PRESIDENT CLARK DECLARES NEVADA FRIENDLY TO ALL

University's Head Extends Hearty Welcome to All Hill's Strangers

BIG JOB IS SERVICE

Theme of Address Included in Oath Administered to All Seniors

The annual convocation address was delivered last Friday by President Clark to the student body. The president's address was chiefly concerned with the University and its ideals. In opening, the friendliness of the campus was pointed out to those who have not had the opportunity of living in the environment of the University of Nevada before.

"The campus is friendly to the student in three ways. First, the ever-increasing beauty of the campus gives an attractive greeting to the students. The teaching staff and members of the faculty are intimate toward the students. Not only are they friendly, but they are human and ever ready to assist the student in any way possible. Finally, the student body itself is amicable due to its size. A small campus causes favorable ideas and associations to grow up among the students."

President Clark pointed out that the friendliness extended to the student went out beyond the campus into the city and into the state itself.

Nevada Advantages

"The rate of taxation granted to the University of Nevada is the highest rate granted to any educational institution by any state in the Union. The friendliness of the city is expressed by the welcome given to students by private families, by groups of citizens, (Continued on Page Two.)

CLONIA PLANS FOR BIG FORENSIC YEAR

The first meeting of Clonia, forensic society, was held last Wednesday evening in the Education building. President S. W. Robinson, after congratulating the society for the excellent work done in the past, announced a new and larger program for this year. Speaking for John Fulton, debate manager, Robinson briefly outlined the tentative schedule of intercollegiate debates as Nevada will probably send a team on tour this year.

Hope to Travel

The colleges to be visited will probably include the College of Pacific, Pomona, University of Southern California, University of California, Southern Branch; University of Arizona, and the University of Utah.

The University of Wyoming, whose team Nevada met last year will come here for a return engagement.

Interclass debating, hitherto a minor feature, is to be pushed this year. More than usual interest is expected because of the fact that there will be teams from all four classes taking part.

High Schools to Argue

Announcement was made by W. H. Anderson, high school relations manager, that the inter high school debates, managed by Clonia last year, would again be handled by the society. More high schools than ever are expected to compete.

All new students interested in debating were invited to attend an open meeting which was held after the regular business meeting. A goodly number of last year's high school debating stars turned out, and all expressed their desire to try out their forensic powers.

After the meeting, the evening was turned over to the members of the entertainment committee, who furnished refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake.

Ghosts of Past Stalk Through Stewart Hall

Memories of the Days of Long Ago Linger in Offices Once Occupied by The Sagebrush—Desert Wolf Brushes Away Cobwebs and Starts Work

By DUKE

Years ago nocturnal prowlers may have espied a steady light shining like a beacon from the third story of Stewart Hall. Many times the watchman looked up and was cheered by the one speck of life on the otherwise deserted campus and then continued his lonesome rounds.

Perhaps a couple returning from some festivity casually looked up and idly wondered why the light was burning when all else was dark.

Midnight Toil

Few knew what the beacon signified. Few realized that under the light the Slaves of The Sagebrush were at their endless task; that the light was indeed a beacon; a beacon of knowledge shedding light over the happenings of the campus.

Under its mellow glow, smoke from the editorial pipes curled up and blackened the plaster walls; the men under green eye-shades fumed and cursed tardy reporters and then turned around and wrote stories themselves.

The lights of town went out one by one—the wail of a locomotive came from afar—the milkman made his rounds. Many times these things happened before the staff set aside their shades, crammed copy into their pockets and staggered down for the cup of Java.

Office Deserted

It was all very romantic but the three flights of stairs were too much. It took the hardy breed of olden times to stand the strain. After the war the heira took place. The offices of the "Brush" were moved to their present location—the cellar of the Physics building—the old offices were neglected and fell into disuse.

The busy spider plyed his trade. Rooms were netted with the filmy webs. (Continued on Page Two.)

FOIL CHAMPION TO START CLASS HERE

Hoped That Nevada May Be Able to Send Fencing Team to Coast

Boris Romonovitch Von Arnold, a former officer in the Imperial Russian Cavalry, now Pacific Coast foil champion, will be the instructor of a fencing team now being organized at the University. Von Arnold is a special student here.

This team is being organized by Colonel Ryan, and is the first attempt of the University of Nevada to enter into this activity.

It is very probable that men on this team will be excused from their classes in physical education. Being a new sport here, it is desired that all men interested sign the list on the bulletin board in Morrill Hall, so that they will not miss the preliminary instruction.

Although foils have not as yet been obtained, it will not hinder the instruction that is first necessary.

The University of Nevada may consider itself quite fortunate in having a man, with the experience of Von Arnold, to act as instructor in this ancient art. As plans now go, it is the intention to enter fencing teams in competition with the coast colleges, which will put Nevada on the map in another activity. All men interested should sign up right away before the class is limited.

MANZANITA TO GIVE GYPSY DANCE IN GYM

A gathering of gypsies out in the heart of the forest, where the gold and orange of campfires drift through the cedar boughs—such will be the Manzanita Hall dance, which will be given at the gym on Saturday, September 29. Something unusual, something that will stand out as a unique type of entertainment, is promised to please even the most exacting, pleasure-seeking college student.

Fortunes will be told by one who has had many years of experience along that line, and only a small sum will be charged in return for the golden tales of future happiness and accomplishments that will be read through the medium of cards.

After the dance, refreshments, of a pleasing nature, will be served in the basement of Manzanita Hall. Watch for the posters! Do not miss this opportunity of journeying back to nature, back into the free and easy life of the gypsy camp!

ENROLLMENT NEARS LAST YEAR'S MARK

A Dozen More Students Will Set New Registration Record for School

With 717 students officially enrolled with the registrar, there is little doubt but what last year's record enrollment of 727 will be shattered.

Registration does not close until the twenty-sixth of the month. There should be a sufficient number of the usual late arrivals to bring the total way over the record mark.

Of the 717 registrants, 448 are men and the remaining 269 women students. The freshman class leads all others with 281 ambitious students. The sophomores come next with 181 and the juniors follow with just four cards over the hundred mark.

The University's largest senior class continues to grow with an increase of five over last week's enrollment of 70. There are 16 students in graduate work. The unclassified registrants number 9 and the specials are over the half-century mark with 51.

Although all indications pointed to a smaller enrollment for the fall semester, there is no doubt at all but that the University will witness the largest enrollment in its history.

U. of N.

GIRL'S NAME ADDED TO THE HONOR ROLL

That the name of Edith M. Frandsen should have been included in the list of last year's freshmen honor students, is the information contained in a letter from Dr. L. W. Hartman, chairman of the committee on prizes and scholarships. Dr. Hartman's letter follows:

"In your issue of September 6, 1923, appeared a list of the honor students of the University of Nevada for the year 1922-23.

"Through no fault of your staff, one name was not included in the list. The name of Edith M. Frandsen should have been included in the list of freshman honor students. The blame for this omission rests entirely with this committee.

"L. W. HARTMAN,
Chairman, Committee on Prizes and Scholarships."

SOPHOMORES, NOTICE!
The sophomores have changed their meeting place from the large lecture room in the Aggie Building to Room 110 of the same building. All future meetings will be held in the new room.

HILL TO INVADE ELKS' BIG TENT FRIDAY EVENING

All Men Students to Parade Town in Year's First Football Rally

DOZENS OF FEATURES

See the Rolly-Bazump and Hear the Spifenbath Dine on Noodles

The time is Friday evening and the place is the "big tent" on the corner of Granite and Liberty streets. The occasion is the University of Nevada night at the Elks' Charity Circus.

The student body will assemble at Manzanita Hall at 7:15 o'clock and, after holding a short rally for the first game of the season on the following day, will parade downtown. The usual football rally will take place in the business section, followed by a parade to the circus grounds where an active part will be taken in the program.

Parade Started It

The circus opened Monday evening with a parade through the streets of Reno. No expense has been spared by the Reno lodge of Elks to make the six-night engagement in the mammoth tent a huge success.

The program is varied and embraces every form of amusement from first-class aerial clowns to a collection of wild animals and other attractions usually found within a circus tent. The interior of the tent is a conglomeration of color and extensive preparations have been made for the week's entertainment.

To Crown Queen

The feature of Wednesday evening was the appearance of the Stewart Indian school band and on Friday evening, University Night, the queen of the circus will be crowned.

The members of the antlered herd have imported five carloads of real wild animals from Hollywood. These studios have donated a troupe of performing black African lions and a troupe of Royal Bengal tigers.

In the collection will also be a number of spotted leopards and performing pumas and four East Indian Llamas. The difference between a long-necked and a short-necked giraffe will be clearly shown, for two of these creatures will be housed inside the "big" tent."

Many Strange Sights

Seven elephants from the backwoods of South Africa will be constantly guarded for they are extremely vicious this time of the year. The committee on wild animals was very fortunate in securing a gazook from the wilds of China, the only known one in existence. A gazook is a creature that no imagination can picture for it is a cross between a filly-lubird and a rolly-bazump.

Remember! Manzanita Hall, Friday evening at a quarter past the hour of seven.

BLEACHER HATS WILL BE PLACED ON SALE

In accordance with the custom established last year, all men will be expected to wear bleacher hats at all of the football games this season.

Although the custom is a new one at Nevada it met instant favor last year as was shown by the fact that every man on the Hill purchased one at the beginning of the season.

The same style of hat will be worn this year, so for the convenience of the new men, a quantity of the silver and blue caps have been ordered. They will be on sale Friday and Saturday at the cost price of one dollar. The supply is rather limited, so those wishing hats should see Harold Hughes or Herman Eden at once and make reservation.

Shivering Seniors Sadly See Sunrise

The campus is being treated, this year, to the unusual spectacle of high and mighty seniors wending their way to 7:45 classes.

The reason for this phenomenon is the new course in Constitutional History which is required of all seniors.

In spite of murmurs about the dignity of seniors, attendance is compulsory though a high percentage of tardiness is expected.

NEVADA'S GRADS TO GATHER HERE FOR BIG REUNION

Two-Day Home-Coming to Reach Climax in Game With Santa Clara

Nevada's biggest and best Home-Coming Day, or Home-Coming Days, as it will be this year, will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 26 and 27. The president of the student body, Harold Hughes, announces that all arrangements will be under the supervision of the Order of the Axe.

The Engineering colleges and the College of Agriculture will combine to make the day a success.

The tentative program, as outlined by Hughes, is as follows:

Huge Aggie Show

Friday, October 26, the Aggies will put on a stock show, featuring the blue-ribbon animals owned by the University Stock Farm. Exhibits of the various kinds of grains, stock food and other crops raised by the Aggies will also be shown.

Scattered liberally throughout the day will be various stunts. There is a possibility, though all arrangements have not been made yet, that the dairy (Continued on Page Two)

NEW SORORITY PIN SPARKLES ON HILL

Last Wednesday there appeared on the campus a new sorority pin. It is a gold Delta, surmounted by a Beta in pearls with a gold block "N" as a guard, and is the sign of Beta Delta sorority.

Although organized during the summer, the new sorority was not formally announced until last week, when cards of greeting were extended to the various campus organizations.

Beta Delta, at present composed of nine members, aims at higher standards of friendliness, sportsmanship, and honor on all occasions. They lay special stress on the clause of friendliness, and their motto is "Quality, not quantity."

Those wearing the new pins are the Misses Billy Lee, Marie Hunter, Gwendolyn McLeod, Gladys Comstock, Alice Caruthers, Carol Heath, Florence Ryan and Ermine Worthington.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF A. A. U. W. TO MEET

The American Association of University Women will hold its first meeting of the year Saturday. This organization, composed of graduates of accepted colleges, has in Reno an approximate representation of 25 colleges. The furtherance of college friendships is but one of the social features of the association. A scholarship of $200 is given yearly to a woman student of the University.

Miss Margaret E. Mack, and Miss Katharine Riegelhuth were delegates at the national convention held at Portland last July.

Winged-O Wearers Resolved to Take Victory Back to San Francisco

WILL BE HARD FIGHT

Nevada Strength Unknown But Coach Courtright Says "Look Out"

On Saturday afternoon the University of Nevada football team will get its baptism of fire when it hooks up with the powerful Olympic Club team from San Francisco.

Rated as one of the strongest teams on the Coast, the Winged-O team comes to Reno with a determination to beat Nevada at all costs. Whether they will or not lies wholly up to the men representing the Silver Wolf in the opener. If they have anything to say about it the Winged-O gang will go back to San Francisco with their first defeat trailing after them.

Olympics Strong

That the Olympic Club has the strongest team in years is evidenced by the fact that they took the Agnetian Club team, composed of former members of the California "Wonder Team" for a 13-7 defeat. This was one of the best games seen on the Coast for some time and it was only through superior teamwork that the Post Street outfit was able to come out the winner.

Several former college stars are in the "uni" of the Winged-O—among them Clyde King, former Annapolis star and well-known drop-kicker. In King the Olympians have the outstanding all-around club athlete on the Pacific Coast. Beside playing a bang-up game of football he was one of the (Continued on Page Two)

MILDRED LEAVITT'S FATHER IS DROWNED

Dr. G. E. Leavitt of Yerington, father of Miss Mildred Leavitt, a member of the sophomore class, was drowned while on a hunting trip last Monday.

He was wading out into Beamer Lake to get some ducks he had shot, when he stepped into an eight-foot hole and sank. His son, Joe Leavitt, tried to save his father but was twice dragged under and was at last shoved away by Dr. Leavitt when it became evident that the boy's life was in danger.

Dr. Leavitt was a well-known physician in Yerington and the surrounding territory, where he practiced medicine for many years. He was a veteran of both the Spanish-American and World War.

"POETS' CORNER" IS THE NEWEST FEATURE

A Poets' Corner—in The Sagebrush? Impossible. Not at all!

The University of Nevada is branching out in every line of activity. Why not literary as well as athletic and educational? Surely we have some talent on the Hill—such has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the English professors.

For this reason Zelda Reed has been put in charge of a small space to be devoted exclusively to local "stuff." Anything will be accepted. Verse, free, blank, or wild will be welcomed. More than that, it will be sought after. No one need hesitate to turn their work in, as their names will be published only at their own request.

Somewhere in this paper appears the first "Poets' Corner." Look for it!

oarsmen who helped win the Pacific Coast championship for the South End Rowing Club of San Francisco.

King Is Star

King is in perfect condition and gives promise of enjoying the most brilliant year of his career. He fills the tackle position and besides this is the official line coach for the Post Street outfit. Not the least of King's starring proclivities is his ability to score points via the place-kick route. Three years ago his delicate boot gave the Annapolis Naval Academy a 6-0 victory over West Point.

Jimmy Needles, former Santa Clara star, will press Mr. King for the honor of being called the star of the team. If he goes as he did last season he will be one of the big guns again this year. Jimmy is one of the veterans of the championship team of last season and was one of the outstanding stars of that team. He holds down the position of left half-back and will be seen in action at that position when the Silver Wolf struts his stuff against the Red and White Saturday.

Many Expert Players

Besides King and Needles, Coach Bob Evans has acquired the services of such players as Johnny Logan, former St. Mary's flash; Dickie, of Stanford; Jerry Noonan and Schwill, of Santa Clara, and Jack Patrick, of Stanford. Altogether "Fighting Bob" has assembled a coterie of stars which will be hard to beat. They have been practicing diligently for the past month and are in mid-season form already.

The Nevada team, while not having engaged in actual combat, has been on the field for the past two weeks and is just about ready to step out and do battle.

Wolves' First Game

The Wolves will be handicapped in running up against a team that has already won two games, but Nevada is noted for its uphill fights and when the smoke of battle lifts, don't be surprised to see the Silver Wolf sitting serenely on the top end of the score.

While not in the least overconfident, Coach Courtright expects the Wolves to put up a good battle and says, "I can't predict a victory for the boys, but things are sure shaping up well. We have a few men that are a little green yet, but they'll be there every minute and fighting hard for a victory. If they don't win they'll put up such a battle that the Olympic Club will know that they have been in one of the toughest fights of the season."

The Lineup

The probable lineups of the two teams will be as follows:

Olympic Club	Position	Nevada
P. Smith	L.E.R.	Hobbs
C. King	L.T.R.	Carlson
Dickie	L.G.R.	Hardy
McCreery	C.	Duborg
Daly	R.G.L.	Overton
McArthur	R.T.L.	Gridley
Logan	R.E.L.	Harrison
Kraft	Q.	Gutteron

department will furnish ice cream during the afternoon.

Annual Barn Dance

Friday evening the Aggies will stage their regular old-time Aggie Dance. Doughnuts by the bushel and cider by the barrel are promised the guests.

Saturday morning the Engineers will take charge. During the forenoon they will put on a miniature Engineers' Day program. The shops will be in full swing, stunts of different kinds will amuse, and all the college will be out to act as hosts.

An alumni luncheon and meeting is a possibility for Saturday noon.

Saints vs. Nevada

In the afternoon comes the game with Santa Clara. Both before the game and during the period between the halves, stunts will be performed by the members of various organizations.

Cheered on by hundreds of old graduates as well as by the student body the Wolf Pack should put on one of the best fights of the season.

Vaudeville Ends It

The big vaudeville show will be held at the Rialto during the evening to close the entertainment for the alumni.

On both days autos will be in constant attendance for the use of the visitors. Under the direction of the Order of the Axe, bus service to and from the campus will be maintained.

All plans are tentative so far, their actual working out being dependent upon the students of the various colleges in the University, who have not yet given total sanction to the plans.

PRESIDENT CLARK IS CONVOCAION SPEAKER

and by the different organizations in the city."

In speaking of the dangers of losing this valued friendship, President Clark said, "However, this friendly attitude will only last as long as the students do their main job. This main job in life is for every young man and every young woman to grow in power for intelligent service to the nation."

"One of the ideals of the University is that scholarship shall be done well and shall be put first in importance. Today, brains are the main item of college athletics. The men in this University feel this to such an extent that three members of last year's football team were on the list of honor students."

President Clark said that, although punishments were meted out to those who broke the traditions of the campus, he hoped the time would come when punishment would be given for real offenses, such as lying, cheating and the self-degeneration of the students.

Plea for Clean Living

"A student can be as clean as he cares to be. If he hasn't backbone enough to stand up straight, it would be better for him to go home and hang himself over the backyard fence. I hope that some day a campus democracy will be formed which will stand for reasonably decent living, and which will give real punishment to those who do not live up to such decency."

"Everyone must get their work well in order to get the most out of life. The college student has four years of opportunity, but in order to have the best time he must seek to grow best. Too many choose the frivolities of life. No one is so poor at thirty years as the person who has sold himself out to animalism."

In regard to mankind President Clark said, "Everyone has a touch of divinity in him. With this small flame he can make of himself a torch bearer for civilization."

Service Counts

"In order to grow to power, one must serve nobly. Nevada is a perfect environment for such growth. Its people are so close to the stars, to the beautiful tints on the mountains, and they have the great solitude around them. Man must acknowledge his debt to the "Giver of Life" to his race, and to his state. He must be grateful for the music of the swinging spheres."

In closing President Clark read the last section of the oath which is administered to the graduating class.

Before the convocation address was delivered, Prof. Rowe of the music department sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Williamson.

OLD BRUSH OFFICE NOW BUSY PLACE

Dust collected—the mildew of decay set in. The sunlight, filtering through the windows, fell only upon a bare and littered room. The offices that once teemed with life, that had once resounded with the deep-toned cursing of disgusted editors, were completely deserted.

Given to Spiders

Not a soul ever disturbed the solitude—the spiders worked their will. Plaster peeled from the walls, birds built their nests on adjacent eaves and the whole upper story took on the aspect of a place visited by pestilence—one to be avoided and shunned.

But history has a way of repeating itself. Again a light can be seen in the old quarters. They have been cleaned and aired. Office furniture once more graces the rooms. Under the glow of the light that shines like a beacon over the otherwise deserted campus, editors toil late and fume over late copy—then write it themselves, much as did their predecessors in the dim remoteness of antiquity.

Hallowed by recollection and history the old rooms will prove an inspiration.

Historic Souvenirs

Does not the stained butt of a cigarette still stick to the walls—placed there no doubt by some pioneer of the literary world? Does not the fragrant odor of Durham, smoked by the Brothers Bryan, former editors, still linger in the confines of the old offices? Does it not vie with the heady aroma of Ross's pipe and cause the new staff to recollect the days of yore. Even the brown stains on the walls that might be splashes of gore, but are only Star, tell their story of the past and provide inspiration.

Hallowed by romance, graced by the ghosts of the past the old offices have taken on life again. The Slaves of the Typewriter are at work—slowly but surely the pages of Nevada's latest endeavor are taking form. The old editorial rooms are happy again.

Y. W. CANDY BOOTH FEEDS THE HUNGRY

Are you hungry?

If so, buy your candy from the Y. W. C. A. booth which was opened up in the entrance of Stewart Hall last week. There is also a new supply of Nevada belts for both men and women.

A large shipment of all varieties of candy bars came in yesterday.

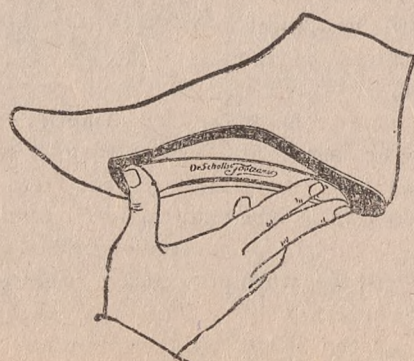

The "Y" girls keep the booth open during the entire day and have asked that students buy there, rather than go off the campus. The money goes to the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. organization.

Engineering Notes

With this issue of The Sagebrush is published a new column. Under the above head there will be published, each week, items of interest to the school in general and to the engineers in particular. It is the aim of the column to keep the school posted regarding the happenings on the East Side, so that the students of the other colleges will become more familiar with their activities.

The shops are crowded to capacity this year, and it is necessary to hold several sections of the classes, where last year only one was held. Prof. Rockland, aided by two student instructors, is handling classes in forging, machine and practice, wood shop, and pattern-making nearly every day in the week. Saunders and Eden are helping with the instruction, while Davis is holding down the tool-room end.

During the summer the machine shop in the Mechanical building has been improved by the addition of a latest model South Bend lathe. This machine is the most improved pattern, automatic change gear lathe, connected by a silent-chain drive to a one-horsepower motor mounted directly on the frame. The machine shop now has six lathes for the use of the students, and it is hoped that before the end of the term at least two more will be added.

The machines in the wood shop are undergoing a complete overhauling, so that the students will be able to get maximum efficiency from the various tools. At present the power shaper is being overhauled, and work is soon to start of the ten lathes in the wood shop. The students are now turning out file and screw-driver handles for use in the machine shop, and will soon start on a large order of test-tube racks for the Chemical department. As far as possible, the course consists of making practical things for use in the various departments of the University. Before the end of the semester the students will make flasks, bench hammers, and plugs for the foundry, as well as many other things for the University.

Toward the end of the term each student will be permitted to make something for his own use, and it is expected that many useful articles will be manufactured.

FROSH PROPOSE, BUT MANZANITITES LAUGH

Shouts, cries, a chant—pandemonium. Friday morning at the witching hour of one, Manzanita was rudely awakened from sound slumber. The Lincoln Hall frosh were on parade. Unable to sleep, the women crowded to the windows, to be met with amorous proposals. Groping blindly through folds of Turkish towel, the frosh extended imploring arms upward, only to receive shrill laughter and cold water from the fair ones above. Whack! Brawny upperclassmen made the rounds with wicked-looking paddles, inspiring more than one unfortunate to flights of poesy. Shouts, a quavering baritone, feminine shrieks, again the chant, and the noise slowly receded. It lasted far into the night, but Manzanita slept once more and heard it not.

MRS. CLARK VISITS MOTHER
Mrs. Walter E. Clark left for the east Saturday night. She expects to spend five or six weeks visiting her mother in Hartford, Connecticut.

SNOW AT TONOPAH
The first snow of the year, enough to whiten roofs, fell at Tonopah last week. Flurries of snow and hail were also reported by air-mail pilots on the Reno-Elko run.

FEEMSTERS SOAKED IN RAIN OF DISHES

Professor and Mrs. Feemster were surprised last Saturday evening by having their friends walk in upon them, armed with kitchenware of every kind. They were enjoying dinner at the Layman home, when they were surrounded by the kitchen brigade.

The shower was planned by Prof. Feemster's class in twentieth century history. The class met every Saturday evening last winter. The students took this opportunity of expressing to Prof. Feemster their appreciation of his interesting lectures. These present included Dr. and Mrs. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Hood, Regent and Mrs. Pratt, Superintendent and Mrs. Billingham, Dr. and Mrs. Hartman, Professor and Mrs. Leach, Professor and Mrs. Wilcox, Professor and Mrs. Feemster, Mrs. Williamson, Miss Williamson, Mrs. M. E. Sargent and Mr. and Mrs. Layman.

MEN NON-ESSENTIAL, SORORITIES DECLARE

The inter-sorority meeting, known as Pan-Hellenic, was held last Tuesday night at which time rushing rules, formulated a year ago, were expanded. Rushing is closed on the campus. This means that a freshman girl can not be seen in the company of an upper-class girl at any time on the campus. Two minutes are allowed for conversation and salutary greetings are always permissible. This includes Manzanita Hall. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, rushing is limited to 8 o'clock. This sensible ruling permits the freshmen as well as the older girls, more time for study. No one sorority can have more than three engagements ahead at any time with any rushee. Men are non-essential this year. It has been decided to do away with their services entirely, in so far as invitational or organized affairs are concerned. Last year the men were very much in evidence and this rule is being tried with some misgivings. However, things are going along nicely and the men don't seem to be at all affected by their elimination.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET TO HAVE FRESHMAN HELP

A freshman Y. W. C. A. commission is this year to solve the problems that have hitherto been worked out by the regular cabinet. Lyndall Adams, president of the college Y. W. C. A., says, "We feel that by establishing this commission we will be giving the freshmen a chance to work out their own salvation." Edith Frandsen is to be at the head of the commission and its representative will co-operate with the cabinet so that both bodies will be working along the same lines. The members of the commission—president, vice-president, secretary and the committee heads, will be elected by the freshmen. The commission will have no treasurer. Other details are yet to be worked out.

SENIOR CLASS HAS WOMAN FOR PREXY

A woman president of the class of '24—an incident thought to be rather unique on the Nevada campus, but in fact only a repetition of a similar event with the class of '01.

According to established rule, the class of '24 held its election of officers last semester with the result that William Thompson was made president, and Francis Heward, vice-president. Due to the fact that Thompson failed to register this fall, Miss Heward automatically assumed leadership of the senior class. Reviewing campus history it appears to be a forgotten custom, started with the class of '16 and ending with that of '20, that the president of the senior class for the first semester shall be a woman.

It was suggested that this particular semester in the range of eight was selected for feminine steering because it was the one in which few class activities appeared. With its accustomed zest, '24 may prove the contradictory of the statement, for a rumor, well substantiated, has it that the seniors are planning continued peppy participation in campus affairs.

CIVILS HEAR PROFS AT FIRST MEETING

The Civil Engineers met in the Mackay building last Thursday night. The meeting was addressed by Dean F. H. Sibley of the College of Engineering who urged that the association become affiliated with the American Society of Civil Engineers. He also recounted his experiences in the Oklahoma oil fields. H. C. Boardman, professor of civil engineering, gave a short talk on modern inventions and bridge construction. It was decided that each member, in turn, will speak to the body for 20 minutes at future meetings. Refreshments were served.

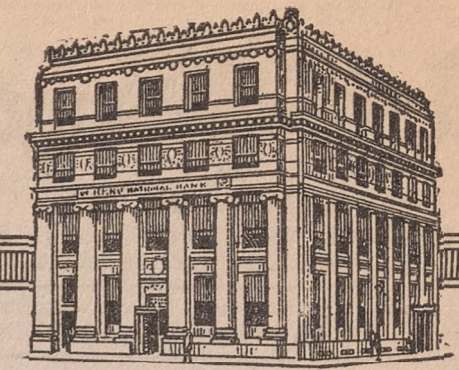

FROSH SHOW WELL IN PRACTICE GAME

Demonstrating that the efforts of the class of '26 were not in vain, the freshmen football squad succeeded in putting to practical use of some of the finer points of the manly art of assault and battery when they tangled with the Reno High squad, in a practice scrimmage, Saturday.

Although it was only a practice scrimmage in which the frosh used but three plays, they were able to tear holes in the prep line. Coach Foster's Reno squad is a husky and clever bunch. They used few plays but were able to let the heavier frosh know that it wasn't a marble game. The talent on the freshman squad is quite plentiful and individual stars are many. Castle at center, Agrusa at end and Christensen, Noonan, Crew, Styles and Dennis in the backfield, are all likely looking material for coaches Martie and Hug to develop. There are also several frosh on the varsity squad the most prominent of which are Clark, Dungan, Merritt and Balaam. Several games are being scheduled by Billy Hug and it is hoped that the frosh will be seen in action as certain raisers to some of the big games.

CONCERNING CALIFORNIANS

California is a great state; in many respects, the greatest state in the Union. But there are others—47 others. Among the latter, Nevada.

We have traveled California from San Diego to Yreka and have seen its greatness. We know that it contains more paved highway, more orange groves, more natural wonders and more climate than any other state.

We spent four rain-soaked months near Los Angeles and just three weeks ago rode through the Sacramento Valley while the thermometer registered 115 degrees at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

We can get used to California's climate. We delight in its paved highway, admire its orange groves and marvel at its natural wonders. But we detest the dyed-in-the-wool California booster.

Your true California booster stops at nothing—nor knows when to stop. Witness the following, recently printed in a San Francisco newspaper:

"The Sagebrush State (Nevada) was over-run with men from California who held all the offices worth having, owned all the mines worth owning, fought all the fights, did all the killing and corralled all the money that was in circulation."

A glorious boast, is it not?

But what follows caps the climax—taken from a California newspaper and carrying the date date, August 27:

"Lloyd Root, state mineralogist, has accepted the appointment of director of mines and minerals of the California Development Association.

"After attending the University of California and graduating from the Mackay School of Mines, Mr. Root has been actively engaged . . . etc."

Lloyd Root, as most of us know, attended the University of Nevada. Further, the Mackay School of Mines has not now, nor never has had, any connection with the University of California.

The foregoing extracts are examples of the California booster's work. Now we come to the booster himself and regret to report that several of his tribe infest our own campus.

We have nothing but respect for California MEN. Nevada always has welcomed and always will welcome them. We refer to the "booster" type alone.

"Now, down at Cal—" is his favorite phrase.

Let men of this university stage a football rally, a bleacher stunt or a dance and the booster is ever ready with his "That's nothing. Now, down at Cal—"

We've been to the University of California. We've had the pleasure of attending several of California's famous rallies. We admit that for exhibitions of noise, we've never heard the equal of those rallies. Six thousand men—cheering and singing as one—are not soon to be forgotten.

We believe Nevada to be the greatest little university in the United States—if we thought we'd like California better, we would go there.

Our rallies are small. Our songs are few and most of them will stand improvement. But when we yell and sing, though the SOUND may not be as great, the SPIRIT is there, Mr. Booster.

The SPIRIT is there. The spirit that for the last three years has been with our football team on your Berkeley field. The spirit that has consistently put over scores on your "wonder eleven," try though it might to prevent them.

We've had California MEN on our football team, Mr. Booster. We have them now. Take a few lessons from them and be a MAN. You're registered here. The University of Nevada is your school as long as you are one of its students. Take off that California belt buckle. Forget this, "Now, down at Cal—" stuff.

In short, tone down the boosting. It really gets awfully, awfully tiresome.

Back In '13, When---

(Reprinted From The Sagebrush for September 16, 1913)

Wednesday afternoon the freshmen and sophomore football teams clashed on Mackay field in a hard-fought struggle that resulted in victory for the sophs by a score of 3 to 0.

This semester the girls at Manzanita Hall decided that they had reached an attitude of altruism which would make self-government in the dormitory a success. A committee was appointed with one representative from each class and the house president for chairman of the committee to put the plan into operation. The result is a more or less modified form of self-government.

Last Friday morning in the gym the A. S. U. N. met for the first meeting this term. President Sol Crazier took the chair and was greeted enthusiastically by his supporters for this year.

The new crude oil engine recently received from Sweden for the mechanical laboratory has been tried out and apparently is very successful. It is what is known as a semi-Deisel type and has a record of successful operation in the Russian oil fields as well as in Sweden and Germany. It is probably the first of its kind imported to this country.

They say that college girls are the cleverest people in the world and

"They" must be right for said college girls certainly have distinguished themselves, in this institution at least. For instance, take the progressive dinner party given by the Tri Deltas Saturday night. Wasn't it a dinner, though? The guests couldn't decide which was the better—the eats or the decorations.

The University of Nevada is represented at the state fair at Belle Isle. The departments of the institution there in evidence are those of agronomy, pure food and drugs and weights and measures.

About the game with Sacramento next Saturday, there is little to be said. It is the first game of the season with an outside team and Coach Elliot and the members of the team are confident of a victory.

Both sororities held pledge day last week when five girls were taken under Delta Rho's wing and four were added to Tri Delta's happy group.

Last Saturday a look at the books in the registrar's office revealed a total of 251 students registered in the University that day. Of these, 140 are men and 111 women. This is an increase of eight students over a corresponding date of last year.

THINKS & THANKS

The Elks' Circus is attracting great crowds to its doors. If you're a stag, go through the door. Otherwise, the parade is fine.

Home Ecker (ordering over the phone): "Have you any anchovy paste?"

Clerk: "No, ma'am; but we have library paste and LePage's glue."

He: "Isn't it a beautiful night?"
She (shivering): "But I'm cold."
(Later) He: "Let's go home. It's getting chilly."
She: "Oh, but George, it's such a wonderful night!"

Sigma Phi: "What do they mean by a 'slumber party'?"

Phi Sig: "Oh! Just a nice way of saying you stayed out all night."

A frosh, buying candy as the second bell started to ring, addressed a hurrying upperclassman who had never seen him before, "Say, if you see Professor Murgotten, tell him I'm coming."

The Pi Phis put on a bull fight the other night. First, however, they threw the bull.

Park your "flat tires" here. We give them hot air, and let you watch them burst on the campus.

Why not give the librarian that list of late novels that are so popular with the campus savants? Speak to Mr. Layman: It's the easiest way.

"The same yesterday, today, and forever," murmured the frosh at the gown house table.

"Ah, my son," gushes a faculty member, "you are familiar with the Bible?"

"No; only with the menu."

The dance floor of the H. E. Stewart home was colorfully transformed into a Spanish cabaret last Friday evening when members of Pi Bet Phi, garbed as Spanish cavaliers, entertained their friends informally.

While waiters, among the small tables, filled glasses and sold cigars, original entertainment was given between dances in the form of appropriate songs, tango and solo dances, and a burlesque bull fight. Favors in keeping were presented to the guests.

After refreshments of tamales and coffee, all present returned to the Pi Beta Phi house on North Virginia street where a "slumber party" concluded the affair.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the chapter were: Miss Louise Sissa, alumnae; Miss Margaret Mack, Kate Riegelhuth, Delle Boyd, Ruth Billinghurst, Neal Sullivan, Nevis Sullivan, Claire O'Sullivan, Bessie Jones, Alice Melarkey, Edna Fairchild, Gladys Dunkle, Tessie Ross, Lena Wagner, Alice Busbee. VARSITY LINEUP INCLUDES MANY OF PREVIOUS YEARS' VETERAN PLAYERS

New Men All Fighting Hard for Positions on the First-Team Squad

With the opening gun of the 1923 football season but two days away, speculation is rife around the campus and downtown as to the probable lineup for the coming game with the Olympic Club eleven on Saturday.

While Coach Courtright has not definitely announced the eleven men who will take the field against the Clubmen, workouts for the past week have just about proved who will be the lucky men to wear the striped jersey in the first game.

At center, "Old Reliable" George Duborg will in all probability start the game, with Kimmell and Fairbrother on the sidelines ready to go in. Flanking him in the two guard positions, it looks like Overton and Hardy. In the scrimmages of the past week these two men have been showing up exceptionally well and should give the Winged-O men plenty of trouble. Lohlein and Donnell will be the reserve strength of these two positions and both men showed that they knew what it was all about last season.

Good Tackling Material

At the two tackle positions Coach Courtright has a hard job deciding who is the best man. Several of the candidates have been showing promise but it looks as if Carlson and Gridley would be the choice, due to their experience.

Balaam, Kappler and Cooley have all strutted their stuff so well in the past week that it should be a toss-up as to who would go in if either of the two first-string men get hurt. The tackle positions are well fortified and should prove to be a stumbling block for the Winged-O backs.

The end positions will probably be filled by the two veterans, Harrison and Hobbs. Harrison is a cinch as there will be plenty of kicking to be done and "Spud" is the boy that can do it.

Hobbs has lots of keen competition for his side of the line and will have to work to beat out Dungan, Sheerin and Gilberg. All three of these men have been hitting it off the past week and are just about ready to step into the shoes of last year's captain, should he be injured.

Strong Backfield

The backfield this year will be one of the strongest seen representing the Silver Wolf since the days of Bradshaw, Reed, Johnson and Dunne. All three of the backs are hard hitting and should be able to knock a stone-wall over.

Capt. Chet Scranton will lead the attack and if there is a better line plunger in a Coast college today, the writer would like to have the pleasure of seeing him in action. Scranton proved his line-plunging proclivities in the California game last season when he went through the "Wonder Team's" line time after time for substantial gains. He is a bucking wonder and will give every team he bucks up against a tough time.

At the other half position, Al ("Pop") Clark, will in all probability hold forth. This young man is another Scranton and from his early season form will give the teams he runs up against plenty of grief and trouble. He is a natural born football player and has the football instinct of picking his holes. A lot will be heard from young Clark as the season progresses.

Lowry in Action

At fullback the "Human Battering Ram," Al Lowry, will be again seen in action. Al has improved 100 per cent since last season and will be good for many yards before the season is over. He is hitting harder and tackling with more fierceness than ever before. Look out for this bird; he's tough.

"Snortin'" Bill Gutteron, the "Little Giant" of last year, will be calling 'em at the quarter position and should prove to be a second Charlie Erb. He has a good head on his shoulders and is using it at all times. He has the uncanny knack of calling his opponents' plays and as a field general no equal has been seen on Mackay Field for some time.

In the backfield, "Corky" is well supplied with talent. Monahan and Jones, veterans of last season, are back and showing their old-time form. Monahan looks a lot faster and hits harder than at any time in 1922, while Jones—well, he's still the same fighting Jonesey of last year.

"Wop" Edwards, from last year's Goof team, is showing good form and may get into a few of the games. He lacks experience but is looking better every day and it wouldn't be a surprise if he donned the striped sweater later in the season.

From the present outlook the Nevada Varsity will be the strongest yet put out and there is more than a possibility that they will go through the season with only one or two defeats, these being dished out, if they are, by California and U. S. C.

U. of N.

TRAINING TABLE FOR FOOTBALL MEN BEGUN

With the opening of the football season Nevada has again established a training table for her football men. Every evening after practice the first-string men troop to the gow house for the last meal of the day. Twice a week the whole squad of 75 men eat together.

This method, it has been found, affords the coach an opportunity to keep strict watch on the diet of his men and also a period after practise in which the day's plays can be talked over and the new plays discussed.

The training table holds a secure place in the preparatory routine of Nevada's squad, and is a decisive factor in building that excellent morale for which Nevada is characterized.

U. of N.

FROSH FIGHT, BUT LAKE REMAINS WET

A playful Washoe zephyr made Monday's laking party rather cooling to the ardor of those concerned. It was with some difficulty that the sophs administered the deserved punishment to four husky frosh.

Urged on by the upperclassmen, each babe in his turn put up a stiff fight, so that the members of '26 were hard put to hold them. Because of the sloping bank, a reserve force of sophs was detailed to the rear to hold onto the belts in the front rank.

With these anchors to brace them, the Lord High Executionists made short work of the remaining delinquents, who took their baptisms in spite of themselves.

NO SACRAMENTO GAME

Word from Sacramento cancelling its game with Reno high school as a preliminary to the Olympic Club-Nevada game, was received by Coach "Herb" Foster yesterday.

To replace the scheduled game, Coach Foster's men will meet the University freshmen at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

U. of N.

NEVADA FRESHMEN TO PLAY RENO HIGH SCHOOL

As a preliminary to the Nevada-Olympic Club game Saturday, the football team from Reno high school will play the University freshmen.

This should be an interesting game from the spectators' standpoint as the two teams are evenly matched, both in weight and in speed. As for the players, the Reno team is out for revenge and will attempt to wipe out their defeat of last year.

Herb Foster has certainly done wonders with the thirty-odd men that he has had out for the past three weeks and by the time Saturday rolls around he will have a well-oiled machine. As yet he has not picked his first team, but from practice thus far it looks as if he will make his selections from the following men.

At center he has the younger of the three Duborgs or "Lefty" McCullough, last year's center. He will choose his guards from Eaton, Leatherman, Eteheberum and McCoullough. At tackle he has two good men, "Cupid" Warner and Adams, while at end he has two veterans, Gadda and Wright.

In the backfield are the Karns brothers, subs from last year, at halves or full; Hartung, quarter on last year's team, and a new man, Merry, for sub-quarter. At half, Capt. Willard Kistler has been doing some good work while Allan, a new man from Berkeley, has been showing up well at practice. These men seem to be the most likely candidates for their respective positions but there are plenty of new men out so that there will be plenty of competition.

Foster has a strong heavy line and a speedy and shifty backfield that will make any team hustle.

COUNT RUMFORD
1753-1814

Born Benjamin Thompson in Massachusetts. Charged with being a Tory, went to England, and became Under-Secretary of the Colonies. Later, in Bavaria reorganized the military department and was made Count Rumford. Returned to England and engaged in scientific research. Founded the Rumford professorship at Harvard.

He watched the pot as it boiled

Thousands of people had watched the boiling pot, but Count Rumford wondered why it boiled. He did more than wonder; by scientific research he found out for himself.

And Rumford laid the foundation of the greatest generalization the human mind has yet conceived—the law of the conservation of energy.

Scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are devoting their lives to pure research, carrying on the work of Rumford and other pioneers of modern science. By methodical investigation, the frontier of scientific knowledge is being pushed steadily forward.

The General Electric Company, by continuous scientific research, has developed new and better ways of making electricity of use to mankind.

RENO HIGH NOTES

By BONNIE MITCHELL, '27

Now that the many trials and tribulations of registration are over, students at Reno high are settling down to the many hard tasks before them. The upperclass elections were held last week; freshmen and sophomore officers will be elected and the student body primaries will be held some time this week.

The football season opens next Saturday with what should be one of the best and hardest-fought games of the year, when Reno high will be matched against one of the strongest amateur teams in California, the purple and white of Sacramento. The game will be played preliminary to the Nevada-Olympic game, on Mackay Field.

A matinee "get-together" dance will be given Friday under the auspices of the Girls' Club. A meeting of that club will be called some time in the near future, by its president, Grace McNeil, for the purpose of making plans for the annual "Jinx."

A "building and construction" class has been organized. It is a new enterprise in the high school and is attracting considerable interest.

A girls' assembly was held last Tuesday at which interesting talks were delivered by Mayor Roberts of Reno and Miss Estehr Dayman of San Francisco.

Most of the members of last year's graduating class are attending the University of Nevada. Several of them are attending various colleges in California, however. Ruth Foster and Claire Kirman are enrolled at Mills, Fred Gallery and George McCullough at Stanford and Elma Orr at the University of California.

On the teaching staff at Reno high are three people who are now instructing with the same teachers by whom they were taught not many years ago. They are Herbert Foster, Tony Zeni and Gladys Dunkle.

RENO HI FROSH LOSE TO SOPHS AMID DUST

According to the upperclassmen at Reno high school, the "Razzoo" assembly and tie-up held last Friday afternoon was the most successful in years.

Early in the afternoon, an assembly was called at which time the lowly frosh were required to present stunts ranging all the way from a mock wedding to a fashion revue presented by the decorated first-year girls.

Bernard Hartung presided while Norman Kearns acted as master of ceremonies. Following this meeting, the entire school journeyed to the Whitaker Field for the annual tie-up which acts as a climax for the scraps which have been occurring daily in the school's halls.

This type of scrap is entirely different in nature from those held here on the Hill. The idea is for each class to try and tie up their opponents and pack them across the "dead-line" for a tally.

The two classes rolled around in four inches of dust for 20 minutes, both doing their best to win, but the fighting sophs were too much for the freshmen and the fight ended 42-16 in favor of the second-year men.

Hundreds of friends and parents gathered to see the yearly fight, but were kept from observing much of it by the clouds of dust that arose from the field of battle.

CAMPUS' ARTISTS TO DESIGN WOLF COVER

The cover for the "Desert Wolf" is now well under way as a result of the meeting which took place in the office of the new campus publication. All the available artists on the Hill were present, and due to their work, the cover promises to be a good one.

The members of the staff have not yet been decided upon. Last meeting so many were present who desired to work on the first issue that it was decided to place the positions on a competitive basis. In this way, only the ablest will be chosen to work on the staff of the "Desert Wolf."

There are at present three men working on the circulation of the magazine. They are soliciting subscriptions. These men are William Green, Karl Malmquist and Donald Church.

TENNIS CLUB ASKS STUDENTS TO JOIN

University students and members of the faculty have the opportunity of becoming members of a new tennis club which is being formed on the campus. The club is open to anyone who is interested in tennis, whether they are attending the University or not.

The purpose of the club is to secure enough members and equipment to become a chapter in the National Tennis Association. Already, word has been received from Salt Lake City, where the divisional headquarters are located, signifying the desire of the club there to have the Reno club become a member.

Plans are being made for the purpose of holding a tournament from September 29 to 30. This tournament is open to members only, and will be the means of determining the relative strength and rating of each member.

A tournament match has already been scheduled with Auburn to take place October 13 and 14. This match will be held between singles and doubles teams. Both men and women will play, but there will be no mixed doubles match.

After the club is well organized it will be conducted on the lines of all tennis clubs. Every member will have the privilege of challenging the member immediately above him on the rating list. Local tournaments will be a regular feature, and teams will be sent to compete in the sectional matches.

ALTAR IS CLIMAX TO UNIVERSITY ROMANCE

"You can say what you want against it," someone recently madwagged, "but you can't make it unpopular." Evidently Nelle Dorothy Francis and Eugene Palmer, both former students at the University, hold the same opinion, for they were married at Sparks on September 13.

Theirs was truly a university romance that started here on the campus more than two years ago.

The Rev. Edward Tanner Brown of Reno tied the knot and to see that this was properly done there were several of the couple's former university club-mates.

Ferns, a beautiful bride in pink chiffon, a bridesmaid in blue and white brocade, an elaborate supper and the deed was done! Thus ends another campus romance, but romancing on the campus will never end. "You can say what you want against it, but you can't make it unpopular!"

GLEE CLUBS WORKING ON BIG PRODUCTIONS

The Men's and Women's Glee clubs, at meetings held in the early part of the week, made preliminary outlines for the semester. Plans were discussed for a skit to be staged at the vaudeville show which will consist of the combined glee clubs as well as solo voices. The glee clubs expect to give a comic opera this semester, and a larger production in the spring.

At present there are 30 selected voices in the Women's Glee club and 18 in the Men's Glee club. In order to make the plans for the semester successful more men and women are needed. Anyone with experience or training along this line is urged to make an appointment with Lewis E. Rowe, instructor in music, for a tryout. The Women's Glee club meets on Monday and Wednesday at 4:45, and the Men's Glee Club meets on Tuesday and Thursday at the same hour.

SOPH MEETING DULL

Lack of pep characterized the sophomore meeting held last Thursday afternoon.

Because of the small percentage of sophomores in attendance much of the business that President Coffin intended to conduct had to be laid over until the next meeting.

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM TO OPEN FIRE SOON

The Girls' Rifle Team, under the management of Captain Ryan, will, according to the most recent reports, resume activities on or about the middle of October.

Last year, some excellent records were made, and the women competed favorably with a number of large colleges in the end of the semester rifle meets.

Captain Ryan, in urging new as well as old students to turn out, states:

"I would like to impress upon all women who are planning to try for positions on the Girls' Rifle Team the necessity of staying with the work throughout the school term. Last year, many students dropped out of the course through a failure to recognize their own efficiency.

"Their records promised, with a little coaching, to be equally as excellent as those of the other students under my supervision. Because of the under-estimation of their own ability, our classes were greatly depleted in numbers, and some good material was lost.

"When the notices fixing the date of the first meeting are posted, come up to the barracks. Even if you do not know the first thing about a rifle, your interest is a sufficient reason for your presence—we promise to do the rest."

Y. W. SECRETARY IS HERE FOR MEETING

Miss Esther Dayman, traveling Y. W. C. A. secretary of girls' work, is in Reno this week and will address the Girl Reserve advisers at a meeting at the local association.

University students interested in the Girl Reserve work include Mary Gray, Clairs Williams, Elizabeth Hanchett, Esther Summerfield, Charlotte Gibson, Ruth Olmsted and Bertha Akin. All but Miss Akin were engaged in Y. W. C. A. work last year.

QUEER DANCING WAS IN VOGUE SATURDAY

A large bare room. Couples. Young men and women enter timidly and go quickly to the nearest seats—they barely speak to one another and then only mechanically—they relapse into silence and stare fixedly at some minute spot far across the room—suddenly there is music—good dance music.

The tom-tom of the drum vies with the savage call of the saxophone—a wave of relief passes over the couples. Rigid bodies relax, feet begin to feel light, communicating their feeling to the heads. The music wails invitingly—the last barriers are down, and the Get-together Dance is on!

There appears to be two kinds of dancing popular this semester. In the first, you clutch the girl at the small of the back so that she is entirely within your power. Then you say, "Head and shoulders, you follow us!" And the rest you leave to your feet and the saxophone.

The second kind is to sway and hesitate and churn from the waist up with distinct instructions to your feet, "Feet, as you were!"

At about a quarter to ten, and without warning a crowd gathered at the side of the room but there was no cry of "Man down, give him air." After a few moments of keen anxiety the music scattered them and the smiling Miss Mack was seen presiding over the punch bowl.

From that moment on it was the favorite side of the room.

CLASS IN SPANISH TO HEAR VICTROLA

Using the phonograph method, Prof. F. C. Murgotten will open an elementary class in Spanish at the Reno Y. M. C. A. next week.

The course will be open to all who wish to take the work, both men and women, and the class will meet two nights a week. Those interested should see Prof. Murgotten immediately.

ONLY AN "O"
 I've traveled the world over, a million years or more,
 In every land, in every sea, from moun-

 And I have worked, and I have served, and I shall slave again.
 For I am nothing but one "O"—an atom of oxygen.

I've been frozen at the north pole, and smothered in the main,
 From out of the air, to a dashing wave,
 and back to a drop of rain;
 Never at rest, one form now, and then transformed again,
 For I am nothing but one "O"—an

OUT OF TUNE
 I'm out of tune
 And paltry, vague annoyances
 Irk me beyond endurance;
 All the petty prickings

My soul is tired,
 Peace, and serenity
 Are lacking from my world.
 Only those who know can sympathize
 And feel
 My pain.
 The lure

 Sends out
 An invitation.

 Ah Rest, and peace—

AGGIE CLUB'S PREXY REPORTS RECORD FAIR

Lester Moody, president of the Aggie club, returned Saturday from the state fair at Fallon. Moody reported a good agricultural showing from most of the counties of the state, particularly from Elko county which came next to Churchill county in point of exhibits. Robert Stewart, dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Nevada, judged the farm crops. V. E. Scott, professor of dairying, judged the livestock. It is of general interest that two men formerly of the university faculty were also on the judging committees. M. D. Collins of Susanville who was formerly connected with the university extension work, judged the poultry, and Prof. Regan, professor of dairying at the California Agricultural College at Davis and who formerly held the same chair here, judged the dairy cattle.

Unique among the exhibits at the fair was a model farm planned and worked out by the United States Experiment Farm at Fallon. It was developed to a scale and the crops, planted beforehand, were up and growing nicely. Another part deserving special mention was the exhibit of poultry which showed a marked improvement in the number and variety over other years.

Alfred and Johnny Oats, both of whom are registered in the college of agriculture, took the sweepstakes in the Holstein class with their bull. Other students who attended the fair were Leslie Sanford, Harry Clinton, Stanley Davis, Earnest Brooks, George Prescott, Laurence Fee and Emery Branch. Arrangements were made this year whereby students registered in the College of Agriculture of the University of Nevada were admitted free to the exhibits.

VOLLEY BALL DRAWS HALF HUNDRED OUT

As a forerunner to hockey, Miss Champlin has started volley ball practice. About fifty girls have turned out so far and more are expected to be out by the last practice this week.

Volley ball will be followed by hockey. During the latter part of this semester or the first part of the spring semester, basketball practice will start.

W. A. A. has set as their goal by September of 1924, 250 girls in athletics.

SORORITIES START EXCHANGE DINNERS

What is hoped will become an inter-sorority tradition on the Nevada campus was started Thursday evening with the advent of exchange dinners.

The idea of exchange dinners is to keep up the friendly spirit between sororities, and to develop new ideas. At the first dinner, the Pi Beta Phi entertained two Kappa Alpha Thetas, and two Pi Phis went to the Delta Delta house. Gamma Phi Beta was hostess to Tri Delta, while the Thetas entertained the Gamma Phis.

BLANCHE WYCKOFF IS ELECTED VICE-PREXY

At a meeting of the sophomore class, held on Thursday, September 13, Blanche Wyckoff was elected to the office of vice-president.

The position was formerly held by Ruth Hampton. However, the failure of Miss Hampton to return to college this semester necessitated another election to fill the vacancy.

HISTORY PROFESSORS WILL SPEAK FRIDAY

A number of lectures of unusual interest, given under the auspices of the history department, will be offered at the assembly period on Friday, September 21.

The general subject of the speeches will be "Americanization." They will deal with the constitution of the United States, taken as a whole.

This general topic will be subdivided among the professors and instructors of the history department in such a way as to thoroughly cover every phase. Professor Leach is planning to deal with the origin of the constitution; Professor Feemster with its operation, and Professor Wier with its success in the past and future.

Every student should consider this an unusual opportunity to learn, in such an interesting manner, the nature of that document which has guided the destinies of our nation to such a large extent.

If it is possible to obtain the services of Senator Oddie and Congressman Richards, they will also speak before the assembly during the lecture hour.

In conjunction with the speakers, Professor Rowe is planning a musical program.

WOMEN CUT OFF FROM SPEECH WITH SWAINS

Where, oh where, has my little date gone?
 Oh where, oh where can it be?
 With no telephone
 I must stay home
 And woe, oh woe, is me!

Last week-end there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in Manzanita Hall.

The Get-Acquainted Dance was coming off on the campus and most of the girls had no dates. Not because there were no men in the world—not because there were no breakers of hearts in the hall—but, alas! for the prosaic reason that the all-important instrument of modern life, the telephone, was out of order.

And few are the men—even among the bravest—who have the courage to mount the imposing steps of the hall and ask to speak to their lady-loves.

The telephone has been out of order for a week, the repair men have been working on it.

When you see the girls of Manzanita walking around the campus with a smile as bright as though "he" had just proposed, you will know that once more all is well with the world and the telephone.

ENROLLMENT NORMAL AT RENO HI SCHOOL

The total enrollment so far this year at Reno high school is 543, according to an official report given out by Principal E. O. Vaughn.

This number is practically the same as in other years, and no heavy increase is anticipated. Of this number, the approximate grouping according to classes is as follows: Seniors, 98; juniors, 89; high sophs, 89; low sophs, 82; high frosh, 67, and low frosh, 117.

This is the last term that any heavy increase can possibly come to Reno High since the beginning of next term will see the opening of the new Junior High School on Fourth street.

This new school is being built to accommodate the seventh and eighth grades and freshman year in high school and will hold approximately 500 students as a normal capacity. For many years Reno High has been overburdened by too many students in small quarters, but by next September, the congestion will be relieved.

EASTERN WOMAN HAS LIBE ASSISTANTSHIP

Miss Josephine L. Higgins of Brooklyn, N. Y., is acting chief assistant to J. D. Layman at the University library this semester.

Miss Higgins was graduated from the Brooklyn Public Library School with the Class of '21 and succeeds Miss Marie Taylor who was assistant librarian last semester.

University women assisting Mr. Layman in the library this year are Dorothy Whitney, Anne Porter, Charlotte Gibson and Ruth Gunter. Miss Gunter and Miss Porter also worked in the library during the summer.

GIRL RESERVE WORK DISCUSSED AT Y. W.

Seven University women met in the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the City Hall last Friday afternoon to discuss plans for the girls' work for the coming year.

Miss Katherine Sickels, girl reserve secretary at the Y. W. C. A., instructed the women in their duties as advisers for the grade school Girl Reserve clubs. Plans were made for several more meetings in which to talk over the work.

CUSTOMARY RITES GREET NEW LINCOLN HALL MEN

Time-Honored Initiation Is Endured by Strangers in Nevada's Dorm

All new men in Lincoln Hall were put through the mysterious rites of the traditional Hall initiation last Thursday night.

Stodious young men, pouring over volumes of scientific and classic lore, and others, not so studious, gently slumbering after a trying day, were rudely awakened at the crack of 12 by the din set up through the corridors of the Hall.

Curt commands of "Hey, you in there; get dressed and make it snappy!" resounded through the building. Rooms were invaded by "paddle-men" each armed with a vicious-looking paddle and a hard-boiled facial expression, but all had a twinkle in their eyes.

Tough Guys There

These tough individuals laid hold of the unsuspecting ones while towels and handkerchiefs were confiscated and applied as blindfolds to the quaking neophytes.

A chain gang was formed in the main hall of each "deck" and under able leadership, the hydra-headed monster twisted slowly down an almost unending flight of stairs in lock-step and at last came to a halt in the lower regions.

Paddles Whack Loudly

"Paddle-men" seemed everywhere and were not backward in the least about wielding their awful weapons on some erroneous one's breeches. All being present and accounted for, the unseeing serpent blithely "tripped," still in lock-step, down to terra firma and was marched along in a zig-zag line over gravel, ruts, sand and grass, each man shouting the cadence in the time-honored yell.

Hours passed before shrieking voices were quieted and the ensemble bade to kneel in a pious attitude on soft but dewy grass.

Men Bashfully Propose

An incessant babbling of feminine voices from above pervaded the atmosphere. Suddenly the mob broke forth in song, only to be hushed by a deluge of water—perhaps from the heavens—but more likely from Manzanita windows. Then began a series of solos and proposals by bashful men to unseen coeds.

The march was resumed after the romance was over, leading up hill, over cliffs, under obstructions, where it was necessary to bend almost double, then two steps and a jump into space—hurtling, down, down—waiting to meet the waters of the lake, only to come down with a thud on well-watered lawn.

Then a long crawl on hands and knees over more rough concrete and gravel up hard steps and over a smooth wooden floor.

Stack-Up Bunch

Each man in turn danced a jig to a rag-time tune; then came medical care in the form of Plunk's Pink Pills for the heart with a cold water chaser to wash them down. After that a practical demonstration of physics—the co-

NEVADA'S ORCHESTRA TO STAGE BIG OPERA

Prof. Lewis Rowe is planning a great program for the orchestra. In addition to playing at the assembly hour, where it will render the "passing out" music, it will provide the music for the Oratorio, the comic opera, and the student vaudeville performances.

This is a big program but to put over big things a big orchestra is needed. Prof. Rowe welcomes anyone who can play the clarinet, cello, double bass or any stringed instrument. Also a good saxophone player is needed. Any viola player or one who would like learn to play that instrument will be welcomed.

Because of the lack of players, the orchestra is not yet completely organized so that all who are interested should report immediately to Prof. Rowe. The practice hour will be on Fridays at 2:15 and will extend over two periods.

MIDNIGHT "EATERY" RISES NEAR CAMPUS

A new "rush-em" lunch house on Ninth street between University avenue and Virginia street, to be known as the "Wolf Den" is rapidly nearing completion.

Present plans show accommodations for sixteen persons. The stand will cater to dormitory and fraternity house trade.

hesion between fly-paper and the epidermis, which by far outrivals that of the mustard plaster. During this laboratory work the loud squawkings of some ignoble barnyard fowl, with a failing appetite, rent the air.

Back into line, face to the wall at "attention" and, after an eternity, blindfolds were removed, the bright lights of the gymnasium set optics aquiver.

The paddle-men grinned with delight and announced that "Eats would be served, up at the Hall."

The mad rush began. What few who didn't become tangled in fragments of discarded fly-paper along the way, discovered eats in profusion in the reading-room. Coffee—a tub full of real Java—doughnuts and cinnamon buns galore, were waiting on the table.

Eats, Too

A happy, smiling bunch gorged themselves to the bursting point, all joining in to paddle some unthinking one who inadvertently sat on the Sacred Table.

Thoughts of the morrow came to the sleepy and the initiated hid themselves off to their rooms. Queries of "What'll take it off?" and "Try gasoline," "Gosh, but that stings!" "Wish I had some turpentine," intermingled with the chant of "froshtail, froshtail" echoed through the old Hall into the wee sma' hours.

EIGHT MEN TRYING FOR YELL LEADERS

Last Friday there was a meeting held for those who were interested in trying out for the vacant position of yell leader. Eight men responded to the call and all of them have had some experience in the art of "waving the dukes."

President Hughes gave a brief talk and outlined the requirements that the men would have to meet before any appointment would be made.

The first appearance of the new men will be Friday night when each man will be given a chance to do "his stuff" during the pajamarino rally. The next and main test will come on Saturday during the Nevada-Olympic Club game.

All of the men will be given a chance to lead the yells and help the rooting section to growl them out. The men making the best showing in the tests will be chosen as yell leader and assistants. Each man will do his best to land the job and it is hoped that the students body will help them as much as possible.

Those who are trying out for the job are Willis Balgoin, Roger Simpson, Claud Galmarino, "Tiny" Davies, Harold Cafferata, Karl Malquest, John Kovee and "Toughy" McKenzie.

TWENTY GIRLS SIGN FOR CAMP AT VERDI

Plans for the W. A. S. camp above Verdi are almost completed and a list of those going has been posted in the library. Between 15 and 20 girls are expected to leave Friday and return Sunday morning.

The women who have the energy and inclination to hike will leave Manzanita at 2:30 on Friday, and with good luck should reach the camp in four hours. Those who so desire may go on the train at 8 o'clock.

If possible, cars will be procured in order that the women may come in for the game Saturday and then return for supper.

Since the women will have four or five meals at the camp, they are expected to pay one dollar to Frances Miller or her committee by Thursday noon.

The Rotary Boys' Camp, where they will stay, is situated several miles above Verdi, on the river, and is an ideal place for swimming and hiking. There is a deep hole in the river a short way below, and though the water is cold, it is known as one of the best spots in the neighborhood for real water sports.

As for accommodations for eating and sleeping, there is a two-room cabin and five good-sized tents. There are also dishes, army blankets and cots. With a good stock of provisions, everyone should be very well cared for.

The evenings will be spent around the camp-fire. An added attraction is a swing over the river. Nothing will be wanting to complete the two perfect evenings of the week-end.

Miss Champlain and Miss Sameth have planned to start home Sunday morning.

LOVELORN JUNIOR HUNTS FOR OWNER OF DAINTY GLOVE

In a room, close under the eaves of Lincoln Hall, there sits brooding, far into the night, a poor lovelorn junior. Cupid taxed his bow to its utmost strength and let fly a dart which sank deep into a romantic breast.

The beginning of it all was the finding of a dainty white kid glove near Manzanita one moonlight night last week.

He slept with the glove under his pillow at night and dreamed fairy-book dreams, carried it next to his heart during the day—a far-away look in his eyes; but try as he would to locate the fair owner, no claimant would step forward and make herself known.

Has romance fled from the campus? Is there a woman on the Hill so cold and inhuman as to let this noble young man pine away and die from a broken heart? Address R. S. H., Lincoln Hall.

HOW NOT TO SPLASH IS GIRLS' PROBLEM

Now that swimming is the thing among campus women, the Y. M. C. A. tank in town has become the scene of much splashing.

The women flock in great numbers to classes in elementary swimming and diving—especially the latter.

An enthusiastic gentleman has undertaken the task of teaching the girls how to enter the pool without displacing all the water. Results of the first week have been heartbreaking, but the instructor is patient and will not be discouraged.

He knows that there is more water where the last came from.

JUNIORS DEMAND PLACE ON UPPER CLASS COMMITTEE

The absence of junior representation on the upperclass committee was the cause for considerable hot argument when the Class of '25 got together for its first meeting of the year Monday afternoon.

It seemed to be the general opinion of those present, after considerable discussion, that the juniors had been overlooked in making the upperclass committee selections. It was thought that the class should be entitled to at least two men on the committee, now composed of five seniors.

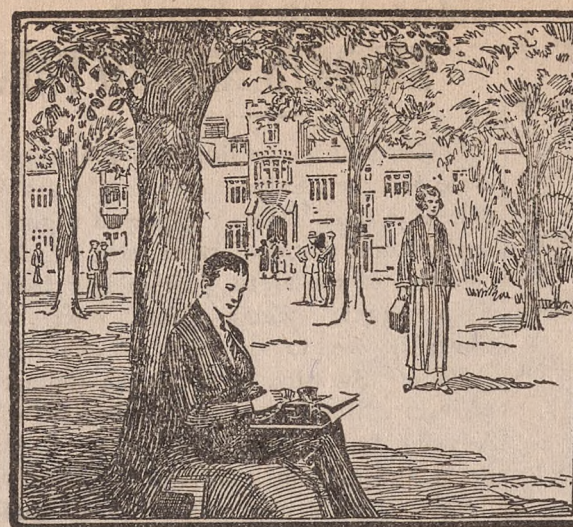

President Gerry Fowble then stated that his main object in calling the meeting was to give the class an opportunity to become acquainted with its financial status and to make preliminary arrangements for the Junior Prom which is on the social calendar for December 8.

The class agreed that the logical time to collect dues was early in the semester, while still a portion of the summer's earnings survived and, accordingly, the first week of October was designated as Junior Dues Week.

During this period every member of the class will be expected to reimburse the treasury so that the dance committee will not be hampered in making this year's prom a grand success.

The following committee was appointed to have charge of the dance arrangements: Anna Maud Stern, Eleanor Ahlers, Bertha Anderson, John Ocheltree and Bert Spencer.
