General Assembly Friday

First Student Body Is Snappy Affair

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO ABOLISH D UMMY RUSH. ATHLETIC MANAGER'S SALARY RESTORE D. REPORT MADE ON STUDEN T LABOR

The first student body meeting of he new year was held in the gymnasium last Friday. There was in evidence almost all of those qualities which have been so woefully lacking for the past two years. To begin with, the attendance was the largest for many moons, the spirit was excelent, and the meeting was interesting nd peppy from start to finish. Presdent Jones called the meeting to orler and gave a short talk on the necssity for full and wholehearted coperation in all student activities. He lso took up the matter of the health ommittee and after expounding upon he duties of the same, announced that he members of that committee would e Gerry Eden, chairman; Helen Fuss nd Wallace Walters.

The matter of a salary for the athetic manager was discussed at some ength. This salary amounted to wenty-five dollars a month, before he war, but was cut out about a year go, and as we are endeavoring to eturn as quickly as possible to prewar basis, and also due to the fact hat it takes the greater part of one an's time outside of school hours, it as finally decided after hearing from at himself, to allow the manager wenty-five dollars a month during he football season and fifteen dollars month thereafter. A motion was ade that the A. S. U. N. purchase ance programs to be used for all inormal and Block N dances but the bjection was raised that programs hould not be used for these dances as t would make it difficult for members f the visiting teams to secure dances. fter much discussion the motion ailed to carry.

Earl Wooster talked at length on the objectionable features of the dummy rush, which has been an annual affair ever since there has been a flagpole, and then made a motion that the student body go on record as favoring the abolition of the dummy rush, and a committee be appointed to arrange for next year's festivities between the two lower classes. Lou Meyers ably defended the aforesaid rush but to no avail, and Wooster's motion finally passed. The committee as appointed later by Pres. Jones, is as follows: Wooster, chairman; Louie Meyers, Lee Scott, Everett Gooding, and Al Cahlan.

Wallace Walters, business manager of the Artemesia, told about what an excellent book is to be expected this year, and then asked for a loan of thirty dollars to cover the cost of stationery and other expenses so that the staff would be able to commence work on the year book immediately. The loan was granted. The announcement was made that A. S. U. N. constitutions were on sale in Miss Sissa's office, and that the Sophs warning to "Cherish well the Constitution of the U. of N. lest your own suffer" meant just what it said, and any poor Frosh caught without one was liable to a sudden bath in the ditch.

President Jones announced that an investigation had been made concerning student labor and that there were thirty men and twenty-five women employed at the present time by the university. He also reported that although the board had been raised, the wage scale had also been raised in proportion so that conditions had not been materially altered.

The meeting adjourned with a big N-E-V.

Professor of Political Science Will Tell of Constitution Day

Dr. Charles W. Spencer, Professor of Political Science, is to be the main speaker at the first general assembly of the year which will take place in the gymnasium Friday, September 19, at 11 o'clock. Dr. Spencer will speak on the subject of Constitution Day, so named in remembrance of the day on which the Constitution of the United States was signed. Officially, September 17, is the day set aside but will be celebrated by the University on September 19.

Dr. Spencer lately returned from France, where he spent 14 months in war work. He was with the Y. M. C. A. for eight months and the American Red Cross for six months, during which time he traveled over a considerable portion of the Balkan states and much of Belgium.

Frosh Organize for Year

Plans on Foot for Annual Hay Ride—Big Time Promised

At a meeting of the Freshmen class held Thursday afternoon, the following officers were elected: Stanley Bailey, president; Dorothy Randall, vice president;Ma rtha Butner, secretary, and John Harrison, treasurer. A general Frosh program for the semester was then discussed and committees appointed for arrangement of various social functions forthe year. Furthermore, after Earl Wooster, one of those upper classmen, had delivered a spirited harrangue concerning water carnivals, blowing bubbles and tubs, the lowly Frosh wisely decided to paint the N, and selected Saturday, Sept. 20th, as the official date.

A second committee was then appointed to arrange all details for the annual Frosh-Junior hay ride; but so far, this committee has been contending with a variety of obstacles which will necessarily delay the event. In the first place, Miss Mack will, under no consideration, allow the girls of Manzanita Hall to enjoy social functions during the week. Then again, in view of the fact that the S. A. E. dance is scheduled for the coming Friday and on the following day the N receives its new coat of white wash, both these dates are eliminated. However, the committee has a watchful eye on the future and herewith extend a hearty request to the Sophomore boys to be present on the occasion to receive their due allowance of eggs, tomatoes and other articles of like nature which the Frosh will provide for their amusement.

NOTICE

There will be a scrimmage on Mackay Field Saturday afternoon, between two teams picked by Coach Courtwright, at 3:30. If the team plays California at the coast on the twenty-seventh instead of October 4, as was originally scheduled, this will be the best chance to see the team in action before that date. Show some pep and get around to that practice.

Varsity Rounding Into Shape for the Season

COACH COURTWRIGHT'S PROTEGES ARE SHOWING RARE FORM. FIRST PRACTICE GAME SATURDAY

Coach Courtwright's gang of gridiron warriors have gone through a strenuous work out on Mackay Field with only a few minor injuries to the players. The squad now numbers 46 prospects, most of whom are players of experience. Three light scrimmages were held this last week which may be cited in doping out the probable line-up for the first practice game with the Carson Indians next Saturday.

It is useless to suppose that any man has cinched a regular Varsity berth this early in the season. Each and every man has a chance, several chances, to land a position on the Nevada pigskin buckers' permanent lineup. Nevada has several husky chaps this year who are pushing out ahead of all the others already. Time and practime are the only two important factors upon which a fair estimate can be given at the present moment. No first team has been chosen by Coach Courtwright.

In a stiff scrimmage last Saturday there is one man who undoubtedly showed some real stuff. That man is Bradshaw, who played quarter for Illinois last year. Bradshaw is a short stocky lad with greased lightning speed, shifty legs which give him a great advantage in running an open field. The two other candidates for quarter are Church '23, of Reno High and Dunne '23 from Stockton. Dunne pulled three good plays in Saturday's scrimmage. Although not possessed of Bradshaw's speed, Dunne handles himself nicely. Church is the lightest man of the three but has a good head on his shoulders and a large amount of aggressiveness.

The backfield positions are open to 14 men. They are all speedsters with worlds of previous experience. Ernie Tam '20, is no doubt the fastest and strongest of the backfield squad. Tam is, however, a trifle erratic at times, a condition which can be remedied by the coach and gruelling practice. Tam is almost sure to cross the goal when he gets away from the struggling mob because of his smoke and endurance which won him a Block N two years ago.

Johnson played on the championship Great Lakes team last year. His specialty is line plunges and short end runs. Johnson is a bunch of steel muscles. He will make some of the Pacific coast coaches open their eyes this year. Grant is the best booter on the squad. His toe sends the brown pig skin away for a beautiful spiral ride.

Ed Reed, '21 is a dangerous man on any team. He travels like a bullet with a high movement of inertia. Reed possesses all the ear-marks of a backfield star. Hobbs, '22, of San Diego High pulled two good runs last Saturday. Long and rangy is Hobbs, with a line smashing body and a couple of elastic legs.

Among the other men who have acquired a backfield reputation are, Bailey '23, "Loot" Johnson '22, Sirkegian '20, Sanders '21 and "Tim" Wilson '23.

Elrod Pohl, '18, was on the campus or a short time Monday to hold a ew "sessions" with some of the old ang. Pohl has recently been disharged from the navy where he held he rank of Ensign, and was attached o one of the ships of the Asiatic fleet nd spent most of his time in the servce in Asiatic waters.

PAT O'ROURKE VISITS

J. Lawrence O'Rourke, otherwise known as Pat, drifted up onto the campus yesterday, and was interviewing old friends. Pat was a member of the class of '20; president elect for the second semester of '17, and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He left school to go into the navy, where he became an ensign. He is the same old Pat, and everyone was glad to see him even though he is only to be around for a few days.

Slight Injury to Tim Wilson

The Varsity lost one of its most promising candidates for the backfield Tuesday night when "Tim" Wilson '23, broke one of the bones in his left hand. This injury will probably keep him from practice for the greater part of a month, and the team will be minus a good backfield man. Tim comes from Reno High where he played an excellent game at half, and was counted on to give some of the heavier and more experienced men a good run for that position on the varsity.

Dr. Jacobson Goes To John Hopkins

Former Chemistry Professor to Do Research Work at Eastern University

The numerous campus friends of Dr. C. A. Jacobson will be pleased to learn that he is to return to his chosen field of work in reasearch chemistry. After a most successful year devoted to the commercial production of potash, the marketable supply of which in the United States had been materially reduced by the world war, Dr. Jacobson has decided to accept, among several tempting offers, a position in research chemistryat Johns Hopkins Unuversity, Baltimore, Md. The older students on the campus will recall that Dr. Jacobson was Professor of Agricultural Chemistry at the University of Nevada during the years 1909-1918 and was one ofthe founders and the first president of the Faculty Science Club. While at the university Professor Jacobson invented a computing machine of considerable merit and was a frequent contributor to the Journal of the American Chemical Society. He will take up his duties in the new position about October first.

NOTICE

The Upperclass Committee has decided that all men having a semester residence to their credit including S. A. T. C. men shall be given a chance to choose the class to which they intend to belong, but shall state their choice within one day after the posting of this notice.

First Meeting of Engineers' Club

Committee at Work on Selection of Appropriate Club Pin. Advisory Board Appointed

The Engineers Club held their first meeting of the new semester last week and talked over plans for the year. Several important matters came up, and among them the matter of club pins.

A committee was appointed to look into the matter and to decide on all designs that will be turned in. A prize of one pin, incidentally will go to the man turning in the successful design.

The president was voted the power to appoint the Advisory Board, which consists of a student representative from each of the engineering departments. The men appointed on this board are Earl Borchert, Mining; A. J. Aikins, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering; Henry Hart, Civil, Herbert Bruce, Chemical Engineering.

Charles Chatfield, treasurer of the club, is hard at work collecting the dues of the club, and each engineer is urged to pay his one bean. There is a large engineering enrollment this semester and with the dues of one dollar from each man, the Engineer's Club can put on some very interesting meetings.

The Engineer's smoker of last semester will be remembered for some time by those who were there. That cost money to put on, and the stunts for this year, whatever they will be, also will cost real hard cash, so come through with your dues, and we'll make this year a large one.

Some students are asked who the officers of the club are. They were elected at the close of last semester and the as follows: Nels Carlsen, president; A. E. Cahlan, vice president; Charles Chatfield, treasurer; Harvey Luce, secretary.

There will be a meeting next Thursday and all engineers are urged to attend.

Aggie Clubs Lay Plans For the Year

Organization Promises Peppy Entertainment Within Next Few Weeks

About twenty Aggie students among them a number of women, were present at the first meeting of the Aggie Club, which was held Tuesday night at the Aggie building. Al Reed acted as temporary chairman of the meeting until officers were elected. They follow: Henry Rhodes, president; Rachel Sprague, vice president; Carmen Rockstead, secretary-treasurer.

Dissatisfaction was evident when the matter of the Aggie yell was brought up. The sentiment favored the adoption of a new one, and it is probable that one will appear shortly which will embrace all those things so dear to the rural engineering student. Plans were outlined for the club's activities during the year, with the result that many good entertainments are under way.

It is planned to give an informal party and dance sometime within the next two weeks to which all faculty members and students are invited. The dance will be held in the gym, and will probably be of a rustic nature, with farm products galore as decorations, and perhaps eatables, and the style of dress to be the regular old farmer "hoe-down" type. Livestock, games and pre-war refreshments will be some of the distinctive features of the occasion.

Tuesday, September 16 is the date set for the next meetingwhich will be held in the assembly hall of the Aggie building, time 7:30 p. m.

All Aggie students are earnestly requested to be present for this meeting as business of considerable importance will be transacted. A special invitation is issued to the new students.

IT'S A WILD WORLD

It's curious what a great difference nationality can make in daily conversation. If you say "qepi" to a Frenchman, he'll immediately think of a cap but if you say "K. P." to a Yankee doughboy he'll immediately start cussing.

TRUE DEMOCRACY

She does not do such things in general
That's the conclusion we arrive at;
But she might be democratic,
And might do such things in private.

There are now 70 girls in the hall, Miss McIntosh being the last one to join us.

Mrs. Percival, who has been in town since college started returned to Elko Sunday.

Marie Norton, of Carson, and Miss Brockliss, of Gardnerville, spent the week-end at their home. Miss Brockliss has not returned on account of illness but we hope to see her soon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Braun from Dayton, were visiting their daughter Thelma, on Sunday.

Don't forget the tea at Manzanita Hall next Friday afternoon. The Juniors are to be hostesses and every one is invited.

THE SPIRIT OF '23

Old U. of N.'s a jolly place,
As gay as gay can be,
And yet there's been one missing link,
Now, just what could it be?

Seniors, Juniors, Sophomore
Have sought and sought in vain,
To find that little link
To make a perfect chain.

But now a crowd of girls has come
And all the world can see
They've brought that link along with them,
The Spirit of '23.

For Freshmen girls are clever,
And mighty full of pep,
Just leave it to these Freshmen girls,
They'll show what's in them yet.

Notice to Students

There will be an important meeting of the Aggie Club in the Assembly Hall of the Aggie building next Tuesday night, at 7:30 p. m. All agricultural students are urged to be there.

A copy of the Sagebrush mailed home each week saves lots of letter writing.

Have You All the Money You Want?

Is Reno as Large and Prosperous as You Want it to be?

The Black Panther Mine lies right at Reno's door. It is the largest body of copper ore opened up in this state for years, if mining engineers are right. It is such a body of ore as should make another Ely. On the 100-foot level the drift has been run for one hundred and fifty feet through solid ore, which has been cross-cut for more than 25 feet without encountering either wall. On the 150 level the drift extends for seventy feet through ore which has been cross-cut for 30 feet without encountering either wall.

Neither End, Top, Bottom or Wall is in Sight

Does this sound too big to be true? The shaft lies within fifteen minutes run from Reno. GO AND SEE. We will take you out there whenever you want to go, or you can go look at it while we are not around.

We need the money to make a big mine of this. Reno needs a big mine and you need the money that this mine should make you. GET BUSY. In order to buy machinery and to sink a big working shaft, we are offering a small block of treasury stock at BUT 25 CENTS PER SHARE. The stock should be worth several times this before Christmas. GET BUSY.

If this was a wild-cat, a hundred miles out on the desert you might hesitate. This is right at Reno, within a few hundred yards of a railroad, a switch can be run right to the shaft. It is within a mile and a half of a power line. There is water on the property. The ore IS THERE. We are not hunting for ore; we have it. GO AND SEE.

Quit buying wild-cat stocks and get in on the development of a real mine. The 25 cent price WILL NOT LAST LONG.

RENO HI NOTES

Under the able direction of Major Page, U. S. A., the high school football team is fast rounding into shape. The teams line up now as follows: Duborg, center; Melarkey and Codd, guards; Lohlein and Gridley, tackles; Conrad and Golden, ends; Claypoole, quarter; S. Harrison and Valleau,, halves, and McInnis, full. While that is not the official line-up it is believed that very few changes will be made. Duborg at center is fast and knows how to pass the ball and at the same time interfere with the opposing line. The guards are fast and heavy and know the game. Gridley is a veteran at tackle and is the mainstay of the line, while Lohlein is a new man out, with lots of weight and more than a little speed. The ends are the feature of the team. Conrad has played the American game before and is a fast man to get under punts and can dump interference beautifully. Golden is no slow man and is a sure tackler. Claypool at quarter is another veteran and there is not a surer tackler on the team. Harrison is another veteran and his experience coupled with his speed and dodging in the open field should make him a valuable asset to the team. Jim Valleau is the mainstay of the backfield. He is the captain of the team and is one of the headiest backs Reno has ever had. McInnis possesses a healthy boot and when it comes to an exchange of punts can count a five yard gain for Reno. The first game will probably be the twenty-seventh of this month with either Susanville or Elko.

Three former high school boys paid us a visit Tuesday and gave us a very interesting talk about Annapolis. Clark Green, '16, told us about the examinations to get into the academy. "Farmer" Snare, '16, told us about the life while there and "Bill" Orr '19 told us about the life aboard ship after graduating.

The Scarlet Mask society, the dramatic organization of the high school is contemplating the presentation of a play near the end of this semester. Mr. Field and Miss Pope are directing them.

A dance is to be given by the Athletic Association to raise funds for the football team. The dance is to be given in the Gym on Friday night and will start at 8:30.

The season tickets are selling well here and about 50 tickets have been sold to the merchants of town. Any U. of N. students wishing tickets see A. E. Cahlan.

The girls' basketball team held its first practice in the gym Tuesday night with about 15 girls out for practice. Miss Tuller, the physical training teacher, is coaching them and expects to turn out a championship team.

The annual girls jinx will be held sometime in the near future. This always provides an initiation for the girls of the Freshman class..

Freshmen Swim

TOOTHBRUSHES IN EVIDENCE

Two of the Frosh have recently shown much interest in the study of the marine fauna at the bottom of the Orr Ditch. From the various ungainly positions taken in their research after knowledge we would suggest that they take a few lessons from the propaganda on the lake. LeDuc had his romantic spirit considerably dampened in the cold water and from present indications this coolness will be exhibited to every girl on the Campus. Hill received his immersion for disobeying the mandates of the Upperclass Committee.

A number of the Freshmen were ordered to report on the football field for work and a few of them failed to show up. These were ordered to appear before the Upperclass Committee. All but two were able to give acceptable excuses, and these two were ordered, one to scrub the steps of Morril Hall with a toothbrush, and the other to perform like duties on the Senior Bench with a similar implement.

Lincoln Hall Notes

WOES OF A FROSH

Rudely awakened from peaceful slumbers
Told of our crimes by the upperclass numbers;
Torn from our beds half asleep
We obeyed their commands like tame little sheep.
Procured then a towel and a necktie, to,
Listened while they told us what to do.

Then to the gym where our tortures began,
But we stood them bravely, man to man;
First from the rafters a jump we tried,
But this was the easiest part of the ride.
Next as our duty, the chickens we fed.
While they scratched and picked around our head.

A brand with an iron now we bore
And as we came out the door
A pill to make us well we got,
But clue ever since has been our lot.

Now down to Manzanita where our songs we sang
And amused the girls with our chatter and bang.
Back to the Gym where a race we ran,
Flypaper sticking to every man.
This was the last, and finished it all,
Our initiation into Lincoln Hall.

No one ever expected to see John Gottardi out in the "We sma' hours" of the morning, but it has been reported that such was the case.

Through our various agencies, including Rex Turner, we understand that little Thres referred to a certain young Frosh lady as a "Vamp". Remember Thres, "People who live in glass houses—"

The old gang was rather disappointed with conditions on the Hill upon their return. When they left the army, they thought they were through with "Shave-Tails." However, they have found to their sorrow that a Junior lieutenant from the navy can put it all over the army variety. How about it, Pete?

Hornaday Leaves Naval Service and Returns to University

Paul Hornaday, ex '18 has returned to the Hill and helps to swell the ranks of the Seniors. He was recently discharged from the Navy where he held a commission as Ensign. Hornaday states that the last trip across that he made, was the best that he had, and was made on the U. S. Powhatan to Rotterdam, Holland with a load of deported aliens. From Rotterdam they went to Antwerp, picked up a load of soldiers' wives and left them at Brest. From Brest the return trip was made with part of the famous Third Division. While in European water, the "Gobs" were given leave, and visited many parts of Germany, Belgium, France, Holland and England.

Ex-Service Men to Escort President

Chief Executive to Be Met at Train by Veterans Who Will March to Rialto Theater

At a meeting of the American Legion last Monday night plans were formulated for having all ex-service men form an escort for President Wilson when he arrives in Reno on the evening of September 22. These men will be in uniform and will patrol the streets, after which they will march to the theater in a body and occupy a block of seats that have been reserved for them.

Commander Malsbary, of the local post, says that at least a hundred men will take part and urges that all former service men show up to help pay due respect to our nation's experience.

Any university men who contemplate taking part in the escort are asked to hand their names in to Col. J. P. Ryan, commandant of cadets.

WOMEN AND STUDENT TRADITIONS

The old students have been watching with increasing disguest the total disregard of the traditions of the U. of N. not only by the Freshmen women, but by those of the upper classes also. The time is not beyond the recollection of the Seniors when the upper classwomen adhered strictly to all the traditions, and not only that but saw to it that the Frosh coeds were fully instructed in what to do and what not to do. Any young lady who got the idea into her head that those regulations applied only to the men students was promptly shown the error of her ways at a tubbing party which was presided over by the women of the upperclasses. For the last few years many traditions which have been held sacred have been almost totally ignored by the women students of this university. While the disorganized condition due to the war may be a fair excuse, there is absolutely none to be offered for ignoring them this year when college spirit should be strong enough to compel everyone, whether man or woman, to observe the few traditions that only help to make up college life. Possibly it would not be amiss to reprint from the "Sagebrush" of Sept. 12, 1912, the regulations imposed upon the underclass women by those of the upper classes.

THESE REGULATIONS MUST BE OBEYED

1. No red tams or red headgear of any description may be worn by any underclass girl on the campus or bleachers at any time.
2. No underclass girl may at any time wear anything corduroy or imitation corduroy, such as hats, dresses, waists, skirts, suits, etc.
3. Absolutely no high school or prep school insignia may be worn.
4. Positively no queening will be allowed on the campus or bleachers.
5. Only upperclass womenwill be permittedto take any short cuts, walk, run, or sit, upon the grass or terraces.
6. Absolutely no underclassmen will be allowed in the stack room.
7. All underclass girls are positively required to be on the bleachers by 4:30 every Thursday at football practice.
8. Underclass women must always occupy seats back of the sixth row in the gym at all Student Body meetings and General Assemblies.

IMPORTANT—A severe and embarrassing penalty will be imposed upon any violator of one or more of these rules.

(Signed.) UPPERCLASS WOMEN.

While some of these may not be applicable to the present day there is food for thought among them and it is up to the upperclass women to take such steps as are necessary to compel those of the underclasses to observe to the letter the traditions which are so dear to us all.

Don't waste your time and other's, telling people what you think of the Sagebrush, or the Editor and his ideas. If you have an idea (we all get them occasionally), suggestion or a criticism to make, write it down and hand it in. We have plenty of space, more time than money, and nothing to do except look out for the best interests of the students, and that we aim to do. Tell us what you think about it, for after all, it's a difference of opinion that makes this good old world of ours go round.

PICKIN'S
FOUND BY
THE OFFICE DOG

I pinched this from the bulletin board:

Lost: An S. A. E. Fraternity pin. Finder please leave in Miss Sissa's office.

Dear Herb: Have you see Cap lately? You might find it there.

An Aggie was overhead chanting the following.

I'd love to be a robin,
And flit from bough to bough;
I'd spread sweet music on the air,
And charm the pensive cow.

Gee, Boy, wouldn't it be nice if we all were cadets and had the opportunity of drilling these rare afternoons, instead of going to the races?

The Grape Juice Chapter, of the Order of the Empty Bottle was having its semi-occasional quartet practice, when a visitor appeared in their midst.

Visitor: "Mr. Eden, can your quartet throw your voices?"

Gerry: "Oh yes, indeed, very easily."

Visitor: "Then will you kindly throw them in the sink?"

(Curtain.)

O'Brien—Oi can say wan thing. Oi's a self made man.

——Is it boastin yez are or only apoligizin?

It is rumored that George Hopkins and Dorothy Churchill are soon to publish a new work on "Love" in which their names appear as joint authors.

"Say, Ma. What makes that little dog so sad?"

"I don't know dear. Maybe his son is back from the front and is out of a job."

Whenever you are in doubt, ask me. I never am right.

Told in Carson—
"Oh, yes, we get milk, butter and eggs from the same place." ½
What?—Throw him out.

Whalman evidently must be hard up for lead pencils this semester for he spent most of yesterday afternoon patrolling the campus and pinching them from each girl that he met.

Didn't know I was a pote did you? Listen to this.
I'd love to be a strawberry
And blushing in the sun,
I'd make men's mouths to water,
And run and run and run.

Well, I'm not a pote, some Frosh girl got romantic and wrote it.

I guess you all have heard of the men students who cut last Wednesday afternoon's classes to go to the races, only to find when they got there that Prof. —— had beaten them to it and was firmly ensconced in one of the best seats.

(P. S. Prof's name is withheld for various and sundry reasons.)

Two worms were working in dead earnest. Poor Earnest.

Awful, isn't it? But say, my pickins this week are so slim I had to get that off my mind somehow.

Oh well, let's call this enough bunk for one week.

OLD CROW.

FLASHES FROM THE FUTURE

The little tot toddled to her daddy and begged to climb up on his knee. As he caressed gently the golden curls she felt a rough spot in his right hand and wondered, "Why Daddy," she cried, "what makes that hand so rough?"

"That, my dear," replied the old veteran, "is where I caught a sizzling grounder one afternoon playing in the Campus League." Whereupon he blew a smoke ring and reminisced.

JAZZ DANCING ON LAST LEGS

The "jazz" dance is metaphorically, if not literally, on its last legs in London, in the opinion of Charles d'Albert, secretary of the Imperial Society of Dance Teachers, who stated that he believed the waltz was coming back.

"The fox trot" he said, "is only popular because it consists almost entirely of simple walk movements, frontwards, backwards, sideways, and sliding. Therefore it is easy. The trois tempts waltz was difficult," he said. "A man might practice it all his life and then not be a good waltzer. A good waltzer must be born. It demands swing, gait and lissomeness."

Here's some philosophical free verse, author unknown:

O
Life!
Thou art
Stale.
Ay, stale as dinner
At the Commons.
Thou art
Like a date with a
Lemon;
Like an 8 o'clock class
On Saturday morning;
Like a stag party after
July 1.
O
Death!
Where is thy Hypodermic!

Varsity Rounding Into Shape for Season

Every one of these lads is a good prospect. All of them need experience to bring out their very best. Nevada Varsity has in the past, been woefully weak behind the line. Coach Courtwright has gobs of material to construct a scoring machine of terrific power.

The question which seems of greatest importance now is, "Will the line be as strong as the back?" Some do not think so. Sanborn, who played on the University of Washington Varsity a few years ago, sees no cause for worry. The average football fan does not lay enough stress on the linemen. But they are the ones who must clear the path for the oncoming backs. It takes eleven men to make up a football team, remember. The line is a battering ram which bears out most of the heart-breaking strain set up by an opposing team.

Contrary to general opinion, the position of center is the keystone of a football machine. The center's importance is greater than that of the end men. He must be a tower of strength. A combination of accuracy and reliability. He must know all of the numerous, intricate plays as thoroughly as all of the remaining team do. Then get a center who is just a shade better than any of the backfield and still he is none too good. Two men are most promising for this position. They are Fitter and "Tiny" Fairchild. Both are capable of withstanding heavy pressure because they are big, powerful men, and both of them will probably be used constantly. Nevada needs two good centers this year. Coach Courtright believes he has them.

The battle for end positions promises to be a merry one. "Loot" Johnson, "Red" Fairchild, La Riew, Joe Hill, Bill Martin will be the principals. All have possibilities with the advantage at present in the favor of Bill Martin '21 and Ted Fairchild '23. Both of them have stamina to a marked degree. Johnson '22 has been picking forward passes out of the air the past week.

College Physician Selected

Will Keep Regular Hours at University Hospital for Consultation Purposes

A committee to act on all hospital affairs has been chosen and a doctor, with regular office hours is now established at the hospital.

At the student body meeting of last Friday, President Jones appointed Gerry Eden, Helen Fuss and Wallace Walter to act on the hospital student committee. Working with them are Professord Frandsen, Professor Turner and Miss Mack as members of the Faculty committee. Doctors St. Clair and Gardner have been chosen to act as consulting physicians and one of them will be at the hospital every afternoon between five and five-thirty for the purpose of giving free consultation to all of the students who have paid their hospital fee, and thus are members of the association. Each student should make it his business to consult with the college physician no matter how slight the case may be, as that is what the doctor is there for, and an immediate consultation may prevent a serious illness.

COED CHARMS

Gone! Gone! Gone! The good old days when we could skyrocket the bread and call for the "cow," cuss at the grub and the hasher, all are gone forever. The charms of the Manzanita coeds have proven too much for the Lincoln Hall bachelors and the result is mixed tables at the Gow House. Ye Gods and little fishes! Imagine some of the "old gang" asking one of the booful girls to pass the buttre when he really wants to say, "Throw that axle grease down here, and do it fast." Such is life in the Far West.

KU KLUX HAS BIG TIME

Ku Klux Klan, dishonorary interfraternity society, welcomed its pledges into the holy bunk of the organization some place near town late last night. Each of the pledges had to bring a package of pretzle. Now, just between friends, we would like to know who furnished the—buttermilk?

—Ex.

He gets away good on a forward pass signal.

The positions of tackles and guards are puzzling. Competition will have to decide these positions. Eden '21 will be a great backbone if he can get started soon enough. Cuddy '23, of Tonopah High, will be right up among the first string men with more pounding. Al Reid '20, is a man-killer who will bear a lot of hammering to break. "Twisty" Layman '20, has football knowledge but he is capable of standiing more speed and less weight. Big Tom Buckman will take a terrific beating before he will drop out. "Buck" can mow 'em down fast when his bulk once starts. Keep your eye on his methods, you backfield men.

The entire squad is made up of Organ, T. Wilson, Bailey, Sanders, H. Johnson, Johnson, Dunne, Bowers, Sirkegian, Bradshaw Tam, Buckman, Joe Hill, Layman, Harker, M. Fairchild, Grant, Wright, F. Frost, Ninnis, Church, Hobbs, Gooding, T. Fairchild, Harrison, Heward Marketti, Cuddy, Ogilvie, Eden, Egan, Witter Al Reed, Melburn, Oliver, La Rieu, La Kamp, Les Jones, Sanborn, Martin, C. Reserve Officers for The United States Army

Government Considering New System to Provide Reserve Officers for the Army

The following article appeared in the Army and Navy Journal in the issue of September 13th and as the subject is one of great importance to university students, it is reprinted here for their benefit:

Reserve Officers for the U. S. Army

In the hearings before Congressional committee on the Army Reorganization bill there has been one point on which high ranking officers of the Army and National Guard agreed: That the war has demonstrated the necessity for maintaining a large reserve of trained officers. And as a result of this agreement we feel that in the bill which will establish the permanent military policy of the nation ample provision will be made for training a large reserve of officers in time of peace. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps, provided for in the National Defense Act, had not been in operation sufficiently long prior to the war to be developed to a state of full efficiency for this purpose. The organization of the R. O. T. C. is now under consideration with a view to such revision as may be necessary to perfect it so as to insure a steady output of officers for the lowest grade, second lieutenants. The matter of the further instruction of such officers with a view to promotion to higher grades is being considered in connection with the future military policy. But, whatever this policy may be, it is essential that the material for officers be developed during the educational life of our young men.

Recent study has shown that many of the students in college cannot undertake this training for the reason that a considerable proportion, in some localities as high as eighty per cent, earn their education by their own labor at schools and colleges during the summer months. Comparatively few of our young men progress beyond the high school. To secure Reserve officers with educational qualifications, therefore, it will be necessary to make inducements greater than are now provided by law. The government cannot well undertake the assistance of all young men through college, but it can offer to assist such as are necessary to maintain a reasonable reserve of Reserve officers. The National Defense Act authorizes 50,000 Reserve officers to be obtained from the R. O. T. C., whose Reserve commissions are to hold ten years. To build up and maintain this Reserve will require that approximately 6000 men a year be graduated from colleges in the R. O. T. C. The question as to how the Government can get this number most economically is being studied at the War Department with a view to a reasonable solution acceptable to Congress and to the colleges.

It is fair to assume the Government desires to get the best equipped men for officers, hence it should select the best and give them the assistance deemed necessary. This will put a spirit of competition in colleges. This plan has been approved by all educators who have been consulted. Such a system could be put into effect now with minor changes in the law. Should universal military training be adopted, the period of this training will approximate the time the average student completes the high school course—approximately at eighteen years of age. While under observation during this period of training an opportunity will be presented for the selection of the new material for officers with a view to assisting the selected men in their education and the R. O. T. C. training. Should scholarships be announced as prizes for competition while undergoing training, an incentive to work would be supplied. Besides the Officers' Reserve would then be recognized as a democratic institution because all young men will have opportunity to compete for it. In view of the agreement that Reserve officers of the highest type and educational equipment will best serve in the event of war, the foregoing plan deserves the most mature consideration and deliberation. While the desirable type of officer can be obtained from the R. O. T. C., efforts must be continued to secure Reserve officers from other sources as provided for in the National Defense Act or in any future military policy,

OUR WEEKLY STORY
(By E. L.)

He was lost. And, though he was too proud to cry, there were suspicious catches in his breathing. It was cold and dark and wet. He stood pressed against the corner of the building, looking hopelessly out into the night.

Why had he ever left his home? Love of adventure? Perhaps. Desire to travel? Perhaps. Who knows?

She saw him. It was a case of love at first sight. She took his face between her hands and looked into his eyes. There, behind the dumb agony of a wandering soul, he saw an appeal that was irresistible.

She, too, was lonely. The city was large and strangely unfriendly. Perhaps—was it too much to hope? She looked at him again, long and straight.

"Come!"

It was hardly a command; it was a pleading question. The longing, the despair were driven from his eyes by the joyous light that entered at that one word. She shoved his damp nose into her hand. He wagged his tail with unbelievable violence. He wiggled as only an adoring puppy can. He was her "until death them should part."

but where education and training go hand in hand it is apparent that the young men availing themselves of the opportunities offered by the government through the colleges will provide the reservoir of the best Army officer material.

The first regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last Wednesday in Stewart Hall. Brewster Adams gave a lecture on Social Service, showing the girls how they could aid in this work. Elaine Harris sang a solo and the meeting was closed by the extension of an invitation to all the new girls to join the association.

Extensive work is being done in preparation for the big Asilomar meeting which is to be held next Wednesday. As everyone knows Asilomar is the Y. W. C. A. camp of the Pacific coast field where the girls of the different colleges of Nevada, California and Arizona gather each year to talk over their Y. W. C. A. work. Nevada was well represented by three "stuck-ups" this past summer—Ruth Billinghurst, Gladys Dunkle and Lois Smythe, Lois being the first Nevada girl to be elected as an officer of the "stuck ups." At the special conference for college students Mildred Griswold, June Harriman, Helena Shade, Ruth Leon, Margaret Barnes acted as Nevada delegates. These girls are going to try to tell the other girls how wonderful Asilomar is and the different ideas they got from the people of other colleges. The "stuck ups" intend also to give a few of their favorite songs. All the girls are invited and urged to come and we know that none of the old girls will miss it.

NOTICE

The Young Women's Christian Association conducts a second-hand book store in the library. If you have textbooks which are being used in this year's courses and wish to dispose of them hand them to one of the library assistants. The price of the books will be rated on their condition, and when sold the proceeds will be returned to owner, minus a 10 cent commission on each transaction.

Look over this stock of books before purchasing new ones.

BORZYNSKI ON HILL

Felix Borzynski, '17, returned to the hill for a short visit this week, and hunted up all of the old guard for a long talk on old times. Borzynski, who was here last semester taking P. G. Work, claims that his trip to the hill was on business. It is rumored that his business consisted of re-organizing the Gobblers, of which he is a high exalted ruler ,and great plans are made for a large year in the order.

Borzynski is connected with the Como Consolidated Mines Company at Dayton and appears to have fully recovered from the effects of the gassing he received last summer when he was overcome by carbon monoxide and dioxide while surveying one of the blind drifts in the mine at Dayton.

CHINESE WOMEN ENTER WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY

Two Chinese women students will enroll at the University of Wisconsin at the opening of the new year on October 1, according to notification recently received by the university. They will be included in the quota of 12 new Chinese government students to be sent to the university this fall. Nearly 30 Chinese will then be pursuing studies at Wisconsin.

About 100 Chinese government students are sent to American colleges and universities each year. Each is sent for five years of study, receives $900 a year and is selected through competitive examinations covering eight years. All who are sent to American schools to study have been educated in American schools in China for at least eight years, and can speak English, German, and French.

Among the prominent men of China whowere formerlygovernment students at the University of Wisconsin, are C. K. Wang, first vice president of the republic, T. T. Lee, president of Chingwah Christian college, and S. C. Wiang, Chinese railway magnate.

"Gobitis" Bursts Forth

The flowers that bloom in the spring have nothing on this year's delegation of green material. Shaded by a lily white bonnet with a dainty blue button crowning the pointed dome, their faces beam forth like strawberries in a snow storm. An original study in topography is open to all who view them, from the fat man posing as the human toadstool down to the elongated shell which presents that woe-begone appearance, so apparent in the dejected mortal. Dignified frosh slink from observance and the bold bad men seek cover from the eyes of approving upper classmen. To them, the noble cranium cover is gall, the last word in the humbled freshman mind.

Clionia Elects Officers

Last Monday evening the Clionia Society held its first meeting of the year. The election of officers and new members was the principal business of the evening.

In a snappy meeting, which was held in Professor Turner's apartment at Lincoln Hall, ten new boosters for Clionia and its work, were brought into the society. It was the unanimous opinion of all the members that this year shall be the biggest year in the history of the organization. Dramatic Manager Eden already has planned some big features in the way of entertainment for this semester. The next meeting night will be a booster meeting and the entertainment committee is preparing some real jazz in the way of snappy readings, talks and high class music. Also there will be something real inviting in the refreshment line. All members must be there and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

The officers elected for this year are, Wallace Walter, president; Emily Burke, vice president; Adele Armstrong, secretary; John Douglass, treasurer; Morris Badt, business manager; Gerry Eden, dramatic manager, and Professor Turner, faculty advisor.

It was decided to make the regular meetings nights the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Notice to Students

Students are reminded that it is of importance to themselves to watch the Bulletin Boards. The catalogue distinctly states that notice published on Bulletins is sufficient for students' information. After the notice is posted the responsibility rests with the student.

It is imperative that this office be kept posted up to date as to every student's correct address and telephone number. Attention to this subject will often save considerable time and trouble.

I frequently need students for various reasons of importance. If you miss receiving a telegram, or a message from a visiting relative, or are disciplined for an infraction of the rules, remember that the responsibility is yours.

LOUISE M. SISSA,
Registrar.
