, and then inquired: "Any old bottles?"—Tit-Bits.

Geraldine Farrar, the noted prima donna, will make her debut under the Artcraft trade-mark at the Grand on Tuesday for three days in "The Woman God Forgot," a spectacular photo drama produced under the personal direction of Cecil B. deMille, the noted director.

In the few photo dramas in which Geraldine Farrar has appeared, she has established herself as the leading emotional actress of the film. Her first appearance, "Carmen," and her more recent production, "Joan the Woman," have been the sensations of the photo-dramatic world.

For her theme in "The Woman God Forgot," Miss MacPherson has taken the story of a Princess who sells her country for the man she loves. The whole story is taken from a chapter in the early history of America telling how the Spanish invaded Mexico and of their conquest of Montezuma and his Aztecs. Geraldine Farrar is seen as Tezca, daughter of Montezuma. She falls in love with a handsome young Spaniard, which role is played by the ever-popular star, Wallace Reid.

Ye Kampus Kat

Dear Editor: The cat who used to run this column has departed. He left all the old shoes and bottles behind in the old alley. Now I've taken his place. If you have anything to say about my writing, please sent it to me at my home by freight. The reason why any of you lads aren't being bawled out right now is because I didn't climb on this fence until yesterday and my eyes are just getting accustomed to the light. But look in this space next week and you might find anything about anybody.

SOME OF THE UKELELE GIRL CHORUS WHICH COMES TO THE RIALTO THURSDAY, NOV. 29.

"THE UKELELE GIRL"

Novelty after novelty will be discovered in the production of the scintillating musical comedy, "The Ukelele Girl," according to advance report, which will be seen for the first time here at the Rialto Theatre for one night only, Thursday, Nov. 29. A special holiday matinee will also be given.

An electrically-lighted "firtation" runaway, which extends from the footlights out into the audience, is one of the unique features. "The Love Hula," given at the base of the sacred volcano, Kilauea, is another. "The Dance of Youth," performed by fifteen beautiful damsels, is still another. A practical aeroplane which floats out from the stage over the heads of the audience, carrying "The Ukelele Girl," who sings "Come Up in the Air," is still another novelty in a performance so replete with the unusual that it is difficult to enumerate every departure from the conventional with which it abounds.

WHERE IS THAT CANDY BIG HOWL FROM AMERICAN LAKE POETRY AND PROSE

Manzanita Hall Association.

Dear ladies: We, the undersigned former students of the dear old University of Nevada, having read the enclosed clipping in the U. of N. Sagebrush for the sixth inst., do wish to state that having so read we sat back and made sulphur remarks of incredulous wonder and disbelief. In fact the air of one machine gun barracks where we three were congregated took on the hue of a hunk of azurite ore.

What we want to know is if the soldiers are batting .667 in your candy making league why you haven't fattened your average on three perfectly good old U. of N. men when you hint that strangers are partaking of your bounty, and hint it so openly and brazenly that it is even published in the sacred columns of Kimmel's immortal Sagebrush.

By everything that is big or small, holy or unholy, from the biggest boulder on the top of Mt. Rainer's snow-covered cone to the smallest pebble on the Camp Lewis parade ground, from the sacred words of the immortal Bible to the bummiest work of Robert W. Chambers, we want to know why, when you are batting boxes of candy all over the lot you don't give this all-star outfield a chance. We can assure you we will accept all chances in errorless style.

Signed,

NOTICE—CHANGE

Minimum age limit of eligibility for admission to Third Series training camps has been changed as follows: Candidate to be eligible must not be over 31 years of age or under 20 years, 9 months on date of opening of camp, January 5, 1918.

Notification has been received by the president of the University of Nevada that the special training courses held in universities and colleges for the quartermaster corps, U. S. army, have been discontinued for the present.

Minister—Young man, do you ever attend a place of worship?

Young man—Yes, sir, I'm going to see her now.—Ex.

"What are you making candy for," said coed on parade,

"For soldier boys, for soldier boys," the other coed said.

"What makes it look so awful white?" said coed on parade,

"Oh! that's the way I like it," the other coed said.

For the candy that the girls make up in Manzanita Hall

It somehow never sees the old Nevada boys at all;

Why say that we get two-thirds when yourselves you eat it all,

And write junk for the Sagebrush in the morning.

"What makes you act so peplless, Dave?" said Joe Hauck-on-parade.

"I gave my pep to U. of N.," good old Dave Abel said.

"What makes your front teeth look so bum?" said Joe Hauck-on-parade.

"I left three on the Mackay field," the hard-boiled Tough Guy said.

For we be three Nevada men always good and true,

Who lived and loved and fought for the Silver and the Blue.

And we sure won't shy at candy any more than one of you.

We can eat the stuff at night or in the morning.

CAL. FROSH FINISH A PERFECT SEASON

With the victory over U. S. C. freshmen, the California freshmen can claim an exceptional record. They played nine games and won every one with a safe score. They scored a total of 318 points to their opponents' 32. Sprout was the star of the season and scored approximately half of the points. If the freshmen return to college next year they will make great material for the varsity.

Hewett—When I was in Kentucky I was arrested for violation of the liquor law.

Jewett—How was that?
Hewett—I declined to take a drink.—Puck.

WHERE THEY ARE

The Sagebrush will publish the following Roll of Honor in every issue until it is fully corrected and complete. We will make an effort to keep track of the enlisted men in this way and thank anyone who discovers omissions or mistakes in the list.

NEVADA MEN AT R. O. T. C. RECEIVE COMMISSIONS

Nevada's Representatives at Reserve Officers' Training Corps Become Officers.

Graduates of the University of Nevada secured seven out of nineteen Nevada appointments to commissions from the R. O. T. C. this week. Frank Hobbins, Harland Heward, and J. E. Moore were made first lieutenants, and Tom Walker, Frank Silva, Will Melarkey, and Raymond Spencer were made second lieutenants.

Hobbins graduated in the engineering department of Nevada in 1911, and since graduation has been engaged in mining in different parts of the state. Heward never graduated from Nevada but took a post graduate course in 1915 and stopped to practice law.

Tom Walker, '15, was in Reno last week after his marriage on the way to his new post at Ft. Leavenworth. He is second lieutenant in the signal officers' reserve corps. Frank Silva is a graduate of last year's class and is to be a second lieutenant in the ground division of the aero corps. Will Melarkey, student body president last year and prominent student of the class of '17, and Raymond Spencer, ex-'19, will be second lieutenants in the infantry and probably sent to American Lake.

MANZANITA ENTERTAINED BY THE MRS. HUMPHREYS

The Manzanita girls were delightfully entertained Saturday evening at a delightful party given by the Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Herbert Humphreys at the home of the former on Ralston street. A delicious supper was served cafeteria style and the girls were delighted with the dainty, home-cooked dishes. The supper was followed by a unique and varied program. Eva Jones captivated her audience by her clever clog dancing. Miss Edna Greenough gave an intellectual discussion on "Down With the Remaining Men," and also took a prize as the most popular lady, her speech having met with great approval. Miss Mack was the recipient of the prize awarded to the most beautiful lady. Others who contributed to the amusement were Miss Stroud, Miss Ileen Greenough and Mrs. Humphrey's small sons. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. A. E. Hill.

MICHIGAN COEDS FORM "BATTALION OF DEATH"

About 35 young women at Michigan have voluntarily formed themselves into a military unit and are drilling daily for the hardships of war. An army officer has the company in charge and he is showing them no favors. The number is expected to include the whole feminine student body before long.
