SOCIAL COMMITTEE REPORTS FOR 1922

The Student Affairs Committee has met and drawn up an outline of the social events for this semester. There is an ample number of Saturday night dates open (nineteen), and Friday night parties will be discouraged. The first two dates have already been spoken for; one by Kappa Lambda and the other by W. A. S. The full committee report follows:

All student associations desiring to reserve Saturday evening for dances or other parties are asked to make reservations as soon as possible in order that they may have desirable dates. No reservations will be made unless application is filed with Miss Beckwith and the time is actually assigned by the committee.

Unless unusually strong reasons exist for using Friday evenings instead of Saturday evenings, such a date will not be set, but when sufficient reason exists, the Friday reservation may be made by unanimous consent of the committee. Evenings preceding holidays are open.

On account of the large number of laboratory courses set for Saturday mornings, students are requested to place all parties involving any considerable number of students on Saturday evenings.

If the Senior and Freshman classes desire dates, they are asked to make application early as preference will be given to them. Do not forget to make reservations in time.

The Saturday dates are January 7, 14, 21, 28; February 4, 11, 18, 25; March 4, 11, 18, 25; April 1, 8, 15, 22, 29; May 5, 12. There are nineteen in all. Mackday Day is an event by itself.

BASKETBALL TEAM TO START SEASON ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Last Year's Varsity to Meet This Year's in What Promises to be One of the Season's Best Games.

The 1922 basketball season will be ushered in next Friday night when the Varsity of 1922 will meet the last year's Varsity. That the game will be an interesting one is assured by the fact the men of this year's team are already rounding into a form which augurs well for a successful season.

The team which meets the Nevada Varsity will be one which has probably had as much experience as any team in the United States. They have played all the best teams on the Coast and in the National Tournament they met the best college and club teams in the country. Buckman, at center, is the best on the coast, having been chosen All-Pacific Coast center for two successive seasons. Waite and Reed will start at forwards with Martin and Bradshaw playing the two guard positions. Waite is probably the best forward ever seen in the Silver and Blue Jersey. He was given honorable mention at the Tourney at Kansas City for his playing, and was chosen All-Pacific Coast forward three times. Martin, at standing guard, is undoubtedly the best back guard, on the Coast. He has an uncanny ability of breaking up plays which has won him a place on the mythical All-Coast team. Bradshaw, also has been chosen on the team which represents the stars of the coast. With four men who have been chosen on this team it seems a cinch that the stars of last year will give this year's the toughest game experienced during the 1922 season.

The team which will face these men of last year will be chosen from the following men, Egan and Gibbons will be the men whom "Corky" will chose as Buckman's opponent. Egan has had three year's experience as sub-center and he seems the logical man for the place. Fredericks, Foster, Hood, Law, Hug and Cahlan are working out at the forward positions and from present indications will probably start at forwards. Foster has been playing fast basketball during the practices and appears to have the inside track for this position. Fredericks and Law seem to be the choice for second-string forwards with Hood, Hug and Cahlan pressing them closely. At guards, Harrison seems to have the edge on all the others for the back position with Carrol and Brown close contenders. At the other defensive position, Hobbs will probably start. With "Rabbit" Bradshaw having a strangle hold on this position, there is not a great wealth of material out against him.

Collapsible bleachers are being installed in the gym and the seating capacity will be increased to a great extent. The bleachers will be installed along the south wall extending from the doors, to the corner at the west. On the east side of the door they will be placed along the south wall and around the east end of the gym. On the north side the rooters' benches will be placed all along the wall. This arrangement will greatly improve the seating of the spectators.

New suits have been ordered for the team and the color scheme of the uniforms will greatly enhance the quintet's appearance. "Corky" wishes to keep the details of the new suits under cover so the fans will have a surprise in store for them when the 1922 Varsity

While the number of individual students making a grade of 1.75 or higher is larger than that of the previous semester, the general averages of the various organizations show a slight falling off. Among the women this difference amounts to .07 in the average grades for the two semesters, and for the men it amounts to .22.

The women's organizations, as usual, carry off the honors: they average .57 higher than the men; Manzanita Hall exceeds Lincoln Hall; and the sorority with lowest grade makes a better record than the fraternity with highest grade.

In making comparison among fraternity and sorority groups, no attention is paid to the average of pledges. The sororities have specifically requested that this be the rule in regard to them and it is advisable to follow the same rule in regard to fraternities. Irregularities of initiation, difficulty of getting a correct pledge list, and the pledge's lack of real fraternity standing make it difficult to include them in the report and have it, at the same time wholly accurate.

The highest average made by any organization was made by Delta Delta Delta; the lowest average was quit naturally made by the football men. Delta Delta Delta leads the sorority group and Pi Beta Phi finishes up with a 2.31. Manzanita Hall comes well below Pi Phi with a 2.73.

Kappa Lambda leads the fraternities and Phi Sigma Kappa brings up the rear. Alpha Tau Omega leads among the national fraternities. Lincoln Hall would come fifth if placed in the fraternity list.

Pi Beta Phi, D. K. T., and Sigma Nu have evidently pledged wisely, for their pledge average is higher than their fraternity average. Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, A. T. O., S. A. E., and Phi Sigma Kappa show their pledges to be decidedly inferior to their members in this respect.

AVERAGES FOR SEMESTER ENDING DECEMBER, 1921.

Average of all Women	2.36
Average of all Men	2.93
Manzanita Hall	2.73
Lincoln Hall	2.82
Football Men	3.09

Sororities

Members Pledges
Delta Delta Delta	1.95 2.29
D. K. T.	2.14 1.91
Gamma Phi Beta	2.18 2.24
Pi Beta Phi	2.31 2.07

Fraternities

Alpha Tau Omega	2.78 3.02
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2.81 3.05
Sigma Nu	2.93 2.88
Phi Sigma Kappa	2.93 3.49

The previous semester's record is given below for the purpose of comparison. Organizations showing improvement are Lincoln Hall, Delta Delta Delta, D. K. T., Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. In all other cases the previous record has been lowered. The sororities have preserved about the same relative position.

NUMBER OF EXCELLENT RECORDS MADE IN INDIVIDUAL SCHOLARSHIP

Chairman of Registration Committee Submits Report. Restrictions on Social Events Bear Fruit in Increased Number of Students Making Grades Above 1.75. Freshmen Make Good Showing.

The individual scholarship list has been completely worked out and the Dean of the College of Arts and Science has transmitted the honor roll to the Sagebrush for publication. Besides the honor roll, the averages of all students are worked out and arranged according to the group to which they belong. Thus the records of the Hall organizations, fraternities, men, women, football men, etc., are filed away separately for easy access and comparison.

The grades given represent the average grade per credit hour. The honor roll for the past semester shows an increase in the number of students represented over that of the previous semester. The number making an average of 1.75 or better the last semester of 1921 is forty-four as compared to thirty-one making an equal record the May semester of the same year. Reducing the number of social events has evidently had some effect.

The decimal grading system became effective in May, 1921, and is as follows:

- 1 equals 95% to 100%.
- 1.5 equals 90% to 94%.
- 2 equals 85% to 89%.
- 2.5 equals 80% to 84% (passing).
- 3 equals 75% to 79%.
- 3.5 equals 70% to 74%.
- 4 equals 60% to 69% (condition).
- 5 equals below 60% (failure).

According to the rules of the Scholarship Committee any student who makes an average of 1.75 or better may qualify for the honor roll, but the honor roll must not exceed 5 per cent of the total enrollment. Where the number of students making a grade of 1.75 or over exceeds this 5 per cent, honor students are selected from the highest in this group. The first twenty-nine names in the following list have been selected according to this rule.

HONOR ROLL ENDING DECEMBER, 1921 SEMESTER

(arranged in order of grade)
Name	Avg.	Hrs.
(1) Leslie Bruce	1.09	11
(2) Alice Norcross	1.12	16
(3) Nevada Semenza	1.18	18 1/2
(4) George Cann	1.22	16
(5) Harvey Luce	1.30	15
(6) Jesse Smith	1.33	15

(28) Harry Duncan	1.64	14
(29) Eldon Wittwer	1.65	17

The following students have made an average grade of 1.75 or better:

Donald Finlayson	1.66	19
Justine Badt	1.66	16
Arvella Coffin	1.66	17 1/2
Everett Harris	1.67	15
Beulah Booth	1.69	18

Opal Underwood	1.73	17 1/2
Helen Robison	1.75	16 1/2
William Ireland	1.75	16
Paul Harwood	1.75	12

The honor roll for the previous semester, that ending May 1921, has not heretofore been published and is given below for comparison. An examination of the two lists shows that the running is pretty true to form, the same students holding about the same places, with the exception of some brilliant newcomers in the class of '25, who break in on the roll here and there.

W. A. S. WILL GIVE YEAR'S SECOND BIG DANCE IN THE GYM

Women Planning for Cabaret Dance That Promises to be the Year's Biggest and Best Social Affair.

By ALKALI

Presenting for your approval a one-act play, written by the author: Time, now; Place, the campus; Characters, Two students who successfully passed enough hours last semester to permit them to register again; Dialogue, as follows:

Bill: "Lo Jim. Have a good time New Year's?"

Jim: "Lo Bill. Bet I did. Didja?"

Bill: "I'll say I did. Y'see there was a big dance New Year's Eve, everybody in town was there and everything went fine until about 11 o'clock when ..... (Half an hour elapses while Bill and Jim tell each other about "the night before.")

Jim: "Yua! signed up now?"

Bill: "Yep, taking eighteen hours this semester."

Jim: "The dickens you are. Must figure on doing some studying for a change."

Bill: "Oh, I don't know. It doesn't take so very much studying to pass eighteen hours. All you have to do is quit fooling around and stay home week nights."

Jim: "Guess you're right at that. I'm taking sixteen hours myself and I've resolved not to get lower than 2.00 in any of them."

Bill: "That's the best New Year's resolution I've heard yet. Did you make any more like it?"

Jim: "Just one. I'm not going to miss a campus dance this semester."

Bill: "That won't be a very hard resolution to keep, guess I'll join you on that."

Jim: "It'll be an easy one to keep, because I figure that if you study like you should during the week that a good peppy dance on Saturday night won't make the Mondays seem so blue."

Bill: "Right you are and speaking of dances, when's the first one?"

Jim: "When's the first one? Where have you been keeping yourself? The Kappa Lambda's are giving a big All-University dance in the Gym Saturday night and you'll have to hurry if you want a date for it."

Bill: "Right you are again, but I think I can find someone that wants to go. While I'm at it I'll also get a date for a week from Saturday."

What's doing then?"

Jim: "Good heavens, man, don't you ever read the Sagebrush? Didn't you see that article in the last issue about the big Cabaret Dance that the Women's Athletic Section is going to give on the fourteenth?"

Bill: "Yes, I read the Sagebrush, but I was so busy studying for final exams that I don't remember about it."

Jim: "Well, I'll tell what I've heard, then. In the first place, the Women's Athletic Section includes every girl on the campus and they are going to give this dance to raise money for sweaters for the girls who have won them by taking part in interclass athletics. Anything over the amount which they need for sweaters will be placed in the general athletic fund."

Bill: "But why call it a 'Cabaret Dance'?"

Jim: "Because that's just what its going to be. The Old Gym is going to look so much like a real before-prohibition cabaret that you won't know it. They are going to put tables all around the floor and when you're not dancing, you can sit down and eat. Not only that, but my lady told me that there will be some first class entertainment between dances."

Bill: "Well that sure sounds good to me and when all the women on the Campus get together to give a dance it ought to be worth going to."

Jim: "I'll say it'll be worth going to. I figure that anybody who misses the W. A. S. dance will miss the time of their life. I've had a date for it for nearly a month now."

Bill: "Nearly a month? Wow, but you work fast!"

Jim: "You have to work fast around here when a big party is coming up or you'll be left in the cold."

(Bill sees "Her" coming out of the Library.)

Bill: "So long, Jim, I'm going to see if I'm too late for a date."

(That noon Jim meets Bill coming out of a class.)

Jim: "What luck did you have?"

Bill: "Good luck. We're going to the Kappa Lambda dance Saturday night, and the Cabaret Dance a week from Saturday. Also, just to be safe, I got a date for the Saturday after that."

Jim: "Well, you're not so slow after all."

Bill: "That's what She said!"

WOMAN

Once upon a time I thought I understood Woman. But alas I found that—

If you flatter her she says, "Where do you get that stuff?"

If you don't flatter her she says, "The hick is dead from the neck up."

If you make love to her she wonders where you peddled your last line;

If you don't make love she thinks you have no eye for beauty.

If you believe all she says you take her out to a big feed;

If you don't believe what she says somebody else gets the chance.

If you are jealous she says, "Say kid, who was your slave last year?"

If you are not jealous she knows you are in love with someone else.

If you tell her you like the clinging vine type she wears army pants and puttees.

If you like her in army pants she wear low neck dresses and suspenders over her shoulders.

If you want her to settle down in a comfy flat and fry hot cakes she says, "Not on your life; I need the cash."

Whatthehell Church

The Daily Illini of Illinois University remarks that one of the most famous editions of their paper was one published on November 23, 1914, in which the following notice appeared:

"Union services will be held in Whatthehell Church, Urbana, Thursday morning at 10:30. Sermon by Dr. Shott of the Baptist church."

It appeared later that the linteroperator, unable to read the copy had inserted the fatal phrase, expecting the proof reader to find the name of the church. That individual failed to do his duty and the notice went through without correction.

ARTEMISIA AHEAD OF SCHEDULE SET

New Record Established by Staff. Printer Suffers Severe Shock When Handed First Copy.

By ART

Here I am again, twice in the same issue. How did it happen?—I'll tell you. It was this way:

We took the first batch of Artemisia copy down to the printer this afternoon (Wednesday) and when we got it all sorted out and the pages correctly numbered we found that instead of thirty-two pages, which were all we were supposed to have, we had fifty-seven. In other words, one-eighth of the 1922 Artemisia is finished and in the printer's hands. Not so bad, what?

As the Book is now ahead of schedule, the Staff is resting much easier, but they are not going to slacken up on their work; far from it. The next thirty-two pages include the senior and junior sections of the book and the drive for upperclass photographs and school records has already begun.

Every senior and junior is hereby requested to have his, and her, picture taken at Mr. Goodner's studio AT ONCE; if unable to have your photo taken this week, plan to do so not later than next week. Simply drop into Mr. Goodner's office any afternoon between 1 and 2:30 and no appointment will be necessary. Pictures of both men and women will be informal and will cost you but seventy-five cents. The record of your school activities should also be compiled AT ONCE and turned over to some member of the Artemisia staff, or left at the Artemisia Office in the basement of the Physics Building.

WALTER CAMP GIVES HONORABLE MENTION TO JAMES BRADSHAW

Pacific Coast Schools Apparently Given Little Credit for Their Football Ability by Eastern Man.

Walter Camp, the most generally accepted authority on football in the United States, has at last made public his selection for the 1921 All-American Varsity. After picking three teams, Camp goes on to give a "Football Honor Roll" and Nevada's famous quarterback, "Jimmie" Bradshaw, heads the list of varsity pilots; Mr. Camp also gives "Jimmie" honorable mention in his list of backs. Local football fans, as well as most of the Pacific Coast newspapers, predicted that Bradshaw's name would be in the list of Camp's three teams,—especially after Malcolm McLean placed him at quarter on his All-Western eleven,—but Mr. Camp evidently was too far East to hear any more than a feeble echo of "Jimmie's" fame. Camp's first, second, and third teams, graded according to his idea of the players' individual abilities, are given below:

FIRST VARSITY

Ends—Muller (California) and Roberts (Center).

Tackles—Stein (Washington and Jefferson) and McGuire (Chicago).

Guards—Schwab (Lafayette) and Brown (Harvard).

Center—Vick (Michigan).

Quarter—Devine (Iowa).

Halfbacks—Killinger (Penn State) and Aldrich Yale.

Fullback—Kaw (Cornell).

SECOND VARSITY

Ends—Swanson (Nebraska) and Kiley (Notre Dame).

Tackles—Slater (Iowa) and Keck (Princeton).

Guards—Trott (Ohio State) and Bedenek (Penn State).

Center—Larsen (Annapolis).

Quarter—McMillin (Centre).

Halfbacks—Owen (Harvard) and Davies (Pittsburg).

Fullback—Mohardt (Notre Dame).

THIRD VARSITY

Ends—Crisler (Chicago) and Stephens (California).

Tackles—Into (Yale) and McMillan (California).

Guards—Pucelik (Nebraska) and Wheelchel (Georgia).

Center—Stein (Pittsburgh).

Quarter—Lourie (Princeton).

Halfbacks—French (West Point) and Borchet (Annapolis).

Fullback—Horlan (Georgia Tech.).

BASKETBALL TEAM TO START SEASON ON FRIDAY NIGHT

prances out on the floor.

It is a mere possibility that the men of last year's team will not be able to get in for this game and if this is the case "Corky" has a team from Sacramento which will be on deck to substitute for them. There will be a game next Friday night and it should be one to watch, whoever may be the opponents. It will not only show the new men on the team but will give the fans of the city a line on the team this year. With the improvement shown by the men during the last week it seems certain that the team of this year will be one which will uphold the standard set by the teams of former years.

DO YOU LIKE THESE NAMES?

Five loyal Nevada students have responded to our plea, printed in the last issue of the Sagebrush last semester, for a suitable synonym for the School's athletic teams. Though none of the names suggested carried their originators' signatures with them, we wish to take this opportunity to thank those five students for their interest in a matter which we feel is of vital interest and importance to the entire student body.

The five names suggested to date are: "Wasps", "Mustangs", "Rabbits", "Miners", and "Bob Cats." Of these, the first two are very evidently the product of sincere thought and meet best the requirements necessary for acceptable usage. "The Wasps" was suggested by the striped jerseys which both the football and basketball teams wear and we believe that the name is a very applicable one though we do not wish, at this time, to advance a final decision on the matter. We can particularly remember, however, a certain football game at Palo Alto last fall when the Stanford "Indians" were bewildered and routed by Nevada's eleven which, at the time, resembled nothing more than a swarm of stinging, fighting "Wasps". "Mustangs", too, is a name well worth comment for, if nothing else, it is typically Western and especially Nevadan. Nevada is the only state in the Union where wild horses may yet be found in abundance and the name "Mustangs" carries with it the idea of unlimited endurance and calls to mind the wide sweep of Nevada's sagebrush plains. "Rabbits" was undoubtedly suggested to perpetuate the famous "Jimmie's" name and, in this respect, we like the sentiment involved. On the other hand, however, a rabbit is not a fighting animal and is such a pest to the ranchers here in the West that all possible means are taken to exterminate them; we fear that "Rabbits" would not meet with popular favour as a nickname for our teams. "Miners", though an apt suggestion, is the name by which the athletes of a number of mining schools are already known so it would cause much confusion to use the name here in Nevada. "Bob Cats" suggests the West, to be sure, but almost the same name is in use in Arizona.

As the Sagebrush does not propose to be the judge in the matter of choosing a name by which the School's athletic teams will be known, it is necessary that the students let us know how they feel toward the names already advanced. Do you like them or don't you? Drop us a line and let us know; include a suggestion of your own, too. Let's have a good synonym for our basketball team when they play their first scheduled game a couple of weeks from now. "Give Us A Name!" H.

EXAMINATIONS

There is an impending change in the final examination week which, if carried into effect, will slightly alter matters for the undergraduate in that most terrible of times. The faculty has not gone to the extreme of abolishing the semester recapitulation of work done—or undone—and in looking the proposition over from the student viewpoint it offers not so much succor to the weary as might be hoped for. Instead of the regular examination week, it is proposed to use the last week of the semester, with examinations covering the week during the regular class hours. No conflicts will be occasioned using this method and in some of the courses the regular recitations can be lengthened to include more work.

The final examinations, as viewed by the average student, is a Gibraltar to be surmounted only by weary and painstaking study during the fag end of a semester. However, it has its advantages. To the man who does his studying for the year during the last week it holds out a final hope of "getting by"; to the student who is trying for honors it offers a chance of raising the final grade, and to the average student who has done a bit of work throughout the semester it holds no fears, for he can easily write on paper what he has learned. A fair examination can be and should be fairly passed by the average man or woman without fear and without exasperation.

And finally, from a faculty viewpoint, the last examination is the sword of Damascus held hanging over the heads of those who come to "rest" that they may put forth some final effort in attaining a degree. Rationally viewed from all sides, the final examination is a necessary evil with not a few good features and the new move on the part of the faculty will take a bit of the fire and fear out of the examinations as well as smoothing out the kinks of the exam week snarl. LOOK AGAIN!

Western land is being rapidly cleared and some football is being played among the charred stumps.

A glance over the list of thirty-three men whom Mr. Camp has selected as the best football players of "All-America" will show that but three of them come from the West, that is, the actual West.

No wail is intended, but we do not think, Mr. Camp, that this time you've made a representative All-American selection. In the first place you have never seen the game "as she is played" here on the Pacific Coast, so you can make no fair estimate of our players. You have seen the big Eastern teams in action and we believe that your choice of stellar players in your section of the country has been fair and square and above criticism. The big difference is this: you have seen your Eastern players in action on the gridiron, but the only knowledge you have of our men out here in the "Far West" is from the newspapers and data which has been compiled and sent to you concerning them. You read that "So-and-So ran ninety yards for a touchdown through the entire opposing team", yet can you fairly judge "So-and-So's" playing ability unless you saw him run those ninety yards. We don't think that you can and to be perfectly frank, we think that the job is getting too big for you to handle. You must remember that we don't "pack guns" out here any more, that the Indians are tame now, and that, taking everything together, the West is no longer "Wild and Woolly". This means that our football teams have graduated from the back lot and play the game with a high degree of excellence. We are of the honest opinion that the Pacific Coast cannot be disregarded when the All-American team is picked.

Your 1921 selections are well made to represent "All-America" east of the Rocky Mountains, but you haven't much knowledge concerning Pacific Coast players. Better take a trip West and look them over before selecting your 1922 team. H.

With the College Scribes

WHO OUGHT TO GO TO COLLEGE?

Before the war the answer was all-sufficient, "Anyone who can pass the entrance examinations"; but this democratic formula is no longer adequate to the needs of the committee on admission, with several applications in hand for every vacancy to fill.

The colleges hold a strategic position in this regard, that they never before enjoyed. That college presidents are taking advantage of the situation to clear their halls of triflers is apparent in the opening day warnings of at least three presidents:

"There is no room in Wesleyan for any man whose presence is not justified by clear purpose and faithful effort. . . . No one is entitled to a college education who does not earn the right from day to day by strenuous and enthusiastic life; the college is for the ablest and the best."—President Shanklin of Wesleyan University.

"There is no reason why a boy who comes to college should expect any easier time than a boy who goes to work in a factory or in an office. . . . A college is a workshop, and if it is going to maintain its place in the esteem of a nation that has supported us with such unstinted generosity we must see that the gospel of honest work is not only taught in the colleges but practiced by all of us who have anything to do with it."—President Richmond of Union College.

"It is entirely possible to exclude the loafer and the man who is foul-minded or foul-mouthed, the dull, the sleepy, and the aimless. This year is the time to eliminate all such and keep only those who are of high character and clean minds."—President Faunce of Brown University.

Considering this same issue, Professor Allen of Lafayette College says:

"School sins are too well known to need discussion. The list includes lack of earnestness, lack of purpose and aim, small appetite for book learning or hard work, scholarly ambition that rises no higher than 'a gentleman's grade.' . . . For the most part, men have not acquired these as new faults in college. The boy that enters a college that is fairly free of such blasting ideas will seldom develop these delinquencies personally infected before he enters."

MACHINERY ADDED TO LABORATORIES DURING VACATION

During the holidays extensive work in the overhauling and cleaning of the machinery in the electrical and mechanical laboratories was accomplished by those two departments in order to have the machinery in perfect working order for the classes of the second semester. It is planned to continue the overhauling of the different pieces in the laboratory and a large part of the work will be done by the various classes in lieu of experiments. In this way it is thought that all the machines can be put in first class shape before the end of this semester so that it will not be necessary to spend a large portion of the summer going over the machines in order that they may be ready for the opening of the fall semester.

Due to the large number of students registered now in engineering courses, the facilities of the two engineering buildings are being badly taxed for space. To rectify this condition, plans are under way for the erection of a new civil engineering building to house the students of that college, together with its laboratory apparatus. That such a building will be built in the near future is agreed upon by members of the engineering faculty, but as yet no appropriations for the building have been made by the legislature. An attempt will be made to have the next session pass such a bill.

In order to temporarily relieve the congestion, plans are also under way for the construction of two new rooms in the electrical building. While such a move has not yet been definitely sanctioned, the rooms will probably be added during the summer vacation. They will be placed on a level with the present second floor of the building in the portion now occupied by the laboratory. The rooms will not interfere with the laboratory in any way except that they will lower the ceiling of the laboratory to the level of the second story. They will be placed on either end of the laboratory and will extend as far as the skylight, making each one about forty by thirty feet.

The electrical laboratory will be enriched this semester by the addition of two identical direct current motor-generator sets. The machines are directly coupled by a semi-flexible coupling, so arranged that it can be removed, allowing each machine to run separately as either a motor or generator. The driving motor of each set is of fifteen horsepower capacity while the generator has a rated output of seven kilowatts. One of the sets has already arrived and the other will arrive within the next day or so. They will be permanently installed as soon as the second set is received.

Mrs. Clark Entertains During Holidays

During the Christmas holidays, Mrs. Clark was hostess to all the faculty children at a party given in the University Dining Hall. In the afternoon the children congregated around a splendid big Christmas tree which had been set up in the room just as it came from the hills. The youngsters were provided with scissors, crepe paper, colored string and Christmas ornaments and set about decorating. At the close of an enjoyable and entertaining afternoon, when the tree had been completely transformed from mountain pine to Christmas tree, refreshments were served to the children and to their grown-up hostesses.

On the same evening the whole staff of the University had a holiday party in the Dining Hall. Mrs. Clark was again the hostess and the Christmas tree decorated by the children held the center of the stage. Nearly every member of the faculty and staff was present and all participated in the general good time. The evening was passed with games, songs and dances. Each guest brought a prize which he contributed to the Christmas present fund. In the redrawing, rattles, whistles and fire wagons played a prominent part.

The chief feature of the evening was a turkey dinner. Thirteen professional carvers, selected mainly from the biological and veterinary departments, performed the dissecting operations. They formed in file in the kitchen and marched into the dining hall in imposing aproned array. Each bore a platter with a steaming turkey upon it. The rear was guard formed by the waitresses who bore dishes heaped high with vegetables. Ye merrie spirit of olde England prevailed and the faculty enjoyed a regular Yule Tide banquet.

What Is a Vacuum Furnace?

In an ordinary furnace materials burn or combine with the oxygen of the air. Melt zinc, cadmium, or lead in an ordinary furnace and a scum of "dross" appears, an impurity formed by the oxygen. You see it in the lead pots that plumbers use.

In a vacuum furnace, on the contrary, the air is pumped out so that the heated object cannot combine with oxygen. Therefore in the vacuum furnace impurities are not formed.

Clearly, the chemical processes that take place in the two types are different, and the difference is important. Copper, for instance, if impure, loses in electrical conductivity. Vacuum-furnace copper is pure.

So the vacuum furnace has opened up a whole new world of chemical investigation. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have been exploring this new world solely to find out the possibilities under a new series of conditions.

Yet there have followed practical results highly important to industry. The absence of oxidation, for instance, has enabled chemists to combine metals to form new alloys heretofore impossible. Indeed, the vacuum furnace has stimulated the study of metallurgical processes and has become indispensable to chemists responsible for production of metals in quantities.

And this is the result of scientific research.

Discover new facts, add to the sum total of human knowledge, and sooner or later, in many unexpected ways practical results will follow.

"ARTEMISIA ART" TO REPORT REGULARLY ON BOOK'S PROGRESS

"Art" Introduces Himself With An Account of the Work Done on the 1922 Artemisia to Present Date.

By ART

Happy New Year, everybody, it looks good to have you back! And now allow me to introduce myself. "Art," of course, isn't my real name, but I'm going to have a weekly article in the Brush until the 1922 Artemisia makes its appearance on Mackay Day, so I thought that "Art" would be as good a name as any other. You may know, then, that from now until the eighth day of April an article by "Art" will be an article about this year's Artemisia.

I'm a sort of a publicity man for the Year Book. My job is to keep you informed as to the progress made on the composition of the book and to convince every single one of you that you simply cannot afford to be without one of them this year. I'll tell you right now, though, none of my stuff is going to be "bunko"; I'm not going to tell you fairy tales. If, for instance, fifty pages of the Artemisia are supposed to be in the printer's hands by the end of the month, but only thirty pages are ready at that time—I'll tell you. I'm not going to "string you along" and make you think that everything is going fine if nothing is going fine. The Artemisia is yours, it is not published by individuals, but by the Associated Students of the University of Nevada. As you are those Associated Students it is only right that you should be given a weekly report about the book which you are publishing. That is going to be my job, to give you the weekly report. Follows the first one:

During the vacation the Artemisia Staff was mighty busy. The book has to go to the printer in thirty-two page installments and the staff faced the problem of getting the first thirty-two pages ready for the press by the end of the first week in the New Year. With the exception of two drawings, which the Art Editors are working on at the present moment, the first thirty-two pages are ready.

These first pages include articles from the professors in charge of each school and college in the University, and a foreword by President Clark; fifteen articles in all. Though the professors are rushed with work and desirous of a vacation themselves, they responded nobly to the request for articles and fairly swamped the staff copy-readers with their manuscripts. Their hearty co-operation promises well for the ultimate success of the book.

Then there were photographs of the Campus to be obtained for a new and special section of the Artemisia. Instead of three or four small photos to a page, one and two to a page will be the rule this year. Some very excellent photographs have been obtained which show the campus buildings at their best and the full and half-page reproductions of these pictures will, without doubt, make the section the most artistic in the book.

Some of the other "little things" that kept the staff busy during the holidays were: The compilation of a new and up-to-date list of the faculty of the University; the composition of a suitable dedication for the book, choosing a cover design; sending letters to all the high schools in the State requesting articles which will be run in a special High School Section; innumerable conferences with the printer in regard to costs and the composition of the book; letters to out-of-town merchants for ads. Yes, the Artemisia Staff managed to find plenty to do during "vacation!"

At present a drive is being conducted to get every student to pay his dollar deposit on the 1922 Artemisia, the total cost of which, this year, is only four dollars. If you want a book, and it is taken for granted that you do, it is necessary that you pay your deposit now. There will only be as many books printed as there are deposit slips sold, so if you are expecting to wait until Mackay Day without making a deposit now, there may not be a book printed for you. It is very evident that this is the only way that the publishers of the Artemisia can get any estimate of the number of books to have printed. If only 300 students signified their intention of buying a book by paying a deposit now, it would be a poor policy to order 500 books printed and hope to sell the extra 200 copies. The main idea of the deposit slips is to get an estimate on the number of books desired by the students, not to get their money. If you want an Artemisia, let the fact be known by paying Jack Pike a dollar deposit NOW; that leaves you only three dollars to pay on Mackay Day.

Soon the call for senior and junior pictures will be issued, for they will come in the next thirty-two pages, and the editors hope and expect that a personal canvass of the classes will not be required to get them all taken. The pictures for the class sections of the Artemisia this year will be informal for both men and women so it will be a simple matter for the students to step into Mr. Goodner's studio and have the "agony" of a picture-taking over with on short notice. The editors have set Mackay Day as the date on which the Artemisia will be for sale. This means that the book must be printed and in the hands of the binders by the middle of March. The book will be out on the date announced if it is within human power to have it so; only unforeseen labor trouble will retard the date of presentation to the Student Body; only unforeseen trouble and one other thing—lack of co-operation. Please remember this and when you are called upon to have a picture taken or, perhaps, write your class's history or some similar article, DO IT AT ONCE. Remember that the Artemisia is YOUR book, a lasting record of YOUR school—co-operate!

Improvement Elsewhere

The Wharton school of finance at the University of Pennsylvania has abolished final examinations, and mid-terms, too! The decision is believed by the faculty to be a marked forward step in modern methods of education. The two weeks' time saved each semester will be used for continuing class lectures and recitations.

CARNIVAL COMMITTEE MAKES FINAL REPORT

Report Shows Good Balance. Officers of Pi Phi and Tri Delt Each Burdened with Additional Sum

A complete report has been received of the receipts and disbursements of the Alumni Carnival. Financially the affair was thoroughly successful; over eleven hundred dollars was taken in of which over six hundred was cleared after payment of all expenses and prizes.

The account of expenditures is more than usually complete and includes everything from mustard to music. It is advisable to print it here that all students may know just what it costs to give a carnival and what the items of expense are; it will be valuable for reference in planning future carnivals.

The 10 per cent prize was divided evenly between Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta, and amounted to $33.83 for each. The report follows:

Received from all sources Oct. 15, 1921	$1115.19

NO SHADES!

The shades of night were falling fast,
By Manzanita Hall there passed
A Frosh, who glancing to his right,
Saw many a strange, enticing sight,
No shades!

One maid in dainty, silken slip,
Was painting up both cheek and lip,
Another one removed her hat,
And from her hair pulled yards of rat,
No shades!

Another, whom he much admired,
Was very scantily attired,
The freshman blushed and turned his head,
He felt his cheeks grow hot and red,
No shades!

ONE BRAND—ONE QUALITY—One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

DEAR BUNCH:

MY BRAIN is in a state VERY SIMILAR to the dome OF ALKALI in his usual RAVINGS I mean a STATE OF simple INNOCUOUS DESUETUDE AND IF I only had AN IDEA I'd be fixed BUT WHILE I think of it let ME TELL you how near I CAME to leaving the BACHELOR'S CLUB and why I QUIT before I started YOU SEE I went to A SHOW last week AND SAT in the gallery IN THE place known as the UNIVERSITY BOX and next TO ME was a queen WHOSE VOICE touched UNKNOWN CORDS within me and FILLED ME with disgust THAT I had taken NO GIRL to dances but HAD LIVED a lone life as IT WERE of course it WAS DARK but I knew HER FACE must be beautiful BECAUSE HER voice was SO SWEET and we talked AND I planned GREAT THINGS for us and RESOLVED to take in ALL THE dances with her FROM NOW on and WE TALKED and I found SHE CAME from my HOME TOWN and we had A LOT of mutual friends WHICH MADE it nice AND THEN a friend OF MINE came in and SAT DOWN on the other SIDE OF her and as WE TALKED he cut me OUT AND I got sore AND QUIT talking AND SWORE vengeance on MY FRIEND and after THE SHOW my friend and MY GIRL that was were GOING TO the dance when THE LIGHTS went on and I GOT a good look AT THIS girl's face and IT WAS pretty no doubt BUT NOW my friend AND I don't speak because THE GIRL he cut me OUT OF was a brunette AND PRETTY and all that BUT UNFORTUNATELY OF THE PURE AFRICAN TYPE.

Twilight Reflections No. 1
MY LADY-BUG

The shades of night are falling over the sagebrush hills, the long purple shadows are slowly lengthening over the Truckee meadows and afar comes the wail of a locomotive pulling up the canyon, its brazen throat giving a tone that suggests distant countries and strange travels. Below I see the evening breeze ruffling the waters of the lake and a student occasionally sauntering slowly across the tram. Sometimes a man and by his side a girl. This crowd of freshmen girls; how I detest them! How many of them there are! How young and full of life. Three long years more and I will be through; gone from this hateful place. No longer do I saunter across the old and formerly beloved tramway—no longer can I saunter along the quad and see a womanly form beside me. Life seems futile now. There SHE comes now, silly little baby, and beside her, beside her, My, My Ladybug.

The University of Washington has always been referred to as the "Sundodgers." The term made its first appearance on the campus as the title of a humorous magazine and some ingenious chap applied it to the varsities. The term stuck like glue until last week when another ingenious chap endeavored to learn the true meaning of the word and succeeded; Sundodgers—"Those who stay up all night and sleep during the day." That was enough of the term. The campus celebrities went right to work on a new name and have adopted the term, "Vikings", which is considered more appropriate.

EXCELLENT FOOTBALL SCHEDULE IS BEING PREPARED FOR 1922

Sagebrush Eleven Face Formidable Football Season for 1922. May Invade Washington for First Time in Gridiron Annals. Line Coach Needed for Best Efficiency

The schedule for the 1922 football season is fast rounding into shape, due to the untiring efforts of Coach R. O. Courtright. Games have been arranged with Stanford and California and a tentative game with Whitman College of Washington. The game with Walla Walla will be assured only after the executive committee of the University of Nevada has ratified Corky's action in scheduling the game.

Nevada has been assigned dates with Stanford and California in late November. Stanford will meet the Nevadans on the fourth, while the Golden Bear tangles with the Sagebrushers one week before the big game with Stanford. These games give Nevada her proper Coast rating.

Many Home Games

The schedule, while it is not complete, provides a host of games, seven of which will be played at home if plans now under consideration materialize. On the twenty-third of September some club team will probably be seen opposing the Silver and Blue; on the thirteenth the College of Pacific will be the Nevadan's meat. The next week Davis will furnish the opposition and St. Mary's will be the next victims. These games will all be played on the home gridiron. On the following Saturday the Nevadans will journey either to Utah to meet the Mormons or will go to southern California to engage the Trojans in the great college sport. U. S. C. has already asked for a game on that date and in all probability will be Nevada's opponent. Santa Clara has asked for the next Saturday and will be seen in action for the first time by the local fans, since 1918 when the Nevada steam roller ran over them for a 41-7 victory.

Play Stanford November 4

The next game with Stanford starts the hardest trio of games Nevada has yet experienced. On the fourth of November, Nevada travels to Palo Alto to tangle with the Cardinals. This game was scheduled due to the fact Nevada tied them this year and the Red Shirts want revenge. Whether they will get it is a matter of speculation. The next Saturday Nevada will meet Whitman College, winners of Northwestern Conference title this year. This is the first time that Nevada has met a team from the Northwest and it is assured that the game will be hard fought from the start. On the next Saturday, Nevada meets the Golden Bear. This game is scheduled one week before the Stanford game and both teams should be in good mid-season form. The next Saturday is open and in all probability will be left so, as on the following Thursday, Thanksgiving, the Nevadans meet Whittier College of Southern California. This game will be another interesting one to watch as it is the first time the teams have met.

Line Coach Needed

With ten games scheduled and only three weak teams, the schedule for the 1922 season looks to be even better than the one of 1921. The Nevada team has gained the reward of merit on the Coast and what will enable them to keep on the football map is a line coach. In the days of "Corky," "The team has a great future for next season and with a line coach we can beat California." I'm praying for a line coach." The coach's words ring true and with a line coach to help him out Nevada not only has a good chance of beating California, but would probably win all the other games scheduled. The University of Nevada has not the material to pick from as has California or any other colleges on the Coast, and the only way to beat the Coast colleges is to be better coached than they are. To do this it is necessary to have a man to coach the line. With a capable man to handle this end of the game Nevada will be able to rise to even greater heights in the football world. Let's go Nevada. Let's get a line coach for next year.

OLD EXAM ROUTINE WILL BE CHANGED

The system of final examinations has at last come up for revision. The rumor that all examinations were to be abolished has been found to be without foundation, but it is a fact that the regulations concerning them have been considerably modified.

The new plan is this: There will be no final examination week as heretofore. Instead, the last week of school, during regular class hours will be devoted, at the discretion of the professor, to such examinations as he deems necessary. In case ex's are not held, recitations will continue up to the last day of the semester.

The new system has been the subject of considerable debate, but undoubtedly corrects a number of existing evils. It does away with three continuously grueling hours of brain ransacking per subject, and makes the examination period proportional to the number of credit hours earned.

Thus a one credit course will have a one hour review and a three credit course a three hour review during the week. The new system makes unnecessary the preparation of those complicated examination charts which always read like Greek. Conflicts will no longer arise, for there will be no conflict in the ordinary week-day recitations.

The system is up for test and if found satisfactory will be retained.

FOR TUNA

At Catalina Island, that famous "fisherman's paradise" off the coast of Southern California, where all game-fish are eagerly sought for by lovers of the singing reel, the fighting tuna is the ocean swimmer that all sportsman love best to see break the water on the end of their lines.

A man with a fishing boat for hire and a keen eye for trade always gets the pick of the visiting fisherman when they see the name on his trim little launch—"Fortuna".

TWO AND TWENTY STUDENTS CAUGHT UNDER JUGGERNAUT

As a result of their scholarship records for the past semester, fifty students were placed on probation. Three students were found to be on the list for a second time, which prevents their re-registering at the University. Twenty-two students were disqualified for re-registration, having made failures of their work.

Those on probation have their hours limited and must arrange to make up their deficiencies. If a deficiency sufficient to warrant probation occurs twice, the student is dropped from the University.

Although fifty probationers is rather an unusual harvest, Dean Adams reports with a smile of satisfaction "a very satisfactory semester."

COLLEGE NOTES

Now We Know Why "Windy" Left Kansas.

Blue Sunday has been instituted at Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas. Students are not permitted to go on hikes or picnics, or attend social functions on Sunday. And women—women may receive callers only between the hours of four and ten p. m.

Too Good to Believe

Butler College (Indiana) has its own idea of a thrill. For instance when a barrel of real stuff is delivered to a Y. M. C. A. mixer instead of cider! "A good time was had by all," however, and no one failed to recover.

Why Only On Wednesday?

All men who have been awarded "S" sweaters at Stanford wear them on Wednesday each week under a custom instituted by Skull and Snakes, the Stanford honor society.

Further Defiance of Fashion

Girls of the University of Wisconsin have adopted a new style in dress. Knickerbockers have been seen on the campus and approved of.

Upon a certain day all the members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority appeared on the campus wearing the knickerbockers, waist and jacket costume. They went to classes, strolled about the campus, deported themselves in their usual style, and were generally commended for furthering the new and comfortable style.

KAPPA LAMBDA WILL OPEN SOCIAL SEASON WITH DANCE IN GYM

On next Saturday evening, January the seventh, Kappa Lambda, the newly organized local fraternity, will open the social events of the semester with a dance in the Gymnasium.

The Campus Get-Together form of entertainment was decided upon as most suitable for the first week of the semester as it will serve as a reunion for the old students and, at the same time, give the new students an opportunity to get acquainted. Though not elaborate in any detail, the event is looked forward to with considerable anticipation as lack of formality upon such an occasion is generally accompanied by a spirit of mirth and jollity, which, with good jazz, is all that is necessary for a good time.

This affair will be the first public function put forth by Kappa Lambda, and with all the members in working spirit, it promises to be a success.

All members of the student body and faculty are cordially invited to be present and as the College Five have promised to do their "derndest," it is hoped that a good crowd will turn out to start the semester's social hall a-rolin'.

Try Anything Once But Not Everything Twice

The greater part of the Columbia University chapter of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity were in Jamaica, L. I., police station recently trying to convince anyone and everyone there's a difference—vital difference—between stealing and borrowing an automobile.

Five fellow students from Columbia are behind the bars. They were initiated into the fraternity, taken in an auto to Long Island's "wilds," and, penniless, dumped out. All were told to get back to Columbia within a day or forfeit membership in the frat.

So they "borrowed" an auto. The sad part is that the auto belonging to a police lieutenant.

The judge dismissed the complaint because, he said, he "remembered his college days."
