ANNUAL HE-JINKS IS BIG SUCCESS

Crowd Attends Men's Celebration in Gymnasium, Which Scores Decided Hit With Clever Stunts and Snappy Talks. Copyright Appeals for New Material for Next Year's Football Varsity.

A large crowd, one of the largest attending a university Jinks, appeared at the Gym last night at the annual time, paid their two-bith entrance and then ran the gauntlet through the gym. Brooms, broomsticks, and drill steel were the weapons used by everyone from lowly and fresh to dignified Profs got a share of gentle little love-taps. A few minutes of yelling, in which class yells from 18 to '23 were heard, the howling mob arranged themselves in a huge circle and started the first act.

The Hermit Banjo Quartet made their appearance. Three high school boys, Peterson, Hughes and Jefferson, and Willis Church make up the Jazz orchestra. Their selection was with enthusiastic approval they were called back time and time to render everything in the jazz line. Yaka-Hula to The Strutters burnt matches the captains got their men ready for the next act. It might be added that "Mitch" claims to have collected enough cigar and cigarette butts to furnish him with tobacco for his "hod" for the rest of the semester. Eleven men were next selected from each class for a little basket ball game, which was played by passing the ball back along the line and the last man running up and shooting a basket. After a close and exciting race the Sophomore class rushed over the line the winner.

Lar Rieu and Bogart next put on a clever little stunt with their dancing dummy, after which Philbin gave the bunch a real musical treat in his usual pleasing way.

The faculty next lined up against the Frosh in a cracker relay race. Profs. Adams, Traner, Bixby and Louck being pitted against Harrison, Ross, Wright and Renick. The Profs. played a conservative game, and after eating the crackers assigned to them whistled clearly. The Frosh, however, horsed through with the aid of Horse Hobbs who whistled for Wright and by so doing won the race.

Bogart came sixth on the program with his musical art. Bogart is a man who can coax SOME jazz out of the old Gym piano. He was encored again and again and finally ended his act with a selection of his own composition.

Earl Ross dolled up as a gentleman of color put on his famous temperance speech as the sixth act.

When it came to the badger fight, Clem Caffrey's dog, Irish, didn't have a look in. Though many bets had been placed on him, as a badger hound he proved a failure.

Ninth on the program was an act put on by the Hawaiian quartet and their Hula dancer which jazzed the mob up so much that several fistfights (Continued on page eight)

UNIFORMS BLOSSOMS OUT

Local Unit R. O. T. C. Presents War-Time Appearance in New Uniforms

During the past week the members of the R. O. T. C. unit have been issued new uniforms, and the campus again looks as if war had broken out. The government is furnishing complete equipment to the men enrolled in military classes, including clothing, packs, tents, and everything used by an infantry soldier. At present only the uniforms are being used. They are the regular army issue, and include a hat, hat-cord, blouse, breeches, leggings, shirt, and shoes. Later in the spring the full infantry pack will be issued to completely equip the students. Members of the Reserve Officers' Training Camps at schools and colleges are distinguished from enlisted men of the army by the R. O. T. C. emblem, embroidered in the color of the arm of the service represented, which is worn on the left sleeve and left pocket of the coat or shirt. The olive drab hat cord is also distinctive for R. O. T. C. men.

The company has been outfitted in sections, the last of the men being fitted today. It looks like old times to see the O. D. on the campus again, but it is some consolation to the wearers to know that they must wear them only four hours a week, and that no fresh young second lieutenant can come up and threaten them with court martial for having a button unbuttoned or their hats on the back of their heads.

ENGINEERS NOTICE

The A. A. E. will meet Wednesday, February 11, in the E. E. building at 7:30 p. m. Everybody interested in the Electrical end of Engineering should not miss this meeting.

PROSPECTORS GET CERTIFICATES

The sixth annual session of the prospector's short course came to a conclusion last Friday when President Walter E. Clark presented certificates to one woman and thirteen men upon the successful completion of the course. Of the original twenty prospectors registered, one woman and five men did not finish the work. Two of the men took the course for the third time and one for the second, which indicates the great value to be derived from the course for those engaged in the mining industry. The enrollment for the sixth session was somewhat larger than for the one of last year, at that time only even people finishing the training and receiving certificates.

Director Lincoln, of the Mackay School of Mines expressed himself as being greatly pleased by the interest taken in the course and the manner in which they grasped the work. The mining department does not aim to turn out finished engineers in the four short weeks of the session but attempts to familiarize and enlighten the men on the practical problems encountered, and from all reports this has been more than accomplished.

Work in the course included lectures on geology, prospecting, mining law, assaying, surveying, first aid to the injured, gas engines, mineralogy, chemistry and others. It is impossible to cover the details of any one of these subjects in the short period of time allotted, but an effort is made to discuss the practical side of mining as far as possible and allow the student to present any problems or questions which are not clear to him.

The following completed all the requirements of the course and were awarded certificates:

PURDUE MAN TO ASSIST IN M. E.

Mr. C. H. Kent, vocational and mechanical instructor at the Reno High School, under the Smith-Hughes act, has been secured for the balance of the term to assist Professor Palmer of the mechanical and electrical department. Mr. Kent is a graduate mechanical engineer from Purdue university and an experienced man along these lines. He will handle descriptive geometry and other courses, two afternoons and Saturday morning every week.

AGGIE CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Arrangements Made for the Entertainment on Feb. 11 for Members. Baseball Team to Play Engineers on March 20

At a meeting of the Aggie club held last Thursday, officers for the semester were elected and plans discussed for the present term. Officers installed were as follows: Tom Buckman, president; Joe Hill, vice president and June Harriman, secretary-treasurer. The retiring officers were Henry Rhodes, president; Rachael Sprague, vice president, and Carmen Rockstead, secretary-treasurer. Following the election, a good peppy meeting followed.

An entertainment will be given for the Aggie Club members on Wednesday, February 11th, at which time a splendid program will be presented. Among other things, Mr. R. B. Brown of the Nevada Packing Co., will be present for the main talk of the evening. Eats will consist of cider and doughnuts.

A committee was appointed to take charge of some kind of entertainment for Engineer's Day, March 20th. The Aggies will put out a baseball team which they are sure will give some splendid competition to the much heralded Engineer team. Chas. Hardy and Al Reed will look after the baseball end of the arrangements.

game, played in San Jose against the U. C. Bears, on January 24th, they showed good form, according to the "Pacific Weekly," but seemed to be suffering from stage fright, and did not play the basket ball of which they are capable. The score was 33 to 17 with the Blue and Gold on the long end. Two nights later they showed a much improved brand of ball against the San Jose Y. M. C. A. which by the way is one of the best "Y" teams in California, and defeated them by a score of 35 to 17. They are confident of giving the Varsity a run for the game, and with that spirit should prove a worthy opponent.

During the past two weeks the Varsity has been spending most of its time on basket shooting, with a great deal of work also in perfecting team play. Two new baskets have been installed in the gym, and every day the members of the squad can be seen shooting baskets for the greater part of the practice. These new baskets are so constructed as to make backboard shots impossible, and hence the team is acquiring great proficiency in those clean shots of the McCubbin variety. The lack of team work which was present at the first of the season, due to the fact that only two of the members (Continued on Page Eight)

REGENTS ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS

At a meeting of the Regents last week, the resignations of Mrs. Marie Eubanks and Mis Edna Clausen, assistants in the Comptrollers office were accepted. Mrs. Eubanks has returned to her home in Susanville, Cal., and Miss Clausen has withdrawn from college. To fill the vacancies, Miss Lucille Rosenbrock and Mrs. Jennie Woodbury, both of Carson City were named, and have taken up their duties already.

At the same meeting, the resignation of Charles Knight as Dean of the Agricultural College was accepted. No successor has as yet been chosen, but doubtless will be, before the opening of the fall semester.

WATER CARNIVAL SEASON OPENS

Ray Law Furnishes Few Moments of Dampened Pleasure for Student Body

The open season for campus violators was ushered in last Thursday very auspiciously when Mister Law of Lincoln Hall was cast gently into the frigid waters of the turbulent Orr. Amid the plaudits of many admiring fellow students including a large gathering of the fair sex he took the count One! Two! Three! and then sailed gracefully through the air and obeying the law of gravity descended into the icy waters with an artistic splash. Dressed for the occasion in silk shirt and serge trousers Mister Law presented a sight fit for the Gods as he clawed his way up the muddy bank and slithered back to the Hall follows by grins of the undergrads.

There will be a "hike" up the river Saturday afternoon. This is the second "hike" so don't miss it.

Last Monday night was stunt night at Lincoln Hall. Seven new men performed stunts for the residents of the Hall, which constitutes their initiation into the Lincoln Hall Association. Mitchell and Schiller amused the crowd for a few minutes with a long line of choice jokes and hot air. Mr. Philbin scored a knock-out by singing in his usual pleasing way, and Mrs. Gilligan had an Irish monologue with plenty of kick. Leard, Rice and Ross put on a little scene which included some remarks by a colored minister, and an attempted marriage between a young colored gent and his girl. Although the program was short, owing to the small number of new Hall men, the stunts were better than usual.

The spring-like weather of the last few days has brought out many baseball fans from the Hill, who may be seen warming up at odd moments during the day. No doubt a team will soon be put in the field to uphold the athletic honors of the Hall.

Many of the tennis fans living in the Hall have been out getting in shape for the season, despite the fact that some of the courts still bear the last remains of the winter snows. Tennis promises to be among the most popular spring sports, for besides the old devotees of the game, many others have expressed their desire to learn. Some very interesting matches may be arranged after the season gets started.

The first Annual Pinocle Tournament of the University of Nevada was played in Lincoln Hall during the past week, bringing out about a dozen experts to compete for the title. Geo. Smolak went through the tournament like a whirlwind, defeating Metscher in the final games, and was declared the winner. The series of games aroused considerable interest among the card experts in the Hall, and will probably be made an annual event.

Fat Harker, who was recently promoted to lance corporal in the R. O. T. C. company, says that he refuses to fight his men if he cannot be properly fitted with a uniform. The uniform which was made to order for him was atotal failure, it folds draying around him like a funeral shroud. He turned it back in, and still appears in the good old cords. He says he hopes they never get him an outfit, as it is too much bother to get a Frosh to lace his leggings for him.

SIGMA NU HAS NEW HOUSE

February 1, the Sigma Nu Fraternity moved into their new home at 49 E. Fourth street. They have rented the house for the remainder of this semester and probably will have the house again for next year. There are now ten men living in the house, who are John Knight, Hugo Quillie, Clyde Graham, Frank Marketti, John Stening, Frank Harman, Peyton Wise, Albert Kaebles and Herbert Abbott. Mrs. Cora Milner is the house mother. The men are becoming permanently settled this week and are planning a house warming in the near future. This is the third fraternity house now at the University of Nevada. The men are very enthusiastic over their venture and are confident that they can make a success with the house. This organization is not large in members but they believe that with a little hard work and some economizing that they can end up this semester as a success after living in the house.

FORMER STUDENT EDITS PAPER

Charles R. Williams, former student at the university is now attending the State School of Mines at Socorro, New Mexico, and it has only recently been discovered that he is also editor of the "Gold Pan" the semi-monthly periodical of that school.

Williams will be remembered by the old men on the Hill as being a member of the class of 1918. After the war was declared he entered the army, was made second Lieutenant, saw considerable service in France with Company D. First Gas Regiment, and was given later the D. S. C. for bravery.

The Losing Fight It has been said that once in every man's life comes the Great Temptation. This fateful moment had now come to one of our proud Seniors. He summoned all his strength, all his mighty will power in an effort to banish that temptor who seemed always to be at his side, whispering evilly, "Why shouldn't you have your fling at life, the same as other men?" Still, everything that was good and noble and fine and manly in his soul revolted, even at the thought of the terrible deed that he contemplated. On his forehead glistened beads of cold, calm sweat, no perspiration, which turned to glistening diamonds or rubies in the rays of the setting sun, and deep in his soul the terrific struggle was going on. A mob of furies seemed to have taken possession of him, but through it all he struggled bravely, trying to think sanely of his little lady, his betrothed. Only too well he knew that if he did this act, he would quench forever that flame which his very presence seemed to kindle in her big brown eyes. Only too well he knew that his act would cut off forever from him the sunshine of her happy smile. The future loomed before him in Stygian darkness, with himself, alone; no wife would speak soft words of love to him or mend his attered socks. Deceived by decent people he would be—a leprous object whom they feared might contaminate the very air he breathed. Full often had he seen people try to defy convention this way, but always the same result—ostracism—a living death, then oblivion.

Monday morning a severe earthquake, heavier than the recent Mexican quake was recorded on the university seismograph. From rough computations it was figured that the earthquake happened approximately 6000 miles from Reno and was very severe. The preliminary record started about 3:36 a. m. and each record was clear and distinct.

His face was drawn, and seamed with lines from the struggle within him. Finally with a pitiful groan he gave up the struggle—he had fought a losing fight against too great odds—he would do this terrible deed, and darn the consequences. Full well he knew that he would have to pay the fiddler. Assuming an air of bravado he called with a reckless laugh to the waiter, "Bring me a double order of those fresh green onions."

CHAZZ, BLAH.

YERINGTON HIGH IS EASILY SWAMPED (Special Correspondence.) Yerington High School basket ball teams suffered a heavy setback in their race for the state basket title when the boys' and girls' teams were each defeated by the boys and girls from Gardnerville.

In the girls' game Douglas County High took the lead from the start, and by superior basket shooting ran up a score of 7 to 5 against their down state opponents. The girls' games was marked by the brilliant playing of one of the Gardnerville forwards, Helen Cordes, who made 55 of the total 57 points scored for Douglas High.

The boys' game was hard fought from the start, and for a time it appeared as if Yerington would come out in the lead. However, Douglas put in man after man from his reserves and wore the Yerington boys out with fresh players. The final score was Douglas 60, Yerington 16. U. N. You should always be true to your word and your work and your friends.

GUZZLING GORMANDERS

GOBBLE GOOBERS The peanut hound little knows or perhaps little cares how many of the nutritious goobers he gets away with during the course of a month; sufficient to him to little the campus with the remains of his feasts.

It is astonishing and rather interesting to note the numbers of peanuts that could be consumed in the course of a month provided that every member of the student body would do their share of gormandizing. According to a reliable exchange your double jitney purchases nearly four ounces or about 314 single peanuts. Since there is a registration of at least 300 hungry people on the Hill, were everyone to eat his share, it would mean a daily consumption of 94,200 peanuts, 5635,200 a week, or a monthly total of 2,360,800.

It is very fortunate that everyone does not indulge, for in the course of a year the hulls would cover the quad two feet thick and necessitate at least three extra men to clean up and dispose of the wastage.

BACK UP THE TEAM

The performance of the Silver and Blue quintet on the Coast trip was a source of immense pleasure to all the University fans and an even greater cause for rejoicing to downtown people who for years have watched the Nevada team lose games in which the outcome was perfectly evident from the start.

With victories over three of the strongest teams entered in the Nevada-California league already securely stowed away, there still remain an equal number of teams to be conquered on the home floor. Contrary to the belief of a great many, these games are by no means won, nor is it likely that any of them will be easy contests, as was pointed out by Captain Martin at the He-Jinks last night.

The first of these will be against College of Pacific Saturday night. In this game the men on the team can be counted on to give all that is in them as their part of the bargain, and it remains with the students and all others vitally concerned with Nevada's success to hold up their end. And this will be accomplished only by filling up the gym with the necessary supporters for the Varsity. It behooves every loyal Nevadan not only to be there himself, but to bring a crowd with him, and then let everyone else know they've arrived.

With the proper support, which no true U. man will refuse, the Varsity five will prove to be one of the most feared teams on the Coast, and it is not unlikely, that when the season is over and the final tally is made, the Sagebrushers will be holding forth on the top rung of the ladder, as far as the Pacific Coast is concerned.

Forty per cent of the students registered in college showed up at the last A. S. U. N. election to vote. How many can be counted on to be at the Student Body meeting Friday?

Don't miss the Block N dance after the game Saturday night.

From sentiment expressed at the Jinks last night, the slogan for next year will be "Bring back a man."

OLYMPIC CLUB OUT WITH CHALLENGE

The Olympic Club 145 pound team, one of the fastest basket ball machines in these parts, is issuing a challenge to the University of California Varsity or the Nevada quintet. The 45's have met and defeated the best of the unmet, on many occasions running scores into the 100 mark. The most outstanding feat was accomplished when they handed the Stanford varsity a trimming on Stanford's court, doing this without the services of their star forward, Lauterwasser.

The big chief bawled me out after the last Brush came out. It seems I put something in the kol. That some student or prof didn't like. Remember what I said at the first of the year? Some of my junk I steal, some I originate, some I borrow and give credit for, some is handed in and hung on the idior's file and I pinch that. All of it is true, or should be for I may be giving you a hypothetical case. Enough—don't get angry at it, life's too short—besides anger spoils your beauty.

They tell me the sign of a bottle with three XXX on it meant merely a meeting of the "Whiskey Quartet." But the real mystery is—What is the society that had the T. R. U. notice on the board?

Could it be the Doughnut Guzzlers? Or perhaps the Pretzel Prancers. Who knows?

Coach Corkie's little son had a narcescape from a very serious accident the other day. Corky was wheeling the buggy rapidly up the road in front of Morrill Hall when a wheel came off and the baby buggy capsized. Corky put the wheel on again and went his way.

Lucky thing too, the coach had left his little boy at home and so the buggy was empty at the time of the accident.

For your own benefit and to give you something to think on I reprint it: December news dispatches report bitter meeting of German students at the Universities of Leipzig, Bonn, Marburg and Mannheim. These meetings passed resolutions demanding that students from "Allied" countries be barred immediately and that all foreign students should be tagged as such and denied certain university privileges.

My friend the ground hog appeared last Monday, took a good look around and then beat it back to another six weeks' rest.

I was sort of hoping that he would stay out, too, and that we'd have good weather from now on, for the sloppy weather we have had off and on has played havoc with my twelve hick blotting paper soled shoes.

HEARD IN PHYSICS

Prof. Hartman—Mr. Lee, what is an electroscope? Lee—A machine for measuring the direction an electric charge is going; etc., etc., ad infinitum for ten minutes. Prof. Hartman—From your definition Mr. Lee it might be a sewing machine. Lee—Well, it might be, for all of me, Prof. Pat Steninger to Lieut. Egan—"Say Lieut. You're pretty well up on military movements and I've got a problem from you." Lieut. Egan, (confidentially)—"All right. Shoot?" Pat S.—"On the command Squads Right, what does number four of the rear rank do?" Lieut.—"He takes four paces to the front and—" Pat S.—"No, he doesn't Lieut. He waits for the command March."

But say, what I want to know is this. How was it Doc Regan's bike came to repose in the tool box of Molly Malone's Packard Liz late last Friday night?

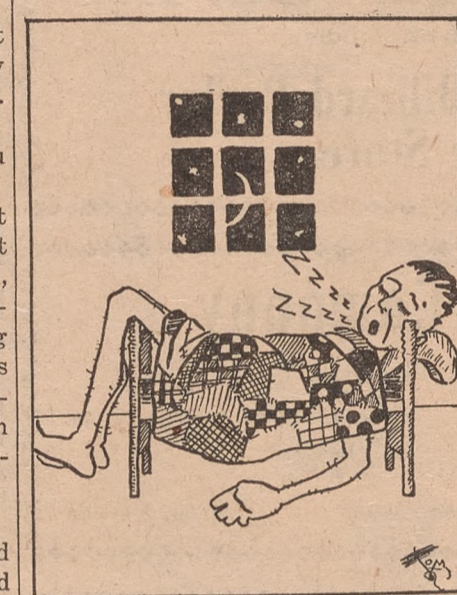

Waite's Idea of a Large Time After the Stanford Game—Pie a la Mode

In the so-called "sloppy edishun" of the Student Life, which appeared a short time ago, was a story of a certain faculty dance which lasted all night, music being furnished by a 40 piece jazz band. Oh Boy! Oh Boy!

No, Georgia, you can't say that the piano is made of cloth just because you can go and tear off a rag whenever you want to.

We have just received word from Woolworths that they are at a loss to secure diamonds enough to supply the constant demand of the Manzanita girls.

Buckman Tries to Sleep at Santa Clara

I want to razzberry a couple of men and razz them good. Here goes. Listen! Last night at the He-Jinks in the midst of the obsequies four of the fairer sex from Manzanita were discovered in the Gym and on the second balcony. It was a bright stunt, and you must admit it, but—several years ago when Louie Meyer was found in the Gym at the She-Jinks, he was handled rather roughly by these same fair damsels. Last night though, instead of giving the crowd a chance to see who the intruders were, the chivalrous captors let them go. Why? Of course, the young ladies begged and pleaded and appealed to their sense of chivalry, and got by, and no doubt are laughing over it yet. They SHOULD laugh, but the joke is on the two gallant men who let them out.

That let's met out, said the chick as the Gow House egg exploded with a bang. "OLD CROW."

"Excellent floor, this," said the clumsy dancer. "Then why dance on my feet?" asked the unlucky dancer.—Boston Transcript.

NOTICE STUDENT BODY MEETING Friday, February 6, 1920 11 o'clock Aggie Building U. N. FACULTY AGGIE SOCIETY MEETS Dr. Records Addresses University Society on Subject of Tuberculosis

The regular monthly meeting of the University Agricultural Society was held Tuesday evening in the Agricultural Building. The entire evening was occupied by Dr. Edward Records who gave a talk on tuberculosis in animals, followed by a general discussion by the members.

Dr. Records dwelt on the work of early investigators, both in the United States and abroad; the work of role in the manufacture of tuberculin; the relation between bovine and human tuberculosis; the control of tuberculosis in dairy and beef herds; the tuberculosis campaign of eradication throughout the United States; progress of the operations of the State Veterinary Control Board in co-operation with the Federal authorities; future investigation proposed for Nevada; various methods of making tuberculin tests on stocks, their relative merits and efficiencies. The discussion following the talk brought out some very interesting points bearing on the purchase of stock from accredited herds which have not been tested and the probability that in the near future only accredited herds will be recognized by those purchasing pure bred stock.

Only about half of the regular attendance was present at this meeting owing to sickness among the members and for other reasons. However the meeting was an extremely interesting one and the subject was well presented by Dr. Records. The subject is a large one and one evening is hardly sufficient for a complete analysis and discussion of the problems and investigations connected with the study of the eradication of tuberculosis.

RENO HI NOTES

The annual staff put over one of the peppiest rallies that has been seen in the High School for a long time. The purpose of this rally was to raise funds and instill jazz for the annual. The "Fillyloo Kwartet" opened program with numerous songs and instrumental numbers. "Tony" next entertained on his accordin, then Bessie Jones, Elsie Martin and John Cahlan made brief speeches on the annual. The assembly closed with selections by the "Kwartet." This quartet is composed of Willias Church, Ray Jefferson, Harry Hughes and Clark Simpson. They play mandolins and banjukes and surely can put the old pep in any party.

The girls' basket ball team cleaned up on Sparks Saturday night by a score of 20 to 6. Louise Grubnau played a good game making 10 of the 20 points. This adds one more victory to the girls' ever increasing total.

Monday night the Reno High boys defeated the Mayrose team, city champions by a score of 40 to 32. This game was a fast, well played one, and though only a practice game for both teams, showed the Reno boys to be one of the best high school teams in this part of the state.

The following is Reno High's schedule for the next few weeks: February 6, Reno vs. Sparks, at Reno; February 7, Reno High girls vs. Carson High girls at Carson; February 7, Reno High boys vs. Carson High boys at Carson; February 14, Reno High vs. Fallon at Reno. Return game.

STANFORD AND W. S. C. BREAK EVEN

Sensational Series Ends in Tie; Stanford Substitute Wins First Game

Stanford University and the Washington Cougars this week-end split the most sensational two-game basket ball series seen around the bay for years. The Cardinal pulled the first game, played on last Friday night at the Farm, out of the fire with a field goal, shot by Richmond from the middle of the floor just as the timer's whistle ended the game. The score was 38-29. The Staters had led all the way, until the final minutes when Richmond was sent in. He shot two baskets with one hand and much luck, merely tapping the ball as it sailed into the vicinity of the basket. "Swede" Righter of the Cardinal was the mainstay of their aggregation in both games.

In the second game played Saturday night, Washington State finally emerged victorious by a score of 25-24. At the end of the second half the score stood 22-13 and five minutes extra were necessary to decide the contest. Washington's successful foul throw won the game for them.—California.

IN THE ARMY The Commanding General on a tour of inspection of units, lately arrived from overseas, encountered a colored doughboy, round of face and grinning. Attracted by his cheerfulness, the General stopped him. "Sam," he asked, "how did you like France?" "Fine, suh."

"And how about the meals over there?" "Nevah missed a meal, suh." "Never missed a meal!" The General lately from the front was astounded. "No, suh, I nevah missed a meal; of course, some of them was two or tree days late." —Major John H. Burns, in Judge

ST. IGNATIUS TRIMS DAVIS

The St. Ignatius varsity humbled the U. C. Farm quintet by a score of 29 to 39 Saturday night on the St. Ignatius courts. The game, which was one of the California-Nevada Basket ball league series, was very fast and thrilling. The farmers started the fray with a whoop, and seemed to take the Ignatians off their feet. The scintils continued on the bottom until the middle of the first half, when they finally got started and proceeded to play real basket ball. When the whistle blew at the end of the first half the Red and Blue men led by one point, the score standing 17 to 18.

The second half opened with a rush, and although the Davis lads offered stiff resistance and lots of fight, the city boys gradually gained and kept the upper hand. Lieutenant "Angie" Johnson did some sensational snooting for the victors, as did Eddie Molkenbuhr and Lanterwasser. Captain Keyes and Salmimi showed up well for the rusties. Watson of Davis and Johnson of St. Ignatius were put out of the game in the second stanza for fouling; Harris of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. refereed a good game as usual.—S. F. Call.

The Power of Electricity in Transportation

ELECTRICITY has leveled out the Continental Divide. The steam locomotive, marvelous as it is after a century of development, cannot meet all of the present demands for transportation facilities. Its electric rival has proved to be far superior.

On the mountain divisions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway—the world's greatest electrification—giant electric locomotives today lift an ever increasing freight tonnage over the mile-high Rockies and also make traveling clean and comfortable. They utilize the abundant energy of distant waterfalls and then, by returning some of this power to the trolley, safely brake the trains on descending grades. And their capabilities are not impaired by excessively cold weather when the steam engine is frozen and helpless.

Electricity is the power which drives the trains of New York City's subway and elevated systems. It operates the locks and tows the ships through the Panama Canal. It propels the Navy's latest super-dreadnaught, the New Mexico. Electric mine locomotives have replaced the slow-moving mule and the electric automobile has also come to do an important service. Such achievements were made possible by the extensive research and manufacturing activities of the General Electric Company.

Electricity has become the universal motive power. It has contributed efficiency and comfort to every form of transportation service and in this evolution General Electric apparatus has played a large part—from mighty electric locomotives to the tiny lamp for the automobile.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Stanford

'Twas a hard blow Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur hurled at Stanford sororities. Wherever sorority girls gather, it is the pet tea table topic, and at Berkeley and Stanford it has the right-of-way. It is the one all-absorbing subject.

The new plan centers around a new dormitory for women, when the sorority houses—the very centers of social life of the university—shall become dormitories for men.

Now it were bad enough to say unpleasant things about the theory of fraternities and sororities—but when it comes to disposing the sororities from their houses that they may become dormitories for men, then that is another story, at which much sorority verbiage has been unloosed.

"How can fraternities and sororities exist under the new order?" ask the men and maids whose dearest allegiances are thus on headmen's block, "for if members cannot maintain their own households, the fundamental function of the Greek letter societies falls."

Doctor Wilbur has asked that the trustees proceed as soon as possible to build dormitories for women, when the houses that are the glory of the campus shall no longer be the social meccas on "The Farm"—houses whence music and light laughter and queening have held high court for lot these many years shall pass from their high estate to become—but why anticipate? 'Tis a long way off, the eviction of the girls from their picturesque campus homes, and in the meantime, there will be many a merry hour under the roofs before pipes and hobnails shall take possession of them.

Will the new order change the old interest of maids and men?

Illinois

The first steps toward making the University of Illinois free from party politics were taken recently when the senior class voted that the members, affiliated with the faction which has for some time been ruling university politics, would do their utmost to make non-partisan affairs of student elections. The fraternity and non-fraternity delegates at the meeting agreed to enter the fight for a better system wholeheartedly and unselfishly. A committee appointed by the student body is to meet with members of the faculty to discuss ways and means for changing the political situation, and to pass on means for the installation of the non-partisan idea in university politics.

California

The University of California is extending the Associated Student organization of that college across the bay to include the affiliated colleges in San Francisco. The students there are to enjoy exactly the same privileges as those who are on the campus at Berkeley.

Thirty-four universities and colleges will be represented in contests the coming year for the six aeronautical trophies offered by the Aero Club of America, according to an announcement made by club officials in New York.

Practically all of the institutions of higher learning throughout the country, it is said, will have students entered in the contests.

The trophies and $5000 in Victory bonds as prizes were provided for under the will of the late Samuel H. Valentine. Winners in a prize essay contest for undergraduates will be awarded medals of merit.

During the last 12 months 4500 college men took out aero club airplane pilot certificates, 700 qualified as seaplane pilots and free balloon navigators and 120 were

Wisconsin

The Wisconsin Alumni Association has adopted resolutions favoring radical changes in the athletic situation at that institution. Greater student participation and greater authority in managing of teams and finances are demanded. Additional experienced coaches are asked for and also a broader financial policy. This they believe will put Wisconsin back in her old place in the Big Ten.

Helen Fulton Visits Campus

Helen Fulton, a former graduate of the University, arrived on the Campus Tuesday morning for a short visit with the Y. W. C. A. here.

After her graduation, Helen Fulton entered a Y. W. C. A. training school and in 1916 was sent to take the position of Executive Secretaryship of the Student Department of the Pacific Coast field committee. Nevada is lucky in having one of her alumni in such a position, because more interest is taken in Nevada and Nevada is kept in closer touch with the Y. W. C. A. work being done.

Miss Fulton makes an official annual visit to the Y. W. C. A. here to see the work that the Y. W. C. A. is doing and to offer suggestions for further work.

Store Reopens

The Y. W. C. A. is again selling candy in Miss Sissa's office. The method of selling is now changed. Instead of Miss Sissa handling it at her counter, the members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet are now selling the candy, alternating at different hours of the day. Candy can be obtained at any time from 9 to 4, so everyone bring your pennies, nickels and dimes and spend them for a good purpose.

Y. W. C. A. to Present Play

At the request of the Century Club, the Y. W. C. A. will take charge of the program for this coming Friday meeting, the program the Y. W. C. A. will offer will be a short play called "The Wayside Piper."

In this play an appeal is made to the girls of every station in life. Dancing and music are made to symbolize the Y. W. C. A. to the various girls. The title role, the Piper, is played by Gladys Dunkle. The other members of the cast are:

- Faith—June Harriman. Hope—Helen Fuss. Love—Marie Lamon. Counselor from Fields—Georgie Money. Counselor from Workshop—Marrienne Elsie. Counselor from Campus—Lois Smythe. Spirit of Service—Marguerite Patterson. Industrial Girls—Emily Burke, Frankie Porter, Mabel Riddell, Wilhelmine Butler. Country Girls—Anna Davis, Ruth Hull.

All the girls are invited to attend this program which will begin about 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon at the Century Club Hall.

NOTICE

From February 4 to February 10 is Dues day. Will all the girls that have not yet paid their dues for this semester please pay them to either Leila Sloan or Gladys Dunkle. In case neither of these girls can be found leave the money with the girl at the Y. W. C. A. candy store.

TENNIS GAME DRAWS INTEREST

With the advent of good weather, tennis again looms up as a sport on the campus. With the new point system in athletics the girls in particular are anxious to get in form. A large number are expected out and the competition for class teams will be keen. The courts are at present in poor condition but this will soon be remedied; three new courts are being planned for the site of the present courts and work will be started on them at an early date. Should the material appear, Nevada will, in all likelihood, be represented in tennis on the coast this year.

Flo Reed, Anna Davis and Mamie Delaplaine were the week-end guests of Doris Brown of Steamboat Springs.

CARSON PROVES DARK HORSE

(Special Correspondence.) Another dark horse has been turned loose in the high school basket ball field, and has for the last eight weeks been running rampant in Ormsby, Douglas, Storey and Lyon counties, notwithstanding the efforts of the "basket bronco busters" in that section to bridle him.

This horse hails from Carson, and we presume that he had been well fed these past several years on the pastures of the Capitol City, and well groomed in the art of basket ball, to attain such maturity. However, we are informed that he didn't know anything about basket ball three months ago, and doesn't know a great deal yet; but that he received a kick at the beginning of this year that suddenly awakened him from a sound sleep lasting since the period of the war. We presume that it must have been a hard one for he is still running at large, upsetting the basket ball "dope" of the high schools in those parts, and spreading no little consternation in the rival high school camps of the western section.

Carson High has made the following record so far this season, defeating every team played:

- Carson 1st team 32, Virginia City 1st, 24. Carson 2nd 26, Virginia 2nd 16. Carson 1st 28, Virginia 1st 18. Carson girls 19, Virginia girls 11. Carson 2nd 26, Virginia 2nd 10. Carson 22, Gardnerville 16. Carson 32, Dayton 29. Carson 55, Yerington 12. Total points for Carson 240. Total points for opponents 196.

In the last game played, Carson 2nd team played the last 7 minutes of the game.

WHITE PINE HIGH TO PLAY MCGILL

News has been received that the students of White Pine County high school are planning on publishing an annual this year. There are many odds against a venture like this in this part of the state, and it means a great amount of work on the part of the students.

Ely High defeated the Alumni last Saturday in a fast clean played game by a score of 69-11. Ely's next game is scheduled with McGill High School and this game will no doubt be speedy, as both teams are good, and in excellent condition.

TONOPAH TEAMS SPLIT HONORS

(Special Correspondence.) Saturday Tonopah High School defeated the boys at Goldfield in a one-sided game which ended in a 69 to 14 score. The Goldfield boys suffered from a lack of practice and material and were outplayed at every point of the game by their opponents who were very fast and excellent basket shooters.

The girls from Tonopah lost their game with the girls of Goldfield by a 13 to 17 score. This game was exciting from start to finish. The Goldfield girls were wonderful basket shooters, fast, and their team work was perfect. The team work of Tonopah also was excellent but their basket shooting was not as good.

STANFORD TO LOSE COACH EVANS

Cardinal Football Mentor Will Leave California Institution. Acker, Frosh Coach, Goes Also

After many conflicting reports from Stanford on the subject, it has finally become an established fact that Melbourne "Bob" Evans, Stanford football coach for the past two seasons, will sever his connections with that institution on or about the first of August. With him will go Art Acker, the youthful freshman gridiron coach.

So far as their coaching ability is concerned the "Evans-Acker" combination coaching system has been a success. The showing of the varsity team against Oregon Aggies, Santa Clara and St. Mary's will long be remembered by the undergraduates on the farm; while their never-to-be-forgotten battle with the much touted, and highly experienced Blue and Gold Varsity was nothing short of phenomenal. That a man with the ability to turn out winning teams under such adverse conditions should be allowed to escape is to be wondered at greatly.

TRUCKEE BRIDGE PLANS APPROVED

The plans for the new electric light bridge over the Truckee river on Riverside Drive were approved by the city council and county commissioners last Friday night. These plans were drawn by C. R. Hill, assistant Professor of Civil Engineering at the university and bids for the construction of this bridge are to be advertised at once and work on it will begin probably about April 5th. Prof. Hill was awarded the contract of designing this bridge, by the county commissioners last November, over several other civil engineers who wished to do the work.

of the squad had ever played together before is fast disappearing under the careful eye of Coach Courtright and that machine like floor work which invariably results in a basket is becoming more and more a realized fact as the Varsity squad approaches perfection.

There is an old saying that a team is only as good as its substitutes. If this be taken as a fact the reason for Nevada's success is at once apparent. Last Saturday night two teams were picked, with Buckman, Martin, Reed, Waite and Williams on one side, and Egan, Ninnis, Middleton, Hobbs, Fairchild Hill and Grant opposing them. They went at it hot and heavy for forty minutes and when the final whistle blew the "stripes" led by Capt. Bill proved to be the stronger by four points, the final score being 12 to 8. The game was a speedy one and the fact that it was so closely contested, proves that the subs are almost as good as the Varsity. This is a condition that has not existed for several years, and is one of the secrets of a winning team.

When the team goes onto the floor on Saturday night, one face will probably be missing from the lineup. "Shimmy" Bradshaw, Nevada's speedy running guard, who delighted coast fans with his lightning like floor work, has been suffering from tonsillitis and there is small likelihood that he will be in condition to play. However, Elie Reed has been coming fast, and in the last few days has been shooting baskets from all over the floor. He will start at guard in Jimmie's place. Waite has also shown a vast improvement in his basket shooting and should startle the spectators with some sensational shots. Smoky Williams will be Waite's running mate, at forward, and Nevada fans will be treated to some pretty basket ball when those two boys get started. With Buckman at center and Capt. Martin at guard the lineup is complete, and after watching them play for a few minutes there will be few who do not agree that they should by all means be picked for all-league positions.

Harris, Y. M. C. A. man, and coach of San Francisco Polytechnic High team will referee the game. He officiated in the St. Mary's and Stanford games on the coast, and his work on those two occasions was of such a high order that "Corky" picked him to serve in the C. of P. game, and he will in all probability handle all the league games on this court this year.

The game is scheduled to commence at eight o'clock sharp and a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the official opening of this year's basket ball season at home. EVERYBODY THERE AND LET'S GO, NEVADA!

of coins of the realm were thrown before them. In fact it was considered unsportsmanlike to keep the bets placed on the Badger fight, so the entire pool consisting of many dollars was thrown to the dancer.

Prof. Charley's Quartet next appeared, and led by Prof. Charley, Philbin, Frank, Layman and Oliver Layman gave several numbers and ended their much appreciated act by singing "There's a Long, Long Trail," in which the entire audience joined.

Two three round boxing matches between Mox Charles, the Nevada "Ham" and "Fighter" Dunn, and Bill Caffrey and Francis Walsh "the Battling Irishman" from Tonopah, were greeted with rousing cheers by the crowd. The Caffrey-Walsh match especially aroused many yells of joy from the blood-thirsty onlookers and the final gong ended what was bidding fair to be a gory battle.

The grub line was made up of everyone present, sinkers, hot dogs and coffee being dished out to the hungry ones. Since not a crumb was left it can be easily said that everyone present must have fasted for at least a week, because it took four men the best part of fifteen minutes to dish it all out.

After the bread line had been formed and Fat Harker had lost three pounds handing out doughnuts, the crowd again formed around in a circle to hear the speakers of the evening. After the cigars and cigarettes had been passed around President Clark was called on to say a few words which he did in his usual characteristic style.

Referring to the stunt pulled by Lar Rieu and Bogart with the dancing dummy, he said that judging by the degree of interest displayed by the men in this simple contrivance, the Profs should have no trouble in maintaining the interest in their classes.

Brewster Adams was next called up, and among other things remarked that he is glad to see so many of the University men attending church services, but that he cannot use the bingles he finds in the collection plate. He then passed into the serious vein, saying that college is the place where we get down to bare facts.

The spirit of the University men down town was expressed in a few well-chosen words by Harlin Heward. He says that the old boys are proud of the way in which the fellows are keeping up the traditions of the school and that they are behind all the University activities to the man.

In connection with the present basket-ball season, Captain Bill Martin was asked to say something, which he did, saying more at one time with less stuttering than he ever did in his life. He asked for a large attendance at the game Saturday night, and at the dance following, in order to extend to the visitors some of the hospitality shown the team on the Coast trip.

Coach Courtright made an earnest appeal for men for football next fall, pointing out that several large colleges and universities have already written here for games, and that we must have men, lots of them, and large, heavy men, to withstand the strain of an entire season. It is not too soon to be laying plans for next fall, and it is up to every man to influence all possible football material to come to Nevada next semester.
