

TRAVELING MINES SCHOOL GRATED

Government. To Send Out Mining School Which Will Move From Camp To Camp

A traveling mining school is to be instituted in Nevada under the auspices of the State and the Federal Boards for Vocational Training. The school will travel from camp to camp and give secondary mining training to working miners, millmen, smelters, prospectors, and others. This is a new departure in mining education which opens up a most promising field, and it is altogether fitting that Nevada—which has been the pioneer in so many mining matters—should be the first state to take up this work.

It is proposed to send the school to the camp which first obtains an advance registration of at least 20 men, and to continue in this camp for at least three months, which is sufficient to complete several of the shorter courses or any one of the longer courses. Providing the attendance at the end of the three months period remains as high as 20, the school will remain a further three months in the same camp, but under no consideration will it exceed a stay of more than six months at a time in one camp.

There will be no charge for instruction, but students will be expected to furnish their own books and supplies. The camp will be called upon to supply a suitable room for the school and to furnish the necessary heat and light. The instruction will be carried on in such a way as not to interfere with the regular work of the mines, and will consist of about two hours work per day, exclusive of Sundays. Where there are two shifts, the same classes will be repeated at such times as to permit men who change shifts to continue their studies without interruption.

Thirty-six courses are offered including subjects in mining, drafting, surveying, geology and mineralogy, chemistry and assaying, and metallurgy. Groupings of these courses to train men for sixteen special positions, such as mine foreman, surveyor, assayer, etc., are suggested. These suggested courses begin with work of a practical nature, such as training for machine-men, shot-firers, timbermen, samplers, and solutionmen.

It is hoped to be able to begin instruction by the middle of May, but it may not be possible to begin before June 1st as arrangements for a principal have not yet been completed. Mines and camps desiring to secure the services of the traveling school are requested to communicate with the Director of the Mackay School of Mines at Reno, Nevada, at once.

NEVADA MEN ARE RECOMMENDED FOR COMMISSIONS

A number of former Nevada men were seen on the hill last week after finishing their work at the third officers training camps at Camp Lewis and the Presidio. Though they have not yet received commissions they are classed as candidate officers and should be commissioned within a few weeks. They wear a small white ribbon on the coat sleeve as a distinguishing mark.

Gardner Chism, Wayne Adams, Hugh Raines, Fritz Winesgar and Everett Layman all will stay with the infantry and have been ordered to Camp Kearney. Ed Caffery goes back to the infantry at Camp Lewis. Paul Barker and Rufus Ogilvie have been ordered to report to a camp in Georgia.

EDDIE BENSON EX 19 GOES TO AMERICAN LAKE, DRAFT QUOTA

On the twenty-third of last month Eddie Benson left for McGill to join the contingent for the National Army that left that county for Camp Lewis on the twenty-sixth. Benson was a third year student in the College of Agriculture and an active man in baseball activities.

NEVADA TEAM LOSES DEBATE TO PACIFIC

Argument of Stephens and Pargellis Fails To Overcome Pacific Men At San Jose

The College of the Pacific obtained the decision of the judges on Friday, April nineteenth, when they debated Nevada on the question: Resolved, That the proposed Senate amendment to the War Revenue Bill, commonly known as the Conscription of Wealth, whereby it was proposed to raise the bulk of war revenue by a taxation of war profits, would have been a better solution of the problem of war finance. Since the question was rather vaguely stated, the debate resolved itself into a discussion of terms, rather than main issues, and the entire rebuttal of each team was occupied in attacking the definition of the other. But it was a very spirited contest, and some excellent intercollegiate debating was shown by both teams.

The debate was held in the college chapel, and was attended by over a hundred, who followed every turn of the speakers with keen interest, and applauded every time any particularly apt remark was made.

The decision of the judges was returned with a unanimous verdict against the persuasive powers of the Nevada team and Pacific was awarded the decision on the affirmative side. Throughout the course of the argument the Pacific supporters showed a remarkable interest displayed in college yells and songs and the Nevada team came home with a feeling of admiration of the way in which Pacific supports her debaters.

A. S. U. N. ELECTION IS HOTLY CONTESTED

Ira Redfern Elected President By One Vote and Two Revotes Are Necessary To Elect Business Manager

The A. S. U. N. election was completed last Wednesday and what started out to be a slow election ended up by taking a second revote for the position of Assistant Business Manager of the Sagebrush. All elections were close, the office of Sophomore Representative being almost the only place where a substantial majority was obtained.

In view of the fact that there was but one nominee for half of the offices of the Association it was expected that there would be no competition. This turned out to be a wrong supposition as there was one tie and the winning candidate for President got a majority of but one vote and of the other elected officers there was but one who had a majority greater than nine votes. It took a second revote to decide the tie for the Assistant Manager's position.

Those elected were: President, Ira Redfern; Vice-President, Will Stickney; Secretary, Eva Hale; Athletic Manager, Mark Cessna; Women's Athletic Manager, Salome Riley; Assistant Editor Sagebrush, Dick Bryan; Assistant Business Manager Sagebrush, Howard Brennan; Artemisia Editor, Morris Radt; Artemisia Manager, Leo Bartlett; Junior Representative, Harold O'Brien; Sophomore Representative, John Douglas; Treasurer, Tom Jones. The amendment which carried reads: "Not later than two weeks after the opening of school, the incoming class shall adopt a written constitution, following if possible the lines of a skeleton constitution devised by the A. S. U. N. This, however, does not prevent the class drawing up its own constitution."

TWO SUMMER COURSES GIVEN THIS SUMMER

Normal Schol Will Offer Summer Teachers' Course And Government Will Train Unit Of 100 Men.

The University promises to be a busy place this summer. Not only will the regular summer session be held but for the most of the summer there will be one hundred soldiers on the campus studying shop work and mechanics.

The summer session opens on the sixteenth of June and will run for six weeks. It is designed primarily for teachers but any one who wants to avail himself of the chance for liberal study may do so. Courses will be offered in agriculture, art, botany, civil government, education and psychology, English, history, economics, manual training, mathematics, music, physical education, hygiene and Roman languages.

The first soldiers will appear on the campus about the fifteenth of June for eight weeks' instruction in shop work and mechanics. It has not been definitely decided yet whether the men will be registered in the halls or in regular soldier style on the quad. When this class finishes a second class will be sent here for a similar course. These men will all be a part of the Western division. The faculty of the mechanical division will have to remain on the campus through the summer to handle the courses.

On Sunday, May fifth, the graduating class, Faculty and friends listened to an inspiring sermon delivered by Reverend Brewster Adams. At eleven o'clock the procession formed in front of Morrill Hall and solemnly marched down the campus to the gymnasium where seats were reserved for those in caps and gowns. It is on such occasions that the reality of how many of the University men have been called into the army to uphold the glory of the institution in the service of the country is driven home.

The meeting was opened with a hymn by the congregation after which Reverend W. E. Lowther gave the invocation. Reverend Samuel Unsworth of the Trinity Church followed with a reading of the Scripture. Reverend Brewster Adams gave an inspiring sermon. His subject was "Militant Christianity" and he showed how Christian advancement would be one of the outcomes of the present great war. The Choral Club rendered several numbers and the meeting was closed with the reading of the Benediction by the Reverend Patrick Edward Meehan. The Veterans of General O. M. Mitchell Post No. 69 and the Women's Relief Corps were the guests of honor at the meeting.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE ELECTS NEXT YEAR OFFICERS

Evelyn La Kamp Elected President Of Associated Women Students

The last regular meeting of the Women's League was held on the bleachers of Mackay Field, April 6th. Election of Officers followed and Evelyn La Kamp was elected President, Marian Lombard, Vice-President, Rose Harris, Treasurer and Ruth Billingshurst, Secretary.

When a newspaper can tell how enjoyable a Glee Club concert "was" when it is still "to be" we, as plodders along the journalistic road, are anxious to lift our hat in sincere respect for their ability to handle events.

CADET BATTALION IS INSPECTED BY GOVT.

Battalion Maneuvers Before Major Pierce, U. S. A. And Makes Creditable Showing

Nevada's unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps was officially inspected by Major Pierce of the Adjutant General's office of the National Army. While the inspection this year was not as rigid perhaps, as in former years, everything was carried out in correct form and was quite thorough. The cadets lined up in dress uniform and their arms and equipment were inspected after which several hours were spent in close and open order formation. Following this they were marched up in the hills behind the training quarters where they worked out several practical exercises in tactics.

Major Pierce expressed himself as well pleased with the showing made and heartily commended the cadet officers for their good work.

REDSKINS ADMINISTER TWO BIG DEFEATS

Hastily Organized Baseball Team Makes Poor Showing and Is Handicapped By Lack of Twirler

On Saturday, April 20, the University baseball team took a trip to the Carson Indian School to play the Indian bucks. They went down with great expectations which were lowered a lot by their getting beaten 7-1. The University team had only a week to practice in and so were unable to play their best against the Indians. The opposing team was in fine condition and with the help of a few hundred dusky maidens as fans, they had very little trouble in winning the game. Although Engle's arm was not in the best of condition he pitched a good game for the University.

The diamond was soft which slowed the game up considerably. No long hits were made on either side. The Indians came up to the University and played them a return game on Saturday, April 27th at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The game was fast and interesting for the first four innings until the Indians began to pile up their runs. Cessna was pitching and was unable to locate the plate so that with a few wild pitches and walks, the Indians got ten runs. He was replaced in the sixth inning by Ballou, who held them down to one run for the remainder of the game.

The features of the game were the hitting of Sanders and the playing of Ballou at shortstop, O'Brien also caught a good game behind the bat.

The final score was 11-6. The lineup for the University was as follows:

Cessna—P. O'Brien—C. Sanders—1st. Foulkes—2nd. Ballou—S. S. & P. Douglas—3rd. Bowen—L. F. Hancock—C. F. Caffrey—R. F.

SENIORS GIVE PLAY TO LARGE HOUSES

Dramatic Society Benefit Is Dramatic And Financial Success

The play given by the Delta Alpha Epsilon under the auspices of the Senior Class at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings was a great success. The play, however, was not of a type that held much of an appeal for the audience as it did not have the necessary variety and comedy which goes to make a popular play for such an occasion.

Miss Bertschy, who took the part of Sir Harry, a dashing young nobleman, measured up to the requirements of her part in every particular. This young noble proclaimed his love for a young lady but was so egotistical that she refused to marry him and instead became a clerk on a salary of twelve pounds. Blanche Lathrop, as the young lady, was easily the star of the play, proclaiming her devotion to self sacrifice and work rather than to riches and success. Sir Harry later married Lady Sims, whose part was carried by Mrs. Finney, an easy going and submissive wife who worshipped her husband. After Sir Harry's rise to prominence he, by chance, hired the heroine as a typist and immediately began to tell her that she would have been better off if she had married him, instead of working. She, however, refused to concede the point and produced a humorous situation in showing him that she was better off with twelve pounds and freedom than with a title and a cage. Miss Higgins, who took the part of the butler, carried the part with her usual cleverness and made the most of the situation.

The play was also a success from a financial point of view, the proceeds being generously donated toward the deficit of the last year's Artemisia, thus enabling the Seniors to leave school without a class debt.

WILBUR CHAN DIES FROM ACUTE PNEUMONIA

Chinese Student Passes Away Suddenly After Crisis Is Passed

Wilbur F. Chan, a Chinese student, died at the University hospital on Tuesday, April twenty-third. He was buried the following Thursday from the Campus, the services being held in front of the Mackay School of Mines.

Chan was a second year student in the Mackay School of Mines. He was registered from Sacramento where he had been preparing for college for six years after coming from China. After reaching the University he soon gained the friendship of his professors and fellow men by his talent and good nature. He was a resident of Lincoln Hall and an active member of the Hall Association. At the time he was taken sick he had practically finished the second year of the course in mining engineering. Shortly before his death he contracted pneumonia and was taken to the hospital. He seemed to have passed the crisis of the disease successfully but his heart gave out and he died suddenly. He is survived by a brother and sister in Sacramento.

The funeral services were held on the Quad Thursday, April twenty-fifth. Reverend W. E. Lowther officiated and the cadets attended in uniform. The pall bearers were: Walter, Bowen, Sanders Hopkins, Whannan and Merenbach.

The faculty and the Hall Association passed the following resolutions which were read during the services:

"Wilbur Chan is dead. A sophomore in School of Mines of the University of Nevada, an earnest student, a pleasant comrade, anxious to assimilate American ideas and American methods, a sincere Christian, an idealist with a vision for the future of his own country which was to be realized through the heaven he and other students of his race were to take home from America, this Chinese boy had the friendship and esteem of both students and faculty. His death is a distinct loss to the far reaching influence of the University and above all to his needy country which inspired his labors and his thought."
R. C. THOMPSON,
J. C. JONES,

For the faculty of the University of Nevada.

The members of the Lincoln Hall association presented the following resolution in honor of their deceased member and colleague:

Mr. Wilbur Chan took up his residence in Lincoln Hall in the autumn of 1916. From the first he became keenly interested in the affairs of the hall, and won the men with his frankness and honesty. As one of the fellows put it: "Chan is the squarest man I ever knew." He worked hard, not only in his studies, but in his endeavor to work his way through college. He was generous to a fault. He never lost an opportunity to help some one in need, many times sacrificing more than his means and strength would allow. In the death of Mr. Chan the University of Nevada lost one of its most loyal students, one that appreciated, more than he could express, the opportunities afforded him by the American people and their institutions."

NOW THAT YOU'VE GOT IT

Now that we have added another year to our schooling let us ask ourselves what we are going to do with the knowledge which we have gained during this time.

When a student comes to the University he usually comes with the intention of making good in his particular line and not to become an exponent of the popular idea of a college student. The popular idea of the college student is known to everyone, but instead of being the rule such students in every college prove it to be the exception. When the freshman comes to college this is the idea that he usually brings but soon loses it in the face of the facts. He sees that the majority of his fellow students are following a definite purpose with an idea of accomplishing some real result. The idea of becoming one of them is only a natural outcome of such association or, in other words, he conceives a definite idea of something to be accomplished. It is not enough to do the work at hand but it should be so planned that a real progress from one phase to the next is possible without putting a limit on the goal to be attained. To slip through a year at a time with the idea that when a degree of some kind is obtained that the goal is reached and no further work is to be done is wrong. Your college education is something to be proud of but unless you make it do something it is little more than useless. Therefore plan your work so that when you leave this institution you can use your knowledge in some productive work and above all don't think that you have gotten beyond the point where you should study as a degree is little more than a license to begin some real study.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

The mid-week change at the Majestic includes as one of the screen features, the second episode of the Italian Battlefront the official pictures taken by the authorization of the Italian Government. The wonderful work of the warriors transporting huge cannons and munitions thousands of feet up the snow covered mountains is most interesting to view, the Aerial transports, cars running on steel cables from the mountain peak to another peak, thousands of feet across deep chasms show the obstacles encountered by these hardy soldiers. Clara Kimball Young is shown in the feature story photoplay, this time in "The Marionettes" taken from the French play of the same name, as an exhibition of gorgeous gowns it is an undoubted success. Miss Kimball having one scene where she wishes to win her husbands love by a striking appearance, in which the Modiste, manicure lady, hair dresser, and dozens of gowns are transforming her from the simple maid to the peacock of fashion. The Vaudeville olio includes the Delavan Bros. athletic comedians, Fanny Thorne and the return of the harmony trio Ives, Fransworth and Leahy, who made a most favorable impression when here last September, as a comedian. Fransworth is in a class by himself and the harmony in their selections perfect. Friday change features Tsuri Aoki the wife of Sessue Hayakawa, noted Japanese actor, is featured in "The Curse of Iku" a rapid action melodrama with scenes laid in America and Japan, especial interest centers in the picture account of the Japanese consul in Washington requesting the speech of Senator Lewis removed from the film and was sustained, the speech had no bearing on the story, but the Japanese consul deemed it unwise to have Japanese Theatregoers interpret, possibly wrongly the intent of the speech. Wonderful scenes and customs of Japan fifty years ago showing the cruelty calling in the aid of a crowd of United States blue jackets to the rescue of the American Girl, a picture that teems with action, sentiment and shows the desire of the Japanese people to cooperate with America. The Vaudeville includes Walker and Wright dancers and comedians, Argo and Virginia the harpist and the song bird and LaPlano, mysterious pastimes. Sunday a special Vaudeville program has been arranged and the big Canadian picture "Until they Get Me."

Don't Forget

The Alumni Reception & Dance

Tomorrow Night

Commences at 8:30

Informal

To those who witnessed and were mystified by the performances of ALEXANDER during his local engagement last season the news that he is to return here for a special engagement will be warmly welcomed, while to those who failed to see this unusual man the news will undoubtedly put them on the qui vive for his appearance, scheduled for the Rialto for a period of two nights, commencing Thursday, May 9th.

Since appearing here last season ALEXANDER has paid his annual visit to India and will offer many new and out-of-the-ordinary features, gathered during his stay there, including the "Talking Buddha," a figure carved out of a solid piece of wood and which uncannily answers any and all questions whether standing in one position or carried about by you, the latter seeming to prove, peradventure of a doubt that any form of trickery could be used.

The Simla Seance this season is in keeping with the production and reports from elsewhere unhesitatingly state that this peer of seers and Crystal Gazers has the most elaborate attraction and the greatest company of artists that he has ever surrounded himself with.

The Nartel sisters, two vivacious maids from the Far East, are introducing to the lovers of Terpsichore this season some new and Oriental tid-bits, including among them their newest creation, "Tribute to Buddha," said to be the most artistic effort ever attempted by any dancer.

For his forthcoming engagement ALEXANDER sincerely requests that those interested have absolutely no hesitancy in propounding any questions and presenting them in any sealed form they care to. He wants the skeptic in particular to visit the theatre and be disillusioned. It will be remembered that last season he answered questions that astounded the askers and made many prophecies that have come true, as is attested by many voluntary letters, which he has in his possession.

GRAND THEATRE

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis to Deliver Illustrated Lecture On German Atrocities

Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor of Henry Ward Beecher, and one of the most powerful orators, preachers and lecturers in this country, is now a tour of the Pacific Coast delivering an illustrated lecture on the German atrocities, their nature and philosophy, beginning at Los Angeles and will appear in Reno at the Grand Theatre, Friday afternoon and evening.

Dr. Hillis has recently returned from the battlefields of France and Belgium, where he was sent by the United States Government to study conditions and gather data to counteract the pro-German propaganda that the stories that we have read and heard regarding German atrocities are British, French or Belgian lies and exaggerations, and that the conduct of the German soldier and his officer in this war has been no worse than that of any of the other nations. Dr. Hillis, therefore, covered the entire battle line from the Dutch Coast to the Swiss border under a special military escort furnished by the British and French Governments, making a tour of investigation through the devastated regions from which the Germans had lately been expelled. Here he had an opportunity of talking with the French and Belgian peasants as well as with the captured German soldiers and learn from them personally the nature and philosophy of the German atrocities.

He spent many days and nights in the trenches gathering the data from which he represents a detailed account of the horrors perpetrated by the Kaiser's troops.

He brought back a collection of about 600 photographs, many of which he took himself, of actual crime, murder, arson and atrocities as he saw them, and these will be shown on the screen illustrate his lecture, which is one of the most vital and interesting stories of the devilish ingenuity of the German War Staff relics, tokens and affidavits taken from the bodies of captured German soldiers, also letters and dairies kept by the Germans which prove the keen delight they took in killing old men and women, as well as children and young girls.

The matinee will be for women only and the night lecture for men only.

A DRAWING OF HOW THE CAMPUS WILL LOOK SEVERAL YEARS FROM NOW WHEN PROPOSED RECONSTRUCTION PLANS ARE CARRIED OUT

TRACTOR SHORT COURSE GRADUATES SEVENTY-FIVE

ONE SQUAD OF THIRTY BOYS SENT TO WORK AT ANTELOPE VALLEY, WHILE REST GO BACK TO FINISH SCHOOL AND WILL JOIN LATER. GIRLS TO HAVE CAMP

The Short Course men have come and gone but their real work of increasing the food supply of the nation has just started. Seventy-five boys and eighteen girls have been fully trained in the use of tractors during the past month and are now or soon will be engaged in manipulating them.

The training which the boys received here was very thorough and consisted in the manipulation and care of various kinds of tractors besides a course in gas engines. During the last week of the course, lectures in addition to the regular work were given by representatives of the various tractor companies on the handling of each machine.

Thirty of these boys are now in Antelope Valley running tractors for the Union Land and Cattle Co.

The camp at Topaz is conducted on the plan of army camps and is under the direction of Prof. A. E. Hill. The other boys who completed the course have returned to their homes and will operate tractors in their neighborhood. The plan under which Dean Knight and Rev. Brewster Adams' course worked out so successfully that numerous inquiries have been received from other universities asking for details regarding the course.

A movement is now on foot to establish a camp for the women who care to take positions running tractors.

Just as the cream of a baseball squad is found in the pitcher, so the principle ingredients of a diamond victory may be located in the batter.

FACULTY SCIENCE CLUB CLOSES DISCUSSIONS

Paper By Dr. Romanzo Adams Closes Year's Discussions And Business Meeting Elects Dr. Haseman President

The Faculty Science Club of the University has completed a very active and successful year in spite of the decrease in numbers caused by the call to service of several members. The year was given mostly to study on various branches of scientific progress caused by the war. Beside these the program has included some topics of a more general nature.

At the last meeting under the topic "The Economic Basis of an Enduring Peace," Dr. Romanzo Adams showed vividly how the natives of the temperate zones were inevitably growing beyond the power to raise the necessary products for their support and must seek sources in the torrid zone, where heat humidity and soil make possible a vast increase in the agricultural output of those regions by a wide organization of industry. The important trade routes of the future will be between the tropics and the temperate zones—the tropics exchanging products of the soil for manufactured goods.

In order that this commerce between the advanced temperate peoples and the backward tropical races shall be beneficial to both and in order to prevent a conflict of interest on the part of the trade rivals," said Mr. Adams, "such commerce must be regulated by some international tribunal and all nations must be permitted to participate under conditions of substantial equality."

Dr. Charles Haseman was elected President for the coming year and Miss Margaret Mack was reelected Secretary. The club honored Dr. C. A. Jacobson, its founder and first President, who recently resigned from the University, by passing resolutions commending him highly.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

The Junior Class held its last meeting of the year last Tuesday. Officers were elected for the coming year. Those elected were: Edna Grenough, President; Sarome Riley, Vice-President; Evelyn La Kampe, Secretary and Clem Caffery, Treasurer. The Treasurer's report showed the class to be financially healthy.

ELMER KNIGHT GOES TO MEDICAL CORPS AT FT. RILEY

Elmer Knight received notice today to report for duty with the sanitary train of the Medical Corps as an expert chemist and will leave immediately after graduation tomorrow for his post. His unit is stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas. Knight will receive a degree of B. S. tomorrow and in the four years at Nevada has been a prominent member of the class of '18. He was Mayor of Lincoln Hall this year.

SOPHS ELECT OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Sophomore Class last week the officers for the coming semester were elected. Those chosen were: President, Howard Brennen; Vice-President, Mildred Griswold; Secretary, Nellie McWilliams; Treasurer, Wallace Walter.

THE ONLY WAY

The only way to win the war,

Is to turn the Hun's face toward the East
And kick him in the West.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Minute a Man Puts on a Uniform

The fighting man doesn't want to dawdle around. He wants to do a thing right—and get it over with.

That's why the boys in the Service, the world over, are using the Gillette—the "once-over razor."

The Gillette saves from five to ten minutes a shave—no strops or hones to clutter up the kit—blades always sharp—always ready—No Stropping—No Honing.

The Gillette is the real service razor—100% efficient on any kind of beard or skin—under every possible climatic condition, in any part of the world—whether in hot or cold, or hard or soft water.

It's a shaving tool that gives a velvet-smooth shave in record time. Ten million men use nothing but the Gillette.

The new U. S. Regulations say that every man called to the Colors must have a razor—a razor that will meet all the demands of a soldier's life.

Every man under the Colors needs a Gillette.

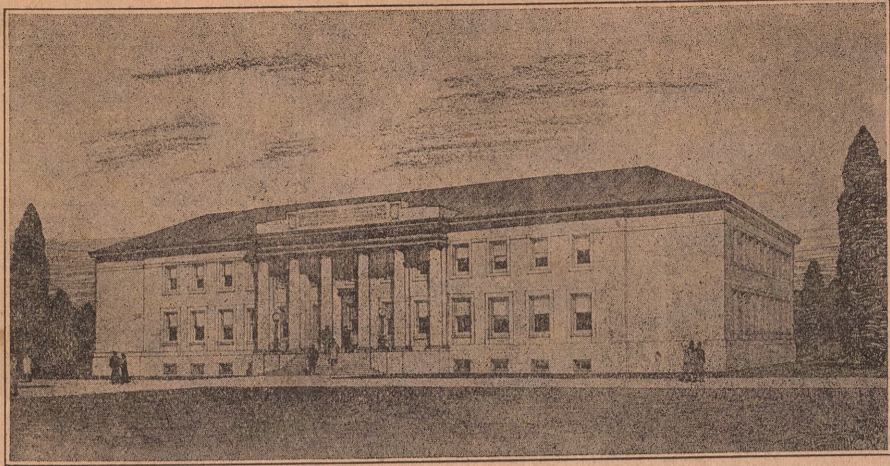

The mother, sister or friend of a boy in camp, or a boy who's going into camp, couldn't possibly make him a more useful or acceptable gift than a Gillette Safety Razor.

Husband—I thought you had given up burnt wood art, dearie?
Wife—George, how can you be so heartless! This is a pie.—Hartford Courant.

A cheery woman is the salt of the earth a jolly man the spice thereof.

John Gottardi, Lincoln Hall's shyest, has lost his rep. Yes its true he has been seen recently in the vicinity of Sparks, so now we can guess why John spends his Saturday nights away from the Hall.

Red has again blossomed into the lime light as a strategist. You should have seen him just before his election, passing out cube sugar during a sugarless meal in the gow house instead of the usual election cigar.

SUPPORT THE RED CROSS SAYS RETURNED WORKER

Women Can Do Greatest Good by Contributing to Red Cross in America, Says Dr. Esther Lovejoy.

The following is an extract from a letter to the Committee on Public Information Division on Women's War Work by Dr. Esther Lovejoy. Dr. Lovejoy went to France as a free lance but for the last three months or more she has been working under the direction of the Red Cross. Her letter is of special value to the American woman who feels that she is not taking a real part in the war unless she is "over there."

"There is one thing I want especially to impress on American women," says Dr. Esther Lovejoy, who has just returned from France where she has been doing Red Cross work, "and that is that they should not go to France to do any work they can do here. I mean that there are many things—knitted articles, bandages, supplies of all sorts, which can be made here better than they can there. We have better facilities to work with and the living conditions are much more comfortable. It is hard for us to realize that over there they must count the cost of food down to the last morsel. It is entirely possible for a woman who could be of real value by doing the same work here to cost more than her work would be worth there. Money doesn't cut any figure there. It isn't as if the woman who longs to help could not do a great work here, because she can, and all that they have over there depends upon the work of American women. They must know that they have our backing and sympathy. Another thing: Don't send over articles that are of no value—old clothes, old shoes. The cost and space taken up in transportation are too great to make it worth while to send anything that is not good enough so that it is a sacrifice to give it up. "As to what we can do—by which I suppose you mean, What can American women do? I should say that the first, most obvious thing is to back up the work of the Red Cross, which is backing every other organization, financially and otherwise, that is doing relief work in France. It is really the foundation upon which most of them rest.
