Varsity Wins First Contest At Honolulu

COURTRIGHT'S ELEVEN TRIMS UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII IN BIG CONTEST ON CHRISTMAS DAY BY 14 TO 0 SCORE

It was expected that the special detailed account of the Varsity-Hawaii game which was sent to the Sagebrush from Honolulu Christmas Day would be received in time for publication in this issue but as yet they have not been received. The only report received here was that sent by wireless to the Associated Press which appeared in the local papers this week and reads as follows:

HONOLULU, Dec. 27—(Delayed)—The University of Nevada defeated the University of Hawaii, 14 to 0, here Saturday in the first football game ever played between the Honolulu team and an eleven from the mainland. The game was played before the largest crowd ever assembled here to witness an athletic contest.

Nevada's forward passing was a feature of the game and enabled the visitors to keep the ball in the home team's territory during almost the entire contest.

"Rabbit" Bradshaw, the Sagebrushers' quarterback, starred in the passing and in the plays against the Hawaii line.

The lineups which were given out before the game are as follows:

Nevada (14)	Hawaii (0)
Martin	Kanahele
	L.E.R.
Fisher	Mott-Smith
	L.T.R.
Buckman	Lydgate

Eleven nationalities are represented in the University of Hawaii foot ball team which was defeated by the University of Nevada in Honolulu, Christmas Day, by the score of 14 to 0. This was the first time in history that a mainland team ever visited Hawaii. The eleven races on the team shown in the picture are: Korean, Japanese, Chinese, Hawaiian, Irish-Hawaiian, Swedish-American, English-Hawaiian, Canadian-Hawaiian and American. The inset is of Coach Ray Elliot of the Rainbow eleven. He was formerly a star football man at Pomona College.

BUREAU OF MINES HEAD IS ON HILL

Dr. S. C. Lind, who is to take charge of the U. S. B. M. Experiment Station at the University arrived in Reno during the Christmas holidays, and brought with him the remaining members of his force. The Experiment Station force now is complete, from the head down to the janitor who will look after the new building which is in the course of construction.

Dr. Lind has been connected with the Bureau of Mines work for the past eight years, and comes to Reno from Golden, Colorado, from which place the Reno Experiment Station has been moved. He will have temporary offices probably in the Physics building at the University until the new building is fully completed, and the work of the station will be started probably at once. The University laboratories will be used until the Bureau of Mines laboratories are put in shape for use.

terms of the agreement. In the event that the game Christmas Day had ended in a tie score, the two teams would meet again on New Year's Day to settle the argument, but with Nevada emerging victorious the Sagebrushers will have to face the strongest Island aggregation which can be sent against them. A number of the elevens there have shown considerable strength this season, among them being the Hawaii Varsity, Waikiki, Outrigger and Palama teams. These four intercollegiate squads make up what is called the Major League and in the series of games played thus far stand as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Varsity	2	1
Palama	2	1
Outrigger	1	2
Waikiki	1	2

The final selection of the team which will meet the Nevada eleven will in all probability be left up to the Nevada game committee, composed of Honolulu business men, according to the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, evening paper of Honolulu. In an article appearing in the Island paper be

PRESENT STYLE OF FOOTBALL IS BEST

The great American game of football has evolved from a contest of brute force and "beef" to a game that calls for speed, headwork and endurance. In the old days size and strength were all that went to make up a good football man, and the contest consisted of hugging the ball and going for short gains through the line. This soon became monotonous however from the spectators standpoint at least. From time to time the men who have been responsible for the framing of the rules have inaugurated changes that were beneficial from the players side as well as from the spectators. In the early days there was no

FROSH FIVE HOPE FOR EASTERN TRIP

The Freshman basketball team emerged victorious in their second game of the season, Saturday the 18th, when they defeated the Reno High School quintet in a fast, hard fought game. The Reno team is composed of practically the same men that won the state championship last year in the academic tournament.

Lester's work at forward was the feature of the game, his style of playing resembling that of Waite. He is fast on his feet, has a good head for the game and is a dead shot. He was all Pacific Coast High school forward last year and as captain of the Frosh team he is proving himself to be a marvel on the court.

The high school team used the five man defense throughout the entire game but it was unsuccessful against the superior strategy of the first year men. The '24 men used a four-men offense with the back guard coming into the play late.

The two teams lined up as follows:
 Freshmen. Reno Hi.
 Lester Forward..... Lorigan
 Adams Forward..... McInnis
 Griswold Center..... Gibbons
 Duborg Guard..... Lohline
 Codd Guard..... Harrison

Substitutes, U. of N. Frosh: Scranton for Duborg and Hammert for Adams. Reno Hi: Drappo and Hood. Referee, Wilson.

Coach Williams is trying to arrange games with sufficient teams in the east and middle west to make it possible for his proteges to take an extensive trip during the Easter vacation. Some of the teams with which he is corresponding for this purpose are: Ogden Hi, Columbus (Neb.) Hi, Consul Bluffs (Iowa) Hi, Toledo Hi, Michigan City Hi, Buffalo (N. Y.) Hi and Buffalo University Frosh, Almira (N. Y.) Hi, Cornell Frosh, and the College of the City of New York Frosh.

Besides this tentative trip there is a game scheduled with Davis Agricultural College at Davis, and probably with the California Frosh at Berkeley. They are also hoping to include in this trip a game with Stockton Hi and Polytechnic Hi at Long Beach.

RADIO WILL GIVE WEATHER REPORTS

The Air Mail Radio Station at the University will broadcast a daily state weather report, beginning January 5th, according to L. D. Coman Jr., who is in charge of the University station.

This report, which will be given to the station direct from the weather bureau, will be broadcasted to all College and amateur stations within its radius, and will be transmitted once or perhaps twice a day. It will contain a short report on the weather in the various parts of the state for the issuing day and night.

It is planned to give this bulletin at twelve noon, every day excepting Sunday, on a wave length of 1050 meters, beginning first with the "arc" apparatus, and then with the damped apparatus.

The Weather Bureau hopes to further its work by this method of broadcasting the reports, and since the service is free to all college and amateur operators who listen in, the method no doubt will have the desired effect as there are innumerable amateurs who are within the radius of the Reno sets, not only in Nevada but in the nearby states.

COLWELL

Mark Colwell came to us this year from New York and won his first Block "N" at the position of Varsity tackle. While he carries around with him somewhat over 200 pounds of beef and brawn, he has speed and ability that puts him in a class by himself. He is a wonder at breaking thru the line and tackling the man with the ball almost as soon as it is received, and his weight has strengthened the Nevada line at many a critical time.

ST. MARY'S WANTS CAL.-NEVADA TITLE

After an unfortunate season of football, St. Mary's college is looking to her basket squad to capture many coveted laurels for the school. Many old stars are out for practice and according to all appearances, St. Mary's is planning to cop the title of the Nevada-California league. Her hopes perhaps are pinned on such stars as Bob Moy, Ludolph, Valencia, Landgren, Brusher and Neff, and the graduate manager is anxious to meet any unlimited team in order to get the much needed practice to turn out a winning squad.

Ted Fairchild made his first football letter last year and again made his letter this year. He holds down the opposite end to Martin and the two men, Ted and "Wild Bill" make a wonderful combination of ends. CHURCH

"Bill" Church made his second Block N this season, playing in the quarter-back position. He was a member of last year's whirlwind team, and his playing this year has been unusually brilliant. He is a heady field general, and is equally adept at passing, carrying the ball and playing safety. He staged a spectacular run in the Utah Aggie game when he returned a punt 56 yards thru the entire Logan team.

FOSTER

"Herb" Foster started the season this year as a mediocre halfback who got in the game occasionally when the score was safe, but before the season was half over he developed into one of the outstanding stars of the team. His ability at receiving passes netted Nevada much ground, and his plunging was of the most brilliant type. He is rated as one of the star performers on the team. He also plays on the Varsity basketball squad.

COLORADO—The Freshmen at Colorado State College have a habit of breaking off back porches, stealing brooms, and various other household articles with which to build bonfires for rallies. Citizens are now demanding that they be paid for the damage. School authorities are backing the city and it is probable that the sum will total about $40.

UTAH—Women of the University of Utah have formed a club for all members of the Women's League who are interested in skiing. More than twenty students have joined and plans have been made for several long trips on skis to be taken this winter. Among other arrangements, a tournament is under way, which will be held for the championship of the University. This is a new venture at the Mormon institution, but from the interest manifested already it promises to be very successful.

NEW YORK—Along with the new graduate school of business administration at New York University a bureau of business research has been established. This bureau will place the facilities of the school at the service of the business men and public officials.

About 1,100 former soldiers have taken advantage of the Wisconsin soldier bonus law to attend the University of Wisconsin this year.

RENO, NEVADA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1920

THE 1920 SEASON

With Nevada Varsity's last game of the year 1920 but two days off, a very successful season will soon be brought to a close. This season has been a new experience for the Sagebrush eleven, different perhaps in a great many respects, than any heretofore attempted. One thing has been proven to a certainty, that the wearers of the Silver and Blue are worthy opponents for any team in this section of the country, on the Pacific Coast or in the Rocky Mountain states. Never before has Nevada met such a variety of teams, of such strength and come thru the season as successfully. Raised from the low level of a second class college team to an aggregation fit to represent any institution in the west or middle west, has been the result of but two years under the efficient handling of Coach Courtright.

According to some fans the season this year has been only a mediocre one for the Varsity who after all failed to develop into the powerful machine that was expected of them and made only a half way showing in their season's games. They would like to have seen the Varsity win every game, and in so doing run up a score above the hundred mark as happened in several games last fall. True, all Nevadans would like to have seen a record of every game won, but the mere fact that the score is chalked up in three figures means absolutely nothing. Figures are a poor criterion by which to judge a football team. Last season's results show a total of ten games played, eight won, one tied and one lost, and a total of 452 points amassed to opposing teams' 32. The same data concerning this season's record shows exclusive of the post season games in Hawaii, nine games played, six won and three lost, and Nevada's total points amounting to 172 as against 164 for their opponents. Considering merely the simple figures, last year looks better than this, but such a comparison is worthless and unfair. In the ten games played last year, the Varsity met only three real football teams, against whom they played four games, winning two, tying one and losing the other. The remaining games were played against teams which rated at best, were only second class. In contrast, of the games played this season, seven were against teams of recognized strength and standing, all of whom went thru remarkably successful seasons. Of the seven games, three were lost, two of which were clearly decisive defeats and the other, what is commonly termed a "break." All of Nevada's victories this year have been against strong teams of high standing, and wins over such teams as Utah and Utah Aggies, alone, places Nevada in the class with any team in the Rocky Mountain Conference. On the other hand, the strength of California and U. S. C. cannot be denied, either of whom would make a creditable showing against any team in the country, so the sting of these defeats are lessened to a large degree.

Taken all in all, 1920 has been a splendid year for Nevada Varsity and with a 14 to 0 score hanging over Hawaii and every chance for a similar one on New Year's Day, there is just cause for rejoicing at the Sagebrush institution.

U. of N.

THE SCRUBS

There is a squad of men at Nevada who have been mentioned but little this season, but to them is due a great deal of credit and thanks of Nevada students. This squad, the "Scrubs," "Second String" or whatever name they are given, fought for a place on the Varsity the entire season. Few of them ever had the chance to play in a big game, few made their letter, and none of them made the Honolulu trip. They are the ones that the Varsity worked over, beat and bruised up and fought against the entire season and they are the ones who are almost wholly responsible for the success of the Varsity. The "Scrubs" as a rule do most of the work and rarely are honored by the students. Next season no doubt many of them will win their Varsity berth. However that will be next year, and as it happens we are living in the present.

Block "Ns" cannot be given to scrubs this year but one thing can and that is the appreciation and thanks of the entire student body for their work in the 1920 football season.

With the College Scribes

THE ALL-AMERICAN

When a man tries out for a football team, he determines at first to win a place on the Varsity. He makes that the sky limit of his ambition, bends all efforts to it until, by dint of hard, consistent work, he succeeds in winning his letter. But his ambition cannot cease here. He finds that the men about him are not resting back on their laurels. Each is fighting to keep the admiration of his fellows on the team and in the stands; fighting to win the approval of the critics who understand skill and determination; fighting with a hope that some day he may win the honor of a place on the All-Conference, All-Western, and—final goal of all athletics—the All-American.

Even if he is not accorded this recognition of a place on the famous mythical eleven, the man who has refused to admit defeat, fought steadily until the last whistle of his final season, has gained a self-confidence that cannot but be one of his greatest possessions.

It is that way with life. The day-dreamer is the man who can see only the distant goal, and has neither the foresight to plot out, nor the will to carry through, the steps that intervene. It is the pluggier who, keeping his ideal in mind, sets his immediate aim and reaches it, and then sees the next step and sets out with might and main to achieve that, who is the most likely All-American prospect in the game of life.—Michigan Daily.

COACH WILLIAMS

Assistant Coach Williams not only watched the "scrubs" and the Freshman team but helped Coach Courtright in training this year's Varsity. To him is due a large amount of credit for a successful football season.

U. of N.

ECKERSALL PICKS
HIS ALL-AMERICAN

Walter Eckersall, usually considered the peer of Western sport writers, writing in the Chicago Tribune, gives his choice for the 1920 All-American. His eleven while differing from that of Walter Camp agrees on four positions that are filled by Carney, Keck, Stinchcomb and Gipp.

It is a hard proposition to pick a team that will not be subjected to the usual criticism, and Eckersall's choice no doubt has come in for its share. Eckersall is a Western sport writer, while Camp is a far Eastern man and the teams picked by the two men naturally show the fact. Had a third writer equally as well known been a Pacific Coast man and picked his All-American, without a doubt a large percentage of the men on the mythical eleven would have been far Western men. Both Eckersall and Camp however picked four men who will stand out as probably the greatest football stars of the 1920 season: Carney of Illinois, Keck of Princeton, Stinchcomb of Ohio, and Gipp of Notre Dame.

According to Eckersall, champion ends were at a premium this season in the East, while in the West they were almost plentiful. Both sections of the country had great backs and tackles, while quarterbacks were not far behind. Guards eligible for the All-American were scarce in both sections.

On account of his performance in the East against the Army, Gipp of Notre Dame is awarded one of the halfback positions, while Stinchcomb of Ohio who is credited with bringing the Big Ten championship to Ohio State is picked as the other half. Horween of Harvard is given the fullback position because of his stellar work both on offensive and defensive plays. McMillin of Center College draws the quarterback honors of the second successive year. Carney of Illinois is given his place at left end because of his wonderful defense and his ability to receive the famous Illinois forward passes, while Le Gendre of Princeton has drawn the opposite end. The famous Keck of Princeton has been given one of the tackle positions, and Tully Voss of the University of Detroit is given the other tackle job. Voss has won several games for his team by his remarkable ability in breaking through the line, blocking kicks and converting them into touchdowns. Tolbert of Harvard and Acosta of Yale draw the guard positions. For center, Eckersall picks Wallace of Ames, as Wallace stands out far above the rest of the material for his stellar work throughout the 1920 season. Wallace is a wonder at tearing the opposing line to pieces and throwing the

COURTRIGHT (Coach)

Little need be said of Coach Courtright. He came to Nevada a year ago from Oklahoma and brought the Sagebrush Varsity up from a second rate eleven to one of the strongest teams on the coast, ranking with the best. He did equally as well in basketball, his last year's five carrying off the honors as Pacific Coast Champs.

runners for losses every time. Eckersall believes him to be the greatest center developed in the middle West since the time of Germany Schultz.

CHARLEY CHAPLIN IS AT MAJESTIC

According to the California Theater of San Francisco two comedians, Harold Lloyd and Buster Keaton, have outstripped Charlie Chaplin in favor with the public and of these two the San Francisco house declares that Buster Keaton will soon be crowned the one supreme. To settle this much mooted question for the Reno public the Majestic has arranged a triple comedy bill which includes all three of these comedians. Harold Lloyd is now appearing there in his latest comedy special "Number Please," Charlie Chaplin in "A Jitney Elopment" and Buster Keaton in the big seven reel special "The Saphead". This is an adaptation from William H. Crane's biggest stage success "The New Henrietta" and co-stars Crane himself with Keaton.

Beginning Sunday the Majestic will show George Ade's greatest college play "Just Out of College." It stars Jack Pickford and will be shown on a double bill with Olive Thomas in "Youthful Folly."—Advt.

Thrilling Plays In The Nevada-Utah Game

Bradshaw, Nevada quarter, making the longest return of a punt during the Varsity-Mormon battle. Receiving the ball on Nevada's 35-yard line, he carried it to Utah's 15-yard line before he was halted. A misstep took him slightly over the sidelines, and the run was thus cut down to a 30-yard gain.

BRADSHAW

The famous "Shimmy" Bradshaw, better known on the Coast as the "Rabbit," though only weighing 140 pounds makes up his lack of weight by his speed. In fact "Shimmy" is said to be the fastest and cleverest quarter that has ever worn a Nevada uniform. He won his "N" last year in basketball, and football, and again this year in football. About three-fourths of all the men picking All-Pacific Coast teams in football have picked Jimmy for the quarter position. Jimmy has made many famous forward passes with his southpaw and has made many long runs for touchdowns that have marked him as one of the stellar players of the Pacific Coast.

—U. of N.—

REED (Capt.)

"Li'l Eddie" Reed, or "Flash" Reed as he has been called, was captain of 1920 Varsity and at the same time held down the position of halfback. Reed is one of Nevada's hardest tacklers, fastest men and greatest ground gainers. He has won three "N's" in football and two in basketball, besides being a leader in many college activities. Reed also has several record runs to his credit on the football field.

JOHNSON

Homer Johnson, better known as "Johnnie" or "Windy", is a man who can always be depended on to gain a good yardage by his end runs or line plunges. He is a man experienced in football, knows the game from start to finish and is one of the heaviest hitting backs Nevada has ever known. He played during the war with the famous Great Lakes Naval Training School team and was considered one of star halfbacks. "Windy" won his "N" last season and repeated again this season and is one of Nevada's most valuable men.

NEBRASKA — Fifty-two scholarships, totaling $4,335 have been granted during the past year to University of Nebraska to men who served in the World War. The scholarships are granted upon application, by the Y. M. C. A., from a national fund which is taken from the money subscribed in the United States War Work Campaign.

The 1920 Silver and Blue Varsity

M. FAIRCHILD

Mahlon Fairchild is known better as "Tiny" because he isn't, and holds forth at right guard on the Varsity. "Tiny" started winning his football "Ns" in 1917 and has kept it up ever since. With "Tiny" as one guard and big "Buck" as the other and Colwell as the center man, many a hole has been opened up in an opponent's line that the Nevada backfield went thru for big gains. Fairchild with his 185 pounds of beef does his part on the defense and helps to make Nevada's line a reinforced concrete wall at the crucial times. He was captain of the Sagebrush eleven last year and was a big factor in making the season the big success it was.

ARMY-YALE CONTEST SLATED FOR OCT. 22

The 1921 football schedule for the Army team has been arranged for eight games. The final season game with the Navy team will be played at New York on November 26, closing a season in which games will be played with Yale, Notre Dame, Springfield College, New Hampshire State, Wabash, Middlebury and Lebanon Valley Colleges, Susquehanna and Villa Nova.

DUNNE

Vincent Dunne, from Stockton, better known as "Vince," won his first Block "N" last year and his second this year in football. Though only of a few years' experience, he has developed into a wonderful yardage gainer, a wicked and sure tackler and a Nevada man whose place would be most hard to fill. In his position of fullback he is a man to be feared by any opponent.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO A. S. U. N. CONSTITUTION

Strike out Section 8, Article XIII, which reads:

"Any part of this constitution may be suspended by a two-thirds vote of the members of the A. S. U. N., the length of time of suspension to be stated in the motion."

GRANT

Grant is one of the mainstays of the team, playing his second year of Varsity ball. Last season he was seen largely in the backfield where he played a strong game, but this year was shifted to the line and has developed into a valuable lineman. He has an educated toe which he often gets to use to good advantage.

NEW RULES MAY ALTER FOOTBALL

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A number of changes in football rules are under discussion at the annual conference of athletic officials which is being held here this week, with representatives from various Eastern, Western and Southern institutions present. The first session was held Tuesday by the Athletic Research Society. Wednesday the Intercollegiate Athletic Association met and discussed many of the changes which have been proposed in the regulations for next year's season. Among these were the elimination of the goal kick after touchdowns and suppression of the forward pass. It was suggested that distance penalties within ten yards of the goal line be barred, except for intentional roughness where the foul was committed with the idea of putting the opposing player out of the game.

The 1920 Sagebrush Backfield

The "Sagebrush" backfield in action, travels too fast for a good picture, so this one was specially posed. Nevada has a backfield in these four men that is to be feared by any team on the Coast, to say nothing of the two Utah teams. They are all of them fast, experienced, travel like a bullet, and use interference that is extremely hard to break down. Taken altogether, these four men make up probably the strongest and fastest backfield that has ever worn the Silver and Blue, and to see them in action is a sight long to be remembered.

(Upper)—Captain Reed breaking thru the Morman's left tackle for an 8-yard gain in the first quarter.
(Center)—Middleton carrying the ball across the Crimson line for Nevada's first score. This touchdown was made in the second quarter and set the score board at Nevada 7, Utah 7.
(Lower)—Bradshaw making a brilliant return of a Utah punt, carrying the ball 20 yards before being stopped. One of the Nevada backs running interference can be seen on the ground after spilling his man.

REES

Rees won his coveted "N" this year playing in the guard and tackle positions. This is his first year on the team and though he did not play in all the games, showed up mighty well when he had the opportunity. He is making "Bevo" Colwell his model and unless something unforeseen happens, will be seen in the limelight before many more football seasons have passed.

Big things on Feb. 5.

HAMMERT

Hammert came to Nevada this fall from Oklahoma, where he was a star in nearly all sports at Anadarko High School. His ability was soon recognized and he was placed on the first string squad. During the season he played splendid football in the back-field, and was a star performer on end runs, in running interference and playing defense. A broken hand kept him out of a number of games but failed to rob him of his big letter.

—U. of N.—

Symbols of war have nearly all passed. For example, shoes built on comfortable lasts.

WAITE

Football was an experiment this year for Noble Waite, having heretofore concentrated his efforts on basketball. He has won his letter in that sport three times and this year will captain the Varsity five. In football, Waite soon learned the game, and was placed on the first string squad early in the season, where he played a consistent game at end, and was awarded his letter in football at the close of the season. He is president of the Block N Society.

—U. of N.—

Save a date for Feb. 5.

BUCKMAN

Tom Buckman, "Long Tom" or "Buck", has won his letter in every branch of Nevada's athletics. He first started collecting his football letters in 1916, his basketball letters in 1915 and his track letters in 1916, and omitting the time he spent in the service, he has won a letter in each sport every year. "Buck" holds down the berth of right guard on the Varsity and somehow or other is found mixed up in almost every play. In spite of his size and weight he is one of the fastest men on the team and is one of Nevada's most valuable men.

PRESENT STYLE OF FOOTBALL BEST

specified yardage that had to be made in a given number of downs and this made it possible for a team to keep the ball for the entire game if they did not fumble. Then a rule was made calling for five yards in three downs, this being the first step towards opening up the game. The succeeding changes have all been towards that goal.

When the rule calling for the ten-yard gain in four downs was inaugurated it necessitated a far more open play, for ten yards is a long distance to cover. As a result of that, the aerial game into use and it is this style of play that is making the game so popular in the grandstand and on the field at the present time.

In the old days the adherents of the game considered it the end, while today it is the means to a better physique. Under the old rulings if a man was taken out of the game he could not be put back in, and this resulted in frequently keeping a man in the play as long as he could stay on his feet, and often resulted in permanent injuries. Today a man can be taken out and reinstated as frequently as is desired and in this way a valuable man can be of use throughout the game and can come out of it benefitted rather than harmed.

IDAHO—An Armistice Day football game is to be made an annual event in Boise by the Alumni Association of the University of Idaho. At the Utah-Idaho game this year on Armistice Day, the gate receipts were $6300, clearing more than $1500 for the A. S. U. I.

1920 CAMP'S ALL-AMERICA

The above cut of Walter Camp's All-American shows the men picked for the mythical eleven which is the final goal of all football men. Though there may be some criticism from various parts of the country over some of the men picked it must be conceded that Walter Camp is probably the greatest eastern football critic and his choice carries a great deal of weight. Camp has witnessed thousands of big conference games and has seen all of the members of this year's All-American in action, and after comparisons made of all the men he has seen in action, the following is his choice for the big team:

- Carney (Illinois) end.
- Fincher (Georgia Tech) end.
- Keck (Princeton) tackle.
- Scott (Minnesota) tackle.
- Woods (Harvard) guard.
- Callahan (Yale) guard.
- Stein (Pittsburg) center.
- Lourie (Princeton) quarter.
- Stinchcomb (Ohio) halfback.
- Way (Penn State) halfback.
- Gipp (Notre Dame) fullback.

MARTIN

"Wild Bill" Martin, Varsity end, made his first football "N" in 1917 and has made his letter each year since, that he has been in school. He also is a three-year basketball man, and was captain of last year's basket Varsity, which won the Pacific Coast championship. "Wild Bill" is one of Nevada's most famous ends, being mentioned by many writers for an All-Coast end position, and plays a fast hard consistent game that is rarely equalled.

Varsity Wins First Contest

fore the arrival of the visiting team a few of the features planned by way of entertainment were mentioned. For the benefit of those who were left behind and can only read of the trip, it is reprinted here:

"Tentative plans for the entertainment of the University of Nevada football squad during their visit here were made yesterday at a meeting of the University of Hawaii entertainment committee.

Various committees were appointed to see to it that the plans of the general committee go through. The final program will not be laid out until the arrival of the Renoites, as it was thought advisable to learn of their intentions before filling up every day with some special event.

The reception committee that will meet and convey the team about the city upon their arrival next week is headed by Ezra Crane. A big aloha will be accorded them, leis will be placed around the necks of the players, and they will be escorted to the near points of interest. At 12 o'clock a luncheon will be served at the Outrigger Club, followed by a swim and surf. Miss Mary Li has charge of the luncheon. Charles Lambert is in charge of the aquatic side of the program during the two weeks' stay of the visitors. Other events now on the program consist of a trip to the museum, aquarium, Moanalua tea gardens, around the Island trip, surfing parties and various motor trips to nearby scenic points.

On the Sunday following the New Year's game a luau will be given in honor of the Nevada eleven. The next evening will feature a big dance at the Country Club, and the last night here there will be a smoker at the Commercial Club. Before the final program is decided upon additions to the above program will be made.

FISHER

Fisher is a new man who is wearing the Silver and Blue colors for the first time, having transferred to Nevada this year. He is an old hand at the game and played two years on the California Varsity while at Berkeley. "Fish" was one of the strongest men in the line this year, playing tackle, and from what men who have played against him say, was almost impossible to keep out of a play.

U. of N.

CARNEGIE TECH.—A plan has been evolved at Carnegie Tech to keep the football squad organized the year round, and thus help its efficiency. The plan is to hold meetings at regular intervals throughout the year. According to one of the men, the new plan is to have the Tech football team "think football every day of the year."

MIDDLETON

Middleton is one of the new men making his letter this year, never before having been out for the Varsity. He is heavy, plunging fullback, and has been a consistent ground gainer thru the line all season. In the game against the University of Utah he scored Nevada's first touchdown which tied the count and was a big factor in making the Sagebrush team victorious. He was also a member of last year's basketball squad.

U. of N.

CINCINNATI—The honor system, as drawn up by the Woman's League at the University of Cincinnati was voted down at a meeting of the Student council. It was discussed from various points of view. Those opposing, however, finally won out. The strongest opposition came from the engineering and medical students.

HEWARD

Jack Heward has held his berth for two seasons on the Varsity and this year as center was one of the best of Nevada's men. His toe, fast becoming educated to distance kicks has helped Nevada out of many a tight place this season. Jack rarely misses a goal, this season converting 23 out of 25 possible tallies, and outside of his kicking ability he is not only a good tackler but an all-round valuable man.
