NEVADA DEBATES PACIFIC FRIDAY

SUMMER TERM PLANS MADE

SPECIAL FACULTY IS NOW COMPLETE WITH SEVERAL NEW ADDITIONS. NOTED EDUCATORS TO LECTURE.

Plans for the summer session are progressing rapidly, with the faculty practically complete for the vacation term. Several additions have been made to the teaching staff, among them that of Mr. Arthur S. Aiton, assistant in history at the University of California to give three courses in history, and Miss Phoebe Duane, instructor in the Elko High School has been secured to take charge of the commercial subjects. Who will handle the courses in psychology is not definitely settled. Dr. Caroline Fisher, of the southern branch of the University of California has been offered the position, but as yet no reply has been received from her.

A number of noted educators have been secured to give lectures during the session, among them State Superintendent W. J. Hunting of Nevada; Superintendent Hunter of the Oakland schools; one of the best known men in his line in the country; Mrs. Preston, Superintendent of Schools in the State of Washington, and President of the National Educational Association, who will give two or more lectures during the session. Mrs. Preston will be remembered by all who heard her splendid address here to the students of education last winter, as a speaker of unusual ability and charm. President Clark of the University will deliver several addresses on subjects such as "Immigration," "Americanization," and other vital themes; Professor J. C. Jones will make three talks on geology, and conduct a trip through the museum; Miss J. E. Wier will give two talks on historical subjects as well as a trip through that museum; Mr. Cecil Creel will speak on the work of county agents and the relation to public schools; Mr. M. D. Collins will tell of the work of the boys' and girls' clubs in this state. In addition several educators from the annual N. E. A. meeting in Salt Lake to be held July 4th will deliver addresses.

No students will be admitted to the summer term without first having completed two years high school work. Juniors or seniors in high school will be admitted only upon special application, which must be in the hands of the director of the summer session at least three weeks previous to the

FACULTY OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

"GET ACQUAINTED" IS SLOGAN OF NOVEL STUNT WHICH WILL BE CARRIED OUT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

For several weeks past, mysterious notices have appeared in the columns of the "Brush" such as "Save April 11th," "Bunch your crowd and be able to go April 11th," and similar notices. The secret is out, and it has been announced that April 11th will be Faculty open house day. For a long time it has been known that quite a few of the students at this university do not know but very few of the professors by sight, much less by name, and it was hoped some plan might be formulated whereby a better acquaintance would be had between the faculty and students. The plan of a Faculty Open House day was put up and is the one which is being carried out. There is no real reason why any student, whether he or she is taking an engineering or an art course, should not know at least by sight practically every member of the faculty in a university the size of ours, and in this open house day the opportunity is given the students to become better acquainted with the faculty and with each other.

Five homes of members of the faculty will be open on this day, April 11th, and are given below with the addresses:

FROSH GLEE TO BE GALA AFFAIR

Big Social Function of Semester to Be Given in Gymnasium Thursday April 15, at 8

Final preparations are now under way for the presentation of the Freshmen Glee, and it promises to be the most gala affair of the University social season. No efforts or expenses are being spared to make it a most original and elaborate function that will do honor to the class. Something new, something entirely different has been achieved in every phase of the dance. The gymnasium will be transformed into a palace of palms and draped with the emblems and colors of the University. The music will be furnished by one of those famous old Southern orchestras, and the melodies they play will be those that the dreamy southland alone knows how to create; and the lights—pale blue and fanciful moons will add the charm of romance to a picture of beauty; and the refreshments of rare vintages will lend you wings; and the—but come and see for yourself. Come and enjoy the rarest of the rare and the gayest of the gay evenings of the college year.

The date is April 15th; the night is Thursday; and the hour is 8.

BORCHERT RESIGNS LAYMAN MANAGER

Earl Borchert has resigned as manager of the Senior play, "Officer 666," and Oliver Layman, better known as "Twisty," will handle the work. The work of the manager of the play, each year, is arduous, and generally is a thankless job, but one to which a great amount of time and energy must be given and without which the play would be financially a failure. With "Twisty" at the managing reins and with the progress shown by the actors and actresses in their various parts, the Senior play this year will be a great and glorious success.

Of course you will be "stepping out" on April 11. Be sure you ask her early.

INTEREST IS RUNNING HIGH

TRACK MEN SHOWING IMPROVEMENT IN FORM. FIRST APPEARANCE WILL BE IN PRACTICE MEET SATURDAY.

With the date for the track meet still hanging fire, tangible dope on the season is still in the air. It is an assured fact, however, that the Silver and Blue tracksters will compete in the two meets mentioned before. The Davis meet will be held here on Mackay Field and the five cornered meet will be run off at Berkeley.

The first time that loyal Nevada supporters will have a chance to gather any inside dope on their track prospects will be next Saturday afternoon when the Varsity track men will be put through their paces in a regular meet among themselves starting at two o'clock. All men out for track will be seen in action and official times and distances will be taken. As the California Frosh and Davis Farm had a meet last Saturday at Berkeley, these figures will serve as a basis for figuring Nevada's chances for winning the five cornered meet on the coast.

Coach Corky is figuring on some improvement to be made in the jumping pits in the near future. For quite a Coach Corky is figuring on some improvements to be made in the jump-

PINAFORE TO BE STAGED APRIL 16

Famous Comic Opera to Be Put on by Elks and University Songsters for Scholarship Fund

The famous Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera "Pinafore" will be staged at the Rialto Theatre for two nights, April 16 and 17. As the income of the performance is to be used for the four scholarships promised by Elks to deserving students of the university, it goes without saying that the students and faculty will lend all their support to its success.

The women and men on the Hill, assisted by the best male voices of the city, will constitute the chorus, and according to Professor Charlie, who has been directing them, they will give a good account of themselves. The chorus work plays a great role in this opera and it is hoped that its success will help instill interest in this much needed activity in the community.

Mr. J. B. O'Sullivan has charge of the dramatics of the opera, and he promises a scream from curtain to curtain. The people who are fortunate enough to be able to attend this performance will, no doubt, be impressed with the dramatic as well as the musical possibilities of this community.

The leading parts will be taken by Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Hardy, Miss Gifford, William Lunsford, J. B. O'Sullivan, Bob Ames, Charles Haseman, Lawrence Layman and Clem Caffrey.

MACKAY DAY

Committees for the Annual Mackay Day celebration, April 16th, have been appointed by A. J. Aikens, president A. S. U. N., and are given below:

Eats Committee: Phyllis Brown, chairman; Hallie Organ, Gladys Duncan, Lavina Shields, Vera Wickland.

Clean-up Committee: Louis Meyer, chairman.

Track Events Committee: Joe Hill, chairman.

Alumni Committee: "Molly" Malone, chairman.

AGGIE BUILDING

FIRST HOME CONTEST TO BE HELD IN GYM

BELFORD AND MILLER WILL REPRESENT NEVADA IN BATTLE OF WORDS WITH COLLEGE OF PACIFIC. VISITORS ARE CONSIDERED STRONG TEAM, HAVING TWO VICTORIES OVER STANFORD TO THEIR CREDIT THIS YEAR.

Friday night in the gymnasium Nevada's debating team will meet the College of the Pacific in the second event of the intercollegiate debating season. This will be the first appearance of our debaters at home, and as the team is particularly strong this year, much interest centers around the meeting with the talkers from San Jose. Nevada lost the first event of the debating season by a small margin, when Brigham Young University won the decision over them at Provo, Utah, some time ago. Since that time a lot of hard work has been done by the speakers, and they are planning on giving the home audience the chance to hear a debate worthy of any college in the country. Nevada will be represented by John Belford and Charley Miller. Both are well known on the campus and in University activities, and both are known to be fluent talkers and keen thinkers. A better pair

MUCH BUSINESS FOR MEETING

Question of Financial Support for Boxing to Be Discussed by A. S. U. N.

The regular meeting of the student body will be held in the Aggie Building on Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Due to the laxness of the Frosh in coming around to these meetings there will be roll call, and as the upperclassmen are just dying for a chance to try out the lake once more since it has been filled clear up, it behooves every member of the class of '23 to be present or to borrow a bathing suit from some kind friend or fraternity brother.

The amendments with regard to increasing the subscription price of the "Sagebrush" to one dollar and a half per year instead of a dollar will be taken up at that time. Another matter to come up for consideration will be that of the A. S. U. N. supporting boxing as a minor sport. As every member of the student body is aware by this time, Coach Courtright has entered Molly Malone as Nevada's lone representative in the P. A. A. championship contests to be held at the Olympic Club in San Francisco next week. According to the constitution this sport does not at this time receive the financial support of the A. S. U. N., but this backing may be decided upon by a two-thirds vote of those present at the meeting. Nevada is exceedingly fortunate in having such a man as Malone to enter in these contests and this support should be forthcoming by a unanimous vote.

There is quite a good deal of other business to come up at this meeting and every one should be present.

FEEMSTER SPEAKS TO SCIENCE CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Faculty Science Club held last Thursday, Professor Feemster gave a detailed talk on the biological effects of history in regards to the arts and sciences. By means of a chart he showed how practically all the arts and sciences owed their being to history. He spoke at length on the wars' effect toward history showing where history has undergone a radical change since 1914.

After giving an extensive and interesting talk he favored the audience by clearing up some questions with regards to history that were doubtful in the minds of some of the listeners.

of debaters could not have been selected to represent the school. Word has been received from Pacific that they will send Arthur Main and Maurice Summer to represent them. Pacific has always had the reputation of putting out first class debaters, and this year they have two victories over Stanford to their credit. They are going to be a hard team to win from, but in doing so, Nevada will place herself in the lead in debating as well as in athletics in Pacific Coast circles. Pacific has been beaten twice this year, once at football and once in basketball, on the trip to the coast this winter. In order to do the job up right Nevada must beat them in the coming debate, proving that her development has been well rounded in all college activities.

The question for debate is: Resolved, that the United States of America should establish a protectorate over Mexico. Nevada has the negative side of the question. The issue is one of timely importance, and the arguments brought out by the speakers should make it well worth listening to. The former rules have been somewhat changed, allowing each side only one rebuttal speech, instead of two. The judges will be Sardis Summerfield, Prince Hawkins and G. H. Taylor.

After the debate, the gym will be cleared and a dance will follow. As there has been no dance on the hill for some time, Clionia is making preparations for an unusually jazzy affair, and a large crowd is expected. Tait's orchestra of four pieces has been secured, and the floor will be put in prime condition for the event.

Owing to the fact that this debate is being conducted by Clionia society instead of the student-body, an admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged, to partially defray the expense of bringing the Pacific debaters here. Admission to the dance will be fifty cents a couple. Tickets may be secured from several Clionia members on the campus. Let's get a crowd out next Friday night and show the debaters that the student body is back of them. The debate will start at 7:45 p. m. and the dance will be immediately afterward.

TO THE JUNIORS

THE SONG OF THE "CORDS"

Oh, men, with shekels few,
Oh, men, with clothes in rents!
It's not cloth you're wearing out,
But gold in dollars and cents.
Seats, cuffs and knees,
Knees, cuffs and seat,
Till with sorrow you cry aloud,
And the song of the cords sounds sweet.

Squeak—squeak—squeak,
While you hurry along to class.
Squeak—squeak—squeak,
While you stroll along with a lass.
So it's Oh! for the corduroy,
And no trousers to press each week—
Man's clothes no longer his pride and joy,
Instead, the corduroy, and squeak, squeak, squeak.

—Evergreen.

THE POWER OF WEALTH

A group of laborers were diligently employed in the arduous task of cleaning a sewer. Two young men were standing near, the taller of whom remarked:

"Oh, boy! If I only had a million dollars! There'd be no more worry for yours truly."

"Yeh," said one of the laborers, "I'd like to have a million, too."

"What would you do with it?" asked the young man jocosely.

"I'd buy a new handle for this pick."—Life.

GO TO THE DEBATE

Friday night in the University gymnasium Nevada's debating team will hold a battle of words with the team representing the College of Pacific. Debating at this institution has never been as popular with the student body as a whole, as it might be, and the crowds which should be present at these oratorical contests have been very conspicuous by their absence. This year the Silver and Blue's debaters in meeting the San Jose collegians are going up against the conquerors of Stanford and stand a good chance of persuading the judges that they are right. The Varsity debating team consisting of Belford and Miller have certainly earned the support of the entire student body by their hard work spent in preparation for this coming debate. Bring your lady around to the debate and give the boys the support they deserve. Then, too, there's a big dance afterward.

Taking all but two of the first places and first, second and third honors in most of the remaining events, the University of California freshmen track team defeated the Davis Farm runners on California oval recently by the score of 108 to 23.

PENN VARSITY CREW SETS ONE-QUARTER MILE MARK

Philadelphia—A new national record for the quarter mile was hung up by the Penn Varsity crew just before daybreak over the Henley course on the Schuylkill river, last week, when they covered the distance in one minute, one second, clipping two seconds off the old mark formerly held by Yale, and made on the Husitanic Lake.

WHAT'S THE USE

What's the use of living?
Life is just a game!
What's the use of eating?
It only gives you pain.
What's the use of kissing?
She'll only go and tell.
What's the use of ANYTHING?
OH GOSH!

WHICH SUGGESTS

What's the use of classes?
We never are prepared.
What's the use of Freshmen?
They're always green and scared.
What's the use of money?
With so much to buy?
THERE AIN'T NO USE IN ANYTHING,
OH MY!

Like "WOW" in the Evergreen, I take my hears in hand and proceed to fill up space. Blame this one on him. I'm just a little crow's egg
High up in a tree,
Settin' in my little nest
As bad as bad can be.

I'll wait until a freshman comes,
A'walkin' by with glee,
Then I'm goin' to bust myself,
And cover him with me.

They say the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

And then getting on to the subject of Fat Harker, I'd say it would have to be SOME plate.

"Cow Eats Woman's Clothes," reads headline.
So even the animals are on slim pickins.

They tell this one on "Waffles" Mitchell.

It seems he had ordered his usual stack of waffles and after they had been placed before him, looked inquiringly around. Something was missing. Finally the waitress could stand it no longer. "What's wrong," she queried. "Where's my honey," quoth friend Mitchell. The waitress hesitated. "Why—er—she quit last week."

Oh no! Chazz Blah, just because a fellow steps back to let a fair damsel get on the Sparks car ahead of him is no sign he's chivalrous.

Li'l Eddie—"Will you be a good friend of mine?"

J. D.—"Yes."
L. E.—"To the end?"
J. D.—"To the end."
L. E.—"Lend me a dollar."
J. D.—"That's the end."

La Kamp—"Goin' to the prom Stenny?"

Stenny—"Yep. Gonna stag it."
La Kamp—"Howcome."
Stenny—"No doe."

They tell me, Molly's houn' dog, Pat, came to class the other day and went to sleep.

'S got nothing on the rest of us.

Hist, here's how to do it. Take two bottles of Coco Cola, add one cup of brown sugar, add a handful of cluster raisins, heat it up and cool it.

Had to get a kick in this Kol somehow this week.

COMMUNICATED

The Sagebrush will publish communications on subjects of general interest when signed by the author, but does not necessarily foster any ideas expressed therein, and will not stand responsible for such ideas.

To the Editor:

In the last issue of the Sagebrush "Upperclassman" spoke rather knowingly regarding the question of flowers for the Frosh Glee. Being an upperclassman and having had four years of flower buying experience, likewise being one of the "house-of-have-not" who still possess pawnable property, the spirit moves me to raise a few questions regarding his highly enlightened and greatly encouraging discourse. From the context of his dissertation one would take it that the process of flower buying was one filled with thrills and mirth provoking joviality. To amputate excerpts from his letter so that his arguments for this divine privilege may continue, let me give the following: "It has been rumored by the knowing ones that the proposition was railroaded through by some of the fair sex who seldom grace a social function, and consequently receive no flowers." Is the gentleman who wrote this familiar with the leaders of Women's League? What girls attend Women's League? What girls attend student body? What girls are most active in all College functions? If the gentleman in question has been active enough in College affairs to have this brought to his attention he will readily admit that the women who stand for the most in College life are the leaders in these respective activities—and also are the girls who go to—and receive flowers for—the University dances. By his statement he implies, or rather questions, the integrity of these girls on the question of flowers. Has mere man the right to question Women's League?

Further on in his letter "Upperclassman" grows eloquent in his tears when he sobs: "There will be no hardships worked on any unsuspecting men in the way of overdrawn bank accounts and starvation meals, in order to buy flowers for this dance, if that is what they mean when they cut out the flowers, and if a fellow thinks enough of a girl to take her to the Frosh Glee he will be tickled to death to get a chance to buy her some flowers, and a taxi ride, too."

That's the spirit "upperclassman"—

Pretty weak though.

LOST—A watch by a lady with a smooth back and open face.

Coedna—"Pickin's column is getting to be rather crude, don't you think?"
Setcond Coedna—"Yeah, let's see it when you get through."

Old Vet—"Waiter!"
Buck—"Yessir."
O. V.—"Take this egg out and wring it's neck."

Say—did you notice the white skirts Wednesday? Seems to me some people are trying to rush spring.

All I want to know is, who the young lady was that made the remark as she marched down the quad on a windy day last week. "My, but aren't the boys just terrible?" and received the reply, "That's all right—mine are silk."

"OLD CROW."

tickle yourself—tickle yourself to death. Just walk down to the Reno Floral and order a car of orchids—hock your watch and add some lilies to it—paw your new hat and send a few roses—smother her with daisies—fill Manzanita with poppies—tickle yourself by taking her a few peach trees and an alligator pear bush or two—ring up 456 and take her to class in a taxi (25c a throw now-a-days)—ride her from Manzanita to the Gow House in a limousine—treat her good "Upperclassman"—she's your girl. Now as to our girl. She stood up in Women's League and said "no flowers." Mebby she won't go to the Glee—but she said she would. She would rather go to the Glee "sans Flowers" than to have me "tickle myself to death" hocking my watch to send a corsage. Besides she might want to know the time—and I shouldn't get her campus-ed. Then again, she has a new dress and flowers stain (of course we should not, but do crush them) and she may want to wear the dress again. But then, why argue? I just wanted to kind of sorta hint that perhaps the girls knew what they were doing in Women's League and hat it might be a good idea if "Upperclassman" would take a distant hint and "lay off." Since the girls are most concerned—why not take their tip? And again, since "the local florists are stocking up with flowers for the coming "Frosh Glee" maybe "Upperclassman" had better start ordering now—and we'll know her by the red roses she wears.

NOTED STAR APPEARS IN PERSON

MISS BEATRIZ MICHELENA

Noted Movie Actress, Who Is Appearing in Person at the Majestic Theatre

Miss Beatriz Michelena, who is now appearing in person at the Majestic, is credited in San Francisco Bay college circles with being the greatest football and track fanette on the Pacific Coast. Although she could never make herself enthuse over the English Rugby brand of football, there has never been a college game of consequence within hailing distance of her San Rafael motion picture studios that she has missed. When California and Stanford have their annual set-to she declares a legal holiday and she and her producing company attend in full force.

Back in the days before she went into pictures, when she was queen of the American light opera stage, the Beatriz Michelena song and stunt was always the headline feature in the University of California football shows which followed the "big game."

Incidentally her director, George Middleton, was a brilliant football star and a track man with a 10 flat record. Before becoming a motion picture director he was a football coach.

Miss Michelena will continue at the Majestic for the balance of the week. For Friday and Saturday there will be a complete change of program, both in Miss Michelena's songs and in the photodramatic offerings. The featured picture will be "The Unwritten Law," Miss Michelena's most sensational success. It is an adaptation from the play by Edwin Milton Royle, author also of "The Squaw Man."

WOMEN'S LEAGUE IS EXPLAINED

A number of Freshmen women and no doubt some of the older students do not know what the Women's League is, or its purpose in college affairs. The following article written for the Y. W. C. A. number, but omitted through lack of space may be of interest on this subject:

It is the only women's organization on the campus to which all women belong—the one mechanism by which all women can work together.

To quote from the constitution of Women's League, "The purpose of this organization shall be to regulate, broaden and refine the social life of the women; to support and uplift the social standard of the college, to make the individual lives of the women more wholesome through sensible living; and to form an official body which will correlate and unify the activities of women and represent them in matters of general college interest."

Each year, for the realization of this purpose certain steps are taken. The first the president calls the Freshmen women together and explains to them certain ideals concerning the university women and their actions on and off the campus, especially that one concerning honor which is definitely expressed in the constitution: "The women students of the University of Nevada, realizing the need of crystallizing their sense of honor and averse to the establishment of a mechanical device for this purpose have adopted the following resolutions:

1. That we, the students of the University of Nevada, do hereby stamp with our contempt all dishonest methods that may be employed in college life, academic, athletic, political or social; and do heartily agree to do all in our individual power to foster the sentiment of absolute fairness and honor in our college.

2. That we determine it as the duty of the president of the Women's League to call together all freshmen women during the first week after their matriculation and explain to them this resolution.

3. That we expect of each member of the association that she will, in case of any dishonorable action coming under her notice, first speak to the offending person and if her suspicion is confirmed, bring such action to the attention of the executive board. We recommend to the faculty that during examination the instructor shall either leave or remain in the room and that the students shall have entire freedom insofar as their action or conversation does not interfere with other students.

We recommend that the investigation and punishment of breaches of the letter or spirit of these resolutions be under the control of the executive board subject to reservations expressed between the faculty and the Women's League.

The means of carrying out this aim take the form of some half-dozen lectures during the year by men and women interested in college women and their potential strength.

We hardly think the league has attained its stride yet. It is very young—in use only three years. Little devices have had to be worked out, such as the point system by which is secured to the league the best services of its best women.

PROFESSOR GOGGIO ILL, NOW RECOVERED

Professor Goggio of the Romanic languages department, was absent from his classes for a short time last week due to an attack of the "flu." He has once more resumed his university work, and his smiling face is again to be seen around the campus and in Stewart Hall.

COLLEGE MAGAZINE IS SUPPRESSED

Syracuse, N. Y.—A picture of a chorus girl in abbreviated costume dancing before the "bald headed row," drawn by a university co-ed and used on the first cover of the Orange Peel, a Syracuse university magazine, caused Chancellor Day to suppress the publication and to dismiss the editor from college.

The managing editor, William J. Dalton of Buffalo, was summoned before the university head and told that the faculty considered the art work "indecent." Mr. Dalton shocked the chancellor still further by telling him that it was the work of a co-ed.

Another objection to the number, the chancellor pointed out, lay in a picture of an attractive bathing girl on the cover. The demand for copies of the publication exceeded the supply within a short time after the chancellor's edict had gone forth. By noon all news stands were bare.

Dalton is trying to enlist friends of the faculty in an effort to get him back into college. If he succeeds he says he will never again attempt to edit college publications. Evidently, he says, "it takes a better man than I am to give them what they want."

WISCONSIN SENATE

ABOLISHES HAZING

University of Wisconsin.—Hazing was officially abolished a short time ago by the student senate, legislative body of the student self-government at the University of Wisconsin. The action was aimed especially at street-rioting and lake-duckings, which mark the height of class rivalry cropping out at one or two times during the college year, and declared that the officers of the various classes would be held responsible for the misconduct of classmates.

Strong opposition to hazing expressed by the faculty, the public and the newspapers of the state, the legislature, older students, and student sentiment in other universities, was cited in the preamble of the senate's resolution. Hazing is but an expression of over-exuberance of lower-classes, the resolution points out, and is looked upon as futile by upperclassmen.

The enforcement of student traditions such as the wearing of green caps during freshmen year, will be carried out by other means to be prescribed later by the student senate. Although hazing was supposedly ended with the establishment of student self-government a number of years ago and was resorted to only in a prescribed manner to enforce student traditions, it has cropped out again recently, especially during the war years.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

O. A. C.

Great plans are being made for the annual Military Ball, considered the most pretentious event of the year, on the evening of April 17th. Forty-eight large flags have been loaned by the War Department in San Francisco for use in decorating. It is expected that the governor of Oregon and his staff will all be present. Cadet officers will wear uniform, but all others will be in civilian dress. Owing to limited space, the attendance will be limited to 400.

Vermont

The first interscholastic ski and snowshoe meet ever staged in this country was held under the auspices of the Outing Club of the University of Vermont.

Georgia Tech

The ten men of the Senior class, who have made the highest average for their previous three years are awarded the Gold "T" as a recognition of their good work.

Washington

The University of Washington baseball team will be sent to Japan during the summer of 1920.

Ohio State

Co-eds at the Ohio State University are keeping down the cost of higher education in their own ranks by working in University offices, in the homes of professors or in downtown department stores. Many are earning all the money needed to complete their education, while others are partially supporting themselves.

According to figures given out by the dean of women there are 36 freshmen, 17 sophomores, 6 juniors and 9 seniors putting themselves entirely through school. The number has nearly tripled in the case of those helping to put themselves through.

Pomona

Pomona College will stage a monster Athletic Benefit program to raise funds for the building of the new athletic quarters. Boxing and wrestling will be the principal features of the show, and in addition there will be tumbling exhibits, gymnastic work and probably a band concert.

Boston Tech

It is rumored that the trustees are considering Food Administrator Hoover for the office of President of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Colorado

Because of the high prices demanded by the University stores for all fountain goods the students of the University of Colorado are endeavoring to raise $5000 to establish a student co-operative store where things will be sold at reasonable prices.

Denver

The Honor System is being tried at Denver University and seems to be a huge success. It is in process of being adopted permanently. Those professors who have tried it say that practically no cheating goes on and that the morale and conduct of the students was even better than would have been shown under faculty supervision.

Washington

Lorado Taft, well known sculptor, recently gave an address to the ex-service men at the University of Washington on "Rambles in Burgundy." He was the guest of Phi Beta Kappa, who induced him to go west on a lecture tour. His statue of George Washington stands at the entrance to the college campus.

Oklahoma

Doors to the new university armory, completed last spring, after an expenditure of $63,000, will be thrown open April 2 for open house and decoration at which guests from all over the state are expected to be present. All departments of the R. O. T. C. are working preparing for the service, which authorities say will be an elaborate affair.

New Hampshire

During the recent snow storms the students of New Hampshire college aided the B. & M. railroad by shoveling out their snow covered and frozen tracks. Snow covered their right of way for several feet and while a snow plow was used in an effort to move the

"PINKEY" BROWNE IS HARVARD WRESTLER

Howard Browne '18, graduate of the University and now a student in the Harvard Law School, is still wrestling in his spare time, according to a letter received last week from him. Browne was P. A. A. champion in the 115 lb. class in 1915 and 1916, winning the decision in the Coast tournament, as a representative of Nevada.

The following is an excerpt from an article which appeared in the Boston Post of March 26.

"The wrestling bouts provided some strenuous opposition. In the heavyweight battle, C. A. Eastman had to go an extra four minutes to win a decision from A. A. Zoll.

Captain Corson of the Harvard wrestling team and inter-collegiate 125 pound champion, got a decision from H. E. Browne, Pacific Coast champion in this class."

Wrestling
115-pound class—Powers, '22, defeated H. B. Walker, '22 by decision. 125-pound class—B. B. Corson, '20, defeated H. E. Browne, Law Schools, by decision.

135-pound class—H. E. Browne, Law School, defeated G. V. Smith, '22, by decision. 145-pound class—G. V. Smith, '22, defeated T. Strong, '22, by a fall in 7 m. 30s.

158-pound class—T. L. Parsonnet, '22, defeated D. Anapolsky, '22, by decision.

175-pound class—L. R. Barker Law School, defeated W. F. Eastman, '21, by a fall in 4 m. 30s.

Heavyweight class—W. F. Eastman, '21, defeated A. A. Zoll, Law School, by decision.

The following portion of his letter gives a few details about the matches and may be of interest to his friends here. Browne was well known on the Hill, being an honor student and a member of S. A. E.

"The bout in the 125 pound class was the hardest. I started off with a flying mare, got the hold nicely and gave my opponent a nice little trip through the air for a hard fall on the mat, but he didn't seem to care to stay there. We got to our feet and then came his turn to pick me up for a slam. The bout continued this way, nip and tuck for the first seven minutes. About this time, while trying to get to my feet, Corson grabbed me around the waist, lifted me in the air and gave me a wonderful slam on the mat. For the remaining time the advantage was with Corson, who won on a decision.

Smith, entered in 135 and 145 pound finals won his bout in 145 on a fall. We had each one good bout before we clashed in 135. In this bout I just played safe, wasting no more energy than was necessary. I managed to get on top" as the saying is, and tried to stick. Smith got away once but by a quick arm throw over the shoulder I managed to turn the tables and from then on, to time, the bout was all mine. The winners were presented with sterling silver medals with the insignia of the Harvard Athletic Association stamped thereon.

Very sincerely yours,
HOWARD E. BROWNE, '18.

RHODES SCHOLARS HELP OXFORD WIN

LONDON.—Two American Rhodes scholars helped Oxford materially in defeating Cambridge here last Saturday in the first dual inter-varsity track and field games to be held by the rival universities since March, 1914. The final score was Oxford five and one-half events; Cambridge four and one-half events, first places only counting in the meet.

H. S. White, formerly of Bowdoin College won the running high jump for Oxford with a leap of five feet, seven inches, and immediately followed with an exhibition jump in which he added two inches to his performance. L. J. Feather, an American Rhodes scholar, won the hammer throw, with a throw of 100 feet, 11 inches.

(By "Duke")

Although we realize at a distance, we are very often blind to wonderful things that are close to us. For instance, at present there is a man among us, here ostensibly for a degree in the Mackay School of Mines, but in reality sent here by some higher power to spread the gospel of his cheerful existence to all those with whom he comes in contact. He poses as an old broken down veteran of world buffetings, who has seen all and is merely waiting around for something else to happen, commenting on the passing show in the meantime in the light of his past experience. No situation is too deep or shallow to draw forth from him a few growls of sage advice or comment. Nothing is sacred to him when he throws the searchlight of his master mind on the dark spots. He exposes everything mercilessly with his keen satire and woe be unto the man who tries to quell him with a remark, for he always has something in reserve, and takes a malicious delight in slaying his adversary with a blow and stalking off with an air of having knocked him dead.

At one time in his career, this character is said to have been a lieutenant in the Engineers, and has also been the rounds of the mines and surveying parties common to all aspiring young engineers. At present he is hibernating on the campus, coming out of his den occasionally to hie himself to a waffle dive, where he consumes enormous quantities of that popular delicacy.

Something in the manner of this person invariably attracts the person who is seeking the psychologically unusual. No doubt something of this sort prompted our scoop to try to untangle the affairs which have led to the present condition of this unhappy mortal. This is a serious matter and not to be considered lightly, for if this person is in our midst for purposes which he declines to state, we may be in grave danger. We don't know what the danger is, but no doubt it is there, for the subject of this investigation says little of his past, present or future. Of course, we have a pull in the Registrar's office, and have found out that he hails from Butte, Montana, but that proves nothing, for some of our best men come from Fallon and Sparks and Oakland. Many theories have been advanced to prove that his presence here is harmless, but we will never be convinced that he is harmless when he comes stamping out of the dining hall swearing like an intoxicated mariner, and refuses to give the reason for his rage. We have gone deeply into the matter, however, and find that his state of mental unrest is caused by the fact that he is worried and nervous while eating his meals. That in itself means nothing, for any human white person with good bringing up will rebel sooner or later at the diet of the dining hall, but in this case we find that the subject is being temporarily crazed by his associations while at meals. Going further into the matter we find that at his table there are three other men and six women, so the chances are two to one that some woman at the table is the exact type to irritate his sensibilities almost beyond all human endurance. However, he is heroic, and never once has complained or asked to be allowed to sit elsewhere, but suffers on in silence, finding his only relief in comparing the object of his hatred to various other kinds of wild animals and imaginary creatures.

To sum up the results of the whole experiment, we find that this creature who has mysteriously appeared in our midst is being haunted by some vague spectre of the terrible unknown. We further find that his symptoms correspond exactly to those of a man who has at one time had faith in woman-kind, but through the vicissitudes of life has been forced to stand by and see his idols shattered one by one in a fiendishly cruel manner. We further find that all these trials have affected him until hatred of women has become an obsession with him. Last, but not least, it is rumored that a search of the records of the local divorce court (knows wherever marriages are consummated) might show that he is in Reno to obtain a decree of divorce from some female of the species, and to prove his good faith he is actually living in the state, contrary to all precedence and custom.

"Mitch," we sympathize with you,

At the meeting Wednesday-afternoon, the new officers and cabinet were presented by the vice-president, Adele Armstrong and were duly installed by the president, Mildred Griswold. This set of officers will immediately begin their plans and their work for the coming year. Special vocal music was rendered by Anna Davis and Elizabeth Tingally.

RULES STRICT FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

Entrants in the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp this summer will be governed by several strict rules governing amateurism, which though short are very explicit, and the least flaw in an amateur's status will bar him from the games. These games are open to practically every nation in the world and many American athletes attend annually. This year, however, it is feared, the rules will bar several of America's greatest athletes from participating. The rules given below have governed the Olympic games in the past and will be enforced to the letter this year.

"Admission—Only amateur athletes to be admitted to the Olympic games. "Necessary conditions required for the representation of any given country—it is necessary to be a native of any given country or a naturalized citizen of same or of the sovereign power to which said nation forms a part.

"Whoever has once taken part in the Olympic Games as a citizen of any given nation cannot be admitted in any future Olympiad as a candidate for any other nation, even if he has been naturalized in that country; save and excepting cases of conquest and the creation of fresh states, duly ratified by the treaty.

"In case of naturalization, the naturalized subject must supply adequate proof that he was an amateur in his native country up to the time of his change of nationality."

TIPS FOR TIPPERS

He was dining alone and had much time to puzzle over an unusual phenomenon he had noted.

"Why is it, Sam," he said, addressing the waiter, "that poor men usually give larger tips than rich men?"

"Well, suh," rejoined the woolly-headed knight of the napkins meditatively, "looks to me like de po' man don't want nobody to find out he's po' an' de rich man don't want nobody to find out he's rich."

and when you are at last a free man and can look the whole world in the face once more, we will all go out with you and put on the biggest Bevo drunk Reno has known since the memorable days when we were Freshmen.

TO PHYLLIS
(As I dictated it.)

Phyllis up in the morning
Spirit of Love and spring
Phyllis lithe as a willow
Voice of the birds that sing
Phyllis full of the sunshine
Sparkling like drops of Dew,
Phyllis, Phyllis, O Phyllis
This is a song for you.

Phyllis why do you linger
Why do your feet remain
Phyllis we wait your coming
Over the bloom decked plain
Phyllis a brimming beaker
Now your health we'll quaff
Setting our hearts all leaping
Lighter than wind blown chaff.

(As my stenographer took it)

TO FILL US
Fill us up in the morning
Spirit of loving spring
Fill us tight as a pillow
Boys like the birds that sing
Fill us full of moonshine
Sparkling like Dropsy due
Fill us Fill us O Fill us
This is too strong for you.

Fill us why do you linger?
Why are your feet in pain
Fill us we wait your coming
Over the gloom necked plain
Fill us a brimming beaker
Now to your healthy graft
Send our heartshorn leaping
Light as a ring boned calf.
(Thus do the wings of Pegasus get clipped. Can YOU beat it??)

ing pits in the near future. For quite a while there has been considerable objection to the system of holding the pole vault and high jump in the same pit as the take-off for the pole vault makes many high jumpers hesitate before jumping and thus spoiling an otherwise good jump. This has proved especially a handicap to the visiting teams. Corky is planning on putting another pit inside the track in front of the bleachers, just outside of the limits of the football field.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week a few of the men ran for time and although no startling records were hung up all of the men showed promise of being able to hold up their end of the game in a meet. Probably the best time made was that of Bradshaw in the two-twenty, which distance the diminutive Jimmy managed to navigate in the fast time of 23.2-5 seconds. This mark is within two-fifths of a second of the university record, and makes it look as if Tex Stevers' hard earned mark in this event will be beaten by Nevada's star of this year. Jack Heward is getting the javelin out into space consistently for a distance of one hundred and fifty feet and has made up towards one hundred and sixty, while Merchant of U. C. took first place against Illinois last week with a throw of one hundred and sixty-one feet. Skip Hammond ran a distance of three hundred and thirty yards in the fast time of 40.2-5 seconds which ought to bring his time down close to fifty-two in the quarter. Buckman is getting the discus out for a distance of one hundred and fifteen feet, and should be up around the university record before the season closes. These are only a few of the more notable examples of the progress being made by the track squad and should serve the purpose of giving the student body a general idea of how things are going out there on Mackay Field every night.

The interclass track meet scheduled for Mackay Day is already beginning to draw recruits for the track squad, and members of the various classes are commencing to appear every night, training in hopes of landing a couple of points for their class in the coming meet. The contest will, in all probability be between the Frosh and the Juniors, as these two classes have the majority of the Varsity track men.

"MINES" FILMS DO NOT ARRIVE

The "Mines Films" which were expected to have been shown before the A. A. E. Tuesday did not arrive, and word has been received that they not be available for perhaps a month, due to being booked far ahead. This will be too late for this semester and so these films will not be run until next fall. However, it will no doubt be arranged for some engineer to talk before the club for the next meeting, April 13th. Watch the bulletin board for notice of this meeting.

SENIORS TO MEET SOPH. DEBATERS

Winners of Previous Struggles to Settle Question in Final Contest for Title

Next Wednesday night the final contest in the interclass debating schedule will be held, between the Seniors and the Sophomores. In the first contest, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen, and when the Juniors and Seniors tangled, the Seniors came out ahead. The final debate promised to be a heated affair, as both sides are confident that their one victory gives them the advantage. Tony Zeni and Ray Law will continue to uphold the honor of the class of '22, while Wallace Walter and Adele Armstrong represent the Seniors. The question is the same as was previously debated, but with more study and preparation on the subject, a very interesting debate is sure to be forthcoming. The Sophomores have the affirmative side of the Shantung question, and as the affirmative has won twice, they feel confident that they can win with it again, while the Seniors throw out mysterious hints of new light thrown on the negative side which makes it a walk-away for them.

More interest than usual has attached to debating this year, and the interclass contests have brought out some good material for Varsity teams in the future. The debate will take place at the regular meeting of Clionia Society on Wednesday night, at 7:45 in the Agricultural Building.

MALONE TO LEAVE TUESDAY FOR COAST

"Molly" Malone leaves Tuesday night for San Francisco to represent the University of Nevada in the Intercollegiate-Olympic boxing tournament to be held Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Olympic Club. To date some 52 entries have been received from college men on the Coast and many more are expected before the tournament takes place. Malone is entered in the 158 pound class, and is being counted on by all students to bring home the laurels to Nevada.

GIRLS TO HIKE UP RIVER SAT.

Saturday afternoon, April 10th, the Athletic Section of Woman's League will take the fourth of a series of seven "hikes." This "hike" will begin at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the girls will go from Manzanita up the river for several miles where a "bacon and bun" feed will be enjoyed by all who make the trip. These hikes, aside from the benefit derived from the fresh air and exercise, are a source of enjoyment to all who go, and it is hoped that in this fourth "hike" and the succeeding ones that all girls who possibly can, will go.

AMERICAN LEGION TO MEET TUESDAY

The local post of the American Legion will meet at the Eagle's Hall Tuesday night, April 13th for their regular meeting. Dale Hurst of the Grand Theatre is in charge of the entertainment and promises something good in that line. It is urged that all members attend this meeting, as the entertainment alone will be well worth the time spent.

GIRLS TO STAGE BASEBALL GAME

The Chicago Cubs are not in it when it comes to playing big league baseball. The Nevada girls have got the old stuff and are ready to challenge all comers to the real game any time before their big game of the season on Mackay Field. The lower class girls claim to be the champions of the school but they are up against a pretty tough proposition when they come to challenge the old-timers on the upper class line-up such as Anne Underwood, Gladys Dunkle, Hallie Organ, Margaret Barnes, Helen Fuss, Jimmie Odbert, Lois Smythe, Mildred Griswold and Avis Lothrop. Hallie is right there when it comes to twirling the ball and a man can never get past first base when Gladys is there.

And with such heavy hitters as Jimmie and Lois and Margaret and Helen every ball can be taken advantage of. And you should see Millie and Avis run. Oh boy! They've got the old speed all right. Big leaguers every one of them.

Now what have the lower classmen to put up? A lot of pep and a lot of speed. Allene Wright is the master tosser and can get the batter's goat nearly every time. As for knowing baseball rules, "Slim" Riddell should be an umpire instead of being sacrificed to be just a mere player on the underclass team.

And then Rose—you know her—Rose Mitchell of athletic fame. You never saw such a crack at first base. She's right there every minute and Harriman, too. Can you imagine anything that she did not have a big finger in and was a crack at it. She nabs that ball with the catcher's mit every time. Then Marie Grubneau at second base. You have to have loads of grease on your shoes to be able to slip by that post when Marie is there. Gladys Smith and Vera Wickalnd, both heavy hitters, are right there on the game too in an effort to put the Sophs on the top again. We're behind 'em every time. They've got the old pep. Louise Cozier helps to hold up their team, too, nabbing the ball on the fly whenever it comes her way.

So, come on fellows. See a good game on Mackay Day equal to any old league game ever pulled off. Come back up the old veterans and the new ones: Already, let's go!
