Basket Team Leaves Friday for Coast

First Contest of Season Won by St. Mary's

St. Mary's College five won Nevada's first intercollegiate basketball game of the season last Saturday in the U. Gym. The final count is 21 to 19. The Saints win by a narrow margin—too narrow for any claims of superiority to be made. Coach Court-right is not contented after the game. He has satisfaction pushed at him. So he coins, not an alibi, but a reasonable phrase for Nevada's defeat: "Too much Honolulu."

The U Gym is packed with people come to see the Blue and White in action. The Sagebrushers have not lost an intercollegiate hoop contest on their own floor for two years. Everybody hopes they will not set a precedent—a few think so however. The red-sweated Saints come out first. Noisy cheers welcome them. They practice field goal shooting and look good to us.

Captain Waite leads his team on the floor. There are Buckman, Eddie Reed, Martin, and Bradshaw with him. People put on their glasses to watch their warming up antics. Referee Seawright of Davis Farm blows his whistle to start the game. The crowd gets restless but remain quiet. Nevada gives her battle cry as the ball goes up at center. They are off!

The first five points are made on foul penalties. St. Mary's gets three of them. Nevada does not possess the old-time flash of action. The Saints are wise to the Sagebrush style of play. They linger just outside of Nevada's outposts. Ludolph, St. Mary's center, must be thinking of Frank Froeh. He certainly possesses that famous champion's deadly accuracy. Ludolph drops the spheroid through Nevada's goal time and again from the center mark. The Saints dare not invade Nevada's defense. They know too well what will happen. Moy, Saint forward, and Silva, their stellar guard, feed the ball to Ludolph throughout the first half. The score is 19 to 8 at half time. Nevada is on the short end. They do not go out to get their men. They play an over-defensive game. Nevada has made only one field goal—that by Bradshaw.

Interest High Over Saturday Night's Event

WILD AND WOOLLY AFFAIR TO BE STAGED BY SOPHOMORES IN UNIVERSITY GYMNASIUM—NOTHING HARD BUT DRINKS

By ALKALI

Prof. Lewers will tell you that the secret of success in advertising is constant repetition. That is why you are going to hear some more about the '49 Camp.

The first thing that will interest you will be the music, for of course the main attraction will be the dance, and let me tell you we've obtained SOME MUSIC for the occasion. The music in question being none other than the justly famed Donner Lake Orchestra, creators of jazz. No need to tell more about them; everyone has heard them play—nuf sed!

Next of interest is something that is necessary at a dance. A drink. There will be several varieties of perfectly harmless drinks on sale at correspondingly harmless prices. The Sophs are not profiteers. But, the

A. S. U. N. HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The class of '24 were voted dead and buried at the acceptance of a report of the committee on a monumental slab to commemorate the inter-class victors in the various sports. The best the committee could report on a slab that would fit the A. S. U. N. treasury was to get a tomb-stone from a nearby graveyard, engrave it appropriately "Class of '24", and let them sleep on in peace.

A resolution was adopted whereby any student making his or her letter in any major sport will be given a certificate entitling the owner to admission to any athletic contest in which she or he made the letter. And that, Block N men shall be entitled to view athletic contest on Mackay Field from the porch of the training quarters.

Article 8, Section 13 of the A. S. U. N. Constitution was voted to be dropped from the constitution, and Roberts Rules of Order will now automatically govern our procedure for suspending the constitution; namely, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any meeting.

It was recommended that the Student Bulletin Board be moved to a more convenient place. It was also recommended that we sing the college hymn immediately after each meeting.

President John Harrison of the Class of '23 invited the A. S. U. N. to attend and participate in the Old '49ers' Camp, given on January 29th in the Gym.

President Duborg of the Class of '24 asked if their funeral might be postponed, as the Frosh would like to show their appreciation of our kindness by entertaining with the "Glee" on February 11th.

The meeting closed with a contest between the men and women to determine who could sing the loudest and yell the sweetest.

Students From Many Countries At University

24 STATES AND FIVE FOREIGN COUNTRIES ARE REPRESENTED AT NEVADA IN RECORD REGISTRATION THIS TERM

Students from twenty-four states, one territory and five foreign countries make up the 453 who have registered so far this semester. With over fifty new students this term the registration has passed the 500 mark for the year, a record enrollment for the University. A little over half of the students are from Nevada while a large part of the remainder are from California. Following is a list of the states graded according to the number of students enrolled from each:

Nevada	277
California	125
Illinois	5
Oklahoma	4
New York	4
Wisconsin	3
Kansas	3
Texas	2
Montana	2
Washington	2
Massachusetts	2
Ohio	2

The following states are represented by one student each: New Jersey, Nebraska, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, Oregon, Kentucky, Indiana, Vermont, Maine, Arizona, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Virginia.

Four students come from the Philippine Islands and one from each of the following countries: England, Canada, Portugal, China and Japan.

Considering the size of the school, this is a remarkable representation and goes to show that Nevada's fame is spreading throughout the country.

HOBOS MEET AT FESTIVE BANQUET

Southwestern Intercollegiate Press. POMONA COLLEGE, Jan. 27.—The semi-annual banquet of the Hoho Club, a royal and gorgeous costume affair, was one of the most recent social functions of the semester. The occasion of the assemblage was the initiation of six new members who had become eligible during the past summer vacation. The unique and distinguishing feature of the club is its membership requirements, namely, travel to the extent of at least one thousand miles via the brake beams or one of the other affiliated modes of transportation.

UNIV. ARIZ. OPENS SEMESTER JAN. 31

Southwestern Intercollegiate Press. UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA, Tucson, Jan. 27.—The second semester will start here on February 8. All this week has been devoted to examination. Registration will open Monday, January 31. The Registrar states that a number of new students have signified their intention of registering.

DON'T FORGET THE DATE.

Varsity Will Meet Strong Coast Fives

STIFF COMPETITION IS EXPECTED FROM STRONG CALIFORNIA LEAGUE TEAM, BOTH OF WHICH HAVE BEEN VICTORIOUS IN GAMES THIS SEASON—NINE PLAYERS WILL MAKE THE TRIP WITH THE 1920 PACIFIC COAST BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The Varsity basket five is scheduled to leave Friday night on No. 5 for their much heralded trip to the Coast where they will meet two of the Coasts highly touted quintets.

The first game, with St. Ignatius, is slated on the San Francisco floor for Saturday night and the second contest, that with the College of Pacific team will be played in San Jose Monday night, the Varsity returning to Reno Wednesday morning.

The student body is planning a rousing send-off to the hoop team Friday night and every member of the A. S. U. N. is expected to be at the train with a pair of leather-lined lungs, and to make the departure of the hoopsters an event to be remembered.

Nine men are expected to take the trip, four subs besides the regular first string team. Capt. Noble Waite and Ed Reed will hold down the forward positions, with George Egan as substitute forward or center; Buckman will be the regular pivot man at center; Bill Martin, captain of the 1920 champs and Bradshaw will be the regular guards with Duborg, Hobbs and Goodwyn as substitutes. The regular 1921 Varsity is practically the same as the one that won the 1920 Pacific Coast championship, and with nearly a week's work-out since the St. Mary's defeat are in excellent trim and have had a valuable lot of much-needed practice so that both Coast games should be decisive victories for the "Sagebrushers."

St. Ignatius presents a granite hurdle for Nevada to go over. They have a wonderful, well-balanced team this year. Stanford suffered a great disaster at the Stanford-St. Ignatius game this week. The Saints tramped all over the Palo Alto Varsity to a clean, decisive victory. The Cardinal hoopsters covered St. Mary's over with a 55 to 9 landslide. And the Oakland five beat Nevada, by only two points, but whipped them—on her own floor. The Nevadans haven't a chance

U. S. C. FRESHMAN WINS BIG HONOR

Southwestern Intercollegiate Press. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—G. R. Wenzell, a Freshman in the department of architecture at U. S. C., has won a mention on the problem of the Beaux Arts Institute of Design, submitted for November. The work submitted was a detailed drawing in color for the side door of a Catholic church of the Renaissance period. The Beaux Arts, a national association of architecture, of which the University of Southern California is now a member, offers mentions and first mentions each month for designs submitted on a definitely set subject.

Yale Desires Western Youths

YALE PROFESSOR TOURS WEST FOR STUDENTS—SAYS YALE ARRANGES SMALL CLASSES FOR FRESHMAN REGISTRANTS

An article recently appearing in the "Salt Lake Tribune" says that Western youths are desired at Yale. "The University particularly desires men from the West," it quotes a Yale professor as saying, "because such men put a leaven into the student body, and we offer them exceptional advantages to pursue their studies."

The professor is Dean R. P. Angier, professor of psychology at Yale University. This was his declaration at a banquet of the Utah Yale Club. He is touring the West in an effort to secure students from this section of the country for the institution. In his speech Professor Angier goes on to say:

"Yale is not an exclusive rich man's school, as is evidenced by the fact that the expenses there are unusually low and more than a third of the students are able to work their way through. There are many opportunities offered to earn money and during the last year more than 900 students earned an average of $200 each.

"In addition to the unusual opportunity to help oneself, the school offers other advantages that should prove attractive to those who are far away from home. The freshman classes of the two undergraduate schools of Yale college and the Sheffield scientific college have recently been combined and made into a separate institution, with a distinct faculty and course of study. In this school a special organization has been formed to take care of the interests of the students. This consists of a corps of student counselors, each of whom has the welfare of a group of twenty students in his care. These counselors get very close to the boys and furnish them with entertainment from a spe-

Alas, Alas, too true, and it is the student, not the notebook that has to take the examination. We have known cases, however, where the educated notebook played an important part in taking an ex.

"All married men love their wives."
"Prof. Thompson is a married man."
"Therefore, Prof. Thompson loves his wife."—Thompson.

A surprising conclusion indeed, but such are the wonders of logic that the veriest falsehoods can be perpetrated in its name. We question the major premise, especially since we live in Reno; we will accept Prof's word for the second in lieu of certificate; the author of the syllogism says you wouldn't question the conclusion if you knew his wife. Prof's wife will read this and the domestic returns will be large. He knew it would get around to her, which shows that logic profs may know something about more subtle sciences than logic.

"For example, if you should see a man reeling around the corner you would inductively conclude that he was drunk."—Prof. Anon.

Well, perhaps, but the example is far too abstract. Since the passage of the Volstead Act the mental strain on the imagination is far too great.

"College men who inhabit pool halls and jitney dances are poor students."
"Therefore, Charles Chatfield is a poor student."—Prof. M. Bignous.

Purely a hypothetical case used by Prof. to explain to his Freshman class the nature of a syllogism. In order that the class will not be misled we hasten to point out that the flaw is in the minor premise. Charles Chatfield does not inhabit pool halls and jitney dances. Rarely, if ever, is he seen beyond the confines of his malodorous Chem. Lab.

THE VAMP

She is a harmless little creature in spite of her seventeen years of worldly experience. And she has been around! Probably two or three years of her adventurous life has been spent away from home. One could never acquire that painfully bored attitude toward life under the protecting wing of a mother. Of course she has traveled, one sees at a glance that she is polished and cosmopolitan, besides if you have ever talked with her she has no doubt told you of the semester she spent in "Cal," where she used to take in Taits or the Orpheum or the Dungeon or the Ferry Building at least twice a week. Her adaptability is shown by the ease with which she varies the story of her life—which appears to be blazed with broken hearts—to suit the occasion.

In dress, she is a bit more extreme, more daring than her sisters. Her dresses are a little shorter, her hair assumes more startling shapes and her colors are always on the verge of a clash. A lock of hair shaped something like an inverted question mark is securely "bandolined" on her forehead and suggest careful preparation before a mirror. Her eyelashes speak eloquently of "Mascaro" and long experience in application, for they are perfectly beaded.

To be sure, her success depends, to a large extent upon her ability to make them convey meanings that they do not really mean, to say things they do not intend to say. I suppose there is a sort of code,—a semaphore system that she uses. Say for instance, one flutter of the eyelashes means attention; two flutters suggest an interview, while a long and a short might be a desire for companionship.

The library is her lair; here cleverly camouflaged by several musty old volumes, she carries on her relentless warfare. At the opposite side of the reading table a very young man is reading a letter from home, as he reaches the paragraph that admonishes him to be a good boy and to be sure and not study too hard and strain his eyes," he glances up and looks full into the depths of those semaphoring eyes. He blushes but before he can hide his embarrassment back of the letter, the eyelashes have sent a message. One flutter—pause—then one long and a short. He struggles, to be sure, but what chance has a rancher's son against this accomplished Cleopatra, with her eighteen years of riding rough shod over the hearts of men?

The lashes sent out another S. O. S., the rancher's son becomes the slave of the Campus Vamp and is doomed to listen while she tells of the swell fellows she used to go with in "Cal."

GARDNERVILLE HI WINS AND LOSES

Special to "Sagebrush"
GARDNERVILLE, Nev., Jan. 27.—The Gardnerville Hi basket teams journeyed to Carson last Saturday night on a special train, where they played two snappy games. The girls' game was fair from the beginning, with Carson realizing early in the match that she must hold down the score as much as possible. The Carson girls played a very good defensive game, especially in the last half. The final score was 15-4 in favor of the Douglas girls.

The boys game was fast and exciting from start to finish. Glock, Gardnerville Hi's star forward, was forced out of the game in the first half. He had his nose broken in a collision. The final score was 33-7 in favor of Carson.

YERINGTON VICTOR AGAINST INDIANS

Special to "Sagebrush"
YERINGTON, Nev., Jan. 27.—The Stewart Indians stopped at Yerington on their return trip from Tonopah, and played a lively game of basketball. The Indian girls lost by a score of 23 to 9. The boys' game was hard fought and exciting. The Yerington boys won by the close score of 9-7. The Carson teams will journey to Yerington this coming Saturday. These games will prove interesting as Yerington was defeated in both games at Carson and is anxious to even up the score.

FOOTBALL SWEATERS

The drive for money to buy the sweaters for the football men is now on. About three hundred dollars must be raised and it must be collected in a couple of weeks. There are miniature footballs at the candy store and at Miss Sissa's office where donations can be left. No special amount is asked for. Give what you can but be sure and give it. Unless the present plan proves successful it will be necessary to make a personal canvas and ask each student to give a stated sum. Think it over. Your support is needed.

The hermits of Lincoln Hall are all afflutter over the thought of the Manzanita women entering their sacred confines, but these men will not be allowed to stand in the path of the onward march of women. The wheels of progress move slowly, to be sure, but never backward, and these men will have to accept the inevitable and do their best to entertain the women the night of the Hall Party.

Many are the whispered schemes of entertainment and theatrical talent has blossomed out in the most unexpected quarters. The quietest man in the Hall has developed a deep baritone and even Doc Smolak is contemplating putting on an exhibition game of chess.

The stunts will be breezy, original and entertaining, such as would make our Puritan ancestors writhe in agony. A special committee is making a detailed study of the refreshment situation and from the data that has been gathered, it is estimated that seven hundred sandwiches will probably be enough.

And just a word of warning to the "Frosh" and Alex Fraser: It is usual for the women, on this night, to make the trip from Manzanita to the Hall under their own convoy and anyone who violates this custom by acting as a pilot for any particular lady will incur the enmity of the Supreme Court of the Hall and no leniency will be shown to the man who either knowingly or unknowingly infringes on this rule.

WINNEMUCCA TRIMS ELKO HIGH GIRLS

Special to "Sagebrush"
WINNEMUCCA, Nev., Jan. 27.—The Elko girls' basketball team played here last Saturday night. There was much enthusiasm shown over this game because both of these teams played in the finals at the State Tournament last year. This was the first game of the season for the Elko girls.

In the first half of the game Elko showed superior playing, making fourteen points to Winnemucca's seven. The low score of the Humboldt High girls seemed to dishearten the rooters, many of whom thought the game was lost. The Winnemucca girls came back in the second half playing better and faster. The final score showed Winnemucca in the lead by a score of 26-20.

The Elko line-up was, Johnson and Johnson, forwards; Leberski, center; Smiley and Murphy, guards; Sewell, sub. Those playing for Winnemucca were Riel and Lowry, forwards; Otis, center; Richardson, side center; Poulin and Pasquale, guards; Guthrie and Pearce, subs. Mr. Royd from the U. of N. refereed the game.

LOVELOCKERS WIN TWO BASKET GAMES

Special to "Sagebrush"
LOVELOCK, Nev., Jan. 27.—Love-lock won a double header from Sparks on the home floor the night of the 22d. From the start the Lovelock girls led. The Lovelock forwards, Ross and Zunini, made the same number of points, while Hecox of Sparks made all the points for Sparks. The final score was 38 to 16, in Lovelock's favor.

The boys' game was fast and clean from the time the game started until it ended. The Sparks boys played very good in the first half, holding the Pershing boys to the score of 10-8. In the second half, the Lovelockers increased their lead from two points to 18 points, the final score being 33-15, with Lovelock in the lead. Sommer, manager and guard of the Lovelock team, collided with Foote of Sparks and broke his nose. Tom Grant from the U. of N. refereed both games.

The University of Southern California baseball team will make a tour of Japan next summer, playing teams of Japanese universities.

Della Towle left the Hall Tuesday morning for her home in Auburn. She does not expect to return to school this semester but will register again next September.

Mrs. Riddell visited her daughters, Mabel and Agnes during the past week returning to Elko Sunday evening.

Inez Russell visited in Gardnerville over the week-end.

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA, Tucson, Jan. 27.—Corsage bouquets were officially banned last Friday when the resolution passed by the House of Representatives was accepted by the students at student body assembly. As a reward for their efficient performance in the New Years' day parade at Pasadena, the band members were requested to head a procession to assure the election of one "Honest John" as mayor of a little Carolina town. The picture, "The Other Woman," which will be released some time in March, afforded the band members a reel thrill which lasted into the early hours of the morning, and netted them $10 apiece.

College News

CALIFORNIA—Court Majors, captain of the champion California football team, has declared that he does not think it practicable for his team to go East for a game next year. He says that a game in mid-season would break into California's Western schedule and that a championship game later in the season would mean playing on snow covered fields. An Eastern team could come West, however, and play without hardship.

MICHIGAN—Formal presentation of a collection of war trophies by a representative of the French government and their acceptance by M. L. Burton, president of the University, will take place Feb. 22 during the annual celebration of Washington's birthday. The French government has made but few such gifts and Michigan will be fortunate in receiving such a collection.

VERMONT—Following similar plan adopted throughout the country by other schools, Vermont will soon obtain news from surrounding colleges by wireless. At present messages are exchanged regularly with Dartmouth, Cornell and Princeton and messages as far west as Kansas have been heard. It is planned to increase both the sending and receiving range of the plant.

CALIFORNIA—Officials of the Tournament of Roses Association will present the University with a standard sized sterling silver football as winner of the California-Ohio football classic. In addition each member of the team will receive a miniature gold football.

CALIFORNIA—The Blue and Gold Varsity opened the 1921 basketball season by defeating St. Ignatius by a score of 44 to 25.

STANFORD—Stanford University will debate Yale University this year and the University of California has been challenged by Princeton.

OREGON—The Varsity won their first basketball game of the season when they defeated Williamette University by a 27 to 22 score.

OREGON (Aggie)—The most successful football season in the history of the college, from a financial view point, has just been completed. The season's total receipts were $20,837 and with traveling expenses deducted, the profits amounted to $12,626.

UNIV. OF ILLINOIS—Students registering in the new course given in aviation must first gain their parent's consent. The university has taken such action to safeguard itself against complications in case of accident.

CALIFORNIA—Students who saw the big game at Pasadena on New Year's Day evidently did not worry about the H. C. L. A big bundle of hats and other articles of men's clothing, picked up on the field after the game, were sent to the university for distribution to those who could identify them, by the Los Angeles police.

CALIFORNIA—Princeton, Yale and Harvard have all declined to play California in the East next October. California wired for a game to be played with one of the "Big Three" but none of the Eastern teams has a date open. California wanted the game back East because football teams have come to the Coast and, after being defeated, made excuses about the long trip and change of climate.—Daily Californian.

UNIV. OF COLORADO—The captain of the 1920 football team at the University of Colorado, "Snooks" Noggle, said in a brief talk that the U. of C. cannot afford to continue letting small colleges win, and that an effort should be made to co-operate and put across a winning team.

THIS ISSUE EDITED BY LESLIE M. BRUCE

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

In a recent lecture to an alumni club, a professor urged that school supervisors and principals advise students to follow studies in accordance with individual aptitudes and talents in order that they might get the proper training along lines for which they were fitted.

The student's first question is: "How can I know that for which I am fitted?" A little introspection will often answer the question for him: What sort of work do you approach with the most zest? What sort of work do you do better than your companions? What seems to be your inherited talents, i. e., what can your father or mother do? In case this yields no results it is encouraging to know that psychologists have devised brief but exceedingly comprehensive tests to determine one's general intelligence and native abilities. One of these tests, lasting less than an hour, can demonstrate to a person almost conclusively the fields in which he can hope to be successful. A person's general intelligence rating will tell him whether success for him lies in a profession or a trade. The class of questions on which he makes the highest mark will in most cases indicate satisfactorily his native abilities. The typical character of the questions and the care with which they have been chosen by the examiners preclude possibility of any but small errors. Occasionally, a subject will be found whose test indicates that he has equal abilities in every field, and therefore choice of a vocation is left to personal preference. In most cases, since we all like to excel, we find that we prefer most that which we can do best. Thus, personal preference is to some extent a fairly satisfactory criterion.

The chief objection to the use of personal preference as a standard of judging the right occupation, is that it is too often influenced by the trend of the decade or generation. A study of the situation indicates that most young men and women make their choice with an eye almost solely to pecuniary returns, their ability being a secondary consideration. For instance, the generation through which we have just passed has been one in which legal and financial figures have been pre-eminent, and therefore we find an altogether disproportionate number of young persons preparing themselves along these lines. Just at present commerce seems to be offering large opportunities and many students are following the lure which it offers. It is perfectly desirable and conceivable that we should tend toward the field which offers the largest opportunity, always provided, however, that this field of opportunity harmonizes with our natural talents. No field is so crowded that natural ability combined with energy cannot attain success, and no field is so empty that competition in it without natural talent is not drudgery.

THE ST. MARY'S GAME

The St. Mary's game was without question a disappointment. In spite of the fact that the members of the Nevada team had had but a few hours concerted practice, the audience felt confident of a victory. Nevada's victories in basketball have grown to be a habit, and that our 1920 stellar performers should, in 1921, fall before any save the greatest, practice or no practice, was discomfiting. Such a point of view is of course little short of absurd, but it is a correct representation of our attitude toward our team. During the intermission, the gloom resulting from the first half score was but poorly dispelled by the singing and yelling. During the second half our hopes were gradually raised to a pinnacle and then dashed; we felt none the less easy because one little basket or two little fouls additional would have tied the score.

In spite of our ill fortune on Saturday night, there is small need to hold a pessimistic view. The potentialities of last year's team are all there, and indirectly we'll get another trial at St. Mary's by playing her opponents. This defeat may provide just the necessary stimulus for a successful season.

WE "LEAVEN" THE STUDENT BODY

When Professor Angier says that Yale wants Western men to attend the institution because they "leaven" the student body, we should like to feel completely flattered, but the use of that word "leaven" fails to yield us perfect satisfaction. Perhaps it is meant to be complimentary "in toto" and if so we wish he'd said so. Its meaning, however, is not sufficiently specific for us to interpret it as we should like to. When he says that we are "leaven" we can only infer by analogy that we keep the personnel of the New Haven college from becoming too homogeneous; we mix in with their heavy Eastern dough and lighten it by so doing. Whether we lighten it because we are better or worse we cannot tell. Surely the leaven is the most important ingredient in the bread, but on coming down to definition 2 in Webster's, old Noah says that leaven means to work a change, especially a corrupting change. So we are still in doubt and Professor Angier's compliment is a dubious one.

SMALL COLLEGE CLASSES

On page one of this issue R. P. Angier, professor of psychology at Yale University, emphasizes the advantages of Yale University. Incidentally, he brings out several important and interesting points. He says that the freshmen in the undergraduate school are brought into personal contact with the instructors by limiting the size of all classes to twenty-five. The small class is without doubt a great advantage, and one seldom met with in large colleges. This is the problem which is now vexing the administration at the University of California. It is interesting to note that at our own school a class of twenty-five, until the last year or two, has been considered large, and is very rarely met with in any advanced courses. The proportion of instructors to students at the University of Nevada has always been remarkably high.

DEBATING

Debating should be a matter of interest to the whole college and not to Clionia Debating Society alone. During the tryouts for the big intercollegiate debates, it is urged that the largest possible number of students attempt to demonstrate their fitness to represent the University. We should attend the interclass debates and watch the progress of our class teams. We should attend the big college debates and exhibit a little of the pep that characterizes athletics.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—U. S. C.'s Law School may become one of the campus colleges, according to reports from a conference of the officials of the University and of the Law School. The present quarters of the lawyers in a down town office building will not be available after this year, and it is considered desirable that the college come on the campus if space can be found for it. Two suggestions have been made. The building now occupied by the department of journalism and the offices of the student publications, and the south wing of the present administration building which will be vacated on the completion of the new building are both suggested as possibilities for the Law School.

FRATERNITY REPORT SHOWS SCHOLARSHIP

There has been considerable discussion among the students regarding the general averages of fraternity scholarship for last semester. Both local newspapers carried articles with lists of the averages, in which some mistake was made and as a result, the standings were not authentic. In the Sagebrush under the date of January 13th, the official list as given out by the scholarship committee of the university was published. This also, it was discovered later, was somewhat in error, as in some cases the average of members only was taken, while in others appeared the results for both members and pledges, and in this way the proper standings did not appear.

In order that the correct standings might be printed, a Sagebrush reporter interviewed Dr. Maxwell Adams, chairman of the scholarship committee of the University and ascertained the authentic dope on the matter. The following list is from the official records filed by the committee with Dr. Adams:

Sigma Nu	2.47
Average members	2.23
Average pledges	2.71
Phi Delta Tau	2.65
No separate report.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2.69
Average members	2.57
Average pledges	2.81
Phi Sigma Kappa	2.81
Average members	2.32
Average pledges	3.31

* Averages starred are the general averages of all the fraternity members and pledges together.

In this connection, it might be interesting to note that of all the individual groups of men whose averages were computed, the high honors go to the Federal Board vocational students. At the University last semester, there were in attendance twenty-three vocational men, whose general average for the term was 2.22, considerably in the lead of any other group, and far ahead of the general average of the University. The standing of all men students was 2.59, and that of the entire university, men and women, was 2.34. Considering the fact that among the Federal Board men there are several who have never been through High school, the record is all the more remarkable, and speaks well for the general work being done by the vocational men throughout the country.

POMONA COLLEGE, Jan. 27.—A diamond in the rough in the shape of a new outlook for athletics has been the latest development of importance. There has been acquired north of and adjoining Alumni Field a considerable tract of land which it is the plan to develop into a large athletic plant. This tract is 1275 feet by 975 feet and is capable of being divided as follows: One large grandstand to seat 20,000 people and to enclose a track and football field; two football practice fields; a varsity baseball field and grandstand; two soccer fields, and ten tennis courts. Pomona looks forward to the day when this project shall become a reality.

FIRST PIG CLUB FORMED IN COUNTY

At a meeting a short time ago of the Washoe County Farm Bureau the organization of a "Pig Club" was decided upon, and work in this direction has been rapidly progressing under the charge of County Agent S. E. Merrill of the Extension division. These "Pig Clubs" formed from the boys and girls of the various counties in the state are teaching the value of better stock, the cost of raising better stock as compared to scrubs, and improving the stock industry in the state to a great extent. There are clubs formed for nearly each type of stock, and for the winners of each club prizes are given. It is planned that the winners of the Berkshire Pig Clubs will be given a trip to the Sacramento State Fair. Mr. Merrill has organized a Duroc Pig Club in this county whereby the boys or girls buy a young pig, through the Extension division of the University, getting a fine blooded animal, and when their pig arrives in Reno, it is registered and weighed. The owner then keeps a record of all food fed the pig, and once a month the County Agent collects the data on each pig and weighs it. At the end of a given time the boy or girl whose pig shows the best record and largest gain is declared the winner of his particular type of stock and is given a prize. The Annual Boys and Girls' Club Roundup held at the University last year was for the winners of these contests throughout the state.

The hall was prettily decorated and splendid music was on hand to while away the hours. During the course of the dance delightful refreshments were served. A large number of University people were present to enjoy the hospitality of the fraternities and all considered it one of the most successful of the University affairs given for some time past.

COMMUNICATED

To the Editor:

The matter of borrowing books from the library is one with which all students should be acquainted. One of Nevada's chief traditions is that borrowed books should be returned on time so that no other student shall be put to an inconvenience. It oftentimes happens that we are late in returning a book, but that becomes a matter of little importance, when we see that students committing that offense have made an effort to return the book on time and that they possess the spirit of fair play and that they have not been trying to keep that book merely to prevent others from using it.

This tradition is built upon grounds of fairness and to violate it is, indeed, a serious offense. When we find that there are some among us, at least we, who take books from the library merely to prevent others from using them, books of debating which all of those who are representing the four classes of the University during the interclass debate contests are entitled to use, the matter becomes displeasing not to say, provoking.

The matter becomes even more serious when we know that this particular book taken from the library bears a great deal on the question which Nevada is to debate with the College of Pacific and that students desiring to tryout for this debate are prevented from obtaining some first-based material.

It is even more provoking when Freshmen commit such an offense with the spirit of unfairness, violating one of Nevada's most justifiable traditions.

It is, therefore, time that some cocky Frosh shall be taught their obligations to the rest of the students and made to uphold Nevada's traditions.

DESERT PAINT

When all was made, and the last star hung,
And the moon had been given a golden blow,
He placed all the planets and slowly swung
Them out on their orbits, in the space below.
Then he gathered his brushes and cleaned them all
And hung them away in a vault of the sky.
The greenness of Spring and the crimson of Fall
Are but drops from the brushes that never will dry.

The easel was turned, the pigments mixed and fell
Into the mountains, guarding, gray, silent and grim,
The sage swept flats with their wild free spell
Of saddle creak and rawhide rope, riding the desert rim.
These are the colors that blend in the dying days
Splashing the hills of Nevada in a million different ways.

Miss Mack has kindly allowed the women to hold meetings in Manzanita until a place can be found which will be a suitable meeting place. She told of the good work done there for boys and how they react to the treatment they are given. For seventeen months there have been no runaways nor any other infractions of the rules.

Mrs. Humphrey's message to the women of the Y. W. C. A. was that they interest themselves in something worth while and then follow out that interest.

She also spoke of the need for a State Board of Charities to regulate institutions like the Industrial School and the Orphan's Home and to keep them under state control.

FROSH COED TEAM LOSES TO FALLON

Miss Somers and eight members of the Frosh girls basket ball team went to Fallon to meet the High school team in a matched game on Friday. The city was lovely and the people most hospitable, but the score was different. The Frosh played well, but the Fallon star center and forwards had a combination that was hard to break, and they played right over the reach of the Frosh. The contest ended with a score of 66-2 in favor of Fallon, but with the amount of spunk it aroused in the college girls they ought to be able to even the score on their next appearance. Go get 'em Frosh.

At a regular meeting of the Faculty Science Club, scheduled for 4 o'clock Thursday, January 27, in the Agricultural building, Dr. K. F. Meyer of the University of California Medical School and Mr. J. C. Geiger of the United States public health service will speak. Both men will talk on the subject of "Botulism," which is the type of food poisoning which has caused so much trouble recently due to the eating of certain canned foods, such as ripe olives, spinach, etc. These two talks should be of vital interest to the public in general.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATE SOON DUE

At a meeting of the Clonia Debating Society last Tuesday evening the dates for debating tryouts with Brigham Young University and for the three interclass debates were definitely set.

The tryouts for the debate with Brigham Young University will take place next Tuesday night in the Agricultural building. The question to be debated with Brigham Young is: Resolved, That Congress should pass a law prohibiting strikes in public utilities, constitutionally conceded. The dates for the interclass debates were set as follows: Freshman-Sophomore debate, February 8; Junior-Senior debate, February 22; final debate between the winners of the first two contests, March 8. The following students will represent their classes: Freshman, Cecil Green and Sydney Robinson; Sophomores, Howard Westervelt and Carroll Wilson; Juniors, Francis Walsh and Norma Brown; Seniors, Earl Wooster and Margaret Barnes.

WOMENS CARNIVAL HAS MANY THRILLS

Three shots for a dime, nine for a quarter. All you gotta do is throw the ring over the doll and around the block of wood and yuh get her. Get this blonde baby! Yuh can't lose—that's what we're here for—to lose. The last man got three dolls on a quarters worth of rings. Take one of these blue-eyed beauties to your gal and win a happy home. The ladies fall hard fer our kewpies. Try one of them on that secret sorrow that you have in Manzanita. Give one to Miss Mack and you can keep the woman out until 1 o'clock.

Right this way, fellows. Don't crowd. Yuh'll all get a chance to see. Inside this little white tent, this simple and primitive shelter, you will see wonders that will rival the glories of the Egyptians, the splendors of Babylon, the magnificence of jeweled Chinese pagodas. Fer t-w-e-n-t-y f-i-v-e cents yuh can feel the mysteries of the Orient, hear the temple bells, see the moonlight on the sands of Arabia. A liberal education for only one twentieth part of five dollars. The price has been reduced from t-h-i-r-t-y f-i-v-e cents to a quarter; something that hitherto has been unheard of in the show business. Why go to college for four years when you can get an education in one night? Stand back, gentlemen, and let the ladies in. Don't crowd, we'll be open all night."

On February 5th the Gym will respond to the blare of the cymbals and clarinets. To the twang of the brazen throated spielers. The strong man, the tall man, the singer, the dancer, the magician, all will take a part. The halt and the blind, genius and dumb-bell, senior and frosh will swarm the Gym.

There will be a thrill for every minute and a luxury tax on gloom. You will see the present, past and future, the wonders of the four corners of the world. Crystal gazers will reveal the year of your graduation, the innermost thoughts of your secret sorrow or the gow house menu for the ensuing semester.

The Arabian Nights will shake off the dust of centuries and lie at your feet, for one night only, in grand spectacular confusion, the like of which is beyond the power of man to grasp. For a few pennies you will be able to join in that astounding panorama of color, beauty and mystery.

BIG SUCCESS FOR CARSON HOOPSTERS

Special to "Sagebrush"

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 27.—The new year is proving to be an exceptional one for Carson High school especially in the athletic line. Last Friday night both the boys and girls basketball teams motored to Dayton and returned with the two laurels. The girls game though not very fast was well played. When the final whistle was blown the score stood 31 to 9 in favor of the Carson girls. The Carson boys welded another link in their long chain of victories with a score of 39 to 17.

Saturday evening the Carson teams played the Gardnerville teams in Carson. A special train was chartered to bring the Gardnerville teams and a large crowd of rooters to Carson. The Gardnerville girls were by far the superior in handling the leather sphere, winning the game by a score of 15 to 4. The Gardnerville girls have a very strong team this year and are well in line for the state championship. This was the second time they defeated the Carson girls.

The Carson boys obtained due revenge however for the defeat of their sister team, when they took the Gardnerville boys into camp with a score of 33 to 7. The visiting team was handicapped early in the game when they lost their star player, Alex Glock, who fractured his nose when he collided with Joe McKenzie of the Carson team.

This year the Carson high orchestra is becoming a very fine musical body under the leadership of Professor Lawrence Hansen, a former University man. Some new pieces have been recently added to the orchestra and the older players are improving rapidly. Several new selections have been worked up lately. The orchestra is certainly proving itself to be a valuable asset to the high school.

First Contest of Season Won by St. Mary's

(Continued from Page 1.) The second half is basketball. Both teams go in with no changes. Nevada is frantic to catch up. They start showing old-time streaks of class. St. Mary's is puzzled. The Saints cannot stop the Blue and White offensive. Reed and Bradshaw are all over the floor. Bradshaw is passing poorly now. He hasn't the usual Bradshaw accuracy. Eddie Reed does not follow up his shots. Waite is a bit off form. Buckman cannot lope fast enough. All of them are tired except Martin.

Courtright sends in Egan to relieve Buckman. Adams spells Captain Waite while Dewey Goodwin does duty for Adams after Adams plays a short period. Both Adams and Goodwin are shaky. They cannot handle themselves in a real game. They need more experience in big league basketball.

Nevada has started her offensive too late. The score gradually piles up for the Sagebrush quintet. The crowd goes wild—but can it be done? It seems so but our men are fast tiring. St. Mary's gets only one field goal the second half. They are blinded by speed.

Waite misses a few easy shots when he goes back in. He can win or least tie the score with one field goal. St. Mary's is stalling for time. They play ping-pong with the ball when it is in their possession. It does not go near the Nevada defense. The Saints win the game by killing time. Nevada does not force her advantage. The gun calls a halt. Nevada has lost by two points. It is a keen disappointment.

Ludolph and Silva are the St. Mary's crack players. Bob Moy has lost some of his bright light. He is no more the main calcium on the floor. The Oakland Saints are good sports. They do not engage in foolish protests. Both teams are clean aggregations. Referee Seawright likes his job.

None of Nevada's players are above par. It is too early in the season for that. They lose a ragged game to an inferior team. What they need is just more practice. Nevada still has a chance for the pennant. They play as:

Waite	St. Mary's
Moy	Moy
L. F.
Reed	Stinson
R. F.
Buckman	Ludolph
C.
Bradshaw	Matson
L. G.
Martin	Silva

WASH. HOLDS ALL UNIV. ELECTION

By Pacific Intercollegiate Press UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Jan. 27.—Hockey, golf, swimming, shooting and boxing were made minor sports in an all-university election yesterday. Wrestling and tennis were retained as major sports.

An amendment for the editor of the University of Washington Daily to be chosen by a press council instead of by general elections, was passed over a thousand votes lead.

In the evening, upon announcement of the complete returns for A. S. U. W. offices, the "Defeated Candidates Club," a Washington organization of several years history, pledged seven new members—all defeated that day—into the mystification of the wielders of the slippery salve; the brotherhood of slippery slums.

After the pledging ceremony, in which the biographies of each pledge was made public without apologies, the club members serpented through the "open-houses" shouting melancholically "We're glad we're licked. We-ee-re g-gl-la-ad w-e-e-re licked. Mud! Mud! Mud!"

U. S. C.—The Trojan basketball varsity won its first game of the 1921 season at the Pasadena Y. M. C. A., when they outplayed the fast California Tech five, coming out on the long end of a 43 to 24 score.

CARNIVAL—FEB. 5—U. GYM.

Interest High Over Saturday Night's Event

(Continued from Page 1.) names that the drinks will be known by are going to sound either terrible or mighty fine, it all depends who hears them and how old the nebricates were before the country went dry. All this is simply as a warning not to be disappointed if a Manhattan Cocktail is asked for and Ginger Ale is received. Times have changed.

Last, but by no means least, Dan McGrew, in the person of "Red" Steele, will be there to preside at his solo—and other games of chance. There will be nothing illegal or unfair about them. The district attorney's permission guarantees the former. The Sophs guarantee the latter statement. College currency used in the games will be accepted at the bar. Take heed ye thirsty ones!

There is also a well-founded rumor going the rounds that some original and unique forms of entertainment will be provided during the evening. Just what it will be, no one seems to know, but don't be surprised at anything that takes place. A prize of $1 will be awarded, during the evening, to the best costumed man; ditto to the best costumed lady. Costumes must be in harmony with the '49 Camp spirit to win the prize. The money will be in college currency, acceptable at any concession in the Camp. Here's a chance to see just how much like a cowboy or cowgirl one can really look. Go to it!

The admission will be 50 cents for couples and 75 cents for stags. This will gain admittance to the dance and the only extra charge will be for drinks and at the games. It is believed this is a fair price—just remember that one dollar is the price for the same music downtown and then consider the fun that will be gotten Saturday night. The doors will be opened at 8:30 and dancing will start at 9 o'clock sharp. From then to midnight there will be something doing every minute. Be there—and bring your lady!

ORTHOPEDICS AT U. S. C. POPULAR

By Southwest Intercollegiate Press. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—Physical education majors at the University of Southern California have become interested in orthopedics through the efforts of Dr. Charles L. Lowman, who is head of the new Children's Hospital which is now being erected in the interests of deformed children in Los Angeles. Students from the University will be given an opportunity for actual work in orthopedic methods when the hospital is completed. It is to be something more than an emergency hospital, as the children will be permitted to continue their studies while being cured, and those cases which are incurable will receive industrial training in the lines of work which they will be able to follow.

With 3,587 students, the University of Wisconsin summer session ranked third in enrollment among the summer schools of the country this year.

Varsity Will Meet Strong Coast Fives

Nevada expects to win because an entirely different team will battle against St. Ignatius. True, the players whom St. Mary's defeated are the same but in name only. The Sagebrushers hit their stride this past week under Coach Courtright belittling praise. It isn't a one-man team which will play St. Ignatius but it is the flag winning five of last year. St. Ignatius can be surprised—they won't realize it until the starting gun sends the two teams into action.

Down San Jose way, the College of Pacific is waiting for easy meat. The Sagebrushers look like wavering balloon targets through the College Park telescopes. Easy to bring down. Looking through the lens from the big end Coach Courtright sees a bunch of tough Preachers, by repute. Nevada has ever beaten the San Jose collegians and this is open season on wandering bible students. College of Pacific plays Nevada next Monday night in strange territory. It would be strange to even imagine the Preachers giving the Sagebrushers a close fight. Coast sport writers predict that Nevada will have no use for the quitting sponge when these two teams meet.

Varsity! Go down there—fight 'em both blind—play like Pacific Coast champs and we'll meet you coming back!

It is more than likely that the Sacramento American Legion team will play the Varsity in Reno next Friday night if all arrangements are completed. This team reputed to be one of the fastest on the Coast is made up of many old stars, one of whom is Lloyd McCubbin of Nevada basketball fame. The Sacramento American Legion team defeated the Athens Club of Oakland last week by a 45-41 score.

LOCKETT SPEAKS BEFORE SOCIETY

Monday evening Dr. Stephen Lockett addressed the University Faculty Agriculture Club, his subject being "Bovine Infections." The wide-spread character of the disease and many controversial points regarding modes of infection, detection and prevention were discussed. A method of treatment devised by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry has been given many trials and the results have been satisfactory in many respects although it is not sufficiently well developed to warrant recommendation. The meeting was well attended and an interesting discussion followed the paper.

FOREIGN STUDENTS ENROLL AT U. S. C.

By Southwest Intercollegiate Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 27.—U. S. C.'s registration cards betray a multiplication of sources. Forty-one different countries are represented, and thirty-five states of the Union. The countries represented range from Mexico to Palestine, and include Japan, China, Hawaii, the Philippines, India and Canada. Iowa leads for the states, with a clan of twenty, and Kansas, Nebraska, Montana, Colorado and Indiana follow in order. Three testify to belonging no place in particular. If they have forgotten where they came from, or if they were born on the high seas is a matter not yet determined.

OHIO WESLEYAN—An invoice of the faculty shows that out of 107 there are 40 who wear the Phi Beta Kappa key and eleven have their names in "Who's Who in America."

POOR SPORTS ARE BLAMED BY PAPER

Southwestern Intercollegiate Press. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—The accusation against Ohio of throwing the game on New Years Day at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, is attributed by a signed article in the U. S. C. Trojan to unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of those financially embarrassed by the turn of the game. It is contended that University people all over the country should resent this implication against the purity of college athletics. The idea of "fixed" college games should be stopped before the idea gets any headway, urges the writer.

Professor Angier urged that school supervisors and principals advise students to follow studies in accordance with their individual aptitudes and talents in order that they may get the proper training along lines for which they are adapted.

At the close of the banquet the president of the club, Harold P. Fabian, and two club members were appointed on a committee for the purpose of encouraging students working towards Yale.
