Sagebrushers To Play Trojans Saturday

Fighting Nevadans Wallop Utah Aggies

HIGHLY TOUTED LOGAN FARMERS ARE EASILY WHITEWASHED BY SAGEBRUSH VETERANS WHO ADMINISTER 21 TO 0 DEFEAT TO COACH ROMNEY'S MEN—GAME REPLETE WITH SPECTACULAR PLAYS—CHURCH MAKES 56-YARD RUN FROM KICK

The Sagebrush Varsity again came into prominence in football circles when they whitewashed the fast farmers from Utah Agricultural College on Mackay Field last Saturday to the tune of 21 to 0. The game was played before the largest crowd seen on the athletic field this year, probably fifteen hundred. It was not until the second half that the Nevada eleven was able to deliver the final punch and put the ball over for points, and then three touchdowns and goals for each were put across.

The first half was a battle from start to finish, and from all indications at the start it appeared as though the game might end with a 0 to 0 tie. During the first quarter the ball was in Nevada territory the most of the time with the exception of a continual exchange of punts in which Nevada showed to best advantage. During the initial period, Dunne, Reed and Foster ripped thru the Aggie line for large gains but fumbles at critical periods stayed any attempt at goals. Twice the Aggie team looked dangerous and on both occasions approached seriously near the Nevada goal, but on both times fortune favored the winner. The first big scare came after Utah recovered a Nevada fumble on the 32-yard line. Falck, the Utah quarter, made a thirty-yard pass to Dorius who carried the ball to Nevada's 2-yard line before Bradshaw, playing safety, nailed him. The play was not allowed however, Utah was penalized for being offside and the ball was taken out to Nevada 37-yard line. Here a few gains thru the line were made but the total fell short of the necessary ten yards for first down, and the ball went over to the Varsity who promptly kicked out of danger. The next big thrill came when Utah punted to Nevada's 10-yard line and an on-side man recovered the ball for the Aggies on the 4-yard mark. Here the Aggies tried hard to push over a score but failed after carrying the ball to the 2-yard line, from where they tried a forward pass which was turned into a touchback, and the ball went to Nevada.

In the second quarter, Utah forced the ball from Nevada's 42-yard line to the 12-yard line by means of end runs, shift plays and a pretty pass for 22 yards, but the necessary impetus was lacking and the Varsity line held, obtaining the ball on downs. From then on, there was no doubt as to the outcome. Using end runs, skin tackle plays and passes, the ball was worked back to Utah territory where Bradshaw attempted a pass across the goal line. An Aggie intercepted the ball across the line, making a touchback and Utah came into possession of the ball on the 20-yard line. The balance of the quarter was spent in seasawing up and down the field, punting quite often, and neither side seeming to be able to reach the other's goal line.

The second half opened with a bang as Utah kicked off to Bradshaw and he ran the ball back 20 yards. A few plays advanced the ball but failed to make first down. Reed then punted to Utah, who fumbled and a recovery by Hammert started things moving. In a series of line bucks and end runs, Nevada pushed the ball to the 10-yard line where the Aggie defense tightened and held, and the ball went over to the visitors. Two or three attempts failed to gain them yardage and they punted to Bradshaw who returned the ball 15 yards to the Utah 45-yard line. From here on the Sagebrushers were

PALMER TO LEAVE FOR CONFERENCE

Prof. Walter S. Palmer will leave Saturday for Denver to attend the Twenty-third Annual Convention of the American Mining Congress which will be held there from November 15th to 19th inclusive.

This convention is held annually and last year over 1000 were registered at the Twenty-second Annual Congress which was held at St. Louis. This year there will be a far greater number attending, of mining operators, engineers, manufacturers and business men, deans and professors of mining schools and many of the more prominent men of the day. Conferences will be held on questions relating to gold, flotation, taxation, legislation, standardization, war minerals and tariff, and education, besides many other subjects of interest to the mining and metallurgical industry. Under the head of education, the most representative group of educational leaders yet

TAUS GET A. T. O. NAT'L CHARTER

"Have you seen the telegram," was the word that ran riot among the members of Phi Delta Tau on Tuesday morning of this week when Thomas Buckman, president of the organization, received word from Mr. Lewis Williams, chief of Province IX of Alpha Tau Omega that the local society had been granted a chapter to the latter fraternity. With the receipt of the telegram, which brought congratulations from all organizations on the Hill, the last of the men's local societies of the University of Nevada will soon pass into history and the University will be represented by four national fraternities: Sigma Nu founded in 1914, Sigma Alpha Epsilon founded in 1917, Phi Sigma Kappa founded in 1917 and Alpha Tau Omega soon to be founded.

The local Phi Delta Tau first started its active work in petitioning Alpha Tau Omega in 1916 and had only gotten fairly started when the entrance of the United States into the World War caused the adoption by the national fraternities of a non-extension policy. The majority of the men of Tau enlisted in the army and the petition was held up until 1919 when the return of the men from the service allowed a resumption of work toward their national and favorable action from Stanford, California, Oregon Agricultural College, University of Oregon and Washington State, members of Province IX was received last spring. The final vote of the 71 chapters of Alpha Tau Omega was taken this fall with the announcement on Tuesday that Phi Delta Tau had been successful in obtaining its chapter.

The local society of Phi Delta Tau was organized in 1912 by six Freshmen who decided on taking in Freshmen each year until the organization was complete. Since that time they have been constantly working toward the upbuilding of the organization with the ultimate goal—Alpha Tau Omega. Just a month ago—on October 9th—the organization signed a deed making them owners of a house located at 745 N. Center street and being the only house owned by a University student organization for the use of its members. The present membership of 34 men has been very active in student affairs having eight men on the football team, four men on last year's championship basketball team, and includes captain of football, basketball and track for this year while one of the men is president of the Block N Society.

The date of installation has not as yet been definitely decided upon but tentative plans call for the initiation of active and alumni members at an early date, and it is possible that Alpha Tau Omega will have an active chapter on the Hill before the semester closes.

EIGHTEEN PLAYERS MAKE TRIP FOR BIG GAME AGAINST SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ELEVEN—TROJANS HAVE VICTORIES OVER FOUR COAST TEAMS INCLUDING 10 TO 0 SHUTOUT OVER STANFORD—GAME SHOULD BE HARD FOUGHT

The Nevada Varsity left Reno Wednesday night on a trip to Los Angeles where they will meet the University of Southern California eleven, touted to be the strongest of the Southern California teams. This season has been a season of victory for the U. S. C. squad, and their scalps represent a total of 111 points to their opponents 14, the results of four consecutive victories. This successful season, together with the fact that seven of last year's veterans are back on the team, and the fact that they have three of their greatest stars, puts the U. S. C. student body and team in a very confident attitude towards their game with Nevada this Saturday.

Among the victims of U. S. C. this season is the famous Cardinal team of Stanford, who they defeated by a 10 to 0 score, gaining their tallies by a touchdown by Leadingham and a place kick by Evans. Another victim was the undefeated Pomona team by a 7 to 0 score. This defeat of the strongest Southern California team places U. S. C. at the top of the list of teams in her district, and should she by chance defeat Nevada Saturday and University of Oregon on the 26th, will cinch the championship of Southern California.

Dean, the 170-pound righthalf, is back in the game, but with a slight limp which does not seem to bother him in the least. He plays a smashing game and has always been counted on for good yardage in line bucks.

"Hard Boiled" Smith another Trojan Star and weighing 168 pounds in his fighting togs is playing the best game of his career this season. Last fall he landed a place at end on the All-State team and appears to have that place cinched for the present season. He appears to be an all-round star and while his regular position is end, he can play tackle or half nearly as well.

Dean, Smith and Captain Evans at right tackle with his 185 pounds, and Leadingham though only weighing 138 pounds, playing the fullback position, strong aggregation and without a doubt, Saturday's game will be a royal battle. As in the Utah-Nevada game, the lines and backfield are of practically the same weight. In the line Nevada has a pound the best by weight while in the backfield Nevada has U. S. C. outweighed two pounds per man. These figures however are so close that the teams can be said to be almost perfectly matched as to weight.

Nevada's team has shown a vast improvement in each game of this season, and have picked up many new plays that may stand them in good stead this Saturday. Hammert will be back in the game and from the showing he made with the Utah Aggies should be one of Nevada's mainstays. Johnson will not be in the line-up this week on account of his injured ribs, and when the starting gun sounds Foster will be in his position. With the exception of Foster this week's line-up will be the same as has heretofore been started. Eighteen men left Wednesday night and besides the regulars this squad consisted of Hammert, halfback; Middleton, fullback; Church, quarter; Rees, guard; Grant, tackle; Waite, end; George, halfback, and Coach Court-

Mob Demonstration On Mackay Field

By PORTO-DE-ORO

The first half of the Nevada-Utah game was over. In the bleachers the tension relaxed, cigarettes and pipes were lit, and the football fans began to gossip. Y. W. C. A. girls hurried about with huge cargoes of hot dogs which they disposed of to the crowd; that is, those of the crowd who were willing to assume the risk of eating them.

Suddenly there came a wild yell from the field. Everyone told everyone else that something was about to happen. Toward the bleachers there headed a curious caravan that reminded the old-timers of the discovery of Tonopah. A Nevada Canary followed by fifty or sixty Frosh, ambled across the field, undisturbed by the admiring gaze of the public. In his eyes there was a far away look, no doubt he was dreaming of a jackass heaven where he could sleep on a carpet of cactus and eat out of barrels filled with Blue Ribbon tomato cans. Perhaps he recognized the brotherly relationship between himself and the Frosh that were leading him, at any rate he seemed to have utmost confidence in them. His ears waved rhythmically and his tail beat time for the Westwood band of forty pieces.

Some woman in the pride of her first vote yelled to her husband, "Oh, look, George, it's a Democratic rally. I am glad I voted for Cox." Her joy was of short duration, for a pessimist in a gray overcoat and muffler informed her that it was a pegeant celebrating the discovery of Bunkerville by the Spanish Missionaries, whereupon the lady answered: "That's just what I have been telling George."

Of a sudden, the jackass swung broadside; attempted a drop-kick on the two Frosh who were assisting him in the rear; brayed defiantly at the band and galloped madly across the field (at a disgusted trot) for a touchdown. There it was revealed to every Sophomore; the insult of all insults, such as could have been devised by the master mind of some debased Frosh. Hideous and glaring on the innocent ass, was the unmistakable number '23.

"Oi-oi, get behin' de mama an' de paba, Abbie, dere is somethin' didin'.

A sullen murmur arose from the indignant Sophs, and grew steadily until it was the battle cry of an outraged multitude. In a rush that would have shamed a mob of "Friends of the Irish Republic" pursuing an English policeman, the Sophs descended from the bleachers and headed toward the living signboard; the unsuspecting accomplice of the Frosh. Each Soph was determined to erase those letters if they had to amputate the burro's ribs to accomplish it; while the Frosh were equally determined that the '23 should stay if they had to fracture every Soph's ribs to keep it there. Then the mob descended upon the ass and confusion filled the land. The jack put up a good fight but the odds were against him. One man indiscreetly mounted Sleeping Sickness (that was his official title) only to find himself performing aeronautics some fifteen feet above the ground. A painful look of cooperation was apparent tho they did occasionally get together. On the third jump the rider made a wild grab for the ass's ears and woke up holding on to the sleeve of Cerveni's full dress overcoat while the remainder of the coat was rapidly disintegrating under the stubborn attacks of the Frosh:

During this first scrimmage a Nevada pig, sporting a huge '24, was turned loose. With a squeal of outraged dignity at the number painted on his back he curled his tail into a square knot and disappeared under the pile of Frosh, Sophs and Jackass. For a moment he was the nucleus of a spirited struggle but he proved to slippery for his aggressors and soon faded around the corner of the training quarters.

Sleeping Sickness went down for the count in the fourth round and the Frosh and Sophs piled up over him. With beautiful impartiality he would kick a Soph in the face, dislocate a Frosh's ribs, bite the tail off another Soph's coat and then roll over on a couple more Frosh. In fact he was the very embodiment of armed neutrality. In a few minutes however the jackass had kicked himself free from the contaminating influence of the underclassmen, then with one sympathetic bray to the Frosh he lost all interest in the fight. Little groups of two or three men were now religiously trying to murder each other and not succeeding in this they would tear off each other's clothes, kick one another in the head or attempt to break their opponent's neck.

Hopelessly outnumbered, the Sophs furnished good material for the future football stars of the Frosh class to practice on. The referee's whistle ended the hostilities and probably saved the Sophs from extermination. Everything comes to those who wait and the Frosh feel avenged for the insults heaped on them by the Sophs as a result of their "tea party." '24 may now resume its place among the classes on the Hill.

ORIENTAL THEME FOR HALL DANCE

In a blaze of magnificence and a flare of music the Lincoln Hall dance began. The babble of voices and the silvery laugh of women was hushed as the hidden orchestra breathed the sad wistful strains of the first Oriental waltz. During that first dance there were many women who eluded proposals and romance, only by declaring "king's ex." It was a scene of scintillating color, of beauty and youth under the hypnotic spell of the sobbing, fascinating music, Oriental moonlight and the mysterious influence of the East. One could almost imagine he was in the land of lazy romance with its crescent moons; the land of dark-eyed Dardenellas where the faithful, kneel on the deserts, look towards Mecca and pray, "there is only one god, the lord of the worlds, the merciful, the compassionate, and Mohammed is his prophet."

The decorations had been well planned and the dance committee is to be congratulated on the result. The effect, Oriental, was well carried out and everyone agreed that the purple Clarita Fortune and Irene Doyle have recently moved to the Hall. Miss Doyle was here at the first of the semester, but was called to her home and has just returned to take up her studies.

Avis Lathrop came from Yerington Friday to spend the week-end in Reno.

Dorothy Patterson, Ex '18, advertising manager for the firm of Crowley & Miller in Detroit, visited her sister, Miss Marguerite Patterson at Manzanita last week.

June Shipley left the Hall last week and has returned to her home in Yerington.

Mrs. Badger is at Manzanita visiting Enola. She plans to remain here two weeks before returning to her home on the coast.

Miss Velma Truett of Elko was the guest of Gertrude Harris last week-end. Miss Truett came down for the annual "Homecoming Day," and while here spent a great deal of time on the campus. Miss Truett attended the University year before last and was a popular member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority.

crepe paper over the three electric globes gave the true Venetian moonlight.

Weeping willows surrounded the orchestra and gave the hall an added note of individuality. To the dancers present, weeping willows will always be associated with the Orient. Four strips of confetti swung from the rafters and to those gifted with superimagination symbolized dancing girls waving palm-leaf fans.

The Lincoln Hall dance was all that the publicity men said it would be; full of pep and jazz from the start, good music and above all a good crowd who appeared to enjoy every minute of the time.

FORMER STUDENT HERE
Miss Margaret Hesson '18, passed through Reno last week on a flying trip en route to her home in Elko for the sole purpose of casting her vote. "Marge" is now employed in the First Canadian Bank of San Francisco, and while in attendance at college here was a popular member of Pi Phi.

It was one of those exciting days on the Campus when the autumn wind swept across the quad and flying leaves, hats, caps and dressed filled the air. Beauty-in-Distress was tacking against the breeze with all canvas reef, but still the wind played fantastic tricks with her clothes.

The waves swept higher and higher filling the air with a continual spray of leaves. If she could only dock at the library until the diabolic wind blew itself out she would be safe. One hand desperately clutched a letter from George while the other, steadied the close reefed canvas. Many a man battling along beside her took courage when she was heard to murmur: "Oh, well, I paid twenty-five for my petticoat; I should worry—let her blow."

Around the corner of Stewart Hall careened a piratical looking craft; straight down on Beauty-in-Distress he steered with every sail full and his coat tails flapping like a skull and cross-bones at the masthead. The ocean heaved in gigantic convulsions, even the trees bent under the force of the outraged elements and as each blast struck our Lady-in-Distress, the frail craft staggered from the impact.

Closer circled the ungentlemanly pirate until in one great swoop he crashed full into the Lady-in-Distress. Tying the anchor chain securely to the hitching rack he made bold to cry above the noises of the storm: "Ahoy, Lady-in-Distress! Your canvas has blown clear of the deck."

Answered the captain of the dainty schooner: "It's my privilege to let it blow. Haven't I a perfect right?"

"Yea," yelled the pirate, "and a perfect left."

At that moment a towering wall of water swept away the last vestige of the hitching rack, a dogfish chased a catfish up the anchor chain and the spare tire sprung a slow leak. The pirate submerged and fled for Lincoln Hall.

Last week at Reno Hi was full of activity and the coming week bids fair to rival it.

On Friday Mr. Charles Norcross of the State University delivered a talk on the history of Nevada. With his customary excellence he gave a remarkable story of Nevada's early days.

Last Friday afternoon basketball games were played between the Freshman and Sophs, and Juniors and Seniors. The scores stood: Sophs 10, Freshman 6; Seniors 19, Juniors 10.

Rounding out the week the Freshman football team defeated the Sophs on Sunday at Mackay Field, to the tune of 18 to 6. As the Frosh won the first contest of the tournament they have decisively demonstrated their superiority over the Sophs.

Sergeant Skeen of the regular army has been transferred to Reno as assistant to Captain Page. Sergeant Skeen served for the duration of the war as a captain and comes with the highest recommendations for faithfulness and attention to duty.

On the calendar for the coming week is to be found the annual Sophomore hop, scheduled for Friday night. From the extensive preparations this promises to be one of the most successful social functions of the year.

On Saturday the first team will play the third string men of Coach Court-right's huskies. With one defeat from them the Hi men will go in determined to "bring home the bacon."

The next day, Sunday, the second team will meet the first team of the Sparks High school. No games have been played with them yet, but the Reno boys are confident of victory.

COMING!

A wild and woolly dance and everything with it, from six-guns to fire-water, that made the West famous for funerals and cow-punchers in the days of "49." There will be bar-rooms and bar maids and bar flies; gun fights and dog fights, tough hombres in sheep hair chaps, gringos and greasers, prospectors and tin-horn gamblers, everybody, and everything that made hooch and blood flow free in those good old days when the redskins bit the dust. Don't miss it—it's "rough and tough and full of fleas." It's four hours in a bar-room! it's a booze-hound's paradise and a preacher's lament; it's a Sophomore wild night out, and it's coming in the first week of the second semester. Don't forget it—it's the big show of the new year and there's a place for you at the bar.

DARTMOUTH.—The students at Dartmouth recently refused to adopt the honor system by a vote of 578 to 436. Students at Columbia University have recently been debating this same question.

CORNELL.—The Cornell cross country team which will meet the Oxford-Cambridge team will sail from New York December 14 on the Aquitania, accommodations having been secured for ten men by Graduate Manager Romeyn Berry '04. He also reserved passage for the return trip on the Emperor, leaving the other side December 31, and arriving in New York, January 6.

OHIO.—Everlasting recognition as participants in building the nation's greatest stadium will be gained by campus organization which are 100 per cent loyal in the Ohio State Stadium Campaign. The names of these groups will be inscribed on a bronze tablet in the stadium. Three sets of window cards will be used to designate 100 per cent loyalty—one kind for the University departments, another for houses having 10 or more students, and the third for organizations. The sum of $100,000 will be raised on the campus for the Ohio Stadium.

CALIFORNIA.—Wallace Bates, U. C. Sophomore and holder of the California tennis singles, has been instructed to appear before the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference at its next meeting and defend his eligibility for a place on the California Varsity tennis team. Bates, it is held, broke a conference rule when he went east on the Varsity team. He holds that his Freshmen year was over when the college term was over and that he was a Sophomore when he went east. Disqualification of Bates would be a serious blow to the California Varsity tennis chances.

DENVER UNIV.—D. U. has just won the tennis championship for the fifth year, defeating Colorado School of Mines and Colorado Aggies. University of Colorado did not enter any contestants for the championship this year, so the three schools fought it out, Denver winning three out of five matches in the finals with the Aggies.

TEXAS.—According to Miss Mary W. Ball, teacher of classic dancing, Texas University women may win the coveted "T" in dancing the same as in other sports, if they possess five qualifications consisting of: Ability to dance, posture, spirit with which work is done, healthful habits in sleeping and eating, and if they are passing in three university courses.

UNIV. OF OREGON.—Plans have been laid for the revival of publication, quarterly, of a humorous magazine to be known as "Lemon Punch" by the journalism students of the University of Oregon. The first issue will appear shortly before the Christmas holidays.

CALIFORNIA.—U. C. expects to cop the Coast Basketball championship this season and started practice last Friday with 37 candidates for positions on the 1921 Varsity. The squad will hold three practices weekly and prospects for a winning team are very bright, with many of last year's Varsity and '23 squad out.

RENO, NEVADA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1920

THE MINIATURE GAME

Due mainly to a general lack of interest on the part of the student body, and the heavy expenses which would be incurred in the next two games, it has been decided that the miniature games will not be given this week in the Gym.

It really is too bad, that a clever stunt like this, planned and worked out and handled entirely by a few University students who not only put themselves to a lot of trouble and work, and perhaps a little expense, should die so untimely a death because of a general lack of interest on the part of the entire student body. The first game pictured in the Gym had a few defects to it and in the second game these mistakes were corrected and the game was shown on the miniature field just as it was played. The showing of these games at the Gym offered the students an opportunity to watch graphically their team in action. That the townspeople appreciated this is evident from the fact that by far the greatest part of the audience was made up of townspeople, while the students were conspicuous in their absence. We talk and argue about the people of Reno giving their support to University activities, and they have responded nobly, and a great many of the students have silently slid back into oblivion, satisfied to let the people of Reno do the supporting. Let the people of Reno however, fail to attend our athletic contests and the raucous and blatant bray of our pinoche fiends, Saturday afternoon queeners, tennis fans and students in general who themselves only occasionally appear in the audience, is heard far above the wail of the faithful ones.

THE WESTWOOD BAND

One of the most appreciated features of the big game last Saturday was the Westwood Band. The band paid its own expenses to Reno and throughout the game rendered music without any compensation.

It is probably not known to the majority of the student body that the band came to Reno for the sole purpose of playing for the University and that they asked no pay for their services. It would be entirely appropriate if the A. S. U. N. would take action and vote a letter of thanks to the organization.

THE FOOTBALL PROGRAMS

The program issued at the big game last Saturday was an entirely new feature in University Athletics. While small programs have been put out for the other games the sixteen-page book, containing cuts of every man on the squad, was something attempted for the first time and bids fair to become an annual thing for the major game of each season.

The program will serve not only as a souvenir of the game, but will serve as a memento of the entire season as it contains the pictures and records of all of the men that represent Nevada on the gridiron. It is probable that the book will be put out under the auspices of the A. S. U. N. in the future and if so a larger and more comprehensive program can be edited.

ABSENCES

The Registrar has a bulletin board on which is posted the names of all students who have absences, excused and unexcused. After this these names will be posted inside the Registrar's office in a more conspicuous place, and the other bulletin board will be used for notices of general interest to the students. Both of these boards should be watched, for often notices of great importance to the students will be posted on it, and for which they will be held responsible.

THE READING HABIT

The man who has been teaching for nineteen years says that he reads six or seven books a year. Six or seven! Dr. Eliot's five-foot shelf of books would last him a long, long time. A lady teacher writes that she reads at least two books a week every week of the year. The difference is very marked. The man is teaching in a one-room school and certainly has more to do than the lady teacher. This man certainly has no more regular work than Theodore Roosevelt had and yet Mr. Roosevelt was an omnivorous reader. He read books on science, history, economics, literature, exploration, law, and theology as well as poetry and fiction. Twenty minutes after he had shot an elephant in Africa, he was leaning against a tree reading his copy of Balsac. A teacher was overheard to remark, "Our superintendent is not a reader of books. I have never heard him express an intelligent opinion of any book." Possibly he is too "busy." A superintendent forty-four years of age says he has not read Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." When a certain teacher said, "I haven't time to read," her companion remarked, "You have time to eat, haven't you?" Reading is the antidote for a disagreeable old age and there is no more important work in the school today than the work of inculcating the reading habit. There is a feeling abroad that many of our teachers are not readers of books and this seems inexplicable. Just how people live who do not read books is a marvel. Certainly the teachers who do not read books must go around and around and around in their work and thus become stagnant. It would be an interesting fact to know how many and what books each teacher in every city or county district has read so far this school year.—Arizona Wildcat.

A mother sees her daughter
Jazzin' round in life's mad whirl,
And says, "They never did such things
When your ma was a girl."
And yet, when her ma was a girl,

Poor grandma probably threw a fit
And handed her the same old spiel.

We all of us know about Chesterfields—they satisfy. But I'd like to see the fellow who drew their latest ad in which they depict a young football warrior taking a nice long soul-filling drag on one of them.

One of our fair young co-eds was overheard the other day talking to a friend. Here we go:

1st Fair Young Co-ed—I ate three onions tonight at Gow.
2nd Ditto—Do did? Well, for the love of Jack, don't breathe it to a soul.

Rather late you say? But listen, you old timers who remember your boyhood days and the 10c weeklies. Just 'sposin Nick Carter HAD been elected sheriff.

Hist, a little fact that I've discovered. One of our social lions has already started to gather his full D's together for the Junior Prom. So far he has succeeded in getting a pair of near-silk Sox and a celluloid collar, and the fact that the collar is a half size to spacious does not bother him in the least. This berry is running neck and neck in the race with another of our Beau Brummels who is buying his clawhammer on the installment plan. You see he won a dollar on last Saturday's game and appears to be slightly in the lead, but hark! His deadly rival is rumored to have gotten the promise of the use of a pair of real silk gloves, so the race bids fair to be close and heated. All jokin aside though, I'm going to start getting my waiters clothes together so when the Prom time comes along I'll be ready and rarin' to go.

Say—I've razed the girls (pardon me—the WOMEN) several times. Here is what "Ole Miss." thinks of the MEN.

Understand Men?

If you try to please a man he decides you are in love with him,
And if you don't try to please him he says you are disagreeable.
If you talk about yourself he is bored,
And if you talk about him he gets nervous.
If you believe all he says he thinks you are a simpleton,
And if you don't he calls you a cynic.
If you are jealous of him he vows you are narrow-minded,
And if you are not, he fumes because you don't like him enough to care.
If you have other sweethearts he accuses you of being a Theda Bara.
And if you let them all go but him he loses interest immediately.
If you wear narrow skirts and rakish hats he laughs at you,
And if you adopt dress reform, he elopes with a chorus girl.
UNDERSTAND MEN?
Say, do you think I'm the eighth wonder of the world?

"I'm wondering if anyone else heard Lou Coman reciting his prayers in Danske or Svenska or some such language to his motorcycle the other night when it stalled at the foot of the Lincoln Hall hill."
—Lillian.

Perhaps he was talking in the Morse or Continental code. They use dots and dashes also.

Something worth noting: Two girls came in late last week and Miss Mack cannot remember who they were.

One young lady "complains" of gaining weight on the Gow House chow. Isn't it strange that the University physician hasn't been unable to do all his work because of similar complaints?

Yes, Nature is certainly wonderful. Did you ever see a pair of lips that wouldn't fit?—Pelican.

Bobby Lewers they tell me is responsible for this outburst: "I'd like to see a stenographer climb up on a high stool."

Oh yes, and speaking of rolled socks—thass vertrue.

But say, speakin' of jazz mustaches and slight-of-hand performances. You see 'em—now you don't.

And then as he turned to her with arms opened invitingly, after emptying his vest pockets of cigars and pens, she answered with a cold disdainful smile: "You have deceived me. You have loved before."

The Daily Californian suggests that a memorial be built for the fellow who suggested to his girl that she change her style of dancing and step on his left foot for a change.

Isn't it the truth?

The Madison Cardinal has a professional card in its columns of a dentist, Dr. Scheurell.

They say he sure is.

THE "NEWS"

Oh, there isn't much that's going,
What you do or what you don't,
That doesn't get a hearing in the News,
Oh, there isn't much worth knowing,
What you will or what you won't,
That doesn't get, and more than get, its dues.
If it's fit to print, we print it;
If it isn't, why, we hint it,
But we never, never stint it,
In the "News."

We're a group of lads and lasses,
Quite a handsome group, we think.
If we asked you to agree, could you refuse?

We turn every thing that passes
Into blackest printer's ink,
For there's nothing either good or bad but "news";
We're a wonder as a guessor,
We get after each transgressor,
Be he Freshman or Professor,
In the "News."

It's a very proper college,
Any Frosh can tell you that
(But you needn't ask a Frosh unless you choose.)
And there's nothing else but knowledge

Under each and every hat,
(But a Frosh is one of nature's greenest hues.)
Say this prayer, if you are prayerful,
"If you can't be good, be careful,"
Or you'll surely find the air full

Of the "News."

The game was called at 2:10. A heavy flurry of snow at 2 o'clock gave way to calm weather which lasted throughout the game.

Nevada Vs. Utah Aggies

The above picture, showing Nevada's style of tackling, was taken in the game with Utah Aggies. Falck grabbed the ball and had a clear field before him for a touchdown, when Ted Fairchild and Ed Reed nailed him at the same time, just a few seconds too soon to spoil a good tackle by Dunne, who is shown still falling from his dive at Falck's feet.

der the goal posts who ran the ball back to the 30-yard line. Reed gained 5 yards around left end. Dunne plowed thru center for 10 yards gain and first down. Foster gained 1 yard thru the line. Another plunge at the line netted 2 yards. A bad pass from center was missed by Bradshaw on the next play, who regained the ball with a loss of 18 yards, placing the ball on Nevada's 30-yard line. Reed attempted to punt but was blocked by an Aggie end. Reed recovered the ball on Nevada's 12-yard line. On a wide end run, Bradshaw was forced out of bounds after gaining 5 yards. Dunne went thru center for 2 yards. Reed punted to the Aggies on Nevada's 40-yard line who ran the ball back 2 yards. A play over right tackle netted Utah 2 yards. A run around right end 1 yard more. The next play was stopped without gain. A shift play around right end gained 4 yards and first down. Aggies made 1 yard off tackle. An end run was stopped behind the line with a loss of 1 yard. A line buck made 2 yards. A try over right tackle netted 2 yards but failed to make first down. Ball went over to Nevada on downs. Reed punted on the first play to Aggie's 43-yard line, and the back was downed in place by Dunne. Aggies made 1 thru the line. Aggies lost 1 yard over right tackle. Aggies punted to Bradshaw on Nevada's 10-yard mark who carried the ball back 15 yards, being forced out of bounds. Reed went over left tackle for 4 yards. Foster fumbled at the line and Utah recovered on Nevada's 32-yard line. A pass from Falck to Dorius for 30 yards was completed, the ball being downed at Nevada's 2-yard line. The play was not allowed however, Aggies being penalized 5 yards for being offside. Aggies failed to gain at the line. Another try thru the line netted 2 yards. Falck went around left end for a gain of 5 yards. A wide end run advanced the ball 5 yards but failed to make the necessary yardage. Ball went over to Nevada on the Sagebrush 25-yard mark.

never stopped in their drive for a touchdown. With Dunne, Hammert and Reed plowing thru the line for big gains, Bradshaw capped the climax by passing 17 yards to Bill Martin who made the prettiest catch of the day, spearing the ball from among a dozen arms, and running two yards to cross the Aggie goal for the first score. Heward lived up to his reputation as a goal converter and added his extra mite.

Utah received the ball on the next kickoff but was forced to punt after carrying the ball to midfield. Hammert broke into the limelight on the first play, taking the ball from a fake punt formation around end for a gain of 36 yards before being downed on Utah's 36-yard mark. Repeated hammering of the line advanced the ball to the 16-yard line where it remained

A plunge at the line by Nevada was fumbled and Dunne recovered, with a loss of 1 yard. Reed punted to the Aggies on the 50-yard line, who returned the ball 2 yards. Aggies gained 3 thru the line. The next plunge was held without gain. A pass from Falck to Dorius was good for 8 yards and first down. A fumble cost Utah 4 yards. A play over right tackle gained 1 yard, and placed the ball on Nevada's 40-yard line. A pass by Utah was incomplete. Fourth down and 16 yards to go. Worley kicked to the Sagebrush 10-yard line and an on-side man recovered for Aggies on the 4-yard line. A line plunge gained 2 yards. A forward pass was incomplete, the ball going over Nevada on the 20-yard mark, account of a touch-back. Reed punted out of bounds to Nevada's 40-yard line. Aggies gained 6 yards thru the line. A sprint around right end netted 2 yards as the whistle blew the end of the first quarter. Score Nevada 0, Utah 0.

Second Quarter

Ball was put into play on Nevada's 42-yard line. Falck hit the line for 2 yards and first down. Another buck made 1 yard. On the next play, a run about left end, Tiny Fairchild broke thru the line and stopped the back with a loss of 3 yards. A pretty pass from Falck to Dorius netted the Aggies 22 yards. Utah was held for no gain on the next play. A trip around right end by Falck lost 4 yards, the ball being stopped on Nevada's 21-yard mark. A line play gained 4 yards. A complex pass from center and a run about left end was stopped by Reed on the 12-yard line. Ball went over to Nevada on downs. A trip around left end by Bradshaw was good for 11 yards. Hammert replaced Foster at left half. Hammert went around right end for 2 yards. Dunne hit center for 6 yards and repeated on the next play for 5 yards more and first down. Middleton went in at full-back for Dunne. Middleton went thru center for 2 yards. Bradshaw carried the ball on a wide end run for a gain of 6 yards, being forced out of bounds on the 42-yard line. Bradshaw went around the opposite end on the next play and made 6 yards and first down. Reed took the ball thru center for 2 yards. Middleton hit the line for 1 yard. Bradshaw passed to Reed for a gain of 20 yards who was stopped on Utah's 22-yard mark. A pass from Bradshaw to Fairchild was caught by an Aggie behind the line for a touch-back and the ball went over to Utah on their 20-yard line. A run about right end gained 5 yards. A play thru center made 2 more. A plunge at the line added 3 more for first down. Two plays at the line were held for no gain. Worley kicked to Bradshaw on Nevada's 26-yard line who returned the ball 13 yards. Hammert failed to as the quarter whistle blew. Two plays in the fourth period were all that were needed to add another seven points to the Varsity score. Bradshaw opened up by making a lateral run nearly to the sidelines and then passing to Hammert who was stopped on reaching the 1-yard mark. Dunne took an extra breath and pushed the ball over. Heward delivered the needed boot and the score stood Nevada 14, Aggies 0.

Aggies received the ball when Heward kicked off and carried it in a few plays as far as their own 25-yard line, failing to make first down. Worley punted to Bradshaw and he ran it back his customary ten or fifteen yards. Here again Nevada never stopped in her offensive for a score. Line plays and end runs and a few passes moved the ball from Nevada's 42-yard line to the 1-yard mark where Ed Reed bent his neck and drove thru for Nevada's third score. Heward performed his regular duty and made the score Nevada 21, Utah Aggies 0.

Church, who replaced Bradshaw at quarter, placed his name in the hall of fame by receiving the kickoff from Worley, and with little interference, dashing in record time thru the entire farmer team for a 56-yard return. He was finally stopped by Falck, playing safety. Had there been someone running interference at this time, nothing could have prevented a score. A series of plays advanced the Sagebrushers as far as the 27-yard mark where they were held for downs. The Aggies took renewed hope here and made a desperate effort to get away for a score. Falck proved himself a first-class open field runner as well as a field general when he broke thru the Nevada line and gained 41 yards before he went down. A pass placed the visitors 14 yards nearer the goal line, but that was the limit of advance. Line bucks proved of no avail, and a drop kick was attempted but was blocked by Waite who recovered for Nevada on the Aggie 35-yard line. Church made 10 yards in two plays, Dunne made two and then came Captain Reed. Reed got away around end and added 34 yards before he was nailed on the 20-yard line. A spasm of fumbles then seized both teams and the ball zig-zagged back and forth until the final whistle ended the game with Utah holding the ball on their 5-yard line.

Features of the game were the remarkable line plunging of Dunne, Nevada fullback who ripped off five and ten yard gains as a regular thing; the passing and end runs of Falck, Utah quarter, and Bradshaw, Nevada quarter, and the performance of all the Nevada backfield men, Hammert, Reed, and Foster, all of whom played sensational games. Church's return of a kick for 56 yards was the largest single gain made during the game. In the line positions all played stellar games, Buckman, Martin and Waite especially standing out, on both their offensive and defensive work. Dorius, Utah end, showed plenty of skill in nabbing passes as did Kirk, who substituted in the opposite end. Worley, Aggie captain, was another strong man on the farmer team who showed up well, especially in his kick-offs. The lineup:

SIGMA NU

The members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity observed Sigma Nu Memorial Day last Sunday by gathering at the home of Messrs. Will and George Cann for an enjoyable social hour, and then attending the services at the First Baptist Church, en masse. Rev. Brewster Adams made an inspiring talk on "The Gift of Sight" which was thoroly enjoyed by everyone.

Those present were: Messrs. Will and George Cann, Hugo Quilici, Charles Frisch, Cyril Fraley, Herbert Shirley, Clark Simpson, Ellis Harmon, Alex Fraser, Roland Williams, Marc Le Duc, William Herndon, Waldo Proctor, Walter Reid, David Tobias, John Ross, Robert Skinner, Robert Scoular, Chris Uecker and Neil Cadagan.

ARONS-PATRICK

Word was received the latter part of last week of the marriage in Dallas, Texas, of Lloyd Patrick to Miss Reka Arons of that city. The wedding took place Tuesday, November 2, and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golden of Reno. Lloyd Patrick, a graduate of the University in 1913 has been connected with the Holt Manufacturing Company for nearly seven years with the exception of the time that he spent in the army as captain and won an enviable war record. At the present time Patrick is manager of the Holt Mfg. Co. of Texas, with his home at Dallas. While in the University Patrick was prominent in all student affairs, being business manager of the "Sagebrush" in 1912-13, class president and football captain.

JONES-O'BRIEN

Last Saturday evening a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Jones of Sparks when Miss Hester Jones became the bride of Harold O'Brien. The engagement of the young couple had been made public but a few days, and the wedding was not expected until later in the winter. Mrs. O'Brien is a graduate of Sparks High School, later attending College of the Pacific where she studied music. Harold O'Brien, better known on the Hill as "Pat", graduated from the University last spring going to Montana where he was connected with the Anaconda Copper Company until just recently when he left to accept the position of chemist with the Ely Consolidated Copper Co. at McGill. "Pat" was a popular man on the Hill, being a member of Sigma Nu and Coffin and Keys and having held numerous student body offices, among which was that of athletic manager, which position he held last year. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will make their home in McGill.

LINCOLN HALL DANCE

Saturday evening the University Gym was the scene of a delightful dance given by the Lincoln Hall Association. The blue lighting of the Gym which dimly revealed the canopy of the American Flag overhead made a charming setting for the affair. Delicious punch and cakes were served thru out the evening and Les Tait's orchestra made light feet trip the merrier. The entire student body and faculty were invited. The patrons and patronesses of the affair were: President and Mrs. Walter E. Clark, Professor and Mrs. A. E. Turner and Miss Louise M. Sissa.

We, the Unbelievers, who were so fortunate as to attend the Lincoln Hall dance, wish to express our appreciation to Sultan Harker, the dance committee and all the "True Believers" of Lincoln Hall. Allah!

Kenny were given the final initiation degree into the I. O. A. O. Sorority. The rooms were tastefully decorated in the sorority flowers, the crimson and white roses. After the impressive ceremony a social evening was enjoyed. At 11 o'clock a delightful luncheon was served to Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. A. E. Turner, Misses Marcelline Kenny, Dorothy Harrington, Elaine Wright, Salome Riley, Laura Shurtleff, Georgiana Steiner, Bonnie Stephens, Elvina Blevins, Georgia Money, Clementine Shurtleff, Norma Brown, Phyllis Brown, Leila Sloan, Mary Browder, Thres Haughney, June Harriman, Emily Burke, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Schmidt, and Mrs. Bullerd were invited later in the evening as guests.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Sunday afternoon Eta Dueteron chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa held its initiation at the Masonic Temple. A happy hour at dinner served by the new men closed the day. The new members of the fraternity are: Charles Boyd, Stanley Davis, Charles Haley, Scott Hill, Harold Hughes, Lawrence McNamara, Elwood Rath, Arthur Shaver, James Scott, Forrest Young.

SIGMA NU STAG

The Sigma Nu's held a stag party last Monday night at the home of Roland Williams in Sparks. The town-people for several blocks around will vouch for their having had a good time. Between cigars and cigarettes there were talks, stories, recitations and even several rather questionable dramatic acts. Bowlen demonstrated the art of persuasion on cards and acquainted the fellows with several tricks that could be used to advantage in a poker game.

The local order of "Turtles" under the leadership of Nebo Fraley had prepared a very impressive ceremony to celebrate the addition of several new members: Geo. Cann, Herndon and Reed. The evening was topped off by hot-dogs and coffee that gave the fellows an added note of satisfaction and stability.

The guests were: Boyer, Bowlen, Kline, Faulbaum, Williams and McLean. Members present: Proctor, Herndon, Hansen, Hicks, Fraley, Reed, Harmon, Cann, Cann, Shirley, Cadagan, Quilici, Simpson, Fraser, Robinson, Frisch, Packard, Skinner, Le Duc, Williams and Ross.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The hot dog sale last Saturday afternoon was not very successful, due to the fact that nearly all of the spectators were on the field between halves. A good sum was realized, however, which goes to swell the Asilomar fund.

There was no meeting this week but the time was devoted instead to the committees. Each cabinet member is the head of some committee once every onth. This keeps the women interested in the organization, as well as informed on all that goes on during the month. The duty of the committee is to aid the chairman in every way possible, and very favorable reports of the girls' willingness to cooperate with their chairmen were handed in at the cabinet meeting Wednesday evening.

There are several copies of the Y. W. C. A. paper on file at the library. The paper is published monthly and sent to every organization that subscribes for it. Several copies were sent to this University and are available for all the women who care to read them.

CLIONIA STAGES VISITORS NIGHT

The Clionia Debating and Dramatic Society held its first visitors' night last Tuesday evening. About sixty students attended the meeting and much spirit was manifested by those who were there.

Intercollegiate and interclass debate was the main issue on the order of business. The question for intercollegiate debate submitted by the College of Pacific was referred to a committee of professors, and an announcement will be made within a few days as to whether we shall take the affirmative or the negative. The question is: "Resolved, The Constitution of the United States shall be amended so that Presidential candidates shall be elected by nation-wide direct primaries." The debate with C. O. P. will be held in San Jose next April.

The date for interclass try-outs was set for the evening of November 23. The Freshmen-Sophomore debate was set for the second meeting of the society in the second semester. The Junior-Senior debate will be held two weeks after the lower-class debate. The finals between the winning two teams will take place two weeks after the upperclass debate. The question to be debated by the interclass teams is the same as that for the intercollegiate debate.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Norma Brown, who had charge of the evening's entertainment. A humorous recitation by Virginia Higgins was first on the program. Gladys Grady and Helen Fuss gave a broken English interpretation of "Romeo and Juliet." "Frosh" Ahlers then introduced us to the Eastside Jew who was on a picnic. Mr. Edwards entertained by a few jokes and then sang a Chinese love ditty. A novel way of playing the piano was Madeline Dallas' stunt, in which she sat with her back to the piano as she played. George Duborg concluded the program by giving a declamation entitled "Fra Giacomo."

Visitors' night comes again a month from now, at which time another interesting program will be presented. But in the meantime, wake up, and show some pep. The try-outs for interclass debate teams will be held within two weeks and we want every class to be well represented.

FRIDAY FOOTBALL RALLY SUCCESS

After a pajama parade and rally through the streets of Reno which ended up at the Rialto Theatre in one last burst of noise, the football rally last Friday night began. The theatre was packed to the roof, hardly a seat being left vacant after the first reel of pictures had been shown. The show started with the regular Rialto bill, and the music was furnished by the theatre orchestra. First on the program came a feature film, and after this five acts of vaudeville. LeRoy and Havell put on a unique barrel jumping stunt, followed by the Fitzgerald Duo in a song and dance stunt. In this stunt an Egyptian dance was given, that with the costume and lighting effects took well with the large audience. Pedrini, an artist on the accordion came next and for his efforts on the acordion and his ability as a shimmy artist he was called back again and again. Next on the program were the Anselma Sisters who sang several popular songs to the accompaniment of the piano. The next act was that of Wentworth and Arnold, two clever chatterers. At this point of the program it appeared that the bald-headed row of the audience would break up the show for they added their quaint sayings to those of the actors. Everything came out all right though and when the lady in the case appeared in a beach suit of the newest design, the bald-headed row subsided into a peaceful audience, watchfully waiting for whatever should come next.

The seventh act of the vaudeville was the Reno Chamber of Commerce Glee Club, lead by Prof. Charlie, who sang some songs that gave them no end of applause. Brewster Adams, with his wonderful line came next, and besides making a few remarks about the Utah Aggie-Nevada game, he coaxed and wheeled the rooters in the audience into cheering and making a jazz party in general out of the show. George Springmeyer, '05 made a short talk to the people of Reno, on supporting the athletic contests and activities of the University, and a comparison of the spirit and support of the townspeople of some years ago with the present season.

The Westwood Band, with its thirty-five instruments, was next on the schedule and played song after song to a great deal of applause. One of the band played several saxophone solos and a second member gave several vocal selections.

The Rally came off in great style and was a huge success. It advertised the Aggie-Nevada game and the improvement in the attendance at the gate Saturday could easily be noted.

A. A. E. TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday, November 17, the U. of N. Chapter of A. A. E. will hold a regular business meeting at which many important things are to be brought up and discussed. Some time in the not far distant future the A. A. E. plans to give a smoker, dance or entertainment of some kind, and it is expected that at this meeting some definite form of entertainment will be decided upon.

No films will be shown or talks given until the next social meeting which will come two weeks from this coming Wednesday.

It is hoped that all members of University Chapter of A. A. E. will attend the meeting Wednesday and will bring along with them some new ideas in the way of entertainment that can be discussed.

LINES

(Written after departure from a geology lecture. The poet being still affected.)

When I wander to mystic realm
Of geological fancy,
I'm glad to know Bill's at the helm
Of a craft so strange and traney.

To metamorphic age we go,
Long before the time of Eden,
When things were changing, as you know—

This poem's good just keep on readin'.

assembled at a mining convention is scheduled. The program is in charge of Drs. Lincoln of the Mackay School of Mines, Butler of Arizona and Thompson of Idaho. A novel feature of the educational work will be the introduction by the U. S. Bureau of Mines of a number of films showing how education of mining students and underground men can be promoted by the use of motion pictures. There are some fifty noted speakers slated for this Congress and everyone who attends is assured of five days that will be very well spent.

While in Denver, Prof. Palmer hopes to visit some of the numerous mills and smelters in that district and also to spend some time at the Colorado School of Mines at Golden in a conference on admission requirements and subjects taught in the mining courses given over the country at the various mining schools.

Professor Palmer will represent the University of Nevada at the conference and will pay special attention to the educational side.

It is thought possible that Governor Boyle will also attend the conference and speak in behalf of the gold bonus.

We find a tooth, a fossil's tooth,
In igneous rock embedded,
A single remnant 'tis, forsooth,
Of a land once softly treaded.

Says Bill to me, he says, says he,
"Give ear to what I have to say,
And I do think you will agree
That you're a wiser man this day.

"For with this clue, this only tooth,
We geologists can create
A picture of an age uncouth.
An age beyond the birth of date.

"We can paint birds and trees and flow'rs,
The mammoth beast this tooth possessed,
The lakes, the seas, the dells, the
bow'rs,
The desert vale and wooded crest.

"We paint the rivers and the streams,
And every kind of living beast—
May I say it without extremes—
That trod this earth from west to east."

Nome about this time 'gan I to fear for the stability of Bill's mentus; but suddenly there

Came sounding back from modern age
The tones of a class bell ringing,
And calmed this raving personage—
Ne'er there was so sweet a singing.

As I said above,

When sailing into mystic realm
Of geology fantastic,
I'm glad to know Bill's at the helm—
But I hate to think his mind's so plastic.

JUNIOR PROM TO BE NEXT EVENT

The Junior class will hold a meeting Friday to work out the details of the semester's next big social event, the Junior Prom. This will be practically the first meeting the Junior class has held this semester and should be held this semester and should be snappy and filled with much discussion. December 11th has been set as the date for the Prom, and the affair promises to be the biggest formal dance of this semester. In past years the Junior Prom has always been the big formal affair of the college year and this year the class of '22 intends to uphold this tradition and make their Prom the biggest ever. For this Prom, President Ed Reed has appointed the following committees:

Decoration—Homer Johnson, chairman; Anthony Zeni, Norma Brown, Gertrude Harris, Hugh Quillici.

Finance—Oren Oden, chairman; Francis Walsh, June Harriman.

Music and Program—Gerry Eden, chairman; Vera Wickland, Bob Griffith.

Invitations and Refreshments—Evelyn Walker, chairman; Floyd Moffitt, Arvella Coffin.

Reception—Ed Reed, chairman; Editha Brown, Gladys Smith; Leslie Bruce.

Nevada fans have little cause to worry, in spite of the Trojan's reputation, and when the final gun sounds it is more than likely that there will be but one or two touch-downs dierence in the scores, with the breaks just a little for Nevada.

Government stenographers have busy days now. Two fair young typists were talking about their work the other day, and one said, "Isn't it fierce, the amount of work we are getting now?"

"Fierce?" echoed the other; I should say so. Why, yesterday I typed so many letters for my boss that last night I finished up my prayers with 'yours truly.'
