Team Leaves for Coast Trip

BASKETERS LEAVE MONDAY MORNING

Team Chaperoned by Manager Olmstead, Are on Way to Play Final Games of Season

The Varsity basketballers, chaperoned by Manager Olmstead, left on No. 1 yesterday morning for the Coast, to play the final game in the league series. The men making the trip are: Captain O'Brien, Martin, Reed, Waite, Hopkins, Egan, Mackenzie, Davis and Warren. Coach Ross was unable to go with the team, his place being taken by Prof. Hase-man. The schedule is a hard one, and necessitates playing four games in five days, with probably the hardest game last. Davis is first on the list, coming Monday night; College of the Pacific Tuesday night; St. Ignatius Wednesday, and California Friday night. The dope seems to be badly upset, and it is practically impossible to predict the outcome of any of the games by the results of last week. Davis, reputed to be very weak, beat St. Mary's by a small margin, and Pacific by a much larger one, but lost to St. Ignatius. Stanford trimmed Davis to the tune of 55 to 5 and California did nearly as well.

There seems to be little to fear from Pacific, but St. Ignatius and California will probably put up stiff contests. However, the Varsity have gone with the idea of bringing back four victories to make up for their defeats and, needless to say, the student body fully expecting them to "bring home the bacon."

PHI KAPPA PHI ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

Four Seniors and One Graduate Elected to Membership in Honor Society

At the annual election of the University of Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi held Friday night, five new members were elected. Eva Hale, Edna Greenough, Dorothy Higgins, Harold Engle, and a graduate student, Helen Mace.

The chief requisite for membership is a high degree of scholarship, together with a prominent part in school activities. The society has chapters in a large number of colleges and universities throughout the United States.

New officers were also elected: president, Prof. L. W. Hartman; vice president, Prof. J. C. Jones; secretary, Prof. J. E. Church; treasurer, Prof. A. E. Turner; marshal, Prof. R. C. Thompson.

NEVADA GRAD GOES TO PHILIPPINES

Guevara Leaves Cornell University to Take Government Position

News has reached us of Jose Guevara, who graduated from the college of agriculture with the class of '17. He is about to leave Cornell University where post-graduate work in agriculture has claimed his attention for some time, to take up the position of animal husbandman for the Philippine government.

Guevara received his appointment by the Philippine government just recently and expects to leave for the islands this month to render his people the service for which he was trained and educated in the United States.

Before leaving for the States to obtain an education, Guevara was highly esteemed by his fellowmen on the islands.

While at the university he was a prominent member of the Glee Club and Mandolin Club and well known among the men of Lincoln Hall where he earned the popular title of "Slinging Bull."

In a letter to Dean Knight, Guevara stated that he was coming through Reno on his way to the Philippines, and promised to visit the university if he can make connections.

NORTHWESTERNERS DEFEATED IN THIRD

Fast Practice Game Helps Varsity to Get in Shape

In a close and exciting game in the gym last Thursday, the Varsity five took the Northwestern team into camp for the second time by a score of 26 to 24. As before, the club team had an unusually well-balanced five, while Nevada opened with a new lineup which seemed to work better than any tried so far this year. With Mackenzie, Waite and O'Brien all in the game, they showed a scoring machine that is hard to beat. O'Brien made 14 points and Waite showed flashes of his old form, gathering in eight points. Williams and Gibbons were the big point winners for the Northwesterners, the former scoring ten points and the latter eight points.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL CLAIMS INTEREST

Seniors and Juniors Will Have Combined Team. First Game to Be Played This Week

The Seniors and Juniors have organized a team under the leadership of Rose Harris, varsity captain, and will play the victors of the Freshman-Sophomore contest, which will probably be played this week-end. The upper class women are not very confident of winning the laurels this year as their team has had very little practice; however, it is certain they will put up a stiff fight as three of the players are members of the old varsity team. The lineup will be as follows: Rose Harris and Lelia Ogilvie, forwards; Alice Kincaid, Avis Lothrop, and Dorothy Churchill, centers; Salome Riley and Isabel Slavin, guards.

The Sophomore lineup will be; Hallie Organ and Helen Fuss, forwards; Mildred Twomey, Gladys Dunkle and Ruth Billingham, centers; Lois Smythe, Anne Underwood, Margaret Barnes and Agnes Jensen, guards. The Freshmen have a wider choice but their lineup will probably be: June Harriman and Thressa Haughey, forwards; Grace Mills and Louise Adams, centers; Norma Brown, Thelma Braun, Vera Wickland, Gladys Smith and Marian Elsie, guards. The teams are all pretty good and excitement runs high as to who will be the champions.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE SETTLES POINT QUESTION

A short business meeting of the Women's League was held last Friday in order to clear up a few remaining questions on the point system. In addition to the points previously designated, it was decided to give each representative in the interclass debates two temporary points. One point was allowed to the captains of class basketball teams, one point to the class representative on the executive committee of the Women's League and one point to the assistants to the business manager of The Sagebrush.

Miss Freisinger of the United States Extension Division, Washington, D. C., gave an interesting talk relative to the encouragement of the Extension work in this state. Her address, short though it was, communicated some of her own fine spirit of enthusiasm and purpose to all who heard her.

NEVADA GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE ST. MARY'S

SUPERIOR TEAM WORK SHOWN BY ST. MARY'S FIVE, PROVES TOO MUCH FOR THE BLUE AND WHITE

In the last home game, played Saturday night, Nevada Varsity went down to defeat at the hands of St. Mary's by a score of 37 to 27. To the spectators, the game was a bitter disappointment, and all told, was the slowest and poorest game played on the home floor yet.

The game started with a different lineup for Nevada than has been used in the games thus far. About thirty seconds after the tip-off, Waite threw the first basket, and started the crowd roaring. Then, for a while, the game was nip-and-tuck, with the Varsity leading by six or eight points, and St. Mary's fighting hard to catch up. Nevada's teamwork was perfect and the baskets came easy for about ten minutes, after which the Varsity took a slump, and never came out of it during the rest of the game. For the first few minutes of play it looked like an easy victory for the Silver and Blue, and had the team played the whole game as they did the first few minutes, it would have been a three to one victory for Nevada. As it was, the game slowed down so much that it was hard for the spectators to keep up their interest in it. Two of St. Mary's men had to call time out on several occasions. Griffith had a bad leg, and long before the game ended could hardly use it, but would not quit the game. Ritchie was affected by the altitude and on several occasions had to have time called.

The second half started with the rooters firmly expecting a victory when Waite threw the first basket, but their hopes soon dropped as Ritchie and Griffith started to run the score up for the Catholics. With a number of fouls called on Nevada, and the free throws made, the Saints began a whirlwind offensive which Nevada was unable to stop, and from then on what few chances the Varsity had at scoring, they missed.

Bill Martin, guarding Ritchie, played the best game of any man on the floor, and held his man down to one basket during the first half. Ed Reed made a good showing, keeping his forward down to one basket, and was in the game every minute. Griffith of St. Mary's proved to be a better forward than a guard, making seven baskets, and was the best point getter on the team. O'Brien went in during the second half, as did Davis, Hopkins and Warren, and played well, making four points.

The lineup follows: Nevada—Mackenzie, Waite, O'Brien (captain), and Warren, forwards; Martin and Reed, guards; Egan, Davis and Hopkins, center.

St. Mary's—Ritchie and Dearborn, forwards; Freitas, center; Griffith and Anderson, guards.

Referee, Seymour. Umpire, Wentworth.

DEAN SCRUGHAM TALKS TO ENGINEERS

Many Interesting Facts Brought Out About Work of the Ordnance Dept. in the War

Lieut. Col. Scrugham gave a splendid talk before the Engineers' Club last Wednesday, and brought out some interesting facts in connection with ordnance and the war.

When the United States entered the war, the ordnance department was very weak, and for a long time underestimated the magnitude of its requirements. At that time there were only two firms equipped for turning out artillery in any quantity. During the war, however, there were 120 main contractors, and over 18,000 firms brought into the contracts. The general staff in France asked for 1800 240 mm. guns, 6000 75 mm. guns, 6000 4.7 inch guns, 4000 155 mm. howitzers, and 2000 155 mm. guns, which shows the demand made upon the ordnance department. In addition to this they also wanted railway artillery. Each of these guns require a whole train to keep them up, including a small foundry, and a miniature machine shop. A number of these guns were used at Chateau Thierry and brought excellent results.

The use of the "tank," which later developed into one of the biggest features of the war, was started by the British and used effectively at Cambrai against the bewildered Germans. Out of the original twelve tanks, the Huns captured ten, and then started back against the British with them. The idea originated with the American-made Holt Caterpillar tractor.

Another interesting fact mentioned was that out of 7000 shots fired by anti-aircraft guns, only one, on an average, scored a hit.

WHY NOT FALL BASKETBALL?

With the close of the present year Nevada will have finished a most unsatisfactory athletic year. It has been unsatisfactory for two reasons: first, because we were unable to undertake but one sport and, second, because that which we did carry on was unsuccessful. The reasons for this lack of success are numerous. The two main ones are, the conditions brought on by the war and the fact that we have no coach to be forever on the lookout for the athletic interests of the school.

The coach situation bids fair to be cleaned up before the next semester opens. President Clark has promised a man to take charge of athletics if the right one can be obtained. With a live man on the campus to look after our athletic interests there will be no stone left unturned in the building of successful athletic teams.

The proposition of eradicating the effects of the war is not so easy and it cannot be done by hiring one or half a dozen men. It must be done by the students themselves. There has been no regular baseball team for the past three seasons, there has been no track meet for two years and there was no football this year. The war conditions prevailing in the university last semester not only prevented football but also prevented first semester basketball games or practice. The lack of this practice has shown in the results of the present basketball season. To build a winning team from men who are not natural stars at the game without long practice and plenty of competition is impossible. The problem of turning out a winning team then becomes one of furnishing plenty of material and competition for long and continued practice, and there is an easy solution for this problem.

The university should promote a basketball league in Reno to run throughout the fall semester and include all the teams available in the vicinity of Reno. The university might enter more than one team so that more men could play and the teams would be more evenly matched. Such a league would be of more advantage to everyone than the old intramural leagues as it would mean playing on more than one court and against teams largely unknown. If such a league could not be arranged the university should by all means go back to the old class series and enlarge upon it. Start the series earlier and play more games. With a series of the kind going, old hands at the game would get a chance to become proficient and new material would be brought out. When this is the case Nevada will be able to raise herself again to the position in basketball circles that she has held in the past, to the position of a leader.

OUR COLLEGE CONTEMPORARIES

Oregon—The Senior mustaches will be seen no more on the campus of the University of Oregon. At a meeting of the Senior class they are to be measured and shaved. The winner in the hair-raising contest will be decided then, and those with the poorest specimens will be immersed in the fountain, said Billy Morrison, Senior president.

Columbia—For a fee of ten dollars, paid semi-annually at registration, students at Columbia university are entitled to admission to all athletic contests on the home grounds, and to subscription tickets for the publications and non-athletic activities of the campus, provided they are of general university interest.

Vassar—Vassar College is the first college to recognize that women smoke. At a recent meeting of the students a decision was reached which prohibits smoking in the dormitories but they can smoke elsewhere. They now gather in secluded nooks on or near the campus where they puff their perfumed cork-tips or plain cigarettes unmolested by the trustees or the warden. Approximately twenty-five per cent of the students are smokers.

Yale—In a sweeping change in her athletic policy, the board of control of Yale university athletics has adopted a program of opening all athletic facilities on Sunday afternoon. Furthermore it has been announced that permanent coaches for freshmen teams will be provided as well as disciplinary control of undergraduate organizations of athletics delinquent scholastically. To get every student out for athletics is another aim of the board. No squad cuts, no secret practice, no scouting, will be advocated.

California—Agility tests are again in force at the University of California. Abandoned last year because of the S. A. T. C., the inquisition into the athletic and gymnastic ability of freshmen is in progress this week at Harmon Gymnasium. Transfer from gymnasium floor work to other sports will be made next week for those who successfully pass the tests. The minimum requirements for the passing of the tests are as follows: Ability to run 100 yards in 13 seconds; to broad jump 14 feet; to hand vault the height of the chest; to dive and roll over a three-foot obstacle; to chin oneself three times.

Utah—The University of Utah has established a Little Theatre for the purpose of giving to the public a revived form of drama, through the Varsity Players. It is under the direction of the former director of Chicago Little Theatre.

MY AUTO, 'TIS OF THEE.
 (A Sequel for "To Lizzie")
 (By Margaret Rosenberger)

My auto, 'tis of thee,
 Short cut to poverty—
 Of thee I chant.
 I blew a pile of dough
 On you two years ago,
 And now you quite refuse to go,
 Or won't, or can't.

Through town and countryside
 You were my joy and pride;
 Oh, happy days.
 I loved thy gaudy hue,
 Thy nice white tires so new
 But now you're down and out for true
 In every way.

To thee, old rattle-box,
 Come many bumps and knocks,
 For thee I grieve.
 Badly thy top is torn,
 Thy seats are old and worn,
 The whooping cough affects thy horn
 I do believe.

Thy perfume swells the breeze,
 While good folks choke and sneeze,
 As we pass by.
 I paid for thee a price,
 'Twould buy a mansion twice,
 Now, everybody's yelling, "ice,"
 I wonder why?

Thy motor has the gripe,
 Thy spark plug has the pip,
 And woe is thine;
 I, too, have suffered chills,
 Ague and kindred ills,
 Endeavoring to pay my bills,
 Since thou were mine.

Gone is my bank roll now,
 No more 'twould choke a cow
 As once before.
 Yet if I had the mon,
 So help me, John—amen,
 I would buy myself a car again,
 And speed some more.
 —The Reveille.

KAMP KAT

Many of the girls have been wondering why Harry Stephens refuses to step out. His "business" trip to Deeth last week cleared up the mystery.

WANTED—An invention that will enable me to watch all the girls at once.—Oden.

Hop had to keep in training—so did
Edna.

Eden lives in continual anticipation of having a raspberry run on him in each new issue of the Kat. The best part about it is the fact that he always thinks that he has wind of it long before the Kat is let out of the bag.

Reports have it that Orin Odin is winning all records in the weary sport of Katting about.

Squeek has purchased a replica of Red's old green "cords." Guard them well, Squeek, for Manzanita goes 100% on that kind.

We might say that we don't like to remark anything about Edna Clausen, as it has been reported that she "has been kidded by experts." However, we would like to advise the experienced young lady in question, sit where she can see who is entering the door while she rests with her feet perched upon the window-sill in the Comptroller's office.

The Kat has learned that Emily
Burke and the rest of the art editors are looking for cuts for the Artemisia.
From a glance at Miss Sissa's bulletin board, one would think they could find an abundant supply. (The students must be taking their spring vacations).

We recall the time when Red complained about his lot of having to sit with the ladies at Gow; however, we notice that he is still suffering himself to remain there without taking any heed of the good example set by "Squeek" in leaving their humble board.

TO LIZZIE
By J. Beer.

My flivver, 'tis of thee,
Bunch of machinery,
Of thee I wail;
Car of the family pride
(Curse of the country side!)
No more in thee we'll ride
(As on a rail).

My rattling buggy, thee,
Chariot rickety,
I loved thee long!
I love thy shocks and thrills,
Thine unexpected spills!
(My spine with rapture fills
To mock my song).

Let crepe upon thy crank,
O tiny, tiny tank,
Attest my grief!
Frail body, cease to shake;
Rest, engine, shaft and brake,
(Great Henry, what a wake!)
It bring relief!

My twelve-by-ten garage,
Till peace, shall camouflage
My boat for me.
(And all the land shall know Rest from Ford jokes, what ho!)

bright and early two girls hurried to to appear. But the walk gave the girls an appetite.

NO CANDIDATES FOR ANNAPOLIS

Three Nevada Appointments Are Still Open for West Point and Annapolis

Very little interest seems to be taken in the appointments to West Point and Annapolis, which are open to Nevada boys, as shown by the last examination held at the request of Senator Pittman. Only one man took the examination and he failed to get a passing grade. There are three appointments open.

In a letter to Lieut. Col. Ryan, who conducts the examinations, Senator Pittman expresses his regret at the apparent lack of interest by Nevada boys.

"I am mortified that there are not more boys in Nevada who will avail themselves of the splendid opportunity of an education at Annapolis or West Point. I desire you to give notice of another examination to be held some time about the middle of March, so that I may again try this method of selection. If it fails, then the Secretary of the Navy will have to make the appointment. As it is, I will have to ask him for further time in which to make the appointment."

Examinations are held at the University.

JUNIORS MAKE MONEY

At a meeting of the Junior class held last Tuesday, Treasurer Walters reported that the class had cleared six dollars on the Prom, which it was voted to use as a starter towards the class memorial. None of the girls having paid the dance assessment levied on the Juniors, it was voted that only the men be held for this. Needless to state, the girls held the majority.

RETURNS ON INCOME TAX MUST BE FILED BY MARCH 15

Work on the collection of $6,000,000,000 has been begun by the bureau of internal revenue. This is the estimated yield of the new revenue bill. The income tax provisions of the act reach the pocket-book of every single person in the United States whose net income for 1918 was $1,000, or more, and of every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more. Persons whose net income equalled or exceeded these amounts, according to their marital status, must file a return of income with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which they live on or before March 15.

Here is what will happen to them if they don't; for failure to file a return on time, a fine of not more than $1,000 and an addition assessment of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due, and other penalties.

Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to aid taxpayers in making out their returns. The date of their arrival and the location of their offices may be ascertained by inquiring at offices of collectors of internal revenue, post offices and banks. Failure to see these officers, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay his tax within the time specified by law. In this case taxpayers must seek the government, not the government the taxpayer.

DEAN MACK RETURNS

UNIVERSITY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

The University Agricultural Society will meet tonight, March 4th, in the Agricultural Building.

Lieutenant-Colonel Scrugham will explain a brief talk how Nevada plans to provide homes for the returning soldiers and others.

A general informal discussion will follow.

CHAS. S. KNIGHT,
 President University Agricultural Society.

INTERCLASS DEBATING TEAMS SELECTED

Try-outs for the interclass debating teams were held last Thursday evening in Morrill Hall, with two representatives from each class, except the Juniors, who had four. After considering all points, the judges, Rev. Howe, Prof. Turner and Prof. Feemster, rendered the decision in favor of Adele Armstrong and John Belford, for the Juniors. The other teams are: Seniors, Lawrence Hansen and Ira Redfern; Sophomores, Emily Burke and Gerry Eden; Freshmen, Laura Mills and Anthony Zeni. The first debate will be held March 20, between the Freshmen and Sophomore teams. The question is: "Resolved, that the Federal Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads."
