ORCHESTRA TO MAKE RAFTERS RING SOON

The University Orchestra is being rapidly organized under the leadership of Prof. Lewis E. Rowe. The orchestra will make its first appearance at a special musical assembly and will later supply music whenever it is needed in campus activities.

The music department is well organized this year and with the large enrollment of students, new talent is expected to fill in the gaps left by graduation of members last year.

THE UNIVERSITY'S TRADITIONS

We stand for all that is honorable in matters of cheating in examinations and hope to continue that way.

There is a certain enmity existing between the sophomore and freshmen classes. The lake is the center of the rushes between the two classes. Ducking, unless otherwise decreed, is the punishment for unruly students at all times.

The old ducking spot in front of Hatch Station will not be used for that purpose this year, on account of the new lawn. The shore in rear of the Aggie Building will be used in its place at all times.

Posters are pasted on walks only to inform freshmen of accepted traditions.

It is the duty of the freshman class to keep the "N" upon the hill white-washed. The Block "N" Society will designate the dates for white-washing. Tradition has chosen some sacred places. The cement bench in front of the library, designated the Senior Bench, is for seniors only.

We take pride in the "Quad" and the lawns about the buildings.

All persons are forbidden to walk across them, except when drilling. The front steps of Morrill Hall are for the use of upper classmen only. Underclassmen use the back steps.

Freshmen are forbidden to "queen" on the campus between sunrise and sunset on the days when classes are in session. All buildings are to be considered as part of the campus except in class rooms.

Frosh are required to wear dinks on the campus between sunrise and sunset on the days when classes are in session. All buildings are to be considered as part of the campus except in class rooms.

Frosh are required to wear dinks on the campus between sunrise and sunset and to all football games.

At student body meetings or assemblies seniors occupy the front rows of seats, juniors behind them and so on, the freshmen being always careful to keep behind fellow students of upper classes.

Tradition dictates certain articles of clothing for the various classes. Only seniors wear the sombrero; only upper-classmen wear corduroys. Freshmen are obliged to wear the dink during their first semester.

Freshmen are at all times expected to have on their person a copy of the Associated Students Handbook. (Note: Revised editions of the Associated Students Handbook will be available shortly.)

Each class gives a formal dance in the "gym" each year, the freshmen Glee being the most elaborate of all.

CAKE, NOT GARLIC, GIVEN HALL FROSH

In accordance with the movement which found its official birthplace in the Order of the Axe, and which became openly expressed on last Mackay Day by President Clark, the freshmen at Manzanita Hall were given a welcome and not a hazing by their friends, the sophomores, on Thursday evening, September 6.

Perhaps it was a memory of the odor of strong garlic and of the taste of soap that moved the initiators to a spirit of pity this year.

Frosh Captured

It was not without a little fear that 19 sophomores, grouped in pairs, aroused and captured the 41 objects of their designs. The well-organized army called in every available member when it found eight freshmen peacefully awaiting the midnight intrusion. These remarkable children greeted their more dignified elders with "Hail, hail, the Sophs are here," and, well, you know the rest. They concluded by presenting the foremost intruder with a bouquet of flowers from the top of the table.

The babes, about half awake, were blindfolded and herded into the halls. From there, one at a time, they were taken on a free tour, which consisted of a tunnel without any roof, an ocean made of wet towels, and a ride in a clothes-basket. The infants were then led around in the cold outdoors and up-stairs on the sleeping porch, firmly believing that they were visiting Lincoln Hall.

Sophs Cheered

Then came the downfall of the freshman class. Refreshments were seen. No longer they wanted to escape and a conspiracy to get free failed. The initiation closed with three rousing cheers for the sophomore class and lemonade!

The best part of it was that no hard feelings or misfortunes resulted from this initiation. It was a success in every sense of the word. Of course, there were some bystanders who gazed upon the event with disapproving and cynical eyes, but a little adverse criticism matters not when the welcome itself "got over big" with the frosh.

The order of these dances is: Sophomore Hop and Junior Prom during the first semester and Freshmen Glee and Senior Ball during the second semester.

Mackay Day is celebrated annually in honor of Clarence H. Mackay, who gave the University Mackay Field. On this day the men clean the campus and the women prepare a dinner to be served at noon in the gym.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR IS NOW A "BRAKIE"

Professor, and he is entitled to the appellation by reason of 11 years' service in schools and colleges, W. B. Hilbish, of the Nevada State University, is now a full-fledged brakeman and expects, by diligent application, to some day become a conductor. He has just completed a successful term in the Nevada State University, where he was instructor in biology and physical education.

Just how biology and braking will combine is a matter of interest and road men as well as professors are watching with interest the results. Some of the road men claim that if the professor works hard enough he can hold down the promotion he has received. Others claim that a biological mind was never meant to solve the difficulties that arise when a train breaks in two.

And still, on inquiry, we find many others who are more interested in the linguistic phases of the transition from one job to the other and they are waiting hopefully when the professor demonstrates his abilities when he is called upon to chain up the third car behind the engine and pack the chains from the caboose at the end of a 70-car drag. They claim that biology will not assist him then, but that physical education might stand in good stead.

Still others are of the opinion that Hilbish will make it in a walk, but they think that foreign language professors should stick to college because they might be misunderstood by some hot-tempered brakeman when they start to discuss the situation in some "dead" language.

But when all of the theories have been advanced the fact remains that Professor Hilbish is now a brakeman, and that he is a full-fledged "shack" and other brakemen are seriously considering appending the title to their ordinary names.

So, if the people of this city want to be real proper, they will address the trainmen as "Professor" in the future.—Sparks Tribune.

EIGHT NEVADA MEN AT SUMMER CAMP

Eight men from the University's R. O. T. C. attended the training camp at Del Monte, Cal., for six weeks during the summer.

Quill, Green, Monahan, Koehler, Herkomer, Fairbrother and Holtzman were in the advanced course while Bonner attended the basic camp.

The camp was ideally situated about a mile from the shores of Monterey Bay and close to Del Monte, Monterey and Pacific Grove.

The courses of instruction consisted of command and leadership, physical training, combat problems, and company and platoon attack. All the work was made very interesting by the regular soldiers from the Presidio, Monterey, who acted as demonstrators.

Three weeks were devoted to firing on the range. The Nevada men stood third for high score which was considered an exceptional record for so small a team.

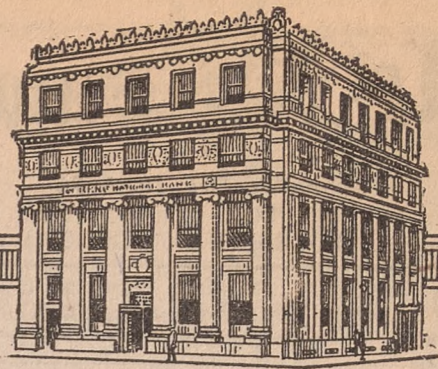

Fairbrother qualified as expert rifleman and was fourth high man in camp. Green, having completed the rifle course at Camp Lewis, joined the machine-gun company where a complete course in operation and firing was given.

As a whole, the camp was the best yet considering both instruction and the time devoted to recreation and amusement. The men who attended the camp will become the officers of the cadet battalion on the Hill this year.

TEAM ROUNDING INTO SHAPE FOR FIRST SCHEDULED GAME OF YEAR

Seventy-five Men Fighting for Places on Squad; Competition Keen

With the first game of the season but a week off, Coaches Courtright and Shaw are doing their best to whip the 75 candidates for the team into shape for their encounter with the Olympic Club on September 22. There is plenty of material out and the only obstacle confronting them is that of getting the men into good physical condition.

Seventy-five men answered the first call for candidates and of these men 40 are trying for backfield positions while the remainder are out to plug the gaps left open in the line by graduation. While the material is a little green as yet, it is the hope of the coaching staff to get the rudiments of the game into their heads by the time the first game rolls around.

Backfield Working

All this week Coach Courtright has had the backfield men learning to tackle and block and for the latter part of the week has had signal practice.

"Buck" Shaw has taken the line-men in hand and every evening has had them pushing the "bucking machine" all over the lot. He has the men very well trained in the gentle art of charging and by the time they line up against the clubmen from San Francisco will be able to give them a very good time in this department of the game.

To date it appears that the nucleus of the team will be made up of the veterans of last year. The team which will start the game a week from Saturday will be practically the same one which held the Santa Clara varsity to a 7-7 tie in the last game of the 1922 season.

Duborg at Center

Duborg will be in the center position and on either side will be Overton and Hardy. Both of these men are new to the varsity, but from early season form will give the opposition plenty to think about. Overton comes up from the frosh squad of last year while Hardy learned what it was all about on the Goof team. Both of them are big husky chaps and have learned how to hit their opponents so to put them out of the play. They are two men to watch as before the season is out, should give a good account of themselves.

Stationed at the two tackle positions will be Gridley and Carlson or Lohlein. All three of these men are veterans of last year so these two holes should give the coaches little to worry about.

Ends Cared For

On the extremities of the line it is probable that Harrison and Hobbs will again be seen in action. As they are both veterans also it appears that the opposition will have as tough a time breaking through these holes as they did last season.

The backfield looks the same as it

GYM SCENE OF FIRST W. A. S. MEET OF YEAR

W. A. S. held its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon in the gym to plan the semester's activities.

About 75 members and new girls were present and a social good time, flavored with lemonade and cookies that didn't arrive, followed the business meeting.

The women are turning their attention first to volley-ball as a warm-up, with tennis and rifle practice going on at the same time. Next will come hockey and, with the cold weather, basketball. Tentative plans for the spring season include track, a tennis tournament, and soccer.

With this program before them, W. A. S. needs material, and all freshmen and new girls interested in athletics are asked to appear for volley-ball practice.

FOOTBALL INTEREST KEEN AT RENO HIGH

With Herb Foster, one of Nevada's most prominent ex-football stars, as coach at Reno Hi, that school is anticipating one of the most successful seasons on the gridiron in years.

Although the team lost several of its best men last year, it is believed that the new men can be worked up to create a team as strong as that of last year, if not stronger.

Some of the men who can be counted on to stage a game worth seeing are Kistler (captain), Hartung, Hanna, Hart, Wright, Gadda, Wright, H. Karns, McCullom, Lombardi and N. Karns.

RENO Y. M. C. A. HAS BIG PROGRAM DRAWN

Opportunities for physical activity for both the men and women of the University of Nevada will be practically doubled this year with the increased athletic program which the Y. M. C. A. has undertaken.

A new physical director has been secured in the person of W. D. Elfrink. Elfrink is a man who has had much experience in the coaching line. He was the coach of the champion basketball team which Coe College produced in Kansas.

Elfrink, with the aid of another director, had charge of the physical activities at Camp Lewis during the war. He developed the system of hand-to-hand fighting which was adopted by the division at Camp Lewis at that time.

Elfrink plans to hold classes in boxing, wrestling and in hand-to-hand rough-and-tumble fighting. These will be primarily for the use of the university men. Classes in basketball and other indoor sports will be held on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from five to six, and on Monday and Tuesday evening from eight to ten. These classes are for university men.

Much new equipment has been secured which will greatly facilitate the use of department hitherto little used. This includes new wrestling mats and new boxing gloves.

In order to make the swimming pool as hygienically safe as possible, Prof. Dinsmore of the university will take tests of the water in the tank three times each week.

The swimming pool is open to the women on Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 3:30. Miss Sameth, director of the women's physical education department of the university, has made arrangements with the Y. M. C. A., and credit will be given to the women taking lessons in swimming. At all other hours the tank will be available for the use of any member.

PROF. AREVALO TELLS OF GORY BULL FIGHTS

Although born in Chile, Prof. Arevalo has lived in the United States for the last 10 years. He attended the summer sessions at the Universities of Wisconsin and Columbia and received a B. A. degree from Waukesha, Wis. Last June he was graduated from Yale with an M. A. degree.

During the war he served two years with the American army. He was also in the Army of Occupation in Germany. This summer he spent two months traveling in France, Switzerland and Spain.

Speaking of bullfights, Prof. Arevalo says:

"A bullfight is the most cruel and savage thing that there is to be seen. Several horses are usually gored to death, the people go mad with excitement, and if the man in the ring displeases them they try to mob him. In fact, the people get so wild that a company of soldiers is always stationed among the crowd to shoot them down if any trouble occurs. I am glad they do not have such things in this country."

SOPHS FIGHT HARD BUT FRESHMEN WIN

Poster Rush a Tame Affair Compared to Those of Years Gone Past

True to the reputation of a fighting class, the frosh put over a win in the poster rush last Thursday morning. The battle, while a little tame, lasted for about 20 minutes and gave the small group of upperclassmen who had gathered for the combat, plenty of excitement.

The frosh, led by "Red" Dungan, paraded the streets until nearly midnight, catching stray sophs wherever they could and giving them a merry time. Pan's Garden was the scene of one of the encounters.

Three frosh entered the dance hall and grabbed one of the sophomores and made him give a speech before the crowd of dancers. This became tame sport, however, and they soon retired to the campus where they endeavored to get a little sleep.

Sophs Finally Arrive

Just as dawn streaked the eastern sky, a little group of sophomores, about 35 in number, left the high school, armed with posters, paste and plenty of courage. As they neared the campus cry of "Here they are" split the quiet morning air and the battle was on.

As the sophs came up through the University avenue entrance the frosh, outnumbering their rivals nearly three to one, advanced to meet them. The two classes came together on the lawn in front of the Tram and here the battle raged. It was soon evident that greater numbers would prove victorious for the frosh.

Posters Destroyed

As the battle waxed warm, three of the sophs sneaked up the walk by the bridge, pasting posters as they went. For quite a while the frosh were outwitted, but a couple of the more wide-awake members of the class of '27 saw the game and went after the posters. They smashed the paste bucket and tore up the posters in short order and the fight was over.

Soon after the upperclass committee had declared the fight over, another one began.

A little group of sophomores had sneaked by the '27 guards and gotten over by the Mechanical building and started pasting posters on the walks. It was not long before they were discovered and nailed by the frosh.

Frosh Win Easily

As the smoke of battle cleared away only one sophomore was left untied while nearly the entire frosh class was ropeless. A few posters were in evidence but most of them lay torn to bits on the lawn.

Just as the sun came over the hills, the soph class gave their 26-N-Rah and it seemed that there was just a little twang of defiance in their voices as they finished, as if to say, "We'll sure make this gang of frosh believe what our posters told 'em."

It was a tame fight but what made it so was the unevenness of numbers of the two classes. The sophs put up a game battle, but the frosh were too many for them.

ATTENDANCE DROPS AT SUMMER SCHOOL

With a registration of 100 as compared with 131 in 1922, the eleventh annual summer session of the University of Nevada was held between June 18 and July 27.

The lowered attendance this year is believed to be largely due to the National Educational Association convention held at Oakland, as the summer session registration is composed mainly of teachers of Nevada and neighboring states.

A new departure for the summer session was the securing of several lecturers of wide reputation such as Dr. Franklin B. Dyer, former superintendent of schools, Cincinnati and Boston; Dr. Samuel C. Lind, former superintendent U. S. Bureau of Mines Experiment Station, and W. J. Hunting, state superintendent of public instruction. In addition there were several lectures by educators attending the National Educational Association convention at Oakland.

Y. W. WOMEN VISITED ASILOMAR YESTERDAY

The new women on the campus and the old Y. W. C. A. members enjoyed a typical day at Asilomar Wednesday afternoon.

The day started on the back porch of the Tri Delt house which overlooks the city in much the same manner that the Asilomar chapel overlooks the ocean.

Mrs. J. M. Fulton gave a short talk at Chapel followed by the singing of hymns. After Chapel, classes were held in Scripts Hall (Tri Delt lawn). Lyndall Adams of Nevada presided over classes and Bertha Akin and Elizabeth Hanchett talked to the students about the Asilomar conference.

After classes, games were played at Social Hall under the direction of Evelyn Nelson. During the serving of refreshments at the dining hall, there was a Stuck-Up and Pirate parade, followed by a stunt put on by the Advisory Board.

After supper the weary students enjoyed a beach party on the banks of the Orr ditch, which runs back of the Tri Delt house. Led by Edith Frandsen, all joined in the signing of Asilomar songs. The new women were given membership cards to fill out, and the day broke up with the singing of the Asilomar Hymn.

JONES HAS RECORDS OF JAPANESE 'QUAKE

In the Mackay School of Mines, if you are interested, Dr. J. C. Jones will show you a most remarkable instrument. It is the seismograph, the "shake writer," and through it Dr. Jones had knowledge of the Japanese earthquake, 5372 miles away, exactly 12 minutes after it happened.

Dr. Jones was lucky to receive records of the 'quake as the seismograph had not been working all summer and had been repaired but a day before the shocks.

On August 31 the seismograph registered a preliminary wave or shake at 7:10 p. m.; the next came at 7:20 and at 7:36 the long wave, traveling at the rate of three and a half miles a second, was recorded.

"I was able to determine, by the length of the waves, that the 'quake was either in Chile or Japan," Dr. Jones declared. "The second wave proved the tremor too far away for Chile, so by measuring around the globe centered the disturbance in Japan."

HONOR CLUB'S WORK EXPLAINED BY PROF.

"We Don't Pass the Buck; We Grab It," States Order's Founder

"Grabbing the buck doesn't mean chasing the eagle, it means going after the passed-up buck of others; it's a symbol of sense, not cents," said Professor Morse today when asked about the work of the "Buck Grabbers."

This organization, established for the sake of "doing the job," is the first of its kind on the University campus. The club has been organized in an effort to prove the success of business theories by application.

Strict Requirements

"Business ability can't be measured in terms of grades," said Professor Morse, "but must have its basis in actual accomplishment. Membership in the club is confined to men students enrolled in the department of business administration who have displayed business ability or executive efficiency in handling any organization on the campus."

One of the many features of the work of the Buck Grabbers last year was the financing of the University "stunt" for raising funds for a line coach. The A. S. U. N. has this semester turned over work of similar sort to the organization.

Jobs Sought

Members of the B. G. have been successfully canvassing the town for jobs and have placed college applicants in desired positions. The sale of tickets for any benefit, the advertising of any campus campaign has been substantially aided by Professor Morse and his men.

The officers of the Buck Grabbers are: President, Aine; sales manager, R. B. Taylor; secretary-treasurer, J. Cahlan; advertising manager, A. Cotter; production manager, W. Young; efficiency expert, H. Hughes; chairman of the board, Professor Morse.

GLEE CLUBS PLAN TO TOUR NEVADA CITIES

Prof. Lewis E. Rowe is well pleased with the rapidity in which both the Men's and Women's Glee clubs are being organized. The Glee Clubs from last year are starting off with a strong organization and promise to give the campus some good entertainment.

Their tentative program is to produce one campus play, a musical comedy or opera. Besides the campus production, the clubs are planning trips to various towns in the state.

The downtown musical organizations have asked the co-operation of the students on the Hill and from time to time the Glee Clubs will appear before the town people.

"This is a record year for enrollment in the music department," Prof. Rowe declares. "We have some of the best talent in years and I am convinced that it will be a banner year for music at the University."

SILVER COMMISSION COMPLETES HEARING

The United States commission of gold and silver inquiry, which held its meetings in the Education building, finished its hearings a week ago and the last of the delegates to the silver conference have left for their respective homes.

The commission requested the silver men to give reports on cost of production and other data for the commission's use and most of the time was taken with such work.

To make the data obtained available for congress, the commission now faces several months of intensive work while the silver delegates are also busy perfecting a marketing association which is expected to do much for western mining.

TWO NEW BULLETINS IN USE BY FRANDSEN

Two new University Bulletins, "Topical Outlines of General and Personal Hygiene" and "A Laboratory Guide to General Zoology" by Peter Frandsen, professor of biology, are now in use by classes in Hygiene 1 and 2 and Zoology 2.

These bulletins were printed this summer in the State Printing Office and are nicely gotten up. They take the place of mimeographed outlines used heretofore.

The mimeographed work, which contained the same matter as the new publications, proved unsatisfactory because of its high cost and uncertainty of legibility.

Professor Frandsen is the author of a number of pamphlets and articles on biology and associated subjects.

FROSH WIN ANNUAL CANE RUSH; FIGHT GOES LIMIT

Sophs Will Wear No White Vests This Year, Is Decided by '27

The class of '27 easily won the annual cane rush from the sophomores Saturday by dint of overpowering numbers and brawn. The outcome was never in doubt after the classes met in midfield.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the sophomore and frosh teams took their respective places behind the goal posts on Mackay Field. Men on each team glanced at the opposition and wondered where so many men had come from.

Rules Read

Leaders of the two teams hurriedly outlined methods of offense and defense. Hughes, president of the Associated Students, sketched the tactics to be used and presented the "cane" to the sophomores.

The sophomores held the cane over their heads for one minute as stipulated in the rush rules; Hughes held the starting gun in the air signalling both classes to get ready.

The men crouched at their respective ends of the field impatiently awaiting the shot that would start hostilities. After what seemed to the spectators an unusually long time, Hughes pulled the trigger and—the gun misfired!

The Start

The next trial met with better success, however, and the rush was on.

A solid sophomore wedge hurtled down the field to meet the oncoming line of freshmen and in a very few seconds the grass was strewn with struggling soph-frosh duos.

H. Downey, who started with the "cane," slipped it to Nesbit. Gutteron had just received the "cane" from Nesbit when Balaam tackled him. Overtown then managed to obtain the cane, but was laid low by Spears within twenty yards of the soph goal.

These two formed the nucleus of the "nigger-pile." In a second there was a large squirming mass of arms and legs on top of the cane. The heap resembled a twisty mass of shiny angle-worms entwined around a bit of sod.

Several Injured

Panting freshmen ran around the pile and threw themselves on top, while weary sophs pulled them off again. Classman wrestled with fellow classman—recognition almost impossible. Two men were dragged from beneath the pile, nearly unconscious from suffocation.

As the allotted 20 minutes drew to a close the sophs staged a rally but to no avail. The gun sounded and the rush was over. Men dropped where they stood, gasping for breath, and members of both classes bore unmistakable signs of the bloody battle.

SCHOOL TO OBSERVE "CONSTITUTION DAY"

The Committee on Assemblies and Lectures has arranged for a program to be given by the Department of History and Political Science to commemorate the one hundred and thirty-sixth anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of America.

September 17 marks the anniversary, but in view of the fact that wherever possible the committee desires to make use of the 11:15 period on Friday for lectures, the program will be given on September 21 this year.

Throughout the entire country "Constitution Day" will be observed in some fitting manner by schools, churches, civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations.

The progress of the nation, the preservation of its resources and the perpetuation of its ideals and institutions can largely be attributed to the qualities of its basic law, the Constitution.

The Department of Music will assist in the program with musical numbers, not only at this assembly but throughout the entire year.

GRADUATE'S DEATH IS REPORTED IN DETAIL

The complete details of Delwyn Dessar's death, reported briefly in the last issue of The Sagebrush, have since been learned from Alice W. O'Brien, '10, and members of the Sigma Nu fraternity of which Dessar was a member.

In a letter to Miss O'Brien, Mrs. Dessar says that her son's chauffeur, unfamiliar with the city, drove over a 60-foot cliff while following what he thought to be a continuation of a street.

Dessar was graduated from the University with the class of 1915. He was a member of the Block N. Society, having played varsity football for two years, and was also his class' president.

He was a charter member of the local chapter of Sigma Nu and was 29 years old at the time of his death. Dessar is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dessar of New York City; his wife and a daughter, Virginia, three years old.

BERTHA STANDFAST IS WOMEN'S EDITOR

Earns Honor Following Two Years' Work on Staff of The Sagebrush

Bertha Standfast, '24, has been appointed women's editor on The Sagebrush staff for the year 1923-1924.

Miss Standfast succeeds Justine Baid to the position, the latter now having earned so many points for campus activities as to be unable to again take the office.

The selection of women's editor was only made after several candidates had been considered. The fact that Miss Standfast stood second to Miss Baid in the number of years served on The Sagebrush staff was one of the deciding factors in tendering her the appointment.

The position of women's editor this year is to carry with it the direct supervision and charge of all women working on the staff. Miss Standfast will have the power to make her own staff appointments and several such are expected to be announced in the next issue of this paper.

RECORD ENROLLMENT IN UNIVERSITY ARMY

The Military department reports that there will be over 200 students enrolled in the R. O. T. C. as compared to the 150 of last year. Uniforms and rifles have been issued and the task of breaking in the rookies has begun.

There will be three companies formed this year while there were only two last year. More interest is being taken in the opportunity that the advanced course offers in the way of a commission and at the present time there are ten men taking it. These men will officer the three companies of basic men.

NEVADA TEAM WINS NINTH CORPS SHOOT

In the National Intercollegiate Gallery matches held late last spring, the University of Nevada rifle team defeated all universities in the Ninth Corps area and placed ninth in the United States with a score of 5616 out of a possible 6000. First place was taken by the University of Wisconsin with a score of 5851.

The following Nevada men attended the R. O. T. C. Camp at Del Monte this summer and qualified to wear the insignia for the rifle:

Expert rifleman, George Fairbrother, score 294; sharpshooter, J. B. Koehler, score 290; marksmen, R. S. Holtzman, score 267; John R. Bonner, score 258; O. F. Monhan, score 258; L. L. Quill, score 243.

Fairbrother and Koehler were selected to compete in the preliminary try-outs for the national matches and made a very creditable showing. The try-outs were for the purpose of selecting six men to represent the camp. Fairbrother lost sixth place by the small margin of six points and Koehler placed thirteenth out of 15 men.

Green secured the grade of sharpshooter in the machine-gun qualification.

The University of Nevada team competed for the Ninth Area trophy against teams from the universities and colleges in the area and placed sixth. The University of Hawaii won the trophy. The Nevada marksmen are planning on bringing the trophy home next year.

PHI SIGMA NU DANCE WILL ENTERTAIN ALL

Sigma Nu and Phi Sigma Kappa have committees at work on another joint street dance which is expected to more than duplicate last spring's successful affair.

The combined musical talent of the two fraternities will compose the orchestra and both houses will be open for the entertainment of guests.

The entire university is invited to the dance which probably will be given on a week night from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. The exact date of the "Phi Sigma Nu" dance will be announced to the student body soon.
