SAGEBRUSH ELEVEN READY FOR SAINTS

SANTA CLARA AGGREGATION, RATED AMONG THE BEST ON THE PACIFIC COAST BY SPORT WRITERS, IS EXPECTED TO GIVE STIFF BATTLE TO COURTRIGHT'S SCORING MACHINE.

PROBABLE LINE-UPS FOR SATURDAY GAME

Nevada		Santa Clara
Martin	L. E. R.	Kerckoff
A. Reed	L. T. R.	Ferriaro (Capt.)
Fairchild (Capt.)	L. G. R.	Noll
Heward	C.	Schall
Buckman	R. G. L.	Manilli
Malone	R. T. L.	Korte
T. Fairchild or Jones	R. E. L.	Bannan
Bradshaw	Q.	Scholz
Johnson or Hobbs	L. H. R.	Jackson
E. Reed	R. H. L.	Amaral
Grant or Dunn	F.	Pecarovitch

On this coming Saturday the Nevada Varsity football team will meet the crucial test when it lines up against the Varsity squad from Santa Clara University. While in eyes of most of the student body, the California Frosh game was the big one, to the sporting writers on the big coast papers Santa Clara is rated as one of the big three of California and therefore the peers of the Cal. Frosh. The Truene Valley lads have played only two games of note so far this year, the first being with the Olympic Club of San Francisco in which they were defeated by a score of something like 9-6. The other game was the tough battle with Stanford, in which they were only defeated after the hardest kind of a battle, by a score of 14-0. They have a fair line and a fast, nappy backfield, therein resembling the Varsity. Both teams play the same style of ball and a good game is assured. Ferrario, captain and maintainer of the Catholics, was unable to play in the Stanford game due to injuries, and his appearance against Nevada is extremely doubtful, as is that of Baker, star half back who is also on the injured list and did not participate in the Stanford game.

The Varsity will be in the game in all strength, and a few changes over the line-up which started last week are looked for. Heward will in all probability start at center as he has been playing an excellent brand of ball. At guard Buchman and Fairchild will be found for the first time since Wright was injured and "Tiny" was shifted to tackle. Malone and Al Reed will undoubtedly be the selections for the tackle position, as Molly has rounded into good shape and will plug up a very noticeable hole. With these men in the line the team will be the strongest in this department, it has been in any of the big games this year. The redoubtable "Shimmie" Bradshaw is a cinch to start at quarter, with Eddie Reed at one-half. The other half is doubtful with Johnson and Hobbs in the running. The writer rather favors Johnson due to his long period of experience. The fullback position is also doubtful, with Grant, the boy with the trusty boot, and Dunn, a hard player, trusty boot, and Dunn, a hard fighter, lining up exceptionally well this week, and in a game with the second team last Tuesday, he was tearing through the line for ten and fifteen yards at a clip. Both men will undoubtedly be in the game with Dunn the favorite to start.

Interest is running high among the students and whatever the line-up, they are confident of victory.

BLOCK N FAVORS TRACK RECORDS

A regular meeting of the Block "N" society was held last night in the training quarters. It was decided that the Block "N" give a dance on Thanksgiving Day. Further progress has been made in obtaining an interscholastic track meet here this year and it is entirely probable that the meet will be held at the usual date. The semi-annual banquet will be arranged in the near future and the new members will be introduced to the society at this banquet. The society also recommended that the records made by Ernest Tam in the 100 yard dash and George

Coach Courtright said yesterday in an interview about the Santa Clara game Saturday: "I expect the game Saturday to be the hardest contest of the season for Nevada. Santa Clara is rated by the San Francisco sport writers as one of the three strongest teams on the coast this year, the others being California Varsity and Stanford Varsity. The Nevada team is in good physical shape and is going out on the field Saturday with all they have, and are determined to put up the fight of their lives. It will be a close game, I think."

PLANS COMPLETE FOR JUNIOR PROM

The two big topics of conversation around the campus these days are: Thanksgiving vacation and the Junior Prom. The former was a big surprise to everyone and according to the Juniors, the latter will be a bigger one.

President Eden stated last night that the plans for the big affair are well under way and things are progressing famously. John Douglas, chairman of the decoration committee, promises a rare treat in interior decorating. All the plans are being kept secret, but as this class is noted for originality and "big deals," one of the biggest and best dances ever staged is expected.

ENGINEERS' CLUB PETITIONS A. A. E.

The Engineers held a special meeting Thursday evening which was one of the best meetings held this semester. The question of the A. A. E. was settled on and a petition containing 34 names was sent in to obtain a charter. Several other important questions involving Engineering students were discussed and acted upon.

Any other Engineering students wishing to become members of the A. A. E. can do so by seeing either Mr. Mitchell, Mr. H. Luce or Mr. Charles Chatfield. It is hoped that the Engineering professors will affiliate and become members of the University Chapter.

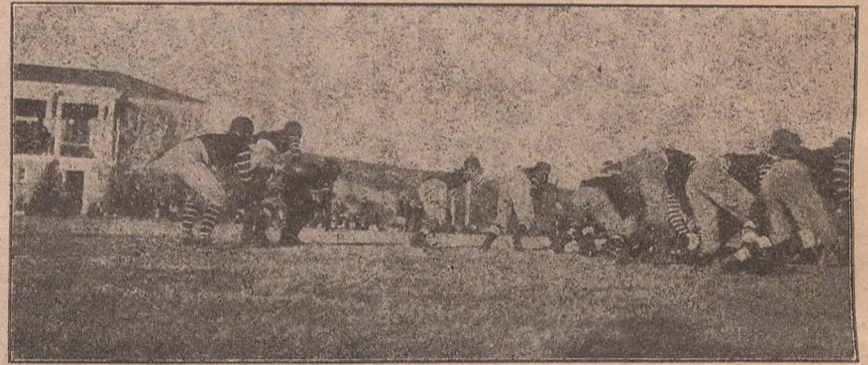

Ogilvie in the two mile run two years ago go on record for the university. There has been considerable discussion as to the legality of either record. That of Ogilvie was passed by the student body but was held to be illegal by the executive committee. Tam's record was not favored by the student body but was made under conditions similar to the record made by Ogilvie.

SATURDAY'S GAME ENDS WITH 0 TO 0 SCORE

VARSITY AND ST. MARY'S BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE IN HARD-FOUGHT CONTEST ON MACKAY FIELD. OAKLANDERS SHOW GREAT IMPROVEMENT OVER PREVIOUS GAMES AND PUT UP STIFF OPPOSITION.

The St. Mary's Varsity from Oakland enjoys the distinction of being the only team that Coach Courtright's Nevada huskies have failed to score on this season. It was a rare treat to watch Nevada fight out a 0 to 0 tie with the Saints from the standpoint of an unbiased football fan. The Silver and Blue supporters in the grand stand purpose because of his known worth as the best kicker on the squad. Grant, however, failed to live up to his reputation in that none of his punts were good for more than thirty yards. Had he given the team some real toe work the result of the game might have been entirely to Nevada's advantage. The scheme was as a result, only fair-were no doubt disappointed over the outcome as they expected the Sagebrush eleven to add one more victory to their already heavily laden belt.

The St. Mary's crowd came up to Reno with a slight doubt haunting them as to the outcome. Nevada's record on the Pacific Coast this year against better teams than the Oakland Saints were reputed to be governing the betting before the game. The odds were 10 to 7 that the Nevada Varsity would win. They were known to be in the best possible physical condition and had not suffered any serious injuries lately. Likewise, St. Mary's sent a team out on the field which consisted of several star backfield men who had just gotten over a few bumps received earlier in the season.

The high altitude no doubt was a serious handicap for the Oakland lads. They repeatedly called out time for short rest periods throughout the game. St. Mary's had a group of backfield men opposing Nevada who knew how and when to drive. Their line smashes were speeding, driving affairs easily the equal of the Sagebrush' short end flashes. Coupled with this set of manhandlers in the backfield was a line which possessed both terrific wedging power and considerable weight. The Saints outweighed the Nevada boys by at least ten pounds per man.

Coach Courtright evidently instructed his gridiron men to play an open defensive game for the first half. Grant played fullback for this special ly successful. The Saints were not in the exhausted condition which they should have been at the end of the first half of the struggle.

The red jerseyed players showed no great knowledge of forward passing due, possibly to the close vigilance of the Nevada backs. Not once did St. Mary's complete a sling via the aerial route. Nevada outplayed her opponents in this department of the game. Several neat passes netted a considerable yardage but they came at moments when Nevada needed them least. Nevada's backfield, with the exception of Johnson and Ed Reed, were decidedly off form. Bradshaw, first string quarterback, was unable to fool the speedy Saints on long end shoots or line bucks. He fumbled too often when a few yards meant four more attempts to gain the allotted territory.

Nevada's sterling line bore the brunt of the Saint's backfield men's charging attacks. To Heward, as pivot man; to the Silver and Blue holding guards, Buckman and Hill; to Captain Mahlon Fairchild and Al Reed,

GET INTO THE SWIM

Someone said two years ago he could take 50 men and women from the university and strike student activities a death blow. Once it was said that the loss of 10 picked men would paralyze University of Oklahoma athletics. This may have been true in part; perhaps it was not exaggerated at all.

But whether or not its true now, students should see that the university is not a "50 student" school. With an enrollment of more than 2100, the university would be a school of, for, and by more than 2100 students.

How much would the campus lose if you quit school?
Find your place and get into the swim.—Oklahoma Daily.

All of which brings to mind that there were less than half of the enrolled students at the A. S. U. N. meeting last week; thirty-five women students were there; also about one-third of the Freshman men.

Why not a little music by the University band to help liven things up a bit, at next Saturday's game?

And also, how about the physician that was to be present at all football games?

HOW TO TREAT A CHAPERON

The chaperon is the person who has thrust herself upon a University party. No one has asked her to be present at the social gathering, of course. She comes for the sheer enjoyment of sitting up until midnight in a cold dance hall. She loves to feel the December breezes wafted about her shoulders. The jiggle of the spring floor, instead of "getting on her nerves," rather has the effect of a lullaby.

Moreover, the chaperon is a highly exclusive person and is offended when a student arouses her from her pleasant reverie by a smile or a hand shake. The chaperon never cares to eat, of course, and any student seen asking her out to some chocolate filling station during the intermission of the dance should be promptly ostracized by his fellows on grounds of inhumanity. Above all things don't bore her with conversation, she will be sure to resent it. The best way to avoid this if one is forced to sit near her between dances is to leave one or two seats between.

Then last and most important, the manager of the party should carefully avoid her during the entire evening, thus setting a good example to others present.—University Daily Kansan.

What's in a name anyhow. Take frintance the Mr. Cobb who married a Miss Webb. He knew they were meant to be joined as soon as he spied her.

Ho, hum. Same old staff.

Timely Topics had it correct:
Some keep coins and
Some keep stamps
People seek all sorts, of things,
Jane takes lessons,
From the vamps,
She collects,
Engagement rings.

"Now," said the Prof, "under what combinations is gold most quickly released?"

The mining student thought a moment: "Marriage," he answered sadly, and there was no further discussion on the subject.

"How do you manage to keep so used these days?" was asked our friend.

"Oh! Zatszezy," was the reply. "I've got a job inspecting gas meters, zin private homes."

That was pretty deep, better read it over.

Our yell leader, "Bob," a gentleman friend and also a young lady drove over to Carson the other day. In the course of time they stopped at the young lady's home and her father met them all. When it was time to leave the young lady told her father she was going back to Reno again with the two young men in their car. The Senator took one look at "Bob" and informed his daughter that since there was no chaperone, she must return on the train.

"Bob" was very quiet on the return trip.

There is some talk at Berkeley, of making golf one of the major sports and allowing credit towards graduation if one can. Now can you imagine that?

First Student, (at the Hall, reading a newspaper)—"Gee whiz, just think of it. A porterhouse steak, French fries, salad, cake and a whole pie, with a bottle of ice cold Zinfandel, for only 35c."

Second Stude (excitedly)—"Where? Where?"

First Stude—"Calm yourself, I said. Just think of it."

Statistics show that every man, woman and child in the country averaged 200 telephone calls last year.

Both halls are doing their best to keep the average up, this year.

Say Birds, listen. Under the law, poker winnings are taxable.

"The way of the transgressor is hard," also the water is getting cold.

But what I want to know is this. Whose set of false toothies was Rex Turner carrying up the Quad last Monday afternoon.

Come, come. Speak up.

What good does it do a fellow for Nels to tell him what a swell duck dinner he had the other night; we get our stew and hash just the same.

Also the more you have—well, the more you have.

We have a new Order on the Hill; "The Order of the Saturday Night Soaks."

One of the most prominent members even went so far as to try to get a kick out of his tea by putting a raisin in it.

Fat O'Brien and Doc Cunningham, I hereby give you warning. The next time you hook a ride on the tail-end of the street car after the second show. I'm going to let the student body know about it through my column.

Don't get peeved at me for anything you read in this column that you don't like. I don't make the news—I only print it.

Yes, Gerry was out walking again Sunday.

Gee, wasn't it a swell day? So romantic a day, too.

"Jeff" Boardman was explaining the surveying exam. in class. Ed Reed chirps up with, "We worked that this way Prof, isn't that correct?"

WE. In an exam. Can you imagine that?

Deep stuff that Ed-Oren-Mel gang pull. Eh, Wot?

"Do you drink anything?" a friend of mine asked me.

I'd say so; ANYTHING!

A Colorado Exchange has it that Mr. Bun was opened a lunch counter and Mr. Spaniel a sausage factory. 'Tis appropriate.

They do say the "Duke" alias "Slinky" alias "Alec" but whose right name is Cotter simply cannot get into the habit of not blowing the foam off a milk shake.

It's a poor student who, when the time is in a tight place quits yelling to worry about losing his bets on the result of the game.

If you must bet, don't overlook the fact that we want our team to win, regardless of the bets.

Betting on a game doesn't show school loyalty.

The team is out to win honor for the University—not just money for the better.

Don't forget that, and yell like H—.

DURAND ADDRESSES SCIENCE CLUB

Member of National Research Council Gives Interesting Talk to Faculty and Students

Professor W. F. Durand, of Stanford University, a member of the National Research Council addressed the Faculty Science Club Tuesday afternoon on the pre-war and after-war work of the National Research Council. He spoke at length on the effective work accomplished during the war between England, France, Italy and the United States, along the scientific line. He outlined the work that the Council has in mind and asked for the co-operation of all scientists. He also spoke of Fellowships that are being offered for certain research work and also said that in the near future we would receive printed matter covering the different lines of work undertaken by the Council. After answering a goodly number of questions the meeting was adjourned and the scientists went away feeling that in the future they would be able to get some vital assistance along the line of research through the National Research Council.

A. S. U. N. MEETING HAS VISITOR

It was only a small grey lump of fur with a long grey tail and a pair of bright shiny eyes; nothing at all to be feared, particularly after the rough treatment it had undergone in the hands of some Aggie students, but in spite of that the small furry object did cause considerable excitement and nearly broke up the student body meeting.

The beginning of this unprecedented performance has been traced to the Aggie Grain Lab, where the presence of the tiny rodent about broke up a class for the entire hour. The beast in question when first discovered was peacefully devouring a choice sample of Dean Knights prize oats and the whole class including the Dean dropped everything at hand to join in a drive for Mister Mouse. The dangerous animal was finally cornered by our gallant football captain assisted by other prominent members of the team. He was then placed in a bottle and it was decided to present him to Prof. Francis.

Just how he secured his liberty and entered the Gym is not quite clear but the football men have been absolved from all blame in the matter and the crime almost laid at the hands of a certain tall blond sophomore who declared that he and the mouse had designs upon the peace and quiet of the building where the Prince of Silence regins supreme.

Mary's ball on their 30 yard line. Burke made 2 yards through center. Heward got him. Another line play was stopped by Malone. The ball was fumbled on another line buck, was the referee called the ball down before it was fumbled. Dunne was knocked out, but quickly recovered. St. Mary's kicked to Bradshaw who ran 20 yards. It was now Nevada's ball on their own 35 yard line.

A forward pass from Bradshaw to Hobbs was incomplete. A forward pass from Bradshaw to Johnson was intercepted by a St. Mary's player, giving them the ball in the center of the field. Malone stopped a line buck without gain. The right half failed to gain around right end. Al Reed got him. St. Mary's kick to Bradshaw, who was downed on the 15 yard line. Johnson made a long run around right end for 6 yards. A running forward pass from Reed to Bradshaw was incomplete. Jones was put in at end for Hobbs. Johnson went around left end for gains, being forced out of bounds. Bradshaw made a long run around right end for 5 yards. Dunne went through the line for gains. A forward pass from Bradshaw to Reed netted 30 yards, just as the game ended. Nevada was on St. Mary's 30 yard line and going strong.

FROSH FOOTBALLERS TRIM RENO HIGH

Haseman's Proteges Show Class and Take Local High Team in With 14-10 Score

The Frosh football team surprised everybody including themselves, last Saturday in the preliminary to the St. Mary's game, by beating Reno High by a score of 14-10. Although they lacked condition, the team representing '23 put up a good game and fought hard throughout. The High school team did not play up to the form shown in previous games this season, and overlooked many good opportunities. Had they played end runs and forward passes instead of the old line plunging game they undoubtedly would have come out on top. As it was they stuck to straight football which the Frosh had no trouble in tearing up. At that '23 had plenty of luck, such as completing forward passes on fourth down with ten or fifteen yards to go, which they did on two or three occasions.

Both of '23's touchdowns came in the first half, one being the result of straight football while the second came from a fluke forward pass to Thompson who reached over in front of a High school player, with his arms around said high school man's neck and picked the ball off and ran thirty yards for a score. The High school scored in the first half by straight line plunging for nearly fifty yards. Their other score came when McInnis booted a goal from a difficult angle for three points. This boy McInnis, by the way, is the coolest piece of football machinery that has been seen around these parts on a prep school team in many a year, and was the star of the game. Bowers, Frost and Law were the shining lights for '23, and Gridley, and Sampson showed up well for Reno High.

EXPERIMENT STATION FOR STATE OF NEVADA

Of the ten experiment stations which Congress authorized the Bureau of Mines to establish there remain four that have not been placed. Nevada has a good chance to secure one of the four by concerted action of mine operators. At the instigation of Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the University of Nevada, the legislature last winter appropriated $30,000 for a building to house the station at the university if it be granted to the state.

Dr. Clark has been active in urging Nevada's claims through Senator Henderson, chairman of the senate committee on mines and mining. A strong petition from mining men of the state would be of great help in the matter. Nevada's position as one of the leading producers of minerals and metals makes this state the natural home of the station, but in these days of politics and pull, what is wanted must be worked for.

There are problems aplenty in metallurgy and geology within the boundaries of this great stretch of mountain and plain to encourage the best talent of the Bureau of Mines; and the work done here, naturally would benefit the mining industry elsewhere in the west. For one thing, there are indications in several parts of the state of the existence of petroleum. There are almost illimitable deposits of oil bearing shale to which the Bureau of Mines already has given considerable attention. In the metallurgical field there are vast deposits of zinc-lead ores that require a special process for separation of the two metals; and equally large deposits of copper carbonate ores, for which a process of concentration or other method of reduction has long been sought.

Let us get together and back up the efforts of Dr. Clark to secure one of these experiment station for Nevada. Nevada Mining Press.

From Miss Sameth

The following is an excerpt from a letter from Miss Elsie Sameth, of the Physical Education department, who is studying at Wisconsin, and shows something of the spirit which is evident there at their big games.

"Such enthusiasm and such crowds I have seen only on Broadway, on election night during presidential elections. Not only are the students and faculty wild with enthusiasm but even the town makes a gala event of homecoming. Windows are decorated, flags are strung down the main street and even the dome of the capitol is lighted in red. I wish you could see the decorations in some of the windows! One store had the football field dolls (dressed as the two teams) lined up for a kick-off. The bleachers were filled with little dolls setting down (something like kewpies) wearing the colors of the two schools, and the happiest grins dolls ever wore. The goal posts are decorated just as they are on the real field, each end having the colors of one school. Another store (bakery) has in the center of the decorations an immense cake offered to the winning team. A candy shop, a chocolate football (about half the size of the real one) offered to the first man who makes a touchdown (either team). There is much courtesy shown to visitors. Many stores with two windows decorate one for Minnesota and one for the home team (urging them to win).

"On the field each team has its band (Minnesota has a wonderful one) and each team has its yell leaders. Those boys are wonders. They are athletes from the word 'go, and occasionally you wonder whether all of their joints aren't movable in at least three planes, judging from their antics. The yells themselves are not nearly as good as ours. They give skyrockets (a little different than ours) U-Rah-Rah, and Hold 'em. The last seems tame compared with our "Score Nevada." There is one which both teams use well, that is, Hit 'em hard, Hit 'em low, Come on Wisconsin, Let's go! If our men had taken the advice about playing low, I believe their score would have been different. Minnesota has the heavier team and yet more than half the time, the Wisconsin men tackled them above the waist. A number of times, the Minnesota men just shook them loose.

But on the whole it was a very interesting game. No score first half, 6 for Minnesota third quarter and 13-7 last half. No use for me to go into that. I'm sending you "literature" on the subject.

Minnesota had a very good rooting section, too. I believe something over 200 people came along with them. The next big game here is with Ohio State which is said to have a very fine team. Wisconsin is a good loser. When the odds were against them yell leader shouted: "Are we down hearted?" and the crowd roared back "No." "Are we happy?" answering roar "Yes." In the last few minutes he yelled, "Come on folks, sing. The time never was when Wisconsin wouldn't cheer for its losing team," and then sang "On Wisconsin" with an much pep as they had at the beginning. Another interesting feature concerning the decorations as were also fraternities, rooming houses and the girls' dormitories. I believe these cups are held for the year, like our basketball cups, but I am not sure. You can imagine what excitement there is as to who are the winners.

CHRISTMAS BOXES FOR RED CROSS WORKERS IN EUROPE

Christmas boxes for Red Cross workers in Europe from their friends and relatives in the United States will be received by the American Red Cross at Brooklyn, N. Y., and from that point the Red Cross will take charge of the boxes and make every effort to assure delivery to the consignee. This announcement is contained in a telegram received at Pacific division headquarters, San Francisco, from national headquarters in Washington. The conditions under which the Red Cross will undertake to forward the boxes to Red Cross personnel in Europe are as follows:

The boxes are to be six inches square and eighteen inches long in their outside measurements. They should be made of heavy cardboard, corrugated board or other materials insuring receipt of the box in New York in perfect condition. The maximum weight should be fifty pounds. All liquids, poisons, explosives, inflammable, fragile, or perishable articles are excluded, also, all articles which might spoil other contents. Glass containers are prohibited. The boxes must be prepaid and bear the full address of the consignee and the sender. All boxes should be sent parcel post, special delivery or express, and they should be submitted to local postoffice authorities for acceptance through the mails. Pack so as to allow easy inspection. If it is necessary the boxes may be addressed to the consignee in care of the American Red Cross warehouse, 24 Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, N. Y. Boxes should bear this inscription, "Christmas Box," and should reach Brooklyn by November 27th. Two boxes of the size mentioned may be sent to each consignee. The Red Cross will do its utmost to get the boxes to their destination, but will assume no responsibility for the loss of boxes or delivery.—Humboldt Star.

Nellie McWilliams is spending the week with Jule Callahan.

Helena Shade went to Virginia City Saturday returning Sunday evening.

Ardis Brown has moved home. We are sorry to have her leave.

Miss Mack and Mrs. Clark assisted by the Sophomore girls will be hostesses Friday afternoon at a tea in Manzanita given in honor of the women who are coming to Reno in the interest of child labor, and vocational work for women. Miss Catt will also be here. It is hoped that we may persuade these ladies to give us a few words. It is hoped, also, that all the University women will be present.

ENGLAND STRIKES PETROLEUM FIELD

An announcement was made a short time ago that England had struck oil. For years the British government has backed search for oil in England and at last oil has been struck at Hard-stoft, near Chesterfield, according to the "Mohawk Messenger." The oil which was struck at a depth of over 3000 feet is said by the most famous British chemists to be practically identical in analysis with our own oil from the Pennsylvania fields. There is every reason to believe that many parts of England will yield returns of high grade petroleum and so enable England to make a petroleum trade the brother of her coal industry, which has always been one of her strongest commercial assets.

DR. T. C. KNOWLES FRIDAY'S SPEAKER

General assembly will be held in the University gymnasium, Friday, November 21, at 11 o'clock. Doctor Tully C. Knowles, president of the College of the Pacific, of San Jose, Calif., will be the principal speaker of the occasion, with the subject "The Ultimate Test of Democracy." The Girls' Glee Club will furnish music for the assembly. All members of the faculty and student body are urged to attend.

SATURDAY'S GAME ENDS 0 TO 0 SCORE

impenetrable tackles; to all of these men a major part of the honor must fall for showing bull dog tenacity at the crucial moments. The third quarter almost proved Nevada's undoing. Correa, St. Mary's stellar quarterback, broke around left end for a clean gain of 23 yards, placing the ball on Nevada's ten yard line. St. Mary's was penalized 15 yards for holding. Correa repeated a trip around the same end for 12 yards before Tam forced him out of bounds.

The ball rested on the five yard mark while St. Mary's took an enforced recess. Two plunges netted three yards through Nevada's line. Then the line stiffened like a stone dike and hurled back the next two attempts to place the pigskin over for a touchdown. Martin recovered a fumble giving Nevada possession of the ball. Too much praise cannot be given to Nevada's linesmen who are the back-bone of the first successful gridiron machine that Nevada has had reason to be proud of for several years. They are the first defense—upon them rests the responsibility of standing up under the opposing team's pinching pressure.

Ed Reed played the most consistent game in the backfield. His passing was excellent until he was forced out of the game in the third quarter due to a nasty smash-up during a tackle. Reed was always good for several yards on short, snappy end runs. Martin put up a noble fight at left end. Both he and Ted Fairchild are hard men to get past. They speed away fast on long punts. Both of these men can be compared favorably to any end men who have bucked up against Nevada's winning eleven this year.

Homer Johnson is one backfield man who uses the dome overtime. He displayed a brainy stunt in the last quarter against the Oakland crowd. A bad pass from center rolled by Johnson for twenty yards. Johnson quickly recovered the ball, then turning he heaved the brown spheroid in the general direction of the scattered field. The pass fell into a scrimmage, making it an incomplete forward pass and thereby saving Nevada a twenty yard loss. Such stunts as these are worthy of considerable attention.

Nevada almost scored another freak touchdown, near the close of the first half. The ball was midway between the goal posts and almost on the east line bounding the field. Ed Reed skirted down the line past four St. Mary's players for a touchdown. However, as luck always seems to have it, Reed just touched the boundary line in his flight to the goal so the score was not allowed.

Correa, the St. Mary's flash, starred for the Saints. His specialty is short, cut-in end runs at which he was very successful last Saturday. Medlin and Capt. Muldoon, of the Saints, played heady, fighting games. Dope has it that St. Mary's is an even match for Nevada. They outplayed Nevada in few branches of the American sport. The two teams were an even match on defensive but St. Mary's shaded the Sagebrush players when they opened up with offensive tactics.

Lester Jones and Stan Bailey played steady games all the while they were in at end positions to allow Fairchild and Martin a rest. Jones is almost too light to compete against the heavy end men Nevada has had to contend with this season. Bailey should develop into a crack end with more experience under Courtright.

The Nevada lads ended the game in whirlwind fashion. They hit their true stride during the last three minutes of play. The ball was advanced from Nevada's twenty yard mark to within thirty yards of the goal on long end runs and two pretty forward passes. In another minute Nevada would have scored surely had they not been limited by time.

FOOTBALL MEN TO GET SWEATERS

A meeting of the A. S. U. N. was held in the gymnasium last Friday at eleven o'clock, followed by a football rally downtown. The class yells were given with much enthusiasm, except that of 1923, which ended almost before it began.

Under old business Mr. Carlson reported that after thorough investigation he found that it would be impossible to secure any special rates for the football team this year.

The welcome announcement was made that no money would have to be subscribed for the newspaper correspondent who wrote up the California Freshmen game for the coast paper, as the Examiner paid his expenses.

Detailed reports were given by the treasurer and the athletic manager concerning the athletic expenses of the season.

Under the head of new business the matter of buying sweaters for the football men was discussed. The A. S. U. N. treasury could not stand the total expense of such a purchase, so the motion was passed that a committee be appointed to raise one hundred dollars or more by subscription among the students, the remaining amount to be taken from the treasury. The committee appointed consisted of Melvin Sangers, Harvey Luce, June Harriman, Gladys Dunkle, Marion Hooten.

Mr. Borchert announced that the proceeds of the football show at the Rialto were $23.59 and suggested that the amount be turned over to the athletic manager for the payment of bills for injured athletes. This was carried in the form of a motion.

It was decided that the A. S. U. N. should have a doctor on the field during the football games, as several times we have had to depend upon the one supplied by the visiting team.

The motion was passed that the style of poster used for advertising the St. Mary's game be held strictly for athletic purposes. The idea was very unique, being a large blue print, as all must have observed, and should not have its force taken away by being used indiscriminately.

The Freshman class extended a challenge for a football game to any class team composed of men not on the varsity squad. The Sophomore class promptly accepted the challenge, followed by the Juniors and Seniors.

Al Cahlan, business manager of the Sagebrush, made an appeal to the students to "patronize our advertisers"—to support those who showed their interest in the university and their regard for its trade by advertising in the Sagebrush.

The meeting adjourned with everyone going down to participate in the football rally which was held downtown.

UPPERCLASS TEAM TRIMS N. A. CLUB

Mayrose and Upperclass Quintets Lead Fall League With Perfect Scores

The University Upperclass quintet and the Mayrose five are leading all competitors in the fall basketball tournament which is now half over. These two teams have not clashed as yet but the battle should have all the earmarks of a tough game when these two rival teams meet. The championship seems to rest between the fast upperclassmen and the heavier, more experienced Mayrose veterans.

The Upperclassmen knocked the clever Northwestern hoop stars from the top rung last Saturday night by trouncing the Red and White hoopsters on the U court. The game was a finish fight, both teams being out for vengeance from the start.

The Upperclass players were superior in floor work and basket shooting. Their team work was ragged at times but they won by reason of hard hitting ability and greater speed.

The first half was an even battle as regards open floor work. The Northwesterners had to hump to keep up with the heart breaking pace which their opponents set. Upperclassmen were on the long end of an 18 to 16 score at half time. They came back in the second half with plenty of fighting spirit left and forced the Northwestern lads to swallow a bitter pill in the form of a 33 to 28 score.

Gooding and Waite played snappy games at forward positions. The former shot thirteen out of fifteen free throws and made most of the field goals under heavy guarding. Waite worked signals to perfection by invariably receiving the ball as it was touched off from center by Egan, who had the jump on Minetti by several inches. Tam put up a fast brand of offensive guarding, which was almost too much for the Northwesterners to compete against. He held "Smoky" Williams to one single field goal, by close defensive guarding. Christensen showed up well during the short time he was in the game.

Stan. Davis and Tim Wilson played the best game for the losers. Davis made most of his team's points on close follow-in shots. Tam shot a clean goal from the center of the floor for the only spectacular play of the whole game.

JUNIOR GRIDSTERS TO MEET FROSH

Preliminary Game to Varsity-Santa Clara Struggle Promises to Be Hard Fought

The Sagebrush Frosh Varsity will battle the Junior "Demons" on November 22 and by the way both squads have been working out on the gridiron, it promises to be a real royal struggle. Although the Frosh have a slight advantage of three days additional practice and one victory over Reno High, they are handicapped by a marked lack of avoirdupois. The team's average about 145 pounds as opposed to the Junior's average of 160 pounds of moving beef. The Frosh are not putting out any alibis in case of being defeated but seem to console themselves by the old proverb which goes "the bigger they are, the harder they fall."

Prof. "Charlie" Haseman has taken the Babies under his coaching wing. He intends to send in practically the same squad that defeated Reno High last Saturday except for a few shifts in the line. Bowers and Ninnis will alternate at left halfback, La Rieu will play right half with Harrison at full and "Pinky" Law directing activities at quarterback. Frost and Thompson will hold down the end positions. Meldrum and Haviland at right tackle, Gooding at left tackle, Barnes and Quill at guards and Marketti at center. Cerevany, Cann, La Rieu several "dark horses" will be replacing the Frosh who are out. The Juniors will probably with Mitchell, Hancock, Harts, Sanders in the backfield, Corra, Waite at ends; Eden, Wall, Metscher and Curtis holding the line jobs. According to present arrangements the game is scheduled as a preliminary to the Santa Clara-Nevada and will commence at 1 p. m. on out of your holes, Frosh there to pull for our B. Hens! Pep up Juniors and Frosh some rooting competition.
