FORMER DEAN OF ENGINEERS RETURNS

Colonel J. G. Scrugham Again Becomes Dean After a Period of Government Service

Lieutenant-Colonel Scrugham is once more on the campus as a member of the faculty of the University. He will resume his duties as Dean of the Engineering College very soon.

Colonel Scrugham left the University about two years ago on leave of absence to become state engineer of Nevada. When the war began he entered the service with a commission as major in the ordnance department. He later gained the rank of lieutenant colonel and became one of the department heads in the production of artillery.

Since the armistice was signed Col. Scrugham has been placed on the inactive list but retaining his commission. The plan of the government in such cases has been to keep the department heads in the service subject to call in case of another war. With such a skeleton organization made up of the heads of all departments it would not take long to reconstruct the various war organizations.

The duties of Dean of Engineers will again be taken by Colonel Scrugham and he will also start instruction in some classes in the near future.

NEVADA WILL KEEP

R. O. T. C. UNIT

Coming to the fact that at the present time the University is not able to train the required 100 men for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, there was some chance that the unit would be withdrawn. Word has been received from Washington lately to the effect that the unit would not be withdrawn this year. The increased enrollment that is expected for the coming semester will put the unit again well above the minimum requirements.

MARK CESSNA AND JOE ALLEN RETURN TO RENO

Two more discharged Nevada men put in their appearance on the campus during the past week. Joe Allen, '18, returns from overseas a lieutenant in the field artillery. He will remain in Reno but is uncertain what he will do.

Mark Cessna, '19, has returned from a camp in New Jersey where he was one of the military police. Owing to the nearness of the end of the semester he will not register.

STATE LEGISLATORS U. OF N. GUESTS

Governor Boyle and Other Officials Visit the University and Inspect Aggie Building

For the first time in many years the governor, a number of state officials and the legislators visited the University in a body. They and a large number of visitors were present at the Washington's birthday exercises in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon after which the doors of all the colleges were thrown open for inspection.

The Mackay School of Mines and Museum containing a complete exhibit of the mining industry of the state; the electrical engineering building with all machinery in operation, and the new agricultural building with its elaborate equipment and exhibits were the principal features offered.

The new agricultural building was the center of attraction. In the basement laboratories were agricultural and zoological exhibits. A splendid grain exhibit containing cases of specimens of every kind of grain from all over the state showed what a profitable industry grain-raising had become. A complete collection of every grade of wool produced in the state and many foreign grades were on display in the next room. The feature of the basement floor was the tractor exhibit in the north laboratory where various types of tractors were exhibited by well-known manufacturing companies.

The comparative anatomy laboratory of the biology department containing skeletons of the domestic animals, monkeys and smaller animals, and a live gila monster, attracted considerable attention.

On the first floor the guests were entertained by Mr. Brown in the zoological museum where splendid specimens of taxidermy work and many natural collections were gathered for exhibit. Cases of birds and animals common in the state, and two great mounted eagles were items of interest.

On the second floor the legislators and the many other visitors were most hospitably received by students and faculty of the domestic science department, where they were treated to refreshments of ice cream and cakes from an immaculate kitchen-laboratory and model dining room. A galaxy of hats, dresses and other articles of feminine garments were on display, articles that would run the home-town milliner and dressmaker out of business.

In the well equipped laboratories of the department of biology the visitors were introduced into the realms of that science by Professor Frandsen and his assistants. In the experimental physiology laboratory Dr. David, in charge, obliged the visitors by taking records of their pulse-beats with an apparatus called the sphygmograph. Each one was given a carbon-graph record of his pulse-beat. The fair young co-eds seemed especially interested in the delicate procedure. The general and advanced zoological laboratories also afforded much of interest.

The day's program was brought to a close by a snappy basketball game between the Stanford and Nevada varsities with a dance following in which all participated.

NOTICE TO ENGINEERS

ENGINEERS' CLUB MEETING
Wednesday, 7:30 O'clock
E. E. Building
Dean Scrugham will talk on his war work experiences

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Women's League in the Aggie Building Friday at 11 o'clock.

INTERSCHOLASTIC WILL BE REVIVED

The Annual State Meet Will Be Held This Year; Conditions to Be Modified

The annual Nevada interscholastic meet will be held this year the last Saturday before graduation. The meet has not been held for the past two years owing to the unsettled war conditions and high railroad rates.

No pennant will be awarded for the state championship this year unless all of the schools that participated in the former meets send representatives. The Board of Control did not feel that it would be right to call the winners state champions unless all of the schools took part.

There will be medals awarded for winners in the various events. The usual events will be held and are as follows:

Track and field events.
Tennis—Boys and Girls.
Declamation—Boys and Girls.

The declamation contests are held on Friday night, Saturday morning the track preliminaries and tennis matches are held and Saturday afternoon the track finals are run off. Saturday night the A. S. U. N. entertains the visitors at a dance in the gymnasium.

The Board of Control consists of Dr. Haseman of the University of Nevada, chairman; the director of athletics, the principals of Reno and Sparks High Schools, the president of the A. S. U. N., the president of the Block N Society and the athletic manager of the A. S. U. N.

UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Legislators Attend Exercises in the Gymnasium; Aggie Building is Opened for First Time

Washington's birthday was celebrated on the campus by a program in the gymnasium in the afternoon, which was attended by members of the legislature, faculty and students. After the program the visitors inspected the buildings, particularly the new Agricultural Building, which was opened to the public for the first time.

The program at the gymnasium opened with the singing of the college hymn by the student body with Dr. Haseman leading and Miss Denny at the piano. The students then sang "Nevada, My Nevada," after which Dr. Walter E. Clark introduced the speaker of the afternoon, the Honorable Sam W. Belford, with appropriate remarks.

Mr. Belford made a splendid talk on the value of Washington's principles of government and pointed out the danger of departing from these principles for the American people if they agreed to the terms now being drawn up in the league of nations' conference.

After the address Dr. Clark announced that the members of the legislature and the official family of the state could procure tickets from Kenyon Olmstead, the athletic manager, for the basketball game between the teams of Nevada and Stanford that evening. The exercises closed with singing "America" by the audience, after which the guests visited the buildings.

At the Agricultural building the home economics students served ice cream and wafers to all the visitors, who were struck with the splendid finish and appointments of the building of which the University may be justly proud. A blinding snow storm which descended from the Sierras prevented the visitors from making the rounds of all the buildings on the campus but every one was able to see the exhibits and collections displayed in the Agricultural and Biological departments.

STANFORD PROVES TOO STRONG FOR NEVADA

CARDINALS WIN A 22-TO-44 VICTORY OVER SILVER AND BLUE; NEVADA BESTS LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The Varsity took the local Y. M. C. A. into camp on Thursday evening in the University gym by a score of 31-30. The game was fast and close from the start. It opened with the University scoring three points in a short time. They looked like easy winners, but the Y team came up from behind and took the lead only to lose it in the second half. The Varsity showed flashes of excellent form, but seemed to slacken on their efforts and allow the opposing team to score one or two easy baskets and then would seemingly awake and take the lead. Mackenzie showed that he still had his old eye back and shot seventeen of the Varsity's thirty-one points, making several shots from hard angles, and playing excellent floor work. Both guards did well holding their men to a low score. Savage and Williams were the star performers for the Association team, each making 12 points, the latter shooting six fouls.

Nevada lost her second league game in an exciting contest with Stanford last Saturday by a score of 40 to 22. The gym was packed and the enthusiasm of the crowd never ceased until the final whistle was blown. The game was not as one-sided as the score would indicate but was fast and well played throughout. Richter, playing center for the Cardinals, was the star man of the game, making thirteen field goals. Pat O'Brien was Nevada's best man. He succeeded in cleaning up twelve of the twenty-two points.

The first half was by far the best part of the game with the varsity close on the heels of the Stanford men but never quite catching them. The half ended with the score at 20 to 14 for Stanford.

McKenzie playing at forward showed a marked improvement and should be in good trim by the next game. All indications point to a victory for Nevada in the game with St. Mary's next Saturday and unless the unexpected happens the varsity will redeem itself before leaving on the trip to the coast.

The Nevada line-up was: Forwards, O'Brien, McKenzie and Waite; center, Hopkins and Egan; guards, Martin, Reed and Davis.

The team leaves Monday morning to play the coast teams. The schedule provides for five games to be played in six days, counting the St. Mary's game next Saturday as the first one. The second game will be played Monday at Davis. Davis has a weak team this year and should not cause the varsity much trouble. Wednesday the team plays St. Ignatius and Thursday at the College of Pacific. Both of these teams are in fair shape and should put up tight games. The last game of the season will be played Friday, March 7, at the University of California. The Bears succeeded in nosing out Stanford but were well trimmed by Santa Clara.

The usual story is that Nevada wins at home. This year two games have already been lost but the varsity hopes to turn the tables and clean up on the coast.

The averages of the California-Nevada League are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Stanford	5	1	.833
California	4	1	.800
Santa Clara	4	1	.800
St. Ignatius	2	1	.667
St. Mary's	1	1	.500
Nevada	0	2	.000
Davis	0	3	.000
College of Pacific	0	5	.000

GIRLS' ATHLETICS WILL CONTINUE

A Class Series and Games With Reno Hi Will Be the Program

The University basketball girls have not been able to schedule any intercollegiate games but they do not intend to be laid on the shelf. They have a good bunch of excellent players so they have organized class teams and intend to have some good peppy interclass games. The class which comes out victorious will have its name engraved on a silver cup in the library so excitement runs high among the various classes.

The Sophomores have elected Hallie Organ captain and have come forward with a ripping team to snatch the laurels from the rest. Helen and Hallie are certainly dandy forwards, not to mention other players on their team.

The Freshmen have organized a good peppy team with Grace Mills as captain. They are ready to put June Harriman and Thresa Haughney up against any forwards anywhere, anytime.

The Juniors will either get in with the Seniors or organize a team on their own hook. Their material is certainly good and they, too, have hopes of victory.

Each team is trying to get in some good stiff practice games against the high school teams before they tackle each other. Each team wants the support of its class and all members are expected to root.

No honest man is truly honest who denies that he ever made a fool of himself.

GEORGE OGELVIE IS AN EXPERIENCED FARMER

George Ogelvie, '17, was in Reno during the week for a short visit. For some time past George has been proving himself an excellent farmer and will soon be on the job again.

He will be remembered as one of the prominent members of the class of 1917 and a track man of note, holding the mile and two mile University records.

WERE YOU THERE?

Washington's birthday was a day for celebration by the University. Incidentally it was a day on which the University was on display and what is more to the point the display which it made is sure to react in a concrete way upon the school itself. This is a fact that was well recognized and discussed before the day arrived. A circular was sent out asking all students to be present at the exercises and to take part in the singing and yells. A meeting was held for the men of Lincoln Hall and the importance of being at the exercises was brought out. When the afternoon arrived the result of the appeals was not inspiring. Less than half of the men in school were present and the women showed only a little better proportion of their numbers. Simply because the program contained no considerable amount of exciting events and because no tub or other penalty for absence was mentioned half of the students remained away when the school was in need of their presence.

A number of cases like the one cited could be dug up but one is enough. When a person has to be forced to that which is for his own good and the good of the school as a whole he not only shows poor judgment but a total lack of spirit and loyalty to the University. Such is the case with those who refuse to attend a festivity like that of last Saturday for purely selfish reasons. They are not a credit to themselves or the University which they attend.

The student activities of a school are a part of the essential activities of any school. Those people who take no part nor lend their support are the same people who remain away from a meeting like that of Saturday afternoon. They are either empty headed or selfish. The number of people who do nothing for the University except under pressure is a figure not likely to cause much complaint in normal times for the proportion is not large but in the present condition of the student body their presence is too evident. Those of them who prove to be good students have at least one redeeming feature but they should consider that there is little honor in grades made while others are doing the work which they themselves are shirking. For such people, and there are such among us, it is hoped that they may see themselves in the correct light and do something to rectify their condition.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW FEATURES CLONIA MEETING

The important feature of the Clonia meeting last Thursday evening was the discussion of parliamentary law. It was originally planned to spend but a few minutes of each meeting on the subject, however, it proved to be so interesting that practically the whole meeting was devoted to it.

The matter of starting dramatics this year was brought up and met with hearty favor. In the past Clonia has done but little in this field for most of the time has been devoted to debating. As there is no dramatic club in the University at the present time to which men are eligible it is expected that Clonia will be overrun with applications for membership from all the aspiring John Drews on the "Hill." Ira Redfern has proven his dramatic ability by his versatility in whisker disguise so was unanimously elected to the job of dramatic manager. A play has been sent for and active work will begin as soon as it arrives, so it behooves every one who is seized with the lure of the footlights, fame and fortune to get their application for membership in at once! Several names were brought up and will be voted upon at the next regular meeting.

The tryouts for the interclass debates were postponed until February 27. They were scheduled for last Thursday evening but as several contestants entered late it was deemed advisable to postpone them a week. Those trying out are: Freshmen Class, Evelyn Walker, Laura Mills, Anthony Zeni, and Rupert Ryan; Sophomores, Emily Burke, Gerry Eden and John Gottardi; Juniors, Wallace Walters, John Belford and Nels Carlson; Seniors, Lawrence Hansen and Ira Redfern. With all of these famed Patrick H. Heneries on the program the tryouts promise to be worth while going to so every one interested in debating should be on deck to get a few pointers in the art of expression. The schedule of the debates is: February 27, tryouts; March 20, Freshmen-Sophomore; March 27, Junior-Senior; April 10, final debate between the two winning teams.

Several Clonia girls demonstrated the practicability of home economics by bringing to the meeting a huge box of succulent gastronomical concoctions which had a very pleasing effect upon all present. It is only hoped that they try their skill in this field often.

COMMUNICATED

To the Students:

Have you any campus cuts? The Artemisia staff is on the lookout for all good campus scenes, so if you have any, get them out and have them ready by Friday. On that day the staff is arranging a big drive in order to get these pictures. Both films and prints are wanted if it is possible to obtain both. However, if only one is in your possession hand it in next Friday. Place all your prints and negatives in an envelope with your name on it and bring them to the student body meeting next Friday. It will only be with the entire support of the student body that the scene section of the Artemisia will be a success.

The editorial section of the book is progressing rapidly and with the present rate of progress the book will be on sale within a few weeks. Beginning next Monday, pledge cards for the Artemisia will be on sale. These cards can be purchased from any member of the staff for one dollar. When the book is placed on sale a card with the addition of a dollar and a half will procure a copy of the Artemisia. However, if no ticket is presented, the book will only be sold for three dollars. These tickets will only be on sale for a short time so it is a good policy for everybody to buy a ticket immediately.

RELIGION SAVED THE DAY

Motor Officer MacFarland was dispatched to the scene of a negro quarrel the other day in German alley. Two burley negroes were exchanging compliments that threatened actual hostilities when the officer arrived on the scene. After he had succeeded in parting the men one of them turned to the officer and said:

"Looka hyah, niggah, if it hadn't a bin that Ah jes' got religion, I'd a knocked your fool head plumb off'n you."

A CLOSE CALL

Two young physicians in a Western city who were struggling to get a foothold in their profession met one day and exchanged views touching things of interest. Presently the talk turned to the last case one of them had handled.

"Yes," remarked the young medico, "the operation was just in the nick of time. In another twenty-four hours the patient would have recovered without it."—Harper's Magazine.

Both Track and Men Are in Poor Condition; Much Work Will Be Necessary

Along with the reorganization of other sports track will also receive attention. For the past two years there has been no track team because of the war. During the first year a team was organized but as no meets could be scheduled the sport had to be given up. No team was organized at all the second year. With the small enrollment it would have been practically impossible to have had a team. This year conditions are very different. The enrollment of the University this year is not such that there is much chance of putting out a successful track team. There are but three of the old men in school and not much good material in sight to work on. However, there will be a large enrollment next year and if the school wants to have a good team next year it must start now.

Margaret Hesson visited friends on the campus last week. She had been in San Francisco on a short vacation and was on her way home to Elko.

Juanita Frey spent the week end at Manzanita with Freda Daoust. She came from Gardnerville to attend the Pi Phi dance at the Asylum and the Stanford game on Saturday evening.

Lora Lamberson of Yerington was another visitor at the Hall this week end. She came in to witness the Stanford game, and to take advantage of the holiday by renewing old friendships.

WHEN REORGANIZING ATHLETICS CONSIDER THE CREW

A SUGGESTION FOR A VARSITY CREW.

OUR COLLEGE CONTEMPORARIES

Columbia—Columbia is adopting the psychological test system for entrance. The object of the plan is to get students who have the mental power to develop under a college training and to eliminate the educated fool class that has long been found among university students. The first tests will be made next fall. It is probable that at least a hundred other universities in the East will start the same tests about the same time.

Colorado—In an intelligence test at Colorado College, the highest mark was 66 per cent, the lowest 1 per cent.

Minnesota—At the University of Minnesota sunlight dancing is the popular thing. Owing to the war conditions the custom was dropped but has been taken up again. A dance given recently was started at 2:30 p. m. and the guests danced to the music of a twenty-five-piece orchestra. There were also several musical novelties for entertainment.

Washington—As a result of the findings of a special committee of the faculty of the University of Washington, the present quarter system will be done away with and the school will return to the semester system in vogue before the war. This was brought about as a result of investigation of the committee appointed by the president to look into the most desirable system.

The idea was suggested because of the number of inquiries that have been received by the president asking the why and wherefore of the quarter system. The committee on investigation found that of the 78 schools of higher learning using the system, practically 66 per cent of them were returning to the full semester system.

Illinois—Two teams were turned loose against each other in the first scrimmage session of the spring football practice on February 12, and made things look lively on Illinois Field. Coach Bob Zupke took particular care to see that the men tackled correctly and that the backs ran hard and low with the ball.

Starting today all men who report for practice will be excused from physical training classes and arrangements are now in progress with the military office to get all the men to drill on Tuesday and Thursday.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

There is war fiction and war fiction but the best of it is that which is never published, according to a second lieutenant of a labor regiment somewhere in the S. O. S., whose special duty it is to censor the letters of this organization.

"As I lay there I could hear the Germans talking in low tones. They were so close that I could have put my hand out and touch them."

This was the way a man in a labor regiment began a letter to his best girl back home. It was a letter which would have made the heart of anybody's girl jump with pride.

The censoring lieutenant had had some trouble with certain members of his command who persisted in writing glowing accounts of incidents that had never happened, so he determined to make an example in this case.

When the man stood before him he asked him what he meant by writing such a letter.

"Everything I have written is true," was the reply. "I was merely telling about the German prisoners we have working in this camp."

RUFUS OGELVIE VISITS UNIVERSITY HILL

Rufus Ogelvie, '18, is another of the overseas men to get back. He arrived in New York on February 12 and has Ogelvie, Former Sagebrush Manager since been discharged. He stopped in Reno on his way to Oakland to see his parents. "Ruff" was aerial observer for the 27th engineers.

Many a man's originality is due to a defective memory. What's done cannot be undone, but what's undone can be pinned up.

INES TO A J. ET J. FLATTERER

Pretty maiden, when you tell us
In your vampish sort of way,
Little lies that would compel us
To believe you like us—Say,
Do you think when you begin it
That we'll swallow it at all?
Do you think that for one minute
Dear, we fall?

Do you think that when you flatter
Us you really get away
With that most delightful patter,
And the pretty things you say?
Do you honestly expect, dear,
That we think that stuff's all new?
If you do, you are correct dear—
All men do!

—Minnesota Daily.

JOE HILL RENEWS OLD ACQUAINTANCES

Joe Hill, '18, stopped off in Reno last Saturday to visit the campus. Joe was recently discharged at Camp Kearney and was on his way home to Susanville. He was a sergeant in the infantry.

WE ASK YOU

If you don't feel just right,
If you can't sleep at night,
If you moan and sigh,
If your throat is dry,
If you can't smoke or drink,
If your grub tastes like ink,
If your heart doesn't beat,
If you've got cold feet,
If your head's in a whirl—
Why don't you marry the girl?
—Tiger.

PLENTY OF TIME

Although we can forgive that frosh who told his chem. prof that "idiotic" was the term applied to the acid of iodine, a just punishment is beyond comprehension for that little bit of femininity who told the same prof. that anti-fat was an excellent reducing agent.—Daily Cardinal.
